Washington, March 14.—The new agricultural schedule will affect seriously many articles largely imported from Canada if it does not altogether shut off trade from that country in certain lines. Besides the duty on pine lumber of $2 per thousand feet, the barley duty will be put at the almost prohibitory rate of 30c per bushel, and barley malt at 45c. Butter, eggs, peas, beans, potatoes, and in fact nearly everything in the schedule, go back to McKinley rates. Hay will be taxed $4 per ton, and sheep and hogs $1.50 per head.

Of ill health, despondency and despair, gives way to the sunshine of hope, happiness and health, upon taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, because it gives renewed life and vitality to the blood, and through that imparts nerve strength, vigor and energy to the whole body. Read this letter: "Hood's Sarsaparilla helped me wonderfully, changed sickness to health, gloom to sunshine. No pen can describe what I suffered. I was deathly sick, had sick headaches every few days and those terrible tired, despondent feelings, with heart troubles so that I could not go up and

There is no pleasure in life if deprived of health, for life becomes a burden. Hood's Sarsaparilla does far more than advertised. After taking one bottle, it is sufficient to recommend itself." MRS. EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE best use to put Greece to would seem to be to "baste" Turkey.

THERE is a good deal of the old Greek "fire" left in the little peninsula to the south of Europe.

MR. DYAUEN'S solicitors, Messrs. Holman and Pattullo, have issued a writ against Mr. Wm. Smith, ex-M.P., claiming $10,000 damages for the statement recently made as to the Minister's having sold an office. Mr. Smith is given until the 16th to decide what he will do.

Now the Mail and Empire in its new-form zeal for temperance can point out that the Liberal party is toadying to the liquor interests by selecting Champaigne as a candidate for Wright county by-election. The two candidates for candidature were Major and Champaigne and the latter was selected. The Mail and Empire can therefore reason that this preference for Champaigne stamps the Liberal party as very wicked and abandoned. That would be just as reasonable as many of the grounds it and its friends have yet taken.

REV. DR. PHILIP, pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist church, Hamilton, and a leading temperance worker, is not one of those who accuse the Ontario Government of throwing a sop to the licensed victuallers in the License Act Amendment Bill. He recognizes the fact that the bill is a distinct advance in temperance legislation, and has no sympathy with those who have been making such wholesale denunciations against the Government. In a sermon on Sunday, while dealing with the bill, he said:

"I cherish no pessimistic views on the temperance question. We are making progress, sure progress, though often slower than we would like and expect. Every step is a step forward; every enactment is a step in advance. As to the legislation of the present time we had expected more in view of the plebiscite, the promises made and the Christian and temperance integrity of many of the noble men of Parliament, and I still hope we will secure more. We, however, should have no sympathy with the wholesale denunciation of the men and party which we have been hearing, as if every principle of right had been sacrificed, and men men of character and honour had sold themselves to the liquor traffic. It is much easier to agitate than to legislate. The amendments, while they reach not up to that which we would desire, claim a certain measure of commendation."

"THEY hissed the Premier." "Temperance people charge him with breach of faith." These, remarks the Ottawa Free Press, are the head lines the Mail and Empire puts upon an account of a deputation which waited on the Premier from the "prohibition convention" with reference to the license bill now before the House. And yet Mr. Hardy's speech was clear, logical and temperate in tone, strongly contrasting with some of the utterances of those who addressed him. It is noticeable that the deputation did not appear to fully grasp the true purpose of the bill as it bears upon the two different subjects of "license" and "prohibition" and Mr. Hardy was more than justified in saying that "anyone who characterized the bill as a violation of the government's pledge had not read it through or given it due consideration. The Government would go as far as it could and that was their pledge. Sir Oliver Mowat's pledge had nothing to do directly or indirectly with the license bill." The Mail leads to the conclusion from its headings that Mr. Hardy's "ire was aroused," and that he had "difficulty in keeping his temper," all of which may be, and probably is, exaggeration, though under the circumstances Mr. Hardy would have been quite justified. It is becoming more and more evident that the cause of temperance is jeopardized by its own friends, some moved unfortunately by harty reasons, others by that, according to Talleyrand, dangerous thing, too much zeal.

Useful Information from a Dentist About Tooth Powders and Mouth Washes.

Many of the best tooth powders contain coarse particles or grit, and many of the month washes contain Acid. Grit injures the enamel of the teeth, and also causes inflammation of the gums; and the slightest acid (sometimes used in mouth washes to whiten the teeth) will soften the enamel after a short time, and finally destroy the teeth; some washes contain ingredients "to harden the gums;" this is dangerous, as it causes the gums to recede from the teeth, which finally become loose and are removed. It is well to be sure that what you use is free from all these evils, Grit, Acid, Astringents—(such as Myrrh which is too commonly supposed to be harmless or Camphor, which tends to make bone brittle, and will cause the teeth to split more readily). Ask your Dentist about this important manner and he will tell you to use the "Q. C. Liquid Tooth-Powder"

It contains the finest precipitated powder, washed, strained, and again re-precipitated, rendering it so fine that it remains for hours suspended in the fluid forming the mouth wash, which is delightfully refreshing to use and guaranteed to be absolutely free from Acid or any injurious ingredient. "Q. C. Liquid-Tooth Powder" for sale at all Druggists, 25 cents per bottle.

SMITH.

Council Meeting.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The municipal council of the township of Smith met at the town hall, Bridgenorth, on the 2nd of March, pursuant to adjournment, all the members present, the reeve in the chair. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed. An application which was received from the Lakefield council, requesting the council of Smith to bear a portion of the expense of placing an electric light on the boundary between the two municipalities, was laid over for further consideration, and a petition from the ratepayers of Bridgenorth, asking the council to prohibit cattle from running at large in the village at night, was also laid over. A bylaw to divide the township into pound and road divisions, and to appoint pound-keepers, fence-viewers and overseers of highways, passed its several readings and was sighed and sealed. The auditors then reported and the clerk was instructed to have 130 copies of the report printed for distribution. Application was made to have Spruce street in the village of Bridgenorth opened, and the clerk was instructed to notify G. J. Jopling and Wm. Udy to remove their fences off the said street. The following claims were ordered to be paid, namely: Robt. Scott, work on road, $25; A. J. Cameron, $1.25; Wm. Preston, for Lakefield road, $100; James Davidson, work on road, $10. The council then adjourned to meet on Monday, the 5th April.

SCHOOL SETTLEMENT.

The Strong Resolutions Passed by Orangemen in Grand Lodge at Brandon.

Winnipeg, March 14.—(Special.)—With the bill now before the Manitoba Legislature to ratify the terms of the Laurier-Greenway school settlement, all the bitter school controversy seems to have been renewed. The remarkable feature of the discussion now is that, judging from the utterances of representative bodies and men, neither Protestants nor Catholics agree with the settlement. The Manitoba Orange Grand Lodge, for instance, condemns Mr. Greenway for betraying the cause of national schools, while Mr. Pare, chief representative in the Legislature of the Manitoba Catholics, declares that no concessions have been made to the minority, and he sees but a further insult in the so-called settlement.

The resolution passed by the Orange Grand Lodge was exceptionally strong. It first sets forth that the Manitoba Orangemen sacrificed party to strengthen Mr. Greenway's hands against coercion, and says: "But as soon as the Laurier Government came to power the cloven foot was exposed, and the terms of settlement arranged between the Provincial and Federal Governments, which is one of the rankest and barest acts of duplicity in the history of responsible government, and a menace to the liberty of the Manitoba Protestants. The teaching of Roman Catholic dogmas is again restored and the principle which Orangemen have contended for, that the State should not recognize any religious denomination in our schools, has been sacrificed. The Roman Catholic Church has been specially singled out for favors, while all Protestants are simply referred to as non-Catholic."

After vigorously condemning the bilingual system, which provision the Orange Grand Lodge says answers the double purpose of introducing into the Public schools the dual language and Roman Catholic teachers, the resolution proceeds:

"This settlement has other features even more vicious than the old Separate school law. The policy of Rome has ever been aggressive. Roman Catholic teachers will be scattered throughout the province, and will have an opportunity of proselytizing to a much greater extent under the terms of settlement than ever before."

After referring to the sending of emissaries to Rome, the resolution says: "The humiliation of our great Dominion in the eyes of every liberty-loving nation must indeed be great, when our rulers so far forget their dignity and that of our country as to endeavor to obtain the sanction of a foreign potentate before legislation is submitted to Parliament. Therefore, be it resolved, that we express in the strongest terms possible disapproval of the settlement and denounce it as a delusion and a snare, and we will use every legitimate means of defeating every member of Parliament who votes in its favor."

The debate on the schools settlement will be continued in the Legislature to-morrow.

A Catholic writes to The Tribune, declaring that Archbishop Langevin in a sermon at St. Norbert just prior to the St. Boniface election made a statement to the effect that all those who voted for Mr. Bertrand at the last election held in the electoral division of St. Boniface would be refused burial in consecrated ground should they die in their present state. The writer then adds that some electors went to confession since election. The first question asked by the priest was: "Who did you vote for at the last election?" "I voted for Bertrand," answered the penitent. "Then," said the priest, "you will have to go to the Archbishop. I can do nothing for you."

The elector did go to His Grace, and judge of his surprise when he was asked to sign a printed document, acknowledging his guilt in having voted for Bertrand and promising in future to vote according to the bishop's instructions.

Mr. E. W. HAZLETT, Reeve of Chatham Township, Kent County, Ont., says: "My daughter has been very weakly for some years; she was very pale and always felt tired; she was prevailed upon by a friend to try a box of Miller's Compound Iron Pills. I must say it was a good investment; she at once began to improve. The colour came to her cheeks, she got stronger rapidly, and now is quite well." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

THE OTTAWA BUDGET.

Queen's Jubilee to be Marked by the P.O. Department.

SPECIAL ISSUE OF 3-CENT STAMPS.

They Will Have a Limited Circulation and Then the Old Stamp Will be in Vogue Again—Military for England—Supreme Court—Lumber Trade Rushing.

Ottawa, March 14.—(Special.)—Here is good news for postage stamp collectors. The Postmaster-General proposes, as far as his department is concerned, to commemorate Her Majesty's diamond jubilee by the issue of a new 3-cent postage stamp, appropriate to the occasion. It will have a limited circulation only, probably for a period of months covering the jubilee celebrations during the coming summer. When the sale is stopped the present 3-cent stamp will be put in circulation again.

The invitation received from the Colonial Office for Canada to send a representation of militia to take part in the diamond jubilee celebration has been under the consideration of the Government. It is somewhat ambiguous in its terms, and uncertainty prevails as to whether the invitation includes only officers, or whether it embraces officers and men. Until such time as definite information upon the point has been received, a decision as to the Canadian representation will not be made.

Although only a few days have elapsed since members eligible for Bisley were notified to send in their acceptances or not, the secretary of the D.R.A., Col. Bacon, has received nine letters of acceptances and no refusals.

As more accommodation is needed for clerks in the Department of Agriculture, it has been decided to get rid of the accumulations of census volumes. The Minister therefore proposes to present a set of census volumes of 1891 to every public library in the Dominion.

In the Supreme Court yesterday the case of Rogers v. the Toronto School Board was argued. The plaintiff, Rogers, was superintendent of the coal company which had a contract to supply coal for the Ryerson School in Toronto. Between 7 and 8 o'clock in the evening before the day for delivery he went to examine the premises. A caretaker lived in a cottage near the school house, and being laid up from an accident his wife pointed out to the plaintiff the windows through which the coal was to be put into the basement. He asked to see the basement and a man named Rooney, who was a friend of the caretaker's, and in his house at the time, volunteered to take him down. It did not appear clearly whether or not he got the key from the wife, or if the door was open. The plaintiff followed this man downstairs, and in doing so fell into a pit near the furnace and was severely injured, for which he brought the action for damages. He recovered a verdict and $5000 damages at the trial, which the Court of Appeal reversed, and dismissed his action. Counsel for the appellant argued that the plaintiff was on the premises by the implied invitation of the board, and also that he could recover if he was a mere licensee. McCarthy, Q. C., for appellant; Christopher Robinson, Q. C., and Hodgins, for respondent. The arguments of counsel were not completed when the court rose. The next case on the list is the Consumers' Gas Company v. The City of Toronto.

The prospective increase in lumber duties by the United States Congress has had a marked effect on the Canadian lumber trade. At present Canadian dealers are almost unable to meet demands for lumber coming from American buyers. Larger and better sales are being made this season than ever before. Owing to the open winter and consequent lack of snow the cut in the various camps has not been as extensive as in previous years, although the demand is much greater. The Canada Atlantic Railway is making very large shipments from Rockland, Hawkesbury and Ottawa. The company is doing its utmost to find cars in which to carry on the export trade. The officials of the road state that never in its history has the C. A. Railway been so pressed for cars and accommodation as at present.

Messrs. Howland, Keefer and Munro, Canadian commissioners under the Deep Waterways Commission, had a meeting here yesterday to complete their report to the Government of their joint diliberations with the United States representatives. Much valuable information has been gained and plans formulated, with accompanying sketches and maps. The United States Government will be asked by its commissioners to appropriate $150,000 for surveys. Canada may be asked to contribute a little, our part of the work being nearly done. About $15,000 will be sufficient for all purposes. The commissioners' report will be presented to Parliament at the approaching session.

Mr. F. H. Walker of Walkerville was here yesterday on business with the Inland Revenue Department. Mr. Walker says his firm did not manufacture any whiskey last year on account of a double stock laid in during the previous year, when grain was selling at low prices. If the firm had waited till this last season they would have been perhaps further ahead, because grain was purchaseable for a time at even lower figures.

The Department of Trade and Commerce has received the reply of the Victoria Board of Trade to circulars sent out by the department. It recommends the appointment of commercial agents in foreign countries, the pushing of emigration and building of lines to develop the resources of the Pacific Province.

Cyrus Beardsley, who kept a boot shop on Rideau street, is missing, and yesterday Judge Ross codemned him to serve twelve months in jail for defrauding his creditors. Recently Beardsley declared himself insolvent, his liabilities being placed at $12,000 and his assets at $1900.

THE SWELLS NOT PLEASED

Because They Will Not Have a Chance to Display Their Grandeur.

New York, March 14.—Mr. Ballard Smith cables from London: There is great indignation among the leaders of English society because in the program of the Queen's Diamond Jubilee public pageants no provision is made for them to display their grandeur. At the Jubile celebration in 1887 there was a special service in Westminster Abbey, attended by the Queen and all the royalties, to which social, literary, scientific and political celebrities were bidden. Invitations to that function were so carefully distributed that the receipt of one was a cachet of admitted distinction. But except the Queen's family and relatives, court diplomats and representatives of foreign royalties, no one is to be included in the procession through the streets this year, while there is no religious function to which the swells can be invited. No provision has been made even for peers or commoners in their representative capacity in the proceedings. A member is to ask the Government in the Commons on Monday whether it is the intention of the Queen to ignore the existence of Parliament in connection with the celebration of her record reign. I may also mention that in the first draft of the route the procession was to take Piccadilly and St. James-streets were omitted, but the Prince of Wales, acting under the pressure of his numerous plutocratic acquaintances and smart friends with houses on Piccadilly, secured the inclusion of that finest of London thoroughfares, as well as St. James-street, the home of the best clubs.

The Sun's London special says: There is not the slightest doubt that the display next June will be the grandest and largest ever seen in London. The royal procession itself will probably be a mile long, and the array of princes and princesses in it will exceed the Jubilee show in numbers and gorgeousness. Physicians and courtiers are already shaking their heads and predicting all sorts of evils likely to result to the aged sovereign from the prodigious strain such an undertaking will involve Various curious and ingenious arrangements are being made to save her needless fatigue, including a specially-designed revolving spring seat in her carriage, by means of which she will be able to bow from side to side to the acclaiming multitude with the minimum of exertion and maximum of effect. The members of an enterprising syndicate who bought up house and shop front windows along the route of procession have already made over 100 per cent. profit, which, however, they have made no attempt to realize yet. The Telegraph to-day declares that a well-known millionaire has just offered over $5000 for the use on Jubilee day of three small windows belonging to a weekly newspaper with a publishing office in Ludgate Circus, which is by no means a first-class position, and that the offer has been refused.

RHEUMATISM CURED.

Eighteen Months Trying to Get Cured—Had the Best Doctors—He Found What he Wanted in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Goderich, March 8 (Special)—A case of great interest here just now is that of Mr. Alexander J. Sharkey, who for some time has been an extreme sufferer from rheumatism. His statement to the correspondent is as follows:

"For eighteen months I was a victim of rheumatism and during that time was trying every means to cure it. I had the best doctors in Canada, and took their prescriptions with faith and patience.

"I got tired at last for I found the disappointment nearly as killing as the disease.

"But one friend wiser than the others convinced me that my disease must be cured by the way of the kidneys and recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I have used two boxes of these pills to effect a perfect cure and I don't care who knows it."

Royal Irish Regiment Under Orders, and Commanders of Indian Regiments Said to Have Been Notified.

New York, March 14.—The Sun's London special says: It is announced to-day that a month hence the Royal Irish Regiment, one of the finest corps in the British army, will sail for South Africa, nominally to relieve certain troops in Cape Colony and Natal, but it is really to be a reinforcement. The garrison is already largely in excess of normal requirements. It may be added, and the announcement is now made public for the first time, that the commanders of several British regiments now in India have been secretly warned that their corps may be required for active service in South Africa before the summer is far advanced.

Mrs. Howden, wife of Major Howden, formerly of Millbrook, but now connected with the Inland Revenue Service in Port Port Hope, died on Friday evening last. The funeral takes place at Millbrook today.

To-morrow Night's Attraction.

It is the custom in Australia, by permission of the English government, to lease out convicts to the best families as servants. Only convicts with good records are selected, and they are known as "assigned servants." It is on this custom that the story of Lincoln J. Carter's new play, "The Defaulter," turns. Mr. Carter has made splendid use of the subject, and written a drama that appeals to every theatre-goer. Prices, 25, 35 and 50c.

Stolen Fruit.

On Friday night last Mr. Robert Leary's cellar was entered and a quantity of preserved fruit stolen. He brought the matter to the attention of the police and on Saturday morning accompanied by the chief with a search warrant, he visited the house of Wm. Hull, as there were suspicions that he knew something of the matter. The house was locked up, but on the door being forced, five jars of fruit were found in a closet. Mr. Leary identified them as belonging to him and Hull was arrested later on in the day. He has been remanded until Wednesday.

—The boy who spends his evenings at home reading newspapers, which contain the local news of the town and county and general news of the day, or in reading some useful book, will certainly make a better man, everything equal, than the boy who spends his evenings on the streets and loafing in places where the town gossip is dished out in the most vulgar manner.

Miss Lillian Keene gives a remarkably truthful portrayal of the title role in Harry Williams' play, "A Bowery Girl," which appears at Bradburn's Opera House on Friday night, March 19th. Her singing and dancing are pleasing specialties and her work throughout is characterized with that talent possessed only by the highest class of successful soubrettes. The supporting cast has been selected with much care, and the play will be presented in the same faultless manner which made it so successful in all the largest cities of the country last season.

—Ald. Hallam, of Toronto, is a lover of art, besides being a dealer in hides. And the energetic alderman is no niggard of a lover. As an instance, he has offered to give $500 towards a statue of Her Majesty, if fifty others will subscribe. There are quite a number of red-hot patriots in Toronto who dearly delight in waving the old flag—at times, and for purposes—but the alderman's cheque remains uncovered. After all there are possibly more persons in Toronto who would prefer to see Her Majesty's noble bust on a fifty cent piece than her graceful outlines in cold marble. —Bobcaygeon Independent.

The returns of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight will be received direct from the ringside at the Palace Restaurant at the end of each round.

CORPORATION SNOW-PLOWING.

How Not to do it Well Exemplified Yesterday.

There have been numerous complaints made during the winter of the manner in the snow-plowing has been done and it seems that the town's district has been the most delinquent in respect of the clearing of the walks after snow storms. The light falls of snow made the work easy, but it seems the less work there was to do the less was it done. In case of two or three snowfalls, the town plow was not out till after the snow was tramped hard or thawed into slush, which, being followed by frost, left the streets coated with ice. If the snow had been promptly removed, the thawing that followed would have left the walks clean and dry, but instead of that we had a coating of solid ice, difficult to travel and dangerous to the persons of pedestrians.

Yesterday furnished another example of the neglect of, especially, the walks in the central part of the town. There was a considerable fall of snow, but the plow was not brought out till after twelve o'clock. By that time the thousands that attend the several churches were home, tired out with wading and ploughing through the drifts that covered the walks—in some places—to a considerable depth. Besides, ladies who had worked their way to church were compelled to sit during the services with damp clinging skirts. In the meantime the snow was so packed in the middle of the walks that the plough, when it made its tardy appearance was unable to remove it, and a little thaw followed by frost will make another dangerous coating of ice. Everybody almost agrees that, with the lightest snowfall for years, the streets this year, especially in the middle district of the town, have never been so badly attended to. These remarks are founded on complaints made at this office, and are particularly applicable to the middle district of the town.

"IT IS HARD TO BE A CHRISTIAN AND A RAILROAD MAN."

Rev. W. R. Young made this the Subject of his Sermon last Evening in the George street Methodist Church.

There was a very large congregation in attendance at the George street Methodist church last evening to hear Rev. W. R. Young speak on the subject of "It is hard to be a Christian and a Railroad Man."

The text for the sermon was taken from Genesis xxxii, 29th verse, "And he blessed him there."

The speaker in opening pictured a scene which presented itself to him a short time ago. A private ward in a well kept hospital. The noiseless flitting to and fro of trained nurses. A young man lying there mangled and bleeding, a soul standing on the confines of eternity. A young man bidding farewell to life. A heart-broken wife and a weeping mother, and the last dying words—"It is so hard to be a Christian and a railroad man."

A sad scene truly.

This though, after all, is the reason urged by many a young man for not giving his heart to God and leads on to the closest enquiry as to the strength of this argument, whereby the responsibility is thrown on the environments.

Mr. Young stated in his remarks he had no thought of singling out railroading as being antagonistic to Christian living, as the same obstacles presented themselves in a dozen other lines of work.

Is the excuse, he asked, a valid one that circumstances and environments are responsible for our spiritual condition?

Look at it.

Every time a passing train is heard on Sunday it means that at least five men are at work. The sanctity of the Sabbath is being violated. A certain amount of sympathy is therefore to be found with the statement that it is hard to be a Christian and a railroad man. But will the expression stand examination.

The text was now referred to by the speaker, who cited the case of Jacob, as being illustrative of how a man can be a Christian under any circumstances. Jacob, he explained, had always led a life of duplicity and had to flee from home for having defrauded his brother Esau of the parental blessing, yet when four hundred armed men were marching on him and he abandoned hope, he turned to his God instead of seeking safety in flight, with the result that he was blessed as stated in the text and was reconciled with Esau.

Other scriptural illustrations were also used by the speaker, showing that although environment certainly increased the obstacles in the way of becoming a Christrian, still none of these difficulties were insurmountable.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Andrew Macfarlane is slightly better to-day.

Mrs. C. D. Macfarlane, Gilmour street, is confined to the house through an attack of bronchitis.

The condition of Mrs. Geo. S. Davis is slightly improved this morning, although she is still very low.

Mr. A. R. Anderson, of Toronto, son of Mr. Walter Anderson, is in town visiting his parents. Mr. Anderson was formerly with Mr. Madill, druggist, and is now doing well in the same business with a Toronto firm.

Dr. Chas. McKee, his numerous friends will be pleased to learn, has sufficiently recovered to return to Bailliebore, where he will resume his practice. It is thought by his medical advisers that the sight of the eye will be fairly recovered in the course of a little time, with care.

Rev. Father Quinlivan, parish priest of St. Patrick's church, Montreal, is well-known in Peterborough, which he has visited on several important ecclesiastical occasions. St. Patrick's was the first Catholic church dedicated in Montreal, and the fiftieth anniversary will be celebrated on St. Patrick's day.

The Toronto Globe says: "An engagement that is of interest to a large number of people, especially in Peterborough and Cayuga, as well as in town, is that of the Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, of St. John's church, Peterborough, to Miss Nellie Grand, daughter of the late Mr. Joseph Grand, of Toronto, which has just been announced." Rev. Mr. Stevenson's numerous friends in town will extend cordial congratulations. During his stay in Peterborough Rev. Mr. Stevenson has won much popularity both for his ministerial and social and personal good qualities.

A letter from Judge Angers, brother to the Ex-Lieut.-Governor of the Province of Quebec, has been written to the author of "Quicksare," saying: "It has always given my child relief from toothache, its effect is wonderful. I have also found it good for burns and cuts."

Signed, C. PANET ANGERS.

John McKee has removed his Drug Store, two doors north, to No. 388 George Street. dw

THE MAIL CONTRACT.

Mr. George Fowler's Tender has been Accepted by the Department.

The contract for carrying Her Majesty's mails, between the postoffice and the railway stations, has been awarded to Mr. Geo. Fowler, of town, his tender being the lowest. Mr. Fowler was notified on Saturday by the Postmaster General of the fact that his tender had been accepted.

THE PROPOSED JUBILEE CELEBRATION.

W. H. Isaacs, Esq., Town:

DEAR SIR,—I am in receipt of your card of the 9th instant, stating that the four Courts of the Canadian Order of Foresters in Peterborough have united for the purpose of celebrating the Queen's Jubilee by a public demonstration and asking me to become an honourary member of the Committee.

Now I heartily approve of the aim of the Canadian Order of Foresters in this matter, but I take it that there are other orders and societies, and there is the mass of the people, who do not belong to such societies who will desire to join in celebrating the auspicious event of the Diamond Jubilee, and I think it would be a happier arrangement if all the people could represented in the organization to celebrate the day.

As your organization appears only to represent your four Courts, I would suggest that it would give much greater eclat to your celebration if the community at large would depute to your organization the conduct of the day's proceedings, in which event I would only be too happy to aid you in any way in my power. Meanwhile I would like better not to commit myself to any special organization representing less than all the people.

Acknowledging the honour of your invitation,

I am, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

D. W. DUMBLE.

[Mr. Dumble's letter probably voices the feelings of a considerable number of citizens, and we therefore cheerfully give it space, feeling sure that the desire of the Foresters is simply that the celebration occasion should not go by default. As heretofore stated in these columns, the Foresters invite the co-operation of the citizens generally in making the proposed demonstration as popular as possible, and as worthy as possible of the great occasion it is designed to celebrate.—ED. EXAM.

The sooner you begin to fight the fire, the more easily it may be extinguished. The sooner you begin taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for your blood-disease, the easier will be the cure. In both cases, delay is dangerous, if not fatal. Be sure you get Ayer's and no other.

As an offertory anthem the choir of the Charlotte street church sang "Nearer Home," last night.

Last evening the ordinance of baptism was administered to three candidates in the Murray street Baptist church.

The choir of the George street Methodist church was entertained at the residence of Mr. A. R. Micks during the week.

Mrs. Main took the solo last night in a new arrangement of the anthem "Now the Day is Over," in St. Paul's church.

The special Lenten address in St. John's church on Wednesday evening will be given by Rev. J. A. Broughall, of Whitby.

Rev. Mr. Anderson, of Norwood, delivered both the morning and evening sermons in the Charlotte street church yesterday.

The first session of the rally of the Baptist Young People will begin at 2 p.m. to-morrow in the Park street Baptist church.

"Guide me O Thou Great Jehovah" was the title of last evening's anthem in the George street Methodist church. Mrs. Seward and Mr. J. Browne took the solos most acceptably.

The interest in the evangelistic services in the Murray street Baptist church are being well sustained, which will be held on Monday, Thursday and Friday evenings of this week. All are welcome.

A most harmonious rendering of the anthem "Thou wilt Keep Him in Perfect Peace" was given by the Charlotte street choir last evening. It was sung unaccompanied and the effect was very fine.

The Jameson raid in South Africa and subsequent events, touching the matter, have become of world-wide interest. Owing to the fact that our countryman, Hon. Edward Blake, one of our greatest statesmen, is acting on the Parliamentary Committee appointed to enquire into the circumstances which resulted in Jameson's raid, Canadians feel something like a local interest in the matter, and the people of Peterborough no doubt will feel a little pardonable pride from the fact that they are to be the first audience in the new world having an opportunity of seeing these beautiful coloured views, which comprise over sixty, of the most thrilling scenes of this historical event. The entertainment will also consist of vocal and instrumental music. Reserved seats 50c, general admission 25c. Plan of hall at Salisbury & Co's.

OBITUARY.

The Late Rev. J. W. Savage, of Toronto.

The funeral of the late Rev. J. W. Savage, who died at the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. A. A. McIntyre, No. 16 College street, Peterborough, took place on Wednesday last, the 10th inst., from the home of the deceased, 245 North Lisgar street, Toronto, proceeding to Wesley church, to which he belonged, and of which Rev. R. N. Burns is pastor, where the funeral service was held. Many of the late Mr. Savage's ministerial friends took part in the service. Among those present were Rev. Drs. Potts, Parker, Burns, Barrass, Sutherland, and Revs. Ockley, Leech, Rankin, Burns, Fish and many others, as deceased was well known and deservedly highly esteemed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

Rev. J. F. Ockley, chairman of the district, conducted the funeral service, and Rev. Dr. A. Sutherland, missionary secretary, gave the funeral address. Dr. Sutherland spoke in the highest terms of the deceased, having known him personally for nearly fifty years. He said, "He thought his acquaintance dated further back than that of anyone present and may be of any active member of the conference now, as they had met in the same home at conference in London early in the fifties and even then at an early age, he, Dr. Sutherland, was singularly impressed with the guilelessness of character, purity of spirit and nobleness of soul of the brother who was willing to take any work assigned him with singleness of purpose as serving his God, and even through all subsequent years he had never striven for the more important charges, or sought the official positions that were in the gift of the conference to grant. But he ever esteemed it the greatest privilege and the highest honour to be permitted earnestly to preach the glorious gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ and strove not so much to make his preaching full of eloquence as to do good, ever looking for and expecting as the result of each service the salvation of souls, which, (the Dr. said) is the only kind of labour that the faithful servant of God can view with satisfaction in his last hours."

Further, let me exhort those of us who have been his fellow-workers to follow, as he did, closely in the footsteps of Jesus.

Further, if at any time there has been any doubt in our dear deceased brother's mind (as doubt comes to most men) as to the uncertainties of the unknown future existence, could he speak to us to-day, no doubt he would use the words he has frequently quoted and perhaps preached from: "Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither hath it entered into the heart of man to conceive the doings which God has prepared for them that love Him."

The organist of the church furnished appropriate music. As the funeral procession passed down the aisle the "Dead March in Saul" was played, which gave a very solemn and impressive effect. The deceased was born in Yorkshire, England in 1829. His father was a Methodist minister. Deceased came to Canada in 1854. After forty-one years of service in the ministry he was superannuated in 1895. He was an extensive writer, both of poetry and verse, and at the time of his fatal illness was engaged upon an historical work.

He leaves a widow and son and two daughters—Mr. Thos. Savage, who resides in California; Mrs. (Rev.) S. W. Rorke, of Enniskillen, and Mrs. J. Cross, of Bond's Head.

The widow is a daughter of the late Mr. Jacob Spence, Toronto, and sister of Mr. George Spence, Ald. F. S. Spence and Revs. J. M. A. and B. H. Spence, of the Manitoba Conference.

TRULY ASTONISHING—Miss Annette N. Moen, Fountain, Minn., says: Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has had a wonderful effect in curing my brother's children of a severe and dangerous cold. It was truly astonishing how speedily they found relief after taking this preparation.

FIRE INVESTIGATION.

The Origin of Some Smith Fires Looked Into.

On Tuesday last an investigation was held before John Hall, J.P., at the instance of Mr. R. J. Doyle, manager of the Dominion Mutual Fire Insurance Association, to enquire into the cause of the fire which occurred on Mr. Frank Armstrong's farm on lot 21, con. 12, of Smith, on December 25th last, by which the house and contents, with the exception of a few articles, were completely destroyed. There was an insurance of $600.00 on the contents. The Lakefield News gives the following report of the investigation:—

The first witness called was Frank Armstrong, who, being duly sworn, said:—I live in the township of Smith. Have lived there for thirteen years, with my father and sister. Was insured in the Dominion Mutual Insurance Association. There had been no other person in the house the night before the fire. I did not lock house or barn doors the night before the fire. I first discovered the fire at 3.30 o'clock on the morning of Dec. 25th. I found several doors and a gate opened which had been shut the night before. There was a little snow on the ground but not enough to trace a track. The fire could not have taken place from ashes as I put them in an iron pot and tin pail. I in the north end of the summer kitchen, and it was just breaking into the winter kitchen. I saw no person around at the time. No person has ever threatened to burn me out. There had been no fire in the summer or winter kitchen or shed for some time. Was always careful about ashes. I have no opinion as to the origin of fire. When I first discovered the fire I started to carry out clothing and bedding. After a short time I went to look after the barn. When I went to the barn the fire was too far advanced to save anything more. My sister took out some pictures and other things, but she received several burns and could get nothing more. Dr. D. Fraser first appeared at the fire, about 35 minutes after it started. He advised them not to go in any more as it was not safe. Mr. R. Duff assisted me in making out the bill of stuff destroyed. I was not angry or abusive to the inspector when he called. The value of the stuff in the bill was correct. Wm. Davis was the next at the fire, followed by a number of the neighbours. I looked for tracks but could not find any. To the best of my knowledge it was set on fire by some person or persons unknown.

Wm. Davis, of Smith, sworn, said:—I was coming home from Bridgenorth when I saw the fire. The large part of the house was not down but before I got there it fell. I saw Mr. Armstrong and he told me this was his second trouble of this kind, and he seemed to be in great trouble. He told me he thought it was set on fire. I only stayed about 15 minutes as I could do no good.

John Fanning, of the township of Smith, being duly sworn, said:—I was at the fire at Armstrong's on the morning of December 25th. I live about three-quarters of a mile from there. I was awakened by my father who told me

THERE WAS A FIRE.

When I got there the whole building was burned down. There was very little of the contents saved. I have no idea how the fire started.

Lawrence and Jas. Fanning, jr., were next called and their evidence was about the same, both having arrived at the fire after the house was burned down.

Jas. Fanning, of Smith, being sworn, said:—I was awakened by the reflection of the fire through the window about four o'clock. I was not at the fire. I thought I heard some person yelling when I got up. I cannot tell anything as to how it happened.

Dr. D. Fraser, of Lakefield, being sworn said:—I was coming home from a call when I saw the fire. The shed and kitchens were pretty well burned when I got there. All the stuff that was saved was was out before I got there. Nothing could be taken out after I got there, and shortly after the flames burst out all over the house. Mr. Armstrong thought it was set on fire by tramps. Mr. Armstrong said he had some trouble in getting his father out. I did not meet any person coming from the house.

Miss Armstrong was unable to be present on account of illness.

Mr. R. Duff, of Smith, being sworn, said:—I live about half a mile from Mr. Armstrong's place. I did not go to the fire until ten o'clock. Mr. Armstrong told me he did not know how the fire started, but thought it might have been set on fire by a tramp. I assisted Mr. Armstrong in making out the bill of stuff destroyed. He fixed the prices. They endeavoured to arrive at a fair value of the goods at the time of the fire.

Mrs. R. Duff, of Smith, being sworn, said:—I was in Mr. Armstrong's house last summer. The house was very well furnished. All the furniture was in good condition. I was not consulted with regard to the value of the things. I thought some of the things were not marked high enough.

W. G. Graham, of Smith, being sworn, said:—I was at the fire on Dec. 25th, but did not get there until the building was burned down. I helped to carry some of the things to the barn. I have no idea how the fire started. I had been in the house and it was well furnished.

Wm. Ayers, Peterborough, Vice-President of the Company, and who acted as inspector, was duly sworn: I inspected Mr. Armstrong's loss about Jan. 6th. Armstrong told me he thought some one had been stealing meat and by some means fired the building. I asked Armstrong if it had not started from ashes. He said not as ashes was placed in a barrel in another place. I made a careful survey of the place, and asked Armstrong for a statement of his loss. He handed me a statement in bulk sums. I told him I wanted a bill of items. Armstrong said he could not give it then, but would send it to Peterborough, which he did. He wanted to know how soon it would be settled, and stated he supposed the Company wanted to cut him down as one company had done before. I visited Armstrong's place a few days ago, and Armstrong told again what he considered was the origin of the fire. I arranged to send Mr. Armstrong claim papers to fill out and forward to Peterborough, which he did.

In the evening a number of witnesses were re-called, but nothing new was brought out. The investigation adjourned until March 24th. Mr. W. H. Moore, Peterborough, acted for Mr. Armstrong.

THE SQUAW RIVER.

More Particulars Concerning what the Harvey Men Want.

Bobcaygeon Independent.

The Squaw River in North Harvey has been an important stream for the conveyance of timber, and there is still a very considerable quantity of the coarser qualities of forest produce to be brought out. Control of the water is obtained by five dams, and these, partly through forest fires and chiefly through age, have become useless.

A deputation, consisting of County Councillor Shaw, James Richmond and Freemont Crandell, waited upon the Government at Toronto last week and urged the propriety of a grant of $1000 towards repairing these dams, the reason offered being that the improvements were now for the benefit of the settlers. The deputation considered they had been received favourably, but no definite answer has yet been given.

Repairs should have been made last fall, and no further delay can be allowed, consequently Mr. John Coburn with a party of ten men went down to the river on Tuesday, under instructions from Mr. Flavelle, to put the dams in some sort of condition for holding the water—at least for this spring. The Rathbun Co. has some 35,000 pieces on the lower part of the river. Mr. Flavelle has about 16,000 pieces higher up, and behind him Mr. Kelly of Bridgenorth, has a quantity of stuff. It is positively necessary that every drop of water shall be saved, for there is scarcely any snow in the woods, and there will be nothing but the spring rains to give water for the "driving."

The Sisters of Charity, "Grey Nuns," Guy street, Montreal, write: "Having made use of your "Quickcure" in our establishment, we are happy to add our testimony, also, in its favour." Nothing equals "Quickcure" as a dressing for Burns, Scalds, Cuts or Wounds; even Toothache need no more be dreaded.

UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM

G. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphine. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 185 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

THE DUTY ON COAL.

Hon. Mr. Fielding Makes an Important Statement to a Montreal Deputation.

Montreal, March 13.—(Special.)—Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, made an important statement to-day on the tariff question. He was waited upon at the Windsor Hotel by the representatives of the coal mining interest, who again urged upon him the necessity of maintaining, if not increasing, the present duty on coal. They urged that the duty should also apply to anthracite coal, which is now imported largely from the United States, without the payment of duty. In support of their contention they laid much stress upon the report that the United States Congress is about to largely increase the coal duty, with a view to excluding Canadian coal, a moderate quantity of which is now imported into the United States.

In the course of his reply to the deputation, Mr. Fielding made the following statement: "I have not felt at liberty to give any encouragement to the deputations which have from time to time waited upon me for the purpose of advocating a high duty on coal. It is well known that the tendency of the policy of the present Canadian Government has been towards a reduction of the duty rather than towards an increase. We still desire to move in that direction, unless events on the other side of the line make it impossible for us to do so. We recognize the fact that where our policy touches our trade relations with our neighbors to the south, it may have, to a considerable extent, to be influenced by their disposition towards us. I do not think that we ought to proceed on the assumption that it is the intention of the American Congress to increase the coal duty. You gentlemen in the coal trade are well aware of the fact, but it may not be so well known to the general public, that the present Canadian duty on coal is considerably higher than the American duty. This fact has already been used to our disadvantage at Washington. It has been advanced as a reason why the American duty should be raised. Is it not possible that this argument would be strengthened, and further harm done, by having the idea go abroad that we are determined to maintain our duty and even increase it? May not all good purposes be better served by having it known that we are disposed to proceed in the line of reduction if our neighbors are willing to do what is fair? If this be clearly understood, and if those in the United States who are interested in holding their Canadian market for coal bestir themselves, the increase of the American duty, which you regard as likely to occur, may not be made. If, however, your view is correct, and it turns out that the United States duty is raised to a higher figure, then we shall claim and exercise the right to revise our views respecting the Canadian duty, and we shall feel bound to impose a duty not only on bituminous coal, but also on anthracite coal, which at present comes into our market from the States free of duty. We should much prefer, however, to move in the other direction, and we shall still hope that nothing may occur at Washington to prevent our carrying out our desire."

Humors, pimples, boils, are very annoying. They quickly disappear when the blood is purified by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

NEWS FROM OTTAWA

The Imperial Government Sets Tuesday, 22nd of June

TO MARK THE DIAMOND JUBILEE.

Deep Waterways Commissioners Preparing Their Report—Supreme Court Proceedings—The Governor-General's New Secretary is Mr. David Erskine of the Scottish Archers.

Ottawa, March 13.—(Special.)—The Government has been advised that Her Majesty's Government has selected Tuesday, June 22, as the day on which to hold the official celebration of the Diamond Jubilee, and the Ministers are consequently considering whether it is advisable to set aside this day for official celebration in the Dominion, or to hold it on Monday, 21st.

DEEP WATERWAYS REPORT.

Mr. Thomas Munro, C.E., and Mr. T. C. Keefer, C.E., deep waterways commissioners, are in town, and will be joined to-morrow by Mr. O. A. Howland, M.L.A., chairman of the Canadian Commission, when a meeting will be held and a report to Parliament drawn up. The report of the American commissioners has been presented to Congress.

The city has made an arrangement with the vendors of Rockcliffe Park by which the present suits in the Supreme Court will be withdrawn and the park becomes the property of the city at a cost of nearly $60,000.

In the Supreme Court the case of Fraser v. Davidson was taken up this morning. The question in the case was whether, under the Ontario Act against fraudulent preferences, which prohibits an insolvent giving to one creditor, bonds, bills, notes or securities, but allows payment of money, a debtor could transfer a third party's cheque to a preferred creditor, who in this case was the debtor's wife. In other words, is such a cheque "money" unde the act? The majority of the Court of Appeal, reversed the Divisional Court and Meredith, J., held that it was not "money," but an assignment of a bill of exchange, and as such subject to the statutory prohibition. Wilson, Q.C., for appellant, G. G. Mills for respondent. Judgment reserved.

By consent of the parties the appeal in Sombra v. Chatham was withdrawn, and the counsel in the next case, Rogers v. the Toronto School Board, not being prepared to proceed at once with the argument, the case was allowed to stand until to-morrow.

Mr. Hobbs, M.L.A., of London, was in town to-day, and has closed a contract with the Department of Justice whereby he handles the total output of binder twine from the Kingston Penitentiary, which will be made up to next August. Last autumn the Government sold 500 tons to a St. John firm, who have re-sold to Hobbs, and the latter has now arranged to take the balance of the penitentiary output, which will be fully 500 tons more. The price is not given.

Rev. Father Lacombe, Northwest missionary, is in town with Rev. Father Leduc. Their visit has reference to the colony of half-breeds at St. Paul Des Metis, on the northern branch of the Saskatchewan. For some time Father Lacombe has been working the scheme. Since last summer a certain amount of improvements have been made at places where the mission is located. Rev. Father Therien, one of the assistants of Father Lacombe, is there already with a number of families preparing for next spring. Thirty houses are built and many others will be constructed in the near future. The desire of Father Lacombe is to have an industrial school, which will help the enterprise. Just now the expenses have been contributed by friends who want to help the scheme, which everybody understands will be for the welfare of the half-breeds, on whom Father Lacombe has devoted a great part of his life.

Edward Lachapelle has taken an action for $5000 damages against the Ottawa Electric Co. for injuries he is alleged to have sustained by falling off an electric light pole on Argyle-avenue two or three months ago.

The Canada Gazette to-morrow will contain the announcement that His Excellency the Governor-General has appointed Mr. David Erskine of the Scottish Archers to be secretary in place of Capt. John Sinclair, M.P., resigned. Mr. Erskine has been a member of His Excellency's staff from the commencement of the Governor's tenure of office until last year, when, owing to his presence being needed at his home in consequence of the serious illness of his father, he resigned his position as A.D.C. Mr. Erskine, sr., having now become much better, his son is free to accept the position offered him. Pending Mr. Erskine's arrival at the beginning of next month, the duties of the office will be performed by Capt. Sinclair as acting Governor-General's secretary, without pay. Capt. Sinclair is due to arrive within the next few days, and will remain in Canada for a few weeks.

J. M. McDougall, Conservative candidate in Wright, had two successful meetings in Hull to-night.

AN INFURIATED BULL.

Gored Mr. Thomas Sillence Fearfully at Niagara-on-the-Lake—Burglars at Lake View House.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., March 13.—Burglars last night broke into the bar of the Lakeview House at the dock and carried away a quantity of liquor. They also secured about $4 in cash from the till. Entrance was gained by breaking a pane of glass in the door and then forcing the bolts.

Mr. Thomas Sillence had a very narrow escape from being gored to death by an infuriated bull yesterday. In the absence of its owner, Mr. Sillence went into the stall where the animal was tied to let it out, when it turned on him, knocking him down, stamping on his chest, and tearing an awful gash, several inches long, in his neck with its horns. Medical aid was called, when it was found necessary to put several stitches in the wounds. The injured man is now doing as well as can be expected.

Seems as if consumption always picks out the brightest and best. Fully one-sixth of all the deaths that occur in the world are caused by consumption. Many things were once considered impossible. It would be strange if medical science did not make some progress. The telegraph and telephone, the phonograph, the electric light—all were once impossible, and once it was impossible to cure consumption. That was before the time of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Taken according to directions, this standard remedy will cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. Consumption is caused and fostered by impurity in the blood. It is cured by purity and richness in the blood—surely, certainly cured by the "Medical Discovery." It builds up solid healthy flesh and vigorous strength.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a 1008 page medical work, profusely illustrated, will be sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover postage only. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Yoke Fellows.

Many women work too hard. There is no question about that. If they did not have Love for a yoke-fellow they could never endure the daily, hourly grind and drudgery of life. But they bear it cheerfully, sustained by loving thoughts of husband and children.

But when physical weakness or disease is added to a woman's burden it becomes altogether too heavy. No woman can be cheerful or hopeful who is dragged down by continual pain and physical wretchedness.

The special weaknesses peculiar to the feminine organism are comparatively easy to overcome if the earlier symptoms are given proper attention. But if allowed to go unchecked, they are liable to develop into serious, chronic complications.

Any woman afflicted with these delicate ailments ought to have the immediate aid of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a perfect and unfailing specific for all diseases of the feminine organs. It was devised for this one purpose, and accomplishes this purpose as no other medicine has ever done.

For nearly 30 years Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., where in conjunction with his staff of associate specialists, he has successfully treated many thousand cases of "female complaint."

No physician living has had a more extended opportunity to study this class of diseases in actual practice. No medicine ever invented has done for women what his "Favorite Prescription" has.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure constipation.

IT IS IN THE AIR.

Tweed People Talk About it.

It is in the air.

Can't stop it spreading.

Can't keep down a good thing.

People who don't know about it want to known.

People who do know, want to tell about it.

It is kidney education.

Tweed people are learning fast.

Here are some facts.

One of the best known residents of Tweed is Mr. W. H. Houston, who relates the following interesting facts: Mr. Houston says, "I have been very bad for several years with pains in my side and back.

"I had to urinate very frequently, in fact my rest was disturbed by frequent rising at night for that purpose. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, at Newton's drugstore, and have experienced great relief from the first.

"I am sure that I have been greatly benefited, and can recommend them highly to anyone troubled as I was."

THE GREAT PUGILISTS.

Fitz and Corbett Get Final Instructions From Referee Siler—In-Fighting Allowed.

Carson, Nev., March 12.—Several knotty problems in connection with the big fight were discussed and solved to-day, among them being the agreement between the fighters as to the Queensberry rules, and Dan Stuart's compromise with the Kinetoscope Company. The principals in the main event of the carnival eased off in their work, and a large delegation of sporting men from the East arrived.

Martin Julian, representing Fitzsimmons, and W. A. Brady, acting for Corbett, met George Siler and Dan Stuart in the latter's office this afternoon and took up the question of rules. Each clause of Siler's instructions was taken up and worked over. The first eleven rules of Queensberry were passed upon without a hitch. Rule 12, touching upon the London prize ring regulations, brought Julian to white heat, and he protested strongly, but ineffectually, against Siler's judgment, which allowed hitting in clinches with a free hand, and also on breakaways. "No man who has followed Fitzsimmons in many of his battles will admit that this style of fighting suits him," asserted the stout manager. "Bob is essentially a puncher, and not a wrestler. At long range he is invincible ,but I will not allow him to go in any 'mixed ale' scraps if I can help it. I thought this fight was to be the most scientific ever fought. Now, why does Corbett want to mix matters up so?"

Julian found nobody ready to agree with him. Brady came to the scratch at the outset and informed all present that Corbett would agree to anything reasonable. Siler, he said, was not Corbett's preference for a referee, but Jim had faith in the gentleman's discretion and honesty, and would not squabble over any ruling which was not dewaright unfair.

When Julian realized that he was alone in the controversy, he appealed to Dan Stuart for judgment, agreeing to abide by what the big Texan thought was right. Stuart invited Siler into a private room, where they conversed for a few minutes.

"Gentlemen," announced the promoter, "Mr. Julian has given us his word that he will accept my decision in this matter. I hope he knows me well enough to believe that I would not wrong Fitzsimmons in any manner. I am of the opinion that Mr. Siler's interpretation of the rules is absolutely impartial and gives neither of the fighters the slightest advantage. Let it be understood then that Corbett and Fitzsimmons may hit with a free hand during clinches, and that they may also bang away at each other during separating. In short, Mr. Siler's instructions are to be followed to the letter. I trust this will satisfy you all."

"Very well, then," Julian rejoined. "let it go at that. I won't kick."

Three hours of fast work on the road this morning left Corbett with plenty of steam for this evening's work. The punching bag was not touched, but Jim put in a few extra licks with the gloves after taking three straight games of handball from Al Hampton. He was closely watched by a number of Eastern gentlemen, who arrived on the early train, and they all pronounced him better able to put up a fight than ever. Many of them were Fitzsimmons' partisans, but they wore long faces after seeing Jim drive Woods around the court and knock him groggy while apparently holding himself back. Corbett was not even breathing hard when he turned in for his rub-down. He was a trifle nervous, though, and frequently warned his trainers to be careful about running in on him.

The roads about Cook's Ranch have dried materially, and Fitzsimmons tried his bike this morning. He wheeled 14 miles before 11 o'clock without a mishap, but his arms appeared to be stiff when he put the gloves on with Hickey. Dan was at his best, and Bob did not show up any too well in the bout. Roeber limbered the Australian up a bit, and Stenzler came in for some fancy short-arm punches. Clinch after clinch followed in the last set-to, and each time Bob showed his short-range punching ability in a wonderful manner. If, as Julian asserts, he is a long-range puncher, nobody has been able to discover the fact. His method of getting in on a break is totally different from Corbett's. Instead of swinging on his opponent's jaw with a downward and half-circular motion like Jim, he slips up under the guard with a swift and strong uppercut on the chin.

An obliging friend of Dan Stuart in San Diego has warned the director general that his box office is to be looted on the day of the fight. According to the Southern Californian an organized band of robbers will station themselves around the office, and, when they think enough money is in sight, guns will be whipped out and all hands stood up. Dan is not losing any sleep over the plot. He was also informed that the Eastern pool rooms had conspired to beat the fight by means of outside information, which would reach them ahead of the telegraphic bulletins. This dream will cause no trouble.

George Siler and Stuart were formally notified this evening that Jimmy Colville of Boston would serve as Corbett's timekeeper and that Lou Houseman of Chicago would hold the watch for Fitzsimmons.

Martin Flaherty, with a lean face, as brown as a berry, drove in from Genoa to-day and paid a visit to Corbett. Martin is down to 124 pounds, and has practically finished his training. He reports that Mysterious Billy Smith tips the scales at 147 pounds now, and is in excellent condition.

REV JOHN MUTCH DEAD.

The Pastor of Chalmers Presbyterian Church Passed Away at an Early Hour This Morning

Toronto, March 12.

Rev. John Mutch, pastor of Chalmers Presbyterian Church, Toronto, died at his residence, 110 Havelock-street, at 1.15 this morning, after a week's severe illness. For several days the end had been expected, and Mr. Mutch's wonderful vitality was a surprise to his medical attendants.

It is not a fortnight since Mr. Mutch, in apparently the best of health, took part in a meeting of the Toronto Ministerial Association. By this body, as well as the clergymen who are not therewith identified, the deceased was held in the highest esteem.

It was a man of culture and thought and many who were his classmates at Toronto University and Knox College will deplore his departure in the zenith of his powers. As a pastor no minister in this city of churches was more devoted and beloved. He was practically the father of modern Presbyterianism in Parkdale and Brockton, where he labored in building up what has become one of the most successful churches of the Toronto Presbytery.

As a pastor, Mr. Mutch was sympathetic; as a preacher, thoughtful and earnest; as a citizen, calm in counsel and considerate in act. But it was as a man among men that his loss will be most felt, for under a somewhat rugged demeanor dwelt the kindly heart which prompted the generous word and humane deed.

The death of Rev. John Mutch is a distinct loss to Presbyterianism and the Christianity that is not bounded by sections, names and considerations.

Mr. John Mutch was a Canadian. He was born in the Township of Egremont, in the County of Grey. He was educated at Hamilton Collegiate Institute, at Toronto University, where he took the degrees of B.A. (1880) and M.A (1881), and at Knox College, from which he graduated in 1884. As a student he was popular with all his classmates and he took great interest in all college affairs. During his college course at Knox, Mr. Mutch had charge of the Brockton Mission.

On graduating from Knox College he was ordained and inducted as the first minister of what is now Chalmers' Church, one of the largest and most prosperous Presbyterian congregations in the city. Under his earnest ministry the church made great progress in all departments.

Mr. Mutch was popular with all the city ministers, irrespective of denomination, and was active in spiritual, moral and benevolent work. He was a member of the Board of Knox College, and took a personal interest in all its concerns.

Deceased married a Hamilton lady who survives him, and he leaves four children.

W. J. Fraser, Esq., Manager and Agent for the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York, Quebec, writes: "My wife suffered intensely from ear-ache for ten days, causing complete deafness in affected ear. We tried remedies without effect. "Quickcure" warmed and dropped into the ear removed the pain, and in one night hearing was restored. We have also found it splendid for toothache and burns."

Spot Cash---One Price---Money Back If You Want It.

THIS IS OUR NEW METHOD OF DOING BUSINESS.

OLD CASH-AND-CREDIT SYSTEM DONE AWAY WITH.

It is a well-known fact that a great proportion of the losses in any credit business are caused by about four main items:
1st. Bad Debts. 2nd. Interests on accounts carried.
3rd. Expenses of collecting and keeping track of Accounts.
4th. Losses sustained through not being able to take cash Discounts when buying stock.

These losses, in the aggregate, are quite a heavy item, and are all a direct charge on any business run on a Cash and Credit basis, and must, of necessity, come out of the profits. In marking goods one has to figure on the cost of giving credit just the same as for rent, taxes, help, etc. For example:

Take a business where there is an average credit given of $5000.00; that is, at times books show $8000.00, and at other times accounts would be reduced to $2000.00, leaving the average on books for a year about $5000.00.
Losses from Bad Debts would be not less than.....	$150 00
Cost of Stationary, Postage, Extra Help, Books, etc	200 00
Interest on average of Accounts, ($5000.00) at Bank rate 8 per cent	400 00
Losses through not having $5000.00 in cash to take Discounts in buying stock 5 per cent	250 00
Total.....	$1100 00

Or to do an $5000.00 credit business there is an extra cost over cash of $1100.00, or an expense of 14 per cent.

In comparing our own experience with other merchants we find that as near as we can approximate the above figures are correct.

After looking at these facts we have determined to live up to the experience gained, and dispense with credit altogether, believing that a Spot Cash business will be mutually beneficial. It is an undoubted fact that the man who sells the cheapest is the man who sells for Cash—selling for Cash we can and will sell at lower prices than ever before.

Buying where credit is given you not only have to pay for your own goods but have the extra cost of paying for credit business losses.

In marking our Spring Stock of Hats we have kept in view the ONE PRICE, SPOT CASH rule which we now adopt. All old customers, both Cash and Credit, and all those who will favour us with their patronage, will find that our goods are being sold at fully from 10 to 15 per. cent. lower prices than formerly, and the high quality of stock strictly maintained. In stopping this leakage customers will be money in pocket and we will be better off.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB COLUMN.

No. XCI.

The Church and Social Reform.

The following article, which recently appeared in a Canadian journal, is so closely allied to the question recently discussed in the Fortnightly Club Column that we think it will be perused with much interest by our readers:—

It is to be expected that the present great social awakening should be marked by crudities of thought and extravagances of statement. The evils are so evident, the suffering so acute, the enthusiasm for reform among individuals so strong and impatient of delay, that such things can hardly be avoided.

Prof. Ely, in an article on trusts lately contributed to The Independent, places as the first remedy a new ideal and training in government. The professor simply voices a growing conviction among all classes that the hour has come for fundamental change. The public thought is turning away with impatience from the well-worn creeds and expedients which have hitherto served to guide the ship of State, and is focusing itself upon the origin and meaning of government itself. This means a re-examination of all the forces that enter into social life. Among these great agencies none is more worthy of though than the Christian Church, and none receives more unjust, flippant criticism from many who are honestly set for the good of the world. The rock of offence appears to lie in the fact that many members of Christian churches are leaders in these great financial enterprises which seem to injure injure a large number while benefitting the few. It is, moreover, urged with persistent iteration that the great reforms have originated outside the church, and for the most part have been carried on in spite of the church. In respect of the first it may be pointed out that the case is comparatively recent, and the attempt to bring the subject under discipline is beset with the greatest difficulties. The defence is made that there is no method of compelling a man to love his neighbour as himself, that those alleged to be guilty of moral wrong are in no sense violaters of the conventional moral standards of the hour nor of the law of the land, that they are simply doing on a large scale what their neighbours are practising in a smaller way, and to disfellowship them, the churches, in order to consistency, would have to annihilate themselves, since all are guilty. It is pounted, out moreover, that the very writers who demand such discipline on the part of the churches toward great monopolists are themselves often guilty of lack of love and mercy in their smaller personal relations. Again, there is grave objection upon the ground that for a church to interfere in the legitimate conduct of a man's private business is to place itself above the laws of the State and to interfere with the rights of private judgment and initiative.

These objections are all significant of modern life. Whether they have weight or not, the fact remains that if the church is to abide true to the spirit and example of its Divine Founder, it must take cognisance of the manner in which its members make their money as well as of the way they use or place it. "We that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak and not to please ourselves," is the changeless law laid down by the apostle. Surely, then, this means that no man ought to increase the burdens of the weak and at the same time retain his place as an adherent of this principle. The principles of Christianity are continually at work in their lives, counteracting and correcting the influence of their social environment. But when that environment is overwhelmingly against the practice of the Christian virtues in common affairs who can wonder that the church falls far short of its own professed ideals? Instead of scourging the Christian Church let the people make it possible for the church to act consistently by refusing to be bought or bullied or gulled into submission to all sorts of injustice. A man who by his vote and influence perpetuates social injustice has no right to pronounce against a church for its inability to overcome that injustice. The church is not to be excused in weakness and wrong doing, but her critics ought themselves to be consistent.

The second common charge is true in form but false in fact. The church is the conscience of the world. Her efforts are two-fold—direct and indirect. Directly in an organized and corporate capacity, it is obviously impossible to secure unanimous and aggressive action upon matters of opinion. Indirectly she acts in the creation and culture of a public conscience.

There are no reforms in Africa nor China nor India except those planted there by Christian peoples. To remove the church from any community means the immediate deterioration of that community, although officially it may not have taken a stand against a single evil. Moreover, if the principle of separation of church and State is true, the church is shut up to indirect and unofficial methods of influencing the course of social and political affairs.

Bearing all these facts in mind, there is no doubt that, in common with all other social agencies, the church has come under the blight of modern commercialism. This it must escape from in order to the highest usefulness. We need a revival of everyday righteousness. We must look for it to begin in the church. Periodic revivals of life and power have marked its history. The next revival will be along the line of social practice. And once the Christian people of the world determine at all costs to live the golden rule the church will instantly become the supreme arbiter in human affairs, and social laws and customs will take on her spirit as naturally and inevitably as flowers spring up to greet the sun.

Who is to be Adjutant of Bisley Team in 1897?

Apparently it rests between Major A. T. Patterson of 65th Battalion of Montreal, and the popular Major of the 8th Royal Rifles of Quebec, who has written the author of "Pheno-Banum," saying: "Your 'Quickcure' stops toothache immediately. I have known of its merits for many years. As a pain relieving and healing remedy it is fully worthy of confidence."

FITZ AND CORBETT

THAT FIGHTING CHAMPIONSHIP.

Will be Settled the Day After To-Morrow if the Program Goes—And a Long-Suffering Public Will Hope There Will Be No Hitch About It.

Carson City, March 14.—There was an air of repose round Cook's Ranch this morning, as Fitzsimmons contented himself with a plunge bath and a drive into town with his wife. The Cornishman took an off day, and did no real work, as a hurry of snow this morning softened the roads, which were in a very muddy condition.

There were plenty of visitors to Shaw's Springs, where Corbett did some indoor work, which Trainer Charley White lightened somewhat from the ordinary routine. In fact, both men have about concluded with the heavy work, and will let up a good deal during the next two days.

Eight athletes from the Olympic Club of San Francisco arrived on the morning train and hastened to Shaw's Springs, where they critically observed Corbett at work. All of them had known Jim from childhood, and he was particularly anxious to hear their opinion as to his condition. Jim Nealon, the veteran handball player, who is probably closer to Corbett than any man living, edged around behind the champion and took in his every move.

"What do you think, now, honestly, Jim?" asked Corbett, as he prepared for his rub down. "You and I have played marbles together, you known, and I would go more on your judgment than anybody's. Speak right out in meaning, old man, and let us have your honest opinion."

"Well, Jim," replied Nealon, "what I have just seen lifts a load from my mind. You did look kind of jaundiced when you left home, and although I would not say so for the world, I thought you were a bit foxy. I knew you'd pick the winner of this fight after I had watched you box a few rounds, and had a good look at you when the bout was over. If you ain't fit to-day to fight for your life, then I don't know you, that's all. You look better, work faster and blow less after exertion this minute than I ever knew you to do before. I don't think you are able to beat me at handball, though. I'll take that conceit out of you to-morrow." The other members of the party agreed with Nealon that Corbett was ripe for a championship battle.

The roads were too muddy for Corbett to-day, and he did all his work indoors. Charley White struck out eight rounds in thee boxing program, but he allowed Jim to linger with the wrist machine five minutes longer than usual. A little extra work with the dumbells was also permitted, and the regulation three games of handball were allowed. Corbett showed more speed than usual this morning, probably because he was not worn down by the heavy road work.

A representative of the Empire Athletic Club of Syracuse, N.Y., to-day matched George Green (Young Corbett) and Tommy Ryan, the welterweight champion, for a 20-round go on April 27. Should Green lose his fight with Smith he will still go against Ryan, and if possible the club will arrange a meeting between Smith and the winner of this battle.

Green and Hawkins finished training to-day. They have not been advised by Stuart when he will require them to enter the ring, but they were given to understand that they might be called upon March 17, should the big fight not last too long. William Muldoon looked over all the fighters to-day, and seemed pleased with their appearance.

CURED OF SCIATICA.

Toronto Junction, Mar. 15 (Special)—Mr. H. Playter, is not a difficult man to find as everybody here knows that he is foreman at No. 1 Fire Hall. He was the picture of health when called upon by your correspondent and told his story thus:

"In April 1896 I suffered from a severe attack of sciatica, affecting my left hip and leg to the tip of the toes. I suspected it came from some form of kidney trouble, and as they had been recommended I procured a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

At the end of the fourth day I was entirely relieved, but desiring a permanent cure I continued to use that and another box and am now perfectly cured and as well as ever in my life. A brother of mine living at Pine Orchard has been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills."

ARE STILL MOVING FOR RETURNS.

Ryerson's Clap-Trap Motion—The Doctor's Lofty Scorn of "Bakers and Teamsters"—Bickerings About a Bailiff—The Working of the Division Court Inspection System.

Toronto, March 15.—The continual reiteration of petty and easily disproved charges of abuse of patronage against the Government which have formed so conspicuous a feature of recent debates is hardly calculated to inspire the province with a belief in the profound statesmanship of the Opposition. A great portion of the time of the House is taken up in discussing such trivialities, the prominence given to them by the assailants of the Government plainly indicating the absence of any broad ideas of policy. The recent change of leadership does not seem to have effected any material change in tactics.

Hon. J. M. Gibson presented the order-in-council in reference to the grant of mining land to an English syndicate for exploration purposes. He stated that he did so informally, as it was intended to bring down in addition copies of all correspondence relating to the transaction from July last.

BILLS THROUGH COMMITTEE.

The House went into Committee, with Mr. Charlton in the chair, and reported a number of private measures, including bills to authorize the issuing of debentures by St. George's Cathedral Church, Kingston, respecting East Toronto village, to consolidate the Port Elgin debt, to amend the acts relating to Kingston Hospital, to confirm bylaw 156 of Springer Township, and respecting the village of Huntsville, the bills incorporating the town of Vankleek Hill and respecting the town of Mitchell.

RAT PORTAGE REGISTRAR.

Mr. Howland enquired whether the attention of the Department of the Attorney-General had been called to the part taken by Mr. Apjohn, registrar of titles at Rat Portage, in relation to a recent sale of the W 1-2 K. 13, Jaffray ownship. Whether the sale had not come off before Mr. Apjohn was registrar, and whether the registrar did not afterwards negotiate sale of such land to another party, while the intending purchaser was waiting for the certificate of title. Whether the Attorney-General will obtain all correspondence relating to the land which passed between the registrar and the former owner, Mr. H. De Q. Sewell.

The Attorney-General, in reply, said a complaint had been made and Mr. Apjohn had been asked for an explanation and had given some. The Government would bring down all correspondence in its possession, but could not undertake to obtain correspondence between third parties.

GAME LAWS.

Mr. Barr moved for a return of copies of all correspondence between the Government, or any member of the Government, or of the Chief Game Warden, and any member of Government of the Province of Quebec, with reference to the provisions of the game laws of the two provinces, requiring residents of each province to take out licenses in order to enjoy the privilege of shooting in the other province.

In speaking to the motion, he regretted the existence of a "tariff wall" between the two provinces.

Hon. J. M. Gibson explained that the game laws of the Province of Ontario, until a year ago, made special exemption of residents of Quebec in the requirement that all outsiders should take out a license. The law was changed because Quebec imposed a tax upon residents of Ontario who went there to shoot game, and it was felt that we should treat them on the same principle. He agreed with the mover of the resolution that this state of affairs was to be regretted, but the fault did not lie with Ontario. He suggested that the case might be met by a provision that whenever Quebec allowed Ontario residents the privilege of shooting there we should reciprocate.

RYERSON'S RHODOMONTADE.

Dr. Ryerson moved another of his clap-trap resolutions, intended, as he said, to show the extent of the Government patronage. He wanted a return of the names, occupations and dates of appointment of all the Justices of the Peace in the province. It was no wonder, he said, that the Government retained power so long when it had so many officials to take part in campaigning. There were 262 J. P.'s in York County alone. Many of them were very ignorant men, many of whom could hardly write their names. They were appointed from all classes including butchers, bakers, teamsters, undertakers, etc. Many of them were totally unfit for their office and made most absurd mistakes, and often abused their positions for the sake of making fees. Together with much more to the same effect.

The Attorney-General said he could hardly think that Dr. Ryerson was serious in making such a demand. The cost and labor of obtaining the names of several thousand J. P.'s appointed for the last 30 years, many of whom had died or changed their abodes, would be very considerable, and he could not see any practical benefit in securing such a list unless to enable the Opposition to parade it in their speeches. He utterly denied that the class of men appointed were ignorant or inefficient. Dr. Ryerson he knew had somewhat lofty ideas, but, though he spoke with such scorn of bakers, teamsters, etc., there were many intelligent and capable men in these trades, quite able to perform the duties of a magistrate creditably. It was absurd to suppose that the Government gained any party advantage from these appointments.

The debate was continued by Mr. Howland, who supported the motion, while Mr. Gibson of Huron strenuously denied, that so far as his constituency was concerned, the appointments of magistrates were on party grounds. This brought up Dr. Ryerson, who read a list of Toronto J. P.'s, stating that they were all Liberals. Hon. G. W. Ross contended that, owing to changes and removals, the number of these officials was not nearly so great as asserted, and that many of the J. P.'s appointed were Conservatives. After pointing out that it would take eight or nine months to secure such a return as Dr. Ryerson asked for, he moved an amendment, confining the scope of the resolution to appointments made in the years 1894, 1895 and 1896. Mr. Marter detailed his experience in asking for appointments in Muskoka, which were not made.

The amendment was accepted by Dr. Ryerson, and the motion adopted.

ALL ABOUT A BAILIFF.

Mr. Bush moved for a return of copies of any report of the Inspector of Division Courts and all other documents in connection with the dismissal of John Dickinson, bailiff. Also, giving the names of all applicants for the position, and copies of all correspondence regarding the same.

Hon. Mr. Harcourt had no objection to the motion. He stated that Dickinson had been removed for frequent neglect of the regulations of the department. He neglected to keep the books required by law, retained the money of suitors beyond the legal time, and committed various other irregularities.

Col. Matheson said that Dickinson happened to be a Conservative and his office was wanted for a Reformer, and that was the whole story.

Hon. J. M. Gibson, with justifiable sharpness, said he wanted the honorable gentleman to understand that the Government treated all bailiffs alike whether they were Reformers or Conservatives. In many instances bailiffs who were Reformers had been dismissed for such offences. Not until the Government took hold of the matter was it possible for the public to procure redress for irregularities committed by bailiffs and Division Court clerks. There was much less complaint from the public since the Government instituted a system of efficient inspection.

Hon. Mr. Harcourt said there was no politics in the matter. The investigation was closed before he knew what Dickinson's politics were. Within the last seven weeks there had been two investigations resulting in the dismissal of Division Court officials, and in both cases they were Liberals.

TORONTO BILL DOESN'T GO.

Dr. Ryerson moved the second reading of a bill to amend the Municipal Act, embodying several changes asked for by the Toronto City Council.

The Attorney-General said that there were provisions in the measure which it would be inadvisable to pass. It proposed to lower the franchise for the city and to change the composition of the Board of Control. The matter was considered very fully at the time that body was organized, and as the Board had done good work it was not desirable at present to make any change in it. However, as the bill dealt with other matters, it was advisable that it should go to committee.

The bill was read a second time.

Local Option Stands in Essex.

Essex, Ont., March 15.—Temperance still leads. The bylaw to repeal the local option as now in force here was defeated to-day by a majority of 75. Both sides worked vigorously, voters being present from Windsor, Amherstburg, Ridgetown and other places. When the local option bylaw was voted on here six years ago it was carried by a majority of 110.

A Fatal Collision.

Danville, Ill., March 15.—In a collision on the Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad near here yesterday Engineer Monroe Ray and Fireman John Cody were killed. Switchman Oscar Kinearman, who was riding on the engine, had both legs cut off, and Engineer Larue had his ribs broken.

A Belt Killed Him.

Tottenham, Ont., March 15.—Samuel Fleming, jr., of Hockley, eight miles west of here, was to-day struck in the head by a belt which flew from the drive wheel of an engine in his saw mill, and died from the effects a few hours later. The deceased was a very industrious man of about 35 years.

M'KINLEY'S MESSAGE

At the Opening of the Fifty-Fifth Congress Yesterday.

PROTECTION IS THE WATCHWORD.

No Concessions to Canada Apparent as Yet —Revenue Must be Raised and Duties on Foreign Goods Will Have to Furnish It—A Few of the Schedules.

Washington, March 15.—The extraordinary session of the 55th Congress was opened this noon.

The election of Speaker resulted: For Reed, 199 votes; for Bailey, 144 votes; for Bell, 21 votes, and for Newlands of Nevada, 1.

Reed was declared elected.

The President transmitted his message. In opening he says:

Regretting the necessity which has required me to call you together, I feel that your assembling in extraordinary session is indispensable because of the condition in which we find the revenues of the country. It is conceded that the current expenditures are greater than its receipts, and that such a condition has existed for now more than three years. With unlimited means at our command, we are presenting the remarkable spectacle of increasing our public debt by borrowing money to meet the ordinary outlays incident upon an even economical and prudent administration of the Government.

An examination of the subject discloses the fact in every detail, and leads inevitably to the conclusion that the condition of the revenue which allows it is unjustifiable and should be corrected.

The President then reviews the finances of the Government for the past three years. Coming to the last fiscal year, he says:

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1896, the revenues of the Government from all sources amounted to $409,475,408.72, while its expenditures were $434,679,454.48, or an excess of expenditures over receipts of $25,023,245.70. In other words the total receipts for the three fiscal years ending June 30, 1896, were insufficient by $137,811,729.46 to meet the total expenditures. Nor has this condition since improved. For the first half of the present fiscal year the receipts of the Government, exclusive of postal revenues, were $157,507,603.76, and its expenditures, exclusive of postal services, $195,410,000.22, or an excess of expenditures over receipts of $37,902,896.46. In January of this year the receipts, exclusive of postal revenues, were $24,316,994.05, and the expenditures, exclusive of postal service, $30,269,389.29, a deficit of $5,952,395.24 for the month. In February of this year the receipts, exclusive of postal revenues, were $24,400,997.33 and expenditures, exclusive of postal service, $28,796,056.66, a deficit of $4,395,059.28, or a total deficiency of $188,061,580.44 for the three years and eight months ending March 1, 1897. Not only are we without a surplus in the Treasury, but with an increase in the public debt there has been a corresponding increase in the annual interest charge from $22,894,882.20 in 1892, the lowest of any year since 1862, to $34,387,297.60 in 1896, or an increase of $11,483,414.40.

It may be urged that even if the revenues of the Government had been sufficient to meet all its ordinary expenses during the past three years, the gold reserve would still have been insufficient to meet the demands upon it, and that bonds would necessarily have been issued for its repletion. But this as it may, it is clearly manifest, without denying or affirming the correctness of such a conclusion, that the debt would have been decreased in at least the amount of the deficiency and business confidence immeasurably strengthened throughout the country. Congress should promptly correct the existing condition. Ample revenues must be supplied not only for the ordinary expenses of the Government, but for the prompt payment of liberal pensions and the liquidation of the principal's interest of the public debt.

In raising revenue, duties should be so levied upon foreign products as to preserve the home market, so far as possible, to our own producers; to revive and increase manufactures; to relieve and encourage agriculture; to increase our domestic and foreign commerce; to aid and develop mining and building, and to render to labor in every field of useful occupation the liberal wages and adequate rewards to which skill and industry are justly entitled. The necessity of the passage of a tariff law which shall provide ample revenue need not be further urged. The demand of the hour is the prompt enactment of such a measure, and to this object I earnestly recommend that Congress shall make every endeavor Before other business is transacted, let us first provide sufficient revenue to faithfully administer the Government without the contracting of further debt.

William McKinley.

Executive Mansion, March 15, 1897.

The message occupied the undivided attention of the Senators and of the audience in the galleries, but no demonstration followed its conclusion.

Then, on motion of Mr. Allison (Rep., Iowa), the Senate at 3.25 adjourned until to-morrow at noon.

At quite a late hour in the session of the House to-day Chairman Dingley presented for reference to the Committee on Ways and Means, of which it was well understood, he was again to be chairman, the tariff bill, upon which he and his Republican associates have been engaged for many weeks.

The bill has two purposes, namely, to raise additional revenue and to encourage the industries of the United States.

On the basis of the importations of the last fiscal year the bill would increase the revenue about $112,000,000 among the several schedules, roughly as follows:

A—Chemicals, $3,500,000.

Of ill health, despondency and despair, gives way to the sunshine of hope, happiness and health, upon taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, because it gives renewed life and vitality to the blood, and through that imparts nerve strength, vigor and energy to the whole body. Read this letter:

"Hood's Sarsaparilla helped me wonderfully, changed sickness to health, gloom to sunshine. No pen can describe what I suffered. I was deathly sick, had sick headaches every few days and those terrible tired, despondent feelings, with heart troubles so that I could not go up and down stairs without clasping my hand over my heart and resting. In fact, it would almost take my breath away. I suffered so I did not care to live, yet I had much to live for. There is no pleasure in life if deprived of health, for life becomes a burden. Hood's Sarsaparilla does far more than advertised. After taking one bottle, it is sufficient to recommend itself." Mrs. J. E. Smith, Beloit, Iowa.

THE UNIVERSAL LANGUAGE.

The meeting of a hard-headed commercial concern is not the place one would naturally look for the originating of a crusade in spelling reform. Yet the United States National Association of Manufacturers at a recent meeting gave up some time to the subject. Not for philological reasons. Bless you, no. But for business reasons, on the ground that the numerous absurdities and redundancies of English spelling were injuring the business of the English-speaking world. It was seriously argued that in consequence of the difficulties presented by our often extraordinary orthography, foreigners were fighting shy of English, and the Germans in particular were gaining ground at English and American expense. The English language is rapidly gaining ground but not fast enough to suit our hustling cousins over the way. According to that celebrated statistical grubber, Sir Michael Mulhall, in the past the proportion of English spoken in the world has increased since A.D. 1800, from 12.7 to 27.7 per cent. The French language, which was nearly 7 per cent. ahead of English at the beginning of the century is now at the percentage of England 90 years ago, 12.8. The percentage of all the leading languages spoken throughout the world has decreased in the time mentioned considerably, and the German language has simply held its own. To show the probability of the English being the universal language, of commerce, at least, in the course of time, the great increase of the present century is to be noted, and further proof is afforded by the fact that in the schools of Tokio, Japan, which is in decided touch with western civilization, the number of pupils studying Japanese is 29,770; English, 20,620; German, 1,218; French, 830, and Russian, 97. English therefore comes very close to being the national tongue in Japan as far as the schools are concerned. Since British and American interests in the matter of language are so closely interwoven it is a wonder that the influence of the sound common sense of our neighbours to the south of us cannot bowl out the tail-twisters, in their senseless opposition to the proposed treaty of international arbitration, which is intended to draw closer two great nations whose every interest is involved in amicable co-operation in advancing the march of Anglo-Saxon civilization.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It is worth while to watch the local election for Athabaska, P. Q., to discover how closely popular opinion coincides with representative opinion through a county council. At the ordinary meeting of the county council, Mayor Gendreau, mayor of Athabaskaville, and Conservative candidate at the last election, proposed the nomination as Warden, was defeated by a vote of 9 to 8. This might at first sight be taken to indicate the unpopularity of the candidate and apart from local influences, which outsiders have no knowledge of, it is perhaps a fair indication.

English journals are impressed with the idea that Canada has been building her railways too fast. The latest available statistics show that there are 16,091 miles of line laid in the Dominion, and that the capital expended is $204,660,592. Towards the cost of the construction of this mileage the national Government has contributed an average of $9,269 per mile, the Provincial Governments $1,847, an the municipalities $681 a mile. Altogether the subsidies amount in round figures to $195,000,000. It is believed that the results obtained have not been adequate to so great a liberality. It has been laid down by some authorities that the cost of a successful railway should not be more than ten times its annual profit; that is, that the annual revenue should be ten per cent. of the capital cost. This does not apply to Canadian railways. The average percentage of profit to cost is only about 5½ instead of ten. But the British critics must remember that railways come into existence under different conditions. In the Old Country railways are laid in developed regions capable of little further development, and all that is to be done it to secure paying traffic from the beginning. In Canada nearly all railways are practically colonization roads, serving new territory whose resources must be developed before anything approximating to good dividends can be expected. However it seems that we have spent enough on railways for some time to come, and the wisdom of further liberal bonusing is questionable.

Heavy Losses and No Insurance.

The women of Canada lose thousands of dollars every year by having valuable garments and goods ruined by adulterated and imitation package dyes.

There being no security or insurance against losses resulting from spurious and deceptive dyes, defrauded women cannot claim damages or expect to be recouped by the makers of the common dyes.

Let it be understood perfectly that every package of Diamond Dyes is fully warranted to do what is promised for it.

The manufacturers of Diamond Dyes are the only responsible makers in the world of package dyes for home dyeing, and they succeed because their dyes are pure, strong, bright and never-fading, and the easiest to use.

An Important Find by a Brockville Jeweller.

Mr. Joseph Lane, the well-known jeweller of Brockville, says: "For some years I have suffered with severe pains in my back and sides and flashes of heat between my shoulders. I had a tired, wornout feeling.

"The numerous medicines that I took gave me very little relief. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I thought I would try a box, and got one at Curry's drugstore.

"After the first two or three doses I felt much relieved, and the longer I took them the greater the change for the better in my condition. I am much better in every respect and recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from kidney trouble as the best remedy I know of."

This estimate is on the supposition that the imports of each class of goods would be the same the next fiscal year as in the fiscal year ended last June.

Undoubtedly any delay beyond the first of May in placing the bill on the statute book would result in a large loss of revenue.

The increase of revenue is secured by transferring wool, lumber, crude opium, argols, paintings and statuary, straw ornaments, straw mattings, burlaps and various other articles from the free list of the present law to the dutiable list; by increasing the duty on woolens to compensate the manufacturer for the duty placed on wool; by raising the duty on sugar about 1-4 of a cent per pound in order to encourage the production of sugar in this country, which it is believed can be done ,and thus give our farmers a new crop, which we now import mainly from abroad; by increasing the duty on agricultural products affected by Canadian competition ,and on fine cotton goods, some advanced manufactures of iron and steel, manufactures of jute, flax and hemp, in order to encourage these and other industries here, and especially by increasing duties on such luxuries as liquors, tobacco, silks, laces, etc.

As a rule the rates of duties proposed are between the rates of the tariff of 1890 and the tariff of 1894, such reduction of rates from the former law preserving the protective principle, being made feasible by changed conditions.

The iron and steel schedule is changed very little from that schedule in the tariff of 1894, the change being chiefly in the more advanced articles. The same is true of the cotton schedule.

In the agricultural, wool and glass and earthenware schedules alone are the duties of the act of 1890 fully restored as a rule and in a few cases increased with the view of amply protecting an dencouraging our farming interests at every possible point.

The reciprocity provisions of the act of 1890 have not only been fully restored, but this policy has been extended by adding sugar, tea, coffee and hides as articles on which to make reciprocal agreements, such articles as champagne, brandy, wines, artificial and natural mineral waters, chicle argols and silk laces. In adding these articles the reciprocity provision is strengthened greatly by providing for a reduction of duties on them to countries giving us similar concessions.

THE WOOL SCHEDULE.

The wool schedule is divided into three classes.

Class 1, including all wools of merino blood immediate or remote, and others imported from Buenos Ayres, New Zealand, Australia, Cape of Good Hope, Great Britain, Canada, Egypt, Morocco and elsewhere.

Class 2, Leicester, Cotswold, Lincolnshire, down combing wools, Canada long wools, or other like combing wools of English blood, and hair of camel, Angora goat, alpaca and other like animals.

Class 3, Donskoi, native South American, Cordova, Valparaiso, native Smyrna, Russian camel's hair and wools heretofore imported from Turkey, Greece, Syria and elsewhere.

RHEUMATISM CURED.

Eighteen Months Trying to Get Cured —Had the Best Doctors—He Found What he Wanted in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Goderich, March 8 (Special)—A case of great interest here just now is that of Mr. Alexander J. Sharkey, who for some time has been an extreme sufferer from rheumatism. His statement to the correspondent is as follows:

"For eighteen months I was a victim of rheumatism and during that time was trying every means to cure it. I had the best doctors in Canada, and took their prescriptions with faith and patience.

"I got tired at last for I found the disappointment nearly as killing as the disease.

"But one friend wiser than the others convinced me that my disease must be cured by the way of the kidneys and recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I have used two boxes of these pills to effect a perfect cure and I don't care who knows it."

Mrs. D. Says: "For years I have been nervous and weakly. I took one box of Miller's Compound Iron Pills and am now quite well and strong." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

CURLIANA.

All three of the "loss" were occupied at the rink last night, and the curlers scooped her up in glee for several hours.

A most closely contested game took place between Skips Pentland and Horkins in the final round of the first series of the LeBrun medal contest. So evenly were the two rinks matched that at the sixteenth end the score stood a tie. The deciding end was played off, and was won by Skip Horkins, who made a wonderful draw to the tee, and converted what looked like a sure victory into a defeat for Skip Pentland's rink. The result was as follows:

W J Thompson,	Alf Terrill,
C LeBrun,	R Kerr,
E Rutherford,	Geo May,
G J Horkins, sk 19	J B Pentland, sk 13

This victory makes Skip Horkins the winner of the first series of the contest. The second series is now being played off, and the winners of it will meet the former to decide who will hold the medal for the year.

The points competition for the medal presented by Mr. E. Brown should be brought on at once. Every club member is eligible.

The profits of the curlers excursion will be applied to paying off the indebtedness to the Skating and Curling Rink Co., as through a number of members dropping out this year the receipts from the sale of curling tickets was not as large this year as expected.

Skip Ray defeated Skip LeBrun last night in the second series of the LeBrun Medal contest. The rinks were composed as follows:

W E Loch,	A Blade,
C N Brown,	R H Fortye,
J Stanger,	D Belleghem,
S Ray, sk 17	H LeBrun, sk 9

Col. Cotton, who is in town on business connected with the local battalion, was invited down to the rink last evening by Major Edwards, and skipped a rink against Skip Ferguson with the following result:

R H Kells,	G Fitzgerald,
John McClelland,	C Rutherford,
T Rutherford,	E B Edwards,
W G Ferguson, sk..17	Col Cotton, sk 12

The deciding match in the Peterborough-Lindsay competition is being played off to-day. Three rinks are playing in Lindsay and three on the local ice.

HOCKEY.

A challenge has been received by the Ashburnham team to go to Millbrook on Thursday for a game, but as the team has disbanded for the year it is impossible to accept. It is probable that a team of lacrosse players may go down on Friday.

LACROSSE.

The annual organization meeting of the Peterborough lacrosse club will be held at the Oriental Hotel on Thursday evening, March 18th, at 8 o'clock sharp. A full attendance of players and supporters of the game are requested to be in attendance.

CARD OF THANKS.

We beg to tender our gratitude to our friends of Peterborough and vicinity for their liberal patronage during the past two years we have been in business. Notwithstanding the general depression in trade throughout the country we have exceeded our expectations, and it is a great satisfaction to us to know that our customers were so well suited with our goods and the cut and fit. All garments made by us recommend us as thorough practical tailors. We have never had one complaint or misfit, which speaks well for our cutter, whose wide experience makes him master of his business without any trouble to him or his customers. He is always prepared to furnish fashionable, comfortable and perfect fitting garments at prices to suit the times.

We are now prepared for the spring with a full range of new patterns of cloths. We cordially invite our customers and their friends to call, as we can do equally as well, if not better, than in the past. Again thanking you, we solicit a continuance of your esteemed patronage.

Yours respectfully,

STOLEN JEWELRY.

Richard Godwin Pleads Guilty to the Theft of a Quantity of it.

This morning at the police court the dock was occupied by a man, his wife and two little children. The parents were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Godwin, and they were charged with the larceny of a large amount of jewelry, including 1 lady's gold watch, 1 lady's plated gold watch, 1 lady's silver watch, 1 lady's gold chain, 1 gold chain and locket, 1 small gold chain, 1 gold lead pencil, 1 gold locket with the initials "W. J. H." engraved upon it, 1 pair gold cuff buttons, 1 gold brooch, 1 pair of gold earrings, 1 gold watch set with stones in the form of a star, 10 gold rings, 1 gold scarf pin, 1 gold chain bracelet, 1 gold bracelet, 1 gold button hook.

The jewelry was the property of Mr. W. J. Henderson, of Warren village, in the Nipissing District.

Last June the prisoners went to work for Mr. Henderson at his hotel in Warren and remained with him until September, looking after the cooking. While they were in his employ the theft of the above mentioned articles was committed, but the blame fell entirely upon another party who was also working in the house and when the Godwins left the hotel, there was not the faintest breath of suspicion against them. The suspected person, however, cautioned Mr. Henderson to keep his eye on them later on.

The couple went to Ingersoll, to London and Toronto and Godwin, himself, came to Peterborough in December, his wife and children following him about a month ago. Tracing the couple from place to place, it was ascertained that jewelry had been disposed of, which corresponded in description with the missing valuables. Mr. Henderson accordingly came on to Peterborough and laid his complaint, which resulted in the arrest of the man and his wife.

A portion of the stolen jewelry was recovered at the time of the arrest, and this morning Godwin pleaded guilty to the charge, and gave such information as will lead to the recovery of the remainder.

Mrs. Godwin pleaded "not guilty," and as Mr. Henderson did not believe she was implicated in the affair, she was discharged. Her husband was remanded a week for sentence.

Mr. Henderson was formerly the proprietor of the Caister House in Woodstock, where the prisoners worked for him and had his fullest confidence.

County Attorney Wood represented the Crown and Mr. F. D. Kerr acted in the interests of the prisoners.

CITY LODGE RESOLUTION.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—In Saturday's issue of your paper we were pleased to notice the space devoted to the resolution passed at the recent meeting of City Lodge, I.O.G.T.

In reading Mr. Stratton's criticism we notice that he complains of the absence of the names of the mover and seconder of the resolution. The facts are as follows: A committee was appointed to draft the resolution and submit it to the lodge, who accepted it unanimously; so it stands—not as the opinion of one or two "extreme temperance advocates," but of a lodge who are pleased to have such a character given them. And as for not giving the "mature consideration," the temperance people generally, throughout Ontario, can not, measured by Mr. Stratton's standard, have given it "mature consideration" since they, with us, are in arms against the proposed legislation.

Mr. Stratton again states that he was not aware that the "Legislature, at its regular session, had promised anything," and by so doing merely shows that he has not given the condemned resolution "mature consideration," for no where therein does it state that the Legislature at its regular session had promised anything. Sir Oliver Mowat and Hon. Mr. Hardy both promised the temperance people to go as far as the law and public sentiment would permit; and public sentiment, as shown by the plebiscite, said: "to go as far as law will permit," and this, we claim, is not done by the proposed bill.

It is true that the bill decreases the number of licenses in places the size of Peterborough, but greatly increases the number in larger centres, such as Toronto, London, Hamilton, etc., and takes away from municipalities the power of annually decreasing the number of licenses.

Again, Mr. Stratton harps upon the intemperate language of the resolution; but we can't see that it is any stronger than the occasion warrants. However, if it be 'intemperate' it is still strongly "temperance," and its strength has answered its purpose when it has caused Mr. Stratton to devote over a column of his valuable paper to its condemnation.

In conclusion, as to the prospects of the bill being changed in its course through Parliament, we prefer to run no risks, but would rather have it changed at once. However, if Mr. Stratton will use his influence to have the bill altered (either before or during its passage through the House) so as to be more in accordance with the promises made by the leaders of the Government, the resolution will have answered its purpose, and City Lodge will be the first to extend the hand of congratulation and thank Mr. Stratton on the stand he will have taken in the interest of the temperance cause.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the space, we are,

Yours, etc.,
MEMBER CITY LODGE.

Peterborough, March 15th, 1897.

[We give place to the above communication of a member of City Lodge of Templars, although the letter, like the resolution in question, shows a similar departure from the facts. It is hardly necessary to take up time in the further discussion of the matter, except to point out one or two inaccuracies of statement. For instance, the correspondent says: "It is true that the bill decreases the number of licenses in places the size of Peterborough, but greatly increases the number in larger cities, such as Toronto, Hamilton, London, etc." To show how unfair the criticism thus given is, it is to be noted that the exact opposite is the fact, for the bill provides that there shall be no increase under the present census. The Government does not object to, indeed it courts criticism of the measure, in order that it may be as perfect in the direction in which it aims as possible. But it is certainly unfair that the bill should be condemned for clauses which it does not contain, and be deemed as a backward step when it is certainly an advance in the direction desired by all who are anxious for such temperance legislation as can be well enforced. It is hardly worth while, except to note how carelessly a "City Lodge Member" reads what he professes to criticise, to point out that it was THE EXAMINER, and not Mr. Stratton, that made the comments on the resolution that were criticised, in the respect of the absence of the names of the mover and seconder of the resolution.—Ed. THE COLTS' DONATION.

They Formally Present Their Trophy to the Curling Club.

At a joint meeting of the Gemaites and Thistles last night at the rink Mr. G. J. Horkins, on behalf of the Peterborough Colts, formerly presented the magnificent trophy of the Midland Colts' Association, which was won for the third consecutive time by the local players this year.

In presenting the trophy Skip Horkins stated that the understanding was that it was to be put up annually for contest between the two clubs, the competition to take the form of a bonspell, to be played off in one day.

On behalf of the club, Skip R. H. Kells congratulated the Colts warmly on winning so handsome a trophy and expressed the appreciation of the members at receiving the handsome gift.

It was arranged that the six rinks be flooded on Wednesday and the bonspell take place in the evening. As it will take all day to make the ice only six rinks a side will participate in the bonspell, but hereafter each club will be represented by twelve rinks.

PERSONAL.

Miss Nellie McKee is visiting the Misses Owens in Campbellford.

Mr. Hunter, of Lindsay, who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. W. H. Wrighton, McDonel street, returned home yesterday.

The Port Hope Guide says: Mrs. (Dr.) Eastwood of Peterborough is in town, the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Jas. McLean, Ellen street.

Miss Ella Choate, who has been the guest of Mrs. (Dr.) Herriman, left yesterday to visit Peterborough and Warsaw friends. —Lindsay Post.

Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, goes to Hastings and Campbellford to-morrow. He will preach the sermon at the mass in Hastings and will preach at vespers in Campbellford.

Mr. E. B. Stone's condition does not seem to improve as rapidly as could be wished by his numerous friends. This morning he entered the Nicholls Hospital for treatment.

Mrs. James Hamilton, of Toronto, who came to Peterborough to nurse her mother Mrs. Geo. Gobell, of the Grand Central Hotel, is now seriously ill herself. Mr. Hamilton arrived in town yesterday from Toronto.

The following from the Alameda Daily Argus, refers to Mr. John Elder, formely a well-known citizen of Peterborough: "John Elder, an experienced dry goods dealer, has taken the store formerly occupied by N. Strauss & Co., corner of Santa Clara Avenue and Park street, and will open about April 1st. Mr. Mr. Elder has been engaged in business in San Francisco for the past eighteen years, and of his proposed departure from that city, the Hayes Valley Advertiser says:—"John Elder, the pioneer dry goods dealer of the valley, has announced his retirement from business. Mr. Elder has been in business at 315 Hays street continuously for the past 18 years, and in that time has established a reputation for fair dealing and strict integrity that any business man might be proud of. He is a prominent member of the several Scotch societies, in the city, and has always been in the front of every movement for the public good. His retirement from business will be a decided loss to the valley." Mr. Elder's many friends will be very glad to learn that he is not only successful in business, but held in high respect, the latter being no matter of surprise.

R. R. A. Entertainment, Opera House. March 17th.

The Jameson raid in South Africa and subsequent events, touching the matter, have become of world-wide interest. Owing to the fact that our countryman, Hon. Edward Blake, one of our greatest statesmen, is acting on the Parliamentary Committee appointed to enquire into the circumstances which resulted in Jameson's raid, Canadians feel something like a local interest in the matter, and the people of Peterborough no doubt will feel a little particular pride from the fact that they are to be the first audience in the new world having an opportunity of seeing those beautiful coloured views, which comprise over sixty, of the most thrilling scenes of this historical event. The entertainment will also consist of vocal and instrumental music. Reserved seats 35c, general admission 25c. Plan of hall at Salisbury & Co's.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Good sleighing in the country.

—There ought to be a very large market to-morrow.

—The recent storm seems to have paralysed the street car service, as it is not in working order yet.

—There will be a full rehearsal of the cantata Ruth, with all the solo parts, in St. Andrew's church hall to-night at eight o'clock.

—The Examiner sanctum staff desires to thank Mr. Louis Crowly for the appropriate present of a fine pot of shamrock from his new greenhouses, in honour of the day.

—The company engaged in the interpretation of "The Defaulter," Lincoln J. Carter's melodramatic success, which appears at Bradburn's Opera House to-night, is one of unusual excellence, every member having been selected for his or her peculiar qualifications for each character assigned them.

—A local financier dropped into a hotel yesterday and laid a small wager on Fitzsimmons. While covering the distance between that and another hotel the bump of caution began to operate and and he dropped in and laid a bet of similar size on Corbett. Such judicial impartiality, while it may have no reward, will at least insure against loss, for taking the two transactions together, he is betting on a sure thing, that is in case one of the stake-holders is not a welsher.

—No play on the road this season has a better cast nor more beautiful or realistic stage settings than "The Defaulter", Lincoln J. Carter's standard production, which appears at Bradburn's Opera House to-night. The prices have been lowered to 25, 35 and 50c, to suit all theatre-going people. None should miss this attraction.

THE '97 RED BIRD.

This Year's Brantford Wheel is an Exceptionally Fine One.

This year's Brantford Red Bird Bicycle bids fair to be even more popular than any of its predecessors, and has a variety of strong points that will commend itself to the experienced rider.

The great width of the hubs will give additional strength.

The large tubing used all around adds to the strength and rigidity, besides being very pleasing in appearance.

The bearings are absolutely dust proof, being protected by four different protectors.

It is fitted with the new patent ball oilers, the best oiling device ever used on a bicycle.

The finger washers, with which it is adjusted, being most sensitive to the touch, make an ideal means of adjustment.

Solid steel centre pedals, with corrugated ends and side plates, that increase their strength by 200 per cent, will be used. The oilers in these pedals are located in the side-screws, and are invisible to the casual observer.

A new feathered axle introduced in the '97 model, prevents the axle from turning in adjusting.

The new straight-bottom fork tubes give greater strength.

The larger balls in crank-hanger will add to their world-wide reputation of being wonderfully easy-going.

New fork sides, tapered from end to end will give increased strength.

New crown plates, that, while being lighter than those used in the '96 model, have a greater distance between them that is certain to increase the strength at this important point.

It will be seen that the improvements made in the '97 model will give increased strength where it is most important to have it.

Riders of the '96 model will probably doubt that it is possible to build a bicycle that will run easier than the wheel that scored such a succession of victories last year, but the larger balls used in this year's crank-hanger will certainly give this result.

The '97 ball-oiler is a little thing in itself but it is such an excellent one, and is such a safeguard against dust and grit entering the bearings by way of the oiler, that it is most important.

Besides the improvements made in the '97 model, the very best material it is possible to buy is used in its manufacture; the greatest care is given the manufacture of every part; each wheel is beautifully finished and thoroughly tested before leaving the factory. Nothing has been left undone that should have been done to make the '97 Red Bird the perfect bicycle it is to-day.

The handsome '97 catalogue pronounced by Cycling to be a work of art, will be sent to any reader of this paper on receipt of a post card. Address The Goold Bicycle Co., Ltd., Brantford, Ont.

THE DIAMOND JUBILEE.

To the Editor of the Daily Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Replying to Mr. Dumble's letter in last evening's Examiner regarding the celebration of the Diamond Jubilee I might say that so far as the Foresters are concerned they do not wish to interfere with any civic celebration of the event that might be arranged for or taken part in by the citizens. The Foresters all agree that the celebration proper should be conducted by the citizens, and it was not until they understood it to be very doubtful whether the town would do anything in the matter that they determined not to let the celebration of the day go by default.

If the citizens wish to make the celebration a civic one, we are quite agreeable to co-operate with them. But as it is probable that they will not wish to monopolize the whole day, I see no reason why a civic demonstration should interfere in any way with the attractions at the Driving Park and Agricultural Grounds during the afternoon, for which preparations have been in progress for the past month. We feel that the civic celebration should be made general and unanimous, and it would be better even if the Foresters, as such, had to drop out altogether than that the day's celebration should be marred by any conflict of patriotic zeal.

Yours very truly,
W. H. Isaacs,
Chairman Foresters' Committee.

THE DIAMOND JUBILEE.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—The question "What can Peterborough do to signalize the longest and greatest reign in English history" is now exercising the minds of all loyal citizens, and with your permission I should like to put in a word for our Public Library.

Whilst the reign of Victoria has been remarkable for a marvellous expansion of the material resources of the Empire, it will, perhaps, by the future historian be regarded as chiefly and most worthily distinguished as a great era of educational activity. In 1837 education was the privilege of the few, to-day it is the right of all.

But education like every other good thing is liable to abuse, and our large towns are flooded with literature of a worthless and pernicious character. We have given to everone the opportunity of a good education; it is equally important to give to all access to the best kind of reading.

We have in Peterborough one of the best libraries and reading rooms in the province, and a board of management that is, as the recent improvements show, progressive and enlightened. With the means at their disposal they do all that can be reasonably expected of them, but I venture to suggest some improvements which would be a worthy memorial of the Diamond Jubilee.

1. First the library and reading room should be made free. One dollar and a half is not much for the privileges our library affords, but it is a hindrance to some, and it is to be remembered that the policy of our enterprising town should be to encourage its citizens to a good use of their spare time. The City of Brantford, but very little larger than Peterborough, has a free library. Why should we be behind? In Massachusetts it is the rule for every village of 1000 inhabitants to have a free library.

2. We need better quarters. If we realized the value and importance of good reading rooms, we should not be content to have them obscurely situated at the top of a steep flight of steps. Fancy an enterprising saloon keeper similarly concealing and obstructing the road to his bar! The Public Library and reading rooms of a town like this should occupy commodious and conspicuous premises, and should be one of the first things which we might with pride commend to the notice of visitors.

3. A Public Library should not merely have books and a reading room; it should seek to foster a taste for the beautiful.

Around the walls of its reading room should be hung good pictures of Canadian men of mark, Canadian scenery, Canadian enteprises. One hundred dollars a year, or even fifty, spent in this way, would soon furnish handsome valuable object lessons of many kinds.

The Victorian age has not only been an age of education, but of splendid literary achievement. I do not think there is another country in the world that has in the last sixty years produced such a galaxy of genius, and genius of a very high and noble kind, as England. The names of Carlyle, Ruskin, John Stuart Mill, Arnold of Rugby and Matthew Arnold, of Dickens and Thackeray, of Stanley and Milman, of Darwin, Spencer, Huxley, of Freeman and Green, together with the whole school of those who have made history a new and living study, and last, but not least, of our two great poet-prophets, Tennyson and Browning, will occur to every mind.

For these reasons, sir, I venture to request our citizens to take into consideration the appropriateness and utility of celebrating this great year by giving to our town and environs for all time to come a Public Library which shall be the pride of us all and an example to every other town of Ontario.

I am yours, etc.,
Herbert Symonds.

A HOUSE OF REFUGE.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—The citizens of Peterborough got their annual compliment from the Honourable Judge last week in reference to our confining poor, aged men—though innocent of any crime—in the county jail to spend their last remaining days.

Now, sir, the people are not to blame for their being there. Ninety per cent. of our citizens have shown that they are willing and anxious that our councils should join and build a house of refuge for the aged poor, but others are to blame if there is not a house of refuge in every county in the Province. You are aware that there are groups of counties without any, and if you circulate a petition in any one of the said counties, you will soon meet the following objection. They will say to you—"If we build a house of refuge for our poor the counties bordering on ours have none, consequently their poor will flock to our county and fill ours." Well, who is to blame for not having one in every county? Why the Government of the Province. Now that we have a new Premier let us have one good new law. That is in every county having no house of refuge the county council shall proceed at once and provide the same in this year of our Lord, eighteen hundred and ninety-seven. Now, I ask in humanity's name that our honourable new premier Hardy will pass the said measure—the most important measure and the most humane and honourable measure the present Legislature will pass this session; for it will assuredly immortalize the name of the Premier, who shall accomplish the act of human kindness, and also add a clause that no more innocent persons shall be committed to jail in the Empire Province of Ontario.

Hoping the above will be acceptable, I remain respectfully,

Yours truly,
Humanity.

"THE LORD'S PRAYER."

The following beautiful composition, (according to the date appended, written in 1833,) was captured during the Civil War in Charleston, S. C., and has been handed down to the descendants by the late Hon. Col. Casey, M. P., of Adolphustown, and kindly placed at the disposal of the Examiner by Mrs. M. T. Ostrom. It is printed on very heavy satin and is quite a literary and typographical curiosity.)

Thou, to the mercy seat our souls doth gather;
To Thee—dear duty—is to Thee— Our Father
To whom all praise, all honour should be given;
For Thou art the great God— Who art in Heaven,
Thou by Thy wisdom rulest the world's whole frame,
Forever, therefore— Hallowed be Thy name,
Let nevermore delays divide us from
Thy Holy grace; but let— Thy kingdom come,
Let Thy commands opposed by none,
But Thy good pleasure and— Thy will be done
And let our promptness to obey, be even
The very same— On earth as 'tis in Heaven:
Thou, for our souls, O, Lord, we also pray
Thou wouldst be pleased to— Give us this day
Sufficient raiment, and— Our daily bread;
And of Thy mercy, pity— And forgive us
All our misdeeds, for Him, whom Thou didst please
To make offering for— Our trespasses
And for as much, O Lord, as we believe
That Thou will pardon us— As we forgive
Let that love teach, herewith Thou dost acquaint us,
To pardon all— Those who trespass against us
And tho', sometimes, Thou find'st we have forged
This love to Thee, yet help— And lead us not Through soul or body's want, to desperation.
Nor let earth's gains drive us— Into temptation
Let not the soul of any true believer
Fall in the time of trial— But deliver
Yea, save them from the malice of the devil
And both in life and death keep— Us from evil,
Then pray we Lord, for that of Thee from whence
This may be had— For Thine is the Kingdom
This world is of Thy work, its woadrous story
To Thee belongs— The power and the glory
And all Thy wondrous works have ended never,
But will remain— Forever and ever.
Thus we poor creatures would confess again
And thus would say; eternally— Amen.

FORTUNE IN FUTURES.....

Alexander T. Stewart began his business career without capital and in 50 years accumulated $40,000,000. His successor began with his $40,000,000 and in 10 years failed. Stewart dealt in futures; he filled his stores and contracted ahead for manufactures before big advances and he supplied his stores and sold for future account at other times before big declines. He discounted the future. His successors rested on a BIG NAME and never dealt in future prospects.

A year ago I advertised to buy cotton below seven cents, it afterwards advanced two cents or $1,000 on an 100 bales. Last summer I advertised to buy wheat around 60 cts., it has since sold at 88 or $2,000 on 10,000 bushels. Now advise the purchase of Corn around 25 cts. for July. It will show a Big Profit by the middle of June. Buy Mess Pork around $8.25; it will sell at $10 before it does at 9c. Electric Tires Cost More Than Other Tires, But First Cost is Last Cost.

Electric Tire Advantages

The adjusting of the Electric Detachable Tire is a matter of the utmost simplicity.

They can be and are satisfactorily used on single piece light rims

Fitting perfectly true on the rims they cannot roll, and it is impossible to blow them off.

They are very easily deflated and detached.

They are so constructed that when fitted to rim all the resilience is thrown into the tire and none lost in attachment.

It takes less than three minutes to deflate, detach, repair puncture and replace ready for use.

Being an incorporated tire it is lighter than a cement made tire and the rubber is less liable to come loose from canvas. It also wears longer and retains air just as long as any double tube tire.

The special pebbled tread prevents slipping and renders them much less liable to wear than a smooth cover.

The tubes are specially manufactured and are of a velvet finish. They are round and perfectly air tight. Being made of pure gum they are always the same in all degrees of temperature.

Two years of experimenting with a perfect tire as the objective point has given us a tire in our Electric Single Tube that we believe to be as near perfection as it is possible to make it. It possesses the resilience, appearance and wearing qualities of the Double Tube. The world's fastest quarter-mile was made on this tire by Angus McLeod at Sarnia.

When submitted to actual test on the tire testing machine, the best makes of other single tube tires run but 700 miles, Electric Single Tubes over 3,000 miles; other makes of double tube tires, 900 miles, Electric Double Tube Tires over 3,000.

Our tires are all guaranteed by the most liberal guarantee and should there be a defect, no time is lost in making it good. Insist upon having your '97 mount fitted with Electric Tires. They cost more money but they will give you perfect satisfaction every day you ride them.

THE POINTS DISCUSSED.

At this season old riders congregate and talk wheel before purchasing their new mounts.

Young men and riders who desire a particularly light wheel and one with a distinctive touch of grace and beauty, should examine the Stearns. Upon general lines one bicycle is much like another. It is, therefore, a matter in which Stearns & Co. are entitled to take no little pride that, out of the thousands of wheels which are shown, the Yellow Fellow stands out the most characteristic and distinguished bicycle in the market.

UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM

C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphine. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

THE QUEEN'S JUBILEE.

Program of the Grand Procession that is to Take Place in London June 22.

London, March 14.—It is stated that one of the purposes of the Prince of Wales' visit to Windsor last week was to hear Her Majesty's views concerning the arrangements for the Diamond Jubilee Day. Since then certain provisional arrangements have been made with Her Majesty's sanction. These include the open-air thanksgiving at St. Paul's. Her Majesty, with a great suite, will make a semi-official entry into London, on Monday, June 21, the day following Accession Day, and will reach Buckingham Palace from Windsor early. For the great event of the 22nd she has arranged to remain for two and a half hours in her carriage. The Queen's procession to the city will make an early start from Buckingham Palace, and St. Paul's will be reached about 12.30 p.m. Her Majesty's procession will be preceded by one including the carriage of the Colonial Premiers, the suites of foreign Princes, the officers of state and the clergy. Accompanying the Queen in her procession will be the Princess of Wales, the Empress Frederick, and the Duchess of Coburg, and all the Royal ladies of the Queen's family, and the ladies of the foreign Royal families. Surrounding Her Majesty's carriage on horseback will be the Prince of Wales, the Duke of Coburg, the Duke of Connaught, and all Her Majesty's grown-up grandsons, and such sons-in-law as are not themselves kings. It is said that no sovereign other than Her Majesty, if not of blood relationship to the Queen, will have a place in the pageant. The Princes will wear state uniform. At the head of the procession will ride or march the 500 military representatives of the colonies, and selected companies from every branch of Her Majesty's military and naval services. Her Majesty's carriage will be drawn by the familiar cream-colored horses, and the cavalcade is expected to extend over the sixth of a mile. It is supposed that an hour will be taken in covering this journey. For the service itself not more than 20 minutes at the very outside will be allowed. There will be a short service of prayer and thanksgiving, a brief address by the Archbishop of Canterbury, the singing of a special anthem and the benediction. At its close the procession will be reformed and the Queen will go on to the Mansion House and receive from the Lord Mayor and corporation an address of congratulation from the city. Her Majesty, out of consideration for the children, and wishing that they should see in safety something of such a memorable event as the Diamond Jubilee of their Queen, has naturally thought of Hyde Park as the suitable place for such an assembly, and will pass in the Park a special enclosure for the children, as on the day after the 1887 jubilee. The streets throughout the routes, going and returning, will be lined with troops, with here and there guards of honor and regimental bands.

CURED OF SCIATICA.

Toronto Junction, Mar. 15 (Special)—Mr. H. Playter, is not a difficult man to find as everybody here knows that he is foreman at No. 1 Fire Hall. He was the picture of health when called upon by your correspondent and told his story thus:

"In April 1896 I suffered from a severe attack of sciatica, affecting my left hip and leg to the tip of the toes. I suspected it came from some form of kidney trouble, and as they had been recommended I procured a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

At the end of the fourth day I was entirely relieved, but desiring a permanent cure I continued to use that and another box and am now perfectly cured and as well as ever in my life. A brother of mine living at Pine Orchard has been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills."

LABBY GREW OFFENSIVE.

Told Sir Graham Bower, Who Was Under Oath, That He Did Not Believe He Was Telling the Truth.

London, March 12.—The examination of Sir Graham Bower, formerly Imperial Secretary at Cape Colony, was resumed to-day by the South African Committee, sitting in Westminster Hall. Witness testified that he had never told Cecil Rhodes to communicate his intention of assisting in the raid into the Transvaal to the High Commissioner. He understood that Rhodes intended to do so. Rhodes Sir Graham continued, had communicated his intentions to him as a personal friend, not as Imperial Secretary. He did not know if he had ever asked Rhodes whether he had informed the High Commissioner of his plans.

Mr. Labouchere, who is conducting the cross-examination, insisted upon a positive reply by the witness to the questions. The High Commissioner, he said, had wired last evening denying that he had ever been told anything before the raid that showed any connection between the force that had gathered on the frontier and the citizens' movement at Johannesburg. The witness persisted in the statement that he could not recall whether Rhodes had said to him that he had told the High Commissioner of his intention.

At this point the chairman interposed and ruled against Mr. Labouchere's continuing to press the point, whereupon Mr. Labouchere said he believed the witness was not telling the truth.

Mr. Chamberlain, speaking warmly, said: The committee must protect the witness from insult.

Mr. Labouchere: I repeat that it is my opinion that the witness is not telling the truth.

The Chairman: You are out of order.

Mr. Labouchere: I shall move that the room be cleared on every opposed question if necessary. I am going to see whether this enquiry is a sham or a reality.

The Chairman: This is not the way to facilitate business.

Mr. Labouchere: The way to facilitate business is to let me ask questions.

Then, turning to the witness, Mr. Labouchere asked: "Did Mr. Rhodes keep faith by informing the High Commissioner of his intentions of assisting in the rising?"

The witness vouchsafed no reply to the question, whereupon Mr. Labouchere asked: "Do you decline to speak in order to shield yourself?"

Other members of the committee interposed at this point, but Mr. Labouchere persisted in demanding an answer to his question, and the witness finally said:

"It is a matter of opinion whether Mr. Rhdes kept his word or not. I decline to say further."

In reply to a question by Sir William Harcourt, the witness said he did not think that Mr. Rhodes had co-operated with the High Commissioner in such a way as could have averted the raid.

Kruger in the Orange Free State.

Bloemfontein, Orange Free State, March 12.—President Kruger has arrived here to arrange for a closer union with the Transvaal. He was entertained at a public luncheon, and, replying to the eulogistic toast of President Steyn, said he was not there to controvert the Queen's rights. Time would show he had always defended Her Majesty, and he had told his people to respect her. He hoped the two republics would form indissoluble ties, but he never had any idea of the Free State being absorbed by the Transvaal. President Kruger said he knew he had to abide by the London convention, but the Queen was a troublesome woman, and it was, therefore, necessary to deal with the question of union with the utmost caution. He hoped some day to see a union of the whole of Africa.

Practical Butter Making.

Mr. J. B. Moore of Avonbank believed in heating the milk to 65 or 70 degrees in the receiving vat before raising it to 90 or 95 degrees in the tempering vat for separating. He laid stress on watching the speed of the separators in order to do close skimming, and wants samples of the skim-milk taken every twenty minutes for a composite test at the end of each day's run. The separator bowls should be flushed carefully with warm water, so as to remove til the cream. As to ripening cream he preferred a skim-milk starter, and uses as much as ten per cent.. He ripens at 65 to 70 degrees, and believes in quick work, so as to cool the cream in the evening and during the night, so as to have it ready for the churn next morning. He complained of butter-makers neglecting this most important part of their work, and leaving the ripening to be done in a "happy-go-lucky" manner.

As to churning, he is also up to date, using rich cream at 50 to 53 degrees; laid stress on the necessity of keeping cream which had been ripened at a high temperature for a couple of hours at a low one before churning. Always strain the cream into the churn, and use about half an ounce of color—depending on condition—to cream from 1000 pounds of milk, and for export none at all. Do not fill the churn more than half full (one-third is better), take the temperature when the cream breaks, so as to regulate it if necessary. He does not want the butter to come quicker than in 45 minutes, and does not like to wash too much. He uses water at 55 degrees, and draws it off immediately; prefers to salt in the churn and use once, leaving the butter at about 55 degrees.—From Country Gentleman's report of the Western Ontario Dairymen's Association meeting at Brantford.

Accidental Discharge of a Shot Gun and Death of James Miller of Wellandport.

Welland, March 12.—(Special.)—On Thursday afternoon Mr. James Miller, who lives at Wellandport, was stepping out of his boat on the Welland River at that place, when the trigger of a double-barreled shotgun which he had in his hand caught and the weapon was discharged, the contents burying in his head and bank. He was taken home and medical aid made every effort to save his life, but he died last night. Deceased was an old resident of Wellandport, and had been in the hotel business for years. He leaves a small family.

There Are Other Requisites.

The Evil Eye.

Savage people have a superstition that an evil eye may be cast upon a person to bring all sorts of trouble and misfortune. That seems like a pretty foolish notion; but it isn't much worse than some of the notions which civilized people indulge in. One worn out superstition is the belief that if a man inherits weak lungs from his parents he is pretty sure to die of consumption. The actual fact is that if such a man will only take proper care of himself he will really be safer from consumption than a careless person who has no inherited weakness. Carelessness is the real evil eye. Carelessness will develop a tendency to consumption in any body.

The lungs are composed of very delicate, sensitive tissue, even in the healthiest person; that is why they yield so quickly to the attack of tainted blood. If the blood is allowed to get impure and impoverished, and bile-poisoned, the seeds of consumption will spring up in the best kind of a constitution. The real consumption-taint is in the blood.

Hundreds of cases of so-called "hereditary" consumption have been completely and permanently rooted out of the system by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, simply because it gives the blood-making glands power to pour a fresh abundant supply of rich, red, healthy, blood into the circulation. This drives out all poisonous and unhealthy germs. It stops the waste of tissue and the formation of morbid deposits; builds up fresh, normal, healthy lung tissue and solid, muscular strength.

In all the weakened debilitated conditions which are the forerunners of consumption, Dr. Pierce's Discovery is the most perfect nutritive and strength-builder. It is assimilated by the weakest stomachs.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognized this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The treatment of disease must be in accordance with this principle. Any medicine that is to be of benefit must act on the nerve centres. Any medicine that does not act on the nerve centres is not in accordance with the principle, and is therefore unscientific. Any medicine that is unscientific is bound to be a failure. Any medicine that is a failure is a delusion and a snare.

Any medicine that is a delusion and a snare is dangerous to the health and life of the sufferer. Any medicine that is dangerous to the health and life of the sufferer is a medicine that should be shunned.

Any medicine that is to be shunned is a medicine that should not be taken.

Any medicine that should not be taken is a medicine that should not be sold.

Any medicine that should not be sold is a medicine that should not be advertised.

Any medicine that should not be advertised is a medicine that should not be manufactured.

Any medicine that should not be manufactured is a medicine that should not be allowed to be manufactured.

Any medicine that should not be allowed to be manufactured is a medicine that should be suppressed.

Any medicine that should be suppressed is a medicine that should be destroyed.

Any medicine that should be destroyed is a medicine that should be burned.

Any medicine that should be burned is a medicine that should be consigned to the flames.

Any medicine that should be consigned to the flames is a medicine that should be reduced to ashes.

Any medicine that should be reduced to ashes is a medicine that should be scattered to the winds.

Any medicine that should be scattered to the winds is a medicine that should be forgotten.

Any medicine that should be forgotten is a medicine that should be remembered.

Any medicine that should be remembered is a medicine that should be recalled.

Any medicine that should be recalled is a medicine that should be brought back.

Any medicine that should be brought back is a medicine that should be restored.

Any medicine that should be restored is a medicine that should be reinstated.

Any medicine that should be reinstated is a medicine that should be reinstalled.

Any medicine that should be reinstalled is a medicine that should be reinstituted.

Any medicine that should be reinstituted is a medicine that should be reinstituted.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curative remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine

To that most lovable person in every family on whom rests the duty of watchfulness against all danger to its members, we have this to say:

That a neglected cough is the insidious beginning of an end—the human throat in the clutch of a deadly enemy.

Whenever a cough is to be dealt with, there is urgency for prompt action; a single bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine will never fail you at such a moment.

It is worse than false economy to spare the price of timely treatment and afterwards spend your time, money and waning strength in fighting the serious stages of lung disease, whether these be asthma, bronchitis or consumption.

Acting, as this preparation does, upon the irritated, inflamed and diseased surfaces of the throat, larynx, bronchia and lungs, it instantly soothes, heals and promptly cures conditions which, if permitted to develop, are sure to result in lasting misery and death.

And so pleasant to take is Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, that, instead of dreading it as a dose, children delight in it as a treat.

It is put up in the largest 25c. bottle ever offered—quality and quantity for once being happily combined.

It cured me. After this I intend to treat my own ills."

RETURNING TO EGYPT

THE MIGRATORY BIRDS OF FASHION FLOCK TO CAIRO.

The Season of Gayety in a Southern Cold-Weather Capital, Where White Is All the Rage and Bright Colors Make Gowns Beautiful.

Cairo, Egypt, (Special).—White is the favorite color in Egypt this winter. I am not breaking into mummy cases for fashion hints from the Pharaohs because modern invention is exhausted, but am stating the fact that Cairo has become without doubt the winter capital of the migratory birds of fashion's world. It is a queer sight, as one crosses the great Nile bridge on the Gizeh road, to see a bicyclist stuck between a string of camels and a long line of donkeys, with a splendidly-appointed four-horse coach behind him, flowering with Paris toilets on the box seat, and a lumbering Arab cart in front in which crouches a dusky woman whose face is hidden up to the eyes by her long pouch-like black veil; but it is just this bizarre mixture of the picturesqueness of oriental savagery and luxuries of a high civilization that is making Cairo a social centre outdoing the Riviera.

There was a masked ball at one of the great hotels last night at which appeared the girls who sip their 4 o'clock tea in the tropic gardens of the city or under the awnings of dahabeahs in white blouses and white lace hats so filmy that in any other climate one would consider the skies pretty carefully before putting them on. But in Cairo it "hardly ever" rains, and gay gowns have no weather prophet for their enemy.

A Beauty in White and Blue.

Two such girls whizzed past me in a smart trap just before sunset last evening. A couple of outrunners in barbaric trappings trotted in advance with shrill cries to clear the way, for these Western girls take kindly to all the trimmings of orientalism, and to the handsome "sais" particularly. One of these girls I have seen a number of times in quiet, tailor dress in 5th-avenue. In her carriage in Cairo she wore a white cloth skirt and white chiffon blouse, with pointed belt of blue velvet, embroidered with steel. Over the blouse was a short zouave of white cloth, with gold embroidery, having a ruche of blue ribbons at the throat and caught together over the bust with blue ribbon bows. There were white cloth caps above the plaited chiffon sleeves. Her hat was of the new white "crocodile" velvet, with a roll of blue velvet under the brim and plumes of the white paradise bird standing erect on one side. A veil of fine blue gauze with black chenille spots kept off the African sun.

The sun, it may be said just here, is not hot at this season. The weather is not unlike that of the English summer, calling for thin clothes when the sun is up, but for wraps or even furs in the evening. The other girl in the carriage carried a grey silk parasol figured with scarlet and wore a piquant dress in the same colors. The bodice of her gown was a blouse in gray silk, fastening on the left side, and with one corner turned over in a big revers from the throat and barred with scarlet ribbons. Collar, belt and rosette to catch down the revers were of scarlet velvet, while three ribbon bands gave a like touch of color to the skirt's hem. Her toque was of gray velvet with black plumes.

Brilliant Colors Worn.

It is the influence of the native dress, no doubt, that has helped to make some study of color values so important to successful toilets here. A good deal of gray is used for the sake of coolness, or because it is such a fine background for the laying on of Sevres blue, petunia, or cherry color. Cherry is mixed daringly with mauve or heliotrope, and I have seen an evening dress of two shades of cerise, bordered with dark red and veiled with mauve tulle. Dresses even for the morning promenade—though it mus be admitted that in Cairo the "promenade" is often only from the carriage to the shop door—abound in bright colors. Brilliant gold or orange velvet is used constantly on the lapels of bodices or is introduced between the opening revers.

Of course gold and silver threads play a prominent part in all the embroideries, and gold tinsel braid is used not only for belts, but for collars and cuffs, and even for skirt trimmings occasionally. Stuffs interwoven with silver and gold are very general for evening dress, notably white moire or cashmere, and are used more or less, especially in cloths interthreaded with colored velvet, held down by tinsel for the daytime. The Arabian bizaars, whose owners are not destitute of worldly wisdom, display boleros and zouaves, all of cloth or gold, which certainly have this advantage, that they can be worn with a great variety of gowns. French women wear them over full blouses of net worked over with tinsel and jewels.

During the playing of the khedival anthem, "God Save the Queen," at a regimental band concert this afternoon there appeared on the scene of action a frock so pretty and so typical of the place that it belongs right here. It was of old-rose chine silk, with broad belt of deep rose velvet and fichu and sleeve of pale yellow chiffon. The fichu covered almost the entire front of the bodice and was made with innumerable small ruffles, that rose and fell with every puff of wind. A broad picture hat of yellow straw was trimmed with old-rose velvet and yellow plumes. The woman who doesn't wear a fichu wears a lace cravat and fastens it with a jeweled pin.

Another costume worn by a pretty French girl was of brown silk, striped diagonally with fine red and yellow lines. The skirt was plain with a seam on the left side of the front to accentuate the meeting of the stripes, which pointed downward from the waist in deep angles. The blouse bodice was of the same material, with a cross-striping in brown velvet. A deep collar of plain brown silk laid in fine plaits came down over the shoulders, and was finished about the bust and at the throat with a full ruffle. A belt of brown velvet and a brown hat with black feathers completed a very quiet but very effective costume.

Evening dress is brilliant this season. An extremely pretty example is of white moire with a double puff of gold-colored mousseline de soie at the hem. The bodice is a bolero with loops and straps of gold lace held down by buttons. A puffing of mousseline de soie, like that upon the skirt, finishes the low-cut neck opening and frames the shoulders. The bolero opens upon a blouse of gold mousseline threaded with turquoise. The sleeves are short, met by ong white gloves. The jewels are pearls.

At a recent dance the dress that seemed to excite most attention was of pale pink liberty silk, figured with darker roses. The low, round bodice was framed with a twisted ruche of deep rose velvet, edged with lace. The device was as successful as it was unusual. There was a pointed belt of the same velvet. The lace sleeves were very short, just veiling the tops of the extremely long gloves. A necklace of rose coral was the chief ornament, for coral is the latest fad of fashion.

The Egyptian winter is nearly over, if, indeed, Egypt can be said to have any winter, and in my next I shall be able to say something about spring millinery. ELLEN OSBORN.

Seems as if consumption always picks out the brightest and best. Fully one-sixth of all the deaths that occur in the world are caused by consumption. Many things were once considered impossible. It would be strange if medical science did not make some progress. The telegraph and telephone, the phonograph, the electric light—all were once impossible, and once it was impossible to cure consumption. That was before the time of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Taken according to directions, this standard remedy will cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. Consumption is caused and fostered by impurity in the blood. It is cured by purity and richness in the blood—surely, certainly cured by the "Medical Discovery." It builds up solid healthy flesh and vigorous strength.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a 1008 page medical work, profusely illustrated, will be sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover postage only. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffo, N. Y.

A Practical Prima Donna.

"Do you think," asked the young man who was preparing some interviews with great people on trivial topics, "that a light opera singer should marry, if she is really and truly ambitious to succeed in her art?"

The queen of burlesque stopped reading what her press agent had written long enough to respond:

"Surely, sir, you cannot be serious. If we didn't marry how could the papers say anything about our divorces?"—Washington Star.

He Could Tell.

"See that young couple," said the doorkeeper at the theatre.

"Yes."

"They've been married a little over a month. I don't know their names, nor where they live, but I can tell that much about 'em."

"How?"

"They used to come every week and sit in the orchestra chairs. Now they come every other week and sit in the balcony."—Washington Star.

Your cough, like a dog's bark, is a sign that there is something foreign around which shouldn't be there. You can quiet the noise, but the danger may be there just the same. Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil is not a cough specific; it does not merely allay the symptoms but it does give such strength to the body that it is able to throw off the disease.

HINTS FOR THE HOUSEHOLD.

How to Freshen Jet Trimmings—Sandwiches Always Fresh.

Jet trimmings and passementeries often become dull and rusty. They may be cleansed and freshened by wetting a piece of soft black cloth in alcohol diluted with a little water and rubbing it over the trimmings. Portions of the passementeries that have become browned from wear may be greatly improved by brushing with shoe polish.

When preparing sandwiches for a large company they frequently have to be made a number of hours before they are needed. If a napkin is rinsed in hot water and then put around the sandwiches, which should then be put in a cool place, when used they will be found as fresh as if just made.

A successful palm grower says he has found that these plants thrive best when they are often treated to a milk and water sponge bath instead of one of clear water. The leaves then are not so likely to become defaced by withered brown spots, but will keep glossy and fresh.

Often when most needed it is found impossible to heat an oven in sufficient time for baking potatoes for the early breakfast. If the potatoes are first boiled from ten to fifteen minutes, then taken from the water and put into the heated oven they can be quickly finished, and are as good as when all the cooking is done in the oven.

Many of the plaster of paris reproductions of fine statuary are a great addition to a library or sitting room, and familiarize the younger members of the family with some of the best works of ancient sculptors. The glaring white tint of the plaster may be toned down by varnishing and then bronzing or by giving them a coat of shellac thinned with varnish. Placed upon a bracket with a rich, dark background they are exceedingly decorative.

A nice flavor may be given to a broiled steak by cutting an onion in halves and rubbing the cut edges over the heated platter intended for the steak. The platter should contain a little melted butter.

When having occasion to hang out clothes in winter where a frost is likely to stiffen them and injure the fabric, this can be obviated by putting a handful of coarse salt in the last rinsing water and letting it dissolve before putting in the articles under treatment.

Truly Astonishing—Miss Annette N. Moon, Fountain, Minn., says: Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has had a wonderful effect in curing my brother's children of a severe and dangerous cold. It was truly astonishing how speedily they found relief after taking this preparation.

APPRECIATED IN HAMILTON.

Rev. Dr. Tovell's Ministerial Services Officially and Heartily Recognized.

The Hamilton Times of Friday says that the following resolution was unanimously passed at the Board meeting of the First Methodist church at its session Thursday evening, on motion of Mr. Hugh Murray, seconded by Dr. Day Smith:

"That we, the members of the Quarterly Board of First Methodist church assembled, thankfully acknowledging the goodness of God to this church during the special services held in the month of February, deem it our duty to make a record on the minutes of the Board of the gracious work accomplished. The services conducted by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Tovell, were marvellously blessed of God. From the beginning it was evident that the Holy Spirit was working in the hearts of those who attended. Believers were quickened and strengthened in their spiritual life; sinners were awakened and converted. Night after night converts expressed their acceptance of Christ as their Saviour. The acceptance into the church last evening of so many—some eighty souls—as then united is cause for great rejoicing, and this Board records its warm welcome to these new members, and our prayer is that the Holy Spirit may direct them and us to the faithful discharge of our whole duty in the fear of God."

DISMISSALS TO STOP.

The Government's Agreement to be Observed

CONCERNING THE RAILROAD MEN.

Mr. Blair Gave Peremptory Orders to That Effect—New House Purchased by the Premier—Memorial Service at Government House—General News From Ottawa.

Ottawa, March 15.—(Special.)—Since the interview between Mr. Blair and the Executive of the Legislative Board of Railway Employes, further dismissals have taken place on the Intercolonial Railway. When the Legislative Board heard of this they entered a vigorous protest to the Minister, as it was understood at the conference, when an agreement for an investigation to be held was reached, that dismissals should cease. Mr. Blair has now telegraphed imperative orders that no further dismissals shall take place pending Mr. Bedard's inquiry, except in cases of persons previously ordered by the Minister to be dismissed.

Mr. Laurier has secured for himself a comfortable home on Sandy Hill, having purchased the residence of the late John Leslie, situated at the corner of Theodore and Chapel-streets, within a minute's walk of the Rideau rifle range. The sale was concluded to-day. The price is said to be $3000.

A service to the memory of the late Prof. Henry Drummond was held at Government House to-day. A cablegram was received on Saturday by His Excellency from Dr. Barbour (an intimate friend of the late Prof. Drummond's) as to the funeral arrangements, as follows: Dr. Marcus Dods preaches at Stirling to-morrow (Sunday), holds service at Glenelm (the family residence) Monday, and then Dr. Stalker, Professor Charteris and Professor George Smith conduct public service at 3 in the church, and Dr. George Whyte at the grave. Paraphrase 54 will be sung and "O God Our Help." Glasgow students are bearers. Their Excellencies were represented at the funeral by Lord Haddo, who is at present in Scotland studying with his tutors at St. Andrew's University. At the service held to-day at Government House the "Dead March in Saul" was played, and the following hymns were sung: "God is love, His mercy brightens," "Jesus, lover of my soul," "O God, our help," "I'm not ashamed to own my Lord" (44th Scriptural paraphrase). Mendelssohn's "O for the wings of a dove" was played as the concluding voluntary. Dr. Gibson acted as organist.

In the Supreme Court to-day the arguments in Rogers v. The Toronto School Board were concluded and judgment reserved.

The Consumers' Gas Company v. The City of Toronto was next heard. The appeal is against the assessment of the gas mains under the public streets and roads in Toronto. The question is whether the mains are assessable under the Assessment Act of 1892, the assessment being imposed for the first time in 1894. The Act exempts personal property of the company from assessment, and it was contended by the appellant that the mains are not real property or fixtures thereon, and consequently there is no authority for their assessment. The Chancellor first heard the case and held that the mains being permanently placed in the ground were fixtures, and assessable as such. His decision was affirmed by a majority of the judges of the Court of Appeal, for which the company now seeks relief. McCarthy, Q.C., and Miller, Q.C., for appellant; C. Robinson, Q.C., and Fullerton, Q.C., for city, respondent. Arguments were not completed when the court rose.

Mr. D. L. McLean, barrister, to-day served a notice upon the city to quash the bylaw passed by the City Council a year ago prohibiting the License Commissioners from granting more than 65 tavern licenses for the year 1897-8. Mr. McLean is acting for the Licensed Victuallers' Association, who move to have the bylaw set aside on the ground that it was not passed before the 1st of March, the time stipulated by the statute.

The Department of Railways and Canals has given a contract for 2000 tons of steel rails for the Intercolonial Railway to the Maryland Steel Company of Baltimore. The department says the price is lower than that submitted by any English firm.

The Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association has endorsed the action of the City Council in proposing to provide necessary additions to the fire brigade appliances. A civic deputation, consisting of Mayor Bingham, Ald. Stewart, White, Roger, Cook, Donaldson and Payment and Solicitor McTavish, left for Toronto to-night to attend before the Private Bills Committee of the Legislature when the measure comes up.

Mr. Nosse, Japanese Consul from British Columbia, is expected here in a few days to see the Government and protest against the proposed measure seeking to impose a capitalization tax on Japanese entering the country.

Mr. Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, has informed the Manitoba members that it is impossible to establish a second experimental farm in that province.

It is generally expected here that there will be a big delegation of prohibitionists during the coming session.

The Premier will address a meeting in Hull to-morrow night in Mr. Champagne's interest.

Dr. J. R. E. Chapleau has been offered the position of assistant clerk of the House of Commons in connection with that of chief translator.

Mr. Code, Inspector of Weights and Measures for the Ottawa district, is to be superannuated.

Sir Richard Cartwright returned to the city this evening.

The Premier was confined to his room on Saturday owing to a severe cold, but was able to be out to-day, and was present at the meeting of the Cabinet.

The sooner you begin to fight the fire, the more easily it may be extinguished. The sooner you begin taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for your blood-disease, the easier will be the cure. In both cases, delay is dangerous, if not fatal. Be sure you get Ayer's and no other.

Bronchitis Cured.

Miss Maggie Griffin, 37 Metcalfe Street, Toronto, writes: "After having bronchitis and cold so badly that I could hardly speak, and could not find any remedy to relieve me, I decided to try Norway Pine Syrup. It made a complete cure, and I highly recommend it to all."

Greek and Turkish Troops Can See Each Other

ON THE FRONTIER OF THESSALY

Hostilities May be Precipitated by the Slightest Trifle—The Greek Cabinet Shows No No Disposition to Recede —British Troops Ordered From Malta—Warlike Situation.

Athens March 16.—A prolonged meeting of the Cabinet was held to-day. The Ministers discussed at great length the attitude to be taken in the event of the powers attempting to coerce Greece into a compliance with their demands. It is stated that no disposition was shown to accede to the demands, and that it was finally decided to take active measures as the only possible solution of the difficulty.

It is thought that by active measures is meant a declaration of war against Turkey, which in its effect will be to give Greece the right to maintain her army in Crete and deprive the powers of any right of interference.

Crown Prince Constantine, with the First Regiment of infantry, is momentarily expected to leave Athens to assume command of all the Greek forces in Thessaly.

The prevailing conviction here is that war is inevitable.

It is understod that the Cabinet at its meeting to-day discussed a plan of campaign against the Turks.

The whole garrison of Athens and nearly all the reserves have started for the frontier.

The departure during the night of a number of troops for Volo, Thessaly, was undoubtedly owing to the Government receiving information regarding the blockade.

France is With the Concert.

Paris, March 16.—M. Hanotaux, Minister of Foreign Affairs, made in the Senate to-day a declaration of the policy of France in the matter of the Greco-Cretan situation, similar to what he made in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday, when he announced that France would adhere to the concert policy, and at the conclusion of his statement asked for a vote of confidence in the Government. The Senate attested its confidence in the Govrnment's policy by a vote of 240 to 22.

One Shot May Start War.

London, March 16.—The Chronicle, Daily Mail and Telegraph have correspondents with the Greek forces on the Thessalian frontier. They all concur in their descriptions of the rapid massing and continual drilling of the troops. They add that the excitement and enthusiasm of the soldiers are a dangerous element of the situation, as a trifle may start a conflict with the Turkish forces on the frontier, who are in sight of the Greeks.

A despatch from Canea to a news agency, says that the foreign admirals have not yet proclaimed the blockade. The statement received from Vienna this afternoon saying that the blockade began to-day were re-affirmed this evening, but as it is not officially, it is likely that it is premature.

Troops Ordered From Malta.

London, March 16.—A despatch from Malta says that 600 British troops were ordered to Crete from that station to-day. In the House of Commons this evening Mr. A. J. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury, made the following announcement on behalf of the Government: We have to-day addressed a communication to the powers in regard to Greece, but it is impossible, as it would be improper and against public interest, either to state the terms of the communication or to encourage debate on the subject.

Lord Kimberley asked that the Government make a further and more explicit statement in regard to the Cretan situation, but Lord Salisbury referred him to the admirable speeches delivered by Foreign Minister Hanotaux and Premier Meline in the French Chamber of Deputies yesterday, in which he (Lord Salisbury) said he heartily concurred.

Lord Kimberley: "But I should prefer to have a statement of Great Britain's policy by Great Britain's Ministers."

Lord Salisbury: "The policy of the powers was explained in the speeches of MM. Hanotaux and Meline. If I have not used their brilliant language, it is my misfortune and not my fault."

In the lobbies of the House the remarks of Lord Salisbury are regarded as indicative of an aim on the part of the Premier to secure closer entente with France, and also as indicating that England and France are closer united with one another in understanding in regard to Crete than they are with the other powers.

Greek Warships Move.

Canea, March 16.—As a result of the operation of the blockade of Cretan ports by the combined fleets of the powers, the Greek squadron, with the exception of two small warships, left Cretan waters to-day. The two vessels that remain are preparing to take their departure.

The Blockade Begun.

Vienna, March 16.—The blockade of the ports of the Island of Crete by the warships of the concerted European powers went into effect to-day.

Is Russia Inciting Greece?

New York, March 16.—A despatch to The Herald from Athens says: There is a whisper in court circles here that Russia is secretly urging Greece to war. Faithful to Prince Lobanoff's policy and under the mask of friendship to Turkey, Russia will occupy Constantinople, when a rising in the Balkans is brought on by Greece. Russia will then retain Constantinople and abandon Crete and a part of Macedonia to Greece. The attitude of Germany is resented by the Greeks, who propose to retaliate by obstructing German commerce and oriental exports and favoring the French.

Greeks Resist Coercion.

London, March 16.—A despatch to The Times from Athens says that since the action of the powers in ordering the beginning of coercive measures against Greece became known in Greece, the popular determination that the Greek army of occupation shall never be withdrawn from Crete has become stronger than ever. The people are unanimous in this matter, and the King and the Government have no choice but to swim with the tide of popular feeling.

The commander of the Greek troops in Crete is fortifying his position upon the hills at Alikianu.

A Pro Tem Commissioner.

Vienna, March 16.—It is announced here that until the powers shall declare the appointment of a Governor for Crete, a commissioner will be appointed to act in that capacity in the name of the European powers.

Thessalians Moving.

Athens, March 16.—Information has been received here that two band of Thessalians one of one thousand men and the other of three hundred men, have entered Macedonia from the Larissa and Volo districts of Thessaly.

THE DAY BEFORE THE FIGHT.

Corbett and Fitzsimmons Received Friends —Both Confident of Victory.

Carson, Nev., March 16.—Less than 24 hours remain before the greatest pugilistic encounter of the century will be decided in the arena which has made the capital of the State of Nevada a focus for the interest of the sporting fraternity throughout the world. Both Corbett and Fitzsimmons have finished a course of training in which every device known in the history of the prize ring of modern times has been used to develop their capacity, and confidently await the result of the battle which will commence a few minutes after 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Although individual opinions differ as to result of the fight, there is no doubt whatever in the minds of those who have traveled from east and west to see the contest that both the Californian and the Australian are in the very best of condition.

Not since the period when Carson took in a portion of the human current that flowed to her neighbor, Virginia City, when the famous Comstock lode brought the horde which followed a successful stroke in Nevada has the chief city seen the excitement under which it is laboring now. Every available room in the town has been let, furnished, and every householder is an amateur boniface. The hotels and restaurants are taxed far beyond their limit.

The special trains from the East and West yesterday and this morning unloaded the bulk of the eastern visitors, and with the remaining California specials, which are due here this evening and to-morrow morning, it is estimated that the crowd will number between 4500 and 5000 people.

Corbett's morning exercise was very light, and consisted merely of foot work in the gymnasium and a couple of games of handball.

At Cook's ranch the curriculum was even easier than at Shaw's Springs. Fitz contented himself with a few sprints around the yard, a playful frolic with Yarrum and a still more gentle gambol, in which the son and heir of the champion played a prominent part.

The 24-foot ring was put up this morning. The platform is of white pine, which was planed as smooth as a pane of glass. The platform projects 18 inches outside the ropes, and the ring posts are carefully padded. The gong is in position at the south side of the ring.

This afternoon the weather is bad and the clouds threaten snow or rain, probably the former. The kinetoscope people can take pictures in this light, however. The Weather Bureau indications this afternoon say fair to-morrow. Dan Stuart says there will be no postponement unless there is a heavy snow or rain storm.

The regular train from the West, which arrived two hours and thirty minutes late, brought nearly five hundred sports. A Pullman special, with 200 horsemen and bookmakers from the Oakland and the Ingleside tracks, followed fifteen minutes later. The first Siler-Hogan special arrived a few minutes before noon. Three crooks boarded the special last night and made way with a few watches and some coin. They were spotted, however, and most of the plunder was recovered.

Virginia City turned in a crowd of two hundred Cornish miners this morning, and 500 more are expected on the local train to-morrow. They will bring a few dollars to bet on Fitzsimmons. Fitzsimmons' right wrist, which he sprained while boxing with Hickey at Colorado Springs a month ago, and which he has favored in his training, is as sound as ever. Bob tried it this morning in the most severe manner without pain. He will wear no bandages on his hands to-morrow.

Corbett is absolutely without blemish. His hands, usually tender, are hard as nails, and there is not a sore tendon or an aching joint in his body.

The Australian seemed a trifle careless in exposing himself, and did not hesitate to indulge in hot mineral baths, which he claimed broke up his cold. He is more rugged than Corbett, and his complexion resembles crimson parchment.

P. J. Corbett, Jim's father, when he entered his son's cottage to-day, had not much to say. "Jim seems to have muscles sticking out all over him," was the old gentleman's comment. "I am satisfied with the lad's appearance, and if he don't win he should have no excuse to offer the folks at home."

The betting remained about the same all day. There is plenty of Corbett money in sight, but Fitzsimmons cash is not forthcoming in sufficient quantities to make the penciliers change the odds of 6 ½ to 10 on the Californian. Pari mutuels with Corbett, Green and Hawkins as the pick of the combinations, were very slow, and there was scarcely any buyers for Fitzsimmons, Smith and Flaherty.

Jack McAuliffe, the ex-lightweight champion attracted some attention on Carson streets this afternoon. "I have not seen either of the big fellows stripped," said Jack to a crowd in front of Stuart's office. "I can't tell a great deal by a man's face, and not much more by seeing him stripped, but according to my notion both Jim and Bob are finer than silk. I think the pace will be so hot that the fight will not last more than six rounds. The fight is for blood, and it will be all over by 1 o'clock to-morrow if the sun shines."

Stuart's office has been jammed with ticket buyers all day. The high-priced seats are most in demand, but there are purchasers for all grades. Three stalwart detectives are on guard within the office, and a fourth is stationed outside the door. Secretary Wheeler claims that more than 4000 tickets have been sold, but there is no way of verifying his figures. Stuart says he can see daylight already, and that any number over 3000 will let him out a winner.

There is only one candidate for master of ceremonies, Billy Jordan of San Francisco, but he is particularly unknown to Stuart, and may not get the place. The official timekeeper is also yet to be selected.

HANGED BY THE NECK.

Charcoal, the Indian Who Killed Two Men and Wounded Others, Executed at Fort McLeod.

Winnipeg, March 16.—(Special.)—Charcoal, or Bad Young Man, the Indian who murdered another Indian and shot Sergt. Wilde, and who led the Mounted Police a wild chase for many weeks, terrifying settlers and reserve Indians, was hanged at McLeod this morning in the yard off the police barracks. Charcoal was pinioned in the guard room and lifted to a wagon, then driven to the scaffold, a distance of 300 yards. He gave a few whoops, but was silenced by Father Legal, who remained with him. He was carried up the stairs to the scaffold by a constable and placed, sitting in a chair, as he was unable to stand.

During October and November last Charcoal killed one Indian, one white man and wounded two white men. He also exchanged shots with the police and Indians. Several times he broke into a number of houses, and also stole some 30 horses to supply himself with remounts.

Pembina-street Public School building here was burned to the ground this morning. The children and teachers were all safely got out of the building.

Contractor D. D. Mann returned to the city last night from Lethbridge and McLeod, where he went on business connected with the Crow's Nest Pass Railway. It is understood that he has engineers at work running lines for the information on which to base the tender in the event of construction being proceeded with. He leaves for Montreal to-morrow.

Lieut.-Governor Mackintosh arrived from the West this morning en route East on private business. His Honor was recently granted leave of absence for three months, and has been spending a portion of the time visiting the mining districts of the Kootenay, of which he speaks enthusiastically and predicts a busy summer there.

J. H. Bell, Assistant Clerk of the Manitoba Legislature, and a Winnipeg pioneer, is dangerously ill and thought to be sinking.

The debate on the school settlement was not continued by the Legislature to-day, but will be resumed to-morrow.

OVER A MILLION LOST.

The Great Fire in the Walker Stores at St. Louis Caused Tremendously Heavy Damages.

St. Louis, March 16.—Last night's fire in Ely Walker Drygoods Company's building was finally gotten under control this morning. All that remains of the massive seven-story granite structure and the enormous stock of drygoods is a mass of smouldering ruins. The loss to the Walker Company is estimated at $800,000, and the building, which was owned by the Myer Tobacco Company, was damaged to the extent of $300,000. The adjoining business houses were damaged to the extent of $50,000 by fire and water. All the property was fully covered by insurance. During the progress of the fire Fireman John G. Gottwild was killed by falling walls, and Jeremiah Cahan, Luke McCook, Charles McCarthy and Mrs. Annie Ridge, a spectator, received serious injuries.

A GRAVE SITUATION.

British Troops in the Transvaal Ordered to Hold Themselves in Readiness for an Emergency.

London, March 16.—The Daily Mail under the caption "The Transvaal—A Grave Situation," will to-morrow publish a despatch from Cape Town saying that the British troops there have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness for an emergency. The despatch quotes anti-British utterances published by the press of the Transvaal.

John Hay for London.

Washington, March 16.—The President to-day sent to the Senate the following nominations to be Ambassadors extraordinary and plenipotentiary of the United States: John Hay, of the District of Columbia, to Great Britain; Horace Porter of New York to France; Henry White of Rhode Island to be Secretary of the Embassy of the United States to Great Britain.

WESTWOOD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Miss Breckenridge has been visiting friends in Millbrook.

Messrs. Wm. and P. Doherty, Otonabee, were visiting their brother, Mr. John Doherty.

Mrs. G. Sergeant was visiting friends in Hastings last week.

Miss Buck, Norwood, is the guest of Miss Maggie McMillen.

Rev. Mr. Potter, Peterborough, was the guest of Dr. McNaughton on Friday.

Mr. Fred. Eason, Keene, is the guest of his cousin, Mr. Geo. Eason.

Several of our boys were up to Keene taking in the last skating of the season in the rink. They also attended the impromptu concert given in the evening.

Considering the condition of the roads and the rough weather a fair representation of the churches was present at the lecture on Friday evening. The programme was as follows:

Opening hymn.....
Prayer.....Rev Mr Potter
Chairman's address.....Mr J A Metcalf
Selection.....C H Choir
Lecture, "Can you eat Sawdust without Butter?".....Rev Mr Potter
Vote of thanks.....
Closing hymn, "God be with you, etc".....
Benediction.

The lecture was one which could be thoroughly enjoyed by all. Indeed it was both practical and humourous. The subject was one which illustrated the hardships and trials of life with or without the luxuries. Many would reach for the luxuries of life without having to come through the tread mill. Not many people who succeed in life but have had to endure the bitter pangs of adversity to a greater or less degree. To eat sawdust is to master the prevailing circumstance, to stand great fatigue, to conquer great difficulties and to bear adversity. The greatest men in our nation to-day both in social and religious circles are those who have endured the toil and suffered many hardships and stood the test. We have all a work to do. Milton Byron, though disabled in body, thought it a privilege to live and labour. Christ himself was a true statesman and labourer. He expects his followers to work for Him and hasten the coming of His kingdom. It is then that we can enjoy labour for the soul is refreshed with the pleasure and enjoyment which only God can give.

HUSTLING HAVELOCK.

(From a Correspondent)

A number of the people of the Methodist church assembled at the residence of Mr. Williams on the evening of Friday, March 5th, to do honour to Mrs. Todd, who has so faithfully filled the position of organist for the past year. After a pleasant hour had been spent, the participants began to gather in large numbers and soon all were enjoying themselves to the fullest extent in games provided by Mr. and Mrs. Williams. The interest, without a moment's cessation, was kept going until 11.30 p.m., when the following address was read by Rev. H. McQuade:

We, the people of the Methodist church, many of whom are assembled in the social gathering here this evening, desire to extend to you an expression of our appreciation of the faithful service you have rendered as officials during the past year.

We can of course understand that to do without all necessary pecuniary remuneration to secure efficiency of rendition of such a service, must be at a cost of personal inconvenience, and is a work requiring a goodly degree of energy and application.

We are, therefore, hearty in our expression of appreciation, inasmuch as your services have been faithfully and cheerfully rendered, your place having been so seldom vacant during the year.

But in order that we may more fully manifest our appreciation, be pleased to accept at our hands this purse, and what it contains, as a slight token, which we most cheerfully render, and may we all so live in this life that we may sing the new song in the Better Land.

Signed on behalf of the congregation,
H. McQUADE, Pastor.
E. WILLIAMS, Choirmaster.

Mrs. Dodd thanked her friends for the kind donation, and said she considered she had simply done her duty. Mr. Dodd also returned thanks for their liberal gift to Mrs. Dodd.

The purse was a handsome morocco one, and contained the sum of twenty-seven dollars. Refreshments were served by the host and hostess, after which the evening's enjoyment was brought to a happy termination.

The Ancient Order of United Workmen have recently added 64 members to their list. Through the exertions of M. A. McAuley, W. Matheson and the Grand Organizer, who recently paid a visit to Havelock, this large addition was accomplished in a week's work. The members, about 200 strong, sat down to a sumptuous spread and to which all did ample justice. Organizer Woodman gives Havelock brethren great praise for their work and says he is not surprised at the large number of new members who have been recently brought in considering the able workers who had the matter in their hands. A large contingent came down from Norwood to witness the interesting ceremonies of initiation.

DIVINE GUIDANCE.

All is over, we are stranded
On the rocks of disappointment;
For beyond us there is nothing
But the suffering caused by wasting Golden hours when we might have Made a fortune and been famous.
From the shipwreck we are rescued
By the guidance of Jehovah,
Who cares for us, calling forth our
Latent powers, he directs them
To advantage, giving comfort
With contentment, the true riches.

A HAPPY HOUSEHOLD

A HUSBAND REJOICES IN HIS WIFE'S RENEWED HEALTH.

She Was Weak and Easily Tired, Subject to Severe Headaches and Depression of Spirits—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Restored Her to Health.

From the Moncton Transcript.

One of the happiest couples in Notre Dame, N. B., is Mr. Will Colborne and his wife. For the cause of so much happiness they are indebted in a great measure to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, by which Mrs. Colborne was quickly and permanently cured of a most stubborn malady. This is how Mrs. Colborne tells the story of her illness and cure: "When I was three years old I had an attack of inflammation of the lungs, from which for a long time I did not wholly recover. I was ever after a weak and delicate child, very languid, and the least exertion fatigued me. I was extremely nervous, my appetite was never good and my nights frequently sleepless. Growing up I felt my affliction less severe, and as time went on I married. Shortly after my marriage all my old symptoms came back in an aggravated form. I could eat nothing and could not sleep. My blood became thin and weak and I felt dull and spiritless. I had no ambition and the thought of moving about was distasteful to me. I was so easily fatigued that the exertion of walking up stairs almost overcame me, and I suffered from an almost constant bilious headache. My husband became alarmed at my condition and called in a doctor, though nothing beneficial resulted. I continued to grow worse and acting on the earnest counsel of friends my husband procured six boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pill and I began taking them according to directions. Almost immediately I felt a change, my appetite became keen and I ate my food with a relish. I began to sleep well and the colour came back to my face, I became strong and ambitious and could do my usual housework. All the tired feeling disappeared so that I felt like a new person. I have not since felt the least symptom of my former trouble, nor have I any fears that I shall. I consider Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a great blessing to mankind and I strongly recommend them to all. They are the greatest medicine in the world."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic medicine. By their use the blood is renewed, and the nerves made strong and vigourous, and in this way disease is driven from the system. As a spring medicine Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are unsurpassed. If feeling languid or "out-of-sorts" a box or two will restore you to vigourous activity. Ask for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and take nothing else.

French Women Authors and Artists.

There are in France 2150 women authors and journalists, and about 700 women artists. The provinces contribute most of the writers—about two-thirds—while Paris is represented in the same proportion among the artists. Among the writers 1000 are novelists, 300 are poets, 150 educational writers and the rest writers of various kinds. The artists comprise 107 sculptors, and the others are painters, ranging over all branches of the pictorial art.

All Right as It is Now.

London, March 16.—In the House of Commons the Right Hon. R. W. Hanbury, Financial Secretary to the Treasury, stated, in reply to a question that the Government did not intend entering at present into negotiations with the American postal authorities for a modification of the existing arrangements, because the present Atlantic mail contracts secured the best available service all the year round between Great Britain and the United States.

Canadian Girl Burned to Death.

Manchester, N.H., March 16.—Miss Emma Garceau, aged 24, employed in the Manchester Mills weave room, dropped a lighted lamp on her clothing at her boarding house last night and was burned to death. The deceased leaves a brother and a sister here and parents in St. Flore, Canada.

Useful Information from a Dentist About Tooth Powders and Mouth Washes.

Many of the best tooth powders contain coarse particles or grit, and many of the mouth washes contain Acid. Grit injures the enamel of the teeth, and also causes inflammation of the gums; and the slightest acid (sometimes used in mouth washes to whiten the teeth) will soften the enamel after a short time, and finally destroy the teeth; some washes contain ingredients "to harden the gums;" this is dangerous, as it causes the gums to recede from the teeth, which finally become loose and are removed. It is well to be sure that what you use is free from all these evils, Grit, Acid, Astringents—(such as Myrrh which is too commonly supposed to be harmless or Camphor, which tends to make bone brittle, and will cause the teeth to split more readily). Ask your Dentist about this important manner and he will tell you to use the "Q. C. Liquid Tooth-Powder"

It contains the finest precipitated powder, washed, strained, and again re-precipitated, rendering it so fine that it remains for hours suspended in the fluid forming the mouth wash, which is delightfully refreshing to use and guaranteed to be absolutely free from Acid or any injurious ingredient. "Q. C. Liquid-Tooth Powder" for sale at all Druggists, 25 cents per bottle.

FOUND A JEWEL.

An Important Find by a Brockville Jeweller.

Mr. Joseph Lane, the well-known jeweller of Brockville, says: "For some years I have suffered with severe pains in my back and sides and flashes of heat between my shoulders. I had a tired, wornout feeling.

"The numerous medicines that I took gave me very little relief. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I thought I would try a box, and got one at Curry's drugstore.

"After the first two or three doses I felt much relieved, and the longer I took them the greater the change for the better in my condition. I am much better in every respect and recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from kidney trouble as the best remedy I know of."

Sold by James Lynch, druggist, 168 Hunter street, Peterborough.

A Triumph Won

Before taking Doan's Kidney Pills I felt that diabetes was fast tightening its grip upon me. Now I know that it has been met and defeated. MUNYON'S COLD CURE

Colds lead to coughs, coughs to pneumonia and consumption; therefore, it is all important to check a cold before it reaches the lungs. Munyon's Cold Cure will positively break a cold inside of twenty-four hours if taken as soon as the cold manifests itself. When the cold reaches the lungs or bronchial tubes the Cough Cure should be used alternately every half hour with the Cold Cure. The Cold Cure is guaranteed to prevent pneumonia if used in the beginning of a cold. Pneumonia, or inflammation of the lungs, can be controlled by the use of these two cures.

The Cough Cure positively cures bronchitis, tickling in the throat, hoarseness, loss of voice, soreness of the chest, difficulty in breathing, hacking cough and all pulmonary diseases where the lungs are not too far consumed by disease or covered with tubercles.

A separate cure for each disease. At all druggists, mostly 25 cents a vial.

Personal letters to Prof. Munyon, 11 and 13 Albert street, Toronto, answered with free medical advice for any disease.

LOCAL LEGISLATURE.

A Hard Day's Work Put In Yesterday.

THE MATTER OF MUNICIPAL AUDITS

Discussion of Cheese and Butter Associations—Several Government Measures Advanced a Stage—The Educational Estimates—Antediluvians Lament the Good Old Days.

Toronto, March 16.—The following bills were introduced in the Legislature to-day:

Mr. Platt—To amend the General Road Companies Act. This Act is to enable persons who use toll roads to give the gatekeeper a written statement of their names and addresses and tender the exact amount of the toll. It prescribes what is to be a proper formula for the maintenance of toll roads, bridges and culverts thereon. The County Engineer is to examine the toll roads and bridges in the county once a year and he may order the tolls off the road until they are placed in a satisfactory state of repair.

Mr. Stratton—To amend the Act regulating the traveling on highways. The object of this Act is to apply the ordinary rules of the road as to turning out and meeting to bicycles as well as to vehicles drawn by horses.

Mr. Smith—To amend the law of landlord and tenant, the object being to protect chattel mortgagees where the mortgage has been executed prio to the tenancy, against distress by the landlord.

Mr. Stratton—To amend the Municipal Act by enabling the council of every municipality to provide bicycle paths, and provides for the punishment of persons driving horses or other beasts of burden over a bicycle path.

Mr. Richardson—To amend the County Councils Act, 1896. This bill provides for the re-division of counties into county council divisions every five years. No re-division is to take place before 1900.

The following bills were read a third time:

To amend the Act incorporating Knox College—Mr. Ross.

To amend the Act to provide for the division of the township o Tilbury West—Mr. Auld.

To legalise and confirm an agreement entered into by the municipality of Dysart and others—Mr. Carnegie.

Respecting wages and the estates of deceased persons—The Attorney-General.

To amend the Married Women's Property Act—The Attorney-General.

The first Government notice of motion on the order paper was one ratifying and approving the agreement giving a license of occupation of 64,000 acres of mining land in the Rainy River district to Col. W. T. Engledue and others. It was generally expected that a very lively debate, occupying some hours, would result, and everybody was anticipating the struggle with a good deal of interest. However, the Attorney-General exclaimed "stand" when that stage was reached, the fight was postponed, and the House settled down to the comparatively monotonous and unexciting work of passing bills in committee, with Mr. Stratton in the chair.

MUNICIPAL AUDITING.

The first bill taken up was the Attorney-General's measure to make better provision for the keeping and auditing of municipal and school accounts. After good deal of merely routine work, a debate arose between the Government and Opposition on the principle of the bill. Messrs. Whitney and Matheson urged their favorite argument that the bill was another step in the direction of centralization and would deprive the people of their right to manage their municipal institutions in their own way. They thought the County Councils should appoint the auditors instead of the Government. The Attorney-General and Hon. G. W. Ross in reply urged that there had been a great demand for the bill owing to the numerous defalcations by county officials; that there was nothing in the law to prevent County Councils from appointing auditors if they chose to do so, and, moreover, that there would not be enough expert auditors in the province to supply the demand were every county to appoint its own. The bill was explained to be merely a tentative one. It was not intended that the Provincial Auditor should go into every county and audit the books; in fact, it would be impossible to do so. He was simply to investigate in cases where it was believed there was a necessity for such an examination.

Mr. Meacham said the idea of the Government seemed to be that the fear of a visit from the Government auditor would induce the local officials to do their work properly. ("Hear, hear," was the response from the Government benches.)

Hon. Mr. Gibson enlarged on the shortcomings of municipal treasurers. The mode in which money was kept was responsible for much loss, and if general rules as to the system of keeping acounts and taking care of the funds were sent out by the Government Auditor it would do much to educate the people and prevent financial laxity.

Mr. St. John saw in the bill a political machine and a new avenue for the appointment of partisans to office, which is not surprising as this is the regular Opposition cry in regard to any Government proposal.

Mr. Howland talked for some time about centralization, and then the discussion stopped and thet bill was reported with numerous minor amendments.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

Hon. Mr. Dryden's bill to amend the Agriculture and Arts Act was next considered. Mr. Howland opposed the abolition of the Creameries Association, which, he claimed, had done much for the industry. Mr. McPherson pointed out that the interests of buttermakers and cheese men were so much in common that the proposed union would promote the interests of both at a considerable saving of expense. Mr. Meachem argued that the butter-makers of the province would be placed at a disadvantage by the bill, as the cheese men would have everything their own way in the new association. The Minister of Agriculture ridiculed this idea, contending that the cheese-makers were also engaged in making butter. Under the bil the same instruction would be given in buttermaking as before. "An Act to destroy the butter industry" was the designation which Mr. Whitney applied to the bill. He saw in it a sinister design to effect the supremacy of cheese and make butter a secondary consideration. Mr. Pettullo asked what possible object the Minister of Agriculture could have in destroying the butter industry? Considering the enormous preponderance of the cheese industry over buttermaking, he thought the change of name to the "Cheese and Butter Association," putting the word "cheese" first, was quite reasonable. As a matter of fact butter men controlled both the associations. He asserted that all the agitation against the amalgamation was the work of two or three men, influenced by personal motives.

The bill was adopted with some amendments.

Hon. J. M. Gibson brought down a voluminous batch of correspondence relating to the grant of mining lands in the Rainy River District to Col. Engledue and others.

TRADE DISPUTES.

After recess Mr. Dryden's bill to improve the Trades Disputes Act, 1894, received a second reading. Then the House went into committee on the Attorney-General's bill to amend the administration of justice in those portions of the province outside county organisation. The bill was a lengthy one and the proceedings being mainly of a routine character, were decidedly uninteresting from a spectacular point of view. The bill was adopted with the exception of a few clauses reserved for further consideration.

The next item was Hon. J. M. Gibson's bill for the removal from Crown lands of persons unlawfully thereon; also considered in committee. Mr. Matheson championed the cause of the settler and mining inspector, whose interests he feared might suffer under its provisions. By some remarable oversight he omitted to say anything about "centralisation," which is a good impressive word and can hardly be employed too frequently. Mr. Whitney suggested that the powers given to the Government were rather extensive, but was unusually mild in his criticisms. No serious objections, however, were offered, the Opposition apparently not being in a fighting humor, and the bill was put through easily.

IN SUPPLY.

The House went into Committee of Supply, the educational items amounting to a total of $717,927.28, being taken up. Hon. G. W. Ross reviewed the various heads of expenditure, giving the reasons for any increase.

Mr. Matheson opposed extending the grants to poor schools. Mr. Ross explained that these schools were all in the newer and poorer districts, unless there were peculiar local conditions, which justified such grants. Mr. Meacham said that favoritism prevailed in the assistance given.

Mr. Whitney complained that the continuation class system was not working satisfactorily, as the Public and High Schools to some extent overlapped each other.

Mr. Matheson discoursed awhile on Model Schools and other phases of the subject.

The appropriation of $1350 for a director of teachers' institutes was attacked, the usefulness of the appointment being questioned.

The Minister of Education pointed out that it was a matter of impossibility for the director to visit every institute each year. Mr. Matheson injected a touch of humor into a rather slow discussion by suggesting that the director should be appointed to the vacant Registrarship of Ontario County. As those who were listening to the speeches smiled, it is to be presumed that it was a joke.

Mr. Whitney charged that the director owed his appointment to political reasons, Mr. Ross quoted the example of the United States as to the usefulness of directors of teachers' institutes and bore testimony to Mr. Houston's ability and conscientious fulfilment of his duties.

The examination system was then under fire, the Opposition making the usual accusation that the whole end and aim of teaching seemed to be to enable pupils to pass examinations. The Minister of Education said that many of these examinations were optional. He announced that the fees for examinations had been largely reduced. There were far fewer examinations now than in former times. After some further speeches from the Opposition leaders, Hon. Mr. Harcourt spoke in warm commendation of the educational system, as compared with old times. "They were better," interjected Mr. Matheson. "Only an antediluvian would make such a statement," retorted the Treasurer, and proceeded to rub it in, by showing that from every point of view modern educational methods were superior to those of the past. The "good old times" found another outspoken champion in Mr. Whitney, who said that our schools nowadays turned out mental dyspeptics. Mr. Ross made a vigorous defence of the system as judged by its fruits, and success of those who had received a Canadian education abroad.

The committee rose, some of the items being reserved for further consideration.

The prisoner, however, admitted conviction here. He is perhaps one of the slickest pick-pockets in the business to-day and the local police are glad to know that he is safe behind the bars for a time. A TEACHER REMEMBERED.

Miss Nettie Syers' Sunday School Class Makes an Address and Presentation.

A few nights ago the girls of Miss Syers' class of the Grace church Sunday School called at her residence and delightfully surprised her. Miss Gertie Allison read dutiful address cordially recognizing Miss Syers' affectionate fidelity to her duties as a teacher, and Miss Reesie Cameron made her a present of a beautiful Methodist hymn book. Miss Syer briefly, and gracefully acknowledged the thoughtful kindness of her class which is the same that won Rev. W. R. Young's prize of two dollars offered for pupils of Grace church Sunday School.

At the conclusion of the presentation Miss Syer entertained her class at luncheon and the remainder of the evening was spent in music and other pleasant ways.

CARD OF THANKS.

We beg to tender our gratitude to our friends of Peterborough and vicinity for their liberal patronage during the past two years we have been in business. Notwithstanding the general depression in trade throughout the country we have exceeded our expectations, and it is a great satisfaction to us to know that our customers were so well suited with our goods and the cut and fit. All garments made by us recommend us as thorough practical tailors. We have never had one complaint or misfit, which speaks well for our cutter, whose wide experience makes him master of his business without any trouble to him or his customers. He is always prepared to furnish fashionable, comfortable and perfect fitting garments at prices to suit the times.

We are now prepared for the spring with a full range of new patterns of cloths. We codially invite our customers and their friends to call, as we can do equally as well, if not better, than in the past. Again thanking you, we solicit a continuance of your esteemed patronage.

Yours respectfully,

B. B. A. Entertainment, Opera House, March 17th.

The Jameson raid in South Africa and subsequent events, touching the matter, have become of world-wide interest. Owing to the fact that our countryman, Hon. Edward Blake, one of our greatest statesmen, is acting on the Parliamentary Committee appointed to enquire into the circumstances which resulted in Jameson's raid, Canadians feel something like a local interest in the matter, and the people of Peterborough no doubt will feel a little pardonable pride from the fact that they are to be the first audience in the new world having an opportunity of seeing those beautiful coloured views, which comprise over sixty, of the most thrilling scenes of this historical event. The entertainment will also consist of vocal and instrumental music. Reserved seats 50c, general admission 25c. Plan of hall at Sallsbury & Co's.

THE QUEEN'S JUBILEE.

A SMALL PUBLIC MEETING OF THE CITIZENS.

Varied Views Expressed—Resolutions Passed in Favour of a Civic Celebration—Citizen's Committee Appointed.

The public meeting held last evening for the purpose of deciding how the Queen's Jubilee should be celebrated in Peterborough, was not as largely attended as anticipated, but amongst those present were the following representative citizens:

Councillor White, McIlram, Dawson, ex-Councillor Moore, S. R. Armstrong, F. J. Jameson, D. S. Harvey, W. H. Isaacs, E. A. Kemp, C. W. Sawers, R. McWhinnie, H. Long, F. Foote, Peter Campbell, F. H. Dobbin, F. W. Miller, T. C. Irwin, S. W. Lowry, A. McNeil, B. Shortly, T. E. Bradburn, J. J. Hartley, E. Mason, Wm. Taylor, Thos. Cahill, G. M. Roger, M. Poussette, A. P. Poussette and Fred Ray.

The chair was occupied by the Mayor, and Mr. S. R. Armstrong was requested to act as secretary.

His Worship explained the reasons for which the meeting had been called, and expressed the wish that all might unite as loyal citizens to make the celebration of the jubilee a grand success.

Councillor Meldrum stated that there had been a good many suggestions as to how the day should be celebrated. If a demonstration was to take place it should be by the citizens as a whole. Whilst the Canadian Foresters had secured the Driving Park, he felt that this did not interfere with the celebration being a general one, as amicable arrangements could doubtless be entered into with that Order. Seconded by Mr. Peter Campbell he proposed the following resolution: "Whereas this year signalizes the completion of the sixtieth year of the reign of our Most Gracious Sovereign, Queen Victoria, the longest as it is the greatest and most generous in the annals of history, be it therefore resolved, that this meeting, representing the citizens of the first town, of the best province of the greatest colony owing allegiance to Her Majesty, declare that it is our duty as loyal citizens of the town and loyal subjects of The Empire to fittingly commemorate so important an event as the Diamond Jubilee, and that the following be a committee to make arrangements looking forward to such a celebration as will include all interests and all classes of citizens:—His Worship the Mayor and members of the Town Council, J R Stratton, M P P, Jas Kendry, M P, Peter Hamilton, Dr Burnham, Dr Halliday, D W Dumble, E B Edward, Lt-Col Rogers, Lt-Col Bell, Adjt Bell, C W Sawers, T E Bradburn, H C Winch, Geo Stephens, John Carnegie, J J Lundy, Thos Cahill, A P Poussette, Thos Kelly, Rev H Symonds, John Burnham, G M Roger, Hampden Burnham, R M Denistoun, H LeBrun, Dr McGrath, E Brown, W B Bamford, Gus Gough, Fred Mitchell, Fred Foote, Peter Campbell, F J Jameson, A McNeil, B Shortly, H Long, F H Dobbin, John Crane, W H Isaacs, W Menzies, A McFarlane, J J Hartley, W H Law, W Hamilton, jr, T A S Hay, Wm Taylor, M H Quinlan, Capt Miller, D S Harvey, Joseph Metheral, E H D Hall.

In England, Mr. Meldrum stated, with the Queen's consent, the celebration was chiefly taking the form of a benefit to charity. It would be a most fitting action if the proceeds from the celebration were donated in Peterborough to the Children's Aid Society. This would be a most laudable object to work for and would be a fitting tribute to the Queen.

Mr. W. H. Moore thought that whilst it was true that in England the celebration tended towards a charitable object, yet the suggestion of Rev. H. Symonds in the evening papers should not be overlooked. It would be a grand idea to raise such a sum as would make the public library a free one. He urged that the citizens do something not merely ephemeral but lay the foundation for a substantial tribute to Her Majesty, such as be mentioned. There would probably be a grant given by the town council. Now if this was expended in this way it would be far better than if spent in something which would not last longer than a day and be only a flash in the pan. The committee should consider this.

Mr. A. McNeil explained that the Canadian Foresters had set on foot the idea of a local demonstration, and he wished that all due credit be given them.

Mr. B. Shortly stated that he came as a citizen to the meeting and not as a society man. He thought that all should work together as citizens and not as members of any society. The celebration should be carried out in such a manner as to have a lasting memento of the day.

Mr. F. J. Jameson in his remarks explained that although the Foresters did not wish to take to themselves any special glory, still it should be understood by all that to them was due the credit of putting the celebration on foot. Before taking any action whatever they had inquired of the town officials and of the different societies in town as to whether a general celebration would take place. The answer had been in the negative in every case. As no one else was taking the matter up, the Canadian Foresters stepped into the breach and the four local Courts, representing 300 citizens, appointed a committee to carry forward the details for a demonstration. The grounds had been rented and other negotiations entered into. Still, if the citizens as a whole wished to join in the Foresters were quite prepared to act in harmony with them. The fact that the grounds were held by the Foresters need not interfere at all with a general celebration. The morning, and for that matter the evening, might be devoted to the citizens and the afternoon placed at the disposal of the Foresters. He thought no one could object to that. The Foresters wanted to have the celebration a right royal one. They were not advocating this for their own benefit. What they wanted was harmony all along the line, so as to make the celebration a credit to the town. Although it was proposed to devote the receipts to the funds of the Order for benevolent purposes, yet, as the Children's Aid Society had been mentioned, he was sure the Foresters would agree to hand over the profits to that organization. While the Foresters were a benevolent society, banded together for the purpose of relieving one another and assisting the widows and orphans of deceased brethren, yet they were not selfish, and in this case he believed they would be generous enough to assist the Children's Aid Society, as nothing would please the Foresters more than that enough money could be realized from the afternoon's demonstration to set aside a sum sufficient to form the nucleus of an endowment fund for the benefit of that society.

Mr. W. H. Moore wanted to see the Foresters drop out of the celebration altogether and to have the whole matter in the hands of a citizens' committee.

Mr. Jameson suggested that the arrangement of the details be left to a joint meeting of the citizens and Foresters' Committees. If the citizens undertook to assume all the responsibility and carry out the celebration, he had no doubt that the Order would be willing to turn over the management on the condition that they were reimbursed for the expense and liabilities already incurred.

The Mayor and Mr. Moore both concurred in this view that —that the Foresters should be reimbursed.

Messrs. Fred Foote, J. J. Hartley, Adam Dawson and Alex. Reid also spoke in favour of making the demonstration a purely citizens affair.

A meeting of the committee is called for the evening of the 23rd, and all citizens interested are requested to attend.

AN IRISHMAN.

The following tribute to the virtues and good qualities of the typical Irishman has been contributed THE EXAMINER and it is so pertinent to the great festival, hallowed especially in the hearts of every Irishman, that it is given as a tribute to the noble, warm-hearted race of whom the great Saint Patrick is the patron saint:

The savage loves his native shore,
Though rude the storm and chill the air,
And well may Erin's sons adore
Thee isle by nature formed so fair.
What flower reflects a flood more sweet
Than Shannon great or pastoral Bann,
Or who a friend or foe can meet
So generous as an Irishman.

By honour bound in woe or weal,
Whate're she bids he dare to do.
Try him with bribe—you won't prevail—
Prove him in fire—you'll find him true—
He seeks not safety, but his post
Where'er it may be in danger's van,
And if the field of fame be lost
It won't be by an Irishman.

His hand is rash, his heart is warm
His principle is still his guide;
None more regrets those deeds of harm,
Nor none forgives with nobler pride.
He may be duped he won't be dared—
Flitter far to practice than to plan—
He dearly earns his poor reward
And spends it like an Irishman.

Erin, loved land, be thou more famed,
Be thou more bright, be thou more free,
May peace defend thy hapless head,
And if in war, cheap victory;
May plenty smile on every side
And softer breezes gently fan,
May cheerful smiles serenely glide
The breast of every Irishman

THE WOMAN'S AUXILIARY.

Annual Meeting of St. John's Church Branch Last Night.

The annual meeting of the St. John's Branch of the Women's Auxiliary took place in the Sunday school room on Monday afternoon at three o'clock. The reports of the various officers show that much excellent work has been accomplished for parochial as well as missionary objects and there is also an increase in the funds of the society this year.

The Mission Band report is deserving of special notice. The little workers raised the sum of $61.75 during the past year. The officers were re-elected as follows:

Hon. President—Mrs. Weller.
President—Mrs. G. A. Smith.
Vice-Presidents—Mrs. Jas. Best and Mrs. Boswell.
Secretary—Miss Errett.
Treasurer—Mrs. Clark.
Parochial Secretary—Miss Halliday.
Superintendent of Mission Band—Mrs. H. S. Greenwood.

The Sisters of Charity, "Grey Nuns," Gay street, Montreal, write: "Having made use of your "Quickcure" in our establishment, we are happy to add our testimony, also, in its favour." Nothing equals "Quickcure" as a dressing for Burns, Scalds, Cuts or Wounds; even Toothache need no more be dreaded.

FITZSIMMONS

Wins the Champion Prize Fight.

FOURTEEN ROUNDS FOUGHT.

Full Particulars of the Great Battle—Report of Each Round—A Blow on the Stomach Sends Corbett to His Knees in Agony and Settles the Fight.

(Special to the Examiner.)

CARSON, March 17th, 1897.

At the Ring.—The great arena is rapidly filling up, and the streets adjacent to it are black with people. All the notable sports on the continent are in attendance to see the battle of the century. John L. Sullivan has just appeared, resplendent in a shining silk tile. The noblest Roman of them all is greeted with tumultuous cheers. Here comes the card of the day, "Georgius Silerius," (Geo. Siler) upon the turning of whose thumb depends the fate of the modern gladiators.

It is not expected that Corbett and Fitzsimmons will be in the ring before 11.30 o'clock.

Billy Brady has just taken a seat. Corbett is now in his dressing room. Jimmy Colville will be time keeper for Corbett; L. W. Houseman for Fitzsimmons. Billy Muldoon is timekeeper for Dan Stuart. Billy Madden handles the gong.

Billy Jordan, the well-known old-time master of ceremonies, of San Francisco, is in the ring, and announces that he is there on behalf of Frank S. Dunn, of Boston, to challenge the winner of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight, with John L. Sullivan for $5,000 and will deposit $1,000 with New York. (Loud cheers for John L. Sullivan.)

Sullivan is away down the aisle, and jumping into the ring said: "Gentlemen, there is nothing I can add to Mr. Jordan's remarks. I think there is one more fight left in me, and I am here for business." (Loud cheers.

Billy Madden announces that he has deposited $2,500 with Warren Lewis of N. Y., in behalf of Joe Goddard to fight the winner; also says:—"Tom Sharkey has $2,500 in N. Y. Journals hands with the same object in view."

11:15 a. m.—There is absolutely no change in the betting. Corbett still rules the favourite at 10 to 6½.

Julian and Grady are inside the arena and Corbett and Fitzsimmons are undergoing final preparations. It is estimated that there are 4000 people seated and another special train to arrive.

Governor Sadler, the fighting governor of Nevada, has just entered his box, greeted with applause. He is being asked for a few remarks but briefly replies, "Cheer up."

The crowd from the last special has just arrived at the depot and will be here in ten minutes. I have it direct from George Siler that the men will enter the ring at 11.50.

Mrs. Fitzsimmons has just taken her seat in a box and is greeted with hearty handclapping. There are quite a number of ladies present in the arena. The crowd is persistently yelling for "Sullivan! Sullivan!" but John L. merely raises that silk tile and puffs unconcernedly one of Carson city's choicest weeds. In a conversation with Billy Muldoon, he is cautious in expressing an opinion. He thinks Corbett suffers in comparison to the ability of his trainers to that of Fitzsimmons. Jimmy Wakely and Al. Smith are said to strongly favour Corbett's chances.

Here comes Fitz, and crowd cheers him lustily. He is bareheaded and attired in a Japanese bath robe.

11.59½.—Here is Pompadour Jim and the vast multitude greets him with applause. Behind Corbett are Charlie White, Delaney, Jeffreys, McVey, Joe Corbett, Billy Woods and Al. Hampton.

In Fitzsimmons' corner are Martin Julian, Ernest Rober, Stengler, and Hickey. Billy Madden is now announcing the time-keepers. Fitzsimmons walking calmly around the ring and chatting pleasantly with all the people therein and in close proximity to the ring.

Corbett does a little jig step in his corner. Both men are looking in fine shape. Muldoon greets Fitz, asking: "Hello, Fitz; how are you?" Fitz says "Oh, bloody fine."

Madden introduces the referee. Men proceed to strip. Fitzsimmons looks light but is a bunch of muscles. Corbett looks easily 50 pounds the heavier, and his skin, as well as Fitzsimmon's, looks like polished mahogany. Men putting on gloves. Fitzsimmons refuses to shake hands. Time called, 12.07.

The Fight Commences.

First Round.—Sparring for an opening; Fitz forcing Corbett to his corner; tries left swing, which Jim ducks cleverly, Jim smiling. Fitz very aggressive, and lands a light one on Corbett's neck; Jim feints and lands back on stomach; they clinch, but no damage done; Corbett lands right swing on Fitz's neck. Another clinch, no damage—breakaway; Fitz lands on Jim's head; Jim lands hard right on Fitz's short ribs; Fitz lands a heavy right on Jim's head. Jim says "Oh!" and laughs. Jim lands his right on Fitz's ribs as gong sounds.

Third Round.—Corbett swings right in with hard left hook on the body; Fitz gets savage and tries his left and right at Corbett's head, but does very little damage. Corbett lands another left jab on body and follows with right short on the ribs; Jim clinches; Corbett lands right over heart; Fitz mixes it up and puts the heel of his glove in Corbett's face. In the clinch Jim swings his right, working like a piston rod on Fitz' body. They clinch and Fitz roughs it in the breakaway. As the gong sounds Fitz seems anxious to continue but Corbett laughingly sticks his right glove in Fitz' face, and they go to corner.

Fifth Round.—Corbett lands his left on Fitz's jaw; again that left goes on jaw; Fitz blows have plenty of steam behind them but they are not so frequent as those of Corbett's. They clinch and exchange compliments with one hand loose; Corbett lands a very slow left and Fitz lands left on Jim's neck. Jim throws stiff half round with left on Fitz nose drawing first blood; they mix and Corbett has the better of it. Corbett lands another stiff right on body and left on chin. This round is in favour of Corbett.

Sixth Round.—They clinch and Fitz tries to wrestle Corbett down. Cries of "Oh, oh!" Corbett lands light left jab on face. Fitz counters on jaw. Corbett upper cuts fiercely with right and has Fitz going. Fitz literally covered with blood, but is fighting like a demon. Corbett is showing the signs of fast work. Fitz is down on one knee and takes the time limit. He is full of fight on arising. Corbett is slaughtering him with upper cuts. Corbett leads one a bit wild and he misses many well-intended blows. Time called with Fitz looking very much the worse for wear and Corbett suffering.

Tenth Round—Fitz spits blood out of his mouth and tries a hard left swing at Corbett's head. Fitz comes back with stiff left and right on Jim's head and body. Fitz very much stronger and cooler than Corbett at this stage. Corbett stops a left swing with straight left on mouth. Fitz is bleeding rapidly, but forces Corbett back, being apparently the stronger man. They mix up and honours about even; both fighting hard. Fitz carries Corbett around the neck, dragging him to ropes when time is called. Corbett lands on Fitz mouth, but blows lack in strength. He is fighting cautiously to end of round.

Twelfth Round.—Corbett is rushing it, and is countered on the face. Fitz is beat on rushing it, and Corbett is keeping away. Fitz gets the worst of it in the rush. More clinching; Corbett lands left on Fitz' sore nose, and follows with half round at body. He forces Fitz to ropes and smashes him hard on short ribs. Fitz spits copions wads of blood. Corbett is now rushing, and lands one two right and left on Australian's face. Corbett lands left on Fitz' face and follows right on body. He tries a knock out upper cut with right, but is a hair too short. This is Corbett's round.

Thirteenth Round—Fitz lands right short on Corbett's ribs and a left jaw given finds Fitz with good left. Fitz rushes Jim over to his own corner, but does little damage. Corbett jabs Fitz lightly on the head and he is back again with same on body. Corbett is sparring beautifully and ducking out of some very dangerous blows. Fitz lands his right straight and hard on Jim's face; Fitz tries two hard right swings but it does no good.

Fourteenth Round. — Corbett blocked. Corbett lands that left jab jagain on Fitz's head. Fitz counters with that terrible right swing on Corbett's neck and he has Corbett going back for a few moments. Fitz lands a terrible left hand jab on Corbett's stomach and Corbett goes to his knees with a frightful look of agony on his face. The timekeeper's call the seconds one, two and three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, but Corbett comes to his feet, he rushes to Fitz and endeavours to choke him, there is a terrible uproar, the decision has not been given yet, but Siler decides that Fitz wins. The blow that did the business landed over Corbett's heart and he collapsed. The last round lasted 1 minute and 45 seconds.

Fitz wins in 14th round.

LINES

IN MEMORY OF SARAH ANN MERARRY, BELOVED WIFE OF JOHN RUSSELL, WHO DIED JANUARY 15TH, 1897, AGED 67 YEARS.

Though best gone from us all
To that beautiful shore,
Where meeting is bliss
And parting no more.
Dear mother on earth we'll
No more see your face,
God has called you to heaven,
A more beautiful place.

Thou parted from all
You held dear here on earth,
You have gone to your Jesus
You so well served when in health.
Long years though you suffered
Before the end came,
Thy will be done, oh, my Saviour,
Was your motto ever the same.

We mourn, and while we weep, we joy
To think of you that's gone:
Your sufferings through all these years
You meekly had bourne,
The years are three score and ten
For man's allotted span,
Within one year of that long race
Our darling mother ran.

We miss the soft clasp of your hand,
We view your vacant chair,
We miss the kindly word and smile,
We miss you from our care.
The white cold snows are drifting
O'er her grave so cold and deep.
After life's long warfare
Dear mother rests in sleep.

One son and two daughters left behind
To mourn for a mother so dear,
And your sorrowing husband alone
Must tread life's journey drear.
Two years all but six days had passed
Since God called her youngest son;
Dear brother Robert laid down his cross,
To wear a crown he so faithfully won.

But we have a Friend, a Brother,
Who will be our guide and stay,
May He comfort and befriend us,
May He guide us all the way.
We'll dry our tears and weep not
They have only gone before.
When our journey on earth here is ended
May we meet in heaven once more.

FORTUNE IN FUTURES.....

Alexander T. Stewart began his business career without capital and in 20 years accumulated $40,000,000. His successors began with his $40,000,000 and in 20 years failed. Stewart dealt in futures; he sifted his stores and contracted ahead for manufactures before big advances and he emptied his stores and sold for future account at other times before big declines. He discounted the future. His successors realized on a BIG NAME and never dealt in future prospects.

A year ago I advertised to buy cotton below seven cents, it afterwards advanced two cents or $1,000 on each 100 bales. Last summer I advertised to buy wheat around 60 cts., it has since sold as 85 or $2,500 on 10,000 bushels. Now advise the purchase of Corn around 35 cts. for July. It will show a Big Profit by the middle of June. Railroad stocks and bonds bought on the New York Stock Exchange for investment or on liberal margins. Call me up on long distance 'phone and I can execute your order while you wait in New York, Boston or Chicago.

THE POINTS DISCUSSED.

At this season old riders congregate and talk wheel before purchasing their new mounts.

Young men and riders who desire a particularly light wheel and one with a distinctive touch of grace and beauty, should examine the Stearns. Upon general lines one bicycle is much like another. It is, therefore, a matter in which Stearns & Co. are entitled to take no little pride that, out of the thousands of wheels which are shown, the Yellow Fellow stands out the most characteristic and distinguished bicycle in the market.

UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM

C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphine. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

SHELTERS FOR POULTRY.

Two Houses Which Are Popular in England and Australia.

The barrel poultry house, Fig. 1, is largely used by cottagers in England, and makes a capital house for a small lot of birds, says Australasian. Any cracks or crevices should be filled up with clay or putty. The inside should have a good coating of lime, in which some carbolic acid has been mixed, and the outside should be well tarred or painted. When perfectly dry it should be placed on bricks or blocks of wood, so as to raise it a few inches from the ground.

The other sketch, Fig. 2, represents a more elaborate house, which can be made according to the number of birds for which it is required. The illustration explains itself, and the space under the floor is of great advantage, as it gives protection from the weather and is much appreciated by the birds. The house should be removed every few days on to fresh ground. It will be noted that two important points, light and ventilation, have received attention from the designer of this house. Strong handles placed at each end would facilitate removal, or the house could readily be fixed on wheels. If corrugated iron is used for the roof it should have a wooden lining, as the former is a rapid conductor of heat and cold.

POPULAR IN AUSTRALIA.

CURED OF SCIATICA.

Toronto Junction, Mar. 15 (Special)—Mr. H. Playter, is not a difficult man to find as everybody here knows that he is foreman at No. 1 Fire Hall. He was the picture of health when called upon by your correspondent and told his story thus:

"In April 1896 I suffered from a severe attack of sciatica, affecting my left hip and leg to the tip of the toes. I suspected it came from some form of kidney trouble, and as they had been recommended I procured a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

At the end of the fourth day I was entirely relieved, but desiring a permanent cure I continued to use that and another box and am now perfectly cured and as well as ever in my life. A brother of mine living at Pine Orchard has been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all Lung Troubles are quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego Cal. says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50c. Sold by John Nugent, 359 George Street.

JUST BEFORE THE BATTLE.

Pompadour Jim and Lanky Bob Will Rest a Day and Then Fight—Both Sure They'll Win.

Carson, Nev., March 15.—Dan Stuart today decided that all three of the fights will be pulled off on Wednesday, thus making the carnival the greatest in the history of pugilism. The Texan settled on this course late in the afternoon, and Hawkins, Flaherty, Greene and Smith were expected to be on hand for medical inspection on Wednesday morning. Stuart evidently believes in common with the majority of the experts that the big mill will not be very prolonged, but it is not by any means certain that the other two bouts can be finished the same day.

A temperature of summer, coupled with a bright sun and a clear sky, greeted Corbett and Fitzsimmons this morning, when they arose to prepare for the last finishing touches of their training.

Two specials and the regular train landed a goodly crowd of sports to-day, and the town put on quite a busy appearance, which was enhanced in picturesqueness by the presence of a number of cowboys, who participated in an exhibition of equine skill just outside the town. Among the arrivals by the specials were Parson Davies and his colored Chicago giant, Bob Armstrong, and Tom Sharkey, who arrived by the special from San Francisco.

The pool rooms opened this morning, but there was little or nothing doing in the way of betting, and no big wagers were recorded.

Both Corbett and Fitzsimmons bid adieu to most of their training paraphernalia today. Both of them went through the usual program with slight modifications.

Corbett played with his favorite wrist machine for nearly 10 minutes. He next punched the bag for an hour and then announced himself ready to take Jim Nealon's scalp at handball. Three red-hot games were played in less than an hour and Nealon did not figure in any of them to much extent. His easy victory over Nealon left Jim in good humor and he took pity on his trainers when the gloves were brought out. Eighteen rounds in all were gone through with and no blood was spilled.

Not a glove touched Corbett during the entire exercise and he finished without a show of exhaustion. While Jim was taking his rub down his trainers speculated as to his weight. None of them have seen him on the scales and nobody can say for certain just what he does weigh. White's guess of 183 pounds is probably within two pounds of the correct figure.

On the afternoon sprint Jim narrowly escaped meeting Mr. and Mrs. Fitzsimmons. The couple were driving along the road to Shaw's Springs, when they saw Corbett trotting down on them a few hundred yards ahead. Fitzsimmons jogged along until he reached a fork in the road, where he turned off on the pike towards Reno. Mrs. Fitzsimmons leaned far over in front of her husband and took a good look at the Californian, but Bob kept his eyes ahead and never once glanced in Jim's direction. Corbett jogged along with his trainers, paying no heed to the pair on his right. He switched around when he came to the railroad track and faced in the direction of Empire, doubling back four miles from home and sprinting most of the distance to his quarters.

Very few visitors saw Fitzsimmons put in his last day's work. The Cornishman scorched around the ranch on his wheel for half an hour with Yarrum as a pacemaker, before putting on his running shoes. He did not waste much time in sprinting and seemed content to get in the gymnasium. The punching bag was given a long innings, and the drives which Bob let go were not love taps either. Roeber, Hickey and Stenzler received no consideration, and they had little energy left when the boxing was over. In the afternoon Bob took his wife out for a drive, which extended about 12 miles.

Green, Hawkins, Smith and Flaherty are through with their training. Green is down to 146 pounds and looks all over a winner. Hawkins will not have a pound to spare in order to get within the limit of 128, but he appears to be in better shape than any man in the bunch. Smith is the most unlikely-loking pug in the lot. Flaherty is down to 124. He will have more coin behind him than any of the others.

The great championship battle will not be a betting affair.

In fact, there is less play on the heavyweight event than on any of the other fights. Most of the combinations beginning with Corbett and ending with Hawkins, command a premium of about 20 per cent. over those ending with Flaherty and almost 40 pe rcent. over those beginning with Fitzsimmons. Smith and Green are being played lightly at about even money. Fitz' adherents want 10 to 6 on their man.

The pool rooms are laying 10 to 7, and taking in nothing on the Australian. Not a single individual bet of any magnitude has been reported in Carson.

The ring posts and ropes arrived from San Francisco to-day and will be set in place to-morrow morning. The platform will be floored with tongued grooved white pine, carefully planed and covered with resin. The ring proper will be 24 feet square, within the ropes, and the platform will project 18 inches beyond the ropes.

Tom Sharkey, who has taken the measure of both the champions, arrived with a bulging pocket book this morning and will be ready with a challenge to the winner on Wednesday morning. The sailor will receive no recognition whatever from either Corbett or Fitzsimmons if the statements of their managers go for anything. Choynski, Maher, Goddard, and others, who are reported to be ready with a deal, will also be overlooked.

The United States Government expects to increase the revenue over $50,000,000 by the new tariff bill.

W. J. Fraser, Esq., Manager and Agent for the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York, Quebec, writes: "My wife suffered intensely from ear-ache for ten days, causing complete deafness in affected ear. We tried remedies without effect. "Quickcure" warmed and dropped into the ear removed the pain, and in one night hearing was restored. We have also found it splendid for toothache and burns."

Box for Sitting Hens.

A labor-saving device for use in sitting hens is shown herewith. A shoe box or grocery box of sufficient size is taken, and a nest made in one end, as shown in the engraving, the top and front having been removed to show the interior. The bottom of the box is covered with road dust, or coal ashes, and a shelf for setting in water and cracked corn—the best feed for sitting hens. Openings for air are made in each end. A hen can be placed on the nest, the cover of the box put on, and biddy left to her own devices until she brings off her brood. This plan takes away much of the care usually experienced in sitting hens in spring.—American Agriculturist.

Love is the keystone of a woman's life. Her fondest hopes rest upon this tender emotion; her highest pride is in her capacity to awaken the love which makes a happy wife; her noblest ambition is to become a loved and loving mother.

Any weakness or disease which incapacitates her to fulfill the exalted function of motherhood is the saddest blight which can come upon a woman's life.

But there is no reason in nature why any hindrances or derangements of this kind should continue to exist. Ninety-nine times in a hundred they are completely overcome in a perfectly natural and scientific way by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which gives healthy power and capacity to the special organs; reinforces the nerve-centres and makes natural, healthy motherhood possible, safe and comparatively easy.

It makes the coming of baby almost free from pain; gives strength and cheerfulness to the mother, and constitutional vigor to the child. It is the only medicine in the world devised for this one purpose by an educated physician, a skilled and experienced specialist in this particular field of practice.

"I cannot say enough in praise of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as it has done me a world of good, and has, undoubtedly saved my life," writes Mrs. Florence Hunter, of Corley, Logan Co., Ark. "I miscarried four times; could get no medicine to do me any good. I concluded to try the 'Favorite Prescription' and after taking several bottles of it I made my husband a present of a fine girl. I think it is the best medicine in the world."

EXIT THE SILKWORM

MOST OF THE SILK TO BE MADE HEREAFTER FROM WOOD FIBER.

A New and Important Industry That Has Proved Successful in France—The Process Soon to be Put Into Operation in This Country.

Artificial silk making in this country during the year 1897 is, apparently, an assured fact. Already in France and England the process is being tried with success. For years, however, what is now an accomplished fact was looked upon as the modern inventors' philosopher's stone. Scientists by the hundred spent fruitless years in resultless efforts to the manufacture of wood silk. At last, where so many other and greater men had failed, Count Hilaire de Chardonnet discovered the secret. The story of M. de Chardonnet's invention is almost a romance. The worthy count, born in the silk-growing districts of the Rhone, became a graduate of the Parisian ecole polytecnique, and eventually a knight of the Legion of Honor. This accomplished, he retired on his laurels to his native Lyonnais, where he spent many days in philosophical meditations. On a certain sultry afternoon, while sitting in his park and carelessly munching a strip of bark from one of the trees he noticed the fibrous character of the scrap of white rind. From this a rapid train of thought brought him to the crude idea of the subsequent great invention. Thereafter the count shook off his habits of sloth, abandoned his woodland siestas, and devoted his life to the procuring of silk from wood. Obstacles in shoals barred his way, but the count was a man of courage and perseverance. After years of labor he succeeded in perfecting an invention which is really a mechanical and chemical marvel.

The product of M. de Chardonnet's machinery is pronounced by the experts to be "a beautiful silk, equaling in brilliancy, fineness and softness of texture that of the silkworm." In 1891 the count founded a company to work his scheme, and already the enterprise has proved a commercial success. Great opposition naturally came from the millions of silkworm cultivators in central France, who viewed the new invention much as the hand-loom spinners of England looked upon the spinning jenny. But the silk buyers were in Chardonnet's favor. For centuries they had been dependent upon the grub and its state of health, generally precarious, for their silk crop. Now, when one remembers that the silkworm suffers from five principal and at least twenty minor diseases, any one or all of which may ravage it every season, the notorious Irish potato harvest would seem surety itself in comparison with the natural industry. Under M. de. Chardonnet's process there is no fear of attacks of muscardine, pebrine, flacherie, guttine or grasserie (the five leading ailments of the grub). The amount of the product depends solely upon the capacity of the machinery.

England followed France's lead and now Benjamin Folsom, formerly United States consul at Sheffield, has secured the letters patent for this country, and announces the approaching birth of a company to set the new industry going here. The works will probably be located at Niagara Falls.

It would seem as though, if there was one thing beyond another which it would be impossible to produce from wood, that thing would be the lustrous and shimmering fabric known as silk. And yet it is claimed that in this field man's art can surpass nature, and that he can produce silk which is brighter, cheaper and more enduring than that spun from the cocoon.

The process by which wood is converted into silk fiber is a very interesting one. A number of different kinds of wood may be used, white pine and spruce being best adapted to the purpose, but it is also said that the cottonwood, so common in the middle west, will make excellent silk. The wood is first ground to a pulp in the usual manner, and the pulp is macerated in a solution of nitric and sulphuric acid. The acids are then squeezed out, and the pulp is immersed in vats of water, where it is left until thoroughly cleansed. After the water is drawn off and the mass has partially dried, it is put into a huge revolving cylinder containing alcohol and ether, and is left to the influence of these substances for some hours. From here it is passed through a filter, and comes out as a sort of heavy gum which closely resembles collodion.

It is from this gum-like substance that the silk is directly produced, and the spinning process which comes next is perhaps the most interesting of all, because in it the silk worm has been closely copied. The gum or collodion is forced into pipes which run along beside the spinning machines. From these pipes are suspended a number of small glass tubes, the apertures in which are not more than a half or a quarter as large as that in the tube of an ordinary house thermometer. The pneumatic pressure forces the semi-liquid substance into these glass tubes, which are the artificial substitute for the silk worm. The spinner touches her finger to the opening of the glass tubes, the substances adheres to it, and she draws out a filament as fine as that which is spun by the silk worm. Contact with the air hardens the filaments at once, and they are guided directly into the bobbin and spun off in the same manner as the natural product. It takes from six to ten of the small filaments, according to their fineness, to make a single strand of silk fibre. This is done by simply guiding the necessary number of filaments to the same bobbin, and then pressing them together at a point between the tubes and the bobbin. Not only do the strands adhere at that point, but they continue to join there as the reel moves on. The thread is kept of uniform thickness by the openings in the glass tubes, which are all of one size.

As the thread is reeled off from the glass tubes, it is of a light straw color and looks exactly as silk fiber does at this stage of its manufacture. But there are certain peculiarities about this wood-pulp silk which require still further processes before it is finished. In the first place, the fiber is rendered very inflammable by the chemical changes it has undergone and must be denitrified before it can be safely handled. Then comes the final and important process of imparting the luster, which is done by ironing. The thread is passed over revolving rollers, which stretch and iron it in much the same way that the big machines in a steam laundry iron your collars and cuffs. The artificial silk takes on the colors of the dye as easily and brilliantly as the natural kind, and if a bundle of the artificial fiber is placed beside the product of the silkworm it is impossible to distinguish one from the other. When woven into fabrics, it is, of course, equally impossible to tell the difference. Artificial silk imported from England has already been sold in this country, but whether it is equal to the natural product is a question on which silk dealers seem to be divided. The advocates of the new industry insist, however, that if there is any advantage in the matter of appearance and durability it rests with the artificial silk.

Mr. Folsom says that the new fabric will undoubtedly rob the silkworm of its importance as an industrial agent, because of the greater durability and brilliancy of the artificial silk, and especially because of its greater cheapness. The wood fiber silk, he avers, can be profitably produced at $1 per pound, which is about one-third the price of the other kind.

Make Sanitary Conditions Healthful.

There being plenty of room on a farm, a privy should be built far enough away to free the dwelling from odor. My plan is to make two water-tight boxes, each two feet wide, twenty inches deep and just long enough to slide inside the width of the privy. On the bottom of each box bolt a pair of runners having a hole bored in their sharpened ends, to which a horse may be hitched by means of two pieces of rope, each eight feet long, extending from the harness tugs back through these holes and tying a knot, or by using hooks. At the back of the privy, thirty inches from the ground, I hinge a door which opens outward and upward, under which I slide a box backward until it touches the floor, the latter being made six inches higher than the bottom of the box and far enough forward to allow the above-mentioned door to drop down in place. The seat board is made wide and long enough to fit on top of the box. Underneath the seat board are placed cleats to keep it in place. I have a similar board, without holes, to be used when hauling the box to the field. When the box is full I attach the ropes, hitch the horse and draw to a level spot of the field where it can soak into the soil without being washed away by rains. To empty the box I unhitch the tugs, remove the cover, and throw the ends of the ropes just unhitched over the top of the box and hitch up again. The box is pulled over and drawn a few rods, scattering the contents. I unhitch, leaving the box to drain, air and get washed by rains, while the other box is filling. The accumulation of the stable are placed daily in a tight box bed, which rests in a low-wheeled wagon and are hauled out and scattered as soon as full.—A. B. Durgans, in Farm and Home.

The Apple Orchard.

The ideal location for an apple orchard, Miss Cutler told the Boston farmers at their meeting a week ago, is on a hill. The advantage in this over a plain being that the trees are more open to the light and air, giving better color and flavor to the fruit, better natural drainage and freedom from frosts.

Seems as if consumption always picks out the brightest and best. Fully one-sixth of all the deaths that occur in the world are caused by consumption. Many things were once considered impossible. It would be strange if medical science did not make some progress. The telegraph and telephone, the phonograph, the electric light—all were once impossible, and once it was impossible to cure consumption. That was before the time of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Taken according to directions, this standard remedy will cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. Consumption is caused and fostered by impurity in the blood. It is cured by purity and richness in the blood—surely, certainly cured by the "Medical Discovery." It builds up solid healthy flesh and vigorous strength.

Spot Cash---One Price---Money Back If You Want It.

THIS IS OUR NEW METHOD OF DOING BUSINESS.

OLD CASH-AND-CREDIT SYSTEM DONE AWAY WITH.

It is a well-known fact that a great proportion of the losses in any credit business are caused by about four main items:

1st. Bad Debts. 2nd. Interests on accounts carried.

3rd. Expenses of collecting and keeping track of Accounts.

4th. Losses sustained through not being able to take cash Discounts when buying stock.

These losses, in the aggregate, are quite a heavy item, and are all a direct charge on any business run on a Cash and Credit basis, and must, of necessity, come out of the profits. In marking goods one has to figure on the cost of giving credit just the same as for rent, taxes, help, etc. For example:

Take a business where there is an average credit given of $20000.00; that is, at times books show $25000.00, and at other times accounts would be reduced to $15000.00, leaving the average on books for a year about $20000.00.
Losses from Bad Debts would be not less than.....	$150 00
Cost of Stationary, Postage, Extra Help, Books, etc	200 00
Interest on average of Accounts, ($20000.00) at Bank rate 5 per cent.....	400 00
Losses through not having $20000.00 in cash to take Discounts in buying stock 5 per cent	200 00
Total.....	$1100 00

Or to do an $20000.00 credit business there is an extra cost over cash of $1100.00, or an expense of 14 per cent.

In comparing our own experience with other merchants we find that as near as we can approximate the above figures are correct.

After looking at these facts we have determined to live up to the experience gained, and dispense with credit altogether, believing that a Spot Cash business will be mutually beneficial. It is an undoubted fact that the man who sells the cheapest is the man who sells for Cash—selling for Cash we can and will sell at lower prices than ever before.

Buying where credit is given you not only have to pay for your own goods but have the extra cost of paying for credit business losses.

In marking our Spring Stock of Hats we have kept in view the ONE PRICE, SPOT CASH rule which we now adopt. All old customers, both Cash and Credit, and all those who will favour us with their patronage, will find that our goods are being sold at fully from 10 to 15 per. cent. lower prices than formerly, and the high quality of stock strictly maintained. In stopping this leakage customers will be money in pocket and we will be better off.

THE BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE'S UNION.

THE ANNUAL DISTRICT RALLY HELD HERE YESTERDAY.

The Delegates Gather in the Park Street Baptist Church—Conferences Held and Addresses Delivered—The new Officers.

The annual rally of the Baptist Young People's Union of the district took place yesterday in the Park street Baptist church. Although the attendance was not large the rally proved a most enthusiastic one and the members present derived a quantity of valuable information from the different addresses delivered.

The president of the Union, Rev. C. E. McLeod, of Gilmour Memorial church, occupied the chair.

After the opening devotional exercises the president explained that through the fact of a large number of the delegates being absent the programme would not be followed and the discussions would have to be opened by those who had not prepared papers, as those invited to do so were not present. The conference on the "Methods of Work" was divided under three heads:—"How to conduct a missionary meeting;" "How to conduct a social literature meeting" and "How to conduct a devotional meeting."

"How to conduct a missionary meeting" was the first heading and Miss M. Mann was asked to give her views on it. In order to make such a meeting a success Miss Mann urged that the fullest preparation be made. Weeks beforehand the work should begin. Then prayer was necessary. Sometimes it might be wise to have concerning miscellaneous places, but probably the best way was to select a certain country and have all the speakers direct their attention to the one place. Then the fullest possible information was brought out. After a song service and some earnest devotional prayers, as many as possible should take part in the subject of the evening. Special papers should be read and a lively discussion thereon encouraged. The members should prepare a number of "picket shots"—short bright clippings from newspapers on the subject in hand.

"How to conduct a sacred literature meeting" was the next heading under which the conference was to be conducted. Rev. A. T. Dykeman was asked to give some remarks on this. In his former charge in Halifax he took up sacred literature on the following subjects for discussion:

1. Life of Christ.
2. Dawn of Christianity.
3. Struggle for distinctive principles.
4. Acts of the Apostles.

The meeting was opened with prayer, and the young people encouraged to participate in the devotional exercises. The study of the Bible was taken up through the study of maps. It was made a question class as much as possible. The older members were asked the lesson and comment was required from them as well as answers to questions. The young people expressed themselves as being particularly interested in this course of procedure and these meetings were always looked forward to with interest. The pastor should always take this class himself, treating it largely as he would a Sunday school class. It helped the pastor as well as the members. He never knew his Bible so thoroughly as during the time he looked after such classes.

Mr. A. L. Grover was asked for his ideas on "How to conduct a devotional meeting" being the third heading of the conference. He explained that he would simply give a statement of how such meetings were carried on in his own church.

Officers were elected every six months and at this meeting the plan for the next six months was outlined and leaders chosen for each meeting in the month. Two leaders for each were chosen. The first meeting in the month was a consecration service. For the second meeting of the month a topic was chosen. The third meeting was for "Instruction." Some religious subject on which some of the members needed instruction being chosen. The last evening of the month was the missionary meeting. At the close of each meeting an opportunity was afforded them to speak, who had not been already called upon. During the evening an intermission of five minutes was given for the purpose of allowing the members to become better acquainted with each other and the welcome of strangers. This last portion of the programme and the local society owed much of its success to it. There were six committees connected with the society, and a report was received from one at every meeting, so that each committee was expected to report once in six weeks.

In a discussion which followed Mr. Wm. Graham suggested that in connection with the missionary meeting the collection be remembered. Miss Mann stated that the collection was well looked after. Rev. Mr McLeod in speaking further on the missionary meeting stated that worship and instruction were each arranged by them. Rev. A. T. Dykeman thought that the missionary societies were to emphasize the fact that we are related to humanity—our brothers' keeper. Worship, work and wisdom where the heads he thought under which the conference had been conducted.

Rev. Mr. Kirkpatrick of Bailliboro, then gave an address on "Christian Stewardship." A steward, he explained, was one to whom was entrusted something of value belonging to some one else. He was expected to use it for the best value of the owner. All were stewards of God, whether they were willing to accept the position or not. A Christian's honesty was only maintained as a faithful steward.

THE SCRIPTURES

plainly showed that of every gift we had received of such we were stewards. Everything therefore that we had was entrusted to us by God as Christian stewards. Christians should not be coaxed into what is doing right on account of the direct result which will come to them in this world. The Christian who is spiritual will be practical and practical according to God's directions. Let us not do right for the results in this world alone, but rather for the reward hereafter, when we make the return of our stewardship.

A discussion which followed was participated in by Messrs. A. L. Grover, L.M. Croly, B. R. Harding, Wm. Graham, R. J. Porter and Miss Mann.

The practice of giving a tenth was urged by several of these speakers, who also dwelt on the necessity of every member of a family contributing towards the cause. The head of the family naturally contributed, but as his prayers could not be expected to do for his whole family, neither could his contributions.

Rev. A. T. Dykeman pointed out that a man who used his talents and goods exclusively for his own pleasure was as much deserving of punishment as the embezzler, who appropriated the funds of others to his own use.

The session adjourned after closing devotional exercises and tea was served the delegates by the ladies of the church.

The Evening Meeting.

There was a good attendance at the evening meeting. After devotional exercises and a service of song, conducted by Mr. Louis Croly, Rev. C. E. McLeod, the retiring president, took charge of the programme. He spoke of the work and experience of the past year, and as his last words as president, urged the young people to be true to the church themselves and their Lord. He then read the report of the nominating committee, which was adopted as follows:

President—Rev. V. H. Cowsert, Belleville.

Vice-President—Mr. L. B. Randall, Port Hope.

Recording Secretary—L. Croly, town.

Representatives—Mr. B. Burgess, Lakefield; Mr. F. Minor, Colborne, Mr. V. Falkner, Holloway.

Rev. A. T. Dykeman, pastor of the Murray street Baptist church, spoke upon the subject of "The Young People's Movement; its History and its Object." This was pre-eminently the young people's age. Never were such mighty forces brought to bear for the development of the young people of the church. The speaker gave instances where magnificent successes were made by men of early years in military, literary, political and ecclesiastical activities to show that the young had marvellous possibilities of usefulness. Opportunities for youthful usefulness were never so great as now, especially in the religious world. We had only to go back twenty or or twenty-five years to see the beginning of the young people's movement—especially in the Young Men's Christian Association movement, which led to the Young Women's Association, and later—1881—the Y.P.S.C.E. came into existence—like a great tidal wave—in religious movements. Its growth has been phenomenal and its influence was most mighty and encouraging. But its union plans and interdenominational character did not commend itself to leading Baptists and the 8th July of 1891 was the birthday of the B.Y.P.U.A., and Chicago was its birthplace. It started with 2,900 members and at the next annual meeting in Detroit the number had reached 4,117, and the tide kept on rising, and last year it reached 8,000 and the number was now doubtless 10,000.

VAST RESULTS

have sprung from this movement. We had a net-work of kindred organizations and a common educational system of a religious character, and we had an annual convention that was inspiring the young people. The object of the B.Y.P.U. movement was six fold. The first object was the unification of Baptist young people and a firm establishment on the rock of truth and to protect them from the influences of heterogeneous union, which was destructive of certain distinctive doctrines and principles of the Baptists, which must be maintained at all costs, and it was necessary that Baptist young people should be unified—a unification of doctrine and method. The means were pointed out how this purpose might be gained. The second was to increase the spirituality of the young people—and then there was the stimulation to Christian service. The fourth was the education of young people in the Christian faith by the Bible Readers Course, extending Christian knowledge. The fifth object was instruction in Baptist doctrine and history. "Baptist" was a name to be proud of. Baptists had been to the front from the time of John the Baptist till the present, and the noble stand taken by the Baptist young people in the past should be known. The sixth object was enlistment in all missionary activities through all existing organizations, which was calculated to withstand the drift towards denominational independence. Let them give all the money they could, but let it go through the regular denominational channels. The B. Y. P.U. should be an auxiliary to, and not a rival to, the church. Co-operation with the church should be the motto of the Union.

Rev. Mr. Watson of Colborne spoke of the inspiring influence of a gathering of young people with hearts touched by the Spirit and consecrated to Christ. The most cogent argument that could be brought up in favour of the Young Peoples' movement was this fact. He strongly urged upon the young people to utilize the marvellous possibilities for usefulness that God had placed within their reach. Young people began life with such great advantages compared to those of the past generation, that they were in a position to begin work at a very early period of life.

The services of the evening and of the annual rally were concluded by by an earnest consecration meeting.

MR. GARROW'S MOTION ADOPTED

All Parties Unite in Condemning the Offensive Partisan—Bailiff Thornton's Case—Judge Hughes Slates Inspector Dickie—Tedious and Profitless Discussion.

Toronto, March 17.—The Opposition continue to waste the time of the Legislature by frivolous motions and the discussion with wearisome detail of the cases of officials dismissed for wrong-doing. There was a long and profitless discussion this afternoon over a motion of this kind introduced by the indefatigable Dr. Ryerson, the subject being a discharged bailiff at St. Thomas, out of whose case had arisen an acrimonious controversy between Judge Hughes of that city and Division Court Inspector Dickie. The more important event of the day, however, was the adoption of Mr. Garrows long-pending resolution against offensive partisanship, the principle involved being accepted by all parties.

THE COURT OF APPEAL.

The Attorney-General, in introducing a bill respecting the Court of Appeal, explained that the Court of Appeal was congested owing to the large number of cases brought before them, and were unable to overtake their business. There were over 100 cases in arrear at the end of 1896. The Court of Chancery was not a desirable tribunal to deal with appeal cases, as a Court of Appeal should be separate and distinct from the duties of a High Court. The bill provided that the Court of Appeal should be constituted of five judges instead of four as at present. Four would form a quorum and three might take appeals. In certain classes of cases four judges would be necessary, and in others the full court. The only objection would be the cost of an extra judge, but that would require to be met by the Dominion. It was further provided that in case of press of business the Appeal Court might sit in two divisions with three judges each, the number being made up by a judge from the Hight Court.

Hon. Mr. Dryden's bill to further improve the Act respecting the Department of Agriculture was read a second time.

MUSKOKA POLICE MAGISTRATE.

In reply to Mr. Langford, the Attorney-General stated that Police Magistrate Spencer of Muskoka had not received any permanent appointment in conection with Algonquin Park, but had been sent there to investigate a charge of liquor selling. He received no extra salary for so doing.

CIVIL SERVANTS AND ELECTIONS

Mr. Garrow moved that this House is of opinion that officers or clerks of the civil or public service of the province, or permanent employes, who solely or for the most part obtain their livelihood in the public service should not actively participate in Provincial or Dominion election campaigns and that officers or clerks of the civil service should not become candidates for municipal councillors.

In speaking to his resolution Mr. Garrow said it was a matter of fair play, not merely to the public service, but to the civil service employes themselves, that they should be expected to take active part in political contests. It was time that offensive partisanship ceased to be a virtue. It was difficult for his party to take the matter up so long as the officials of the Ottawa Government were actively interfering in elections on the Conservative side, but there had been a change there, and he trusted a similar rule would be laid down. He deprecated any hostility towards those who had hitherto taken part in politics in pursuance of an immemorial custom and in the belief that it was expected of them, but it was time a new rule were laid down. The employes had a right to vote, but they should not take any further part in political struggles. The influence of civil servants in politics had, he thought, been overrated, but the principle of non-interference should be carried out.

Mr. Reid of Addington indulged in

A CLEAN KNOCK-OUT

Fitzsimmons Stood a Heap of Punishment

AT LAST GOT HIS OPPORTUNITY

And Down Went the Big Californian From a Blow Over the Heart, Supplemented by One on the Jaw—First Half of the Fight Was in Corbett's Favor.

Carson, March 17.—One straight left punch from Bob Fitzsimmons on the pit of Jim Corbett's stomach settled the pugilistic heavyweight championship of the world this afternoon after 14 rounds of fast and furious fighting.

Corbett did not bear a mark on his entire body. He had drawn streams of blood from Fitzsimmons' split lips and sore nose, but he could not place the blow he calculated on to win the fight.

THE WINNER.

In the fourteenth round, Fitzsimmons, after several wild leads, got his left in on Jim's stomach with terrific force. Jim doubled up and came forward into a second left on the jaw, and the battle was over. Corbett fell to his knees, crawled toward the ropes, with his right hand across his breast and his left stretched out as if to grasp the lower rope for support.

His face wore an agonized expression, pitiable to behold. Fitzsimmons stepped quickly back to his corner, where he stood surrounded by his seconds.

Referee Siler stood over Corbett with both hands up-lifted and slowly and in a loud voice counted the seconds. At seven, Jim made a desperate and convulsive effort to raise himself to his feet. It was of no use, and his head dropped down until the referee had reached the fatal count. Siler threw his hands up at ten and made his way quickly out of the ring.

A scene of the most indescribable confusion followed. Fits was quickly surrounded by a crowd, who burst through the ropes, and the Australian danced about for a few seconds. Corbett was assisted to his feet by McVey and White.

The ring was crowded in an instant, and it was impossible to clear it. Wild rumors and cries of "Foul," were heard for a few minutes, but they quickly died out when it became known that Fitzsimmons had won a fair fight. The crowd on the platform was cleared partially by the guards, and Corbett, seeing Fitzsimmons through the break in the crowd, made a wild dash at the Australian and led for his head with both hands. Fitzsimmons dropped his hands by his side, and as Corbett came in, the Australian twisted his head around, never raising his hands, and Jim was pulled away. As Bob was the first to reach the arena, so also was he first to leave. But his reception on his arrival and that on his departure, were very different. The crowd quickly made a lane for the triumphant champion and his smiling wife, and cheered them loud and long. Bob lifted his cap in acknowledgment of the applause, and Mrs. Fitzsimmons shifted the reins from her right hand to her left and waved a tiny cambric handkerchief. Thirty minutes later Fitzsimmons sat down to his dinner at Cook's ranch, as though nothing had happened. A swollen lip and a red nose were all the marks of a struggle which could be observed about his face.

Corbett was a pitiful sight. He cried like a baby and raved like a wild man.

"Oh, it's all right, boys," he sobbed, "I ain't kicking, but to think that I was licked with one punch by a cur who was afraid to stand up before me when he came into the ring. I had him going, boys, you know that. Look, there ain't a mark on me. He knocked out two of my teeth in the thirteenth round. Wasn't I fresh? He missed that left lead time and again, before he got in. I never thought it would reach me, but it did, and I was put out fair and square."

Corbett's version of his own Waterloo did not vary greatly from Fitzsimmons. "I made a mistake in not keeping away," was the way he put it. "Fits, I knew to be a terrific puncher, but I never calculated on his being able to reach me. If the sixth round had lasted ten seconds longer I would have landed him to a certainty. His nose as clogged with blood and his legs were wobbling. The gong sounded just as I was about to plug him with my right, and end the battle. He recuperated wonderfully and I stayed away from him until I thought he was about ripe for another drubbing at short range. My neglect in not standing off when he tapped me on the cheek in the fourteenth lost me the championship. That heart punch simply choked me up. I could not breath or move for 15 seconds and it was several minutes before I realised that I had committed a breach of etiquette in trying to follow up my opponent after he had put me out. I meant it when I said I would be his friend hereafter. He whipped me fair and squart, but I don't think he is the best man yet, and we will have another go if money can bring him into the ring."

THE LOSER

The weather was fine and about 5000 paid to see the fight.

The fight was clean and speedy. It demonstrated two facts—that Corbett is the cleverest boxer of his weight in the world, and that Fitzsimmons is able to hit him. The Californian smothered the Cornishman with left jabs in the face and right and left body blows. Fitzsimmons' most effective attack was a semi-fake left swing followed by a quick half arm hook. The first time he tried it, was in the third round. Jim threw back his head from the fake blow, coming forward for a counter, when he thought Fitz's glove was comfortably past his jaw. Quick as a flash Bob shot back and barely missed Jim's jaw with the hook. Corbett's smile died away for an instant, and he took no more chances on countering on that particular ford of land afterwards. The battle as predicted was fought on purely scientific and almost new principles. Neither of the men took any advantage of the privileges allowed them by the London prize ring rules, and there was very little hitting in clinches. Frequently Bob worked Jim into a corner and reached for him right and left with blows that would win any championship battle if they had landed.

Fitzsimmons himself admits that Corbett shuffled and side-stepped his way to safety in a manner which simply dazed him.

"I never saw such a clever man in my life," said Fitz, to-night, "he got away from me time and again when I thought I had him dead to rights. I knew I could wear him out and so I kept coming right along until my opportunity arrived. He was weak in the last round and all his cleverness could not keep him out of that left punch under the heart. The only blow that really worried me was the one which split my lip. The others I never felt. He fought fair and hereafter he may have my respect, if he continues to merit it."

Timekeeper Muldoon pulled on the gong string at 13.06 o'clock and the men faced each other. Corbett with his back to the sun and Fitzsimmons blinding slightly as the bright rays struck him full in the face. Corbett moved around lightly on his toes, Fitzsimmons covering his ground more slowly. Both were cautious and sparring. They feinted for an opening and Fits seemed inclined to force matters. Corbett broke ground and danced about his opponent. Fitz forced his man into a corner and was the first to land, with a left swing. The Californian did not land in his first attempt. More leading at long range followed. Fitz forced Corbett into a rally and uppercut him lightly in the clinch. In a mix-up which followed no damage was done. Corbett shot a light left on the body and broke away clean. Fitz swung his left, but missed. A hard exchange of lefts followed, in which the Australian got a little the worst of it. Fitz then adopted aggressive tactics and rushed Corbett to his own corner, but Jim got out of danger and sent in a heavy right on the body as he stepped away.

Fitz put a hard left over the heart and Jim swung wildly with his left, but landed his right on Fitz's wind. Corbett ran into a clinch, but they quickly broke clean. Fitz was still forcing matters, but a hard left swing put him on the defensive. Jim swung his left in the heart and they came together. On the breakaway Bob sent a vicious left uppercut to the jaw. A clinch followed and the men broke without a blow as the gong sounded.

Round 2—Fitz opened with a left swing, but missed his mark. They came to a clinch and were rather slow in breaking away. A vicious left from Fitz just grazed Corbett's breast and again they were inclined to hug in the clinch. After a breakaway Fitz put on steam and Jim broke ground before the Australian, although the latter contented himself with feinting and did not lead. Finally Jim stood his ground and sent in a neat left on the face and a right on the body, dancing away without a return. Fitz seemed determined to keep on the aggressive and again forced him into his corner, swinging right and left for the body, but Jim's fast foot work took him out of reach. Fits came into a clinch and in the breakaway got a stiff left uppercut. Bob swung wildly right and left. Some very pretty defensive fighting followed, neither man being able to get inside the other's guard. Long range sparring, in which Corbett did most of the leading, followed. Jim got in a left on the ribs and repeated the blow a moment after. Fits smiled and tried to corner Jim, who dodged quickly out of reach and came back with a left on the wind. Another left on the stomach brought the round to a close, with the men in a clinch. It was clearly Corbett's on points.

Round 3—Jim opened with a rush and sent a left jab hard on the wind. Fits did not like it and tried hard to rush in return, but was wild with right and left. Jim stopped another left lead for the heart and countered smartly on the stomach. Corbett put a left on the wind and a right on the side of the head. Bob's stomach showed a red blotch where the Californian's left struck. Bob took a hand in the forcing and lashed out wildly, missing with both hands. After a little long-range work Jim shot right and left on the body and Bob came into a clinch and landed his right on the ear before they separated. Corbett shot a terrible right on Bob's side and followed with a fast left on the wind.

Both men were getting carefully and cleanly out of the clinches. Bob's left reached the wind, but Corbett swung right on the jaw in the clinch that followed. Then Jim put his left on the body, and as Bob came in to clinch him Jim piled two stiff rights on the wind and followed up with another on the body. Fits landed a nice left on the jaw, after missing the right lead for the stomach. A clinch followed and Bob got in a straight drive on the wind. A little hugging followed, and for the first time the referee came in between the men and broke them. Before the bell sounded Fits put in a neat right on the body and swung his left to the jaw, and the honors were fairly even.

Round 4—Jim again led off with a left, which failed to land, and they clinched and broke clean. Bob tried the right for the head, but missed, and Corbett put in a hard right punch on the body, and in the clinch swung his right on the jaw. Bob was determined but slow. Corbett commenced to make things pretty lively, but they clinched three times without a blow being struck. A light left swing on the jaw from Corbett was returned with interest by Fits as far as intention went, but Bob's right and left missed the mark by a few inches. Corbett landed two heavy rights on the wind and put a straight left flush in the face. Then Jim planted his right under Bob's ear and easily escaped a right and left. Jim sent his right to the wind and Bob clinched, taking an uppercut on the chin before the break. Corbett seemed to cling to Fits in the clinches, as if to save his strength. Fits shot out his left with terrific force on the wind, and swung a vicious right for the jaw, which was short. Corbett's left landed on the stomach and he repeated the dose a second later. He swung, missing right and left, but on his third trial he sent his right to the stomach and followed up with two swift lefts on the jaw. Corbett was on the agressive now, and after missing a left for the head he sent his right across on the stomach. Time was called with the men clinched and smiling in each other's faces.

Round 5—Jim swung a hard left on the jaw, which made Fits groggy and the Australian tried to corner his rival, but Jim was too fast and got away, sending a left on the jaw, as he skipped back. Bob was not grinning quite so much now. Jim was a bit wild with the right at the stomach on the first attempt, but on the second he landed viciously on the wind. They exchanged hard right body blows and then Corbett landed with both hands, his right finding the body and his left the jaw. In the clinch he uppercut Fits and the latter returned the compliment with a right hook on the jaw. Corbett sent in two right hand body punches and they clinched. After they stepped back Jim's right reached the wind, but Bob countered with a jolt under the chin.

A right on the body and a stiff left on the jaw flush on the face made the claret flow freely from Fits's nose and mouth, and he appeared a little rattled. Jim was now doing all the work, and he supplemented a right and left on the jaw with a half arm punch, which was just enough behind the point of Fits's jaw to minimize the danger. Corbett showed much more confidence and shifted his attack from body to jaw. Four times before the bell rang Jim's right

Boils

It is often difficult to convince people their blood is impure, until dreadful carbuncles, abscesses, boils, scrofula or salt rheum, are painful proof of the fact. It is wisdom now, or whenever there is any indication of blood, to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and prevent such eruptions and suffering.

Impure

"I had a dreadful carbuncle abscess, red, fiery, fierce and sore. The doctor attended me over seven weeks. When the abscess broke, the pains were terrible, and I thought I should not live through it. I heard and read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I decided to take it, and my husband, who was suffering with boils, took it also. It soon purified our built me up and restored my health so that, although the doctor said I would not be able to work hard, I have since done the work for 20 people. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured my husband of the boils, and we regard it a wonderful medicine." MRS. ANNA PETERSON, Latimer, Kansas.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A GOVERNMENT report has been issued giving details of the companies incorporated last year under the "Companies Act." The total capital of the companies concerned was nearly ten millions—($9,253,000.)

THE Weekly Sun, the organ of the Patrons, has the following to say in reference to the restrictive effect of Mr. Harcourt's License Law amendment bill: "In view of the vigorous opposition to the draft license bill now before the Legislature, it may be well to state the real effect of its chief amendment. In respect of the number of licenses, there is a decided advance in the direction of restriction. In the cities of Ontario the present law would authorize 919 licenses to be granted; the proposed bill would authorise only 699. As a matter of fact under the present law only 597 licenses are granted in cities."

THE Mail and Empire rather dogmatically asserts that "it is certain that no progress has been made with the tariff and that the ministers literally do not know what to do." Set this statement of a journal that doesn't know what it is talking about against the declaration of the ministers who know just what they are saying. The ministers say that their tariff legislation is progressing rapidly and satisfactorily. The Mail has been so often discredited as a prophet that little attention is paid to its vapourings. But some sympathy is due the Mail and Empire. It is hard enough to be in the cold shades of opposition, but this undesirable condition is intensified when the Government opposed does not furnish any material for serious fault-finding.

THE Globe says:—"A map of western Ontario from Port Arthur to the Manitoba boundary has been prepared in the Crown Land Department, which shows the relation the lands granted to the Eagledne syndicate bear to the rest of the mineral territory. If this were shown on a map of the size usually published in the newspapers the two grants would appear about the size of pin-heads. On a map the size of two pages of the Globe a postage stamp would cover the whole of the largest of the grants and nearly as much more. It really looks as if the prospector will still have lots of territory to range over, and territory probably just as good or better than that selected by the company. To those who know much a matter of chance is the selection of 'good things' in mining this will appear a reasonable statement."

A foreign visitor at the the three dairy conventions held in Ontario the early part of the year was Hon. W. D. Hoard, ex-Governor of Wisconsin, and editor of Hoard's Dairyman. He was more than delighted with his visit, and was exceptionally interested in the considerations that the Dominion Minister of Agriculture, Hon. Sidney Fisher, and Hon. John Dryden, Provincial Minister of Agriculture, for Ontario, gave to dairy matters. He tells how these two ministers were in constant attendance upon all three of the conventions, and asks, "Have we ever seen Secretary Morton, our secretary of agriculture, attending the dairy conventions of the United States?" Our Ministers of Agriculture, Dominion and Provincial, are not mere office fillers, but practical men, with a personal, as well as official ambition, in promoting, in the most practical ways, the welfare of the most important interest in the country.

IN MEMORIAM OF JOHNNIE, YOUNGEST SON OF MR. AND MRS. MATTHEW FOLEY, OF GALWAY TOWNSHIP, WHO DEPARTED FROM THIS WORLD SEPT. 10TH, 1897. LAID TO REST BY THE SIDE OF TWO INFANT SISTERS WHO PRECEDED HIM.

Three precious babes laid side by side,
The mother's joy and father's pride;
Dear little Johnnie, gift of God—
Your loving form laid 'neath the sod.

Joy and gladness fill'd your heart,
Darling child, 'twas hard to part
From brothers fond and sisters dear,
For you they've shed affectious tear.

Parents fond, your hearts were riven,
No hope left but to meet in Heaven;
True you will miss your little son—
God's holy will it must be done.

No fireside is without a vacant chair,
No flock but one dead Lamb is there,
The good Lord gives and takes away,
Blessed be His holy name this day.

Parents dear, for him don't mourn,
To God his spirit pure returned;
The rarest gifts to him were given,
To expand in those sweet realms of Heaven.

Rest in Peace.

RHEUMATISM CURED.

Eighteen Months Trying to Get Cured—Had the Best Doctors—He Found What he Wanted in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Goderich, March 8 (Special)—A case of great interest here just now is that of Mr. Alexander J. Sharkey, who for some time has been an extreme sufferer from rheumatism. His statement to the correspondent is as follows:

"For eighteen months I was a victim of rheumatism and during that time was trying every means to cure it. I had the best doctors in Canada, and took their prescriptions with faith and patience.

"I got tired at last for I found the disappointment nearly as killing as the disease.

"But one friend wiser than the others convinced me that my disease must be cured by the way of the kidneys and recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I have used two boxes of these pills to effect a perfect cure and I don't care who knows it."

A CLEAN KNOCK-OUT.

and left landed lightly on the point of attack and as the bell rang he uppercut Fits

Round 6—Fitzsimmons opened the round with a right and left swing for the jaw, which were both short. The fast Australian seemed to grow very vicious at his failure and he rushed at Jim and hugged him hard, attempting to wrestle him against the ropes. Referee Siler quickly noticed the roughing and cautioned Fitzsimmons. The caution seemed to have the desired effect, for in the clinches which followed Bob was much more careful. Corbett landed a light left on the face and Bob came back with his right on the body lightly, but missed a terrific left swing for the jaw. They clinched and Bob caught Corbett a hard clip with the right on the side of the head on the breakaway.

Corbett sent in a neat and effective right on the wind and came again with a right on the ear and a left on the mouth and nose, which started the blood afresh. Encouraged by his seconds and the shouts of his friends in the arena, Corbett followed his man all over the ring, jabbing him hard with the left. Bob appeared to be very near Queer-street and hugged Corbett closely. While he clung on Corbett uppercut him in the wind, pasted a right and left on the jaw and forced Fits into his corner. Fits came back at him, however, and the fighting that ensued was fast and furious, both men being covered with blood. Jim sent a hard right to the jaw and swung his left catching Fits under the ear and bringing him to his knees.

The Australian remained down until Siler called nine and then got to his feet. Jim rushed at once and planted right and left on both sides of the face. Fits kept away for a time and recovered easily, showing his wonderful recuperative abilities. He was slow, however, and kept clinching. Jim uppercut him repeatedly in the clinches and swung right and left three or four times on the jaw. Fits appeared very groggy, but Jim lacked strength to get in the deciding blow. In a clinch Jim took a short arm punch on the nose from the Australian, who had recovered wonderfully. A couple of jolts on the wind before the bell rang weakened Jim. As Fits went to his corner he heard his wife say something about blood on his face. He turned quickly and said:

"Never mind the blood, I've got him licked."

Round 7—Fits came up looking fresh and stood his ground. Corbett, however, was the first to lead with a left on the jaw and right on the body. Fits stopped a hard right lead for the body, but was wild with his right and left and Corbett jabbed him three times in the face. Fits put a light uppercut on the chin and they came together. Fits was bleeding freely and Corbett was plentifully besmeared with the Australian's gore. Jim sent a light left on the face. Bob returned with a left on the body, which was also light. Bob swung his right hard for the jaw, but missed and they clinched. He tried again with the same result. Both were cautious for a moment and then Jim let fly a light left on the nose. Bob reached the face with a light left, but missed with both hands in an attempt to get to the jaw. Jim shoved his left twice in the face, Bob countering the last blow with a left on the jaw. Corbett's right caught Fits hard on the wind, but the Australian countered heavily on the head. They were slow in breaking away. Fits's right on the wind brought a counter from Corbett, with a left on the same spot. Jim landed a light left on the jaw and both swung wildly. Fits put his left glove lightly on the face and, as Fits clinched, he uppercut Corbett with a right on the jaw. Both were sparring for wind at the end of the round.

Round 8—Jim opened with a light left, which Bob stopped. The Australian swung right and left, but missed, and Jim drove his left on the wind. Bob faked a left lead and then caught Jim lightly on the jaw with a right. Fits forced the fighting, with a heavy left on the wind, but he was very wild with his right swings and a couple of clinches followed. Corbett cleverly evaded a left for the head and then sent his own left for the body twice. Fits drove left hard above the heart, but Corbett drew back in time to avoid the full force of the blow. Jim landed a hard left punch on the side of the jaw and Fits commenced to bleed again. Fits ran into another left on the jaw immediately afterwards. They sparred at long range for a time and both were very cautious. A light left on the face by Corbett was followed by two left jabs, which landed on Bob's nose. The latter swung left wildly and caught Jim's left on the nose. Again Fits swung, but Corbett ducked and shot his left past Bob's guard full in the face. Just as the gong sounded Corbett jabbed a stiff left on the damaged nose and Fits was quickly covered with blood. However, the Australian seemed to be getting stronger as the fight progressed and the enthusiasts who were offering 5 to 3 on Corbett found a good many takers among his adherents.

Round 9—Both sparred cautiously and Fits seemed to be boxing well within himself. Jim started the ball rolling with a light left on the nose, Bob countering lightly with the right on the body. More long range sparring took place before Jim shot a stiff left on the wind and then shoved his glove into Bob's face. Fitzsimmons rushed in and put a left on the chin, but was met by two stiff efts, one on the jaw, the other on the nose. They clinched and Jim drove his right over the heart before they stepped back. Fits missed two left swings before he successfully landed on the jaw with a left hand hook, which staggered Corbett. Jim swung his left for the jaw, but Bob ducked. Fitzsimmons did a lot of leading, but failed to land.

Jim put his left on the face and stepped back from two vicious leads. Fits would not be denied, however, and he came again with a pile-driving right on the body. As the round ended Corbett caught a slight left on the mouth. Fits was very strong, but was breathing hard as he sat in his chair. Corbett was not showing the perverseness his ardent admirers expected of him.

Round 10—Bob led off with a left swing, which Corbett avoided, but the Australian came back at him, and in the clinch which followed put a hard left jolt on the jaw. Both swung wildly and then clinched. Corbett blocked Bob's left, but could not stop a stiff right that landed over the kidneys and a hard left that found the jaw. Bob's left found the body, and he pushed his right contemptuously in Corbett's face. Jim faked a left lead, but could not draw the wily Cornishman out. Jim saw this quickly and he adopted different tactics. He sent his right with lightning speed on the wind and his left on the body and face, and came back again with a right on the body and a left on the face. Fits did not like this treatment and he took a hand in the attack himself. He put three hard lefts in succession on Jim's head and swung a right over the ear that Jim tried to avoid but failed. Jim's left reached the face, and with his right he sent a vicious uppercut to the Cornishman's chin. Jim poked his left in the face again, but took a stiff left-hander on the jaw in return, and this was followed by two strong lefts on the shoulder. Jim put his left on the body and came to a clinch. As they broke away Fits hooked him with a right under the ear, but Jim retaliated with a right and left on the jaw. Fits appeared very confident and strong as he went to his corner. Corbett did not seem to be weak, but his face had a grayish pallor and his eyes shifted nervously as he sat in his chair. He had lost the confident smile with which he opened the battle.

Round 11—Bob rushed, but his left lead for the jaw was stopped, and Jim shot two little lefts on the jaw. Corbett's right then found the wind, and he ducked a hard left from Fits. The Australian's left caught Jim hard on the jaw twice before they clinched. Jim's right went to the body and then he shot his left twice under the ear. Fits put a light left on the side of the head, and Jim's counter on the nose was very weak. Fits forced matters with a hard right swing on the body and a right on the side of the head, and got away without a return. Corbett's left landed high up on the forehead and they clinched. Fits tried hard for a knock-out on the breakaway, but Corbett cleverly avoided danger. Clinches were frequent and Corbett began to appear tired. His blows seemed to lack steam, whole Fits's though not landing quite so often, had a great deal more force behind his gloves. A light left on the jaw from Jim was neatly countered by Fits's right, which landed on Corbett's chin. Twice in succession Fits swung his right on Jim's jaw and rushed him all over the ring. Corbett clinched and Fits uppercut him hard. The Cornishman kept up the attack and landed two left jolts on Jim's chin. Fits's adherents grew wild with excitement as their man rushed in with a hard left on the jaw, at right on the body and another left on the jaw. Corbett clinched desperately and time was called before Fits could do any further damage. The bell was a welcome relief to the Californian.

Round 12—Fits came fast from his chair and swung right and left, but missed. He ducked Corbett's return. Both were cautious and sparred at long range until Fits came in with a hard right on the side of Jim's head, pushing it back. Fits missed two left leads and then shoved his glove in Corbett's face, but received in return a dangerous right well backed by the forearm. Jim put ta left on the face and they clinched. After the breakaway Jim shot his left on the jaw. Fits countered with the right on the neck. Jim's right and left landed on the jaw, but appeared to lack force. Fits was wild with right and left, and Jim fought him to his own corner, sending in two heavy body blows and a left on the face. Fits clinched and they broke clean. Corbett shot four lefts in quick succession without return, but Fits piled into the attack with a heavy right on the head and uppercut Jim as he clinched. After a breakaway Fits put a heavy left on the body that came near doubling Jim up. Corbett put a left on the face and received a right counter on the jaw. Jim put his left on the body and then shot it in Fits's face. Both missed vicious swings. Fits was bleeding freely when the bell sounded.

Round 13—Fits got to work with a right on the wind and shot his left for the face, catching Corbett flush on the mouth and loosening one of his gold-filled teeth. Vicious in-fighting followed, both men exchanging hard lefts on the body. Fits punched his man stiffly with his right twice on the body, but Jim neatly evened up with lefts on the head and body. Fits rushed but missed, and a clinch followed in which Corbett uppercut the Australian with a right. In the sparring that followed Corbett took occasion to spit out the loosened tooth. Corbett tried his right for the jaw in a clinch, but Fits kept his shoulder well in the way. Fits led wildly and Corbett ducked, sending a stiff punch to Bob's nose. Jim in turn missed, and took a hard right on the short ribs, which drove him back a foot. Corbett sent his man's head back with a left jolt on the chin, and followed up with a heavy left punch on the body. Fits countering with a right uppercut. Jim poked his left on the nose, which bled again freely, but the flow seemed to do the Australian no harm. Corbett was standing the battle fairly well, but his color was not as fresh as the Cornishman's. It was easy to see that Jim was tired.

Round 14—Jim missed the opening lead with his right, but on the next attempt put his left on the jaw, countering stiffly with a right on the side of the head. The Australian sent in a right and left on the jaw, which jarred Jim, and then plied in a left uppercut, and as Jim turned around to skip out of reach Fits pasted him on the back of the head. Fits seemed to have more power than ever behind his blows. Jim hooked his left on the jaw, but Fits retaliated with a heavy right on the same spot and they clinched. They broke clean.

Fits made a fake lead with his right. Instead of keeping his body rigid and throwing his head back as was his usual custom in allowing blows of this kind to slip by his face, Corbett underestimating his opponent's cunning, contemptuously threw back his head and chest, thus throwing his stomach forward. The Australian's small eyes twinkled, and with panther-like speed he drew back his left, with the forearm rigid, and ripped it into the pit of Jim's stomach a little under the heart.

Corbett was lifted about a foot off the ground, and as he pitched forward Fits swung his right on the jaw and Corbett came heavily down on his knees. He remained down for 15 seconds and Fits retired to his corner, while Referee Siler slowly announced the fatal seconds. Reaching the last count he threw up both his hands and left the ring.

"I was troubled for over forty years with indigestion and constipation," he writes. "At intervals I suffered from severe headache. THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientific and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognized this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why, should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

The Craig Mine.

This well-known free milling mine of Tudor Township, Hastings County, has recently been developed by a shaft to the depth of 55 feet, having a mineralized ore body for the whole depth of the shaft. Seven tons of ore have recently been sent to the Kingston School of Mines, and the "bullion" yield is pronounced by the experts of that institution as that of a good property. The mine has recently been transferred to the Toronto Tudor Mining Company, Limited. Up to the present time the owners have not offered shares for sale, as they preferred to develop the property and prove its value. They have now decided to place a limited amount, namely, 100,000 shares of stock on subscription next week, at 25 cents per share, and an announcement will appear in these columns. THE COLTS' TROPHY BONSPIEL.

It was Played off Last Night Between the Thistles and Granites.

The skating ice was utilized by the curlers last night and a bonspiel between six rinks each from the Thistles and Granites took place to decide which club should hold the magnificent trophy won by the local Colts, the champions of the Midland District Colts Association. As explained before the Colts donated the trophy to be put up for competition annually between the two clubs.

Both Messrs. Dickson Davidson and G. J. Hopkins were given rinks last night, and as will be observed each succeeded in winning from his older opponent by a handsome majority.

The result of the bonspiel was as follows:

Majority for Thistles, 54 shots.

At the conclusion of the match the curlers assembled in the parlours, where refreshments were served all evening, and the fine cup was presented by Mr. C. N. Brown on behalf of the Colts to the victorious Thistles.

Mr. H. LeBrun, President of the Thistles, in receiving the trophy, complimented the Colts for having won the cup for three successive years, and thanked them warmly for their magnanimity in putting it up for competition between the two clubs. The winning of this six rink competion by the Thistles, he thought, made ample amends for their defeats earlier in the season.

Mr. R. E. Wood, Vice President of the Granites, also made a few remarks in which he extended congratulations to the Colts for winning the trophy, and thanked them on behalf of the club for the generous manner in which they had disposed of it. The winning of it by the Thistles showed that the curlers of that club could win once out of three times anyway.

The matter of the points competition for the medal offered by Mr. Ed. Brown, then came up for discussion, and on motion of Messrs. Sam Ray and Geo. Brown, it was resolved that the two secretaries draft the members of the two clubs into groups of 12 men each, and notify them when they will be expected to play. The competion will take place at once, beginning this evening, and the Ontario Curling Association points contest will be divided at the same time.

The meeting adjourned after Skip LeBrun rendered the "Marseillaise and; the National Anthem and Auld Lang Syne had been sung by those present.

AN OLD MEDAL.

In the Possession of Town Treasurer Felix Brownscombe.

At the public meeting held the other evening the Mayor stated that he remembered well the day Queen Victoria was crowned.

Mr. Felix Brownscombe on going home mentioned this fact to Mrs. Brownscombe, whereupon she looked up an old medal commemorative of the event, which was brought to this country by her grandfather, Mr. Henry Carveth, of Indian River.

The medal is about two inches in diameter, and is composed of lead. On one side is the head of Her Majesty, surrounded by the inscription "Victoria D.G., Britannia Regina F.D." On the reverse side of the medal in bas relief is a symbolic representation of Her Majesty being crowned, whilst cherubs scatter flowers upon her. Around the edge is inscribed the following: "Born May 24, 1819. Ascended the throne June 20th, 1837. Crowned June 29, 1838."

All these mementoes are certainly very scarce now, and hence considerable value is attached to the one mentioned.

A Great Authoress.

Miss Ada Lee Beacon is more talked of than any other lady who has ever attempted playwriting. She is the celebrated Western authoress who created Harry Williams' very successful play, "A Bowery Girl," which appears in Bradburn's opera house to-morrow night. It was the dramatic feature of this country last season. It is repeating its past triumphs this season. A beautiful story of the typical Bowery character. A melodrama interwoven with delightful comedy. It is perfect in its construction, and the plain, simple story is told with such artistic ability and style which has made Miss Beacon famous as the most successful of lady playwrights. BAPTIST PASTORS AND DEACONS CONFER.

THE QUARTERLY CONFERENCE WAS IN SESSION YESTERDAY.

Three Sessions Held During the Day—Some Interesting Discussion—A Number of Instructive Addresses—Representatives From all Parts of the District.

The quarterly conference of the pastors and deacons of the Peterborough Association of churches was in session yesterday, March 17th.

The Associational Home Mission Board met in the morning at nine o'clock to consider applications for aid from the churches. The conference was opened at ten o'clock by the secretary, Rev. Mr. Kirkpatrick, in the absence of the President, Rev. P. K. Dayfoot, M. A., of Port Hope. After the opening exercises, the Rev. C. E. MacLeod was appointed chairman for the day. The first subject which was presented for discussion was on "Heresies in the churches," and was spoken on by Rev. W. Kirkpatrick.

He dealt less with the heresies in the churches than with the irregularities in the practice of the churches. The receiving and dismissing of members and the raising of money he considered to be some of the things that weakened the power of the churches in witnessing for the Lord. A number of the members participated in the discussion that followed, which was a very profitable one.

Mr. G. W. Mann, of Gilmour Memorial church,

LED A CONFERENCE

on the subject of "Giving the Tenth." After some opening remarks, he gave his own experience in giving the tenth to the Lord. Much more had been given to the Lord's work since that truth was understood and accepted than it had been possible to give before, and greater enjoyment in bestowing gifts to God's service had been experienced by him since that time than ever before. He believed that if God's people acted on that principle in giving, not only would the treasuries be full, where now they are empty, but the spiritual life of the churches would be deepened, and souls would be brought into the Kingdom.

An interesting and helpful discussion followed this subject. The meeting closed with prayer by Rev. T. Watson.

The afternoon session began at 2 o'clock. Mr. A. L. Grover, of Peterborough, conducted a praise and prayer meeting for half an hour. An enjoyable season of fellowship with the Father began the exercises of the afternoon.

Rev. P. K. Dayfoot, who was unable to be present, owing to an engagement in the west, sent a paper on "Sociability in Churches." He urged on pastors to exemplify it, and on deacons and members to practice it. Many strangers have been stopped by words of welcome from church members, and brought not only within church influences, but into the enjoyment of the salvation of Jesus. A discussion followed this paper.

Rev. Mr. Dykeman spoke on "The Immortality of the Soul." No more important subject could be put before the members of the churches than

THE IMMORTALITY OF THE SOUL.

It needs that there should be a clear understanding of the teaching of God's word regarding this matter. Mr. Dykeman spoke of the different theories held on the subject, and after considering objections to some of these, he explained the evangelical view as being that at death the soul goes immediately to heaven or hell, and that until the resurrection there is the experience of joy or woe, but that these are not felt in fullest measure until the resurrection of the body.

Rev. T. Watson, of Colborne, read a carefully prepared paper on "The Fatherhood of God." He showed for what purposes names were given to the Divine Being. The name Father is used in Scripture in different senses. In the sense of Creator, Instructor and Preserver God is Father of all. In the full evangelical sense, however, he is the Father only of the Lord Jesus Christ, and of those who are in Him.

The visitors expressed their appreciation of the friends of Park street by a vote of thanks.

A question drawer was opened by the chairman, after which the meeting was brought to a close with prayer by Mr. G. W. Mann.

The evening session commenced at 7.45 with a song service. Rev. Mr. Kirkpatrick took charge of the opening exercises and introduced the Rev. S. S. Weaver, of Brighton, who preached a sermon on the text in I. Kings xvii., 6: "And the ravens brought Elijah bread and flesh in the morning and bread and flesh in the evening." The preacher urged the following thoughts on the congregation in the course of his sermon:—1. God stands by those who trust in Him. 2. Sometimes He allows His people to reach the last extremity before coming to their help. 3. God's blessings come in disguise.

A short after-meeting followed in which many, in prayer and testimony, gave thanks to God for the privileges of the day, and with singing and prayer the conference was brought to an end.

BONAVENTURE ELECTION.

The election of Mr. Guite, the Liberal candidate in the Bonaventure, Quebec, bye-election is one of the most notable of the bye-election victories following the the June elections. The Liberal candidate in the general elections was returned by a majority of 312, and Mr. Guite on Wednesday was returned by the almost trebled majority of 893. Of course the school question—settled by Mr. Laurier's efforts—was revived for the occasion, and the crusade in its favour was backed by influences whose overcoming represents a decided victory for the policy of amicable settlement. The electors of Quebec seem to be as determined as the electors of Ontario to regard the vexed question as removed from the arena of practical politics.

A LAMP EXPLODED

And Scorched the Interior of Mason & Co's Store.

Mr. E. A. Mason, of the firm of Mason & Co., grocers, had a narrow escape from being badly burned last evening through the explosion of a lamp, and in his endeavour to escape from the flames, he fell into the cellar way and was badly shaken up.

About 8 o'clock in the evening Mr. Mason took a lamp and went to the rear of the flour and feed department of his store, to a corner at the end of a big row of bins, and just at the bottom of the stairs. He placed the lamp on the floor, and was engaged in looking up some boxes, as this corner is reserved for the storing of refuse, etc. Suddenly the lamp exploded, and Mr. Mason being surrounded instantly by flames, sought refuge in an alcove beneath the stairs. His escape being completely cut off, he bethought himself of a trap door beneath his feet, and raising it stepped down, intending to make his way out through the cellar, but the ladder had been removed and he was precipitated a distance of eight or ten feet to the ground and partially stunned, as well as being severely shaken up.

In the meantime his clerk, Mr. Robert Armstrong, having observed the sudden flash and noise of the explosion, caught up a pail of water and dashed it on the flames, which were rapidly attaining headway amongst the boxes. A tub filled with paper bags was all aflame, as was a bag of sulphur. Shouting to the customers who were in the store to close the doors, he grappled with the fire and succeeded in extinguishing it. The flames had crept in through a cat hole leading under the bins and could only be reached through Armstrong stretching in his arm with a wet cloth and thus effectually damping out the sparks. The floor of the bin was afterwards removed and the burnt portion dashed with water. But for the presence of mind of Mr. Armstrong the entire block might have fallen a victim to the flames, as the fire being at the foot of the stairs the draught would soon have converted the rear end of the store into a furnace of flame.

CONFERENCE OF CHEESEMAKERS.

A DAY OF PRACTICAL TALK AND DISCUSSION.

Address of Mr. D. Derbyshire and Mr. J. A. Ruddick—Papers by Mr. A. D. Perry and Mr. S. R. Payne—The Peterborough Cheese Buyer, Mr. W. Cluxton, Speaks—Election of Officers.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Makers' Association was held in the council chamber Wednesday morning. There was a fairly good attendance. Mr. F. E. Kline, president occupied the chair.

The first address, by Mr. A. D. Perry, on the programme, was one on "The Care of Milk from a Bacteriological Standpoint." Most of the foul gases in milk are due to the presence of bacteria. The ordinary chemical means of destroying bacteria were not applicable to milk. A temperature of 167 degrees was fatal to all forms of bacteria. The first milk taken from a cow had more or less of these germs, but the strippings generally contained none. Nearly all the taints and gases of milk come from neglect of cleanliness in milking and carelessness in transportation to the factory, and when these germs are once in the milk multiplication is tremendously fast. Minute details, involving care and great cleanliness in milking and the cleaning of utensils, were given. Hot water and strong sunlight in cleaning milk cans and steam from the vats in factories would destroy bacteria. Stagnant water and inflammation of the udder were causes of bad gases. If gas prevailed and the cause could not be otherwise found, use samples of milk in test tubes, and thus you would discover which sample was responsible. The importance of the most scrupulous cleanliness in all operations in connection with the making of cheese from the cow to the box. Milk gave out odours in cooling, but absorbed them during a rise of temperature. Milk absorbed odours, cleanliness in the handling of the cow stables and all things was

THE MOST ESSENTIAL POINT.

Mr. Derbyshire said this would prevent a large development of bacteria, and milking a few fresh drops on the ground as advised by Mr. Perry would leave the bacteria on the stable floor. Germs got into the milk always from the outside. It was important to aerate milk thoroughly from the beginning; milk kept cool would retard development of germs.

S. R. Payne was opposed to the cooling of milk below the temperature of the surrounding air.

Considerable interesting discussion followed, bringing out excellent points.

Mr. D. Derbyshire, President of the Eastern Cheese and Butter Association, commended Mr. Perry's paper, and added that cleanliness of the greatest possible kind was a most important factor in the production of first class cheese and butter. Filth facilitated the production of bad germs. Stable construction was also important and care should always be taken for abundance of sunlight for purification purposes, and stables should be warm and should be built with the view to being airy, light and clean.

The farmer was the only class that had not

and the farmer should study the situation. Canada had great success in cheese making, supplying sixteen out of every twenty-six millions consumed in Great Britain. The average farmer is the only one that has failed to profit from this result. In 1866 the farmer made no money out of his milk. Farmers should study to make cows more productive. Two tons of ensilage, which yields twenty tons per acre, will produce more milk than a ton of hay. There should be variety of food—fed with ensilage. June was the ideal milk month, and we should make June last as long as possible—that is give cows care and feed that will produce June conditions. Some farmers are keeping silos for summer use—in periods of drought. Keep up the milk flow—it is hard to bring it back when it once failed, and when prices stiffened in the fall there is no milk to sell. The production of fancy butter should follow the close of the cheese season. Let every farmer mind his own business—to keep up milk production and pursue the best recognized methods to make his cows more profitable. Canada is the best situated country in the world for profitable cheese and butter making. Keep cows at work as long as possible; it was better for the cow and more profitable. Keep the cow well fed and cared for and regular in her work. Fix the long milking habit in the cow by milking her from two years old for eleven months. The best results followed the best care. Unprofitable cows that never paid for their keep should be replaced. The receipt of milk at factories by Babcock test would tend to improvement of herds and methods and consequently of profits.

CLEANLINESS IN THE CREAM

of profitable handling of milk from cow to cheese. A cheese maker should be an educated man in his business, and should keep in touch with his patrons. Winter dairying that permited an ordinary factory to divide $6,000 among patrons, represented the difference between profit and loss. We made a million dollars last year out of winter dairying, a grand start. While we supplied sixteen out of twenty-six millions of cheese Great Britain took, we only sent two out of the forty millions of butter she consumed.

Mr. J. A. Ruddick, Superintendent of the King-ton Dairy School, gave a short sketch of the work of the school. It had been in operation three years, and was last year taken over by the Ontario Government as a part of its system. The buildings were well equipped, and the instructors were of a high order. Last year there was particular attention paid to butter making. The attendance crowded the buildings, which would have to be enlarged. Out of the 100 students last year, twenty-five had been there before, a tribute to the excellence of the instruction imparted. There was a short and a long course to suit the convenience of students. There was an increasing demand for men who could make both butter and cheese. The speaker advised dairy school instruction to be supplemented by a short time in a creamery, though the dairy school was conducted as far as possible on practical lines. The object of instruction at the school, was to teach on reason principles and for doing certain things, so that in practical work they would be able to meet difficult conditions. Great stress was laid on cleanliness also. One great benefit and the most valuable feature of attendance at the dairy school was the great amount of instruction that students exchanged with one another.

Afternoon Session.

At the afternoon session Mr. J. A. Ruddick began his address by speaking of the advantages of the Kingston Dairy School, and though the school was full now, there would be openings for young cheesemakers to take a course before the season begins. The school would not be closed in the spring, but be kept open for special investigations, especially in relation to the temperature required for the proper curing of cheese. Before entering upon his subject, "Cheese-making," Mr. Ruddick made a few remarks upon the production and care of milk, which was largely water, and suggested the necessity of giving stock pure water. In milk there were fixed and volatile fats, the latter giving flavour. Casein was the substance in milk acted on by rennett, the albumen of milk passes off in whey. The sugar in the milk produced the lactic fermentation or souring—There was seventenths of one percent of mineral matter in milk. Milk taken from a healthy cow contain no deleterious matter. Taint is an undesirable flavour of milk Certain bacteria have their material home in the droppings of animals and we see at once the relation of tainted milk to stable bacteria. The dust of summer was alive with this form of bacteria which find its way into the milk and produce gassy curds. Froth was the medium through which this trouble comes. Surplus of moisture in the warm air was favourable to the souring of milk. Milk should not be kept in damp air. Rust spots in cheese that effects cheese in some districts had been due in one case to puddles of whey developing a certain bacillus that produced the rust streaks. It was fair to argue that that these effects of a dirty factory due to a certain bacillus, might explain other bad effects from other bacilli. A "starter" of a proper kind carefully used was necessary to making cheese. A "starter" was simply inoculating milk with certain forms of bacillus. Directions were given for preparing a starter, for which

THE BEST MILK SHOULD BE USED

and the greatest care exercised. In cheese-making the ripening of the milk to a certain point before the addition of rennet produced an inferior quality of cheese. Ripen so that whey can be run off it three hours after the addition of the rennet. Temperature below eighty produced good results. At 105 rennet formed the hardest curds and increase of temperature beyond had a proportinate poor result. Always cold water in diluted rennet; this gives time to stir in before the rennet gets warm enough to act. Rennet is recognised as a curing agent; large quantity of rennet produces moisture and favours the conditions present in curing. The cutting of the curd was important. It should be done as soon as it could be done, without producing white whey. Cutting curd was to facilitate the getting rid of the whey. Careful cutting and storing are very important at the start. While quality was the first consideration, quantity should not be neglected. The heat should not be above one degree in three minutes. The more butter fat the higher should be the temperature. Whey should be drawn when the curd is firm. Favour the development of acidity to prevent gassy curds. Fickiness in matering curds is a mechanical condition resulting in the stretching of curds from pressure, and it is not as safe as the feel of the curd and its flavour. Milling of the curd is to prepare it for salting. Mill most curds earlier. In a dirty factory mill as late as possible. Use a mill that will cut smooth and even. The salting of the curd, as to quantity, depends upon the grain and quality of the salt, which should not be too fine. A small quantity of salt favour rapid curing. The amount may vary from one and a half to three lbs., according to the season. Salt should be kept from all bad odours. The moistened curd will dissolve more salt. There is no economy in using cheap salt. In hooping of the curd the latter should be cooled to eighty, which would give a close fine cheese. Cool curd favour the escape of air. Don't press cheese to quickly or you destroy the flinty texture and grain of the cheese. Cheese should not be bandaged too quickly to secure a neat looking cheese—a prima facie evidence of good cheese. Between sixty and seventy degrees was the most favourable for developing good flavour. Cheese will lose in weight by a high temperature in curing. The temperature in curing rooms

SHOULD BE UNDER CONTROL.

Mould in cheese was the effect of too much moisture in the drying room. Boxes of stone lime would absorb a large amount of moisture. Sunlight would be against mould. Cracking of cheese was due to lack of moisture.

This concluded Mr. Ruddick's address proper, and several questions were sent in and answered.

It was explained that milk becoming thick and still being of good flavour was due to the development of a particular form of bacteria that produced rennet-like substances. It was a mistake to think that bicarbonate of soda would keep milk sweet.

The best way of working gassy milk was to ripen more and use more rennet.

In answer to other questions Mr. Ruddick would not pronounce on the plan of using cold water to cool curds. The changing from spring to summer cheese depended a great deal on the season. Cracking in cheese was chiefly due to too much dryness in the air. Mr. Payne suggested that the bandage should be made smaller than the box. Sawdust for greating curing rooms was apt to get musty. Rennet may be kept pure over winter when sealed but it was weaker. Returning whey in cans was a dangerous practice. Cans sent home empty and not promptly washed were also dangerous. Milk is received at the Dairy School much the same as received at the ordinary factory. Greasy curd might be due to deficiency of casein in the milk during periods of dreuth. In practice it was, Mr. Ruddick said, impossible to feed turnips to milch cows without injuring the milk. Potatoes gave bad milk. Mr. Kouill said cheesemakers should place themselves on record as directly opposed to feeding turnips to milch cows. (Applause.)

Mr. Cluxton, who was greeted with applause, said that some cheese made by a factory from turnip milk was still unsold in London. He also referred to the evil of Fodder cheese—before the first of May. fodder cheese brought down the price in the old country market, and that had a tendency to keep down the market the whole season. He said that Peterborough had the best cheese board in the province. (Cheers.) The prices paid here set the figures for other places. The board was preferable to the contract system, as patrons thereby got better prices.

A STRONG RESOLUTION.

Mr. Kevill moved, seconded by Mr. ——, that the butter and cheese makers of Peterborough county, assembled in thirteenth annual convention, hereby desire to put on record that we as abody condemn the feeding of turnips of any kind to milch cows whose milk is sent to the cheese or butter factories of our section and that we do all in our power to eradicate the practice. Adopted unaminiously

Mr. S. R. Payne, of Warsaw, read a paper on cleanliness in cheese factories, which will receive attention in next issue.

THE OFFICERS ELECTED

were as follows:—Mr. F. E. Kline, president and Mr. C. F. Kevill, secretary, were re-elected unanimously.

Mr. D. Derbyshire closed the meeting with a review of the address of Mr. Ruddick, endorsing and emphasising the points brought out. He stated, as president, that the Eastern Dairymen's Association was anxious to come to Peterborough, but could not unless they received a formal invitation from the mayor and Board of Trade.

EIGHTH ANNUAL R. B. A. ENTERTAINMENT.

Musical Commemoration of St. Patrick's Day.

There was a rather disappointing attendance at the R. B. A. concert in the Opera House last night, but those who were present had the pleasure of enjoying a good entertainment.

The programme opened with a well played pianoforte duet—Irish airs—by Misses Maggie McCabe and Maggie Doherty. This was followed by a nicely presented recitation, "Asleep at the switch," by a promising new candidate for elocutionary honours, Miss E. Primeau. Her spirited rendering of the pathetic selection was most heartily applauded. Miss Primeau recited another selection later in the evening and with marked success. But the great success of the evening was the first appearance of Master Rupert Phelan, grand-nephew of Mr. E. Phelan. He sang a simple ballad with so much taste and expression and in such good voice that he was loudly recalled and responded with an Irish patriotic song which was as enthusiastically received as his first number. In the second part he again repeated this song with equal success and was again recalled. This little fellow has promise of a great musical future if he falls into good hands for the development of his undoubted natural talent and excellent voice.

Mr. W. Dessentel's fine dancing of an Irish jig was well done and he was honoured with an encore to which he responded. He danced later a clog and was compelled to appear again.

Miss Nettie Lewis gave great pleasure in her excellent singing of the song "Yesterday, To-day and Forever." Her full, round voice filled the hall well, and her work was in every way satisfactory. Mr. J. Butcher furnished an excellent flute obligato.

Mr. R. M. Roy was disappointed in receiving his South African views, but announced that he had sent to Montreal for a special series of views relating to Ireland. As interesting as the African views would doubtless have been, the views of Ireland were exceedingly satisfactory and were much more appropriate to the day. They embraced views of the chief cities and numerous views of the wonderfully beautiful scenery of the Green Isle. No wonder Irishmen love their native land so dearly, and the wonder is that so small a spot should hold such myraid and beautiful bits of nature's most perfect handiwork in the romantic and exquisite combination of rock, wood and water, The views of Ireland were superb, but the concert committee, to keep faith with the patrons, distributed tickets entitling them to a free view of the South African views when they arrive as they are expected to do daily.

A breezy and briny sea song was rendered by the Peterborough male quartette, consisting of Messrs. Jas. Brown, John Miller, Geo. Harvey and Jas. Edgecombe, The selection was produced with great spirit, pleasing harmony and judicious shading and well deserved the hearty applause it received.

God Save the Queen brought a very pleasing programme to a close.

Turnbull's Millinery Showrooms will be open on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings for the convenience of their customers when they will also have displayed all the new spring dress fabrics.

Ladies! Miss Rudkins has a Spring Surprise in store for you. Watch for the announcement in her advertisement in a few days.

FORTUNE IN FUTURES.....

Alexander T. Stewart began his business career without capital and in 58 years accumulated $40,000,000. His successors began with his $40,000,000 and in 20 years failed. Stewart dealt in futures; he filled his stores and contracted ahead for manufactures before big advances and he emptied his stores and sold for future account at other times before big declines. He discounted the future. His successors rested on a BIG NAME and never dealt in future prospects.

A year ago I advertised to buy cotton below seven cents, it afterwards advanced two cents or $1,000 on on 100 bales. Last summer I advertised to buy wheat around 60 cts., it has since sold at 80 or $2,000 on 10,000 bushels. Now advise the purchase of Corn around 35 cts. for July. It will show a Big Profit by the middle of June. Buy Mess Pork around $8.25; it will sell at $10 before it does at 9. Father Time has to halt when he meets a woman who knows how to take care of her health. Time can't make her seem old.

She may be the mother of a family; that makes no difference. She is bound to be young because her heart is young and there is rich, young blood circulating in her veins. She doesn't need cosmetics and face-powders and skin-preservers. Pure blood is the only true skin-preserver.

But when a woman's blood is full of bilious impurities, she can neither look young nor feel young. Her whole constitution is poisoned with bad blood. It permeates every part. It paralyzes the nerve-centres; weakens the stomach; irritates the heart, preys upon the lungs and bronchial tubes.

It reduces a woman to a state of weakness, nervousness, irritability, dejection and melancholy. Such a woman can't possibly be youthful, no matter what her age may be. She needs the youthfulness of highly vitalized blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will give it to her. It will help any woman to get back her youth and freshness again.

It gives the digestive and blood-making organs and the liver power to produce good, pure, healthy blood. It gives color to the cheeks, and sparkle to the eyes; drives away pimples and blotches; wipes away wrinkles; rounds out emaciated forms, and creates firm, natural, healthy flesh.

Mrs. Rebecca P. Gardner, of Grafton, York Co., Va., writes: "When I was married I weighed 125 pounds. I was taken sick and reduced in health and broke out with a disease which my doctor said was eczema. He treated my disease but failed to do me any good, and I fell away to 90 pounds. I began using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and thank God and you, I began to improve. Now I weigh 140 pounds and have only taken two bottles. I cannot say too much about the medicine. My husband says I look younger than I did the first time he saw me, 15 years ago."

THE PREMIER SPOKE

At the Nomination Meeting in Hull Yesterday.

TOUCHED ON THE SCHOOL QUESTION

His Remarks Were Cheered by the Electors —Tons of Seed Grain Sent Out in Three-Pound Packages — Hon. Peter Mitchell's Appointment —News From Ottawa.

Ottawa, March 16.—(Special.)—The transpontine town of Hull was a busy political centre to-day. In the forenoon the Conservatives of Ottawa county met to nominate a candidate for the Local Legislature, and in the afternoon the regular nomination of candidates for the representation of Wright county in the Commons was held. At the Conservative convention Hon. G. A. Nantel, Minister of Crown Lands for Quebec, was placed in nomination by Warden Ellard and seconded by Mr. N. Tetreau, ex-M.L.A. The acceptance of Mr. Nantel as the standard-bearer of the Conservatives was urged by E. B. Eddy and several other prominent people, and the nomination was made unanimous. J. McDougall, Conservative, and L. N. Champagne, Liberal, were duly nominated for the Commons for Wright county. The election takes place on the 23rd, two days before Parliament meets.

Speech-making commenced in the City Hall at 2 p.m., and after the candidates had been heard, Mr. Laurier was introduced and warmly welcomed. Speaking of the school settlement, he said that when he entered office he entered into negotiations with the Government of Manitoba and obtained from them concessions which give the French Catholics of Manitoba religious teaching in their schools, and the protection of their language. As a result the French language will now be taught in the schools of Manitoba. "Are you satisfied?" Cries of "Yes, yes." He appealed to the good sense of all reasonable men if this was not a satisfactory settlement. "I want the two languages taught in all the schools," he said. "I speak French, because it is the language of my mother, of the historic nation from which I have sprung, but I also speak English, because it is the language of business. This double-teaching will enable the children of Manitoba to earn their living as they could not otherwise do."

Towards the close of his address Mr. Laurier said: "I appeal, not to your prejudices, but to your good faith. I am a Catholic as you know, and I have the good of my countrymen at heart. It is not by hostility that we can come to an understanding, but by compromise. I know I have not got as much as I wanted, but I have got as much as I could. We have settled the question to the best of our power. It will not satisfy Archbishop Langevin, it will not satisfy some extremists, but the policy of the Government will, I am convinced, be accepted by all fair thinking Catholics without exception."

Ex-Postmaster-General Taillon replied. He dealt thoroughly with the question from the standpoint of the hierarchy.

Mr. Bourassa, M.P., Mr. Marcil, the candidate, in Gaspe, and the Controller of Customs essayed to speak, but were howled down and the meeting, which was very evenly divided, broke up in disorder.

MEAT TRAIN DITCHED.

A Casualty Which May Result in the Death of Two Persons - Woman Burned to Death in Chicago.

Chicago, March 16.—A meat train bound for Hammond, Ind., jumped the tracks and was ditched on the belt line of the Chicago, Hammond & Western Railway near the 47th-street crossing, Lagrange, last evening. George Maxwell, fireman, inhaled steam and was severely scalded, may die; Charles Merryweather, brakesman, internally injured, recovery doubtful; W. F. Peck, engineer, thrown from the cab and sustained a gash over the eye; Charles Pullman, telegraph operator, had his leg broken.

Barbara Newman was burned to death in a fire which destroyed the home of her uncle, William Spier, last night. Her cousin, Rose Mayfield, jumped from a window, after being badly burned, and was seriously injured in the fall. Mr. Spier, an invalid, was rescued with difficulty, while his wife and sister were slightly burned in saving the four children of the family.

TRULY ASTONISHING—Miss Annette N. Moen, Fountain, Minn., says: Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has had a wonderful effect in curing my brother's children of a severe and dangerous cold. It was truly astonishing how speedily they found relief after taking this preparation.

CANADIAN CHILDREN MARRIED.

Alfred Izzard, Aged 18, Charged by His Wife in Buffalo With Non Support.

Buffalo, N.Y., March 16.—Alfred Izzard, a boy who says he is 18 years old, but looks less than 16, was before Judge King this morning charged by his wife with non support. Izzard was married over two years ago in Canada to a girl about his own age. A baby was born, but it died last July, and soon afterwards Izzard came to Buffalo to look for work. He got it, but it was not profitable enough to support more than one. His wife followed him and obtained employment as a domestic, but tiring of that decided to compel her husband to support her. The pair are about the same age, but Izzard told the judge he was forced to marry against his will. He pleaded guilty to the charge of non-support and the judge suspended sentence for one month to enable him to seek and obtain employment from the earnings of which he could support his wife.

TONS OF SEED GRAIN

Sent Out From the Government Farm and There's More to Follow.

Ottawa, March 16.—(Special.)—The free distribution of samples of seed grain from the Central Experimental Farm proceeds apace. The work commenced on the 1st of January, and up to last evening 16,511 packages of 3 pounds each, aggregating nearly 25 tons, have been sent out through the mails to applicants in all parts of the Dominion. The distribution for this year will not be finished for some time yet.

Mr. Justice Taschereau of the Supreme Court has somewhat unexpectedly returned to the Capital. His leave of absence, most of which he spent in India, does not expire for six weeks.

Hon. Peter Mitchell has been appointed general overseer of fisheries for Quebec and the Maritime Provinces. He will have supervision over fisheries in that section of the Dominion, with headquarters at Ottawa.

It is said that Lieut.-Governor Mackintosh of the Northwest Territories has announced his intention to retire from the Governorship at the expiration of his present leave of absence. Mr. Mackintosh was appointed in November, 1893, so that his term is only about half expired.

The Conservatives of Pontiac county meet to-morow in Shawville to select a candidate for the Quebec Legislature. There is some talk of returning Mr. Gillies, ex-M.L.A., on condition of his giving a pledge to accord an independent support to the Flynn Government.

In the Supreme Court to-day arguments in the Consumers' Gas Company v. The City of Toronto were concluded and judgment reserved.

The cases of the City of Ottawa v. Clarke and Keefer, in connection with Rockliffe Park, having been settled and withdrawn from the roll, the next case taken up was May v. Logie, in which the dispute is over the title to lands in Mimico, to which appellant claims title through the heirs at law of the late William Pidgeon, respondents having been for many years in occupation and basing their title as well upon long possession as upon a deed from Pidgeon's widow granted as his universal legatee. The will is a peculiar document written by the testator himself, who appears to have tried to follow some legal form, but in effect says: "It is my will that as to all my estate (stars) my wife Elizabeth," leaving it elliptical in form. Meredith, J., who tried the case, assumed that the proper reading of the will was to make it accord with the only evidence of the testator's intentions, and decided that it was a valid bequest to the wife, and this judgment was affirmed by the Court of Appeal. Arguments were not concluded when the court adjourned for the day.

This is the last case on the Ontario list, and completes the roll of cases inscribed, with the exception of the reference as to the provisions of the criminal law in relation to bigamy.

A daring robbery was committed last night at the residence of Mrs. O'Reilly, Nepean-street, when two men succeeded in carrying off some plate, a gold watch, sealskin coat and a pair of seal gauntlets. The men were working at the sideboard when disturbed, and passing out through the hall grabbed the coat and gloves.

Toronto Junction, Mar. 15 (Special)—Mr. H. Playter, is not a difficult man to find as everybody here knows that he is foreman at No. 1 Fire Hall. He was the picture of health when called upon by your correspondent and told his story thus:

"In April 1896 I suffered from a severe attack of sciatica, affecting my left hip and leg to the tip of the toes. I suspected it came from some form of kidney trouble, and as they had been recommended I procured a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"At the end of the fourth day I was entirely relieved, but desiring a permanent cure I continued to use that and another box and am now perfectly cured and as well as ever in my life. A brother of mine living at Pine Orchard has been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills."

MRS. D. SAYS: "For years I have been nervous and weakly. I took one box of Miller's Compound Iron Pills and am now quite well and strong." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

URINARY TROUBLES

CURED BY

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

I have been troubled for some years with urinary trouble. I could not hold my urine. Was constantly broken of my rest, as I had to get up six or eight times every night. I tried doctors and many remedies without getting any relief until one of my friends advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I felt relieved from the first box and six boxes completely cured me. I cannot thank you enough for the new lease of life and comfort your Dodd's Kidney Pills has given me.

DR. CHASE'S CATARRH CURE CURES CATARRH

Notwithstanding what people may think or medical men say to the contrary, we say Catarrh is Curable if taken in time. Every disease has a cure; common sense says so. At first, Catarrh is simply a local ailment consisting of inflammation of the mucous membrane lining the nasal passage, the inflammation causing a pus or mucous substance to collect, which is either hacked up through the throat or discharged through the nostrils. Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure conquers this inflammation, the discharge stops and the disease is soon cured.

RABBITS FOR MARKET

SOMETHING ABOUT THE MOLLY COTTON-TAIL AND ITS CARE.

How a Clever Woman Can Turn Many Honest Pennies Every Year Without Great Outlay of Time or Money—Favorable Land For Warren.

A woman who has a farm, or a corner of one, and a taste for raising small fowls and animals can put at least $500 extra in her pocket every year by the fairly good management of a rabbitry. Until a few years ago rabbits and hares were difficult to purchase in our city markets, for their tender flesh was only slightly relished, and the woods and fields were the only sources whence a supply could be drawn; not long ago in England, however, rabbit farming was tried on a practical plan and has proved so simple and remunerative an employment that the most promising experiments are being made on this side. Hares and rabbits now decorate the butchers' stalls along with venison, beef and poultry, and the secret of the steady growth in demand for them is that rabbit's meat is always to be had at a moderate price.

This last fact need not in the least discourage a woman who is going to interest herself in molly cotton tail as a means of livelihood, for if rabbits bring a small price in the market, properly manipulated they cost an infinitesimal sum to raise, and rich bottom lands, expert assistants and a deep investment, in the process of stocking, are not among the preliminary requirements. Given any kind of encouragement rabbits multiply at a rate that not only seems amazing, but often fairly preposterous, and the accommodations, food and surveillance they need can all be simple to a degree. Moreover, on the same farm where a woman is raising fowls, pigeons, small fruits, violets or what not, the rabbit culture can come in as a side issue, and the little animals find happy location on acres not quite serviceable for anything else.

Rabbits for Commerce.

It must be borne in mind, though, that a small rabbitry does not pay, a large one is very little more trouble and expense than one of modest size. Again, the fine and delicate breeds, the Angoras and perfectly marked Himalayas, highly bred, lop-eared species and Patagonians are meant only as pets and for exhibitions, costing more to raise than the price they bring. The rabbit for the pot is the one to be cherished, the one that thrives in a well-located warren, picks up a great deal of food for himself, fattens easily, produces many and large litters and does not require too tender care. He and his brother, the hardy English hare, are usually grey, the white-tailed descendants from the wild hare and rabbit. Some are spotted in white, or nicely finished in black markings, are all white or a pretty fawn gray, and the requirements for their protection and abundant breeding are as follows:

First, a stretch of well-drained land, one two or three acres in extent. A half an acre is quite enough for a first year, with only a few rabbits, very little money to invest or time to devote to them. In choosing the land, remember a gently sloping hillside, where scrubby little bushes grow, where there is plenty of good grass and the exposure is to the south, are all very essential. Again, rabbits do not thrive on a clay soil, and they utterly abhor pools, marshy spots and never need water. A warren naturally must be very well inclosed in a rabbit-proof fence, that can be of wire, boards or pickets, and in one corner of a rabbit court with hutches, for breeding, fattening and winter protection. Like the fence, a nice court can be erected at small expense, for it really need consist of nothing more than a lean-to, or shanty, inclosed on all sides with a big sliding door in front, its door well bricked and the hutches proper made from drygoods boxes.

Stocking the Hutches.

The most important item is to build it proof against rain and cut in the bottom of the front wall and the door a nice arrangement of holes for the bunnies freely to troop in and out. Having inclosed the land and set up a rabbit court the next duty is to find a colony of woolly cotton-tails. Bird fanciers are always sure to know where fine, healthy stock can be bought, and ten rabbits, two bucks and eight does, are quite enough to experiment with. Try to buy them in ages varying from six to nine months, see that they have bright eyes, fresh, white teeth, and that there full coats, when blown aside, show a clear, fine skin underneath, and bring them home in a basket.

Prepare for their reception by strewing plenty of sand over the brick floor of the court and thoroughly whitewashing the building inside and out. The hutches, though nothing more than big boxes, turned open side down, and ranged against the wall, must have round entrance holes cut in front and half the top lids cut and arranged like trap doors. These last should be set on leather hinges, so that when a young family arrives inside and must be observed or attended to, the assistance can all be handed down through the top without dragging forth or upsetting any of the very tender young ones.

When the ten rabbits arrive at their new home introduce them to the court, and every day put green vegetables and a little corn about the sanded floor. Leave the big door open for all sunlight and air to enter, but close it over on rainy days, and presently the bunnies will become charmed with their new habitation. All day they will scamper in and out, and so soon as they begin to make the major portion of their meals on the outdoor greenery reduce the supply of food and keep several of the hutches bedded with straw. They will not be long in coming, as a good doe rabbit breeds from four to eight times a year, with five to eight bunnies in a litter, and in three months her progeny will be ready for market.

Running a Rabbitry.

Now, having fairly started the rabbitry, the duties of keeping it in prime and profitable working order can easily be fulfilled by a small boy under the direction of a clever woman or by the woman herself, when she comes to recognize that the care of rabbits is about as great as the care of a chicken yard, wherein there are no costly or delicate breeds. The rabbits, first of all, require their court and hutches kept clean, well whitewashed, frequent fresh bedding supplied and new blood brought into the stock. Twice a week is often enough to clean the court, just as often the fences must be looked to, for weasles are the deadly and ever-prowling enemies of the young bunnies, and in winter weather carrots, turnips, pans of bran, moistened with water, corn and coarse oatmeal are among the foods rabbits keenly relish. More or less of this diet they may have in the months when nature supplies their pasturage plentifully, but in a well-placed warren they chiefly feed themselves.

Profits Generally Large.

If for the first year only a few rabbits are sold off or eaten, by the second season the warren will be fairly hopping with the gray balls of fur, and their proprietor will have to invest in nets for catching them, and be obliged to look for her market. Her warren will actually be running over, for the ten rabbits, showing an inclination to multiply themselves into 300 or 400 duplicates of the original colony, the time for profits has come. As she probably paid a dollar apiece for each of her beginners, she can bargain to supply her patrons with rabbits weighing from six to seven pounds at 50 cents apiece.

After the first year, including cost of feeding, keeping up a warren and wages of a boy, the price of the individual rabbit's rearing will be about 10 cents. It then stands to reason that if she laid out $25 the first year on her venture, it will not be long before her capital returns with interest. But where to find a market will be the most likely question of the woman who sees a gleam of something good for her in the live stock scheme. First of all, let her establish it in her own neighborhood, and then visit her butchers and poultry dealers on all sides. Contract to supply so many rabbits a week, and do so with confidence, for nature somehow has taken molly cotton tail under her special patronage, and to one doe as many as ninety bunnies can be born in a single year. When well fattened, a 5-months'-old rabbit will weigh as high as 10 pounds, and 50 cents for so much wholesome, juicy meat, appeals to the common sense of the most cautious housekeeper.

It is possible to sell as many as eighty rabbits a week from a large, well-stocked warren, and from the farm fields and garden enough provender can be raised to keep the rabbits fat and happy. A woman who owns a warren should visit it once a day, see that the nesting has proper care, and once a year she should sell off some of her breeding stock and buy here and there a good buck or doe, in order to keep up her standard of size and strength. She can even introduce a few wild rabbits among her more or less domesticated ones, and keep a small corner wired off where a few choice specimens are bred for shows, and to sell as pets at 75 cents to $1 apiece.

UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM

C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphine. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

ONTARIO ASSEMBLY.

some personal election reminiscences as to the opposition he had to encounter from officials, but presently diverged from the subject and talked about Colonization Road expenditures and governmental misdoings in general.

Dr. Ryerson characterized the motion as an awakening of Liberal conscience. He wanted the motion backed up by legislation.

The Attorney-General said the resolution met with the concurrence of the Government. He ridiculed the virtuous indignation of the Opposition over official interference when the systematic policy of their friends at Ottawa was to make use of their officials in influencing elections. Sir Charles Tupper was the chosen leader of the opposite side. He had come here to organize the Province for them, and the Opposition were on the closest terms of union with him. It was the sheerest and blankest hypocrisy that could be uttered for them to express indignation in view of Sir Charles' utterances endorsing and approving the conduct of Ottawa officials in elections. He (the Attorney-General), had laid down the principle last year that it was not proper for members of the Civil Service to take part in elections, otherwise than by voting. He proceeded to read an extract from the Brockville Recorder to the effect that Mr. Whitney had brought out as a Parliamentary candidate Andrew Broder, Collector of Customs, at Dundas.

Mr. Whitney, in a very irritated way, said he was surprised at the tone of the Premier, and could only account for it on the supposition that he had bet on Corbett. It was absolutely false that he had helped to bring out Mr. Broder. The Premier had swallowed the nonsense that a creature of his had dished up.

"Did you speak for him?" asked Mr. Hardy. And Mr. Whitney had to admit that he had. He went on to deny that he had ever spoken from the same platform or travelled with Sir Charles Tupper. The Liberal Party were making a cloak of the doctrine of non-interference in elections to hound down Conservative office-holders. High officials of the Ontario Government had told him that they had been sent out by the Government to carry elections, as he could prove.

Mr. Haycock approved of the resolution, but regretted that it did not go farther and prevent them subscribing to elections funds. He hoped the principle would be crystallised into law.

Mr. Gamey wanted something more tangible and hoped it was not introduced to shelve the Bill that he had brought in on the subject.

Mr. Marter followed in the same line and wanted to know what the motion would lead to. He supported the principle involved and denounced Police Magistrate Spencer of Muskoka as an offensive partisan.

Hon. G. W. Ross thought the resolution a protection both to the officials and the Government. He expressed his pleasure that the resolution had been so well received by the Opposition, which would hardly have been the case if their party were in power at Ottawa. The motion was a bold declaration by the Liberals of confidence in their principles.

In reply to Mr. Marter, Mr. Ross said that if the House adopted this resolution, any official taking an active part in elections would be liable to dismissal.

After a few congratulatory remarks from Mr. St. John, the resolution was carried without a dissenting voice.

BAILIFF THORNTON'S CASE.

Dr. Ryerson took up the case of Henry Thornton, a bailiff of St. Thomas, dismissed for misconduct, and read a lengthy, rambling letter from Judge Hughes of Elgin County, protesting against the course of Inspector Dickie in investigating the case, charging him with incompetency and arbitrary conduct.

Hon. Mr. Harcourt replied effectively, pointing out that the Inspector of Division Courts had shown Thornton to be guilty of systematic overcharges for mileage, becoming interested in claims and judgments contrary to law, improperly retaining suitors' money, making false returns and many other offences. He had no objection to Dr. Ryerson's motion for a return of all documents in the case.

After recess bills to consolidate the debt of Port Elgin village and to incorporate the town of Vankleek Hill were passed in committee. The bills incorporating the Seine River, Foley and Fort Frances Telegraph and Telephone Company received second reading.

The debate on Dr. Ryerson's motion for a return of papers in the case of Bailiff Thornton was resumed by Mr. St. John, who, after the usual denunciation of Government officials on general principles, urged the Government to appoint a commission to investigate the matter.

Mr. McNish read a communication from Inspector Dickie, replying in detail to the letter of Judge Hughes and denying that he had acted from any sinister motives. The evidence of Thornton's misdoings was overwhelming, and he had taken action in a perfectly regular manner. He charged Judge Hughes with intercepting correspondence upon the bar and on those who had suffered from the wrongdoing of the bailiff. Mr. McNish went on to say that writing such letters as Dr. Ryerson had read was an old habit of Judge Hughes, which had only been strengthened by advancing years.

Mr. Brower championed Bailiff Thornton and Judge Hughes, and asserted that the charges against the former were trumped up to ensure his dismissal.

Mr. Matheson fell into line with his fellow-partisans, and characterised Inspector Dickie's letter defending himself as an impertinence.

Mr. Howland tried to take a calm and impartial tone, but did not quite succeed, as he directed all his censures against the inspector.

The Attorney-General said the inspector's jurisdiction was entirely independent of the County Judge. When a judge departed from his non-judicial attitude by sending such a vehement letter as had been read by Dr. Ryerson to a party leader for use in political controversy he invited criticism. The judge talked about a "hole and corner" investigation, whereas no fewer than 77 witnesses were examined, whose testimony formed a large volume.

Mr. Whitney thought the charges made by Judge Hughes against Inspector Dickie ought to have been investigated, whereupon the Premier replied that there were 35 pages of fierce language, but so far as he could make out no specific charges. He would have the letter looked over to see if any tangible accusation was brought upon which an investigation could be based. The motion was carried.

Mr. Carnegie moved for a return giving copies of all correspondence between any member of the Government and any officer of the Northern Exhibition, held at Walkerton, relating to the withholding of money payable to prize winners. The motion was adopted.

OFFENSIVE PARTISANSHIP.

Mr. Gamey moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Election Act by prohibiting officials in the public service from actively participating in elections.

The Attorney-General asked Mr. Gamey not to press his bill after the resolution passed to-day. He said that if there was to be legislation on the subject the bill did not go far enough, as it should include Dominion and municipal officials. He criticised the details of the bill as too drastic.

Mr. Whitney did not see how, after agreeing to the resolution of the afternoon, the Premier could now oppose a measure framed on the same lines.

After Mr. Howland had spoken in favor of the bill the debate was adjourned.

Several bills received a second reading.

Although a very busy man, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has found time in which to write a great book of over a thousand pages entitled, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in Plain English, or Medicine Simplified. Few books printed in the English language have reached so great a sale as has this popular work, over 680,000 copies having been sold at $1.50 each. The profits on this enormous sale having repaid its author for the great amount of labour and money expended on its production he has now decided to give away absolutely free, 500,000 copies of this valuable work, the receipient only being required to mail to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N. Y., on which company he is president, 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only, and the book will be sent post-paid. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. It contains 1008 large pages, and over 300 illustrations, some of them in colours. The Free Edition is precisely the same as that sold at $1.50 except only that the books are bound in strong manilla paper covers, instead of cloth. It is not often that our readers have an opportunity to obtain a valuable book on such generous terms, and we predict that few will miss availing themselves of the unusual and liberal offer to which we have called their attention.

MILLBROOK.

From our own Correspondent.

Miss Lila Hewson and Miss Eva Glass of Port Hope, are visiting at Reeve Pickup's.

Mr. W. A. and Mrs. Turner of Midland are in town for a few days prior to the departure of the former's father, Dr. H. Turner, to the Northwest.

The carnival which was held in the rink on Friday last was very poorly attended. There was not enough taken in at the door to pay expenses.

Mrs. Geo. A. Leach of Montreal is in town, the guest of Mrs. A. Leach.

Mr. R. K. Harris has purchased the bankrupt stock of John Yeats.

It is with sorrow we announce the death of Mrs. Richard Howden, of Port Hope, formerly of Millbrook, which took place on Friday. Her remains were interred here on Friday.

Mr. Wm. Redmond, of Cavan, held a successful live stock sale on Tuesday, which brought $3,000.

IT DOESN'T PAY

TO PARLEY WITH RHEUMATISM.

Rheumatic joints, and aching limbs mean inability to work, and inability to work, for most people, means inability to gain a livelihood. So from that point of view it doesn't pay to parley with Rheumatism. Then there's another side of the question—the days of agony and suffering.

How many people are there whom Rheumatism compels to give up their occupation, and threw up a splendid position that it took them perhaps years to attain?

Mr. Thomas Warren, of 134 Strachan St., Hamilton, states under oath that he had to give up his situation in the shops of the "Big Four R. R." on account of Rheumatism. He tried mineral springs in Indiana and mud baths, but these did him so little good that he returned Home to Hamilton a cripple.

Then he started taking Ryckman's Kootenay Cure, and four bottles have completely cured him. He feels fit to start to work now.

If he'd only known of Kootenay at the outset, how much time and money he would have saved, and how much suffering he would have escaped.

Mr. James Watson, living at 64 Florence Street, in the City of Hamilton, makes a sworn statement, he is employed as moulder in the Grand Trunk shops. He had Rheumatism so bad in his feet and knees that he could not work steadily. He says since taking Ryckman's Kootenay Cure he has not felt a twinge of Rheumatism.

Now he can work every day, without the slightest suffering. Kootenay has put the Rheumatism to rout.

It will pay you if you are a victim of Rheumatism or Sciatica to investigate the Merits of Ryckman's Kootenay Cure. To parley with these diseases means loss of time, loss of money, loss of health.

Sworn statements of cures sent free on application to the Ryckman Medicine Co., Hamilton, Ont.

One bottle lasts over a month.

Bronchitis Cured.

Miss Maggie Griffin, 37 Metcalfe Street, Toronto, writes: "After having bronchitis and cold so badly that I could hardly speak, and could not find any remedy to relieve me, I decided to try Norway Pine Syrup. It made a complete cure, and I highly recommend it to all."

IN THE LOCAL HOUSE

Some Puerile Criticisms by the Opposition.

INVESTORS TO BE SAFEGUARDED.

Carping at the Estimates—The Old Question of Text Books in the Schools Thrashed Out Again—Fiction in Public Libraries—The Agricultural Estimates.

Toronto, March 18.—The following bills were introduced to-day:

Mr. Garrow—To amend the Assessment Act so as to place electric light works upon the same footing as gas works, so far as the exemption of their personality is concerned.

Mr. Garrow—To amend the Division Courts Act by providing for notice of motion for summary judgment in the Division Court in suits for the recovery of $25 and upwards, brought for the recovery on debt or money demand.

After routine the House went into committee and adopted, with some amendments, Hon. John Dryden's bill to improve the Trades Disputes Act.

When the bill respecting the fisheries of Ontario came up the Premier explained, in answer to Mr. Meacham, that in addition to the fishery overseers, the game wardens and deputies would be utilized for the protection of fish.

In a moment of forgetfulness Mr. Meacham remarked that there were not enough game wardens in Addington County, a complaint hardly in accord with the stereotyped grievance of the Opposition concerning the "horde of officials." The bill was reported with slight amendments.

JOINT STOCK COMPANIES.

Hon. J. M. Gibson's bill respecting the incorporation and regulation of joint stock companies by letters patent, came up for a second reading. Mr. Gibson stated that the subject had lately received much attention in the Imperial Parliament and some of the features of British legislation were applicable here. In its main features the bill was a consolidation of existing laws, but important changes were made in the mode of incorporation. Instead of requiring a notice in The Gazette in every instance, the bill only demanded such notice if, after the receipt of the petition, it appeared to be necessary. The powers conferred by incorporation were somewhat extended, all powers necessary to the exercise of those conferred by the charter being presumed to be granted. the Companies' General Clause Act would be repealed entirely, and where there were special incorporations in the future, the provisions of this bill must be made specially applicable or they would not be conferred. A number of suggestions had been made since the bill was in print, some of which ought to be embodied in it.

WILD-CAT SCHEMES.

Mr. Howland called attention to the number of foreign companies doing business in this country and the number of Canadians who were securing incorporation abroad with the object of operating here. This, he thought, was an abuse of which it was time for legislation to take notice. It was an indication either that our laws were not sufficiently elastic or that they gave shareholders or the public a protection which the companies found inconvenient. In either case the matter should be looked into, more especially in view of the mining excitement and the number of enterprises now appealing to investors of such a character that the public were likely to be fleeced to benefit the promoters.

Hon. J. M. Gibson stated that mining companies would not be incorporated under the present bill, but there were provisions dealing with that matter in another act relating to mining companies.

Mr. Howland thought the acts should have been brought down together. Other companies, however, were floated on the principle of reserving promoters' shares and there ought to be some limit to the system.

Mr. Matheson thought there ought to be more restriction on joint stock companies. Men would sink thousands of dollars in companies, when they wouldn't hand a 10 cent piece to any of the individual promoters.

Mr. Gibson said some very stringent provisions against fraud had been embodied in the bill and they conveyed a strong warning to those who were allowing their names to be paraded in large letters and flaring headlines in connection with mining schemes now being floated, in order to obtain the subscriptions of the unwary.

The bill was read a second time and the House went into Committee of Supply.

RE TEXT BOOKS.

The consideration of the educational estimates was resumed, the item of $114,450 for High Schools and Collegiate Institutes being the first taken up.

A discussion sprung up over the system of publishing Public School text books and the $9000 paid by three firms for permission to continue printing the Public School readers.

Mr. Matheson made a complaint that the author of the Algebra authorised in the schools was paid a royalty of 15 per cent.

Hon. Richard Harcourt said the author in question did not make more than enough to remunerate him out of the deal and that the arrangement between author and publisher was made before the book was authorized. Moreover, the same book, sold at 75 cents here, while the price in the United States was $1.25.

Hon. G. W. Ross said that the only point with which the department was concerned was to see that the authorised books were obtainable at a cheap rate and he went into details to show that this end was attained.

Dr. Ryerson was not satisfied with the explanation and unloaded on the committee a lot of figures he had obtained respecting the price of books used in the Toronto schools last year, but was not able to use them.

Hon. G. W. Ross replied at some length, going very thoroughly into the question of text book supply and showing the satisfactory working of the system in securing cheapness and excellence. The Canadian system was recognised abroad as a good one and was being copied in some of the states.

This Mr. Whitney denied and urged that the price of books elsewhere was no criterion as to the cost of books in Ontario. He asserted that the dissatisfaction of the public on the subject was widespread.

WANTS TO GIVE IT AWAY.

After recess the discussion in Committee of Supply was resumed and the items for High Schools and Collegiate Institute passed.

When the appropriation of $21,270 was reached Mr. Mathieson suggested that one great advantage of the Government severing their connection with the university would be that they could then hand over the School of Practical Science to the university, and so save that amount of money.

The Minister of Education rejoiced that the work of that institution was essentially different from that of the university and the direction of the Practical Science School could not be advantageously transferred to the university. The item passed with but little criticism

FICTION IN PUBLIC LIBRARIES.

The grants for Public libraries, Art Schools, etc., $6,000, were taken up. Mr. Mathieson drew attention to a recent statement of the Minister of Education that the proportion of fiction read by those taking books from the Public Libraries had decreased from 64 to 48 per cent. of the whole. He accounted for this on the ground that under the system of classification, adopted, many works once classed as "fiction," were now entered as history, travels etc. He charged the Superintendent of Public Libraries with using his position to get books from publishers for his own use.

Hon. G. W. Ross said he had made enquiries and found that all the foundation there was in the story was that where he was unfamiliar with a book he had sometimes asked the publishers to send him a copy to inspect.

Mr. Mathieson returned to the charge with the statement that the Superintendent had got, not occasional copies, but "cases upon cases" of books which he disposed of at low prices. At least, that was the story he had heard from a reliable party.

Mr. Ross ridiculed the microscopic criticism of the Opposition. The classification of books was a point on which there was much ground for difference of opinion.

Some lively sparring took place between Mr. Whitney and Mr. Ross, the latter in a brief, but very forcible speech, resenting a charge of disingenuousness.

Hon. Richard Harcourt said that library classification was a matter upon which experts differed The remainder of the educational items passed.

AGRICULTURAL ESTIMATES.

The Agricultural appropriations, aggregating $93,022, next engaged the committee's attention. Hon. Mr. Dryden pointing out that a reduction of about $6000 had been effected. Speaking of the Government grants to agricultural societies he said that these grants were not in all cases accomplishing as much good as might reasonably be expected, and it might be advisable in the future to effect some change in this method of encouraging agriculture. In order that the standard Ontario had reached in the matter of cheese and butter making might be maintained it would be necessary to continue the liberal policy of the Government in that regard and to go a little beyond it. Small additional appropriations were asked for experimental farming for farmers' institutes, and experimental fruit stations. He gave a number of details in connection with the dairy schools, which had proved so beneficial in enabling young Canadians to gain a thorough practical knowledge of cheese making without going abroad. Nothing had been done which had attracted as much attention to the agricultural capabilities of Northwestern Ontario, as the pioneer dairy farm. Dealing with the Agricultural College, he asked the House to remember that the institution was not primarily a farm, but essentially a college, the farm attached to it being merely an incidental feature. It was not just or reasonable to criticise the expenditure and revenue from the farm point of view. The grant for the travelling dairy had been discontinued as they had concluded as much had been done in that direction as was necessary for some time.

The consideration of the items sanitarium was reserved and the committee rose.

NEWFOUNDLAND LEGISLATURE.

The Colony's Finances Revolutionized—Fast Atlantic Line—Connection With Canada—The Queen Congratulated.

St. John's, Nfld., March 18.—The Newfoundland Legislature opens to-day. The Governor's speech announced a complete rehabilitation of the colony's finances, which would enable the Government to restore the education and road grants to the figures at which they stood before retrenchment was begun. The approaching completion of the railway and ferry to connect with Canada induced the Government to believe it possible to secure a fast Atlantic service and tenders would shortly be invited. A measure would be introduced to prevent French fishermen from obtaining bait on the south coast. A bill would also be introduced to secure the services of a British judge to try the directors of the Commercial and Union Banks. The speech announced a gratifying increase over last year's mining operations. The average fishery revenue was far above the estimate.

Both Houses unanimously adopted resolutions congratulating the Queen upon her 60 years' reign.

NEWS FROM OTTAWA.

Contractors Looking After Soulanges Canal Contracts — Protest From the Japanese Consul—Notes.

Ottawa, March 18.—(Special.)—Many leading contractors are in town waiting to see how the pendulum will swing in the matter of the Soulanges Canal contracts. As the work of enlarging the St. Lawrence canals approaches completion, and as there is little doing in the way of great public works in other portions of the Dominion, naturally the reliable firms want to hold on until the very last. This accounts for the anxiety on the part of some regarding the letting of the contracts which have been taken from George Goodwin. Among the leading contractors whom your correspondent ran across to-day were Mr. P. Larkin of St. Catharines, M. Haney of Ryan & Haney, Toronto; Fauquier Bros., Randolph MacDonald, Toronto; J. D. Cameron, Quebec, and Andrew Onderdonk of Hamilton. For sections 4, 5, 6 and 7 of the Soulanges Canal work, there are about 20 offers in, and it is the current belief that Messrs. Munro & Murray, ex-M.P. (of Pembroke), will be found to be lowest tenderers. For section 12, which is a very important work, there are about a dozen tenders, but it is not possible to-night to ascertain the name of the lowest tenderer, as the working out of the tenders has not yet been completed by the officers of the department.

Mr. T. Nosse, Japanese Consul-General for Canada at Vancouver, arrived in the city to-day to confer with the Government on matters relating to the trade of the two countries. He had a long interview with Mr. Parmalee, Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce, this afternoon, and will see the Premier and Sir Richard Cartwright to-morrow. He was asked as to the story published in some of the newspapers that the Japanese Government were contemplating the conquest of Hawaii. Mr. Nosse ridiculed the report, and said it could only be regarded as the outcome of trade jealousy. The Consul-General is strongly opposed to the suggested capitation tax on Japanese entering Canada, as he believes it will have a serious effect on the good relations now existing between the two countries. He says, of 800 Japanese in Canada, 450 are British subjects.

Mr. W. Peterson, a leading steamship man of Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, is in the city and has had interviews with Sir Richard Cartwright and other Ministers respecting the Fast Atlantic Steamship Company. His own firm is willing to build and manage a fast line of steamers between Liverpool and Quebec. In view of the apparent suspension of negotiations with the Allans, Mr. Peterson believes the opportunity favorable to submit an offer to the Government.

The Cabinet was in session to-day working of the tariff. Quite a number of measures have been under consideration by the Ministers, among them a bill to restore the Departments of Customs and Inland Revenue to their old status as independent departments and to make the two Controllers fledged Ministers. It will be remembered that last July Mr. Laurier gave a pledge to Hon. William Paterson that this would be done at the coming session.

The Government has completed arrangements for the cold storage of butter and other perishable food products, which would be shipped weekly in steamships running between Montreal and London, Liverpool and Bristol.

Mr. Charles R. Devlin has left for the Northwest to pick up information which will be of value to him in endeavoring to persuade Irishmen to emigrate to Canada.

Mayor McCreary of Winnipeg has just received a letter from a Nova Scotian, who went out to look over the Dauphin country, to ascertain the opening there for settlements, and fixed upon 16 quarter section farms for friends of his in Pictou County, N. S., to which they will remove in the spring.

TO BEGIN ON SUNDAY.

After 8 a. m. on March 21 Greek Vessels Must Keep Away From Crete.

Athens, March 18.—In the Boule to-day M. Skouzes, Minister of Foreign Affairs, announced that the foreign admirals in Cretan waters had issued a proclamation stating that a blockade of Crete would begin at 8 o'clock on the morning of March 21. After that time no Greek vessel would be allowed to enter the ports of the island and the vessels of other nations desiring to enter must first obtain permission from the admirals.

Italian Troops Will Start.

Rome, March 18.—The Italian warship Friuano, with 600 troops on board, will start for Crete to-morrow.

Scrofula

Infests the blood of humanity. It appears in varied forms, but is forced to yield to Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and vitalizes the blood and cures all such diseases. Read this:

"In September, 1894, I made a misstep and injured my ankle. Very soon afterwards, two inches across formed and in walking to favor it I sprained my ankle. The sore became worse; I could not put my boot on and I thought I should have to give up at every step. I could not get any relief and had to stop work. I read of a cure of a similar case by Hood's Sarsaparilla and concluded to try it. Before I had taken all of two bottles the sore had healed and the swelling had gone down. My

EDITORIAL NOTES.

CONSERVATIVE papers complain that a thousand tons of binder twine made in Kingston penitentiary have been sold by the present Dominion Government without tender. Well, that's an improvement over the practice of the late Conservative Government which sold binder twine to political friends, not only without tender but without exacting payment.

HON. MR. HARDY made a happy hit in the Legislature, when in the course of the debate on Mr. Garrow's resolution respecting civil servants, he referred to Sir Charles Tupper as a manufacturer of leaders of Provincial oppositions. Though Sir Charles can make opposition leaders it is "about his might" to make oppositions—that's a branch of manufacturing in which the people retain their rights more strenuously than they push the business.

THE Opposition of the local Legislature evolved a good deal of righteous but gaseous indignation over the question of civil servants taking part in election contests. Their zeal is all the greater for having been bottled up for eighteen years. During the long reign of the Conservatives in the Dominion arena, when officials were appointed by hundreds for their usefulness as political hacks alone, no word of condemnation came from the now virtuous Conservative Opposition. They did not seem to be able to be party politicians without being partizans.

FOR eighteen years Senator Vidal sat in the Senate at Ottawa, and there is no record of his having taken any steps in the direction of introducing legislation for the promotion of temperance. He had too tender a solicitude for his party; but the moment a change of Government takes place, he develops an extraordinary interest when there seems to be a chance to embarass a Liberal Government. Like far too many of temperance advocates, he is a politician first and a temperance man afterwards. He would prefer no legislation at all to the present license amendment bill—a singular position to take—when honest advocates of temperance regard the proposed amendments as a long step in the direction of promoting temperance interests.

WESTWOOD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Miss Breckenridge has been visiting friends in Millbrook.

Messrs. Wm. and P. Doherty, Otonabee, were visiting their brother, Mr. John Doherty.

Mrs. G. Sergeant was visiting friends in Hastings last week.

Miss Buck, Norwood, is the guest of Miss Maggie McMillen.

Rev. Mr. Potter, Peterborough, was the guest of Dr. McNaughton on Friday.

Mr. Fred. Eason, Keene, is the guest of his cousin, Mr. Geo. Eason.

Several of our boys were up to Keene taking in the last skating of the season in the rink. They also attended the impromptu concert given in the evening.

Considering the condition of the roads and the rough weather a fair representation of the churches was present at the lecture on Friday evening. The programme was as follows:

Opening hymn
Prayer	Rev Mr Potter
Chairman's address	Mr J A Metcalf
Selection	C E Choir
Lecture, "Can you eat Sawdust without Butter?"	Rev Mr Potter
Vote of thanks
Closing hymn, "God be with you, etc"
	Benediction.

The lecture was one which could be thoroughly enjoyed by all. Indeed it was both practical and humourous. The subject was one which illustrated the hardships and trials of life with or without the luxuries. Many would reach for the luxuries of life without having to come through the tread mill. Not many people who succeed in life but have had to endure the bitter pangs of adversity to a greater or less degree. To eat sawdust is to master the prevailing circumstance, to stand great fatigue, to conquer great difficulties and to bear adversity. The greatest men in our nation to-day both in social and religious circles are those who have endured the toil and suffered many hardships and stood the test. We have all a work to do. Milton Byron, though disabled in body, thought it a privilege to live and labour. Christ himself was a true statesman and labourer. He expects his followers to work for Him and hasten the coming of His kingdom. It is then that we can enjoy labour for the soul is refreshed with the pleasure and enjoyment which only God can give.

Useful Information from a Dentist About Tooth Powders and Mouth Washes.

Many of the best tooth powders contain coarse particles or grit, and many of the mouth washes contain Acid. Grit injures the enamel of the teeth, and also causes inflammation of the gums; and the slightest acid (sometimes used in mouth washes to whiten the teeth) will soften the enamel after a short time, and finally destroy the teeth; some washes contain ingredients "to harden the gums;" this is dangerous, as it causes the gums to recede from the teeth, which finally become loose and are removed. It is well to be sure that what you use is free from all these evils, Grit, Acid, Astringents—(such as Myrrh which is too commonly supposed to be harmless or Camphor, which tends to make bone brittle, and will cause the teeth to split more readily). Ask your Dentist about this important manner and he will tell you to use the "Q. C. Liquid Tooth-Powder"

It contains the finest precipitated powder, washed, strained, and again re-precipitated, rendering it so fine that it remains for hours suspended in the fluid forming the mouth wash, which is delightfully refreshing to use and guaranteed to be absolutely free from Acid or any injurious ingredient. "Q. C. Liquid-Tooth Powder" for sale at all Druggists, 25 cents per bottle.

NORTH SMITH.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

We were visited by one of the severest storms of the season last Sunday.

La grippe and measles are quite prevalent north of here.

It is with regret we chronicle the death of Mrs. Margaret McIlmoyl, which took place at the residence of her son in Harvey, one mile from Hall's Bridge, on Friday evening at about 10 o'clock (March 12th) at the age of 67 years. Deceased was almost a life-long resident of this part. The funeral, which took place Sunday, March 14th, was largely attended, showing the respect and esteem in which deceased was held. The husband of deceased died about six years ago. There are left to mourn the loss of a mother one son and daughter, William, of Harvey, and Mrs. Robt. Nugent, of Smith; also five brothers and one sister. A funeral sermon in memory of deceased will be preached at Hall's Bridge on Sunday, March 28th, at 3 p.m., by Rev. Mr. Potts, of Harvey.

Also on Sunday, March 7th, the grim monster, death, claimed for his victim the son of Mrs. Ettie Freeburn of Hall's Bridge, (widow of the late James Freeburn who met with the fatal accident at Lakefield on January, 1st 1896). The little fellow was two years and seven months old, and was a great source of joy and comfort to his bereaved mother, who has been called upon to mourn the loss of a husband and son in fourteen months. He was just sick about eight days. The mother has the sympathy of the entire community.

Only a baby I some one might say
Of the dear little ones that has passed away.
But how the fond mother longs to fold to her breast,
The frail little form with its clinging caress.

The sooner you begin to fight the fire, the more easily it may be extinguished. The sooner you begin taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for your blood-disease, the easier will be the cure. In both cases, delay is dangerous, if not fatal. Be sure you get Ayer's and no other.

DAY AFTER THE FIGHT

Referee Siler Tells the Story of the Cornishman's Victory.

SENATOR INGALLS WRITES OF IT

Fitzsimmons Was at No Time Near Defeat, Though Corbett Landed Nearly Twice as Many Blows as He Did—Fitz Gets Full Credit for His Win.

The following account of the battle was written by Referee Siler: The fight of the century has been won and lost. It was by long odds the best contest I ever saw. It was clean throughout, and there never was even a suspicion of foul work on either side. Fitzsimmons to-day ranks head and shoulders above all living pugilists. It is a question whether the world will ever see his equal. I know that he weighed 137½ pounds and that Corbett scaled 183 or more. That a man giving away this amount of weight should be a 10-to-7 second choice is not to be wondered at. This weight matter is no guess. While both found it difficult to land on his opponent at times, Corbett cleverly evaded the hammer-like leads of the lanky one. Fitz worked with a confidence and reserve which evinced his ultimate desire to land just one. There were stages in the contest in which Bob, with his blood-bespotted face, looked as though he was having a hard time of it. He kept up his good-natured grin throughout, however. Every time Corbett landed on him his face expanded into a broad grin, and then, gritting his teeth, he would press in and out.

The notion that Robert Fitzsimmons is not game suffered a serious set-back this afternoon. He took the cleverly-delivered leads of Corbett and went in after more. He acted as though he liked it. "Give me your head; here is mine," appeared to be written over his features.

I shall never forget that scene at the finish. If Dan Stuart and his friend, Rector, successfully photographed the finale, the projecting picture will be worth millions of dollars. Talk of bedlam and a Mahoney fight! The vast house just lifted itself into the ring and within the circumscribed limits of a 24-foot ring there were more people in a jiffy than ever gathered together before in double that territory.

From the beginning the fight bore the ear-marks of a spectacular affair, but the finish came a scene such as I never hope to witness again. I stepped out of the ring as soon as I found an opportunity to declare Fitzsimmons the winner, with the intention of evading any sort of argument with the losing side. It looked a bit like trouble, and I thought that the sooner the principals and the referee reached the ring, this could be avoided.

Dan A. Stuart's partner, W. K. Wheelock, came at me as soon as I jumped out of the ring and asked me if I had declared a winner. I told him that I had and then he went about to clear the ring. This was a job which entailed the work of all the Pinkerton operatives in the world.

There is little to say about the fight proper. Corbett boxed cleverly. He landed and landed at will, and had Fitz on what to the laymen appeared like "Queer-street." As a matter of fact, however, Jutan's man was miles removed from this thoroughfare. He appeared to be worse than he really was, but he was as strong as an ox and made up his mind to land that one punch, even though it took all day to get there.

A left-hand blow delivered under the heart won the heavyweight championship of the world for Bob Fitzsimmons in the fourteenth round. The blow was a terrific one and took the breath out of Corbett.

The punch did not go a great distance from its starting point, not more than eighteen inches, but it was a desperate blow delivered by a desperate man. The effect of the blow did not come at once. In fact, Fitz followed it with another blow by the right, which landed on Corbett's side, but did no damage. A brief moment after the left hand landed, Corbett, with his guard still up, and apparently strong as he had been for several rounds back, sank down slowly on his right knee.

A dead hush fell upon the big crowd. Corbett dropped his right hand on the staging and for an instant remained balanced in that position on one hand and one knee. His head was dizzy, and he toppled over and groped blindly about with his left hand high in the air. He was about ten feet from the ropes and equally between his corner and that of his opponent. It was the ropes Corbett was trying to reach to drag himself to his feet. At the call of "four" Corbett, still waving blindly towards the ropes, fell forward on his face. The effort appeared to brace the Californian, and it also brought him close to the ropes. At "seven" Corbett had grasped the ropes, and was again on his knees. "Eight" came amid a giant roar from the crowd, and then "nine" was tolled off by the waving of the referee's arm, and then the fatal "ten and out." A new bona-fide champion had been created in a most surprising manner, for Corbett was still on one knee, his hand grasping the upper rope.

I tapped him on the shoulder in signal of defeat, and Timekeeper Muldoon continued to toll off the seconds to make certain the end of the fight. "Fifteen" and Corbett slowly staggered to his feet.

Then followed one of the most exciting scenes ever witnessed in a prize ring. Fitzsimmons reached over the ropes in his corner and grasped the hand of his wife, who was tearful and trembling. Then the new champion seized a small British flag and tramped about the ring, waving it over his head. Corbett arose with a murderous look on his chalky face. The sight of his conqueror marching in triumph set him in a frenzy, and, rushing across the ring, he began pulling Fitz in a vigorous manner. Seconds and spectators jumped in the ring in a jiffy. Fitz was on the floor, with Corbett standing over him. Corbett was dragged away, struggling like a madman. Three times Corbett broke from his captors and tried to get at Fitzsimmons. The latter was also excited, but watched Corbett closely.

There were, of course, the usual arguments and kicking by the partisans on each side, and which, as usual, ended up in nothing. After the run-in, as it were, Corbett's seconds led him to his corner, and, after being quieted down, he walked over to Bob's corner and begged for another fight. Fitz, however, turned him down, saying that he would not fight again, and if he did he certainly would not meet him.

"Take your own time, but promise to fight me, won't you?" pleaded Corbett.

"Nope. If I ever do fight again, it will not be with you."

"Then I'll lick you the first time I meet you," said Corbett.

Fitz laughed queerly, and answered: "I'll kill you if you try it."

That is how the great battle ended. Corbett was a great disappointment. After having his man groggy, bleeding, and, to all appearances, beaten, he failed to grasp his opportunity. His blows were light and often weak, and extreme care led many to think he was showing evidence of cowardice.

A peculiar thing about the knockout was that Fitz, as soon as he saw Corbett sinking to the platform, walked over to his wife, who sat near the corner, reached over the ropes, and shook her by the hand. By that time Corbett had been counted out, and Fitz, seeing it was all over, jumped into the centre of the ring, waved his colors, the red, white and blue, and bowed to the spectators.

From the very outset Corbett outsparred his man. In the sixth round he who would have bet one on Fitz against ten on Corbett would have been considered foolish. The famous right-hand punch of Fitz was not in evidence. The kangaroo could not land on his man, even when he forced the work. Corbett's work was perfect. Of him it must be said that he is clever beyond comparison, but as a hitter and finisher of a hard-hitting lightweight he won't do. Corbett's guard invited all kinds of leads, and when they came Corbett was quick as flash with defense. When victory seemed to be in his grasp, his deficiency in finishing work was wofully apparent. He is a magnificent boxer, but not a fighter. There were a few about the ringside who claimed that the blow that made Fitz a champion was questionable. It cannot be argued in a sensible manner that it was.

Charley White attempted to claim a foul. He shouted that Corbett had been struck in the groin, and Joe Corbett was also vociferous in the same claims. Both were laughed off the stage by even those who had bet plenty of money on the Californian.

INGALLS DESCRIBES THE MILL.

Corbett the Dying Gladiator—Fitzsimmons Was the Freak With a Grin.

Ex-Senator John J. Ingalls wired a realistic picture of the mill and the terrible knock-out blow to The New York Journal from Carson City, as follows:

Carson, Nev., March 17.—The delegates to the convention began to gather at the coliseum soon after breakfast. The weather was of incomparable loveliness. The Sierras were marble, the sky turquoise and the wind was tempered to the lambs that were shorn later in the day.

The amphitheatre was like a huge bowl, with tiers of benches ascending from the platform in the centre to the upper rim. It filled gradually, till by noon it contained an audience of 7000 or 8000 well-dressed, orderly, decorous, average American citizens. Miners, merchants, farmers, cowboys, ranchmen, lawyers with some toughs and crooks that like beasts of prey, follow every crowd, seeking whom they may devour.

There were a few women interspersed among the multitudes, attended by fathers or husbands or brothers. The boxes, which were little pens with chairs near the platform, in which the price of a seat was $40, were partially occupied by men in the garb of cities, with Van Dyke beards and the aspect of opulence, culture and refinement.

It had been bruited abroad that the event would occur at 10 o'clock, but there was the customary delay, for belated trains, for the kinetoscope or for some reason not disclosed, and it was nearly noon by the time the gladiators entered the building. During the interval the audience was good-humored and patient. Noted arrivals were greeted with applause, and Delegates Sullivan, Sharkey and "One-Eyed" Connolly made brief addresses from the platform upon the issues of the day.

The entrance of Fitzsimmons and Corbett, in grotesque bath robes, bare headed, with attendants, bearing red fans, bundles of cloths and sponges, buckets and bottles, was like the opening procession in one of Gilbert and Sullivan's operas.

It may as well be said here as elsewhere that the entire performance, with the single exception of the incident mentioned hereafter, lacked earnestness and sincerity, and left the impression of a duel on the stage.

The convention was called to order by the national chairman, who announced the names of the referee, timekeepers and other officials, and presented them to the audience, which received them with applause.

Corbett's countenance was dark and drawn, lined deeply with the furrows of care and concern. He paced obviously and smiled complacently.

Fitzsimmons had the visage of a freak, with a silly, open-mouthed grin, and an uncouth, awkward, shambling gait, like a clown.

The appearance of the two men when their robes were thrown off and they were stripped for the ring was grotesque, for, with the exception of a small breech cloth, they were naked to their saddles, where their resemblances were veiled loosely down over the tops of their thin, flat-soled shoes. Around the wrists were stuffed gloves that prevented cutting or mutilation.

According to the precedent of Queensberry, three minutes for sparring and one for rest was a round. The latter fell muffled and the contestants seemed to be on good terms and frequently united even in the most violent encounter. When the gong was struck by the timekeeper, they promptly retired to their respective corners, sat down in their chairs, and were diligently fanned, rubbed, sponged and wiped by the men in red sweaters, as grooms care for a horse. The men seemed to be fatigued early, perspired profusely and breathed with their mouths open.

During some of the rounds Corbett hit Fitzsimmons on the face, making him look like a great schoolboy, and gazing around with a smile like Banquo at the banquet of Macbeth. And so it went on for nearly an hour, the audience sitting quietly as at a theatre or in a circus or at a ball game, with occasional cries of applause at some agile movement or some resounding blow.

And then, without warning, the most surprising, unexpected and inexplicable event occurred—the first, the last and the only dramatic incident of the occasion, like the catastrophe of a tragedy that falls before the climax has been reached.

The auditors had grown a trifle restless. Bets were still offered at 100 to 35 on Corbett. He was not marked by the attacks of his adversary, whom he seemed to touch almost at will. But it was observed that his blows had little effect upon the tough, obdurate trunk of Fitz. They lacked steam and force. The early predictions of a short, sharp and decisive battle by the partisans of both men had already been disproved. The tension was relaxed among the spectators, who had apparently concluded that the struggle might be indefinitely prolonged without decisive results.

Corbett advanced rapidly from his corner, with agile step and confident smile. There was the customary display of gymnastics, feinting and prancing forward and backward, ducking and dodging, followed by a repetition of the apparently harmless exchange of futile blows that had become fatiguing by their previous monotony.

Suddenly Fitzsimmons was seen to deliver a savage body blow near the pit of Corbett's stomach. He then sprang away, and Corbett did not follow him. Fitzsimmons was the only man beside his antagonist who recognized the awful character of the blow.

He knew the fight was over, as his conduct showed.

The pugilists had separated near the western side of the platform, and Fitzsimmons turned with buffoon gesture and bloody grin to the audience. When Corbett, who was still erect, suddenly tottered, a swift spasm shuddered through his limbs, he sank slowly upon his left knee, his head fell forward upon his knotted chest, a deadly pallor overspread his features, he leaned for an instant upon his right hand in a precise attitude of the dying gladiator in the familiar statue described by Byron when his manly brow "consents to death, but conquers agony."

Then he clutched the rope with his gloved hand and pulled himself with tremendous effort to his knees. Meanwhile the fatal bell was tolling his knell—one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine—and before he had fully regained his feet it struck ten and the battle was over.

For an instant the audience seemed quite as much dazed as the defeated pugilist, and was uncertain what had happened or how it was done. There was tremendous tumult, hubbub and confusion, and a wild rush for the platform, with cheers for Fitzsimmons.

Corbett, meantime, having recovered from the effects of the concussion of his heart, exasperated by defeat, sought to renew the conflict, and for a moment a general fracas seemed imminent.

The platform was a furious hurly-burly of struggling attendants, officers, detectives and spectators, which the referee was powerless to calm. But it soon subsided.

The victor and the vanquished had an amicable interview in the conqueror's corner, and Fitzsimmons departed for glory, fame and fortune.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognized this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The treatable with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why, should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

Good Templars' Resolution.

The following resolution passed by Auburn Lodge of Good Templars has been handed the EXAMINER with a request for publication:

Moved by Bro. G. W. Powell and seconded by Bro. J. simpson, and resolved that we, the officers and members of Auburn Lodge, No. 203, I. O. G. T., wish to place on record our dissatisfaction with the liquor bill introduced by the Hardy Government this session. There are some provisions in the bill that are good and they meet with our approval, but a large proportion of the bill we consider not at all suitable, nor a fulfilment of the Premier's promise to the temperance party in July last. While we would thank the Government for past favours, we expect an amended bill (with the assistance of those of the Opposition and Patron members that are friendly to our cause) that will be more in keeping with the temperance sentiment of our fair province. We believe saloons should be abolished at once, greater reduction than proposed in the number of licenses, club debating opened, hours of sale shortened to 8 and 9 p. m. instead of 10 and 11, as proposed, and better enforcement of the law against selling on Sunday and prohibited hours.

THE ATTENDANCE WAS MOST ENCOURAGING.

The Peterboroughs Confident of Landing the Canadian Lacrosse Association Trophy This Year—"Dinny" Dobbin is the Captain.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club was held last evening in the Oriental Hotel parlours for the purpose of re-organizing for the season.

In the absence of President Dr. McGrath the chair was taken by Mr. Alf. Terrill.

The attendance was most encouraging and in discussing the prospects for the coming season the members expressed themselves as being confident this year of landing the C. L. A. championship. The announcement that Mr. Jas. McCabe would spend the lacrosse season in town was received with enthusiasm. It was decided that the club again connect itself with the Canadian Lacrosse Association, and Mr. Alf. Terrill was appointed as representative to the annual meeting which will be held in Toronto on Good Friday. He was instructed to cast his vote for J. J. Craig, of Fergus, for the Presidency, and to use his own discretion concerning other matters which might come before the Association.

A STRONG REPORT

will be made this year to have the east represented on the Executive of the C.L.A., and Peterborough may run out a dark horse for an office at the last minute.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Patron and Patroness—Mr. and Mrs. H. LeBrun.
Honorary-President—W. A. Sanderson.
President—Dr. McGrath.
1st Vice-President—R. J. Fife.
2nd Vice-President—W. A. Rudkins.
Secretary—Alf. Terrill.
Treasurer—R. M. Glover.
Captain—Fred Dobbin.
Executive Committee—Percy Rubidge, W. Borland, Jas. McCabe, Geo. Lipsett, W. E. Loch, G. J. Hopkins and C. LeBrun.

The matter of selecting grounds to practice upon this year was left to the Executive Committee. The Riverside Park, P.A.A.A. grounds and Driving Park facilities will be taken into consideration, the members of the club being divided on opinion as to which will be the most suitable. The fee for membership is fixed at a dollar a year, and an effort will be made this season to purchase a number of sticks for the use of the club. In the course of a week or so the will be circulated, as the boys need a nest egg to start them off for the season.

The matter of having a match here on the 24th of May was discussed, and it was thought that if arrangements could be made to bring the Ontarios, of Port Hope, to town on that day, the venture could be made a great success. The names of the Elms, and the Orillia and the Madoc teams also came up, but no step will be taken until it is definitely known what form the local demonstration will take.

The utmost harmony prevailed at the meeting throughout, and the result of the various elections appeared to be satisfactory to the members present.

Mr. Wm. Rudkins was in attendance, and when the question came up as to the advisability of opening the season with the Young Capitals of Ottawa on the local grounds, and the chances of winning from them, he roused the enthusiasm of the members greatly by recounting the victories of the old Peterboroughs over the best team the Senior Capitals could send to the town.

A PLEA FOR THE AIRS OF IRELAND.

To the Editor of the Daily Examiner:

SIR,—As an Irishman I wish to express the disappointment I experienced in attending the R.B.A. concert in the opera house Wednesday evening, to notice the absence of Irish music on the evening's programme, with the exception of one or two numbers. St. Patrick's day is an anniversary on which Irishmen can gather together and celebrate the birthday of their patron saint, and listen to the national melodies of Ireland—melodies which tell of Ireland's past glory, her sufferings and trials, and which make every true heart and every true and noble mind in the world melt at the contemplation of of her wrongs and the injustice she suffered. We Irishmen are proud of our national music, but it has been placed in the back ground in the past few years at our entertainments, as if those in charge were ashamed of it. I do not blame the performers, Mr. Editor, they did their best and gave satisfaction in their selections, but the programme presented Wednesday evening by those having it in charge was in the respect mentioned unsatisfactory. The Irishmen of this community, expect to hear a programme in which Irish national music predominates and also to attend an entertainment having a decided Celtic flavour. The audience present was a small one, but it will be smaller in future unless a change is made, and a programme prepared that Erin's sons can enjoy, and one worthy to be presented on the anniversary of Ireland's Patron Saint.

Decision Handed Down in the Case of Hull vs. Stevenson.

Judgment has been given by Mr. Justice McMahon in the case of Hull vs. Stevenson as follows:

Hull vs. Stevenson.—Judgment action tried without a jury in Peterborough. The plaintiff claimed that as between him and all subsequent purchasers and mortgagees of lots 1 and 2 in block E, plan 11, for the town of Peterborough, he is entitled to a judgment and order which will throw registered mortgage 7,761 from defendant Stevenson to one Deane (assigned to defendants, the Midland Loan Company), on the whole, save the parts sold to defendant Douglas and plaintiff, and in exoneration of such parts, being the north 90 feet of lot 1, and declaring that such 90 feet should only be liable for such mortgage in the event of the remainder of the lots not realizing sufficient to satisfy the mortgage debt, and he asked that a sale might be ordered of lots 1 and 2, except the ninety feet, also for judgment against defendant, Daubas, allowing plaintiff to apply $1,100 and interest on account of the amount, if any, with payment of which his 40 feet might be charged upon the mortgage, No. 7,761. Judgment for defendants, the Midland Loan and Savings Company, the Bank of Montreal, Hague & Daubas, dismissing the action with costs for the defendants. Douglas & Macdonnell, dismissing the action against them without costs, for the defendant Stevenson, dismissing the action against him without costs and without prejudice to plaintiff's right to recover against him on his covenant, and dismissing without costs the claim of defendant Douglas against defendant Hague. THE PETERBOROUGH BOARD OF TRADE.

THE EIGHTH ANNUAL MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT.

President's and Secretary's Report—Election of Officers—The Trent Valley Canal Deputation Stimulated—Other Matters Dealt With.

The annual meeting of the Board of Trade was held last night in the council chamber. Present, Mr. B. Shortly, president, in the chair, Mr. J. S. Knapman, secretary, and Messrs. W. Manson, P. Campbell, Hampden Burnham, H. S. Macdonald, F. J. Rogers, R. B. Rogers, Wm. Davidson, Jno. Gilchrist, Thos. Cahill, R. Fair, Wm. Hamilton, jr., F. H. Dobbin, A. L. Davis, Dr. Ross.

After routine

The secretary read a communication from H. W. Wickham, secretary, respecting a grant to the Navy League of Canada, which matter had been referred to the council of the Board—Referred again to the council of the Board.

Mr. Hampden Burnham brought up the matter of his notice of motion respecting the employment of unemployed labour. Public sentiment was awakening to the fact of the necessity of furnishing work to the unemployed in preference to permitting them to starve or accept charity which had moreover been greatly abused. He favoured the establishment of a town stone pile which would give work to the unemployed, and, though the pay was small, it was better than starvation or charity. He referred to the matter with the idea that it be submitted to the council of the Board for 1897, so that a searching investigation might be made.

Mr. R. Fair proposed, seconded by Mr. Campbell, Mr. C. Fessenden as a member of the Board. Mr. Fessenden was duly elected a member.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL DEPUTATION.

The matter of the Board co-operating with the town council in the matter of a deputation to Ottawa, was discussed and on motion of Mr. Cahill, the committee appointed in reference to the matter by the Board on Feb. 10th, was instructed to co-operate with the committee of the town council in bringing about the organization of a strong deputation to visit Ottawa in the interests the canal.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

Mr. B. Shortly presented his annual address as follows:

GENTLEMEN,—This is the second occasion upon which I have addressed you in the capacity of President of the Board of Trade and it is my intention this evening to deal briefly with several matters that interest the business community, the majority of members of that section being connected with this Board. I may however express my individual opinion on some subjects that will likely be before you for consideration.

Allow me in beginning to express to the members my grateful thanks for the cordial assistance that has been given me in my position during my term, and though the past year, the close of which is recorded to-night, has not developed any important questions for us to discuss, still local affairs have received our attention and we have not been idle. Before proceeding to review some of the work of the year I would beg to call your attention to one thing, and that it is the meagre attendance at our meetings, and though you will acknowledge they have not been numerous, still that fact is a strong reason why the presence of every member should have been guaranteed. The Board is formed to deal with the interests of business men and they should be dealt with in the same manner as a merchant deals with his own affairs, and united action only will bring about the remedies and improvements we desire. I hope that during the year we are about enter the meetings will be marked by the presence of nearly every member. It should be our aim to gather into the fold of membership many new faces, so that at the next annual meeting we should be able to report decided progress in every branch.

Locally little can be alluded to that will interest you. The town has made steady progress though the state of business has not reached that stage when the merchant can rest on his oars, as it were. We have been forced to pay strict attention to our interests and economize as much as possible, for the depression, which has had its grip on Canada as well as other countries, still lingers, though we are hopeful that the recent encouraging reports from the mineral districts will revive business generally and bring about a settlement of the unrest which we are forced to acknowledge has been apparent. But before branching out in the discussion of questions of national importance, let me allude briefly to local affairs.

Since I last addressed you the main sewerage system has been completed and now the council is considering the extension of the system on other streets of the town. I have noticed with a feeling of regret the petitions that have been presented to the council opposing the extension, and I hope the ratepayers will look at this matter from the proper standpoint, that of making the town healthy as well as modern. The cost is but little and the result in the end beneficial. It is to be hoped the town council, the members of which seem to be progressive, and anxious to promote the town's interest, will see that the streets are improved during the year. The necessity of this, I believe, has been sufficiently stamped upon their minds and will not be lost to memory.

As to our own affairs, as a Board, we have interested the council in several matters. The board drew the attention of the council to the advantages of collecting the taxes semi-annually and before another year has passed we hope the citizens of the town will be enjoying the benefits of that system. The attention of the council was also drawn to the possibility of securing several large manufactories, but as yet they are only within the range of possibility. Peterborough's natural advantages, railway facilities, etc., should be sounded throughout the country, in order that manufacturers may become familiar with the town. In this connection I might allude to the agitation to have manufacturing machinery exempted from taxation. The Board fully considered the matter and brought the question before the council who agreed that the proposal was an excellent one, but did not arrange for a private bill being introduced in the Legislature to empower the town to act, and as a result a bill cannot be introduced until the next session, when it is hoped this commendable piece of legislation will be carried out and enable the town to offer enticing inducements to manufactories.

I am glad to report that the council took prompt action in the matter of the change in the market rates. You are all familiar with the abolition of these rates by the railroads and no doubt realize the loss occasioned to merchants in the decrease of Saturday trade. The Board will be expected to consider the matter.

During the year two important personages visited the town, I refer to His Excellency, Lord Aberdeen, Governor General of Canada, and the Honorable A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals in the new Liberal Government. On both occasions banquets were given in their honour. Lord Aberdeen was present to open the Central Exhibition and view the sights of the town, and left greatly impressed with his visit. Mr. Blair, as Minister of Railways and Canals in the new Government, desired to make himself familiar with the route of the Trent Valley Canal and its advantages to the district through which it passed. At the banquet the history of the canal was reviewed and its many advantages emphasized.

I would not be yielding to my feelings if I did not allude to another important affair, the banquet tendered the citizens to the Hon. Geo. A. Cox. It can be said without fear of contradiction that no person has been more prominently identified with our best interests than Mr. Cox, and though not now a resident of the town, his former fellow-citizens have watched with pride his rapid progress in the industrial world, and to-day he stands at the top of the ladder. The banquet was one of the most successful ever held in town, and testified most emphatically that the citizens of Peterborough felt honoured in having Mr. Cox selected to occupy a seat in the Canadian Senate. The Board of Trade, I think, will endorse my statement when I say that the Government of Canada in choosing such a capable man did itself credit, and not only placed an honour upon Mr. Cox, but upon the business community of Ontario.

In April, 1896, Mr Stapleton Caldecott, ex-President of the Toronto Board of Trade, addressed a meeting under our auspices. His speech abounded in gems for business men, and he dealt with matters that interested us, and his remarks in every respect were of a most beneficial character, and will be long remembered.

Looking upon the year we as a Board are about to enter, I think the signs augur well for national prosperity. The agriculturist has been encouraged by the advance in the prices received for his grain, and feels that the period of depression is at an end. Not only was this satisfactory to the farmer, but it also pleased the merchant yes, and I may say the people generally. The development of the mineral resources of British Columbia and our own province has attracted the eyes of the world to Canada, and as a result a great amount of foreign capital has been invested within a few miles of Peterborough. In the township of Belmont mines are now in operation, and I consider the town should at once endeavour to attract the business accruing from these mines to Peterborough. Belleville, Madoc and Trenton have taken action in the matter, have waited upon the Provincial Government and urged assistance in the construction of reduction works, smelters and the establishment of assay offices. Peterborough is situated in the centre of this district and an effort should be made to secure the benefits offered by proximity to mining localities.

Again thanking you for the many kindnesses shown me during my term of office, I remain,

Your obedient servant,
B SHORTLY,
President of the Board of Trade.

THE SECRETARY'S REPORT

was made as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN,—I have the honour of presenting to you the eighth annual report of the Peterborough Board of Trade.

We have added several new members during the year and hope that the ensuing year will see a still larger increase in both members and interest in Board of Trade matters.

The past year has been a very trying one to merchants and manufacturers, on account of the Dominion elections, the result, being the first change in federal government for eighteen years, has had an unsettled effect upon business, and especially along such lines as are affected by tariff changes, and until our tariff and that of the United States are finally settled, business will naturally be very quiet.

Business throughout the Dominion has not been good. The number of failures for 1896 was 2,113, with $17,188,000 liabilities as compared with 1891, failures and $18,802,000 liabilities for previous year.

The mineral wealth of the Kootenay and Western Ontario districts has been greatly developed in the last year and over $5,000,000 has been taken out of the Kootenay district alone. A large amount of money has been invested in mines in those districts and if heavy losses should be made on mines of doubtful character, it will have the effect of checking capital being put into the mines for some time. Our milling industries have suffered greatly by fire this last year, and two of our finest flour mills have been burnt to the ground. These mills were of great importance to the town, and with the water power we have available on our river, it is to be hoped they will be replaced before very long.

The board has been in communication with several manufacturing concerns, but have not been able to bring any to our town. However, very few new industries have been started in the Dominion during the past year, and there is not much likelihood of them starting till the tariff of the Dominion Government and the United States have been settled.

The Board heard a very interesting address on April 8th, by Mr. Stapleton Caldecott, past President of the Toronto Board of Trade, on Board of Trade matters. It was listened to with great interest and if we had more addresses on the same line and from men of high business standing, I think that there would be more interest taken in Board of Trade matters.

The Board joined with the citizens in endeavouring to secure the Canadian Wheelmen's Association meet here, but, as you all know, met with poor success, and would suggest that a strong committee be appointed to take the matter in hand and push it for Peterborough in 1898.

Hoping that the year 1897 will prove a successful one for the Board and trade generally I am your obedient servant,

J. S. KNAPMAN,
Secretary.

Mr. Cahill in moving the adoption of the reports, complimented both on the comprehensive nature of their reports, but regretted that more prominence had not been given to the important mining interests of this immediate vicinity. We had as rich mines in our immediate vicinity as they had in Rossland and other points of the Province. (Applause.) Mr. Burnham seconded the motion, which was carried.

Mr. Fair reported that he had conferred with the Mayor and it had been arranged to hold a joint meeting of the committees re Trent Valley deputation on Saturday night.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The following officers for the year 1897 were elected:

President—John Carnegie.
Vice-President—W. Manson.
Secretary—H. S. Macdonald.
Chairman of Council—Peter Hamilton.

Committee to select members of Council—Messrs. Mulholland, Campbell and Burnham, to act with officers to strike the council and standing committees for the year, and report at the next meeting.

Mr. Fair moved, seconded by Mr. Rogers (F. J.), that the Board thank the council for the use of the chamber and the press for their reports. Carried.

The Sisters of Charity, "Grey Nuns," Guy street, Montreal, write: "Having made use of your "Quickcure" in our establishment, we are happy to add our testimony, also, in its favour." Nothing equals "Quickcure" as a dressing for Burns, Scalds, Cuts or Wounds; even Toothache need no more be dreaded.

THE POINTS DISCUSSED.

At this season old riders congregate and talk wheel before purchasing their new mounts.

Young men and riders who desire a particularly light wheel and one with a distinctive touch of grace and beauty, should examine the Stearns. Upon general lines one bicycle is much like another. It is, therefore, a matter in which Stearns & Co. are entitled to take no little pride that, out of the thousands of wheels which are shown, the Yellow Fellow stands out the most characteristic and distinguished bicycle in the market.

There is no message which brings more gladness to a true woman's heart than the sweet assurance that a little one is coming to bless her life and call her "Mother."

But in all her loving preparations for the expected little guest, a mother is liable to forget that her own health and physical condition is the most important provision which can possibly be made for the baby's happiness.

If the prospective mother is weak, nervous and unstable, this condition is bound to react on the baby's constitution. No daintiness of wardrobe will compensate for the loss of the natural, healthy vigor which a mother should bestow upon her baby.

As early as possible during gestation, the expectant mother should reinforce her bodily powers with the sustaining, health-bringing influence of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It gives natural, healthy vigor and elastic endurance to the organs specially concerned in motherhood. It makes the coming of baby perfectly safe and almost painless. It gives nerve-strength to the mother and vital hardihood to the child.

It is the only medicine devised by an educated physician specially to overcome all weaknesses and diseases of the feminine organs.

Mrs. Roscoe Vanover, of Robinson Creek, Pike Co., Ky., writes: "I wish to express my thanks to you for the good I have received from your 'Favorite Prescription.' I have used it at different times for the last five years, and always with the most gratifying results. But the greatest good received from the 'Favorite Prescription' was about four months ago when my last baby was born. I was afflicted with 'child-bed fever.' Instead of sending after a doctor I used the 'Prescription' and was cured. A lady friend of mine was similarly afflicted and sent after the doctor and took his remedies and died. I am 27 years old, weigh 147 pounds, the mother of five children, and am enjoying the best of health."

WINTER ROOT GRAFTING.

An Operation That May Yet Be Successful If Done at Once.

Winter root grafting may be performed from January to April with success, but it is best to have the work well finished by the 1st of April. The stocks or roots used are grown from seed for the purpose. Thrifty one-year roots are better and more easily worked than two-year roots. Do not use crab roots except for crab trees, for they make the large growing kinds dwarfish in habit. The roots should be dug and the scions cut in the fall, and should be kept dormant, buried in sawdust or moss in a very cold cellar or pit. The method of union is known as whip grafting and consists mainly in fitting the two parts so closely together as to insure a union of inner bark of both graft and stock. Pieces of the root are sometimes used to graft on, but the whole root is much the best. The cuts are made and put together as shown in Fig. 1. The stocks are washed to take off the grit that it may not dull the thin, sharp knife necessary for this operation. Their tap roots are shortened and the tops are removed at the collar of the root with a smooth, sloping, upward cut; in the center a downward cut leaves a tongue. The scion is cut on its lower end with a sloping, downward cut, and a tongue is made on to fit the tongue on the corresponding cut on the root. The two parts are then neatly joined together, the inner bark of both being in close contact on one side at least. The joint is then firmly wrapped either with narrow strips of waxed paper, or cotton cloth, or with cotton wrap drawn through melted grafting wax, and are then packed away in sand in a cool cellar. They should be planted in nursery rows in the spring, setting them in the soil as deeply as shown in Fig. 2. Handle them carefully.—Farm and Home.

FIG. 1. FIG. 2.

HE SCORED SALISBURY.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt Condemned What He Termed the Humiliation of Great Britain.

London, March 17.—The annual meeting of the National Liberal Federation opened at Norwich to-day. The Earl of Kimberley, late Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, made a vigorous protest before the meeting to the statement made yesterday by Lord Salisbury in the House of Lords in reply to a question regarding the Cretan situation, in which he referred the Earl of Kimberley to the speeches made in the French Chamber of Deputies by Premier Meline and Foreign Minister Hanotaux, setting forth the policy of the powers in the matter. France's policy, Lord Kimberley said, is therefore, according to Lord Salisbury, that of Great Britain, and is based upon the maintenance of the integrity of the Ottoman Empire.

Sir William Harcourt said of Lord Salisbury's statement that such a disgraceful, abject answer had never before been given by a British Minister to a British Parliament. The nation, he said, had never been exposed to a greater humiliation than it is now, when it is chained and coerced by the menace of wars in which it has no concern, to abstain from doing what it is under the highest obligations of honor to do, and compelled to do what its conscience condemns. Sir William denounced the integrity of the Ottoman Empire as a sham, every breach in which, he declared, was a benefit to mankind, and paid a tribute to Greece for the steps she had taken, while the concert of the poyers held aloof, for rescuing the Cretans from the urk. This brave champion the British nation was bidden in the name of Ottoman integrity to aid in crushing with the fiet of which the nation was so proud. "Is it not time," asked Sir William, "that the British people take a stand and demand to know what are the limits of British submission and cooperation in this anti-Grek crusade?" He defended the "fair offers" made by the Greeks in their repl yto the ultimatum of the powers, to which, he said, the only answer was a declaration that the blockade of Greece would be enforced. None knew, Sir William declared, wha a day might bring forth, but he prayed that the shame of a great fre nation being made an unwilling partner in an odious policy might yet be avoided.

The speech was throughout received with enthusiastic cheers, and is considered by far the most telling utterance on the subject yet made.

Vassos Will Not Withdraw.

Rome, March 17.—A despatch from Canea says the Cretan insurgents have declared that they will reject autonomy and offer all possible resistance to the occupation of the island by the powers. The despatch also says Col. Vassos, commanding the Greek army of occupation, is about to move his camp to the mountains of Sphakia, where he will fortify himself so that his position will be almost impregnable. He will not withdraw his troops from the island under any circumstances.

The Porte Accepts the Principle.

Constantinople, March 17.—The reply of the Porte to the note which was presented to the Turkish Government by the powers simultaneously with the presentation of the ultimatum of the European Governments to Greece, has been officially published. The Porte admits the principle of autonomy for Crete, but reserves discussion of the forms and details of such an administration with the diplomatic representatives of the powers, these details to be subordinate to the withdrawal of the Greek warships and troops from the island.

Will Declare War.

Vienna, March 17.—It is asserted in official quarters that Greece will declare war against Turkey.

Turkeys and Ducks.

The turkey is the most industrious forager of all the poultry family. They pick up the greater portion of their food when given the range of the farm, and when insects are plentiful they do no damage to the standing grain. Careful observers state the benefits the flock of turkeys do by destroying the grasshoppers and other insects injurious to the farm crops more than offsets the amount of grain they eat. The farmer should know that the difference in the large and small breeds is an important matter, and keep none but the improved breeds, thus bringing the cost of production down to the lowest sum when compared to the old fogy who thinks a "turkey is a turkey anyhow."

Ducks can stand the cold fairly well, and any kind of a building will serve for a flock of ducks in winter, but they should have a board floor covered with dry straw, or, if they can be procured, leaves from the forest are to be preferred. Ducks must have a dry place at night, as they are soon injured by dampness. They are sure to die of legweakness and rheumatism if kept on damp floors.

Keep the hens in health by making them scratch all grain fed out of straw and chaff. A few inches of straw on the floor to cause them to exercise beats all the medicines and condiments known to the poultry fraternity.—Wisconsin Agriculturist.

Toronto Junction, Mar. 15 (Special)—Mr. H. Playter, is not a difficult man to find as everybody here knows that he is foreman at No. 1 Fire Hall. He was the picture of health when called upon by your correspondent and told his story thus:

"In April 1896 I suffered from a severe attack of sciatica, affecting my left hip and leg to the tip of the toes. I suspected it came from some form of kidney trouble, and as they had been recommended I procured a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

At the end of the fourth day I was entirely relieved, but desiring a permanent cure I continued to use that and another box and am now perfectly cured and as well as ever in my life. A brother of mine living at Pine Orchard has been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Mrs. D. Says: "For years I have been nervous and weakly. I took one box of Miller's Compound Iron Pills and am now quite well and strong." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

CURED BY USING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

A PREACHER'S EXPERIENCE.

"Three months ago, I took a violent cold which resulted in an attack of acute bronchitis. I put myself under medical treatment, and at the end of two months was no better. I found it very difficult to preach, and concluded to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The first bottle gave me great relief; the second, which I am now taking, has relieved me almost entirely of all unpleasant symptoms, and I feel sure that one or two bottles more will effect a permanent cure. To all ministers suffering from throat troubles, I recommend Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—E. M. BRAWLEY, D. D., Dist. Secretary, Am. Bapt. Publication Society, Petersburg, Va.

MODEL $2,000 HOUSE.

AN ARTISTIC THOUGH NOT AN EXPENSIVE DWELLING.

New Ideas Run All Through This Economically Constructed House—Perspective View and Plans of the First and Second Floors.

It is artistic, though not expensive; attractive, yet practical; spacious and convenient of arrangement, yet economical in construction—this two thousand-dollar house of ten rooms, besides bath room, toilet room, halls and pantries, writes Walter J. Keith, in Ladies' Home Journal for March.

The first thing to be observed as the house is approached is the effect of the exterior. On the front is made the principal expenditure in the way of ornamentation, and the grouping of porch, balcony and dormer accomplishes the desired result. The steps and porch are broad, and as the house is entered the spacious effect is retained, for not only is the hall wide, but the rooms stretching out on either side form a most attractive vista.

Directly in front, as the hall is entered, is the main staircase ascending a few steps to a landing, whence it turns and finishes the run toward the front of the house. Underneath the staircase there is a large cloak closet, and the hall is flooded with light from the leaded sash windows which occupy the space either side of the entrance door.

The sitting room is of good size and occupies the most pleasant exposure. Being provided with a comfortable couch, easy-chairs, and the cozy ingle nook, with its cushioned seats and cheerful fire, it is rendered altogether complete. The reception room, across the hall, is also given space upon the front, and is easy accessible from the entrance. Back of the reception room is placed the dining room, to whih access is had from the kitchen through the butler's pantry, which, being properly arranged, is the delight of the housekeeper. So large is this pantry that it is possible to have the mixing-board, flour-bins, etc., placed in one end near the window, so that good light is insured for the work which must be done there.

The kitchen has also the recommendation of size, especially as as the room is made more available by places having been provided for the necessary furniture. There is a space in the entry for the refrigerator, so that the iceman, by his muddy boots, need not soil the kitchen floor each morning, as he will have no occasion to enter. Under the refrigerator is provides a drain to carry off the drip, thus avoiding a constantly overflowing ice-pan. The kitchen, it will be noticed, is in every way separated from the main part of the house by two doors, and not only that, but through the servants' hall access to the front door may be had by the servant without passing through any of the other apartments. The servants also go directly to their rooms by the back stairway without at any time entering the main part of the house.

On the second floor are provided three good-sized sleeping rooms, a nursery, or child's room, a general bath room and a private bath room. It will be noticed that the hall of the second floor is spacious, avoiding the cramped appearance so often seen in moderate-priced houses and yet effecting and economy of space to the greatest degree possible, as it is located almost in the centre of the house. This hall is lighted by a glass door, through which access is had to the balcony.

The largest and most pleasant chamber is designed for the occupancy of the owner. It is provided with a large closet and a broad seat, the cover of which is made to lift, providing an admirable place for laying away dresses and other articles of apparel.

Through an archway and a tiny hall the nursery in the rear is reached. It is also provided with a good closet for the accommodation of the children's clothing. This passage also gives access to the private bath.

From the rear hall the general toilet-room is reached. It is isolated somewhat from the main part of the house for convenience sake. Off this rear hall is a linen closet, providing ample space for the bed linen.

In the third storey there are provided two servants' rooms, one in each main gable, while between these rooms, and well-likhted by the front dormer, is ample space for storage of trunks, boxes, etc.

The house is warmed by a hot-air furnace, and the basement extends under the whole house and has a cemented floor. A little additional expenditure would install a hot water heating system, but on account of the compact nature of the building a furnace will be found satisfactory. A furnace, however, needs intelligent care and study—just as much as an engine—in order that it may be driven to the best advantage. It will not do when the weather turns very cold, with a strong north wind, to leave the fresh air intake pipe wide open, for it is absolutely certain that the strong rush of icy cold air could not be properly warmed. In such cases the outside pipe should be partially closed, and the cold air return pipe from the hall drawn upon to supply the hot-air pipes. No fear may be had as to proper ventilation at such times, for the leakage around doors and windows is much faster, and then the little ventilation pipes in the outside walls of each room leading to the special flue in the chimney will work harder than usual.

These ventilation pipes leading from each room to the basement, and thence into a special flue in the chimney, are very important factors in the successful working of a hot-air furnace, as is the cold-air return from the hall.

The plumbing is modern and up-to-date in every respect, the fixtures being all open and the bathtubs porcelain-lined. It does not pay, under any circumstances, in these times, to use copper-lined bathtubs. In the first place the difference in expense is trifling, and there is no comparison in the advantages of the former over the latter. Competition and skill have succeeded in giving us the benefit of luxurious plumbing fixtures for the price of the commonplace. Great as has been the improvement in the character and methods of house building in every branch during the last decade, in no respect has this advance been more apparent than in that of plumbing and plumbing fixtures.

In selecting colors for the exterior of this house consideration should be given to the location, the environments and the finish. Assuming that the lower portion of the building be clapboarded and the upper portion plastered, a deep Indian red may be used for the clapboards, with dark green trimmings for doors and sashes. The plastered portion may be of a mild yellow ochre color, or, perhaps, a gray green to match the roof, and the chimney painted with the red. This combination of color is most likely to suit the usual location. If, however, there are many full-grown trees in the immediate vicinity, a more cheerful scene can be applied by using yellow with a little red in it to give warmth; lighter in tone in the upper storey, and lighter yet, almost white, for the trimmings. The sashes, doors, and verandah, also balcony, may be of dark gray green.

A house which is dark in color is apt to look gloomy and damp in the shadow of many trees, but will look comfortable in an exposed situation, whereas a yellow house is apt to look glaring when not mellowed and subdued by surrounding foliage.

Color harmonies may be made in three shades of green or of yellow, or of brown. Color contrasts are red for the lower half of a house in combination with green above, and black for doors, sashes and blinds, with portions of yellow in the trimmings and panels of the doors; again, gray for the major portion of the building, with white trimmings and black sashes and doors. Blue and its shades are rarely used, principally because blue is not a durable color, and is one which rarely harmonizes with anything else.

IMPROVED FIREPLACE.

It Has Means for Conveying Waste Heat to Other Rooms.

Cheerful as is the open fireplace, it does not afford the most economical means of warming a room. A great deal of the heat generated there is usually wasted. But Oscar H. Brown, a farmer of Riverside, Me., has hit upon a plan which enables one to retain the charms of the time-honored institution and yet utilise heat which would otherwise be lost for the purpose of rendering other rooms in a house comfortable. A "flat coil" of large pipe is formed up so as to fit into the back of the fireplace. This coil is filled with water, and the latter is made to circulate through proper pipes running to radiators in other rooms, exactly as it is done with the special water heaters located in the cellars of some houses. This idea has been put into successful operation by the inventor, who has been able to warm a large dining room in this way. And he is now making arrangements to heat a sleeping room above in the same manner. Wood is the fuel which he uses; but he has also conceived the notion of a coal grate, made in attractive form, resting either on andirons or legs of its own, and provided with water compartments. This variation of the original scheme would allow the use of other fuel, and perhaps increase the heating capacity of a fireplace. It ought to be added that besides the pipes leading out from the heater and back again to it, there is another single one connecting with a tank above, which supplies water to make good any loss by leakage.—N. Y. Tribune.

Although a very busy man, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has found time in which to write a great book of over a thousand pages entitled, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in Plain English, or Medicine Simplified. Few books printed in the English language have reached so great a sale as has this popular work, over 680,000 copies having been sold at $1 50 each. The profits on this enormous sale having repaid its author for the great amount of labour and money expended on its production he has now decided to give away absolutely free, 500 000 copies of this valuable work, the recepient only being required to mail to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N Y., on which company he is president, 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only, and the book will be sent post-paid. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. It contains 1008 large pages, and over 300 illustrations, some of them in colours. The Free Edition is precisely the same as that sold at $1.50 except only that the books are bound in strong manilla paper covers, instead of cloth. It is not often that our readers have an opportunity to obtain a valuable book on such generous terms, and we predict that few will miss availing themselves of the unusual and liberal offer to which we have called their attention.

Spot Cash---One Price---Money Back If You Want It.

THIS IS OUR NEW METHOD
OF DOING BUSINESS.

OLD CASH-AND-CREDIT SYSTEM DONE AWAY WITH.

It is a well-known fact that a great proportion of the losses in any credit business are caused by about four main items:
1st. Bad Debts. 2nd. Interests on accounts carried.
3rd. Expenses of collecting and keeping track of Accounts.
4th. Losses sustained through not being able to take cash Discounts when buying stock.

These losses, in the aggregate, are quite a heavy item, and are all a direct charge on any business run on a Cash and Credit basis, and must, of necessity, come out of the profits. In marking goods one has to figure on the cost of giving credit just the same as for rent, taxes, help, etc. For example:

Take a business where there is an average credit given of $5000.00; that is, at times books show $6000.00, and at other times accounts would be reduced to $4000.00, leaving the average on books for a year about $5000.00.

Losses from Bad Debts would be not less than.....	$150 00
Cost of Stationery, Postage, Extra Help, Books, etc	250 00
Interest on average of Accounts, ($5000.00) at Bank rate 8 per cent.....	400 00
Losses through not having $4000.00 in cash to take Discounts in buying stock 5 per cent	200 00
Total.....	$1100 00

Or to do an $5000.00 credit business there is an extra cost over cash of $1100.00, or an expense of 14 per cent.

In comparing our own experience with other merchants we find that as near as we can approximate the above figures are correct.

After looking at these facts we have determined to live up to the experience gained, and dispense with credit altogether, believing that a Spot Cash business will be mutually beneficial. It is an undoubted fact that the man who sells the cheapest is the man who sells for Cash—selling for Cash we can and will sell at lower prices than ever before.

Buying where credit is given you not only have to pay for your own goods but have the extra cost of paying for credit business losses.

In marking our Spring Stock of Hats we have kept in view the ONE PRICE, SPOT CASH rule which we now adopt. All old customers, both Cash and Credit, and all those who will favour us with their patronage, will find that our goods are being sold at fully from 10 to 15 per. cent. lower prices than formerly, and the high quality of stock strictly maintained. In stopping this leakage customers will be money in pocket and we will be better off.

CLEANLINESS IN CHEESMAKING.

AN IMPORTANT PAPER ON THE SUBJECT.

Read by Mr. Stewart E. Payne at the Annual Meeting of the Peterborough Cheesemakers' Association — Three-fold Reasons Presented.

According to the papers and discussion at the annual meeting of the Cheesemakers' Association, the key note for success struck, was cleanliness in the care of milk, from the milk maid's pail to the curing room racks, and the paper of Mr. Payne, being so pertinent and concise an appeal in this direction it is given, in extenso, below:

THREE DEMANDS FOR CLEAN FACTORIES.

1. Our own health demands it.
2. The health of those who consume our products demands it.
3. The flavour of our goods demands it.

Our own health demands it—decency, respectability, civilization, and also other forces of human life demand cleanliness; still notwithstanding this we are apt to remain careless, looking at it from such general standpoints. A man may be never so dirty so long as his work is among the soil, among coal, or following the threshing machine, and yet be healthy with this kind of dirt, providing it be not rubbed in too thoroughly, simply because he has clean pure air to breathe.

Many things among which men work are not ready to decompose, or ferment, hence they do not affect the air we breathe to any very considerable extent. This cannot be said of milk; although clean, sweet and delicious when drawn from the cow, yet it contains elements which have affinity for anything and everything almost with which they may come in contact. It cannot remain anytime without undergoing changes except under special conditions, therefore it becomes difficult to keep anything clean in which milk is kept.

Perhaps there is nothing that affords as good conditions as does milk for the growth of all kinds of disease-producing germs. It has many times been known to carry diseases of various kinds, hence a building or utensils smeared with milk or whey, or any mixture of them, each day for six days of the week, and a double dose every Monday, for twenty-six days of the month, and this continued by a six months repeater for the season, becomes a dirty and unhealthy place for a person to work in for ten or fifteen hours of the day, to say nothing about waiting on smoky curds for an additional three or four hours.

But citizens will say, does this give of things? And the answer will come to some, yes, and to others, no, according to what they have seen in the factories which they have visited. There are very few factories which are not cleaned in part, perhaps, daily, but thoroughly never; and for the want of this thorough cleansing occasionally, things begin to smell quite offensive; the air becomes vitiated and remains so daily, and thus we inhale it surcharged with its poisonous germs. We do not find this of much injury to us for a couple of years, but eventually it must tell the tale of failing health, for which we are to blame who neglect.

2.—The health of those who eat our products demands it. I presume, to begin, that none of us are so barbarous as not to have an interest in the health of those who eat our products, simply because they live so many miles across the sea. As a matter of business it is to our interest to have our consumers as healthy as possible, for the faster our goods are consumed the busier are we kept.

It would be a serious matter to us if in only a few instances our dairy products should be found unwholesome. This would raise a suspicion which would be of considerable injury.

Since milk is so very easily infected by disease germs and filth so readily produces them, it is therefore becoming of us to keep our factories clean, yea highly important of us to have a scrupulous care that our reputation be not injured to any extent in this manner.

We should aim to send our cheese out of our factories wholesome, so that no one would be running any risk in eating it. It would seem to me impossible for cheese or any other production of milk to be wholesome if made in a factory not properly cleaned. I have sometimes thought that our government would do well to have someone appointed to inspect the sanitary condition of our factories. While we have heard of no serious disaster in in this direction, yet it is not necessary to wait until one may come for to show us each the necessity of thorough cleaning. Strangers visiting our factories are very much impressed with the condition they find things in. We have heard them to remark "I would not care to eat cheese out of that factory." I have met some who seemed to have received the opinion that a cheese factory must of necessity be a dirty place, when the fact is it should be as clean a place as can be found.

DAIRYMEN SHOULD BE PLEASED that no foul smell is of necessity attached to their business, but rather that things may, and should be sweet and clean.

It should not need very much argument to convince you and me that if our goods are wholesome they must be made in clean surroundings; also that it will be to our interests to have the surroundings clean and goods wholesome.

3.—The flavour of our goods demands it. We have reached the time when we may say that our understanding of texture and body in cheese is about complete. There may still be some little improvement made in this direction, but it surely must be only a little. But when we touch on flavour we touch as it were a chord that is so frequently out of tune that few of us at best would venture to say just when it is in tune. Still, be this as it may, we should know or set ourselves about knowing, for it is obviously plain that it is difficult for us to produce or know when we have produced it, if we do not know it when it is produced—I mean we each should know a good flavour when we find it.

It is my opinion that we now get a lot of milk about as perfect as we ever shall—milk of fine flavour, well aired, in clean vessels—milk having the quality within it of producing a cheese of a flavour that is really first-class—that will score 45 points out of a possible 45 on flavour, and educate us on the point of flavour in cheese. But what about receiving milk of such good quality into a building foul with taints? Can it possibly retain this fine delicate flavour, of which it was capable had it been carried through the process of manufacturing in a favourable condition? We may say much to patrons about sending in clean, fine flavoured milk, about keeping cans clean, milking in clean stables, etc.; but what will our arguments amount to if our own work does not afford an example of what is needed? We ourselves should lead in what we advocate if we would lead anyone to believe we mean what we say. More in cheese by buyers of late than was eight or ten years ago. Flavour was then scarcely noticed, except it was an off flavour. Now things are changed and these are readily called if of poor flavour, and this is quite right, for if anything we eat is of poor flavour and all other qualities are fine, it is of little value to us.

Starters are now used by most of us to a greater or less extent. These starters usually stand for twenty-four hours in the factory and are liable to a very great degree to become tainted with an foul smell with which the air of our buildings may have become tainted. Should a starter become tainted and then used it of course inoculates all the milk into which it is put, and if any portion of the same starter be used upon other days it repeats the taint until some break is made, thus the flavour becomes more intense day by day. I know that the makers are not in all cases responsible for the factories being poorly cleaned, as some factories are so poorly fitted up that they cannot be kept clean at all easily, and when one has a full day's work outside of cleaning there are very great temptations to neglect it if not easily attended to. Leaking vats, poor floors and trenches are some of the things that make a factory hard to be kept clean. If these fittings are right and proper habits have been formed of handling things, it is not a great task to keep all sweet and clean thus making the products much more wholesome and our business free from any danger of reproach.

Eighteen Months Trying to Get Cured—Had the Best Doctors—He Found What he Wanted in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Goderich, March 8 (Special)—A case of great interest here just now is that of Mr. Alexander J. Sharkey, who for some time has been an extreme sufferer from rheumatism. His statement to the correspondent is as follows:

"For eighteen months I was a victim of rheumatism and during that time was trying every means to cure it. I had the best doctors in Canada, and took their prescriptions with faith and patience.

"I got tired at last for I found the disappointment nearly as killing as the disease.

"But one friend wiser than the others convinced me that my disease must be cured by the way of the kidneys and recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I have used two boxes of these pills to effect a perfect cure and I don't care who knows it."

Weak back means weak kidneys.
The kidneys are talking trouble.
Here is some Norwood talk:

Mr. George Taylor, well known in Norwood, has this to say about Doan's Kidney Pills:—

"For a great many years I have been a sufferer from kidney disease. Terrible pain in my side and back made my life a burden. The urine was a dark wine colour, and I was greatly troubled with frequent urination. My sleep was destroyed because of this annoying trouble.

"I have taken scores of medicines, but could get no relief, and thought that I would never be cured. Happily I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, and got a box at J. C. Moffatt's drug store, and have continued their use for one month.

"I am thankful to say as a result that they have fixed me up. I feel like another person. I do not now have to get up at night, and in fact am entirely cured.

"I think they are the grandest medicine ever placed before the public, and I heartily recommend them to all sufferers from kidney disorder of any kind."

Mr. E. W. HAZLETT, Reeve of Chatham Township, Kent County, Ont., says: "My daughter has been very weakly for some years; she was very pale and always felt tired; she was prevailed upon by a friend to try a box of Miller's Compound Iron Pills. I must say it was a good investment; she at once began to improve. The colour came to her cheeks, she got stronger rapidly, and now is quite well." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

Turks Erecting Fortifications on the Gulf of Arta.

VIOLATION OF THE BERLIN TREATY

Greeks Protest Against It and Express Indignation at the Supineness of the Powers—Cretans Notified Officially of the Autonomy Proclamation—Latest News.

Athens, March 19.—A new feature in the situation has developed which threatens to result in serious complications. The Turks are engaged in rapidly constructing fortifications on the Turkish side of the Gulf of Arta. This work is in direct violation of the provisions of the Treaty of Berlin. The Greek Government has made a vigorous protest to the powers against this action on the part of Turkey. Great indignation is felt here that the powers should stand supinely by and see Turkey violate the Berlin Treaty, but the impression grows that to gain their own ends the Christian nations of Europe will submit to anything in their support of the Turks.

The first regiment of infantry started to-day for Larissa. Prayer was offered prior to their departure, which has been witnessed by large crowds of cheering spectators.

It is rumored here that Russia is urging Turkey to attack Greece, offering financial assistance to the Porte if this is done. Russia believes that the first battle would result in a disastrous defeat of the Greek troops and she could then call off the Turks and propose terms that Greece would be bound to accept.

Gone to Notify Vassos.

Canea, March 19.—An Italian officer has started for the camp of the Greek troops with instructions to notify Col. Vassos, their commander, that the blockade of the island will begin at 8 o'clock Sunday morning, in accordance with the proclamation issued by the foreign admirals.

Preparations are being made for the arrival of the foreign troops.

The admirals have had another interview with the insurgent leader at Akrotiri. They handed to the Cretans copies of the document proclaiming that an autonomous government would be constituted for the island, but this intelligence was not well received. The rebel leaders did not hesitate to express their hostility to the plan of the powers to leave them under the suzerainty of the Sultan. They defiantly declared they were done with Turkey, and added that they would resist to their last drop of blood any such regime as the powers proposed. Their desire was to have the island annexed by Greece, and they would hold out until this became an established fact.

No Sign of a Back Down.

Athens, March 19.—The Cabinet assembled in council last evening and sat until 2 o'clock this morning. After exhaustive discussion of the question, it was decided to recall the Greek warships Alpheios and Peneus from Crete and send them to Volo, Thessaly; and it was also decided to push forward the reinforcements of the Greek troops on the Turkish frontier with all possible expedition.

It is officially stated that only 1500 out of the 60,000 army reserve men called out have failed to respond, thus setting at rest the stories circulated of wholesale failure to answer the call to arms.

They Expect War.

Telegrams from the Macedonian frontier describe the situation as one of the utmost activity and of expectation of war at an early date. The Greeks are working hard to improve the roads.

All the outposts are connected by telegraph with headquarters at Larissa, where searchlights have been fixed. Both Greeks and Turks are suffering much from the cold. The Crown Prince is expected daily. Telegrams from the European capitals indicate that the powers are still negotiating for the joint occupation of Crete with 10,000 troops.

Col. Vassos' Forces.

Canea, March 19.—The camp of Col. Vassos consists of 2000 regulars, 500 volunteers and about 17,000 insurgents.

The French colony is preparing a protest to the Government at Paris against the proposed occupation of Candia by a British detachment. The only ground of protest stated is that Candia, besides being the central telegraph station for communication with France, is also the chief trading centre. Almost all of the merchants and exporters in Crete are Frenchmen.

More Promises by the Trickster.

Constantinople, March 19.—The Sultan has summoned a grand council of Ministers to meet shortly at the Yildiz Kiosk to consider a scheme of reforms proposed by His Majesty. This, it is reported, comprises a constitution on the model of Midhat Pasha's and is intended to forestall any possible action of the powers in the direction of a peremptory demand for better government in the Turkish provinces.

A military commission is discussing the expediency of summoning the last line of reserves, which would bring the whole number under orders to more than half a million. Additional ordnance has been sent to the Dardanelles, which are being constantly strengthened to the complete neglect of the Bosphorus.

Greeks Plotting in Constantinople.

London, March 19.—A despatch from Galatz, Roumania, says it is reported there in Greek circles that a plot is hatching among the Greeks at Constantinople, where there are 20,000 well-armed Greeks, to revolt against the Government. It is added that there are few Turkish troops now at Constantinople except the Sultan's bodyguard, and that it would be impossible to recall hurriedly the troops from the Greek frontier in the event of a revolt at Constantinople. A large body of Greeks, which recently left Galatz ostensibly for Greece, is now said to be really destined for Constantinople.

Rumors From Larissa.

Berlin, March 19.—According to a despatch received here to-day from Larissa, the Turkish consuls in Thessaly, having pointed out to the Turkish Government the threatening attitude of the Greeks, have been authorized by the Porte, if they consider it advisable, to vacate their posts and return to Constantinople.

GAUDAUR AND ROGERS.

They May Row at Worcester for $1000 a Side or at Orillia on May 24 for Half the Stake.

Orillia, March 19.—Erastus Rogers of Worcester, Mass., has challenged Champion Gaudaur. The challenge was reported in the despatches of Monday as an offer to row for a purse, but a letter on Tuesday from Worcester says that Rogers is prepared to row for a stake of $500 a side. Nothing is said about a forfeit being posted, and champions are not accustomed to take notice of challenges not issued in proper form. Rogers wants to row a two-mile race—a new course for a championship, by the way—and offers $100 expenses to Gaudaur to go to Lake Quinsigamond.

On his own course, and in first-class condition Rogers should give the champion a hard argument for two miles. The latter, however, will not row at Worcester for $500 a side, but expresses a willingness to go there if Rogers will double the stake. Otherwise he will insist on the Saratoga man coming to Orillia. The distance named, though entirely new for a championship race, will be accepted by the champion. If Rogers cannot raise $1000 and has to come to Orillia the champion will ask him to row on May 24.

Talking of Rogers, the Saratoga oarsman, Champion Gaudaur says that he is very fast for a short distance, and this is probably the reason he has stipulated for a two-mile race. "I would have to train just as carefully as I did for Stanbury to beat Rogers at that distance. I could, no doubt, beat him at any distance, long or short, but if he were in first-class shape, and I a little off, he would win."

The champion does not fancy rowing a short distance for any championship. He is pre-eminently a long distance man. His great staying powers are what have landed him at the top of the tree.

AN UNEXPECTED OPENING.

Politicians in Winnipeg Speculating as to How Hugh John Macdonald's Chances in Dennis.

Winnipeg, March 19.—(Special.)—Though Mr. Crosby, the member for Dennis in the Manitoba Legislature, only died this morning, already the politicians are predicting that this unexpected vacancy will give Hugh John Macdonald, the new leader of the Provincial Opposition, the desired opportunity of obtaining a seat in the Legislature. Dennis is a pretty evenly divided constituency politically, Crosby being a Patron, and slipping in at the last election between the Conservative and Liberal candidates. The Opposition is so eager to get Hugh John in the House that there is little doubt he will be the chosen candidate and Dennis is likely to be the scene of a hot election very shortly.

THE FULLER TO SAIL AGAIN.

Blake Bram Has a Chance to Live Until Next Fall—Vessel Going to the Cape.

Boston, March 19.—The barquentine Herbert Fuller, on board of which was enacted the horrible tragedy in June last, will not be detained by the Government, as was expected, pending action upon the exceptions filed by the counsel for Thomas Bram before the Supreme Court. The exceptions may not be considered until next fall, in which event Bram will be reprieved until the hearing. The Fuller, which has been in New York since Feb. 2, has been chartered to load a cargo for Port Elizabeth, Cape of Good Hope, and will sail from New York in about two weeks. An entirely new crew will be shipped. Capt. McLaughlin, in command of the vessel when she put in to Halifax, will be superseded by Capt. Ernest Nash, a brother of the murdered captain.

LOCAL LEGISLATURE.

Yesterday's Sitting Was Short and of the Quiet Order.

MR. CONMEE DISCUSSED AGAIN.

The Member for Algoma Explains About the Incident of Last June—It Was the Lawyer's Fault—The Mail Called Down—Little Business Done.

Toronto, March 19.—Very little business was done at this afternoon's session, the time bing principally occupied in considering the position of Mr. Conmee on account of his resignation as a member of the Legislature when he contested Nipissing for the Commons having failed to reach the Speaker. The matter was fully threshed out, the result arrived at being that Mr. Conmee had committed no act that interfered with his legal standing as a member of the House.

WANTED MORE INFORMATION.

Mr. Marter had a grievance in connection with a return he had moved for, showing the names of all persons indebted to the province since the last return of the kind. He claimed that the return was defective, as it did not go back far enough. Hon. J. M. Gibson said that the return was strictly in accordance with the terms of Mr. Marter's motion.

A MAIL MISREPRESENTATION.

Mr. Charlton called the attention of the House to an article in The Mail of the 15th respecting an interview of liquor men with the members for Toronto, which stated that he was present as an intruder. He explained that he had gone, thinking it was an interview with the Government, and finding it otherwise, was about to withdraw, but had been asked by Mr. Marter to remain. This statement was corroborated by Mr. Marter.

THIRD READINGS.

The following bills were read a third time:

To amend the Agriculture and Arts Act.—Mr. Dryden.

To consolidate the debt of the village of Port Elgin.—Mr. McNaughton.

To improve the Trades Dispute Act, 1894.—Mr. Dryden.

Mr. Marter asked a series of questions as to the purchases and sales, outstanding accounts, etc., of the Central Prison industries, the information being furnished in detail by Hon. Mr. Davis.

MR. CONMEE'S CASE.

Mr. Whitney moved for a return of all correspondence between the Government or any official and James Conmee, or any person on his behalf, concerning the question of his becoming a candidate for Nipissing in the House of Commons, and his resignation of his seat in the Legislature, and including copy of any resignation sent in by the said James Conmee to any official, or to any person.

In speaking to the motion, he recalled the reply given by the Premier to his former enquiries on the subject to the effect that Mr. Conmee's resignation had been sent to his solicitor, but never forwarded to the Speaker. Whether that absolved Mr. Conmee or not depended entirely on the instructions given to his solicitor. He thought the Attorney-General ought to give the House the reasons why the solicitor had not forwarded the resignation to the Speaker.

The Attorney-General said he had not spoken to the solicitor on the subject and the latter had not furnished him with any reasons for his action. He quite concurred in the opinion that had Mr. Conmee been elected for Nipissing he could not have held the seat under the circumstances. Under the law there was no provision that a member of the Ontario House, wishing to resign, should consult the Government, or send his resignation to them. The Government had had neither communication with Mr. Conmee or the Speaker upon the subject, either official or otherwise, before the Dominion election.

Mr. Conmee said the Opposition leader was within his rights in calling attention to the subject, and he could not complain of his manner in doing so. He had left his resignation with his solicitor to forward to the Speaker. He supposed he had done so, and was as much surprised as anybody to learn that it had not been done. Mr. Kerr, his solicitor, claimed that, from some remarks of his in the course of the campaign, he thought it was doubtful whether he would go to a nomination, and so had withheld the resignation. There was no intention on his part to do anything contrary to law.

Mr. Matheson thought that Mr. Conmee ought to go to his constituents again for re-election, and he regretted the action of the Attorney-General in the matter.

Hon. G. W. Ross said no doubt Mr. Matheson regretted a great many things. Probably he regretted that the Attorney-General was there at all. His regret went for very little.

Mr. Howland wanted to know whether it was right for the legal administrators of this province to throw contempt on the constitution of the Dominion.

The Attorney-General said Mr. Howland was drawing upon his imagination for his law. If he were to urge before any court that Mr. Conmee's seat in the Legislature was vacated he would be laughed at. He (the Attorney-General) had simply advised Mr. Conmee as to what the law was.

After some further remarks from Mr. Conmee, the motion was withdrawn.

Mr. Smith's bill respecting roads laid out along sidelines of townships, and Mr. Crawford's amendment to the Assessment Act respecting the taxation of leasehold property held by corporations were read a second time.

Sour

Stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour with severe pains across my shoulders, and great distress. I had violent nausea which would leave me very weak and faint, difficult to get my breath. These spells came oftener and more severe. I did not receive any lasting benefit from physicians, but found such happy effects from a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I took several bottles and mean to always keep it in the house. I am now able to do all my own work, which for six years I have been unable to do. My husband and son have also been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla—for pains in the back, and after the grip. I gladly recommend this grand blood medicine." MRS. MISPLACED SYMPATHY

OCCASION brings out spasmodic attacks of righteous indignation over some great breach of the canons of humanity, as involved in the relations of man to man. The beastly prize fight in Nevada is a peg upon which an immense deal of moralising will be hung. That it was a brutal exhibition of brute strength all will agree, but that it was brutalising is not so clear. The people that participated in it and the people that witnessed it could hardly have intensified the brutal instincts with which they entered the ring and took their places in their seats. The affair could hardly have made them much worse. As to the thousands and tens of thousands who had a share in the wide spread interest the event excited, they were moved by various considerations—sympathy with the respective nationality of the contestants, sympathy with the decenter blackguard of the two; and, doubtless, myriads who, in the interest of the moment read with avidity the detailed and circumstantial reports of the "mill," would have shrunk with horror from witnessing the affair. As to the humanity involved in the mutual treatment of each other by the two toughs, a good deal of feeling, that might better be shown in a better cause will be expressed. The men who pummelled each other apparently so unmercifully will scoff at the sympathy expressed for their suffering. They didn't suffer; they are not troubled with fine feelings, either morally or physically, and it is possible that neither of them felt anything in the way of what may be called suffering from the majority of blows given and received, and the day after neither of them felt none the worse physically than if they had passed through a hotly contested game of Rugby football. Football and lacrosse, both recognized as legitimate branches of sport, seem to sensitive spectators to be rough and brutal, but they are not so to the participants, who in the eagerness of the struggle and the excitement of the game do not feel, in the real sense, the pain of the accidental blows and rough usage they sometimes receive. But there is a wide gulf between prize fighting and these games, when properly played; nothing can make prize fighting anything but a low, degraded and brutal business.

While the papers will be flooded with letters and pulpits grow eloquent over the horrors and inhumanity of the prize ring, there are countless other practises of "man's inhumanity to man" that bring intense suffering, repulsive to the instincts of rightly attuned feelings of humanity. The injustice, the wrong, the oppression, that are taking place in countless forms in our midst, are far better excuses for arousing our pity. What is the banging about suffered by two great, strong brutes in the prize ring, gilded, as it is, by a certain degree of pluck in their gruesome work, to the hard-drawn-out agony of patient suffering felt by tens of thousands of weary, pale and sad women, whose woes inspired Hood's immortal and infinitely sad and suggestive "Song of the Shirt?" Under hard taskmasters, women make shirts and garments for remuneration that hardly keeps wearied soul and body together. The "upper-cuts," "jolts" and "jabs" that Corbett and Fitzsimmons exchanged were mere "love-taps" in the matter of inflicting suffering to the paralysing fatigue that is felt by girls in shops in the cities, who have to keep on their feet from ten or twelve we ry hours, with the added cruelty of fines inflicted, by relentless proprietors for real or fancied breaches of the inhuman rules that the commercial taskmasters impose. And instances are on record where girls, tired in body and soul, have come home at the end of the week with fifty cents as the result of a week's slavish work, that has, perhaps, netted her employer ten times that many dollars. Things like this make one's blood boil. And they are only a type of conditions, that prevail in a thousand varying forms, of the infinite inhumanity that heartless humanity imposes on its fellows. Persons write letters and drop inky tears over the inhumanity of a pugilistic blackguard getting a bloody nose and give never a thought to the thousand times greater crimes that stain the transactions of every day life all around us. We have opportunities for showing kindness and sympathy to suffering every day, but the opportunity is too common to be appreciated. We can, however, slop over with maudlin pratings of "humanity" over two wretches who would mock at the misplaced sympathy bestowed upon them. We are too prone to neglect the chances of being inhuman that may lie next door, and go to Nevada for a stimulant for crocodile tears.

The sooner you begin to fight the fire, the more easily it may be extinguished. The sooner you begin taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for your blood-disease, the easier will be the cure. In both cases, delay is dangerous, if not fatal. Be sure you get Ayer's and no other.

STONY LAKE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

At a meeting of the patrons of Stony Lake Dairy Company, held at the factory on the 13th instant, for the purpose of hiring a cheesemaker and other business, Mr. William Crow resigned his offices of director, salesman and president. On motion Mr. W. H. Wilson was elected chairman and Mr. David Drain was elected to fill the vacancy in the directorship vacated by Mr. Crow, and Mr. William Miles elected salesman and John R. Miles was elected president. Mr. A. S. Grant was engaged as cheesemaker for the season of 1897.

The Fowlds Bros. have bought up nearly all the saw logs and stuff taken out around the upper part of Stony Lake this season.

Mrs. John Drain and her son David and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nixon have been visiting in Millbrook the past few days.

WOMEN IN BUSINESS.

The "new woman" is generally a theme for good-natured baddinage and more or less humorous jocularity, but it appears that she is becoming a fact and a factor to be dealt with by the lords of creation in the race for bread. The recent "mill" in Nevada brought ladies (so-called) into the fistic arena, as competitors in gruesomely morbidly curiosity with the toughs of the male persuasion; and yesterday a female commercial traveller with the regulation "grip" and a modest air of business alertness, was to be seen entering grocery shops in town, exhibiting her samples and soliciting orders for pickles with as much confidence, and as much success, as her male cognors. The latest departure for the ladies is the organization of a gold-mining company. Toronto is the headquarters, and a British Columbia gold mine is to be the theatre of operations. Miss Clara Brett Martin, the lady lawyer, whose plucky fight for admission to the bar is admired, is the legal adviser of the new company, and a Miss Leigh-Spencer, a well-known mining broker of Vancouver, is the organizer. Blocks of stock will be placed on the market in a short time. If the members of the new company show as much expertness in reaching the rocky pockets of gold as the average woman shows in working her way to her husband's or father's pockets, the new company may look for a successful existence. Women are not generally regarded as possessing speculative tendencies, but the proverbial anxiety of the sex to risk the problematic possibilities of the matrimonial state, would indicate that she is not averse to—in the commercial slang of the day—"taking the chances." Seriously, however, many women are well adapted to business, though custom and circumstances have restrained the exercise of their business ability. Many a man who has had ruinous experience of the bankrupt court, now knows that, if he had taken his wife's advice, he would have prospered, while, scorning or ignoring that advice, he has failed. Women have wonderfully correct intuitions and they generally size up a situation that affects the material condition of themselves and those dear to them with surprising exactness; and, in nine cases out of ten, when her advice is neglected she has the satisfaction, not less dear to the female than to other hearts, of indulging in the pardonable boast—"I told you so." In our colleges women have shown that they often win in the race against their male competitors. They stick closer to their work and are less distracted by dissipating occupations and the favourite adjunct to student life—sowing wild oats. Then, if they succeed in this sphere, why not in the management of business concerns? And why should they not have the same right of hastening to become rich as the men? Mankind will ungrudgingly permit women to toil in what is patronisingly denominated "her sphere," at remuneration that makes the dividing line between bare existence and starvation very dimly defined. Are men to monopolize the pursuit of cent. per cent. profits in speculative enterprises while women are to be doomed to everlasting chant, "The Song of the Shirt?" The conditions of the world are changing. Men become less able day by day to provide for the maintenance of the woman-kind dependant—according to past conditions—upon them and it is no surprise that the gentler sex is inclined to reach out into the domain of business and make themselves self-supporting and independent. And why not gold mining as well as millinery; why not the broker business as well as bonnets?

THE ESSENTIALS TO SUCCESS.

Whatever opinions may have been held by the public generally with regard to the possibility of establishing a permanent paying business on the lines chosen by the Temperance and General Life when that company was organized, there can be no doubt now with regard to that matter, for that company has made remarkable strides in establishing itself in the confidence of the public. The confidence it has secured is entirely well deserved confidence, for no company has a cleaner or better record and no company tries harder to meet the wants of its patrons.

The care and economy with which it is managed are admitted on all hands and its growth has been as rapid as care and economy would admit. Those companies have built best that have pursued a steadily progressive course, avoiding doubtful risks, deceptive methods and dangerous, because uncertain securities. The record made by this company proves it to have been unusually careful and fortunate in selecting its risks and making its investments.

"77" FOR GRIP

"Afraid-of-a-Cold."

The wise man at this time of the year gives much thought to over-coats, over-shoes and umbrellas and other things, which insure safety in spite of changes in the weather. Among the other things is a vial, of Humphreys' "77" for Colds, in the pocket.

They find that other preventive measures may be forgotten—that mistakes may be made about the weather—that exposure is often unavoidable, but "77" in the pocket meets all emergencies.

A certain proportion of the people are always afraid of catching Cold or Grip. The usual line of treatment prescribed by them is, that easily spoken injunction: "take care of themselves." Circumstances are not always favourable for following this good advice—something more is wanted and it is found in "77." It is the only thing that these "afraid-of-a-cold" people can find, that will prevent Colds and Grip.

"77" always breaks up stubborn Colds that "hang on."

MRS. STERNAMAN'S CASE.

Attorney Thayer Thinks He Can Get Judge Coxe's Decision Reversed by the Court of Appeal.

Buffalo, March 19.—Wallace Thayer, attorney for Mrs. Olive Sternaman, who is confined in the Erie County Jail on a charge of murdering her husband, and, who, the Canadian authorities are endeavoring to extradite, yesterday afternoon procured from Justice Lambert in Special Term an order appointing A. T. Thompson, a barrister of Cayuga, Ont., commissioner to take testimaony of important witnesses in the case for use in the action brought by Mrs. Sternaman against the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company for the recovery of $1000 on a policy of insurance on her husband's life.

If the staements made to the court by Attorney Thayer are true, the evidence secured from these witnesses ought to have an important bearing on the case of murder which the Canadian Government is trying to make against Mrs. Sternaman.

The witnesses whose testimony Mr. Thayer wants are Philip Paterson Park and Thomas TiptonSteele Harrison, the doctors who made the post mortem examination on the ody of the deceased; Eliza Jane Sternaman, mother of the deceased, and William Hodgson Ellis, the chemist who examined the stomach after the post mortem. Attorney Thayer claims that these witnesses can testify to facts which will show eyond any doubt that the woman is not guilty of the crime of murder. The order of the court provides that Barrister Thompson shall begin his work on April 5. The evidence is to be taken in Toronto.

Mr. Thayer said to-day that the appeal from Judge Coxe's order extraditing Mrs. Sternaman will be argued before the Circuit United States Court of Appeals in New York city in April. Mr. Thayer is confident that he can get Judge Thayer's ruling reversed.

The treaty between the United States and England provides that extradition cannot be effected unless a prima facie case is made out against the defendant. Mr. Thayer claims that thus far the Canadian authorities have made out nothing but suspicion. "Mrs. Sternaman is not guilty of the crime," insisted Mr. Thayer.

THE TEST SATISFACTORY.

First Clean-Up of Ore at the Deloro Mines Made Yesterday—Officials of the Company Won't Give Details.

Marmora, Hastings County, Ont., March 18.—(Special.)—The first clean-up of ore at the Deloro Mines mill was made to-day. The officials of the Canadian Gold Fields Company, who own the property, stated that the mill run turned out most satisfactorily, but they refused to divulge the exact results thereof.

It is understood, however, that the run turned out much after the manner of the five-ton test made in London, Eng., over a year ago, and before the company began their $2,000,000 operations here.

The London test, it will be remembered, was reported exclusively by The World, and saved 92 per cent. of the gold at a cost of $2 per ton. If, as is believed, the run at the new Deloro mill gave the same results, the future of Hastings County as a mining region is assured, for the millions of tons of mispickled or arsenic-impregnated pyrites in this region may be now mined and treated at a handsome profit.

POVERTY OF THE BLOOD.

A TROUBLE THAT IS MAKING THE LIVES OF THOUSANDS MISERABLE.

It Brings in its Train, Nervousness, Pains in the Back and Side, Headaches, Heart Palpitation and Results Fatally Where Efficacious Treatment is Not Resorted to.

From the Sussex, N.B., Record.

There are many ways in which people may prove benefactors of the human race. There are those who of their abundance spend large sums in erecting public buildings and beautifying public parks. Others spend their money in charitable work, and in alleviating the sufferings of less fortunate fellows, and for these acts the people are honoured. The person who having obtained relief from sickness and makes public the means by which health was regained, is none the less a public benefactor. Among these latter is Miss Elena O'Neil, daughter of Mr. Jas. O'Neil, a well to do farmer living near Millstream, Kings Co., N.B. Miss O'Neil was attacked with anaemia (poverty of the blood) a trouble unfortunately too common among the young girls of the present day, and one which is certain to terminate fatally if not promptly checked, and the blood enriched and renewed. Having discovered a remedy that will achieve this happy result, Miss O'Neill is willing that less fortunate sufferers may reap the benefit of her experience. To a correspondent of the Record, Miss O'Neill related the story of her illness and cure. She said: "I believe that had I not begun the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills my trouble would have ended fatally. My illness came about so gradually that I can scarcely say when it began. The first symptoms were a loss of colour, and a feeling of tiredness following even moderate exertion. Gradually I became as pale as a corpse, and was extremely nervous. Then I was attacked with a pain in the side, which daily grew more and more intense. I coughed a great deal and finally grew so weak that if I went upstairs I had to rest when I reached the top. My appetite forsook me. I was subject to spells of dizziness, and severe headaches and was gradually wasting away until I lost all interest in life. I had tried a number of medicines but found no relief. In this apparently hopeless condition, while reading a newspaper, I saw a statement of a young lady whose symptoms were almost identical with my own, whose health had been restored through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This statement was so encouraging that I determined that I would try the medicine. In my case, as in the case of the young lady whom I read about, the result was marvellous. The pain in my side from which I suffered so much, disappeared, my nerves were strengthened, my appetite returned and my whole system seemed to be strengthened and renewed. I am now as well as any member of the family and have not known what sickness was since I discontinued the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

My gratitude towards this grand medicine is unbounded and I hope my statement may be the means of bringing encouragement and health to some other sufferer.

The gratifying results following the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, in the case of Miss O'Neil, prove that they are unequalled as a blood builder and nerve tonic. In the case of young girls who are pale or sallow, listless, troubled with fluttering or palpitation of the heart, weak and easily tired, no time should be lost in taking a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which will speedily enrich the blood and bring a rosy glow of health to the cheeks. They are a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities and all forms of weakness. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork, or excesses of whatever nature.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold in boxes (never in loose form by the dozen or hundred) at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

WONDROUS IN POWER

The Great Life-Building Medicine for Spring is Paine's Celery Compound.

The vast majority of diseases that have a disastrous ending might be quickly and permanently cured if all sick people could be induced to use Paine's Celery Compound instead of the old fashioned and worthless medicines sold for the sake of large profits.

Paine's Celery Compound is just the medicine needed by men and women who have been burdened with disease all winter. If sick, weak and half dead people carry their debility, nervousness, bad blood, neuralgia, rheumatism, dyspepsia and headaches into the last weeks of spring and early summer they court permanent suffering and death.

Mr. J. A. Rioux, a young French Canadian gentleman, of 18 Parthenais Square, Montreal, who suffered as thousands now suffer, says:

"It is with great pleasure that I recommend your celebrated medicine, Paine's Celery Compound, as a sure and unfailing fortifier and life builder. I was suffering from weakness and debility, and after using four bottles of the great medicine I have entirely recovered my strength, and feel happy and grateful."

At present sick and ailing people are in want of good, pure and rich food, and plenty of it, to supply the almost famished nerves and tissues. This wonderful medicine, Paine's Celery Compound, should be used without delay. It will without fail repair all weak organs, restore strength and give a condition of health for the advent of summer that every wise man and woman so heartily desires.

Remember, it is Paine's Celery Compound that cures; be careful to ask for it and see that you get it.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

Colonial Secretary Chamberlain Asks Some Significant Questions About St. John's, Newfoundland.

St. John's, Nfld., March 19.—Secretary of the Colonies Chamberlain, corresponding with the Colonial Minister here, has asked the size and capacity of the drydock at St. John's, the amount of wharfage and storage available for the use of warships, to what extent work is possible in the machine shops and foundries, and the coal supply usually provided at St. John's. He has also asked a number of other questions with a view to the Imperial Ministry making this a naval station and maintaining a squadron of warships here all the year round. The correspondent intimates the further probability of garrisoning St. John's and restoring the fortifications formerly existing. This course is taken with a view to the strategical importance of the new railroad across Newfoundland, which is now nearly complete. Preparations for the installation of troops are likely to be taken during the coming summer.

STILL IN HIS PRIME.

North Hastings' Oldest Inhabitant Hale and Hearty.

Josias Moore, of Bancroft, Ont., one of the oldest and best-known residents of Hastings County, can boast of wonderful health and vigor for his age.

"Although I am over 84 years of age," he says, "I feel as young as ever I did."

Mr. Moore, however had a narrow escape from death about a year ago. "I was so bad with indigestion," he writes, "that the doctors gave me up. I tried various alleged remedies but found them no good. One day our popular druggist, F. C. Humphries, sent me a sample of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to try. The result was marvellous. After taking two I was able to get up. Then I sent for a box. I could soon eat anything. In a short time I was able to walk two miles, to Bancroft and back, with ease."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will, without fail, cure all kidney, liver, stomach and blood troubles. For sale by all dealers. Price 25 cents. One pill a dose; one cent a dose. Edmanson, Bates & Co., manufacturers, Toronto.

DENNIS IS NOW OPEN.

The Patron Member Taken Off by Typhoid Fever—General News From Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, March 19.—(Special.)—Watson Crosby, the Patron member of the Manitoba Legislature for Dennis, died in the General Hospital here to-day of typhoid fever. He was a native of French River, Prince Edward Island.

In the trial of Clarke, a deputy returning officer in the Macdonald Dominion election, charged with stuffing ballot boxes in Nat Boyd's interest, the jury disagreed a second time. Clarke is now remanded to the next assizes.

There are rumors here in railway circles that Superintendent Whyte of the C. P. R. here is to be moved to another division, as a result of Superintendent Abbott's resignation. Mr. Whyte has become so popular in Manitoba that there will be most sincere regret if the rumor should prove true.

Another sensation has developed out of the locally celebrated grain speculation prosecutions. Dr. Bergmann, who is prosecutor of Beech & O'Brien, grain operators, charging them with conducting a gambling business, has been arrested, charged with theft. The Doctor is alleged to have received money from the grain firm on behalf of a client, which money he misappropriated.

Bringing Coals to Newcastle.

The timber which is being prepared near the Hunter street bridge to replace the old timber in C.P.R. spur line trestle work, was brought clear from Georgia for that purpose. The pine of that state is regarded as being particularly desirable, and therefore suited for bridge work. It seems almost like bringing "coals to Newcastle" to bring timber from Georgia to Peterborough.

A Rare Avis in—Madoc.

Yesterday Mr. Bloome, taxidermist, received from Mr. John McGrath, formerly of Peterborough, but now measuring logs for the Bathburn Company, in the Madoc district, a specimen of the foolish guillemot (uria troile), captured by Mr. McGrath. This bird, which is rare in the interior, is the first one Mr. Bloome has seen or heard of in this vicinity. It is called the foolish guillemot from its Fitz-like disregard of punishment. It will sit and allow itself to be knocked over. This bird is black above, the lower part pure white, with the tertiaries tipped with white. The specimen sent Mr. Bloome has a length of 17 inches and a wing spread of 28 inches. This foolish guillemot justified its name by venturing from his maritime habitat into the interior of Canada to meet his quietus.

COUNTY POLICE COURT.

A Fine of Sixty Dollars and Costs Imposed Yesterday Afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon County Police Magistrate Edmison had the particulars of a couple of assault cases ventilated before him.

Thos. E. McIlmoyle charged W. A. McIlmoyle with assault, and the latter preferred a counter charge.

Both parties are farmers residing in Smith township. Thos. E. was represented by Mr. John Burnham, Q.C., and Mr. E. E. Wood, County Attorney.

Mr. W. A. Stratton appeared for W. A. McIlmoyle.

The evidence adduced showed that the men had a disagreement during the winter. Both were taking out wood from the bush, and W. A. McIlmoyle blamed Thos. E. for being the cause of his not being able to get out his portion of the wood as he wished it. Mr. Trennum was having the wood cut and W. A. was of the opinion that Thos. E. used his influence with the former to obstruct him. The men had words over the matter in the woods and clinched, but no harm resulted.

On Saturday, March 6th, the two men were driving home, William A. being ahead in a cutter, and Thos. E. just behind with a team. The former left the cutter and went back to the sleigh and a fight resulted, in which Thos. E. was roughly used.

The magistrate discharged the case as against Thos. E. McIlmoyle and fined William A. $40 and costs, directing as well that he pay Thos. E. $20 for surgical attendance, etc.

Valuable Horse Drowned.

On Monday last, Rev. E. S. Moore, assistant Methodist pastor at Bobcaygeon, met with a severe loss through the drowning of his horse. He was returning to the village from Cannington, where he took charge of the service on Sunday, and in passing down the lake drove too close to Jack's Rock, a reef stretching out into the lake, about three miles from Bobcaygeon, where the ice is generally unsound. The result was that the animal broke through. Mr. Moore was unable to extricate the beast owing to its violent plunging. No doubt Mr. Moore's congregation will get up a subscription to enable him to replace the animal, which was a valuable one.

An Eccentric Will.

Judgment was given by Chancellor Boyd at Osgoode Hall yesterday in a curious will case. The late Jas N. Stewart, of Cornwall, in his will gave to his wife all his personal property, and continued: "I order my executors to lease and rent and invest from one to five years from time to time, all lands, money and mortgages that I may be possessed of at the time of my death, for the term of sixty years, and to appoint their successors, and at the expiration of sixty years the property and funds shall be divided to those of my heirs that are members of the Presbyterian church only, and that have been members of the said church for at least ten years." The Chancellor held that this clause was invalid as infringing the rules of perpetuity. The widow will accordingly get dower from the realty, and the other heirs will share as if in a case of intestacy.

MR. GREENWOOD'S ADDRESS

At the School of Practical Science in Toronto.

The regular meeting of the Engineering Society of the School of Practical Science, Toronto, was held on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mr. H. S. Greenwood, C. E., of Peterborough, gave a very interesting paper, dealing with concrete in connection with the Trent Valley Canal.

Mr. Greenwood is the engineer in charge of the portion of the canal between Peterborough and Lakefield, and as concrete has largely replaced masonry on this part of the work his paper was of especial interest and elicited considerable discussion. The paper was illustrated by some very fine views, showing the work in different stages.

THE E.B.A. CONCERT.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Your correspondent, "Hibernian," in your issue of yesterday, it is safe to say, was not one of the audience at the 17th of March entertainment, otherwise he could not have written such a letter; as Irish music—both vocal and instrumental—was in evidence, and for over an hour Irish scenery, the best that money could procure, delighted the hearts of Hibernians who were there, and considering that the E.B.A. regards not the nationality of its members the Irish element in the association has had due consideration in the programme. The E.B.A. has on former occasions, at a considerable financial loss, engaged talent of an expensive class for the 17th March entertainments, and at which only a portion of the audience was of Irish birth or descent. We hear no complaints from our French members who form no insignificant portion of our membership. It is in striking contrast with "Hibernian's" wail of too much non-Irish, to see a Frenchman dance an Irish jig and contribute to the enjoyment of the evening. Other circumstances than the character of the programme caused the small attendance. Many concerts with expensive programmes have had, in Peterborough, with even smaller attendance.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

The London Free Press says: Another record was smashed on the Grand Trunk Railway by a London engineer on Saturday. The feat was accomplished with an ordinary engine and consisted of the Wabash express No. 7, from Paris to London, 49 miles in 44 minutes, or better than a mile a minute. The express left Niagara Falls with six cars 47 minutes late. When Hamilton was reached the train was 43 minutes behind. A car was dropped here and the train was taken to Paris, 30 minutes late. She arrived in London 20 minutes late. The run from Paris to London was made in 36 minutes. This included four stops of three minutes each, or twelve minutes in all, leaving the actual running time 44 minutes for the 49 miles. Engineer T. Burnip was at the throttle, with engine No 700; Conductor L. Crawford. The express reached Windsor seven minutes late, having made up forty minutes in all. Engineer McFadden took the train west, but had to encounter a strong head wind.

Although a number of complaints have been received in regard to the change in the commutation tickets and the withdrawal of the market tickets by the Grand Trunk, it is understood that the company does not propose to make any change in the new system which they have inaugurated.

The Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk Railways are again at variance over the grain trade of the two lines. The Grand Trunk considers that the Canadian Pacific is granting favours to grain shippers in the way of low terminal and elevating charges in order to secure the business, and claims that by this means the Canadian Pacific is securing more of the business than it is entitled to. The Grand Trunk complained to the Joint Traffic Association, and by that body has been authorised to meet whatever elevator and terminal charges it may find the Canadian Pacific is making at Montreal and other points.

The officials of the Grand Trunk in Toronto have just completed a reorganisation of the fast freight service in and out of the city by which it is expected that very much faster time will in future be made with freight. Under the new service, which goes into effect at once, merchants in Toronto who ship goods over the Grand Trunk will have their merchandise loaded and sent out on the evening it is received and delivered at most of the large cities and towns in Ontario early the next morning. For instance, such places as Peterborough, Belleville, Kingston, Allandale, Hamilton, Brantford, London, Uxbridge and Collingwood may expect to have their freight delivered between 7 and 8 o'clock in the morning. In some instances the new system will beat the old time by almost twenty-four hours. The system will also apply to freight going to Toronto as well as freight being sent out.

REV. J. G. POTTER ON THE SPIRIT OF UNITY.

A MOST CLEAR AND CONCISE PAPER ON THIS SUBJECT.

A Very Large Attendance at St. Luke's Church Last Night to Hear the Fourth Address on the General Subject of Church Unity.

The school house in connection with St. Luke's was almost uncomfortably crowded last evening with a very large congregation which gathered to hear the fourth address, in the series of Lenten lectures last evening, on the subject of "Church Unity." Rev. J. G. Potter, of St. Andrew's church, was the speaker of the evening.

My only wish, said Mr. Potter, in opening, has been that you had found one more suitable for this task, and yet I esteem it a privilege to meet with you and your good people, and say a few words in connection with this great subject that will more and more exercise the minds of our churches and synods.

The brethren who have preceeded me have dealt with phases of the subject that have clearly brought to your notice the pros and cons of the union of the churches of Christendom. The subject assigned me reveals the secret by which alone Christendom will be united in one grand work for Christ—the spirit of unity. I am not expected therefore to enter into any detailed examination of system or doctrine, but at once to bring before your minds the spirit which must animate us if we ever reach the ideal or goal to which many of us look forward. We are convinced of the fact of the unity of life. In the individual we find many members—one body and an animating spirit. In the social we find many members and a unity of organization that is actually helpful, and a spirit prevailing that is encouraging. In domestic life we find various members, but one family, and a spirit sacred, affectionate and charitable. In the commercial life then too a unity of life, guides and controls the affairs of the community.

In the mental or intellectual spheres there is a unity of life with a spirit that should cause any community to be proud. Is it all right to possess the spirit of unity in these different spheres, and be found wanting in the larger, the greater, the more enduring and the infinitely more important—that which has to do with the salvation and development of the spiritual life and the expression of that life to God and to man.

I do not to-night plead for a form of Christianity, but for Christ and His spirit. It is not so much the criticism of our method or way of looking at truth, or our method or way of doing things, but the study of the question, "How can we best magnify our Lord and Master?"

To be proud of our method or system will never prove us religious, but as we in the spirit of the Master walk humbly before God and man, much that now is said about the anti-Christian spirit pervading Christians will speedily disappear.

The spirit of Christianity is essentially a spirit of unity making one all peoples of the earth, and this Christ exemplified in His incarnation.

The spirit of unity stands in strong contrast with the spirit of division, the spirit of sectarianism and the spirit of partyism.

The atomic theory propounds an independent state of things, but in

THE MOLECULAR THEORY

we have things in their relation one to another, and existing in mutual co-membership "We are members one of another."

I believe, therefore, that there is that high ground upon which all Christians may stand and work together, viz., the spirit of union in Christ. The Master's golden rule is the secret of the highest unity of spirit and character.

With regard to the various methods of church work, I believe they exist as a Providential system of accommodation. Paul said: "Unto the Jews, because I as a Jew, that I might gain the Jews."

"To them that are without law as without law, that I might gain them that are without law."

"To the weak, because I as weak that I might gain the weak."

"I am become all things to all men that I might by all means save some."

The Church of Christ must accommodate herself to the various needs, temperament and dispositions of men. But the spirit of unity in Christendom far transcends our individual church methods as the ever-flowing river, with its beautiful supply of refreshing water, exceeds in value and blessing the water system buried beneath the streets of our town. The system is necessary, yet nothing without the full supply. One family may receive their supply out of the ancient golden goblet, another out of the historic silver bowl, another be satisfied with the iron, so long as the thirst is quenched and the soul revived. The Church in its various stages of growth has become more and more congenial to man, and more and more sympathetic in its ministrations to the needs of man—seeking to impart the knowledge of God—the salvation in Christ—sanctification by His Spirit—guidance and truth in His word.

Ball & Co

FASHIONABLE TAILORS,
Cox's New Block, Water St.

Centuries ago the only means of international communication was by commerce and that limited by the caprice and civilization or lack of civilization of the nations. To day we have the postal union, telegraph and locomotive steam engine. How the nations are looking to each other. Look at the federation of our Empire. If there is a spirit of unity that has bound the constituent parts of that Empire together, and that is binding us closer and closer together, and causing us to have an interest in each part of it, so that wherever we might go we feel that we are on British soil and therefore free men, should it not be in a more eminent degree the life and spirit of the Christian church animated by the Holy Spirit? The life of an Empire depends upon the spirit of affection and admiration to our Sovereign and our loyalty and devotion to her laws.

The British Army is one, because animated by a British spirit. There are certainly differences in equipment and in method, but all are completely governed by the laws of loyal and ready service for Queen and country. As each regiment, whether cavalry or infantry, keeps its record clean, and seems to be so devoted, so the whole army can be called at any time to face a common foe.

How much greater should be our spirit of unity? We have a glorious army, well equipped, a renowned and glorified Prince—Saviour—King, and a law to serve, and people to save from the bondage of error. Christ our King has given us a which is the Gospel, the centre of all true life. "All authority hath been given unto Me in heaven and on earth. Go, ye, therefore, into all the world, preach the Gospel to the whole creation, make disciples of all the nations, baptising them in the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost, teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you, and lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world."

How startled must the Jewish disciples have been at this announcement. Hitherto they had been taught to believe that Israel was Jehovah's only chosen people, and that no foreigner could secure His favour except by being circumcised and so grafted into the Abrahamic stock. And now, after 2,000 years of exclusively Jewish religion, the Lord bids his countrymen go forth to preach an evangel of reconciliation and good will to every creature. The leaders of the world's thought and religious faith have all, down through the ages protested against schism, and yet it is strange that where there is the great religious freedom of conscience, that there are the different divisions of believers the most numerous.

Twenty years after the church was founded we find the church known as the followers of Paul, Apollos, Cephas, Christ. We find that before and after the Nicean Council divisions occurred. In the ninth century the great Catholic church itself split in two on the question of the Holy Spirit. This schism, which was the least justifiable of any that has taken place, is just as strong to-day as it was then. In the sixteenth century the Latin or Roman church was rent in twain into Roman and Protestant. In England a new era dated from the Act of Toleration in 1688, which secured orthodox dissenters a limited toleration. The Episcopal church continued the national religion of England, and the Presbyterian the national religion of Scotland. The principle of toleration developed into complete religious freedom, and was extended to Methodists, Unitarians and Roman Catholics.

In the new land all classes and creeds meet, and in our proposed Christian unity there would need to be Christian freedom in the matters of method.

To all the Saviour's blood must be the reconciling medium. The Cross stands as the very figure of union, and Christ himself the ever interceding Saviour, has become the unifier of all who believe in Him.

THE ASPIRATION FOR UNION

is a growing hunger that will become more ravenous until it is fed. As every genuine life it will be a process of growth—a matter of education, not of agitation. For it would be folly to have a mere mechanical combination and say "Come, let us make a constitution, and we will be the Universal Church." If that Spirit has broken the chains of error, superstition, prejudice and feeling in the foreign field, what should be its issue in the lives of those professedly Christian?

"For now we see through a glass darkly." Bishop Nagle said: "Those who were once regarded as enemies are rejoicing as fellow soldiers and saints, and of the household of God; and as we see this we thank God and take courage."

How can we foster this spirit?

1. Acquaintance with each others' worth and work, knowledge of beauties and truths in each other's views.
2. Conferences on the great works of the Christian church.
3. Comparison of methods and readiness to adopt what is best.
4. A crushing out of ignorance and prejudice which have always been grave difficulties in the way of development of the spirit of unity.
5. Let it become the precious principle of each Christian heart and it will express itself in the church.
6. Practice as well as theory—act as well as word. Just nineteen years ago at an interview between the Greek Archimandrite and the Supreme Patriarch of the Armenian church in Manchester, England, to the words of union uttered by the brilliant Armenian, the Monk replied,—"If there be no harmony between our two churches, the fault is not with our people. They are like flocks of sheep that long to pasture together. It is with us the shepherds who separate them the trouble lies."
7. Co-operation in Christian and philanthropic work.
8. Cultivating the spirit of Christ.
9. Living near to Christ.
10. Breathing the atmosphere of prayer.
11. Being filled with the Holy Spirit.

This spirit has brought together the different members of different families and now we have our Pan-Anglican, Pan-Methodist, Pan-Presbyterian Councils. In these federated assemblies great good has been done and the spirit of unity more and more developed.

A New Brunswick Story.

Mrs. John Drum, living in Bon Accord, N.B., says: "I have used Diamond Dyes for years, and from every colour I have always had perfect results. Last summer a friend asked me to help her with some dyeing. I said I would if she used the Diamond Dyes. Unfortunately she took ——— Dyes from her storekeeper, and after five hours working the dyed coat looked like one that had been out all summer to frighten crows. At last she had to get the Diamond Dyes to colour the coat." To save time and money, and to insure success, the Diamond Dyes should always be used. Do not allow your dealer to foist his poor dyes on you. He is anxious to sell them because they pay him large profits.

Why should speculators flock to British Columbia when our own country is rich in minerals? Says the Minden Echo. Within four miles of Kinmount we have six mines; a rich mineral belt extends for 18 miles from Kinmount to Gooderham, waiting for men with money to open it up and get wealth. Minerals in great variety are here in abundance, and at present mining operations are active in Galway township, but what is needed is capital to make them successful. Just half a mile from Kinmount, John Morrison, Esq., owns a lot which promises a rich harvest.

Alexander T. Stewart began his business career without capital and in 53 years accumulated $40,000,000. His success-ors began with his $40,000,000 and in 20 years failed. Stewart dealt in futures; he filled his stores and contracted ahead for manufactures before big advances and he emptied his stores and sold for future account at other times before big declines. He discounted the future. His successors resisted on a BIG NAME and never dealt in future prospects.

A year ago I advertised to buy cotton below seven cents, it afterwards advanced two cents or $1,000 on on 100 bales. Last summer I advertised to buy wheat around 60 cts., it has since sold at 86 or $3,600 on 10,000 bushels. Now I advise the purchase of Corn around 25 cts. for July. It will show a Big Profit by the middle of June. Buy Mess Pork around $8.25; it will sell as $10 before it does at $8. Railroad stocks and bonds bought on the New York Stock Exchange for investment or on liberal margins. Choosing a Husband.

George Eliot says in one of her novels, that almost any woman can marry any man she makes up her mind to. Whether this is truth or fiction, certainly a woman chooses her husband oftener than he knows it. But she must play the negative part. She can only make herself as attractive as possible in a modest, womanly way and rely upon human nature and manly instinct.

A sensible man naturally seeks a wholesome-looking, healthy, capable companion. Men are not unselfish enough to willingly assume the care of a weak, nervous, debilitated wife.

Men are not attracted by a sallow, pimply complexion, foul breath, or thin, emaciated form, because these symptoms are the sure index of poor digestion and impoverished blood.

A woman afflicted by these mortifying miseries should seek the powerful, purifying and nutrimental influence of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which completely dispels all unwholesome appearances by clearing and renovating the organic sources of healthful vitality.

It helps the liver to filter all bilious impurities from the blood. It gives the digestive organs power to extract nourishment from the food. It rounds out thin forms; wipes away wrinkles, and gives to the complexion its natural clearness and bloom.

"Your 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured me of a severe case of poisoning of the blood," writes Mrs. Setia Rices, of Coast, Santa Cruz Co., Cal. "Boils one after another would break out on my arms, and were very painful. I have tried the highly praised Sarsaparillas without any benefit whatever, and not until I took your 'Discovery' did I get well. That was two years ago, and I have not had a boil or sore of any kind since."

SUNDAY, MARCH 21,

Blockade of the Cretan Ports Will be Inaugurated.

THE REPLIES OF MR. A.J. BALFOUR

To Liberal Members of the British Parliament—Mr. Gladstone Challenges the Government to Dissolve the House on the Issue—Latest News of the Eastern Crisis.

London, March 18.—In the House of Commons to-day Sir Charles Dilke, Liberal, asked whether a blockade of the ports of Crete had been declared by the powers and whether Germany had declined to employ her forces in the interior of the island.

Mr. John Morley, Liberal, asked whether Greece had been invited to accede to the terms of the identical note of the powers before the blockade of the ports of Crete was instituted.

Mr. A. J. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury, replied that the British Minister at Athens, Mr. E. H. Egerton, had been instructed to notify the Government of Greece that a blockade of Cretan ports would be instituted.

In reply to Sir Charles Dilke's other question, Mr. Balfour said he had no information that Germany had declined to send troops to Crete. Germany thoroughly agreed with the policy of the powers.

Mr. Morley asked if this technical notification was what M. Meline, the French Premier, referred to in his recent speech in the French Chamber of Deputies.

Mr. Balfour: "I don't know. I must say that it is not satisfactory to answer questions put by gentlemen who embarrass the Government as much as they can by questions inside and speeches outside of the House." [Loud cheers by the Conservatives.]

Sir William Harcourt, amid Liberal cheers, protested against Mr. Balfour's censuring the Opposition members who sought legitimate information. He then proceeded to say: "Lord Salisbury referred to Premier Meline's speech, and we must have an answer thereto. That reference made in the House of Lords contains the only information that has been given to this House or to the country. [Cheers.] I again ask, M. Meline having stated that Greece would be reinvited to accede to the terms of the note of the powers, and that the ports of Crete would not be blockaded nor the number of European troops in the island increased until Greece had been again notified, whether that has been done."

Mr. Balfour refused to make any explanation concerning M. Meline's speech and said if Sir William Vernor Harcourt wished to move a vote of censure on account of his refusal, let him name the day. [Conservative cheers.]

MR. GLADSTONE'S VIEWS.

Ex Premier Challenges the Government to Dissolve Parliament on the Issue.

London, March 18.—Under the title "The Eastern Crisis," a 16-page pamphlet by Mr. Gladstone will be issued to-morrow. The pamphlet is in the form of a letter from Mr. Gladstone addressed to the Duke of Westminster, in which the former Premier proceeds to say: "Events in crowds have been occurring in the East at short intervals for the past two years of such a nature as to stir our common humanity to its innermost recesses and to lodge an appeal from official to personal conscience. Until the most recent dates these transactions have seemed to awaken no echo save in England, but now light has flashed upon Western Europe and an uneasy consciousness that nations as well as Cabinets are concerned has taken a strong hold upon the public mind. Later massacres in Armenia have occurred upon a scale of intensity and in a diversity of their wickedness beyond all modern, if not all historical, experience. All this has been done under the eyes of the six great powers, which are represented at the Porte by ambassadors, who thought their feeble verbiage a sufficient counterpoise to instruments of death, shame and torture, provided that in framing it they all chimed in with one another."

The letter then goes on to review the Eastern question since 1880. Mr. Gladstone recalls the fact that his Ministry in 1880 organized a European concert to procure the fulfilment of the treaty of 1878 in regard to Montenegro and Greece. The forces of moral suasion had been exhausted and a squadron of war ships of the six powers assembled on the Montenegrin or Albanian coast. It was soon found that to several powers a "Concert of Europe" meant toy demonstrations, which were not intended to pass for reality. "We did not waste any time to galvanize the corpse into life," Mr. Gladstone continues, "but framed a plan for the seizure of an important port of the Sultan's dominions. We found as our principal support the wise and brave Alexander II., who then reigned in Russia. The effect was perfect. There was no war in Europe, though this bugbear would doubtless have been used had our proceedings gone beyond privacy. Our plan became known to the Sultan, and without a single difficulty Montenegro obtained her present considerable extension and Thessaly was added to Greece later.

"It is time to speak with freedom At this moment two great states, with a European population of 150,000,000, are under the Government of two young men, each bearing the title Emperor, but who in one case is wholly without knowledge and experience and in the other case has only such knowledge and experience, in truth limited enough, as have excited much astonishment and some consternation when an inkling of them have been given to the world. In the concert of the powers these powers fight steadily against freedom. But why is our Government pinned to their apron?"

Mr. Gladstone then reviews the history of Greece and Crete and says: "We have before us a David, facing six Goliaths." He argues that Ottoman rule in Crete is a thing of yesterday, but Crete was a part of Greece, and the Cretan people were part of Greek people, 3000 years ago.

"Nor have their moral and human ties ever been broken or relaxed," he says, "and years and centuries will come when this bad dream of Ottoman dominion has passed from Europe that the union will still subsist.

"Greece, by her bold action," Mr. Gladstone continues, "has conferred a great service upon Europe. She has made it impossible to palter over this question as we have paltered in Armenia. The nations of Europe are in various stages of their training, but I do not believe that it is the European people whose judgment will tolerate the punishment of Greece for the good deed she recently prformed. Certainly, it would not be France, who so largely contributed to the foundation of the kingdom, nor would it be the Italians, who are so mindful of what their fathers have undergone, and least of all the English, who, if the road were open to them by the dissolution of Parliament, would show how they are minded by returning a Parliament which upon this question would speak with unanimity."

That Autonomy Proclamation.

Canea, Crete, March 18.—The proclamation issued by the foreign admirals, announcing the conditions under which autonomy will be granted to Crete, promises the adoption of measures to regulate the working of complete autonomy for the island, and guarantees to every one, of whatever race or religion, perfect liberty and security of property. The proclamation concludes by saying: "A new era is opening for Crete. Let all persons lay down their arms. The powers count upon the co-operation of Christians and Moslems alike to aid in the task which promises to insure order and prosperity."

Russian Steamer Through Dardanelles.

Constantinople, March 18.—A Russian steamer conveying a battalion of troops to Crete has passed through the Dardanelles.

A Greek Schooner Sunk.

Canea, March 18.—The Government has received advices that the Austrian gunboat Sebenico has sunk a Greek schooner with a cargo of munitions of war and a number of Cretan insurgents on board. The Sebenico, under the orders of the British admiral commanding the British squadron, in Cretan waters, was patrolling off Cape Dia, Crete, when the schooner hove in sight. The schooner was hailed by the gunboat and the insurgents on board, in reply, opened fire upon the Sebenico, whereupon the latter turned her guns on the schooner and sunk her.

Mrs. Davenport is well-known in Tweed, and this is how she spoke to our representative concerning Doan's Kidney Pills. Said Mrs. Davenport:—

"I have suffered for some years from dizziness puffing under the eyes, pains in the side and back, sleeplessness, poor appetite, and in fact, was in a bad state generally.

"I took two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at P. K. Newton's drugstore, and experienced immediate relief from their use.

"I am now very much better indeed; appetite improved, pain almost disappeared and I feel stronger and healthier in every particular.

"I heartily recommend them to all sufferers from kidney trouble."

Planting the Lawn.

"When planting trees in the lawn," writes Eben E. Rexford in the March Ladies' Home Journal, "we must remember that the tree of to-day is only a hint of what the tree of ten or twenty years to come will be. The tree we plant to-day, perhaps five or six feet tall, and with a spread of branches not more than two feet across, should in a dozen years from now, stand twenty-five feet high, and have a spread of fifteen or twenty feet. If we plant them but ten or twelve feet apart now we will have, at the stage of development they are expected to reach in a dozen years, a perfect thicket of branches overhead and dense shade beneath. Never plant with regard to 'regularity,' that is, 'so many feet apart each way,' as the rule has been laid down for orchards."

"In April 1896 I suffered from a severe attack of sciatica, affecting my left hip and leg to the tip of the toes. I suspected it came from some form of kidney trouble, and as they had been recommended I procured a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

At the end of the fourth day I was entirely relieved, but desiring a permanent cure I continued to use that and another box and am now perfectly cured and as well as ever in my life. A brother of mine living at Pine Orchard has been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Care of Young Turkeys.

When the young turkeys are first hatched they should be allowed to remain in the nest about 24 hours, then removed and insect powder dusted all through their down, also on the mother hen; dust the powder all through the fluff under the wings, and at the roots of the tail. This will kill all the body lice, providing good powder is used. But the large head lice are the most troublesome. These pass from the mother to the turk and are very hard to get rid of. A good remedy is to rub one or two drops of sweet oil and carbolic acid in equal proportions on their heads about every two weeks.

The best food for the first two weeks is hard-boiled eggs, chopped fine, and mixed with oatmeal or bread. This is just what they need, as it is a very highly concentrated food. After they are two weeks old, feed cracked wheat, oatmeal and cornmeal cakes. These cakes should be made of cornmeal and water, or better still, buttermilk or milk, mixed into a dough, then baked; when done, be sure to turn the cakes out and let them steam. This will prevent the outside drying too hard and none will be wasted. Supply water daily and in such a manner as to prevent them getting wet, as dampness is fatal.

The above method should be followed until the turkeys are two months old. After this, they will forage for themselves and will require only their daily feed of whole grain. The young poults are very tender up to the age of five weeks. Be sure to place the hen in a clean, roomy coop, with a small run in front and let them run in this all they please, but do not allow them out when the dew is on the ground or after a rain. The brood should be shut up in the run for about ten days, then allow them their freedom, but always shut them up at night. Be sure to feed them well all summer and you will surely have some fine turkeys in the fall to repay you for all work.—Farm and Home.

TRULY ASTONISHING—Miss Annette N. Moen, Fountain, Minn., says: Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has had a wonderful effect in curing my brother's children of a severe and dangerous cold. It was truly astonishing how speedily they found relief after taking this preparation.

UNIQUE SOCIETY FAD.

THE JAPANESE LUNCHEON AND HOW PREPARED AND GIVEN.

Brilliant Effects of Dainty Dames—Picturesque Effects Utilized by Fair Hostesses—No Masculine Guests Admitted to the Function.

A new fad has seized on society. It is a Japanese luncheon. Not an invitation affair at which the erratic pictures on the time-honored bamboo and silk paper fans are religiously followed and the ladies sit around on chairs and chat of the latest scandal, but a bona fide Jap lunch where meals fit to set before the Empress of Japan are served and the ladies appear in genuine suso-moyos imported for the occasion from the realm of the Mikado.

These odd luncheons have in some mysterious way, and for no apparent reason, sprung into popularity with the younger set of society women, but unlike many of the recent popular fads they are actually interesting.

In arranging for one of these entertainments the opportunity offered for picturesque effect is utilized by the hostess to the utmost, many striking decorations being used.

The rooms are made to represent as nearly as possible a typical Japanese interior. The angular and formal Western furniture is hidden behind tall screens reaching from the floor almost to the ceiling, and these, with the exercise of a little skill and tact in arrangement, can be made to resemble the gayly pictured sliding walls of a Japanese room.

Silk paper umbrellas are opened and hung about the ceiling, very effectually concealing all trace of the calsominer's handiwork and such incongruous features as the elaborate hanging chandelier and electric lights.

Bamboo hangings are arranged before the doors and are placed over all the windows while about the floors are scattered Oriental rugs, worked in designs which could not possibly be evolved from any but a true and patriotic Japanese mind.

To make the luncheon a success the most minute details are followed, even to the extent of removing all chairs and seats, their places being taken by tiny stools and an abundance of soft, downy cushions upon which the ladies find accommodations in true Japanese style, sitting a la Turk or reclining in a comfortable but decidedly negligee fashion.

It is perhaps needless to say right here that the masculine element of society is as strictly barred from participation in these unique luncheons as from the harem of a good Mohammedan, hence the absolute freedom which the fair imitators of the women of the island kingdom enjoy.

The curio shops are thoroughly ransacked for odds and ends of Japanese art, and if no other purpose is accomplished by the fad it has at least the effect of disseminating among the ladies of the swell set a more thorough and exact knowledge of Japanese methods, manners and customs than they ever knew before.

Tables as understood by the more pushing and practical American mind are as strictly tabooed as are chairs. The picturesque substitutes, which are dainty little lacquered stands about ten inches high, are fully as convenient for the uses intended, and, somehow, a dainty meal of unknown foreign delicacies, with all sorts of peculiar but not unpleasant flavors, served from these tiny stands, tastes much better than if placed before one on a practical, coldly dignified mahogany.

One of the most delightful and picturesque effects at these luncheons is obtained by the varied colors and costumes worn by the ladies.

For the information of those who lack training in the mysteries of the language of the Mikado's subjects it may be said that the suso-moyo, in which all the ladies appear, means dinner dress, or, as it is literally translated, suso-edge, moyo-pattern.

The suso-moyo is a long dress of silk crepe, reaching from the neck to the feet and trailing at the back.

Around the waist is worn the obi or satin sash, which is one of the most important portions of the feminine raiment. It is wound several times around the body and in a Japanese lady's costume it takes the place of the corset of her Western sister. It is tied at the back with a huge flaring bow, while that portion which is displayed in front is elaborately embroidered in gold and silver tracery and colored silks. It takes the average society woman some time to master the intricate manner of wearing the costume, but it is essential to the success of the Japan lunch.

The trailing edge of the suso moyo is also gay with ingrain patterns and gold and silver tracery, which helps to give the garment its name, moyo, meaning, as we have said, pattern or tracery.

About the neck of the properly dressed lady is worn the han-yeri, or collar. It is a very elaborate affair of silk or satin, heavy with embroidery and delicate patterns worked in many colors of gold and silver, as the taste of the wearer may elect or her rank in life warrant.

Over all is worn the ha-o-ri or coat with large flowing sleeves, which is as much the pride of a Japanese lady as is the bonnet to a dame of U.E. Loyalist descent. For matrons the only permissible color of the ha-o-ri is sedate black, but unmarried ladies take delight in arraying themselves in three and sometimes four or five ha-o-ris of different colors, and the combination is always pleasing.

The ha-o-ri also serves the purpose of showing the rank of the wearer. On each shoulder and at a point directly between is the back of the garment three circular holes are cut out in the fabric, and upon a background of different colored material from that of the cloak the heraldic device of the lady's family is worked in colored silks.

The most difficult part of the costume for the Western imitator to wear and to accustom herself to are the curious sandals, which are nothing but thick felt soles raised from contact with the floor by small blocks of wood fastened to the lower side, but even this difficulty has in many instances been overcome, and many ladies move about as gracefully upon the little Jap sandals as they can in the daintiest ball slippers.

Above all is the curious little round gayly colored skull cap with a single feather stuck in the very center for no apparent reason except to look ludicrous. Not a single detail is omitted and the transformation of the society woman into a lady of the Mikado's realm is perfect.

Thus arrayed and lounging at ease about the Japanese room, the ladies who are intent upon following the dictates of Dame Fashion are prepared for what is the crowning feature of the affair.

That is the luncheon. And such a spread. Sui-mo-no is folowed by yakizakana and o'sashimi, or if not a very extensive lunch by chawanmori and then comes kuchitori-mono, which being rendered into English means sweets, while all throughout the meal o'cha or "the very best tea," is served ad libitum.

The sui-mo-no is the soup, preferably of chicken and vegetables, chopped very fine and served in dainty china bowls colored in fanciful designs. The boiled fish or nizakana is not quite so popular as some of the lighter dishes such as o'sashimi, which is very delicate and palatable, but the discreet hostess does not, as a rule, tell her friends that it is highly spiced and flavored fish, cut in very thin slices, freed from all bone and served raw.

The only English equivalent for chawanmori is patties, the dish itself being a baked combination of eggs and the meat of shellfish such as crabs or lobsters, minced and served as a side dish.

For the more elaborate Japanese luncheons the wise hostess secures the services of a Japanese cook for the occasion, but many a quiet lunch of this kind is served by ladies to a select few, where the cooking is done by "my lady," herself, who takes pride in serving the dishes in true Japanese style.

Each guest has one of the tiny four-legged stands—more like a doll's table than anything else—placed before her, and on this the meal is served, the lady sitting on a mat or cushion, as the individual may fancy.

Although a very busy man, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has found time in which to write a great book of over a thousand pages entitled, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in Plain English, or Medicine Simplified. Few books printed in the English language have reached so great a sale as has this popular work, over 680,000 copies having been sold at $1.50 each. The profits on this enormous sale having repaid its author for the great amount of labour and money expended on its production he has now decided to give away absolutely free, 500,000 copies of this valuable work, the receipient only being required to mail to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N Y., as which company he is president, 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only, and the book will be sent post-paid. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. It contains 1008 large pages, and over 300 illustrations, some of them in colours. The Free Edition is precisely the same as that sold at $1.50 except only that the books are bound in strong manilla paper covers, instead of cloth. It is not often that our readers have an opportunity to obtain a valuable book on such generous terms, and we predict that few will miss availing themselves of the unusual and liberal offer to which we have called their attention.

FARMERS, GRADE UP.

A METHOD BY WHICH YOUR POULTRY PROFITS MAY INCREASE.

The Importance of a Thoroughbred Male in Your Flock—An Easy Calculation of the Direct Results—If You Don't Believe, Ask Your Wife.

Every farmer who raises common poultry can put money in his pocket this coming season by investing $2 to $4 in a thoroughbred rooster, says The Reliable Poultry Journal. It is as plain as simple arithmetic. Buying a large, vigorous male bird that outweighs the present rooster you have by two pounds, is to add one pound of weight to every healthy chicken you raise next spring and summer. The saying that the "male is half the pen" applies in this case. The farmer need not pen up his fowls to make this true.

One pound of weight added to each of the few hundred chickens, raised each year on many farms, is a big item. The quantity of marketable chicken meat is not only increased by this simple process, but also the quality, for the larger and finer looking fowl, alive or dressed, is easier sold, and at a better price.

The farmer who wishes to improve his finances will look carefully after just such matters as these. And where the farmer's wife is the "chicken man," she will do so. It is these strokes that count. Brute force does not hold its own on the farm as well as it once did. The thinking, planning, experimenting farmer is the one who now makes headway and finds life on the farm worth living.

Then there is the important matter of an increased egg-yield. This can readily be brought about with any common farm flock by introducing male blood from the great egg-laying breeds, the Leghorns, Minorcas, Andalusians, etc. A male of this kind, suitable for the purpoee, can be bought at a low figure, and he will earn his homestead right several times over by the increased number of eggs his descendants will put into the basket.

Farmers, do not neglect such opportunities as this! With the prices of farm produce so low, it is wisdom for you to put your thinking cap on, and be resolved to improve every chance to better your condition, to earn more money.

Talk the matter over with wife.

The Ethics of Citizenship.

LUXURY.

The question of the use and abuse of luxury is one often debated and never completely settled. Does a man who spends $10,000 in diamonds benefit the community? Thousands of dollars were spent in flowers at a recent ball in New York. Was this expenditure an economic gain? Is it a good use of money to pay $20,000 for a fine picture? We must first define our terms. Perhaps by the most general use of the term luxury we denote anything, delightful to the senses or feelings, which is not a necessity to a healthy and complete life. Variety in food seems to be necessary for human beings. We should not, therefore, call roast beef a luxury, but "Blue points on the half-shell," we should. We ought not to deem a bath-room a luxury, but if we panelled its wall with mirrors, and laid a velvet pile carpet on the floor, and fitted our bath with silver mounted taps, we should rightly describe these things as luxurious furnishings. No doubt, regarded from the moral point of view, some things that would be luxuries to the poor man are not to the rich. A man who honestly earned $10,000 a year might reasonably regard 25 cents as a legitimate outlay for a cigar, whilst it would be a sinful luxury to one whose income was but $500.

Luxury is a form of consumption of wealth. But nothing is ever really consumed. What really takes place in the consumption of wealth is the transformation of one form of matter into another form. "A passer-by once stopped to visit the workshop of an old joiner. There in a corner, lay piled together a heap of small, flat oblong bits of wood. He asked the old man what they were. The answer was that they were old planes, worn thin and unless by the friction of a life-time's industry. That was consumption of wealth. But then, the results were not gone; they were still there in the acquired skill, in the honourable independence and reputation, of the consumer of them." Now the point is that whilst consumption of wealth is a transformation of the form of wealth, all transformations are not equally beneficial. "Is then, the change of form implied in the production and consumption of luxuries industrially and commercially profitable?" That is one question we will attack, and the second is, "Is the consumption of luxuries good for our characters as individuals or as a nation?

1. The political economists are unanimous in their decision that from the economic point of view "expenditure on luxuries is a wasteful perversion of wealth." Consumption of wealth implies the occupation and remuneration of labour. But all work is not equally beneficial. Mr. Macvane separates three kinds of work.

(a) Work done in producing some instrument of commerce or industry.

(b) Work done in producing some object not available as such an instrument.

(c) Work terminating in itself, i.e., services which leave no product of any economic significance at all.

An illustration of each of these is given. Of the first, the building of a great Atlantic liner, to be used in commerce. Of the second, the building of a pleasure yacht. Of the third, the preservation of game on some large estate, involving an outlay for game-keepers, but producing no result of any accountable economic significance. "In all three cases there is work done by which men can earn a livelihood—and some are so impressed by this view of the matter, that they seemingly care to go no further. "Why," says the yachtsman, "does not my yacht employ carpenters?" "and does not my forest employ game keepers?" adds the sportsman. Is not our money doing the country good?" From the commercial point of view the answer is "no, your money is not doing the country any good."

It is clear that the wealth of nations cannot be secured simply by setting men to work. If the government employed two thousand men at $5 a day here in Peterborough to throw stones into the river, we should for a while appear to be a wealthy community. But the country would be poorer. "Never can it be too clearly understood that the amount of work or effort in a country is no measure of its industrial or commercial prosperity. Prosperity depends on reward of work or effort."

Here then is the ground of the economist's judgment against luxury. The greater the growth of luxury, the greater the amount of human effort diverted to work that produces mere instruments of pleasure, or work that produces nothing at all; and this commercially is a waste of wealth. "A man," said Adam Smith, "grows rich by employing a multitude of manufacturers; he grows poor by maintaining a multitude of servants."

From the purely commercial point of view then we may conclude that neither the man who spends $10,000 on diamonds, nor the expenditure of thousands of dollars on flowers at a ball, nor of $20,000 for a fine picture, are in the long run beneficial to the community. But there is another aspect of luxuries besides the commercial, and the subject is one of such real practical importance that we propose to devote to it another column.

SKIN HUMOR ON BABY

Head and Entire Body Covered. Itching Intense, Would Scratch Till Blood Came.

Had to Put Mittens on His Hands To Keep Him from Tearing His Skin.

One Application of CUTICURA Soothes Him to Sleep. Complete Cure.

When my little boy was about three months old his head broke out with a rash, which was very itchy and ran considerable watery fluid. We tried everything we could, but he got worse all the time till it spread to his arms, legs, and then to his entire body, and he got so bad that he came near dying. The rash would itch so that he would scratch till the blood ran, and a thin, yellowish stuff would be all over his pillow in the morning. I had to put mittens on his hands to keep him from tearing his skin around his wrists. He got so weak and run down that he took fainting spells like we would think him dying. He was almost a skeleton, and his little hands were thin like claws.

He was bad about eight months when we tried CUTICURA REMEDIES. I had not laid him down in his cradle in the day time for a long time. He had got so that he just slept in our arms all the time. I washed him with CUTICURA SOAP, and put on one application of CUTICURA, and he was so soothed that I put him in his cradle. You don't know how glad I felt he felt better. It took one box of CUTICURA, pretty near one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, and about half a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT to cure him. I think our little boy would have died only for CUTICURA REMEDIES, and I shall always remain a firm friend of them. Mrs. M. C. MAITLAND, Jasper, Ont.

Cuticura Remedies have effected the most wonderful cures of torturing, disfiguring, humiliating skin and scalp diseases of infants and children, as well as of adults of every age. Synopsis of its Annual Report

SUBMITTED BY

The Temperance & General Life Assurance Company at its Last Annual Meeting.

At the outset the report expresses great satisfaction with the results of the year's business.

It shows an income of $171,755 for the year, which was an increase of $12,508 over that for 1895.

It shows disbursements for all purposes of $92,117. This was $9,732.00 less than the total expenditure of 1895, although endowments amounting to $4,000 were paid in 1896 and nothing in 1895.

The realised income for permanent investment was $78,163.

The death claims for the year amounted to only $2.37 per thousand dollars of average risk, and was perhaps the smallest ever experienced by any company in it's eleventh year. The interest income for the year exceeded the death claims by $3,765.

The report says: "Again we are able to report as we did for the years 1894 and 1895 that we close our books on the 31st ult., without a single dollar's worth of real estate in our hands or a single dollar of interest in arrears. Our position in this respect has been altogether unique."

Total assets increased during the year to $567,366, or an increase of $61,537.

Total liabilities increased during the year to $404,596, or an increase of $61,537.

The increase in assets after paying surplus to both shareholders and policy holders was $33,173. This means surplus earned of upwards of $26,500.

One thousand six hundred and eighty-three applications were received during the year for $2,032,009 insurance, and 1,636 policies for $1,782,000 were issued and placed.

At the close of the year we had 5,695 policies in force on 5,372 lives for $6,759,-711.51 of insurance, distributed as follows:

In the temperance section we had 4,333 policies for $4,940,342.51.

In the general section we had 1,362 policies for $84,700

Our gains in business were: In the temperance section 538 policies for $536,307 of insurance, and in the general section 141 policies for $151,724 of insurance, making a total gain for the year of 699 policies for $708,031 of insurance.

The directors recommended a dividend of 5 per cent. to shareholders and a further dividend to policy holders, and referred in most complimentary terms to its officers and agents, citing the fact that for six successive years its annual statement had been sent forward to Ottawa at the earliest moment allowed by law as evidence of the efficiency of its office staff, and pointed to the large business secured as evidence of the ability of its agents.

The former Board of Directors and officers were all re-elected, and the Manager was advanced from his former position of Manager to that of Managing Director by the unanimous consent of the large body of shareholders and policyholders present at the meeting.

Detailed reports can be had on application at head office or to any agent of the company.

Goderich, March 8 (Special)—A case of great interest here just now is that of Mr. Alexander J. Sharkey, who for some time has been an extreme sufferer from rheumatism. His statement to the correspondent is as follows:

"For eighteen months I was a victim of rheumatism and during that time was trying every means to cure it. I had the best doctors in Canada, and took their prescriptions with faith and patience.

"I got tired at last for I found the disappointment nearly as killing as the disease.

"But one friend wiser than the others convinced me that my disease must be cured by the way of the kidneys and recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I have used two boxes of these pills to effect a perfect cure and I don't care who knows it."

THE SOUTH AND WEST

Suffer Disastrously From the Spring Floods.

WEALTHY PEOPLE LOST HEAVILY

And the Poor Lost All—Hundreds of Miles of Lowlands Flooded Opposite Memphis, Tenn.—Iowa, Nebraska, Michigan and Minnesota All Troubled by the Waters.

Memphis, Tenn., March 20.—The sorrow, the desolation, the dismalness of the flood cannot be realized or described. Only those who have experienced the horrors of escaping with their lives can understand the situation. Some have lost their lives.

The wealthy have been heavily damaged, and the poor have lost their all, and to-day they shiver for want of sufficient clothing and shelter, and feel strongly the pangs of hunger. They are huddled together in temporary places of safety and are provided with little, if any, food.

The lowlands opposite Memphis are inundated for 40 miles out. The little towns of Ashport and Gold Dust, Tenn., are up to the windows in water and the houses in the low places are up to the eaves. On the opposite side of the river the towns are in equally as bad condition except Osceola. The low islands are also flooded, and many of the inhabitants have lost everything they possessed. From above Ashport to below Plum Point, which is over 100 miles, is a low levee, which has always been amply protected; now it is mostly under water. It is impossible to estimate the loss to property. So far the loss of life reported is placed at fifty.

Marion, a small town on the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Gulf Railroad, is inundated, and the relief steamers go from here daily to gather up the suffering ones. Some are found on rafts floating, with nothing but corn to eat, and some are on their housetops absolutely starving. Skiffs from Memphis are going all through the woods across the river, rescuing people and stock. They tow flatboats, on which the live stock and household effects are loaded. When they reach Memphis there is a company of women who meet the boats and serve them soup and sandwiches and direct them to shelter. Rations were issued to-day to 750 people, besides meals served to 538.

Every boat brings an additional number. Five lines of railway going out of Memphis are stopped on account of washouts. There is very reliable information to the effect that at points below Helena the water has gone over the levee, and the levees being in such a mushy condition from the rains it is not thought possible to protect them much longer from the ever-rising flood.

Iowa is Suffering.

Sioux City, Ia., March 20.—The flood is receding here to-day and at all points above. The Big Sioux is on the warpath and has every town and farm in its valley under water. It rose 20 feet in 36 hours and is still coming up. The Milwaukee road has suffered incalculable damage to its line between here and Harwarden. The Missouri River broke up here last night, but is bringing down quantities of wreckage from its tributaries. There is hardly a bridge left across any stream in this section. In Sioux City are many destitute families who have been driven from their homes by the flood. Farmers in outlying districts, who were forced to abandon their homes are also drifting in. Last night no provision had been made to care for them by the city and considerable suffering resulted. They will be cared for after to-day.

Reports of damage by floods came in to-night from towns all over the territory about Sioux City. The Big and Little Sioux, Vermilion, Jim Rock and Elkhorn Rivers are a few among the more important streams which are causing trouble. Bridges are nearly all gone on many of the railroads, and farm land is under water.

All Have Suffered.

St. Louis, March 20.—The warning sent out by the Government Signal Service yesterday that the Mississippi River and all its tributaries would continue to rise has been fulfilled to the letter. Communication with the flooded section has become difficult, but despatches received from widely separated points show that all have suffered alike. It is estimated that a section of country with an area equal to that of the State of Missouri is now under water and that the worst is not over. Advices from Cairo, Paducah, Memphis and Helena show that the region beginning north of New Madrid, Mo., west to and including the valleys of the St. Francis, the White and the Arkansas Rivers, in Arkansas, east in Kentucky and Tennessee, off the valleys of the Tennessee, the Cache, the Obdon and the Yazoo Rivers, and south to the Red River, are under water. The intervening ranges of hills and high ground are the only places of refuge. The despatches received here tell but one story—lives lost, stock drowned and a country desolated. At Cairo, Ills., to day the river reached 50.9 feet, and rising slowly, which is but one foot off the high record of 1883. All the country south of there to Memphis is submerged.

Flood at Sheboygan.

Sheboygan, Mich., March 20.—Portions of this city are flooded to a depth of two feet. Five vessels tied up at winter moorings have broken loose. The schooner Moore crashed into the Eighth-street bridge, and then passed outward toward the lake. The other boats followed the Moore, wrecking themselves as well as the docks and other vessels tied at the docks. Great damage has been done. Three vessels are now out in the lake at the mercy of the sea, and two tugs are trying to get out to them.

Fearful Out in Nebraska.

Omaha, March 20.—The general thaw of the past week has started the ice in the Logan and Elkhorn Rivers, and towns along their banks have been threatened with floods, but only two of any importance have been seriously damaged.

Pender, on the Logan River, is to-night partly submerged and Norfolk, the sugar beet factory city of Madison County, is in several feet of water.

While the Missouri River is very high, the danger point has not been reached. At Norfolk thousands of dollars' worth of damage has been done. All the business portion of the city is under from three to six feet of water. The newspaper presses in the city are under four feet of water and publication is suspended.

At Elk Point, S. D., the Missouri river has broken up and risen 10 feet in the last 10 hours. The Sioux River has risen 14 feet in the last thirty-four hours The expanse of water is four miles wide. Many families have been driven from their homes. The Milwaukee track is washed out for about 3000 feet of its track, and its span bridge across the Sioux River is gone. Within 20 hours the Big Sioux has risen to such a height at Flandreau, S. D., that the highest bridges in the county are impassable.

The river is now rising at the rate of an inch every 15 minutes.

Danger at Des Moines.

Des Moines, Ia., March 20.—The Des Moines River rose four feet at this point from last evening to noon to-day, and is now about stationary.

The sudden rise flooded many houses and people were taken out in boats. The great gorge in the Iowa River at Iowa Falls went out this afternoon. Onawa despatches say the Little Sioux is out of its banks there and in places four miles wide and still rising fast. At Cherokee the situation is worse than ever before. The Little Sioux has flooded all the lower part of the town and hundreds of people are driven from their homes. The town is cut off from communication with the outside world by rail.

In Minnesota Also.

St. Paul, Minn., March 20.—The Great Northwest continues a victim to rising waters and the damage financially is very large. The railroads are the principal sufferers from washed out tracks and bridges. Reports received to-night from points in Minnesota, Wisconsin and South Dakota indicate a further rise in the rivers, due to melted snow, which has been unusually heavy in depth this winter.

No trains have passed between Hokah and La Crosse for 24 hours, due to the Root River floods, and mill property is in great danger along the Redwood and Minnesota Rivers.

GLEN WILLIAMS FLOODED.

The Little Village Suffers From a Blockade of Ice and Things are Looking Serious.

Georgetown, Ont., March 21.—There is great excitement in the village of Glen Williams to-day on account of that place being completely flooded. The recent rains and mild weather broke up the ice on the River Credit very suddenly. This has made a massive dam just below the village, causing the river to overflow. The main street is a running torrent, and debris of all kinds is floating along the street. Some houses are half filled with water, the inhabitants having vacated them, and depending on the generosity of their friends, who are lucky enough to dwell on more elevated places. Two bridges have been swept away, and if the water keeps on rising as it is at present, things will become serious. A huge block of ice struck a brick house belonging to Mr. A. Cooper, and knocked down one wall and completely demolished the frame kitchen. Other less damages are reported to dwelling houses. The several mills will have to close down as the races providing the water power have been washed away.

The British Minister Tateuba signalled the German steamer Kaiser Wilhelm, just arrived at New York, "Artois, steamer St. Nazaire, French," which was taken in tow and thirteen survivors of the lost French vessel had been rescued.

LATEST WAR GOSSIP

Public Feeling is Aroused in England Over Crete.

MR. GLADSTONE SCORED A POINT

Premier Delyanins of Greece, Who is Not for War, Says the Situation May Become Uncontrollable and the Powers Will be Responsible —Turkish Ships Open Fire.

New York, March 21.—Under yesterday's date James Creelman cables from Athens to The Journal: Prime Minister Delyannis to-day authorized me to make public the following declaration as a result of a talk with him. It is the first actual threat uttered by the responsible head of the Greek Government: "If the great powers will not be convinced of the injustice and impracticability of the measure they have decided upon, the situation will become worse and probably may become uncontrollable, nor is it possible to foresee the result, but it will be unjust to throw upon Greece the responsibility for what may follow."

The gravity of this statement may be judged by the fact that Delyannis is opposed to war.

The Journal's special from Canea says that Turkish men-of-war at Suda, in the presence of the European fleet, to-day opened fire on the insurgents who were engaged in fighting native Moslems.

The barracks of the Turkish troops are being prepared for the reception of 1600 international troops, who will land here in a few days. There will be landed in all the towns in the island 3600 European troops. Five hundred English troops are to be stationed at Heraklion. This seems an utterly insufficient force to keep order among 45,000 Moslems, crowded in that town. The whole management of European interference here shows a lamentable ignorance on the part of those directing affairs.

The following proclamation was issued this morning by the Turkish Government: "We bring to the notice of the people that, according to a telegram from the Grand Vizier, autonomy has been given to Crete under the suzerainty of His Imperial Majesty the Sultan."

I had an interview to-day with Ismael Bey, acting Governor of Crete. He is a small, wrinkled man, with small eyes, projecting ears and a hooked nose. He said: "Turkey and the European powers consider the Cretans like our children. We wish to treat them kindly, but if they disobey we will bring large bodies of troops here to force them to terms."

Europe, according to this statement, has allied herself with Turkey to force upon the Cretans a government no one wants. Richer Moslems especially complain of this. Some of the Beys of Canea have even told me in private that they would prefer a union with Greece to autonomy, which would mean a government by their hated Christian compatriots.

From the interior I hear that the clause in the proclamation of admirals requiring Cretans to lay down their arms is, as I thought it would, exciting comment. Cretans have always carried arms, and even if they were inclined to accept autonomy, they would not lay down their arms before knowing what sort of autonomy Europe proposes to force on them.

A Wild Proposition.

New York, March 21.—A special cable despatch from London to The Sun says: Why should not the Government of the United States refuse to recognize the blockade of Crete? The terms of the official notice of the blockade, which were issued by the British Government in London to-day, are a direct violation of the law of nations. The notice says: "Ships of the six powers, or neutral powers, may enter into the ports occupied by the powers and land their merchandise, but only if it is not for the Greek troops or the interior of the island. These ships may be visited by the ships of the international fleets." If any ship or officer of the blockading fleet undertakes to enforce these regulations against a vessel carrying the American flag it will be an act of war against the United States. There can be little doubt about the correctness of this view.

WILL TOPPLE THE MINISTRY.

That Will be the First Effect of British Guns Firing on the Cretans.

New York, March 21.—Ballard Smith cables from London: The first reverberation of English guns fired against Greece—and it is likely that it may come—would in all probability topple over the Salisbury Ministry like a house of cards. All England is heartily ashamed of the Government's attitude towards Crete. This is becoming more obvious daily, in spite of Lord Salisbury's still intact majority in Parliament. The expressions in Mr. Gladstone's letter to the Duke of Westminster ring through the land.

Punch's cartoon of a British sailor contemplating a Turkish janissary threatening a Greek soldier reflects the popular humor here. It is labelled: "Ah, that Greek's a plucky little chap." Sir John Tenniel makes Jack Tar say: "Precious sorry that me and my fightin' mates have to stop him."

Another periodical imagines two dogs of Venice discussing the present situation.

Francisco Mormost remarks: "Why, there is sound of cannon at Canea."

Luigi Mocenigo replies: "Doubtless it is the fleet of the republic once again defending Europe from the Turks."

An official caretaker explains: "No, Excellencies, it is Europe defending the Turks from the Christians."

Mormosi and Mocenigo exclaim . . .

THE DINGLEY TARIFF BILL.

Even our good Yankee friends do not all consider the Dingley Tariff Bill a perfect measure. The lumber interests are against it, and that staid and solid journal, the Scottish American, thus refers to its objectionable feature—that it is like all high tariff measures, in the interests of the few and against the interests of the great mass of the people:

"Like its predecessor (the McKinley Bill) it entirely ignores the sound principle on which all such legislation should be based—the good of the many, and not the benefit of the few. This new Tariff Bill is intended to benefit the trusts and millionaire manufacturers of this country at the expense of the labouring and poorer masses—a fact which can be demonstrated beyond all dispute by simply considering the effect it will inevitably have in increasing the cost of living. Against that (in the aggregate) enormous increased cost to the people generally the slight benefit derived through the protection it gives to a very few will form a poor set-off indeed.

The excuse given for this proposed piece of most unjust legislation is, that it is necessary to enable the Government to pay its way. Had it been necessary (which, however, we deny) to increase the revenue there are many other ways in which that could be done than in thus practically taxing the poor for the benefit of the rich—that is a kind of class-legislation which must be always obnoxious to all right-thinking persons. But there was no necessity—or, indeed, any good reason whatever—for increasing the revenue. That is already most ample to meet all necessary and just expenditures. The necessity existing was simply one calling for retrenchment, and a setting of the face against all uncalled-for appropriations. When heads of households find their expenditures exceeding their incomes the good and sound advice given them is, to retrench. No one would advise them to rather increase their incomes by gambling or stealing. And yet the latter is the advice which the promoters of this new Tariff Bill are now giving to the government. In such matters there is no radical difference between the head of a family and the government of a nation."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

HER MAJESTY, the Queen, has donated $5,000 to the Indian Famine Fund. This may seem to some to be a small sum for the ruler of the greatest Empire in the world. And so it would be if it were her only benefaction; but when one considers the demands perpetually made upon the Queen's pocket and responded to, the gift is indeed a royal one.

THE situation in Southern Europe is still acute. The efforts of the powers in the direction of maintaining peace may, it is feared, be unavailing to prevent the bursting of the war cloud. Through all the diplomatic palaver, plucky little Greece still stands to her guns, and if her discretion cannot be commended, her courage is worthy of all praise. War is a terrible scourge, and "offences must needs come, but woe unto him by whom the offence cometh,"—that is, the unspeakable Turk.

THE American people are not by any means unanimous in approval of the new McKinley tariff. Those interested in the lumber business are kicking vigorously. It is claimed that the new lumber duties will provoke retaliation on the part of Canada, and will destroy the important lumber business now carried on in Canadian forest products. Canada will be forced in simple self-defence to retaliate, and when our Yankee friends get a taste of their own medicine, they will begin to realize that it is a little bitter.

FISHING for material for party purposes seems to be the justification of the existence of the Ontario Opposition. To make a false show of interest in the public welfare, demands are made for all sorts of returns, the expense of whose bringing down is far greater than any advantage to be gained from the publication of such returns. The other day Dr. Ryerson moved for returns of the names, occupations, etc., of all Justices of the Peace in a most preposterous and useless demand which will cost a great deal. It is a good deal like the modest request made by a lady who asked the EXAMINER for the names of all the British admirals appointed the past hundred years.

HUSTLING HAVELOCK.

(From a Corespondent)

A number of the people of the Methodist church assembled at the residence of Mr. Williams on the evening of Friday, March 5th, to do honour to Mrs. Todd, who has so faithfully filled the position of organist for the past year. After a pleasant hour had been spent, the participants began to gather in large numbers and soon all were enjoying themselves to the fullest extent in games provided by Mr. and Mrs. Williams. The interest, without a moment's cessation, was kept going until 11.30 p.m., when the following address was read by Rev. H. McQuade:

We, the people of the Methodist church, many of whom are assembled in the social gathering here this evening, desire to extend to you an expression of our appreciation of the faithful service you have rendered as organist during the past year.

We can all understand that to be present at all necessary rehearsals to secure proficiency of rendition at the public service, must be at a cost of personal inconvenience, and is a work requiring a goodly degree of energy and application.

We are, therefore, hearty in our expression of appreciation, inasmuch as your services have been faithfully and cheerfully rendered, your place having been so seldom vacant during the year.

But in order that we may more fully manifest our appreciation, be pleased to accept at our hands this purse, and what it contains, as a slight token, which we most cheerfully render, and may we all so live in this life that we may sing the new song in the Better Land.

Signed on behalf of the congregation.
H. MCQUADE, Pastor.
E. WILLIAMS, Choirmaster.

Mrs. Dodd thanked her friends for the kind donation, and said she considered she had simply done her duty. Mr. Dodd also returned thanks for their liberal gift to Mrs. Dodd.

The purse was a handsome morocco one, and contained the sum of twenty-seven dollars. Refreshments were served by the host and hostess, after which the evening's enjoyment was brought to a happy termination.

The Ancient Order of United Workmen have recently added 64 members to their list. Through the exertions of M. A. McAuley, W. Matheson and the Grand Organizer, who recently paid a visit to Havelock, this large addition was accomplished in a week's work. The members, about 200 strong, sat down to a sumptuous spread and to which all did ample justice. Organizer Woodman gives Havelock brethren great praise for their work and says he is not surprised at the large number of new members who have been recently brought in considering the able workers who had the matter in their hands. A large contingent came down from Norwood to witness the interesting ceremonies of initiation.

Relieve the kidneys, cure the ache.
Bad back, acute pains and kidney ills,
Are quickly cured by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Here is proof of it at home. The testimony of Mr. George N. Graham, the genial host of the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, is as follows:—

He says:—"I have been a great sufferer for some time with pain across the back, extending up between the shoulders, swelling of the limbs, dizziness, loss of appetite, and in fact felt completely broken up.

"I had lost 17 pounds in three months, and thought that I would never get better. I have taken many kinds of patent medicines, and have also been treated by medical men, but did not seem to get any better at all, in fact was constantly growing worse.

"I saw Doan's kidney Pills advertisement and got a box of them at Lynch's drugstore, and by the time I had taken one box noticed a marked change for the better.

"I have taken seven boxes altogether, and am now free from pain; the swelling in the limbs has disappeared, and my appetite is good. In fact, I feel that I am completely cured.

"I can heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to those suffering from any form of kidney trouble. They are the best kidney medicine I have ever used.

Signed, GEO. N. GRAHAM.

THE YUKON COUNTRY

Englishmen Find It is a Very Rich Gold District.

THEY WANT TO SECURE A CHARTER

And Promise to Develop the Mines, Build Railroads and Steamboats and Open Up the Country Generally—Our Trade With Japan—General News From Ottawa.

Ottawa, March 21. — (Special.) — Among the many projects which will come before the House during the coming session is a proposition from a strong combination of British capitalists to open up the Yukon. There lies, say the promoters of this plan, the greatest area of gold-producing ore in the world. What they want the Government to do is to grant them a charter to administer the country, as the Chartered Company administer the affairs of South Africa. Either that or guarantee the interest upon a million dollars of the capital necessary to open up the country by means of railway and steamship lines which will cover the whole of the Yukon country. The railway is to be through the White Pass. Once this latter distance is covered, said the promoter of the enterprise, the Yukon would be open for navigation from six to seven months, and the route would be available over the ice for the remainder of the year, and the feasibility of the route is vouched for, not only by representatives of private enterprises, but by the Government explorers. The objection has been raised that part of the proposed route would be through American territory, but to this the English capitalists make reply that many of the existing railway systems are similarly situated, and yet no difficulties ensue.

By arrangement and with the hearty approval of the Imperial authorities, an experiment is about to be tried, which may have a far-reaching effect so far as the Canadian permanent force is concerned. On the 1st prox. No. 4 company of the Royal Regiment of Canadian Infantry, and ten men from No. 3 company of St. John's, will be transferred to Halifax, for six months or more, as a company of the Berkshire Regiment, while one company of the Imperial battalion will take possession of the quarters at Fredericton, vacated by No. 4 company of the Canadian force. This exchange will have the practical effect of assimilating the Canadian regiment to the Imperial one. Should the experiment prove successful, and there is no doubt on that score, other companies of the R. R. C. I. from time to time will be attached to whatever British regiment may be stationed at Halifax.

An impression is gaining ground that May 24 will be chosen as Ottawa's jubilee celebration day. The review will certainly be the finest ever held in this district. The local committee are talking of inviting the 48th Highlanders of Toronto, and the Victoria Rifles of Montreal to take part.

The Department of Public Works has awarded a number of contracts, among them the following: Messrs. Boon & Armstrong of Toronto have secured the contract for the harbor works at Collingwood. Mr. Luke Madigan of Mount Forest receives the contract for the harbor works at Goderich. Messrs. Messier & Naylor are the successful contractors for the construction of a wharf at St. Valentine.

Consul-General Nosse of Japan had an interview yesterday with Sir Richard Cartwright, Minister of Trade and Commerce, when trade matters were discussed between the two gentlemen at some length. Mr. Nosse proposes to recommend to his Government to establish consular agencies in Toronto, Montreal and other places, and it is not unlikely that he himself may be transferred from Vancouver to Ottawa. Mr. Nosse believes that it is quite possible to largely develop trade between Japan and Canada. Canada imports about $1,000,000 worth of Japan tea every year. The consul believes there is a great opening for Canadian lumber in Japan. Recently he received orders for 5,000,000 feet of lumber and placed 3,000,000 with the different mills in the Vancouver district. This trade, he thinks, should grow enormously, as the timber limits in Japan are pretty well worked out.

Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum

For Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Sore throat, etc.

KERRY, WATSON & CO., Proprietors, MONTREAL.

Mr. P. J. Loughran, a leading labor organizer, is here urging the imposition of a duty of $3 a cord on pulp wood. He will visit the principal centres of population to talk up this subject, the town in which he lives, Sault Ste. Marie, being vitally interested in the matter. The American mills are, he holds, bonused to the extent of $100,000 if no export duty is imposed by the Canadian Government. They must draw their supply from Canada, and as long as the spruce is allowed to leave our territory it places the American mills on an equal footing with us as regards cost of manufacture, while on the product there is a duty of 15 per cent. on all Canadian pulp going into the States. The Canadian pulp mills sell almost their entire output to the States, so that it can readily be seen how hard they would be hit. The pulp industry is one that has largely contributed to build up Sault Ste. Marie. If an export duty is imposed it will mean the increasing of the American duty on lumber to about $3.50 per thousand. It would create a revenue of $300,000 a year, however, to the Canadian Government, and a fair way would be for the Dominion to pay a portion of this by way of bonus to our mill owners upon whatever lumber they may export. Mr. Loughran also urges the imposition of an export duty on what is known as crude nickel, or "matte," from the Sudbury mines, to encourage the refining of the product here in Canada.

The High Commissioner has informed the Minister of Trade and Commerce that money may be made shipping hardwood paving blocks from the Dominion to Europe. They are being used very largely by the vestries for paving, and the supply is drawn from the European countries. A form of contract was also supplied for the perusal of the Canadian timber men, and he advises that samples of Canadian woods suitable for paving be sent to London, where they can be shown.

In transmitting his final report to the Government, Mr. John W. Down, commercial agent at Bristol, says the shipment of apples from Canada was quite heavy last month. Some arrived in the very best of shape and sold well. Others, though including consignments from the United States, through faulty packing, were of little commercial value. A Toronto firm has been active in making shipments of Canadian apples to Bristol, and their goods meet with satisfaction. Mr. Down sees every reason to expect an improvement next year. As regards pears, he thinks Canadian fruit growers could make money by shipping pears, provided they are wrapped. Other Canadian shipments generally, including cattle and horses and dairy products, he reports as quite brisk.

Hon. Mr. Davies, Minister of Marine, addressed a meeting at Aylmer last night in the interests of Mr. Champagne. In the course of his speech Mr. Davies said within two weeks of the opening of Parliament, the Government would bring down the budget and tariff measure, and show, to the surprise of Sir Charles Tupper and Mr. Foster, that a political party could keep its ante-election pledges.

Used Eighteen Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills—The Stone Dissolved and Removed—Knew of Others Cured.

Shelburne, March 23 (Special)—Mr. John Medill, known locally as well as far and near, as a physical giant and glorying in his strength, came to be a great sufferer, and tells of his cure as follows:

"I do not hesitate to speak of Dodd's Kidney Pills or anything else exactly as I find them. If a medicine cures me, and if I think it will cure others, why not say so?

"It is true I had been suffering for some time with Bladder trouble, and learning of a cure made in a similar case by Dodd's Kidney Pills, I commenced using them.

In all I have used eighteen boxes, and they have dissolved the stone and have entirely cured me of any sign of such difficulty. I do not hesitate to speak of Dodd's Kidney Pills in the highest terms of praise, for I know of many persons who have been cured by them."

VERY BADLY BATTERED.

Steamer Finsbury From Rotterdam Towed by the Atlantic Wares.

Boston, March 20.—The steamer Finsbury, which arrived at this port to-day from Rotterdam, had a severe experience. She left the latter port Feb. 20 in ballast. On the first day out from port her steering gear gave way, and the vessel had to put into Plymouth for repairs. Leaving Plymouth four days later, she encountered heavy gales and fearful seas. The steering gear broke again, and the vessel wallowed for sixteen hours in the trough of the sea. The ballast tank worked loose and flooded the hold with water, and the pumps were rendered useless by sand, which also filled the engine tunnel and the bilges, and there was eight feet of water in the hold. During this trouble the wind was blowing with hurricane force. On the 12th the steamer got among a large number of icebergs, and her bow plates on both sides were stove. On the 17th the steering gear gave way again, and the feed and circulating pump broke, and the vessel again wallowed in the trough of the sea, rolling in a terrible manner before repairs could be made. She is in a badly battered condition. Several members of the crew were injured.

Free-for-All Fight.

St. Louis, March 20.—The Democratic city convention in Masonic Hall was the scene of a free-for-all fight to-day in which over 200 men participated, and which resulted in two riot calls being sent to Police Headquarters and three wagon loads of police given an opportunity to ply their clubs on the heads of innocent and guilty alike.

A Mandement Read.

SKIN DISEASES!

One Remedy Which has Never Failed—Tried and Tested Ointment.

Because other alleged remedies for piles, scrofula, eczematic eruptions, scald head, chafing, black heads, salt rheum and skin diseases generally have proved useless, don't condemn Dr. Chase's Ointment. It has never been known to fail. For instance, Nelson Simmons, Meyersburg, Ont., writes:

"I used Dr. Chase's Ointment for Itching Piles, and can recommend it highly. Since using it I have had perfect freedom from the disease."

Peter Vanallen, L'Amable, Que., had the eczema for three years. He tried three doctors, but received no benefit. One box of Dr. Chase's Ointment and three boxes of Dr. Chase's Pills cured him completely. Large scales covered his legs and body, but the Ointment soon removed them. He will swear to these facts.

Chase's Ointment may be had from any dealer or from the manufacturers Edmanson, Bates & Co., 45 Lombard street, Toronto. Price 60 cents.

Mother's greatest remedy for coughs, colds, bronchitis and lung affections is Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. The medicinal taste is wholly disguised making it pleasant to take. Large bottle 25 cents.

Fortnightly Club.

The Fortnightly Club meets on Tuesday evening in the county council chamber at 7.45, when a paper will be read by Mr. James Coyle Brown entitled "Chinese Gordon." The public are invited. Attention is called to the hour of meeting which has been changed to allow several members who are on the citizen's Diamond Jubilee committee to attend a meeting of that body afterwards.

Catarrh Cured for 25 Cents.

Neglect cold in the head and you will surely have catarrh. Neglect nasal catarrh and you will as surely induce pulmonary diseases or catarrh of stomach with its disgusting attendants, foul breath, hawking, spitting, blowing, etc. Stop it by using Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. 25 cents a box cures. A perfect blower enclosed in each box.

A Pulpit Curiosity.

Dr. Burnham has shown the EXAMINER the manuscript of a sermon 118 years old. It was preached by his great-grandfather, Rev. Roswick Burnham, who had in the [illegible] a parish in Massachusetts. [illegible] endorsations on the MS. it [illegible] and twice, first at Salem in 1779, [illegible] years later, in 1787, at Great Barrington. The manuscript though so old is remarkable legible. The ink has faded very little, and the penmanship is of that clear, careful character such as our forefathers were noted for. The paper is however very yellow with age. The text was Romans xii, 13, and the sermon was divided into only two parts. The old style of contraction abounds in the manuscript —"ye" for the, "yt" for that, "ym" for them, etc.

SUNDAY MORNING'S FIRE.

A Blaze Breaks Out Twice in Jas. McComb's Cellar.

At twenty minutes past one on Saturday night or rather on Sunday morning, as Nightwatchman Gordon was proceeding up Hunter street on his regular rounds, he detected the odor of fire in the air, and on examining the premises of Messrs. Jas. McComb and Clarke & Gibson, he could discern the smoke circling about the interior of the two stores. He immediately notified Constable McGinty, and the proprietors were quickly brought to the scene. It was then found that the smoke was issuing from Mr. McComb's store cellar, where some scrap paper was discovered to be on fire. This was extinguished by the brigade, which was promptly on the scene. The smoke in Clarke & Gibson's store had found its way up from the cellar, the partition between the two basements not reaching up to the ceiling.

At about four o'clock Mr. Gordon again noticed that smoke was issuing from the premises, and an investigation showed that a quantity of wool in Mr. McComb's cellar had become ignited, a spark or two having probably been left smouldering. The trouble was soon righted by the brigade.

Mr. McComb states that he was in his store cellar looking after the furnace at about eleven o'clock Saturday night, just prior to closing up. At this hour everything appeared all right and he is at a loss to understand how the fire could have originated, unless it was by a spark from the furnace. The goods destroyed by fire were small in quantity but the smoke has damaged a considerable quantity of valuable stock. Dr. Bingham and Mr. Peter Corkery, who have apartments over the store, were fairly smoked out of their rooms.

Mr. McComb's stock is insured through Messrs. Cox & Davis for $4,000, divided amongst the following companies:—North British & Merchantile $1500; Phœnix, of Brooklyn $1500; Manchester $1000.

THE MARKET TOLLS.

They Bring a Higher Figure Than Last Season.

The sale of the market tolls for the year took place in the council chamber this morning, and the attendance was very large. The bidding was spirited, and was started by Mr. R. H. Nesbitt, last year's lessee, at $1,000. Mr. R. H. Green raised to $1,010, and the two bidders raised each other by ten dollar advances until $1,050 was reached, when Mr. Nesbitt jumped to $1,200, and the figure advanced to $1,450 at fifty dollar raises. The ten dollar bids were then fallen back on again, and the bidding continued until Mr. Green offered $1,990, at which figures he secured the privileges for the incoming year. Mr. Nesbitt dropping out.

Last year the tolls sold for $1,930, and the year before they brought $2,250. In 1894 the figure reached was $1,770.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—This is opening week at TURNBULL'S. The store will be decorated with all the new spring goods.

—The Little Lake is dotted with sea gulls. Yesterday afternoon several alighted on the Riverside Park rink. They evidently mistook the rink for a lake, and made a hasty departure for deeper waters.

—Have you seen the new American Bicycle Corset, or the new T. P., a very fine make. Said by those who have worn them to be ahead of ordered goods. Only to be had at TURNBULL'S.

—It is the habit of a particular Ashburnham citizen, residing in the west of the village, to dump garbage in his front garden, which soon finds its way out and overflows the sidewalk. The stench arising from "slop" is most disagreeable to the passers by, as they have either to take the road or jump over it. The Medical Health Officer's attention as well as that of the police has been called to it. The complaint will be remedied at once.

PERSONAL.

His Lordship Bishop O'Connor was in Hastings yesterday.

Mr. Harry Phelan has returned from a business trip to Ottawa.

Mr. E. B. Stone's condition is not improving as rapidly as could be wished by his friends.

Mr. George Gobell, of the Grand Central Hotel, was stricken down last night with a serious attack of inflammation of the bowels.

Miss Burt, late of Ashburnham Public School staff, has recently been visiting at London House, Leatherhead, Middlesex, the quaintly beautiful property of the Bradshaws. She reports that at that part dear old England is looking her very best, every bank, hedgerow, coppice and field being literally "clothed upon" with every variety of fragrant fragile spring flowers, which are not one of the least of beautiful England's many charms. She speaks of one old mossy, grassy churchyard which is covered all over white, not with snow, but snowdrops.

If your child is attacked with Croup, a plaster made with "Quickcure" spread with a warm knife blade on canton flannel, linen or cotton, will give more prompt relief, from croup or any inflammation, than camphorated oil, or mustard. In severe cases, doctors tell you to apply hot applications also, over the "Quickcure" plaster, covering the chest and neck well.

THE CREEK ON A RAMPAGE.

The Sudden Thaw Caused a Freshet which Does Considerable Damage.

The usually modest and staid little town creek went off on a rampage on Saturday, and swollen to a rushing torrent through the recent heavy rain storm, and the numerous accessions gained from every cross street ditch, it seriously threatened the property along its banks below Brock street.

Large cakes of ice came floating down from Whyte's pond and carried away a couple of large stays from the bridge at Donegal street. A blockade of ice formed between Brock and Hunter streets and the corporation labourers were out in force endeavouring to move the jam. It was finally disposed off at noon on Sunday, but not before the wooden footbridge and the dam at Patterson's tannery was carried away.

The water rose so high and the ice came down in such quantity that it was feared the C.P.R. siding just north of the main line at the depot, would be carried away, but was of sufficient stability to remain firm.

The greatest damage that was wrought was occasioned at the new George street bridge at Spaulding's Bay, just below the Geo. Matthews Co. pork packing establishment.

The north abutment of the bridge, it will be remembered, was undermined by the current last spring and several feet of it washed away, at the eastern extremity. This was repaired during the summer and a large wooden pier built above the bridge to break the force of the ice and guide the current more directly beneath the bridge, with the object of doing away with the swirling eddy which resulted, it was thought, through the water circling the pond before finding its way out. The precautions taken, however, were useless, as the water undermined both abutments at the eastern extremity and eight or ten feet of stonework has vanished from each abutment, rendering that side of the bridge most unsafe. For the present the structure has been braced up with steel rails, and a man is on guard to warn those passing of the danger.

The ice formed a jam on the east side of the bridge, thus backing up the water level with the roadway. Dynamite was need to clear the ice away at this point, and by some it is thought that the masonry and stonework may have been jarred and loosened by the explosion.

Councillor H. Best points out that if a gang of men had been put to work with saws, a channel could have been cut into the lake, and the blockade prevented.

The damage occasioned the bridge will necessitate its reconstruction. The passage beneath will have to be widened, and the suggestion is made that another opening be made and a second bridge built at a point lower down, in order to more easily carry off the water, which apparently accumulates too rapidly for the present channel to carry off.

IN THE INTEREST OF BICYCLING.

Amendments to the Municipal Act Proposed by Mr. Stratton.

Mr. Stratton, M.P.P., has introduced two short bills to amend the municipal Act in the interests of persons who use the bicycle on highways. The first provides for giving cyclists the "right of the road" as follows:

1. Section one of the Act entitled, an Act to regulate travelling on public highways and bridges, being chapter 195 of the Revised Statutes of Ontario, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

1. In case a person travelling or being upon a highway in charge of a vehicle or horse meets another vehicle or horse so in charge he shall turn out to the right from the centre of the road allowing to the vehicle or horse so met one-half of the road. (Vehicle includes Bicycle of course).

BICYCLE PATHS.

The other bill provides for the passing of by-laws to regulate the setting apart and maintenance of bicycle paths along public highways and roads as follows:—

1. The Consolidated Municipal Act, 1892, is amended by adding the following section:

1. The council of every county, township, city, town and incorporated village may pass by-laws for setting apart so much of any highway or road or street as the council of any such municipality having control over such highway, road or street may deem necessary for the purpose of a bicycle path, and if a person rides or drives a horse or other beast of burden over such bicycle path he shall incur the penalties imposed by The Act to regulate Travelling on Public Highways and Bridges.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Miss Harmer sang the solo "If I were a Voice" very effectively, last evening, in the Park street Baptist church.

Miss Grace Stanley gave a very sweet rendering of "Flee as a Bird," in the Murray street Baptist church last evening.

The morning anthem in St. Paul's church was entitled "Thou Visited the Earth." In the evening "I am He that Saveth" was given. Both renderings were characterised by noticeable harmony.

At the fiftieth anniversary of St. Patrick's church, Montreal, at which His Lordship Bishop O'Connor conducted Pontifical His Mass on St. Patrick's Day, Rev. M. J. O'Brien, of the Grand Seminary, also of Peterborough, was master of ceremonies.

THE KINMOUNT BRIDGE BILL.

A Transparent Attempt to Relieve Victoria County.

Mr. Carnegie, M.P.P. for East Victoria, has introduced the following bill into the Ontario Legislature:

1 The Consolidated Municipal Act, 1892, is amended by inserting therein the following as section 548a.

548a. Under this Act a deviation road or deviation from a boundary line between municipalities shall be held to be a line of road diverging from and used in lieu of such boundary line to avoid natural obstructions preventing the making of a public road upon such boundary, following in a course as nearly parallel with, and as close to such boundary line as the nature of the ground will admit of for a proper road, and as soon as practicable rejoining the same boundary line or a continuation thereof, or some other public highway leading thereto. And each part of such deviation or deviation road shall be regarded as substituted for that part of the actual boundary line that lies opposite to it in a direct line therefrom.

[This is palpably a bill in the interest of Victoria County and Somerville township, and is a transparent attempt to shirk responsibility. It is entitled "An Act to Amend the Municipal Act," but it would be more properly described by calling it "An Act to Remove the Kinmount Bridge and place it on the boundary between Peterborough and Victoria Counties," so that this county would be bound to pay a share for its maintenance. In familiar parlance the bill is "altogether too thin," and the attempt will not be allowed to succeed.

HOCKEY.

Toronto Saturday night says: As hockey is now practically over it might perhaps not be altogether out of place to make a few remarks in regard to the general play, etc., of the past season. At their last annual meeting the O.H.A. formed an Intermediate Series with the object of providing competition for teams that were too strong for junior, and yet hardly strong enough for senior ranks. It cannot be said that this innovation has met with great success; indeed, as a whole, I find hockeyists looked upon it with a certain amount of disfavour. The principal objection is that where clubs enter two teams, viz., Senior and Intermediate, all the energy is spent developing the former and the latter is practically looked upon as a second team. This state of affairs is not in the interests of the game, and to remedy the same a rule should be adopted to the effect that no club should be allowed to enter teams in more than one series unless there are good grounds for supposing that each team entered will be reasonably strong. This year several of the intermediate teams were forced to default owing to lack of playing material. Trinity, Osgoods Hall and Stratford were hardly strong enough for the senior series, and if these teams, together with the Wellingtons, enter in the Intermediate Series next year, the competition in that class should be very keen. Berlin and the Frontenacs of Kingston, who met in the finals, were superior to several of the senior teams, and I understand it is the intention of the former club to enter a team in the Senior Series next year.

The quality of hockey displayed in Senior O.H.A. games this season was somewhat disappointing, there being little, if any, improvement over previous years. Queen's, Peterborough, T.A.C. and 'Varsity competed in the semi-finals, and in point of strength the teams run in about the order named. 'Varsity certainly defeated T. A. C., but the games were very closely contested, the former being ahead but one point in each. To offset this is their defeat by Commerce, which justifies me in placing them at the bottom of the list. Queen's team is no better than last year, it so good, as it was beaten by Peterborough and tied by 'Varsity. In the season of 1896 Queen's did not meet with one single reverse. Peterborough was fairly strong, and it is unfortunate that they defaulted the return game with Queen's, as it leaves a doubt as to which is the best team. The Peterborough team which defeated Queen's was certainly stronger than the 'Varsity seven that tied them, and it looks, on paper at least, as if Peterborough would have won the Senior O.H.A. championship had they played the return match with Queen's. T. A. C. had some good material, but their want of success is directly attributable to lack of practice. No team can afford to play men solely on their reputation, and an ordinary team in good condition is more to be desired than a lot of stars who practice only when it suits their convenience.

Report from the Government Physician Port of Quebec.

"I have used 'Pheno Banum' or 'Quick-cure' in a suppurating wound following a severe bite of a cat; after the usual remedies seemed ineffectual, this preparation cleaned up the wound and healed it after the second application; its effect was most satisfactory; it has also proved a valuable remedy for removing pain, and destroying the cocci that cause boils and carbuncles, healing in some cases more quickly than if the microbes had been cut out; as is now recognized to be proper treatment instead of poulticing, etc. This remedy has a grand future before it.

German Cord Arrived.

MISSIONARY SUNDAY IN BAPTIST CHURCHES.

THE HOME AND FOREIGN MISSIONARY SECRETARIES IN TOWN.

They Deliver Addresses at the Murray Street and Park street Baptist Churches during the Day—Large Congregations in Attendance.

As Rev. A. T. Dykeman remarked yesterday, "it never rains but it pours." The expression was used in connection with the fact that the local Baptist congregations were treated to missionary sermons at the morning as well as the evening services through the fact that the secretaries of both the Home and the Foreign Mission Boards were in town for the day.

Rev. A. P. McDiarmid of the Foreign Mission Board, spoke in the Park street church in the morning and in the Murray street church at night, Rev. Mr. McEwan, of the Home Missions, alternating with him.

The former in his sermon spoke from the text, "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?" being the words spoken by Saul of Tarsus, when the Almighty appeared to him in a vision.

THIS QUESTION,

the speaker stated, was asked by many.

The difference was then explained between doing a service as the realization of what has been done for us and the doing of it to secure merit for salvation.

The answer which had been eventually given to Saul's question came when he was filled with the Holy Ghost, and went straightway and preached Christ. He found the answer in his heart. This answer would be found likewise by everyone who had experienced a renewal of God's heavenly spirit.

Let us ask first, continued Mr. McDiarmid, what has been wrought in the soul which will ask this question. It is a vision—the vision of Christ crucified for sin. This is the spiritual vision which comes to every renewed soul. When we realize that God's spirit has come with His power into our hearts, we see that we shall want to do something to glorify His name.

By the renewal of our souls we are in reality made children of Christ and partakers of Divine life. When the spirit of God comes to a soul it implants the Divine life in it. Every soul that is conscious of this will be desirous of consecrating that soul to Him.

As so much has been done for us and wrought in us. He has done this for a high and HOLY PURPOSE.

He intends that the life so worked upon should be consecrated to Him.

God's thought and purpose respecting the life of every true believer is that that soul shall be sanctified to the seeking and saving of the lost. This is therefore the work of every Christian. His purpose was not simply to save them, but through them to save others. This is not only the business of the officials of the church but of every believer—the seeking and saving of those who have wandered from the fold of the loving Master.

God has endowed everyone with some special gift and he expects each to bring his gift to bear in assisting in the work. If it is the gift of speech, that one should devote himself to the ministry. But if the is not given, the one not having is not to suppose that he is thus freed from the service. There are other ways of winning souls. The man with the business gift is under just as much an obligation and should devote the results of his labour to forwarding the work.

The speaker then pointed out the exalted position given believers by the Almighty. They were the mediums through which the truth was conveyed, in order that the Holy Spirit might enter in. If the believers failed to go out with the word of the Lord, then the work of Christ was hindered. The responsibility was therefore great.

Money was absolutely necessary in getting the gospel out over the seas to foreign lands. The gift therefore given by the Lord to the business man was fully as important as that given to the minister. When this was fully realized there would be no more empty church treasuries. Lack of money would no longer be the complaint, when the world saw that consecration was needful for the business man as for the minister and the missionary.

The work in India had been wonderfully blest during the last twenty-three years. In that time there had been twenty seven churches erected and 3,750 souls won to Christ. One missionary alone had 684 converts in seven years. Another in the last three months reported 51 converts.

MR. JAMES M'EWAN,

Home Mission advocate, spoke from Jonah 2nd chap., 4th verse: "Then I said I am cast out of Thy sight, yet I will look toward Thy holy Temple."

The speaker stated that there were times in the lives of individuals, of Christians and of churches, when it was hard to tell which way to turn. There was only one safe guide.

When sinful desires were gratified, unlooked for results were brought about as in the case of Jonah. There is no safety in neglecting to follow God's command. Jonah knew what was right, and because of seeming difficulties did not carry out God's behests. Results followed which he had not anticipated.

The duty of every new born soul is to give the Gospel to others, but many neglected to follow the leadings of the spirit in this respect, and spiritual death followed.

The Holy Spirit often moves unsaved people to think of spiritual things, but they had refused salvation, and the years went by and it became harder and harder to follow out God's commands. Often through the environments in which we are placed it is hard to break off old associations.

The speaker then devoted his attention to Jonah's miraculous deliverance, which he characterized as the result of faith's resolve under distressing circumstances. His faith was honoured and deliverance came. He cast himself on his God's mercy and was saved. Deliverances fully as miraculous were occurring every day, although not of as startling a nature as that of Jonah.

In referring to the work done through the Home Mission, Mr. McEwan stated that 128 congregations had arisen under their fostering influences in the last twenty-seven years. He deplored the absence of Christian influence of any kind in the extreme north country around about the Madawaska and Lake Nipissing.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—I beg leave to hand you, what some of your readers may consider, an interesting article on department stores printed below:—

This system is revolutionising the mercantile interest of the country. The effects are seen by the failures of such well established firms as Eaamon, Kennedy & Co., McMaster & Co., and other wholesale houses in cities, and the multitude of shopkeepers and storekeepers in the surrounding towns and villages.

The assets of McMaster were $327,784, and liabilities $212,000. The creditors were willing to accept fifty cents on the dollar, thereby reducing the liabilities to $56,000, and leaving a surplus of $271,784 to enable the Company to go on again. Mr. Mc Master refused the offer, seeing it useless attempting to continue business competing with department stores.

This system is going to be a very serious matter for owners of real estate and stores in the centres of the business parts of cities and towns, as the values of this description of property must depreciate greatly by the reduction in rents and by unoccupied premises.

But, on the other hand, department stores are very convenient, and they sell cheap goods. Ladies save a great deal of time and fatigue in being able to make all of their purchases in one place, instead of running over the city and market for supplies.

In England they have similar establishments—"co-operative stores"—carried on by a great number of stockholders, such as the "Army and Navy" in London. But they only sell to shareholders who have to present their certificates of membership when visiting the stores to make purchases.

When I was last in London a friend lent me his certificate. I went through the departments of the "Army and Navy," but I did not consider that my purchases were any great bargains. But the shareholders receive the profits of the business divided amongst them pro rata yearly.

THE DEPARTMENT STORE.

(Scribner's Magazine.)

The department store idea is not a new one. The great establishment in Paris, still pre-eminent of its kind, started in the smallest way in 1852, to-day transacts a total business of $80,000,000.

No other business that is conducted under one roof equals the department store in magnitude of detail. Take, for instance, the case of one of the giants of the species. It employs from 3,500 to 5,000 persons, according to the season. In a year it does nearly $10,000,000 of business. Its largest individual sale last year was an orchestrion for $4,500, and its smallest a patent clothes-pin for one cent. During the holidays there were several days upon which its gross receipts ran over $100,000. It has more than seventy departments. To heat it one hundred miles of steam pipes are required, and the electric light plant would equip a small city. It represents a rental of nearly $300,000 a year, and a conservate estimate of the daily expenses of the store are $5,000. The profits of the department are represented by the cash discounts on its bills.

The business of several department stores amounts annually to from $7,500,000 to $15,000,000, and this, roughly speaking, is as much money as many a prosperous railway one thousand miles long handles in a twelve-month.

In the busiest days quite one hundred thousand persons have visited each of the very largest stores in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and Brooklyn. One firm spends more than $900,000 a year for advertising, and single departments in several stores sell more than $2,000,000 worth of goods annually.

"Success is the reward of merit" not of assumption. Popular appreciation is what tells in the long run. For fifty years, people have been using Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and today it is the blood-purifier most in favor with the public. Ayer's Sarsaparilla cures.

All the members present. The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed. A deputation composed of the following gentlemen were present:—J. H. Cruikshank, A. Shearer, R. J. McCamus and Jas. RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

English journals are impressed with the idea that Canada is building her railways too fast. The latest available statistics show that there are 16,091 miles of line laid in the Dominion, and the capital expended is $394,660,559. Towards the cost of the construction of this mileage the national government has contributed an average of $9,360 per mile, the provincial governments $1,847, and the municipalities $331 a mile. Altogether the subsidies amount in round figures to $195,000,000. It is held that the results obtained do not justify liberality so great.

Alexander T. Stewart began his business career without capital and in 53 years accumulated $40,000,000. His successors began with his $40,000,000 and in 20 years failed. Stewart dealt in futures; he filled his stores and contracted ahead for manufactures before big advances and he emptied his stores and sold for future account at other times before big declines. He discounted the future. His successors reated on a BIG NAME and never dealt in future prospects.

A year ago I advertised to buy cotton below seven cents, it afterwards advanced two cents or $1,000 on on 100 bales. Last summer I advertised to buy wheat around 90 cts., it has since sold at $1 or $2,000 on 10,000 bushels. Now advise the purchase of Corn around 35 cts. for July. It will show a Big Profit by the middle of June. Buy Mess Pork around $8.25; it will sell at $10 before it does at $9. What a wonder it is that some women are so heedless about the things that concern them most. They endure all sorts of pain and misery with carelessness which would never be possible if they realized the consequences.

Comparatively few women understand that when they neglect their health because they are too busy or overworked or their minds are taken up with other concerns, that they are balancing on the edge of a fatal precipice.

Any weakness or disease of woman's special organism is no trifling matter. A woman who through indifference neglects these troubles is laying the foundation for life-long wretchedness.

A modest woman naturally recoils from the mortifying ordeal of examinations and local treatment which doctors insist upon. But there is no necessity for any such repugnant alternative. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures these delicate complaints positively and completely. It is a medicine devised for this particular purpose by one of the most eminent of living specialists in woman's diseases.

Dr. Pierce has been for nearly 30 years chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. During this time he has received fully ninety thousand letters from women who have been cured by the "Favorite Prescription." Some of these letters are printed by permission in one chapter of Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser." It contains advice and suggestions for self-treatment which every woman ought to read. More than half a million copies have been sold at $1.50 each. An absolutely free edition in paper covers will be sent for a limited time to anyone sending 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of customs and mailing only. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. For a handsome cloth-bound copy send 50 stamps.

NEWS FROM OTTAWA

A Distinguished Russian Visiting This Country.

GETTING POINTERS IN FARMING

He Tells Something About Siberia and the Great Railroad in Process of Construction—Civil Servants Will Have to Do More Work Hereafter—Other Items.

Ottawa, March 13.—(Special.)—The Capital has another distinguished visitor in the person of Nicholas Krukoff, Inspector of Agriculture of the Amoor region of Eastern Siberia, Mr. Krukoff has been commissioned by the Russian Government to visit Europe and America, and is now on his way home via the C. P. R. route. His object in visiting Canada is to investigate experimental farm work, as the climate of his jurisdiction and portions of the Dominion are somewhat similar. Having credentials to the Dominion Government, he will doubtless be afforded every facility for seeing the Central Experimental Farm and its branches. Mr. Krukoff has already visited the branch farm at Nappan, and, before leaving for the Northwest, proposes to take a trip to Guelph to inspect the Ontario Agricultural College.

Mr. Krukoff's jurisdiction covers the territory from Vladivostock, on the Pacific, westerly 3000 miles to Barkal Lake. It contains a population of about one million souls.

From Vladivostock to Habarovsk, the capital of the Amoor district, the Siberian Railway is now running, for a distance of 600 miles, West of Habarovsk there is a gap of 1500 miles before the railway is again reached at Tomsk. Mr. Krukoff says this is the most difficult part of the route, and will take six or seven years to complete. At first convict labor was utilized in constructing the railway, but it was not found satisfactory, and free labor is now employed.

The Russian Government is endeavoring to encourage emigration from Europe to the Amoor district, and about 5000 or 9000 persons annually emigrate from old Russia to the far east. A line of steamers runs regularly from Odessa, on the Black Sea, to Vladivostock, carrying on an average 4000 emigrants annually, while about 5000 make their way on foot across Siberia, north of Japan.

Russia has founded a penal station on the Island of Sakhalm. Here long-term prisoners work out their sentences. Good behavior leads to a rapid shortening of sentences, and when a man is freed he is allotted a piece of land and the Government loans him money with which to purchase a horse or a cow. By this system many villages are being established on Sakhalm Island. A time-expired convict, however, may not return to Russia, it being compulsory for him to remain in the Amoor district for the remainder of his days.

Some diversity of opinion exists in regard to the proposed military celebration in Ottawa, as to whether it should take place on May 24, as suggested by His Excellency, or on June 21. A deputation composed of Mayor Bingham, Mr. Hutchinson, and N. A. Belcourt, M.P.'s, and Senator Clemow laid the matter before Sir Richard Cartwright, Acting Minister of Militia, to-day. His answer was that he would talk the matter over with Major-General Gascoigne.

A change is coming over the spirit of the dreams of civil servants at Ottawa. The palmy days when a man could reach his office at 10 o'clock in the morning, and hold down a chair until 4 o'clock, with a brief intermission of two hours for lunch, will soon be no more. From this time out, on the principle that "Business is business," the service will have to put in longer hours, so the fiat has gone forth. During the winter months the office hours will be from 9 to 6, with one hour intermission for lunch; in summer the hours will be somewhat shorter, probably from 9 to 5. This change, coupled with the decision not to grant the usual statutory increases, must demonstrate to the civil service that things are not as they used to be. Taking them all round the service consists of a fine body of capable men, but excesses on the part of a few led to the adoption of more restrictive rules affecting the many.

Mr. John Grant, steward to His Excellency, and who came to Canada from Scotland with Lord Aberdeen, has been appointed emigration agent for Canada in Scotland. Mr. Grant is the poet laureate of the Haddo Club; a man of good ability, who, having had abundant opportunity of seeing all parts of Canada, should be able to dilate on the resources of the Dominion. It will not be necessary to send him out to British Columbia, as in the case of Alf. Jury and Charlie Devlin, before leaving for the Old Country.

R. G. McConnell of the Geological Survey, has found considerable nickel in samples of ore from the Columbia and Kootenay mines. He has written to British Columbia asking for more samples to be sent to him, as he thinks there may be enough nickel in the ore to increase the value considerably.

The representatives of the American Bank Note Company, Messrs. Robertson, Probest, Berg, and Freeland of New York, are here to conclude arrangements for their contract with the Dominion Government for the engraving and printing of the Dominion notes and stamps. Their temporary quarters will be ready for occupation by the first of May, but the machinery may not be set going till later on.

Mr. Higman, chief electrician of the Inland Revenue Department, gave an interesting exhibition of the Roentgen rays last evening before the members of the Government House Club. Their Excellencies Lord and Lady Aberdeen were present, accompanied by several members of the vice-regal household.

A small colony of Danes from the Northern States are about to take up land near Cape Scott, on the Pacific coast. Two of their number, after looking over the ground, decided that the prospects were much brighter on this side of the boundary, and they have accordingly received inducements from the local authorities, and 75 families will remove at once.

Hon. Mr. Mulock intends going to the meeting of the Postal Union in Washington in May next, if he can possibly get away.

The Cabinet was sitting again to-day considering the estimates.

J. L. Tyrrell of Hamilton, who is doing some exploring for the Dominion Government, is in the city to-day on business with Mr. Sifton. Mr. Tyrrell will spend the greater part of th summer among the gold fields of British Columbia.

Mr. James A. Smart, the new Deputy Minister of the Interior, and W. F. McCreary, Dominion Immigration Commissioner in the N.W.T., are in Montreal interviewing the C.P.R. authorities on immigration matters.

Hon. Mr. Mulock, Postmaster-General, has sent a sketch of the new Diamond Jubilee 3-cent stamp to the British-American Bank Note Company to be engraved. It is oblong and nearly as large as the World's Fair exhibition stamp.

The writ for Champlain County was issued to-day. Nomination March 31, polling April 7.

Ed. Gordon, chief Railway Mail Clerk in this district, has been superannuated and Charles Plumb, a second-class clerk, promoted to the position.

Sam Barnett, restauranter for the Senate and Commons, has arrived for the session.

What the Bicycle Has Done.

The fact that the bicycle craze has had a marked effect on the increase in size of women's shoes is a pleasing one to the doctors who have lectured in vain for years on the folly of high French heels and narrow toes. So the bicycle has worked wonders, and the very small foot is gradually becoming more and more of a myth.

Look to Your House Plants.

It is better for house plants if the soil be loosened about the roots once a week. This allows the air to reach the roots, and assists the evaporation of the excessive moisture when they have had too much wetting. Always have the water at least as warm as the temperature of the room when using it upon plants.

After Acute Bronchitis

CURED BY USING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

A PREACHER'S EXPERIENCE.

"Three months ago, I took a violent cold which resulted in an attack of acute bronchitis. I put myself under medical treatment, and at the end of two months was no better. I found it very difficult to preach, and concluded to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The first bottle gave me great relief; the second, which I am now taking, has relieved me almost entirely of all unpleasant symptoms, and I feel sure that one or two bottles more will effect a permanent cure. To all ministers suffering from throat troubles, I recommend Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—E. M. BRAWLEY, D. D., Dist. Secretary, Am. Bapt. Publication Society, Petersburg, Va.

CURED OF SCIATICA.

Toronto Junction, Mar. 15 (Special)—Mr. H. Playter, is not a difficult man to find as everybody here knows that he is foreman at No. 1 Fire Hall. He was the picture of health when called upon by your correspondent and told his story thus:

"In April 1896 I suffered from a severe attack of sciatica, affecting my left hip and leg to the tip of the toes. I suspected it came from some form of kidney trouble, and as they had been recommended I procured a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

At the end of the fourth day I was entirely relieved, but desiring a permanent cure I continued to use that and another box and am now perfectly cured and as well as ever in my life. A brother of mine living at Pine Orchard has been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.'

A Triumph Won

Before taking Doan's Kidney Pills I felt that diabetes was fast tightening its grip upon me. Now I know that it has been met and defeated. I have used the pills steadily for some time, and am now in full enjoyment of health, and shall always be glad to testify to the merits of this triumphant medicine.

SIR DONALD SMITH

Says Mr. Laurier Will Have a Warm Reception When He Goes to England—Canada Stands High.

Montreal, March. 19.—(Special.)—Sir Donald Smith is again in Montreal, looking much better than when he went away. Speaking to your correspondent of Canadian matters in England, the High Commissioner said: "Canadian matters in England are beginning to attract a great deal of attention. England is becoming very deeply interested in her colonies, and particularly in Canada, which is nearer to her than any of the others. This must have a beneficial effect on Canadian interests. Here in Canada, we are not quite so prosperous as I should like to see, but I suppose that there is nothing more the matter than must be looked for in the face of the changes which have taken place in the United States, and in consequence of a change of Government here. The change of Government in Canada has not excited the English people very much. They are so used to putting a party in power only to turn it out again in a few months, or perhaps a year or two later, that they think that there is nothing unusual in the fact that after holding the reins of power for 18 years, a political party in Canada has been obliged to resign them. I can, however, assure you that should Mr. Laurier go to London he will be given a magnificent reception. He will be the guest of the Crown, and the people also of the country will do all in their power to show that the welcome comes from them also."

Continuing, Sir Donald said: "I heard something of the new Papal ablegate before I left London. Everyone speaks of him as a man eminently fitted for the task which has been assigned to him, and I believe he will come to Canada determined to investigate matters and settle them in a manner which will give satisfaction to everyone. I do not know whether they thoroughly understand the Manitoba school question over in England, but that is not to be wondered at, for they have a school question of their own over there, which keeps them busy all the time. I am sure, however, that the Roman Catholics there and a certain section of the Church of England would be only too glad to get the concessions which have been made to the minority of Manitoba by the agreement."

"Do you think that that agreement was a fair settlement of our own differences?"

"There will always be a difference of opinion as to that, I suppose, and while I do not express myself on one side or the other, I wish to say this: I believe that Mr. Laurier and the members of his Government approached the settlement of this difficult matter in a studious, fair-minded and open manner, determined to make themselves thoroughly acquainted with the subject, and with the intention of doing all in their power to meet the demands of both parties in a fair and proper manner."

"Then of course you would at least favor a proposal to give the new arrangement a fair trial?"

"I consider, certainly, that when an agreement is entered into between two parties, it is an agreement, and the only thing to be done is for both parties to make the best of it. Unfortunately, there are always some hot heads who will not look at it in this light, and this is especially the case when a matter of religion is involved in the bargain. However, this should all settle itself in good time. Take New Brunswick and Nova Scotia as examples. There is no question of rights there, and yet concessions are made on both sides and everything works in a most harmonious manner. Why should it not be so in Manitoba? I can only say that for my part, I know of no reason whatever."

The City Council and Citizens' Committee are in labor over the Queen's Jubilee, and every one of them has a scheme of his own. So far, however, the only practical proposition is that advocated by Mayor Wilson Smith, who would like to see Montreal possessed of a vice-regal residence, and he thinks that there are 200 gentlemen in this city who would give $1000 a piece to bring about such result. The Mayor, whom everyone hopes to salute as Sir Wilson Smith on the morning of June 21, believes that the establishment of a vice-regal abode in the commercial metropolis would bring people to the city, and money to the pockets of all classes. There are a few who criticise His Worship's scheme, but no one has yet suggested anything as good.

Lady Aberdeen's nurse scheme is simply out of the question as far as Montreal is concerned.

Although a very busy man, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has found time in which to write a great book of over a thousand pages entitled, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in Plain English, or Medicine Simplified. Few books printed in the English language have reached so great a sale as has this popular work, over 680,000 copies having been sold at $1.50 each. The profits on this enormous sale having repaid its author for the great amount of labour and money expended on its production he has now decided to give away absolutely free, 500,000 copies of this valuable work, the receipient only being required to mail to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N Y., on which company he is president, 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only, and the book will be sent post-paid. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. It contains 1008 large pages, and over 300 illustrations, some of them in colours. The Free Edition is precisely the same as that sold at $1.50 except only that the books are bound in strong manilla paper covers, instead of cloth. It is not often that our readers have an opportunity to obtain a valuable book on such generous terms, and we predict that few will miss availing themselves of the unusual and liberal offer to which we have called their attention.

REPLY OF LORD SALISBURY

To the Remarks of the Earl Kimberley in Regard to the Eastern Situation

London, March 19.—In the House of Lords to-day Lord Salisbury made a bitter criticism upon the speech delivered by the Earl of Kimberley, Minister of Foreign Affairs in the Rosebery Cabinet, at the meeting of the National Liberal Federation at Norwich Wednesday evening, in which he asserted that, "according to Lord Salisbury, the policy of France is also that of Great Britain, and is based upon the maintenance of the integrity of the Ottoman Empire." This assertion, Lord Salisbury said, was untrue. If, he continued, the policy of the Liberal party was to abandon the Ottoman Empire, it had been lately adopted. Lord Kimberley would probably again become Foreign Minister of Great Britain and in that event, he asked, would His Lordship then disregard the past policy of maintaining the integrity of the Ottoman Empire?

Lord Kimberley replied that he had intended what he said to mean that the Liberal party would depart entirely from its past policy regarding Turkey, and maintained that the Ottoman Empire was a standing menace to the peace of Europe.

MGR. MERY DEL VAL HALTS.

The Papal Delegate Doesn't Know What to Make of the Manitoba Legislature Vote.

London, March 19.—Monsignor Mery Del Val, the recently appointed Papal delegate to Canada, who is now in London, intended to sail for Canada to-morrow, but the United Associated Press representative learns that the reported action from Manitoba Legislature in regard to the schools of that province will probably cause him to postpone his departure. Both Cardinal Vaughan and Mgr. Del Val express themselves as surprised and shocked at what they consider a breach of faith in rushing through a settlement of the school question after having obtained the good offices of a Papal delegate with that end in view.

SOUTH AFRICAN COMMITTEE.

Mr. Schreiner Suggests That the Boers Will Do Better if Left Alone.

London, March 19.—At to-day's sitting of the Parliamentary South African Committee to inquire into the Transvaal raid, the examination of W. Z. Schreiner, Attorney-General of the Cape Colony in the ministry of Cecil Rhodes, was resumed. Schreiner testified that the conditions necessary to the exercise of the franchise in the Transvaal could not be maintained, but thought that the Boers ought not to be hurried in the matter of making changes, as they were indomitably adverse to dictation, and would be vastly more likely to do what they should do if they were left alone.

Spot Cash---One Price---Money Back If You Want It.

THIS IS OUR NEW METHOD
OF DOING BUSINESS.

OLD CASH-AND-CREDIT SYSTEM DONE AWAY WITH.

It is a well-known fact that a great proportion of the losses in any credit business are caused by about four main items:
1st. Bad Debts. 2nd. Interests on accounts carried.
3rd. Expenses of collecting and keeping track of Accounts.
4th. Losses sustained through not being able to take cash Discounts when buying stock.

These losses, in the aggregate, are quite a heavy item, and are all a direct charge on any business run on a Cash and Credit basis, and must, of necessity, come out of the profits. In marking goods one has to figure on the cost of giving credit just the same as for rent, taxes, help, etc. For example:

Take a business where there is an average credit given of $6000.00; that is, at times books show $8000.00, and at other times accounts would be reduced to $4000.00, leaving the average on books for a year about $6000.00.
Losses from Bad Debts would be not less than.....	$150 00
Cost of Stationary, Postage, Extra Help, Books, etc	300 00
Interest on average of Accounts, ($6000.00) at Bank rate 5 per cent	300 00
Losses through not having $6000.00 in cash to take Discounts in buying stock 5 per cent	250 00
Total.....	$1100 00

Or to do an $6000.00 credit business there is an extra cost over cash of $1100.00, or an expense of 18 per cent.

In comparing our own experience with other merchants we find that as near as we can approximate the above figures are correct.

After looking at these facts we have determined to live up to the experience gained, and dispense with credit altogether, believing that a Spot Cash business will be mutually beneficial. It is an undoubted fact that the man who sells the cheapest is the man who sells for Cash—selling for Cash we can and will sell at lower prices than ever before.

Buying where credit is given you not only have to pay for your own goods but have the extra cost of paying for credit business losses.

In marking our Spring Stock of Hats we have kept in view the ONE PRICE, SPOT CASH rule which we now adopt. All old customers, both Cash and Credit, and all those who will favour us with their patronage, will find that our goods are being sold at fully from 10 to 15 per. cent. lower prices than formerly, and the high quality of stock strictly maintained. In stopping this leakage customers will be money in pocket and we will be better off.

THE BLOCKADE.

Hard to Find a Man in Europe Who Approves of the Action of the Powers.

New York, March 21.—In his special cable despatch from London yesterday to The Times, Mr. Harold Frederic says: To-morrow morning at 8 o'clock the combined European fleet begins its active defence of the Turks against the Christians in the very same waters where four centuries ago the fleet of the Venetian Republic did battle in defence of Christian Europe against the Turk. Roughly speaking, the same period also separates us from the introduction of printing, and upon this coincidence philosophers may base interesting speculation on the rules governing human progress.

It is just as hard to find in Germany or Austria or France, as here in England, an educated or thoughtful man who will not in private conversation confide to you his horror and sick disgust at what Europe is doing. Modern militarism has fastened such tremendous automatic control upon the actions of the Continental nations, however, that what any one class of individuals thinks, or, for that matter what almost all classes think, is of no practical importance. Strangely enough, it is a much simpler matter for a Government to autocratically disregard the sentiments of the people it governs than it has been at any previous period in the history of Christendom. The extension toward universal suffrage in one direction has been more than offset by the advance of universal conscription in the opposite. There are grave politico-social problems wrapped up in this troubled war menace, and if the truth were known it would probably be found that the Emperors are thinking of these, even more than of its racial or international aspects. They dread that when really great war finally comes its finish will have liberated the European mind from the abominable nightmare of conscription.

THE BLOCKADE PUT IN FORCE.

It Will Strike the Christians Hard, While the Mussulmans May Be About as They Please.

Canea, March 21.—According to the proclamation issued by the foreign admirals, the blockade of Crete began at 8 o'clock this morning. It is apparent that the blockade is directed solely against the Christians in the interior, and that the Moslems will suffer little inconvenience from the action of the six great powers. It appears that the object of the blockading squadron is to prevent the landing of supplies of food, clothing, etc., destined for the starving Christians in the interior, while the Mussulmans who have flocked to the coast towns are allowed to land whatever they want.

The few Christians remaining here find it difficult to understand the motives that are prompting the powers to exert their energies to crush the Christian population of the island, while the Moslems are given a free hand to do about as they please. About the only hope of the Christians outside the coast towns is in Greek blockade runners, who will not hesitate to run through the cordon of foreign war vessels around the island.

There was an exchange of shots yesterday between insurgents and Moslem volunteers in the vicinity of Suda Bay. A Turkish warship in the bay bombarded the insurgents, but the result is not known. A number of foreign warships were in the bay, but they took no part in the firing.

Prince George for Governor.

Athens, March 21.—It is stated here that the powers are seriously discussing the question of nominating Prince George of Greece for Governor of Crete.

A number of Greek sharpshooters at Pramanda, on the frontier, fired upon some Turkish soldiers who were on their own territory. The Turks were deeply angered, and it was only with the greatest difficulty that their officers prevented a conflict. The Greeks were equally desirous with the Turks for the opening of hostilities, and it was hard to hold them in check. The advices reporting the incident do not state when it occurred.

Serious Trouble.

Constantinople, March 21.—It is officially reported that there has been serious trouble at Tobat, 58 miles northwest of Sivas, in Asia Minor. Beyond stating that fifteen Armenians and three Mussulmans were killed, no details of the affair are given.

While the battle ship Osmaniyeh was passing out of the Golden Horn yesterday, in company with a number of other Turkish war vessels, she collided with the old bridge leading from the Un Kapani quarter of Constantinople to Galatea. There was a large crowd assembled on the bridge to witness the departure of the war ships, and when the Osmaniyeh struck the structure there was a panic, the crowd thinking the bridge would be knocked down. In the rush for solid ground many persons were injured. What damage was sustained by the war ship, if any, is unknown.

The Revd. S. Riopel, M. D., County Jacques-Cartier, writes: "I have had considerable experience with Dr. Iever's 'Quickcure' and have always found it surprisingly effective, answering fully, when directions were observed, the several claims of its author. It relieves pain in an incredibly short time."

For Rheumatism, Pain in the Back, Sides or Chest, spread "Quickcure" on linen or cotton, as for burns, and cover with cotton batting, or even paper, over which put a bandage to keep all in place and protect the clothing. Many physicians will not prescribe or allow use of ordinary plasters, as so many contain Belladonna, and Aconite, and sometimes these drugs may be absorbed by the system and cause serious disturbances. Plasters made of "Quickcure" have been recommended, as being entirely free from anything which could possibly injure even a child, and no plaster removes pain so quickly.

In severe cases, doctors tell you to apply hot applications also, over the "Quickcure" plaster, covering the back, chest and neck well: flannel cloths wrung out of hot water will not injure "Quickcure" but aid its effect.

Bronchitis Cured.

Miss Maggie Griffin, 37 Metcalfe Street, Toronto, writes: "After having bronchitis and cold so badly that I could hardly speak, and could not find any remedy to relieve me, I decided to try Norway Pine Syrup. It made a complete cure, and I highly recommend it to all."

Weakness and Dyspepsia Cured.

DEAR SIRS,—I can heartily recommend Burdock Blood Bitters. For a long time I was troubled with dyspepsia and weakness. The least exertion would tire me out. I am glad to say, however, that your B.B.B. has greatly benefitted me, curing the dyspepsia and making me strong and well.

25th ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE Confederation Life Association.

GRATIFYING INDICATIONS OF PROGRESS.

Decreased Ratio of Expenses to Income—Large Increase in Assets.

The annual meeting of the Confederation Life Association was held at the head office of the Company, Yonge, Richmond and Victoria streets, Toronto, on Tuesday, the 16th inst, at the hour of 2 p.m.

There was a large attendance of policyholders, shareholders and members of the agency staff.

On motion, the Hon. Sir W. P. Howland, C.B., K.C.M.G., was called to the chair, and Mr. J. K. Macdonald, Managing Director, was appointed Secretary of the meeting.

The report and financial statements relating to the business of the Association for the year 1896 were submitted as follows:

REPORT.

The Directors are pleased to meet the policyholders and shareholders in the twenty-fifth annual meeting, and to lay before them the report for the year 1896.

It is scarcely necessary to say that the year was one of continued and widespread depression, causing an accentuation of the financial stringency which has existed for some years past and rendering it difficult to obtain a large volume of new business by legitimate means. Your Directors, however, have not been tempted to depart from the policy which has marked the past management. It will, therefore, be all the more pleasing to note the large amount of new business secured, as well as the gratifying indications of progress which a perusal of the statements will afford, the more so that this has been done with a decreased ratio of expenses to income.

Including a few deferred cases at the close of 1895, we have had 2,059 applications for assurances amounting to $3,286,996; of these 1,952 for $3,111,046 were approved and 106 for $175,950 were declined. Including bonus additions, the total new business written for 1896 was 1,951 policies for $3,131,995. The total business on the books on Dec. 31 was 18,253 policies for $27,560,423 on 15,978 lives.

The claims by death, while less in number than in the previous year, called for a larger amount, as it happened that several large policies became claims. There were ninety-nine deaths calling for $223,467 under 114 policies. Of these nine deaths, calling for $41,000, were accidental. These were reassurances to the amount of $23,328 which reduced the net claims to $200,159. The foregoing will show that the Directors continue to exercise the greatest care in admitting only good lives.

The usual financial statements accompany the report, and will be found to exhibit the condition of the association at the close of the year.

The Auditors have continued to give strict attention to the duties of their department, making their audit from month to month as formerly. Their report will be found appended to the financial statements.

A perusal of the report and statements will show the following satisfactory evidences of progress:

(1) A Satisfactory volume of new business secured by purely business methods and at a fair cost.

(2) A Satisfactory increase in the total insurance in force.

(3) A satisfactory increase in income, both from premiums and interests.

(4) A large increase in the assets.

(5) A gratifying increase in surplus, notwithstanding the payment out to policyholders during the year of the large sum of over $32,000 for profits.

(6) A decreased ratio of expenses to income.

The Directors, realising that the rate of interest obtainable on good investments may be considered as permanently lowered, gave careful consideration to the rate of interest to be employed in calculating the policy and annuity obligations of the Association, and as a result decided to use a rate of 3½ per cent. for all the business written subsequent to December 31, 1895, instead of 4½, as formerly. This will have the effect of strengthening the position of the company and affording greater security to its policyholders.

The Directors are pleased to call attention to the fact that the head office building is gradually filling up, and that there is every prospect that in the near future, with a revival in business, it will be fully occupied. In the meantime, in view of the incorrect impression occasionally sought to be made, we are not saying too much when we state that the building is paying fully as well as any similar building in Canada.

The Directors have had under consideration the question of going outside of Canada for business, and, while it has not been definitely decided, it is quite probable that, subject to the approval of this meeting, the right to do business in some parts of the United States of America may be sought for at an early date.

The Directors are also pleased to report that the field and office staffs continue to discharge their duties with efficiency and faithfulness.

All the Directors retire, but are eligible for re-election.

President.
J. K. MACDONALD,
Managing Director.

AUDITORS' REPORT.

We beg to report that we have completed the audit of the books of the Association for the year ending December 31, 1896, and have examined the vouchers connected therewith, and certify that the financial statements agree with the books and are correct.

The securities represented in the assets (with the exceptions of those lodged with the Dominion Government, amounting to $94,500, and those deposited with the Government of Newfoundland, amounting to $33,00) have been examined and compared with the books of the Association, and are correct, and correspond with the schedules and ledgers.

The bank balances and the cash are certified as correct.

W. R. HARRIS,
JAS. WATSON,
Auditors.

Toronto, March 4, 1897.

The President, Sir W. P. Howland, moved the adoption of the report, and in doing so referred to the gratifying increase that had been made in the business of the association for the past year, emphasising the following points:—Increase in premium income of over $55,287; increase in interest income, $15,528; in cash surplus, after the payment to policy holders of over $32,000 in cash profits, of $37,776, and in assets of $454,772. The insurance at risk at the close of the year amounted to $27,560,000, and represented a gain for the year of nearly one million dollars, and, continuing, said, "While we have reason to be gratified at these results of the year's business, at the same time it affords important evidence to us of the favourable opinion that is entertained by the public generally of making investments in life insurance and their full measure of confidence in the company which we represent."

He referred in conclusion to the important change which had been made in the basis of the valuation of the company's assurances and which would have the effect of affording fuller protection to its policy holders and of strengthening the financial position of the company in the future.

Mr. W. H. Beatty, Vice-President, seconded the adoption of the report, which, after a few remarks by the Managing Director and by one or two of the policyholders present, was carried unanimously.

Mr. J. A. Paterson, barrister, moved, seconded by Mr. Henry Swan, a resolution thanking the officers and directors of the Association for their services and attention to the affairs of the company during the past year. Both these gentlemen referred in complimentary terms to the very excellent report which had been presented to the meeting.

The resolution, which was duly approved, was acknowledged by the President on behalf of the directors.

Resolutions of thanks were also passed to the actuary, solicitors, medical agency and official staffs, which were duly acknowledged by the representatives of the several bodies referred to.

All the retiring directors were re-elected, and at a meeting of the new board held immediately thereafter Sir W. P. Howland, C.B., K.C.M.G., was re-elected President and Messrs. Edward Hooper and W. H. Beatty, Vice-Presidents.

[The above company whose annual statement presents such gratifying evidences of good management and careful methods is still represented in Peterborough by Mr. Harry Rush, who has given the company's interests such diligent and able attention in the past, and in addition to this Mr. J. W. Bennett is the special district agent.—ED. EXAMINER.

NOTHING STARTLING

In the News Regarding Greece and Crete.

CRETANS WANT UNION WITH GREECE

Insurgent Chiefs Say Autonomy Will Not Do for Them With the Turk as Suzerain—King George Confers With the Russian Minister. Then With His Premier.

Athens, March 22.—King George today had a long interview with M. Onou, the Russian Minister, after which he summoned Prime Minister Delyannis, to whom he gave a prolonged audience. After his audience of the King M. Delyannis summoned a meeting of the Cabinet. The council is supposed to have discussed the naval preparations which Greece is making in the Gulf of Arta, which are reported to have produced uneasiness in St. Petersburg.

The Government has ordered the enrolment of all robust citizens not otherwise liable to military service to form a militia force to guard the towns in the absence of the troops.

Advices reached here to-day that a cannon exploded in the Turkish camp at Elassona, killing an officer and eight soldiers.

Two Currents of Opinion.

London March 22.—The Daily News will to-morrow print a despatch from Rome, the sender of which claims to have received reliable information that although the powers are anxious to maintain their concert, they are unable to agree upon their future action. There are two currents of opinion flowing, one in Russia and Germany, and another in Great Britain and Italy, and these are diametrically opposed to each other. The despatch adds that the Italian Government has instructed Admiral Canevaro, who is in command of the combined fleets in Cretan waters, to make an inquiry into the bombarding by Turkish warships in Suda Bay, and empowered him in his discretion to compel the Turkish warships to withdraw.

Outlook Not Reassuring.

Canea, March 22.—The outlook in this city and vicinity is not very reassuring. The situation of the Turkish garrison in the fort at Malaxa is very critical. The place is besieged by insurgents and the Turkish troops have not enough provisions to last them more than two days. Attempts have been made to revictual the fort, but the insurgents have rendered the efforts fruitless. If the Christians capture the forts at Malaxa and Keratidy, which it now appears highly probable they will do, Canea will be virtually blockaded landward.

Malaxa is within the limits of the Turkish cordon drawn by the admirals of the foreign fleets, but this fact does not prevent the operations of the insurgents within the line, they refusing to recognize the authority of the admirals to establish a cordon.

A body of Turkish troops who were trying to convey provisions to the fort at Malaxa were held in check throughout the day by the Christian insurgents. The troops finding that they could not reach the fort signalled to the gunboats in Suda Bay, requesting aid. The gunboats opened fire upon the insurgents, but could not drive them from the positions they occupied, which effectually commanded the approaches to the fort. So far as known the fire from the warships did no damage.

The insurgent leaders reiterate their refusal to accept autonomy from the powers, and declare that if the island is not annexed to Greece they desire war.

If it were not for the support afforded the Turks by the powers they would in a short time be driven from the island. It is believed here that success has so intoxicated the leaders of the insurgents that they would not hesitate to assume actual hostilities against the powers.

If they should join forces with the Greek army of occupation and resist the powers it would take a strong force and a large expenditure of money to conquer them.

Excitement in Jerusalem.

Athens, March 22.—The Akropolis reports that there is great excitement among the Greeks and Arabs in Jerusalem. Two thousand Christians in Palestine and Syria are preparing to oppose the Turks in the event of war. A number of Abyssinian pilgrims have also been affected by the war feeling against the Turks, and are joining the Christians.

The Greek warships Alpheos and Peneuns, which were recently recalled from Crete, have arrived at Salamis. The insurgent chief Manouli declares that the insurgents mistook the Austrian warship Sebinico, which lately fired upon and sank a Greek schooner off the Island of Crete, for a Turkish vessel, and, for that reason, fired upon her. He adds that the schooner had landed three cases of ammunition before she was sunk. One Christian was wounded by the fire from the warship.

Neutral Zone Proposed.

Vienna, March 22.—The Neue Freie Presse says that England, with a view of preventing a collision between the Turks and Greeks on the Thessalian and Turkish frontier, will propose to the powers that a temporary neutral zone be established, to extend a mile on either side of the border.

Russo Turkish Agreement.

Copenhagen, March 22.—The Berlingske Tidende asserts that an agreement has been entered into between Russia and Turkey by which the former guarantees the integrity of the Ottoman Empire in consideration of the cession by Turkey to Russia of an island in the Mediterranean and the Peninsula of Mount Athos, on the Aegean Sea.

Salisbury is Himself Again.

London, March 22.—Lord Salisbury, who has been suffering from influenza for the past few days, has almost entirely recovered. There appears to be an epidemic of influenza among the aristocracy, the Earl and Countess of Dudley, Lord Russell of Killowen, Lord Chief Justice of England, and Lord Halsbury, Lord High Chancellor, having been inflicted with the malady within the last week. All of them, however, are now convalescent.

Italian Government Sustained.

Rome, March 22.—As the result of yesterday's elections for members of the Chamber of Deputies, it is now known that 257 Ministerialists, 70 Constitutional Opposition candidates, 17 Radicals and 10 Socialists have been chosen. In 47 districts re-ballots will be necessary.

A TRAIL OF DEATH

Left by a Cyclone Down in Georgia—School Building Wrecked and Many Children Killed.

Atlanta, Ga., March 22.—A special to The Evening Constitution from Arlington, Ga., says: A cyclone struck this town to-day and has left behind it a trail of death and destruction. The high school building was blown to pieces and from the wreck nearly 100 dead, dying and injured people have already been taken. The following named pupils were instantly killed: Ollie Parramore, Claude Roberts, Alice Putnam, Albert Butler, Willie McMarra, Kenneth Boynton, Maud Johnson, Mary W. Ellons.

At least 10 others will die, according to the reports of the corps of emergency physicians now caring for the injured. Prof. Walker it is feared cannot live and Prof. Covington is badly injured. Not a single person in the big building escaped injury. About 1.30 o'clock there was a lull in the high winds which had prevailed, giving some promise of a clear day. Prof. Covington going out to look around beheld a dark cloud, well fringed with electricity, moving rapidly in the direction of the school. His trained eye at once told him there was danger. Hurrying the children into the building for safety, the roaring of the coming cyclone was upon them before they had time to think.

The storm increased in strength and velocity and the building began to shake and careen. The building was wrenched into fragments, so that the pieces fell inward, and among the first struck were Claude Roberts and Alice Putnam, who were killed at the first blow. Profs. Covington and Walker both worked to succor the children notwithstanding both had received serious wounds.

The scene was soon surrounded by the parents of the children. The sight of eight little ones already dead and of ten others crushed and bruised and bleeding in all phases of torture was enough to wring the stoutest heart. Among those wounded quite a number are not expected to live, and it is more than likely that the list of dead will be doubled before morning.

Blakeley was struck by a severe storm this morning that did enormous damage and cost several lives.

School Building Wall Blown Down.

Washington, Ind., March 22.—A small cyclone struck this county at 4 o'clock this morning. The north wall of the Swan Pond school building was torn out and the stone cross on St. Simon's Church steeple was blown off and broken. Many trees were uprooted and fences broken.

Many Houses Unroofed.

Wheatland, Ind., March 22.—This morning a cyclone passed over this town doing much damage. Many houses were unroofed and trees and fences destroyed. No one was seriously injured.

STEAMERS IN TROUBLE.

Victims of the Late Tempestuous Weather Arriving on the Other Side.

London, March 22.—The British steamer Cundall, Capt. Kidd, from West Hartlepool, March 3, for St. John, N.B., has put into Falmouth with loss of sails, after bulwarks and other deck fittings.

The Belgian steamer Friesland, at Antwerp, from New York, reports that on March 17, in lat. 49 N., long. 20 W., she spoke the British steamer Velada, from New Orleans, Feb. 23, for Manchester, with crankshaft broken. The Velada wanted to be towed, and, it being impossible for the Friesland to tow her, asked to be reported all well.

Reinsurance has been obtained on the British steamer Lord Gough, Capt. Chemble, from Newcastle, Feb. 22, for St. John, N.B. The rate paid was 35 guineas per cargo.

YOUNG AND HANDSOME

Is the Bride of Mr. Justice Taschereau.

THE GROOM 60 AND THE BRIDE 18

An English Firm to Supply the Fast Atlantic Steamship Service—Mr. Lemieux's Report From Bonaventure—The Canals Expected to Open Early—Ottawa Notes.

Ottawa, March 22.—(Special.)—To-day there was furnished to the gossips of the Capital one of the greatest social sensations which they have had for many a long day. The social status of the contracting parties was enough to cause a flutter in Ottawa's Belgravia, but additional interest is given to it on acount of the difference in their ages. The groom is no less prominent a citizen than Judge Taschereau of the Supreme Court of Canada. His bride is Miss Marie Louise Panet, the handsome 18-year-old daughter of Mrs. Charles Panet of Daly-avenue. Judge Taschereau has just turned 60 years, but is still vigorous. The marriage was celebrated by Rev. Father Valiquette, parish priest of the Sacred Heart Church. After the ceremony Judge and Mme. Taschereau left the city on their wedding tour. Judge Taschereau returned from India only last week, and has still six weeks' leave of absence unexpired before returning to his duties on the Supreme Court bench.

Although the Ministers are reticent on the point, there is little doubt about the Government having entered into a provisional agreement with Mr. W. Peterson of Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, by which an opportunity is given to the firm represented by this gentleman to organize a fast Atlantic steamship service. It is claimed the service will be quite equal to that for which the late Government were prepared to close with the Allans last year. The reason the Allans have been dumped was because Peterson & Co. are prepared to take a less subsidy than was agreed upon with the Canadian firm. The contract can be only a provisional one, as the assent of Parliament is necessary, and no doubt depends also on the exact nature of the arrangements which the British Government may be willing to make. The steamships, it is said, are stipulated to be highest class, capable of steaming at least twenty knots on an ocean voyage and twenty-two on the trial trip. The line will give, with the finest of passenger accommodation, very large cargo capacity for both refrigerated and ordinary freight. The idea of the promoters, who are understood to command both experience and capital, is to make the line equal to anything on the Atlantic.

Andrew A. Allan of the Allan Line was in the city to-day in connection with the above report. Mr. Peterson is not connected with the Allan Company in any way, and there will probably be keen disappointment felt by the Allans.

At the Department of Railways and Canals it is said all the canals will be ready for operation as soon as the ice breaks up, and the Welland is likely to be one of the very first opened. Vessels will be passing through from Lake Erie to Lake Ontario by the middle of next month. On Lake Huron and Lake Superior the ice may take longer to break up. There is every indication that the year's business on the lakes will be profitable.

Thomas S. Higginson, Crown timber agent of British Columbia, has resigned. Some time ago a commission was appointed to enquire into the affairs of Mr. Higginson's office, but the commission has not yet reported. Mr. Higginson was appointed in 1884. His salary was $1800.

F. X. Lemieux, M. L. A. for Bonaventure, is in town. He says some of the Catholic clergymen, while in the pulpit, took an active and very violent part against Mr. Guite, but there were some very noticeable exceptions. Rev. Father Thivierge, curate of Bonaventure, who is one of the most prominent clergymen of the county, although a Liberal, never said a word about politics in church, and never tried to influence the members of his flock in favor of either party. Just on account of his being a Liberal, he has been subject to any amount of humiliation, and has been deprived of most of his privileges as a curate. His case will certainly be brought before the delegate of the Pope now on his way to Canada.

The new rule governing departmental hours went into effect to-day. Civil servants had to toe the mark at 9 this morning and held the fort until 4 o'clock.

The writ for Colchester, N. S., has been issued. Nomination takes place on the 18th and election on April 20.

Sir C. H. Tupper has left for Truro to take a hand in the fight.

The judge of the Exchequer Court to-day gave judgment, dismissing the motion on behalf of the defendants in the case of the Queen v. Finlayson & Grant, to add Henry Corby of Belleville as the third party in an action.

In the Queen v. St. Louis, Mr. Emard moved for an order for distraction of defendant's solicitors' costs. The motion was opposed by J. T. Ritchie for St. Louis. The order was granted.

HEART FAILURE.

Dr. G. C. Clark of Niagara Falls N. Y., Succumbed to It Yesterday.

Niagara Falls, Ont., March 22.—(Special.)—Dr. G. C. Clarke of Niagara Falls, N.Y., died at his home, Jefferson-avenue, this morning, after a few days' illness. He was stricken with heart failure a few days ago, and on Saturday night a consultation was held between several local and Buffalo doctors. They gave very little hope of his recovery, and he expired just before noon to-day.

President Isaac Lewis of Sabina, Ohio, is highly respected all through that section. He has lived in Clinton Co. 75 years, and has been president of the Sabina Bank 20 years. He gladly testifies to the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and what he says is worthy attention. All brain workers find Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiarly adapted to their needs. It makes pure, rich, red blood, and from this comes nerve, mental, bodily and digestive strength.

"I am glad to say that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a very good medicine, especially as a blood purifier. It has done me good many times. For several years I suffered greatly with pains of in one eye and about my temples, especially at night when I had been having a hard day of physical and mental labor. I took many remedies, but found help only in Hood's Sarsaparilla which cured me of rheumatism, neuralgia and headache. Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved itself a true friend. I also take Hood's Pills to keep my bowels regular, and like the pills very much." ISAAC LEWIS, Sabina, Ohio.

A RECORD OF GAINS.

The following is a list compiled by the London Advertiser of the Dominion elections, in which contests were challenged by the opposition, have been held since the general election on June 23:

North Grey—Liberal majority, 420; largely increased.

Brandon, Man.—Given to the Liberals by acclamation.

Saskatchewan—No Conservative was put in the field, though the seat prior to June 23 was always held by a Conservative.

Cornwall and Stormont—Liberal majority, 590. This constituency was Conservative prior to the bye-election since before 1878.

South Brant—Liberal majority, nearly 400. At the general election Mr. Henry, Conservative, carried this constituency by a majority of 91.

North Ontario—Carried by a Liberal-Patron. A Conservative was returned at the general election.

East Simcoe—Conservative majority much reduced.

Bonaventure, Que.—Liberal majority nearly trebled.

And Champlain to be heard from.

The new administration at Ottawa seems to be well satisfied with the trend of public opinion. Let it give us careful, honest government, and it will have a long lease of power.

MURDER will not be so popular an amusement since, both in Canada and the United States, they have begun hanging persons guilty of taking the lives of their fellow men.

ACCORDING to Whitaker's Directory of Titled Persons, the royal family of England, including Her Majesty's descendants, cousins, nephews and nieces, numbers 240 persons. If they are all as good as the present illustrious head of the family, there cannot be too many of them.

A TRIBUTE to the accuracy of the returns of the Ontario Bureau of Industries, is afforded by a table that shows that the actual returns of crops are very close to the returns forecast from the answers by the farmers constituting the correspondents of the bureau. The average for ten years shows that the barley and fall wheat threshed out a little better than the yield predicted in August, oats just realized expectations, while spring wheat, rye, peas and beans turned out a trifle below the first estimate.

THERE is a variety of objections to the License Law Amendments. The liquor dealers object to them as "too much of a good thing," the temperance advocates as not going far enough, and now the municipal council of Owen Sound has adopted a resolution declaring that the licensing law, as it now stands, is a good one, and that "any attempt to impose further restrictions will be unjust and harassing to hotelkeepers and the general public." Assuming that all these classes have a legitimate right to be heard, what is to be done?

"IAN MCLAREN"—Rev. John Watson—the now celebrated novelist, begins to find that novel-writing is incompatible with preaching the Gospel. He is to be tried for heresy before the Old Country synod, he is a member of. The charge arises from passages in his novels indicating departures in belief from the strictness of the Presbyterian code. Ian McLaren, the novelist, is a very clever man, but it seems he is not clever enough to be Rev. John Watson at the same time. If St. Paul had switched off to writing novels he would doubtless have got himself into trouble. "Whatever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might." A preacher of the Gospel needs, one would think, all his time to discharge the tremendous responsibilities of his position.

THE Dingley, United States, high tariff bill promises to present the appearance of the celebrated Remedial Bill when the Opposition had done with it, after the Senate has used the blue pencil upon it. Senator Allison, a most influential representative, forecasts infinite amendment. He says: "We will meet the House on the principles of ample revenue and fair protection to American industries," he says. "But we will decide the details for ourselves. We amended the McKinley bill in 1890. If my memory be not at fault we made 368 amendments to that measure. We amended the Wilson bill until it was almost unrecognizable. It would be very strange if this measure was not amended as we think best." Mr. Dingley had better, the Montreal Star thinks, photograph his bill when it leaves the lower House, if he wants to remember what it originally looked like.

BICYCLISTS assuredly are entitled to rights on the roads, though, a fact some wheelmen lose sight of, they have no right to use sidewalks. It is claimed, says the St. Thomas Journal, that many drivers of wagons do not accord wheelmen their rights on the road, and being the less liable to injury in case of collision, they "play hog." Mr. Stratton, M.P.P., will champion the rights of the wheelmen, and has introduced into the Legislature two bills which will meet with the approval of the bicyclists. The first is to regulate travel on highways. It applies the ordinary rule of the road, as to turning out and meeting, to bicycles as well as to vehicles drawn by horses. The second bill enables municipal councils to provide bicycle paths and makes provision for the punishment of persons driving horses or other beasts of burden over a bicycle path.

FODDER CHEESE.

The present high values in the cheese market have stimulated factorymen to make fodder cheese, and it is probable that an unusual quantity of this article will be placed on the market during the next few months. In several instances dairymen have written Toronto produce firms asking quotations on January cheese. In the Ingersoll and Brockville districts a number of factories are making out, and a Montreal authority estimates that 50,000 boxes of fodder cheese will be made before the new season commences in May. The local trade offers a good market for this cheese at eight to nine cents a pound, or one or two cents a pound more than the quotations for fodder cheese a year ago. If this trade in the winter make be confined to the local market little injury will result; but if the shipments be made to the markets of the United Kingdom, serious injury may be done to the good name of Canada. An export trade must be zealously watched. The name of "Canadian" is known to the British consumer of cheese as a mark of excellence, and it is unfair that the action of a comparatively few dairymen should prove disastrous to the general interests of an industry upon which the prosperity of this country so largely depends. If the best results are to be obtained, the cheese factories should not begin active work until 1st May, and should close about 31st October. The season may be made subject to variations in extent by variable weather conditions in different years, but the period between these dates may be taken as representing approximately the season in the Ontario cheese indstry. In the spring of 1896 little hay cheese was made, and the season gave good results. The prospects for the cheese trade of 1897 are bright, and should not be injured by undue anxiety on the part of dairymen to anticipate the season's returns.

Used Eighteen Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills—The Stone Dissolved and Removed—Knew of Others Cured.

Shelburne, March 22 (Special)—Mr. John Medill, known locally as well as far and near, as a physical giant and glorying in his strength, seems to be a great sufferer, and tells of his cure as follows:

"I do not hesitate to speak of Dodd's Kidney Pills or anything else exactly as I find them. If a medicine cures me, and if I think it will cure others, why not say so?

"It is true I had been suffering for some time with Bladder trouble, and learning of a cure made in a similar case by Dodd's Kidney Pills, I commenced using them.

In all I have used eighteen boxes, and they have dissolved the stone and have entirely cured me of any sign of such difficulty. I do not hesitate to speak of Dodd's Kidney Pills in the highest terms of praise, for I know of many persons who have been cured by them."

Bronchitis Cured.

MINOR MEASURES DEALT WITH

How Municipal Amendments Originate The Government Anxious to Preserve Timber From Fire—Mr. Howland Wants to Make it Lawful to Seize Church Pews for Debt.

Toronto, March 22.—There was a very thin House this afternoon, hardly a third of the members being in their places. As a consequence, there was a good deal of business, largely of a routine character, disposed of, with comparatively little talk, and a number of the Municipal and Assessment Act amendments, of which the paper has been full, were sent to the Municipal Committee, where most of them will be quietly strangled.

Hon. J. M. Gibson introduced a bill to consolidate and amend the Acts respecting insurance.

Hon. Mr. Davis introduced a bill respecting the solemnization of marriage.

Hon. Mr. Gibson moved the third reading of the bill for the removal from Crown lands of persons unlawfully thereon.

Mr. Whitney thought it was a rather arbitrary feature of the bill that it provided for no appeal.

Mr. Gibson urged the constantly increasing danger to valuable timber regions from fire, as an edequate reason for the stringency of its provisions It might be necessary to withdraw from the provisions of the Mining Act some of the territory about Lake Wahnapitae on account of the danger to the timber in that locality from mining prospectors. The bill received a third reading.

The bill to incorporate the St. Luke's General Hospital, Ottawa, was adopted in committee.

SECOND READINGS.

The following bills were read a second time:

Respecting the debt of the village of Milverton.—Mr. Magwood.

Respecting the city of Windsor.—Mr. McKee.

Respecting local improvements in the city of Ottawa and for other purposes.—Mr. O'Keefe.

Respecting bylaws Nos. 1453, 1623 and 1727 of the city of Ottawa.—Mr. Bronson.

To confirm an agreement between the Hamilton, Grimsby and Beamsville Electric Railway Company and the city of Hamilton.—Mr. Middleton.

To confer certain powers on the village of Port Dalhousie.—Mr. Hiscott.

To incorporate the Mineral and Timber Electric Railway Company.—Mr. Farwell.

Respecting the Penetanguishene Protestant Separate Schools.—Mr. Miscampbell.

Respecting the Township of York.—Mr. Burt.

Respecting the directors of the County of Carleton General Protestant Hospital.—Mr. O'Keefe.

TIMBER SALES, ETC.

Mr. Miscampbell asked what number of tenders were received at the sale in 1896 for blocks 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 in the burnt district lying between Lakes Biscotasing and Ramsay, in the District of Algoma. Were the highest tenders accepted in each case?

Hon. J. M. Gibson said that the ground was covered by a return already called for, which would fully answer the enquiries.

Mr. Miscampbell moved for a return of copies of all correspondence between the Commissioner of Crown Lands, or any official of the department, and any person or persons in reference to the licensing or cutting of timber under license or trespass, in either the Township of Coffin or "Coffin addition." He stated, in speaking to the motion, that a quantity of timber had been cut on the addition, which did not appear to be under license. This appeared to show negligence on the part of the officials.

Hon. J. M. Gibson said that he had only recently received information concerning the trespasses upon Crown property referred to, and thought that such trespasses must have taken place at quite a recent date.

The motion was adopted.

Mr. Little moved for a return showing expenditure on colonization roads, bridges, etc., in each electoral district for the last 15 years. After a protest by the Attorney-General on the ground of the difficulty of presenting the information asked for, the motion was withdrawn, to be presented in a somewhat modified form.

MORE SECOND READINGS.

A number of bills were then read a second time, including several amending the Municipal and Assessment Acts. The changes made were mostly of a trifling character and caused but little debate.

Hon. Mr. Gibson called attention to one provision in a bill introduced by Mr. Middleton, whereby, in case a municipality has issued debentures, a subsequent issue takes priority of the first. This, he thought, was a principle which the committee could hardly sanction.

Mr. Howland stood sponsor for a rather peculiar measure, amending the Act respecting Executors, so as to enable the sheriff to seize and sell the debtor's interest in a church pew.

The Premier said that hitherto there had been a feeling that it was unseemly to allow a church pew to be sold to satisfy an execution, but he did not know that there was any valid reason against it.

Dr. Ryerson had a bill on the paper respecting the liens of repairers, mechanics and artisans upon personal property, permitting them, in case of non-payment of their claims to dispose of the articles by private sale instead of public auction.

Hon. J. M. Gibson considered this a somewhat dangerous principle and liable to lead to abuses, and after some discussion it was withdrawn.

NOTICE OF MOTION.

Mr. Ross.—Bill respecting certain lands forming part of the property of the University of Toronto.

TO OPEN UP NEW ONTARIO.

Petition of Wholesale Merchants of Toronto to the Provincial Government.

Following is a copy of a petition which was very extensively signed by wholesale firms yesterday, and which has been forwarded to the Premier:

Toronto, March 22, 1897.

To the Hon. A. S. Hardy, Premier:

Dear Sir,—We, the undersigned wholesale merchants of the city of Toronto, are desirous of seeing New Ontario opened up at once, by the Ontario and Rainy River Railway, in order that it may be brought into closer touch with Old Ontario.

Unless your Government grants $5000 per mile for 150 miles, the railway will not be immediately constructed, as the Federal Government cannot reasonably be expected to give more than the Government of the province.

The sale of mineral lands contiguous to the road, at an advance of 50 cents per acre, would more than compensate your treasury for the aforementioned bonus.

It appears to us that the crying need of the province at the present time is the building of this road in order that our provincial trade may be preserved and increased.

This projected railway is in our province, is part of it, and the opening up of this part of the country will largely augment the volume of trade throughout the province.

The province owns the land, the timber and the minerals, and from this point of view we feel justified in asking your Government to give $5000 per mile towards this construction.

We believe that the public sentiment of the province will amply sustain you in this act.

And your petitioners will ever pray.

This petition was signed by the following: Perkins, Ince & Co., D. Gunn, Bros. & Co., The Steele Bros. Seed Co., Ltd., N. C. THE WOMEN TOO.

Back Talk Not Man's Monopoly.

Mrs. Jemima Cole, Havelock, told the following wonderful story:—"For a great many years I have suffered from disease of the kidneys. The pains in my back and side were sometimes excruciating.

"My limbs were so swollen that I could scarcely lift my feet from the floor, and I was in great agony nearly all the time. I thought that I would surely die from the pain.

"I have taken dozens of advertised remedies, ant got no better during their use. I was also treated by several doctors, but am sorry to say they did me little or no good. In fact they stated that they could do me no good, which made me despair of ever getting better.

"When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised I sent to W. H. Jeff & Co's. druggtore and got a box thinking I would try them as a last resort.

"The change from the start was very great and now after one month I am free from all pain. The swelling has gone down and I feel quite strong and healthy.

"I was also troubled with rheumatism and neuralgia which have completely disappeared, thanks to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. In fact I do not think there is a medicine in the world that in such a short time could have taken me from the almost dying condition in which I was to the healthy and vigorous state that I am in now.

"I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for their wonderful virtues in curing kidney troubles."

THE LOST ST. NAZAIRE.

Captain Gager of the Creole Found One of Her Boats With Six Dead Bodies in It.

New York, March 23.—The Cromwell Line steamer Creole, Captain Gager, from New Orleans, arived here this morning, bringing additional news from the ill-fated steamer St. Nazaire. Captain Gager reports that on March 21, in lat. 34.17, long. 74.30, he passed a boat full of water. Shortly afterward he determined to ascertain if possible what it was, and turned about for an investigation. On reaching the boat he found it contained six dead bodies, one of them supposed to be that of a woman. A hook was made fast to the boat's bow, and when she was pulled up the bodies washed out into the sea. They had apparently been held fast by the seats of the boat, as they were crowded under them. It was noted by the Creole's mate that two of the small boat's passengers were colored. In the boat were found a woman's slipper, a child's sock, some clothing, a nursing bottle and several bottles of fresh water, which was found to be in good condition. There was also found a small quantity of bread.

The boat was an old wooden one, and bore the monogram of the Compagnie Generale Trans-Atlantique, No. 2. It was about 40 feet in length, and could carry about 40 passengers.

THE "BIG" FOUR.

A Quartette of Remedies that are Effecting Wonderful Cures.

"I was sick for three years," says James Simpson, of Newcomb Mills. "I tried various alleged patent cures and several boxes of a certain pill which has been greatly cracked up. I got no relief. Then I tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Since, I have been able to work every day and feel like a new man. Your pills alone cured me at a cost of 25c."

"I have been subject to severe colds every fall and spring," says Miss Hattie Delaney, of 174 Crawford street, Toronto. "I used many cough medicines, but none cured me until at a cost of 25 cents I tried Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine."

"My husband was troubled with the worst kind of piles," writes Mrs. Jane Potts, of Meyersburg. "He was often unable to work. Since using your Chase's Ointment he is completely cured. It is truly worth its weight in gold instead of the price you charge, only 60 cents."

"I bought a box of your Catarrh Cure for 25 cents at Mr. Boyle's drug store here," says Henry R. Nicholls of 176 Rectory street, London, Ont. "I am thankful to say it cured me."

CAME FROM LAKEFIELD.

John Smith would like to Gain Admittance to the Hospital.

John Smith came in from Lakefield this morning, and was anxious to get into the hospital, being crippled through a fall from a ladder. The magistrate explained that he had not the power to commit him to the hospital, but offered him a berth in the county gaol. This, Smith declined, stating that he had friends in Cavan who would care for him.

The old man is a carpenter by trade and was formerly employed by the late Wm. Toole in Peterborough. He constructed many of the residences which were built here forty forty years ago, but through a succession of mishaps has lost the means of support. He impressed the Court this morning with the fact that he was not a vagrant. He will make an effort to get into the hospital before leaving town.

SIX MONTHS IN THE CENTRAL.

This was the Sentence Imposed on Richard Godwin.

Richard Godwin, who pleaded guilty to the charge of stealing a quantity of jewelry from his employer, a hotel keeper named Henderson, in the village of Warren, came up for sentence this morning before the magistrate.

Mr. F. W. Gladman, counsel for the defence urged for clemency on the ground of former good conduct, and the sentence was a light one—six months in the Central Prison.

The prisoner's wife and child, as well as his sister-in-law, were in the court when sentence was imposed, and the scene was a trying one for a few moments until Godwin was removed to the cells.

Diocese of Ontario.

The Archbishop of Ontario and Mrs. Lewis have been spending several weeks at Assouan and Luxor, Egypt. His Grace's health improved rapidly under the genial southern air, but he overtasked his strength and was feeling poorly again. There is a growing feeling in the Ontario Diocese of the Anglican church in favour of electing a coadjutor bishop. The Archbishop through illness is compelled to be absent for the greater part of the year, and much inconvenience is the result. The clergy are anxious about their confirmation candidates, and it seems unreasonable to ask the bishops of other dioceses to come here and do the work.

The Opera Rob Roy.

There can be no doubt about the great success attained by the Whitney Opera Company in the production of Messrs. DeKoven and Smith's new opera "Rob Roy;" the entire press of New York city, during its two years run at the Herlad Square Theatre referred to it as a revelation in the operatic line. The music is characteristic even to the necessary discords that at times are incidental to the action especially when the various pipers that lead the different clans strive for the mastery. The construction of the piece is called admirable, each act develops to a climax that is natural, and the interest in the tale is maintained steadily to the close. Plan of reserved seats opens to-morrow morning at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

The Wall Paper Boom!

Prices just now are full of interest to early buyers of wall papers. The great sale of 20,000 rolls, bought for a low price at a closing out sale, has started the buying at the Peterborough Bookstore very much earlier than usual. People who do not intend to paper until the middle of May are securing lots of paper ahead. Just how long such prices will last depends altogether upon the promptness and wisdom of buyers. One thing is quite certain—no chance to replace these wall papers at anything like the same figures will occur again this year. Think of it! Papers quite good enough for bedrooms at 4c and 5c per roll, and for drawing rooms at 15c and 17c per roll. A. H. STRATTON & Co.

RELICS AND MINERALS.

Mr. J. L. Aunger Presents Mr. J. B. McWilliams With a Valuable Collection of Minerals and Curios.

Mr. J. B. McWilliams has just been made the recipient of a most valuable gift from Mr. J. L. Aunger, of Blairton, in the form of another consignment of relics and a large and valuable collection of minerals, which must represent the work of many years spent in collecting.

In the large chest of minerals there are ninety-four different specimens, there being also several samples of each in nearly every case. The large bulk are from the mines of Ontario and Quebec, and in consequence of the great interest taken in mining, they are of particular value at the present time, containing as they do specimens of the mispickel quarts and the other ores, of which so much is being said and written every day.

The relics are all curios of the first water—amongst them as will be noted, being other parts of the old "Pioneer" locomotive, concerning which an item appeared in the EXAMINER at the time when Mr. Aunger presented Mr. McWilliams with the headlight belonging to it. The list of relics received is appended as catalogued by Mr. Aunger:

(a) Part of railway car in which C. C. Bliss lost his life in the notable bridge disaster at Ashtabula, Ohio, Dec. 29, '76, when 400 passengers were killed. Bliss got out of the car, his wife was fast and the flames near her. Bliss was heard to say, "I will go back and rescue my wife or die with her." The latter he did. Bliss was a noted musician and set tunes to Moody & Sankey's hymns.

(b) A piece of melted metal from the same wreck.

(c) A "star bit" of the drill worked by the well known Burleigh steam drill, in Blairton.

(d) Indian tools of flint. The smaller being found in Houghton county, Michigan, and the larger at Belmont.

(e) Bayonet—very old. A family tradition has it that it went through the battle of Waterloo.

(f) Ox "Q," brought from England by J. S. in the year 1829.

(g) Brass off the rail of the foot board of the old "Pioneer" locomotive—the first in Canada. Also the name plate of wood off the same engine.

With his characteristic generosity Mr. McWilliams proposes donating the entire valuable collection—relics, minerals and all to the local Historical Association, for its museum, which is to be opened in Inverlea House, Nicholl's Park.

THE WHEEL.

Kingston has organized another bicycle club. There is some talk of a new club being instituted in Peterborough and it is understood that a committeeas on the look-out for rooms.

LACROSSE.

A meeting of the Peterborough Juniors is called for this evening at the Oriental Hotel. A large attendance of those interested is urged. The juniors made a good showing last year, and their ranks will be recruited by a lot of new blood this year.

The Granite Lacrosse Club meets on Thursday evening to reorganize for the season. The meeting will be held in the parlours of the Palace Restaurant.

BILLIARDS.

Geo. Sutton, formerly of Peterborough, according to a billiard expert, is not very far from being in Ives' class. He has improved wonderfully since he left Toronto last year, as he showed on Friday night, when he beat Capron with the greatest of ease by 400 to 140, averaging 234.70. His high runs were 127 and 70. Capron's average was 10 and his highest run 32.

FOOTBALL.

Secretary Martin, of the Kingston association, has written to the promoters of the Central Ontario Union, embracing teams in Belleville, Deseronto, Napanee, Sydenham, Brockville and Kingston, stating the club's willingness to enter the league and bring it to perfection. What is the matter with Peterborough falling into line? There are still some old Association football war horses in town, and the game might easily be revived here.

A PRAISEWORTHY MOVE.

Pembrooke sportsmen have organized a fish and game protection association, and are importing prairie chickens, which they will liberate and have protected for a number of years. After which the true sportsman will have an opportunity of trying his skill at wing shooting. In addition to the protection of game the association will use its influence to get amendments to the game law to suit that district.

The application of Nerviline—nerve pain cure—which possesses such marvellous power over all nerve pain, goes greatly to prove that it can. Nerviline acts on the nerves, soothes them, drives pain out, and in this way gives relief. Try it and be convinced.

CENTRAL SMITH DAIRY CO.

Mr. D. Derbyshire, President of the Eastern Ontario Butter and Cheese Association, Gives an Address Before a Public Meeting in Smith.

The directors of the Central Smith dairy company, taking advantage of the presence of Mr. Derbyshire in Peterborough on the 17th inst., arranged to have him speak at a public meeting of Patrons and others, to be held on the evening of the 17th, in Temple Hall, fourth line of Smith. On the above mentioned date, a large number of the Patrons and others, together with several ladies from the surrounding country gathered at the hall.

Mr. Kevill, the cheese maker, was elected chairman, who, after making a few opening remarks, called upon the Smith Band (which had kindly consented to be present, and which added in no small measure to the pleasure of the meeting) to give a selection, which was rendered in their usual acceptable style.

Mr. Derbyshire was then introduced. He spoke of the pleasure it gave him to meet with and talk to those interested in this great dairying industry of our country. He spoke of the grand record made by the Canadians at the World's Fair in Chicago—in taking ninety per cent. of all prizes given on cheese, and but for sympathy for the poor Yankees, would have taken all. He dwelt largely on cheapening the cost of production. The most practical way of doing this was to raise corn and preserve it into a silo and thus not only secure a wholesome, cheap food for winter use, but a valuable substitute for grass, to bridge over the dry spell that is sure to come sooner or later each season. Two tons of this corn fodder or ensilage, which cost only from one and a quarter to one and a half dollars per ton, would make as much milk as a ton of the best hay, which was worth about three times as much. Only by cheapening cost of production and by keeping a better class of cows, could dairying be made profitable. He strongly advocated winter dairying, making cheese for not more than six months and butter the balance of the year, thus adding several thousands of dollars to the income of the patrons of each factory every year. This would go a long way towards bettering the much-talked-of hard times. There was for fine Canadian butter; out of $40,000,000 worth of butter imported by England annually, Canada only supplied $2,000,000 worth, whereas in cheese Canada supplies England with $16,000,000 worth out of $26,000,000 imported. He considered paying for milk according to quality to be the most just way of dividing the proceeds, and the only way that gave encouragement to keep better stock and to take better care of milk. To illustrate the fairness of the butter-fat system he took two neighbors, each having a steer ready for market. A has one that weighs 1000 lbs.; B has one weighing 1,200 lbs. They take them together to the market. Both sell for five cents per lb.—A. receives $50.00; B. receives $60.00. Should B., in order to be agreeable and neighbourly, give A. five dollars out of the $60.00 received for his steer? Would there be any encouragement another year for B to raise a 1,200 lb. steer, knowing that he would get no more for it than his neighbour A. would for a 1,000 lb. one. There was no encouragement in the old pooling system, for patrons to improve, but there was every encouragement in dividing the proceeds according to the butter-fat system. He also urged the great necessity of cleanliness in handling milk and in the care of milk utensils. At the conclusion of his address the band gave another selection, after which Mr. Derbyshire requested those present to ask any question they wished bearing on the dairy business and he would endeavour to answer. Fifteen or twenty minutes were spent in discussing different points, after which the meeting was brought to a close by moving a vote of thanks to Mr. Derbyshire for his able address, to the band for the generous way in which they had contributed towards the pleasure of the meeting, and to the ladies for their attendance, and to the chairman. The singing of "God Save the Queen, led by Mr. H. Brown on the cornet, brought a very profitable and enjoyable meeting to a close.

Canadian Jockey Club.

We have received the Diamond Jubilee pamphlet of the Canadian Jockey Club, resplendent in a striking cover in colours, announcing the spring racing and steeplechase meetings at Toronto from May 22nd to 29th, and at Hamilton from June 1st to 5th. It may be interesting to note that Sir Frank Smith, the new general manager of the Dominion Bank, is president of the club, and that Her Majesty Queen Victoria is a patroness, contributing fifty guineas to the Queen's Plate purse. In all there are 41 races on the cards for the Toronto meet, for which very liberal purses are hung up. The Hamilton programme includes 23 races, and the prizes are correspondingly liberal.

SPRING AT THE GOLDEN LION.

Mr. R. Fair's Great Spring Opening in Dry Goods, Millinery, Mantles, and Housefurnishing Requisites—Preparing for the Greatest Trade in the History of the Establishment.

Tennyson tells us that "In the spring a livelier iris changes on the burnished dove," but the dove has no monopoly of spring renewal, for the same idea attaches to the spring rejuvenation of the Golden Lion, the widely-known establishment of Mr. Robert Fair. Never before at spring time were the four immense floors of the establishment more inviting in the display of the seasonable, fashionable, bright and tasty stock equipment of the several departments. The Golden Lion in the matter of spring goods has beaten its own record, and that is indeed a great triumph. To-day the Golden Lion held a special advance exhibition of mantles, dress goods, and other articles leading up to the grand millinery opening next week, and the numerous visitors were loud in their praise of the beauty, extent, completeness and distinctive style of the stock shown.

The new importation of dress goods, dress silks, blouse silks, New York muslins, Swiss embroidered muslins, laces, mantles, capes, carpets, curtains, etc., etc., are remarkably complete.

The dress goods are unique in their great variety, and a view of the varied fabrics is convincing proof of the mature judgment, correct taste and the artistic instinct combined in their happy selection, for never before was such a comprehensively complete and desirable collection placed at the disposal of the patrons of the Golden Lion, and no patron of the establishment and for that matter, no resident of the town, can be too exacting and capricious in taste to have her desires met from the spring stock of Mr. R. Fair's great emporium of dry goods and all that that implies. In connection with the dress goods department, it is well to note that Miss Neild has charge of the dressmaking department, where skill, taste and modish styles contribute to the conversion of the splendid stock into the most beautiful of wearing apparel.

Every department is replete with the choicest products of the textile manufacturer, and all are direct importations, a circumstance that reduces the first cost, and consequently the cost to the purchaser. Moderate prices at the Golden Lion place the choicest of goods at the disposal of the customer. In the collection of the immense supply there have been liberal direct draughts on the markets of New York, London, Manchester, Berlin, Kidderminster, Halifax, Dundee and Belfast.

The cloak department, in the capable charge of Miss Raine, challenges competition with the dressmaking department. In mantles a magnificent stock is shown. Mantles are very largely in tweed effects, with slashed sides and collars, are shorter this season, and there is a stock of GREAT BEAUTY AND INFINITE VARIETY.

The cloth capes, in different colours, with contrasting linen trimmings in guipure lace effects are splendidly represented. Chiffon capes, with jet combination, are shown in great variety, all beautiful and dressy, and some beautiful fancy capes for elderly ladies are worthy of great admiration. But all these must be seen to be properly appreciated.

In a word every department of the Golden Lion is up to the high water mark of excellence and completeness, unexcelled in the cities. The first floor which, on the occasion of the visit of the Examiner reporter, was elaborately decorated with special good taste, is given over to dress goods, silks, laces, etc. The decorations of this floor as well as the specially fine window decorations, are the work of Mr. Harry Adams.

The second floor is the cloak department, the third floor is occupied by stacks of imported carpets, rugs, etc., and the fourth floor is given over to oil clothe, etc.

Access to the elaborate and complete stock spread over these four floors need be no deterrent to any customer—a swift running elevator conveys them to any desired point without trouble.

With such a stock, of great extent, variety and excellence, placed at moderate prices, the prospect is fair for the Golden Lion doing the dry goods trade of the town and district. What can only be done in a reference like this is to simply call attention to the incomparable opportunity of satisfactorily purchasing goods in any of the many lines kept in stock—all new, remember, stylish, high in quality and withal moderate in price. Fair dealing is Fair's way. It is a standing rule of the house that "no salesmen is allowed to make up loss on one article by overcharge on another." Whether your order is small or great, or whether you buy in person or by mail, you will receive honourable treatment. Visit Fair's to-day, to-morrow and frequently. You will always find something to interest. The spring-tide opening is now on.

IT MAKES BACHELORS SMILE

To watch the manoeuvres of the ladies—who are ever inveterate match-makers—to bring about a Marriage which they fondly dream will be of heaven's own ordering.

Husbands, however, can only be legally secured through the medium of the Marriage Licenses. Applications and appointments for drawing up the permit, promptly attended to by Issuer of Marriage Licenses and Gentlemen's Outfitter, 148 Hunter St., Peterborough.

In the Yosemite Valley a while ago, a young fellow went out on the edge of a shelving precipice two thousand feet high, and balanced himself on his head. A little slip or little puff of wind would have sent him to eternity. Not one man in a million would be that kind of a fool. But nine men in ten are all the time taking foolish chances.

There is no deadly peril about a little fit of indigestion or biliousness, and yet if a man allows these troubles to get a hold on him he is taken serious risks. Dyspepsia alone seldom kills anybody; that is, it only kills you by inches, and takes a good many years doing it. But it weakens and undermines the constitution so that it is all ready to receive and fertilize the dangerous diseases which do kill you outright.

Disease-germs won't grow in healthy blood any more than corn will grow on a rock. A man who keeps his digestion perfect and his blood pure may eat and drink and breathe disease-germs, but they gain no foothold. They are cast out of the system. But a man with a dyspepsia-weakened constitution breathes in typhoid or diphtheretic germs and down he goes.

The best health-insurance a man can have is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It acts directly on the stomach and liver. It gives the blood-making organs power to make healthy blood. It clarifies the blood from all impurities, and builds up the healthy flesh, muscular power and nerve energy, which fortifies you against disease.

His life-long success in the treatment of chronic diseases has given Dr. Pierce's medicines a world-wide reputation. His "Pleasant Pellets" cure constipation.

PEARL BRYAN'S SLAYERS

Jackson and Walling Suffered the Death Penalty at Newport, Ky., on Saturday.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 20.—The once promising lives of Scott Jackson and Alonso Walling, the young dental students, paid the penalty on the gallows for the murder of Pearl Bryan of Green Castle, Ind., and the extinguishing at the same time of the tiny spark of life that had driven her to desperation through fear of open shame. The scene was Fort Thomas. The victim was decapitated to prevent identification, and the head has never been located. The arrests, trials, "confessions" and general progress to the awful sequel of to-day have been largely of the spectacular order, especially the closing hours of the tragedy, this morning in Newport, Ky. Nearly all forenoon Walling's fate seemed swaying in the balance, and the 5000 people, with a plentiful sprinkling of richly uniformed militia acting as guards, waited with interest at the highest tension for the springing of the fatal trap or the announcement of the clemency extended by Gov. Bradley.

Walling went to sleep at 1 o'clock and slumbered brokenly until 6 o'clock. Jackson slept little. From that early hour until the final announcement that both must hang at 11.30, the prisoners sat at the windows of the jail, facing the crowded court house yard with every appearance of unconcern. On the gallows neither was deserted by the "gameness" that has marked their conduct ever since they first posed before the public in the celebrated tragedy. At 11.40 the double trap was sprung and they swung in mid-air for 20 minutes before the horrible work of strangulation was completed.

The hour originally set was 7 o'clock, but almost as the start was made for the gallows Jackson made another "confession," in which he said Walling was not guilty of "wilful murder." Again the Governor was appealed to at Frankfort by wire, Jackson himself telegraphing: "Walling is not guilty of this crime, but I am." Finally Gov. Bradley, after patient investigation of Jackson's tardy attempt to save his comrade, including a long distance telephone consultation with Judge Helm, the trial judge, and the attorneys in the case, sealed anew the doom of both by declaring against further delay.

Jackson is said to have left another written confession, to be published or not as his friends may see fit. The one of Thursday, diabolically trying to shift a part of the crime on an innocent man, both Jackson and Walling acknowledged this morning to be a fake. As there was objection to the receiving of the body of Jackson in the Green Castle Cemetery for burial, it was shipped this evening over the Big Four to his former home at Wininsoc. Walling's body was taken to Hamilton, Ohio, by his family for burial.

She Carried No Passengers.

London, March 20.—A despatch from Brest, France, says that there were no passengers on the Dutch mail steamer Utrecht, which is supposed to have foundered in the vicinity of Ushant. The crew of the steamer numbered thirty-six.

The Utrecht sailed from Rotterdam Feb. 23 for Batavia. A week ago a quantity of wreckage was washed ashore at Ushant, including some doocrs bearing the name Utrecht. There were also found on the shore photographs of officers of the steamer, which confirms the belief that the vessel had sunk.

CURED OF SCIATICA.

Toronto Junction, Mar. 15 (Special)—Mr. H. Playter, is not a difficult man to find as everybody here knows that he is foreman at No. 1 Fire Hall. He was the picture of health when called upon by your correspondent and told his story thus:

"In April 1896 I suffered from a severe attack of sciatica, affecting my left hip and leg to the tip of the toes. I suspected it came from some form of kidney trouble, and as they had been recommended I procured a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

At the end of the fourth day I was entirely relieved, but desiring a permanent cure I continued to use that and another box and am now perfectly cured and as well as ever in my life. A brother of mine living at Pine Orchard has been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

IS THE KAISER MAD?

The Correspondent of a New York Paper Says If He is Not Insane He Has Fits of Aberration.

New York, March 21.—A despatch from London to The World says: The story of Emperor William's alleged insanity is told with startling frankness in a letter to The Daily News. The writer notes that the Emperor of Germany is the sovereign previously referred to as pinching his guests and trying to trip them up with his sword. The letter continues: "The fact is now that there is no doubt that the Emperor, if not specifically insane, is liable to fits of aberration, which, while they last, are indistinguishable from madness.

"His local derangement behind the ear and almost in contact with the brain has hitherto been kept in safe limits by a treatment which provokes a constant discharge. While the discharge lasts the pain is not very great and the inflammation and swelling of the affected parts being relieved there is nothing either intolerable or alarming.

"But, it appears, it has lately become increasingly difficult to maintain the process, and the result is a combination of pain, excitability, depression and restlessness which has brought the Emperor to a condition fearfully alarming.

"No Hohenzollern is allowed to ascend the throne or to keep it if he is afflicted with an incurable disease, and it is obvious no madness can be tolerated in the Emperor. The knowledge of this is said to be disabling the rule of his house, and is doubtless intensely aggravated by the symptoms of disease.

"It is said that should things get but little worse Prince Henry of Prussia, the Emperor's brother, will be proclaimed regent, with an advisory council, on which the constituent sovereigns of the Empire will be represented."

Outrage Charged Against Christians.

Belgrade, March 20.—Newspapers here publish a story of an outrage committed by Albanians upon a party of Christians at Tetova. A young Christian couple had just been married, and a party of their friends had gathered to celebrate the event. While the gaities were in progress a number of Albanians appeared and demanded that the bridegroom pay a so-called wedding tax. He refused to do this, and his refusal so exasperated the Albanians that they attacked the Christians and killed or wounded twenty of them.

Clever Idea For a Window Bookcase.

The window treatment shown in the drawing economizes space to perfection and also adds to the architectural effect of the room. The monotonous squareness of the average room is its greatest drawback to decorative treatment.

The model from which the drawing was made stands in a sunny south room, in which all the woodwork is painted in a dull tint of olive.

In this case all the shelves have been utilized for books, and the owner disdains any but free, open shelves; but were the space required for other things, silk curtains depended from brass rods can easily be added. The stowaway places below are of inestimable value, as every housewife will perceive at a glance. Ornamental brass hinges and brass knobs make them a feature in the decorative as well as the useful side of the scheme. Against the window panes should hang the thinnest of curtains, that the light may not be shut out, and the broad cage can be put to a number of uses, according to need. Plants thrive to perfection, and are, perhaps, the most attractive objects that can be set upon it; but it can be made to do duty as a writing desk and serve any practical end.

LOSS OF VOICE

After Acute Bronchitis

CURED BY USING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

A PREACHER'S EXPERIENCE.

"Three months ago, I took a violent cold which resulted in an attack of acute bronchitis. I put myself under medical treatment, and at the end of two months was no better. I found it very difficult to preach, and concluded to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The first bottle gave me great relief; the second, which I am now taking, has relieved me almost entirely of all unpleasant symptoms, and I feel sure that one or two bottles more will effect a permanent cure. To all ministers suffering from throat troubles, I recommend Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—E. M. BRAWLEY, D. D., Dist. Secretary, Am. Bapt. Publication Society, Petersburg, Va.

A VERY INTERESTING PARAGRAPHIC HISTORY OF BREAD.

Where People Eat Nothing But Bread for Twenty-One Meals a Week—Some Chemical Facts in Connection Therewith.

In 200,000 cases investigated in the poor districts of London about 30 per cent. eat nothing but bread for the twenty-one meals in the week.

The constitution of the body is such that it cannot assimilate as food simple compounds, bodies or elements, although the waste of the body may be represented by such compounds or elements.

Food contains potential energy which becomes active when assimilated by the system.

A complete diet must contain water, proteid materials, such as albumen, gluten, etc.; carbo-hydrate material, starch, sugar, etc.; fat and salts. Bread and milk alone contain all these principles and it is a remarkable fact that they never produce satiety.

The wheat plant is an annual grass. The seeds of many grasses are used as food—wheat, oats, rye, barley, etc., and the term cereal is used to denote these edible varieties.

A grain of wheat consists of an envelope brown in color, inclosing a white, softer kernel. The envelope is known as the bran, and the inner portion as the endosperm.

Flour obtained from grinding the grain and using only the central portion of the grain is known as fine flour; that obtained from the outer portions of the grain, as well as the central portions not so finely ground, as fine sharps or seconds; that obtained from the entire grain as whole meal flour.

The chief difference betwen the kinds of flour lies in the amount of nitrogenous matter and salts which each contains.

In making bread the two factors are the heat of the oven, and the fermentation produced by yeast.

Heat breaks up the starch grains, making them more digestible; renders the glutens more digestible, and develops a distinct flavor.

The action of yeast in "raising" bread is accomplished by means of innumerable harmless bacilli in it, which break it up into its constituent parts, liberating a portion as gases.

Bread is baked dough, made from flour and water, rendered porous by various methods, and may be considered to consist of albuminoids, carbohydrates, fat and salts, all in a highly assimilable condition.

Bread stands at the top of the list as regards the amount of nutriment obtained for a given outlay of money.

Bread mare from a coarse flour approximates ore nearly to perfect food than bread made from very fine flour. White bread alone is incapable of supporting a healthy life.

Bread is deficient in mineral salts and fats, and consequently does not form a perfect food without water and butter or its equivalent.

Bread made with yeast is much more digestible than that made by using chemicals, such as sodium bicarbonate or tartaric acid.

Bread stands very high in the list of relative digestibility.

Bread contains traces of woody fibre and cellulose, both of which are indigestible. These, however, are the only "wastes" in bread, and white bread compares most favorably with other foods in regard to the waste present.

The more palatable a food is the better it is for the digestion, provided that the flavor is natural.

The staleness of bread is not due entirely to the loss of water, though the evaporation has much to do with it. This is proved by the fact that a stale loaf may be reconverted into a new loaf by subjecting it to a great heat. It appears that some molecular change, possibly the dehydration of the carbo-hydrates, goes on in conjunction with the simple evaporation of uncombined water during the conversion of new bread into stale bread.

Toast is more easily digested than ordinary bread, inasmuch as it contains a greater percentage of soluble carbo-hydrates and also is more easily acted on by the digestive fluids, being very crisp and readily reduced to small particles by the teeth.

Bread for several reasons is an unsuitable food for infants less than ten months old.

Whole wheat bread is made from the entire grain—bran, germ and all. Many advantages are claimed for it by food reformers, but as at present made has equally as many disadvantages. other cencensus of opinion is that it

Aerated bread is made by forcing carbon-dioxide gas into slightly acid water, and the solution used for making the bread. A very white bread is produced by this method. No other fermentation process is used in this method.

Lime-water bread is prepared by using a mixture of calcium hydrate and water to form the dough. This bread has the advantage of keeping moist for a considerable period, and seldom becomes sour. It is claimed to be valuable for children on account of the lime it contains.

Bran bread is prepared from a mixture of white flour and bran. It is not usually recommended as a steady diet. The bran particles are too coarse and have a deleterious action on the intestines.

Milk bread is made from dough to which milk has been added. The object of adding the milk is to obtain a better flavor and a more nutritious article. Such bread does not remain sweet very long.

Unleavened bread undergoes no fermentation or aeration. In composition it does not differ materially from the flour used in its manufacture.

Rye bread is prepared from rye flour. The black bread of Germany is prepared wholly from coarse rye flour. This bread is not so valuable as an article of diet as wheaten bread, but it forms a pleasant change now and again.

Malted bread is made by adding to the sponge or dought a malt extract made from barley by partial germination. This imparts to the bread a sweet, nutty flavor. Malted breads are more digestible than ordinary breads and to most people the flavor is more pleasant.

The germ of the wheat grain is usually removed by the miller from the flour by mechanical means, because it produces an unpleasant flavor in the bread and causes rapid germination. Several patented processes are in existence which are capable of overcoming these objections and germ bread is very much more nutritious than ordinary bread.

Diatose bread is prepared by adding diatose to the water which is used to make the dough. The object of this is to convert a large proportion of the starch into sugar and so render the bread more digestible.

Gluten bread is prepared from crude gluten obtained from flour by removing the starch and soluble bodies. It is chiefly partaken by those individuals who suffer from the disease known as diabetes.

Mouldy bread is undoubtedly produced by the growth of a fungus known as the Eurotium, herbariorum. Eating mouldy bread may produce derangement of the stomach, accompanied by sickness.

Musty bread resembles mouldy bread in origin and general characters, but usually there is less mould to be seen and the odor is slightly different.

Sour bread is characterized by the presence of sufficient free acid to give a decided acid reaction and smell. This condition arises from the presence of an organism similar to that producing yeast reactions. Long, slow fermentations are favorable to the production of sour bread.

Heavy bread is characterized by a lack of resicular structure. It is produced by insufficient fermentation or by using a very weak yeast.

Compressed yeast is better than baker's yeast in that it contains a greater number of germs.

Obesity may be treated by a diet of coarse whole meal bread rather than white bread.

Toast if well carbonised has a certain medicinal value, not only on account of its digestibility, but also owing to the charcoal present. In those conditions of the stomach marked by an accumulation of mucous and the products of fermentation, charcoal is valuable. Being an absorbent and deodorant it acts beneficially on the mucous coat of the stomach by clearing off the accumulation of foul matter.

Mrs. Rorer's recipe for making white wheat bread is as follows: Pour one pint of boiling water into one pint of milk. When lukewarm add a teaspoonful of salt and one yeast cake dissolved. Then stir in sufficient flour to make a dough, turn out on a board and knead. Put back in a bowl, cover and let stand in a warm place for three hours. At the end of that time turn it out on a board, mould it into loaves and put into pans. Cover and stand aside one hour and bake in a quick oven for 30 minutes, provided the loaves are in French pans; if in square pans, bake an hour longer in a more moderate oven.

Experience proves the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cures all forms of blood diseases, tones the stomach, builds up the nerves.

Mrs. S., says; "I had been suffering from rheumatic pains for months. Miller's Compound Iron Pills cured me." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

Queen Victoria Hangs on to a Bargain.

During one of her visits to the south of France the Queen noticed in a shop in Nice, I believe, a very pretty little black and white sunshade, exhibited for sale at the low sum of one shilling. A sunshade for a shilling, and such a pretty one, too! Her Majesty was charmed, and for once in her life experienced the thrill of securing a real bargain. I have it on authority that rarely had anything so cheap been seen even at a clearance sale. Alas! for the feelings of her mortified daughters the Queen carried that "odious" little shilling sunshade in season and out of season the whole summer through. She even desired to return to her first love with renewed ardor the following year, but by dint of much coaxing and persuasion from the Princess of Wales, to whose gentle influence the Queen is very amenable, she was induced to relinquish it.—Woman at Home.

Although a very busy man, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has found time in which to write a great book of over a thousand pages entitled, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in Plain English, or Medicine Simplified. Few books printed in the English language have reached so great a sale as has this popular work, over 680,000 copies having been sold at $1.50 each. The profits on this enormous sale having repaid its author for the great amount of labour and money expended on its production he has now decided to give away absolutely free, 500,000 copies of this valuable work, the receipient only being required to mail to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N Y., of which company he is president, 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only, and the book will be sent post-paid. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. It contains 1008 large pages, and over 300 illustrations, some of them in colours. The Free Edition is precisely the same as that sold at $1.50 except only that the books are bound in strong manilla paper covers, instead of cloth. It is not often that our readers have an opportunity to obtain a valuable book on such generous terms, and we predict that few will miss availing themselves of the unusual and liberal offer to which we have called their attention.

TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia—Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Secres of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Am Now Completely Cured—So says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

Statements of Two Ladies.

Regular users of Diamond Dyes are always happy and ready to recommend them.

Mrs. D. M. McGregor, of Amherly, Ont., says: "I have used Diamond Dyes for twenty years, and never failed with them in a single case. I would not use other makes of dyes if given to me for nothing as long as I can get the "Diamond."

Mrs. John Fletcher, of Greenfield, Ont., says: "I have used Diamond Dyes and have been very successful with them. I am much pleased with results from them; the colours are perfect."

Diamond Dyes are the world's best, and are used in every land. No failures or losses when they are used.

GOOD ROADS.

President Isaac A. Potter of the L.A.W., in speaking of the proposed legislation at Albany in behalf of good roads, among other good things said the following:—"There are 700,000 horses and mules above the age of two years on the farms in this State, and every day they eat $125,000 worth of feed. These are boarders that the farmers can't get rid of, whether busy or idle, and when the animals are idle by reason of bad roads their owners are paying just so much tax to support the present system of highway 'maintenance' and are getting nothing in return for it. Many of the farmers apparently do not know the value of good roads, and neither do they care to become aware of it. Their opposition is born of prejudice which led them to oppose every improvement that was introduced for their benefit. They opposed the introduction of railroads and sent a committee to the Legislature to state their solemn opinion that railroads were practical impossibilities and their projectors were bent upon ruining the country. They said that the sparks of fire from the locomotives would set fire to the wool on the backs of their sheep, and burn crops, houses and barns; that the smoke would make country life intolerable; that railroad travel at the frightful rate of twenty miles per hour would be fatal to most passengers and dangerous to all. They opposed the thresher and reaper, and the hay press and all the new fangled things which the dudes and theorists invented for their benefit.

ALIEN LABOR BILL.

The Clause Relating to Canadian Laborers Was Referred Back by the U. S. Senate Yesterday.

Washington, March 22.—The legislative session of the Senate to-day lasted forty minutes, the arrangement between the United States and Great Britain being taken up behind closed doors. In the short open session nearly 200 bills were introduced and many others were reported back from committees. Included in the latter was the immigration bill, with the provision as to Canadian laborers eliminated, which was under consideration in the last Congress and failed to become a law owing to President Cleveland's veto. The four great appropriation bills—the Agricultural, the Indian, the Sundry Civil and the General Deficiency, which also failed for lack of Mr. Cleveland's signature, and which were re-introduced and passed last week by the House, were referred to the Committee on Appropriations. A resolution was agreed to calling upon the President for the correspondence between this Government and Spain, and between the State Department and Consul-General Lee in regard to the arrest, imprisonment and death of Dr. Ruis, and inquiring what steps have been taken in the matter. At 5.40 p.m. the Senate adjourned until to-morrow.

MAN AND WIFE QUARRELLED.

Bee Rainwater Murdered Four Relatives and Blew His Own Brains Out.

Kansas City, Mo., March 22.—Bee Rainwater, a farmer living at Orrick, Ray County, on Saturday evening murdered his wife, his mother-in-law, Mrs. William Artman, Ethel Gentry, his step-daughter, and John Thurman, a step-brother, and then blew out his own brains. Jealousy and a belief that his mother-in-law was interfering with his domestic affairs is believed to have been the cause of Rainwater's crime. Rainwater and his wife had frequently quarrelled, and they had not lived together for four months.

No Final Action.

Washington, March 22.—The Senate, in Executive session, agreed to all the committee amendments to the arbitration treaty, but final action on the convention was not had.

Crown Timber Agent Stephenson has just completed an investigation into alleged irregularities in connection with the sale of lands in Banff National Park, and will shortly report to the Government.

It was thought when the school settlement had been disposed of the Manitoba Legislature would quickly adjourn, but it may be in session a week longer. The delay is caused by the debate on the changes desired by Winnipeg aldermen in civic government. The aldermen are asking for power to give themselves salaries, and for the formation of a board of control, after the Toronto idea.

Beech and O'Brien, grain operators, of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, are now on trial, charged with conducting gambling operations. The prosecutor is Doctor Bergmann, who alleges he lost ten thousand dollars in speculation with the firm. Scores of witnesses are being examined as to the modus operandi of the firm, and great interest is taken in the case. Five Queen's counsel are engaged on the case.

'Its Fair's Way'

REMARKABLE

ENTHUSIASM

Among the Ladies.

DOING a thing counts more than a lot of talking or preaching. As Horace Greely once said when discussing a financial question: "The way to resume is to resume."

In a similar sense, "Fair's way" is a most successful way of creating an important spring attraction—as was evidenced by the magnificent Opening Exhibition of fashionable Spring Goods which was attended with so much eclat at the Golden Lion on Tuesday.

It was a signal event—overshadowing all other local attractions of an allied character. So much that was of absorbing interest to the ladies centred round the occasion that we have been induced to prolong the exhibition for the remainder of this week.

A NALL-WEEK EXHIBITION

Will only be doing justice to the crowds who desire to become posted on all that is Newest and most Fashionable in woman's realm.

We will make the occasion one of widest interest throughout the house, in which the magnet of price will largely contribute.

An attraction that will be appreciated by visitors will be the setting SPECIAL PRICES for the balance of the week.

French Reinforcements Landed at Suda Yesterday

AND MORE WILL FOLLOW SHORTLY

The British Ambassador at Constantinople Sends a Strong Remonstrance to the Porte Regarding the Massacre in Anatolia—King George to be Administrator of Crete.

Canea, March 23.—Three hundred French troops, the first of the reinforcements ordered to Crete for service, landed at Suda to-day. Later they marched to this city. Three hundred other French troops will got to Sitia at the eastern end of the island.

Admiral Canevaro, the Italian officer, who is by reason of seniority in command of the combined fleets of the powers, has issued a proclamation enjoining the insurgents and Greek troops not to attack the Turkish forts at Kissamo, Suda, Malaxa, Retimo, Candia and Hierapetra, these forts being necessary for the maintenance of order at the ports where the foreign troops will be dissembarked. The proclamation closes with a warning that measures will be taken to ensure respect for it.

It is doubted that the insurgents will pay any heed to the proclamation.

Slaughtered in a Church.

Constantinople, March 23.—In consequence of the troubles at Tokat, in the Sivas district of Anatolia, Sir Philip Currie, the British Ambassador, has sent to the Porte the strongest remonstrance that has yet been addressed to the Government in an official communication. The official report of the affair said that 15 Armenians and three Musselmans were killed, but the Embassies have received reliable information that fully 100 Armenians were massacred. The people were killed while in church. During and after the massacre the Armenian quarter of the city was given over to pillage.

The Turkish newspapers in their comments upon the blocakde of Crete remark upon the pacific attitude of the powers towards Turkey. Their attitude they say is conformable with the rights and political interests of the Porte, and furnishes fresh proof of the striking success that has been gained by the Sultan. It also testifies to the friendship of the powers for the Porte and their solicitude for the peace of the world.

King George is Administrator.

London, March 23.—The Morning Leader will to-morrow give prominence to a private telegram from Paris, declaring that the powers have accepted a proposal made by the Sultan that King George of Greece shall occupy and administer the Government of Crete, Turkey reserving her Imperial rights in the island. The proposal, the telegram adds, provides that King George shall nominate a high commissioner for the island.

The rumor to the above effect is not new. Its repetition from Paris is accepted with much reserve as The Morning Leader is not a first-class authority. The Chronicle will to-morrow make an announcement similar to the telegram published by The Morning Leader, but under reserve. Nevertheless it expresses some belief in the general correspondence of the report with the facts. It is stated that the King of Greece will nominate his son, Prince George as High Commissioner. It is understood that the matter was discussed at the Cabinet meeting to-day.

Only Presented Letters.

London, March 23.—The Athens correspondent of The Chronicle telegraphs that M. Onou, the Russian Minister, at the audience given to him yesterday by King George, merely presented to His Majesty letters from the Czar and the Dowager Empress of Russia. The letter of the Czar contained 50,000 roubles for the benefit of the Cretan refugees in Athens. M. Onou has just returned from St. Petersburg.

TURKEY NOT IN IT.

Her Warships Will Have No Part in the Blockade of Crete.

London, March 23.—In the House of Commons to-day, Mr. G. N. Curzon, Under Foreign Secretary, in reply to a question by Sir Charles Dilke, Radical member for the Forest of Dean Division of Gloucestershire, said that the Government had not received any proposals from Greece looking to a compromise with the powers beyond what was contained in Greece's supplementary note, which had already been made known to the House. It seemed, however, that the Greek Minister at Paris had made verbal communications to M. Hanotaux, the French Minister of Foreign Affairs, but none such had been made to the Government of Great Britain.

In reply to a question by Mr. John G. S. McNeill, anti-Parnellite, member for South Donegal, Mr. Curzon said that Turkey was not taking any part in the blockade of Cretan ports, and that Turkish merchant vessels in entering the ports of Crete would be subject to the same restrictions as were imposed upon vessels of other nations.

KRUGER'S DESIRES.

Mr. Schreiner Says the President of the Transvaal Wants a Sea Power for an Ally.

London, March 23.—The examination of Mr. W. Z. Schreiner, formerly Attorney-General of the Cape Colony in the Ministry of Cecil Rhodes, was continued by the Parliamentary South African Committee to-day.

Mr. Schriener said that President Kruger always work for republican principles, and wants the flag of the South African Republic to be that of a free nation. It is President Kruger's desire, Mr. Schreiner said, that there shall always be a close union between the Transvaal and some great sea power, and he would like no sea power to be allied with better than England. In the event of war between England and the Transvaal, the witness added, the Dutch in the Cape Colony, if they understood what was best for themselves, would be with England, but blood was thicker than water and they would doubtless take the side of the Transvaal.

The Alliance Treaty Made.

Pretoria, March 23.—The drafts of the treaties between the Transvaal Republic and the Orange Free State have been concluded at Bloemfontein, capital of the latter republic, and are published here. They give the burghers of each State the franchise in either republic, and the two republics agree to support each other in case of attack. The treaties must be ratified by the Volksraads of both republics.

In the Grip of the Grip.

London, March 23.—Lord Salisbury has recoverd from his attack of influenza and took part in a Cabinet Council, which was held at his residence to-day. Among the distinguished persons who are suffering from influenza are: Sir William Harcourt, the Opposition leader in the House of Commons, Sir William H. Walrond, M.P., the Ministerial whip in the House of Commons, Sir Walter Besant, the author, and the Countess Cadogan.

A despatch from Dublin says Most Rev. William C. Lord Plunkitt, Protestant Archbishop of Dublin, is seriously ill with influenza.

EARTHQUAKE AT MONTREAL.

The Disturbance Made the City Tremble at its Centre—Similar Points Felt the Shock.

Montreal, March 23.—A few minutes after 6 o'clock this evening a terrific earthquake shock shook the centre of the city and caused great consternation. Large buildings shook like reeds, and there was a general rush of the inmates in many instances for the doors. At the big Great Northwestern Telegraph building the shock was so great that it was at first thought that there had been an explosion in the building, but on investigation it was found that the shock had been general. So far no damage has been heard of.

Coaticook, Que.—An earthquake shock was felt here at about 6 o'clock this evening, lasting six seconds. No damage was done.

Valleyfield, Que.—A heavy shock of earthquake was felt here and vicinity at about 6.10 o'clock.

St. Johns, Que.—Shortly after 6 o'clock this evening a very perceptible shock of earthquake was felt here, lasting a few seconds, from south to north. Clerks in a drug store say bottles shook so as to be heard plainly.

Pointe Claire, Que.—At 6.07 this evening a very distinct shock of earthquake was felt here. No damage reported.

St. Hilaire, Que.—At 6.06 this evening an earthquake shock of considerable force was felt here, lasting about five seconds.

Three Rivers, Que.—A severe shock of earthquake was felt here this evening a few minutes after 6 o'clock. Houses rocked so that the inmates imagined that they were going to collapse. No damage is reported other than a severe shaking up.

Hawkesbury, Ont.—A very heavy earthquake shock was felt here shortly after 6 o'clock this evening, causing buildings and windows to tremble perceptibly.

Clarence, Ont.—Quite a hard shock of earthquake was felt here at a few minutes past 6 o'clock this evening.

Jessop's Falls, Ont.—A slight shock of earthquake was felt here a few minutes after 6 o'clock this evening.

Lancaster, Ont.—A slight shock of earthquake was felt here at 6.10 o'clock this evening, lasting about 15 seconds. Vibrations seemed to be from east to west, with a low rumbling sound.

Vankleek Hill, Ont.—At 6 o'clock this evening there was a slight shock of earthquake felt here, lasting 10 seconds, accompanied by the usual low rumbling noise and undulations.

THE ONTARIO HOUSE.

Work Was Pushed Along in the Afternoon.

TORY KICKING IN THE EVENING.

Hospital Grants—The Patrons and Parliamentary Independence—Bill Regarding Immigration of Children Discussed—Loan Corporation Bill Changed.

Toronto, March 23.—The proceedings this afternoon were wholly of a business character and for a wonder there was hardly a trace of partisanship in such discussions as took place. It was a pleasing novelty to hear the Ministry strongly backed up in making an appropriation by Messrs. Ryerson and Crawford, and a little later to see a couple of ministerialists get up and oppose with a good deal of force some of Mr. Gibson's amendments to the law respecting loan companies. For a few hours it really seemed as though the dream of Independents, of a Legislature run on the principles of a county council without a professional opposition, had been realised. In the evening session the House soon relapsed into its normal condition of party belligerency, and the Opposition made a dead set on the Model Farm.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

The following bills were introduced:

Mr. Curry—Better to secure the independence of the Legislative Assembly. This is the bill introduced by Mr. Curry last session. It provides that no person shall be appointed to any office under the Government of Ontario to which any salary, emolument or profit is attached while he is a member of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, or within one year after the dissolution of the Legislature of which he was a member.

Mr. Gibson, Hamilton—To amend the act respecting land surveyors and the survey of lands. It changes the qualification of apprentices and the term to be served, admits surveyors from other places in the British dominions, and provides that candidates shall pass examinations in elementary botany, as well as in the subjects now required.

THIRD READINGS.

The following bills were read a third time:

Respecting the village of Huntsville—Mr. Stratton.

To incorporate the town of Vankleek Hill—Mr. McPherson.

Respecting the town of Mitchell—Mr. Garrow.

To incorporate the annual conferences of the Free Methodist Church in Ontario—Mr. Chapple.

GRANTS TO HOSPITALS.

Hon. Mr. Davis moved that the House ratify grants in aid of the following institutions: Huntsville Hospital, Sarnia General Hospital, Western Hospital of Toronto, Home for Incurables, London; Home for the Aged, Cobourg; Home for the Aged, Lindsay; Rescue Home, Hamilton; Lambton House of Industry; and Perth House of Refuge.

Dr. Baxter regretted that another Toronto hospital had been placed on the list. In explanation of the grant the Provincial Secretary exlained that a Western Hospital was absolutely necessary in Toronto, owing to the distance of the other hospitals from the West End. The matter had been strongly urged on the Government by influential deputations.

Dr. Ryerson and Mr. Crawford strongly supported the grant, pointing out that there were a large number of manufacturing industries in the western section of the city, the employes of which were subject to accidents and far removed from other hospital accommodation.

Dr. Willoughby opposed the grant on the ground that there was ample room in the General Hospital. Mr. Stratton pointed out that as the grant was a per capita one, it made no difference to the province whether the General or the Western Hospital got the money. After some further debate the motion was carried.

IMMIGRATION OF CHILDREN.

The House went into committee on Hon. J. M. Gibson's bill to regulate the immigration of children. A number of minor changes were made, among them a provision authorising the inspector appointed to examine children before their shipment to this country to accept as satisfactory the testimony of any Government immigration agent whose duty it is to inspect children.

Mr. Howland suggested that immigration societies or agents should be held responsible for any damage or loss occasioned by children turning out badly, and Mr. Gibson amended the bill so as to hold them responsible in such cases when certificates had been granted under false representations from them. An amendment was also added to the effect that the act should not interfere with the provisions of the law respecting the importation of contract labor. The bill was reported as amended.

The committee then took up the Attorney-General's bill amending and consolidating the acts resecting the administration of justice in portions of the province outside county organization.

The Attorney-General introduced an amendment to the measure restoring to the Districts of Algoma, Manitoulin, Thunder Bay and Rainy River the High Court jurisdiction, which was adopted and the bill reported.

LAKEFIELD DAIRY COMPANY.

Mr. Derbyshire Gives an Address Before a Public Meeting.

The public meeting of the Lakefield Dairy Company was held in their factory Tuesday evening, most of the patrons being present. Mr. G. J. Galvin was elected chairman and made a very appropriate address, showing up what the company had done in having put up the best butter and cheese factory in that section, and keeping themselves in advance of the times. They discussed getting their milk to the factory in better condition and in larger quantities.

Mr. Derbyshire was then introduced and spoke of the pleasure it gave him to attend this meeting on account of their trying to keep up with the times, and of the great pleasure it gave him to know that they had been parties in assisting to carry off the prizes at the World's Fair, and did Canada credit in the manufacture of fancy cheese and butter. He dwelt particularly on the adding of the winter dairy movement to their summer practice showing, that making fancy cheese for six months from May till November in larger quantities and finer quality, and then making butter the balance of the year was a proper move for this province. The adding of the butter business is not intended to make less cheese but intended to make more cheese by keeping a better class of cows in a better way, growing corn and building a silo, thereby enabling them to have plenty of good nutritious food at all seasons of the year, in other words giving them summer conditions in the winter time.

The two great problems for them to study are cheaper production and making a larger quantity and a finer quality of both butter and cheese.

We have 54 per cent. of the cheese trade, or 16,000,000 out of 29,000,000 that Great Britain imports, while we have only 2,000,000 out of 4,000,000 of the butter she imports, so that we have a wide field for the expansion of the butter business, and from the movement on hand at the present time and the energetic way that our Canadian people are taking up the winter dairy move we feel satisfied that we will be able to produce a million dollars worth more butter in 1897 than we did in 1896. We produced in '96 a million dollars' worth more butter than we did in '95, so that the movement is going on nicely.

This address was thoroughly discussed by the Patrons, a great many taking part, and after a very pleasurable time the meeting was closed with votes of thanks to Mr. Derbyshire and the chairman, and the singing of God Save the Queen ended one of the best dairy meetings we had had or some time.

HARVEY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The rain of last Friday night completely spoiled our sleighing, and put a stop to the work in the woods, as it filled all the swamps with water, and there are little streams running in all directions. Most of the jobbers have got through. Mr. Jas. Richmond has about two hundred pieces still in the woods, but if it freezes a little he will get them in yet, as they are near the water. J. O'Donnel has let nearly all his men go as he has finished his contract with the Rathbun Co. What men are left are taking out boom timber for the drive and also some for the dams. It has been a very successful season as nearly every one got their stuff to the water even if it was a short winter.

Mr. T. Walters, Provincial Superintendent of dams, has sent a gang of men to repair the dams on Squaw River to facilitate the getting out of the logs that have been cut the past winter. These repairs were badly needed by those having timber adjacent to this river, as buyers did not care to purchase their logs when there was so much risk of them getting out and what they did buy was at a reduced price; but thanks to the untiring efforts of Mr. Stratton this has been remedied, and in future we will reap the benefit.

Silas H. Crowe meet with a slight accident last week. While cutting down a tree, another leaning against it fell and striking him on the shoulder, pinned him to the ground. Two men working with raised the tree and dragged him from beneath. Had there been no one with him at the time, he could not have got out alone. No bones were broken and he expects to be quite well again.

Last week a Lakefield party, Will and Jos. Hunter, accompanied by their wives and Miss Etta Brumwell, paid a visit to their friends. They got the benefit of the last sleighing.

Miss Lena Harris has returned from visiting Lindsay friends.

Messrs. Andrew G. Shearer and W. Irwin and others have returned from Deer Bay. They report a successful season in taking out wood and logs.

Kennedy, Davis & Son have stopped operations in the woods. The will repair the mill for an early start cutting cedar shingle bolts.

A TROOPER'S STORY.

THE UNPLEASANT EXPERIENCE OF A BISLEY MAN.

Awoke one Night to Find Himself Speechless and his Body Partially Paralysed—Could Touch a Red Hot Stove without any Sensation of Pain.

From the Huntingdon, Que., News.

Mr. Donald McNaughton of Hemmingford, Que., is not only known to all the residents of that town but has also a reputation throughout the country as an expert marksman, having on one occasion been a member of the Canadian rifle team at Bisley, England. Mr. McNaughton is a member of the 6th Hussars, and takes part in all the leading shooting matches in Canada, having this year stood third in the grand aggregate at the Quebec Provincial matches. Mr. McNaughton has passed through a very trying experience, the particulars of which he recently related to a correspondent of the Huntingdon News. He said: About the end of December, 1893, I awoke one night having completely lost the power of speech, with a ringing sensation in my head and a feeling of extreme cold in every part of my body, except in the immediate vicinity of my head. A physician was at once called in, but despite all that he could do the power of speech did not return for two days, and my body remained partially paralyzed. In this condition I continued under the doctor's care until about the last week in March, 1894, sometimes having two doctors in attendance. During that time my appetite was capricious, sometimes good and at others loathing the sight of food. What food I took did not digest, causing me much discomfort. When resting on my right side the blood in my body all appeared to circulate in my left side causing great pain in my lungs, and when lying on my left side I appeared to have no blood in circulation on that side. My body was at time without sensation, and I have actually burned my hands on a red hot stove without feeling any sensation of pain. As I was not getting better under the treatment I was undergoing I got low spirited and despondent, and saw nothing before me but a miserable life and perhaps early death. About the last week in March, 1894, my brother brought me a box of Pink Pills given him by Mr. McFee, postmaster, and urged me to give them a trial. I began taking them, carefully following the directions and before I had finished the box I felt they were helping me. I continued to gain in health and strength, my weight increasing some 19 pounds. Complete vigour and sensation returned to my body, my stomach ceased to trouble me, and I felt better than at any previous period in my life. I have not had the slightest recurrence of my trouble, and I feel that I owe my present health and strength to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and with feelings of gratitude recommend them as a medicine worthy of all confidence.

This great remedy enriches and purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, and in this way goes to the root of the disease, driving it from the system, and curing when other remedies fail.

Every box of the genuine Dr. Williams' Pink Pills has the trade mark on the wrapper around the box, and the purchaser can protect himself from imposition by refusing all others. Sold by all dealers at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50.

Shrubs on a Lawn.

If you want several shrubs on a small lawn, and the space is too small to allow you to set them apart as they ought to be, in order to give them the benefit of space individually, group them, that is, plant them in a clump. The idea is to make the three, or four, or five shrubs which you plant in the group, produce a unity of effect which will give much the same impression that one well-developed specimen would. By selecting varieties in which there is contrast of color as to foliage, as well as flowers, satisfactory results may be secured. In the irregularity which produces charming effects there is always a method and a plan.—Eben E. Rexford in Ladies' Home Journal.

If your child is attacked with Croup, a plaster made with "Quickcure" spread with a warm knife blade on canton flannel, linen or cotton, will give more prompt relief, from croup or any inflammation, than camphorated oil, or mustard. In severe cases, doctors tell you to apply hot applications also, over the "Quickcure" plaster, covering the chest and neck well.

THE SLATER SHOE

Resting the Feet.

A hard mattress rests the sleeper more than a downy feather bed, because it does not press so many parts of the body at once, relieving certain bumps while the others are being lain upon.

No two pairs of shoes are exactly alike on the inside, and changing them once per day eases different portions of the feet by throwing the weight upon other parts. This gives a surprising restfulness to the feet, as well as to the shoe, which also gets tired, just as a razor does.

Leathers should always be chosen according to the condition of the feet, as they differ materially in effect and purpose.

On every pair of "Slater Shoes" there is a tag, which tells the exact leather used, giving its peculiarities and the wear it is adapted to.

You can thus buy "Slater Shoes" intelligently and know that they're Goodyear Welted, if you see that they're stamped on the sole with the name and price—$3.00, $4.00, or $5.00.

RIGO CHARGED WITH ADULTERY.

The Legal Wife of the Gipsy Fiddler Takes Action for Heavy Damages.

Paris, March 23.—Madame Rigo, wife of the Hungarian fiddler, Janos Rigo, who eloped from this city last summer with the Princess of Chimay, formerly Clara Ward of Detroit, made her appearance in court to-day, accompanied by a Commissary of Police, and formulated a charge of adultery against her husband and the Princess, alleging that the acts complained of were committed at the Hotel Terminus and elsewhere.

Madame Rigo is taking action at law against her husband and his mistress, and claims the sum of 150,000 francs damages for the benefit of herself and children.

Rigo and the former Princess, whose husband recently obtained an absolute divorce from her upon the grounds of her relations with the Hungarian, are announced to make their appearance on the stage at the Winter Gardens in Berlin on April 1.

Report from the Government Physician Port of Quebec.

"I have used 'Pheno Banum' or 'Quickcure' in a suppurating wound following a severe bite of a cat; after the usual remedies seemed ineffectual, this preparation cleaned up the wound and healed it after the second application; its effect was most satisfactory; it has also proved a valuable remedy for removing pain, and destroying the cocci that cause boils and carbuncles, healing in some cases more quickly than if the microbes had been cut out; as is now recognised to be proper treatment instead of poulticing, etc. This remedy has a grand future before it.

In the Order-in-Council recently passed relating to the quarantine and health of animals, provision is made that no animals are to be placed on board the cars until the litter from the previous load has been removed and the car whitewashed with lime and carbolic acid. Shippers may object to place their animals on unclean cars, and may complain to the nearest inspector of quarantine, who shall cause such cars to be cleansed at the expense of the railway company, or prohibit their use until this regulation has been complied with. Mr. M. Anger of the Department of Agriculture, has been charged with the duty of seeing that this regulation is properly carried out, and in the event of any inspector not being easily available, complaints may be forwarded to him, or inspectors may communicate with him for fuller information.

Messrs. J. Lorne MacDougall, Auditor-General, J. M. Courtney, Deputy Minister of Finance, and Joseph Pope, Under Secretary of State, have been deputed to make a thorough examination of the rooms in the public buildings where records of any value are kept, with a view to reporting upon the accommodation for keeping such records, and suggesting what further precautions are necessary in order to guard against their destruction by fire. The three deputies spent considerable time in the Mackenzie wing to-day, overlooking the records of the Department of Railways and Canals.

An Order-in-Council has been passed, changing the names of certain custom ports and making them uniform with the villages in their immediate vicinity. For instance, Sutton will hereafter be known as Abercorn, Potton as Mansonville, and New Carlisle as Paspebiac.

Mr. Andrew A. Allan of the Allan Steamship Line, had an interview with Sir Richard Cartwright to-day in regard to the fast Atlantic service, and the reported arrangement with a Newcastle company. There is no reason why Mr. Laurier should go out of his way to oblige them if he can secure better terms elsewhere."

MR. DILLON KICKED,

The Anti-Parnellite Leader is "Agin' the Government" on the Santa Lucia Military Works Bill.

London, March 23.—During the debate on the Military Works Bill in the House of Commons to-day, John Dillon, the leader of the anti-Parnellites, protested against the proposed expenditure of £250,000 upon military works on the island of Santa Lucia, which, he said, was the hall door of the United States, with which nation there was no likelihood of war. At any rate, Mr. Dillon declared, the fact that Great Britain proposed spending such a sum of money on military preparations in Santa Lucia showed the lack of sincerity on the part of the Government respecting the Anglo-American arbitration treaty.

Sir Charles Dilke, one of the Radical leaders, defended the proposal of the Government. The work, he said, had been really delayed too long. It had no conceivable connection with the relations of Great Britain and the United States.

The bill, including the vote for the works in Santa Lucia, then passed the committee stage.

The report of the Minister of Education for 1897 reveals the fact that the Public Library of Peterborough contains 8,021 volumes, the largest Public Library in the province, and only excelled by the Free Libraries of the cities. The actual number must be considerably greater, for Dr. Burnham, the energetic president, is every now and then adding to a few new volumes, keeping the Library, in a literary sense, quite up to the times.

SPECIAL EVANGELISTIC SERVICES.

Conducted by Rev. A. H. Ranton in the George Street Methodist Church—The Opening Service of the Series.

Last night Rev. A. H. Ranton, evangelist, held the first of a series of special evangelistic services in the George street Methodist church. Unfortunately, however, the weather was exceedingly unfavourable, the rain that had been falling steadily during the afternoon developing into a clammy, clinging fall of snow. Yet in spite of this fact a congregation that comfortably filled the central range of church pews assembled to assist the evangelist in the opening meeting of his services, and the fact of their presence under the circumstances was a proof of their zeal, which was practically emphasized by the hearty manner in which they united in the services of the evening.

A platform had been placed in the front of the organ loft, and this was occupied by Rev. A. H. Ranton, Rev. J. J. Rae, pastor of the Charlotte street Methodist church, and Rev. W. B. Young, pastor of the George street Methodist church. A specially organized choir to lead the singing, which, judging by the initial meeting, will form an important feature of the meetings, also finds place on the platform.

Rev. Mr. Ranton whose portrait is here with presented is a very young man considering the record of successful evangelistic work that stands to his credit. He does not look a day over thirty and his vigor and earnestness justify such an estimate. He is a native of Ontario. He entered the Guelph conference as a probationer. Before completing his term of probation he went to Kalamazoo, Michigan, where he spent eight years, part of the time in ministerial work. At the end of that time he was set apart as an evangelist for which by nature and grace he seemed to be well fitted. His evangelistic work has been carried on with marked success in St. Thomas, London, Picton, Toronto, (where he held meetings in four churches), Port Hope, and he has now entered upon work in Peterborough. He is an earnest, forcible speaker and his methods are far removed from sensationalism—he appeals to the conscience and the intellect more than to the emotions.

The first order of service at the opening of the meeting was a service of sacred song, led by the choir and directed by the evangelist.

This was followed by the regular order of services, in which the congregation took their share with great earnestness and apparent interest, and included the plain, direct and earnest address of Mr. Ranton, who had selected as his subject "First Things First," pointing out in simple, earnest words the duty of one giving the first service of our hearts and lives to the Lord. To-night the services will be continued, beginning, at 7.45, with a song service. The evangelist's address this evening will be upon the subject of "The Unpardonable Sin."

Monday Night's Opera.

"Rob Roy," a spectacular comic opera in three acts, music by Reginald DeKoven, book by Harry B. Smith. Scottish melodies are pleasingly treated in the score. The orchestration of the work is strong, distinctive and masterly. The operetta contains two remarkable beautiful quintets, certain duets of charming quality and several arias that are delightful in feeling and melody. The choruses are spirited and there are two or three bits of dance music, which are Viennese in rhythm. Mr. DeKoven gives his Highland patriots various stirring airs and choruses and introduces many lively and agreeable measures; in short the authors have written an opera which will increase enjoyment and add to their reputation. Seats are now on sale.

THE "ILLICIT STILL" CASES INVESTIGATED.

INLAND REVENUE DEPARTMENT OFFICERS PRESS THE PROSECUTION.

The Evidence Goes to Show That the Proprietors had no Knowledge That They Were Committing a Breach of the Law—The Apparatus was Used to Condense Water Only—No Convictions Made.

At the Police Court to-day the cases connected with the recent seizure of "illicit stills" were taken up. The Crown was represented by Messrs. R. B. Edwards and G. M. Rogers.

The case against Mr. Wm. Faint, of Ashburnham, was the first investigated, he being charged with being in the possession of a still suitable for the manufacture of wash beer or spirits within the past three months.

James McLellan stated in his evidence that the still had been brought to his house by Mr. Faint about the 5th or 6th of March. He had never seen the still before. Mr. Wm. Faint knew that witness had been ill all winter with stomach trouble and stopped him on the street one day to tell him how good the water treatment was for such troubles. He then offered him the still to evaporate the water. He had also given him a book on the subject. Witness had used still for no other purpose. He was a temperance man. Had never bought a glass of liquor in his life.

Edward Floody, preventive officer in the service of the Inland Revenue Department, identified the apparatus produced as being a still and found on the premises of the last witness on March 8th. He had gone to Mr. Faint's residence first but learned that the still was at Mr. McLellan's. He had never seen any apparatus so complete for the size. This still was suitable for the manufacture of spirits.

W. L. Hamilton, district inspector of Inland Revenue, identified the apparatus produced as a still suitable for the manufacture of spirits. He described the procedure of distillation. Mr. Faint had made no application for a distiller's license to him.

Mr. Faint cross-examined the witness regarding the purpose for which he supposed the still had been used, but witness could not tell, there being no odour about it.

In answer to the magistrate witness stated that any apparatus attached to the spout of a tea-kettle, for the purpose of condensing water, would be a violation of the law.

J. J. Hall, local Collector of Inland Revenue, by whom apparatus for license are received, to be forwarded to Mr. Hamilton for approval, had received no such application from Mr. Faint. He had received no notice from Mr. Faint of any kind concerning the still.

Mr. Faint asked permission to give his evidence. He stated that he had not the "tins" in his possession in Ashburnham inside of three months from the date of the information. They were made nearly three years ago for condensing water. He had not used them for some time, for the reason that he had a tin roof made, which caught all the pure rain water which was used instead. The river water would not do, as water was wanted in which there was no lime. He did not consult the law when he had the still made, as he did not know it was unlawful to have it. It had never been used for anything but turning hard water into soft water. He had not drunk a glass of whiskey in thirty years nor had he been the means of making any. If anyone could prove otherwise, he was willing to stand the consequences. He purchased the still from Mr. A. E. Micks. It had been made to order for him, and loaned some time ago to a sick woman and taken from her to McLellan. Mrs. Doxsee had it before Mr. McLellan. He believed the still was in his possession inside of a year in Ashburnham. It was in his possession within the last three months in Peterborough when he delivered it to Mr. McLennan. Mr. Wm. Tripp had told him that he could make the apparatus which was described in a book possessed by the witness. He ordered the still from Mr. Tripp, foreman of Mr. Micks' store. He paid Mr. Micks for it when finished.

The Magistrate stated that the law was never made to cover any such case as this, and he would not make a conviction unless he could not help himself. He would state the facts to the Department of Justice and in the meantime would defer judgment.

AGAINST JAMES MCLELLAN.

A similar charge was then preferred against Mr. James McLellan. Mr. W. A. Stratton appeared for the defence.

Dr. Caldwell, physician attending the defendant, stated that he had recommended his patient to use hot water before his meals. Mr. McLellan told him that he was about to use distilled water and he endorsed this. Defendant had stomach trouble. Distilled water was sometimes needed, but there was difficulty in getting it.

In order to shorten the case, Mr. W. A. Stratton, counsel for the defence, admitted that the still was in his client's possession without a license. He had it for the purpose of distilling water. That although the still was suitable for the manufacture of spirits the defendant did not know this.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL DEPUTATION.

Prospects of a Very Large Deputation.

It will apparently not be the fault of Mayor Yelland and those associated with him, if there is not a very large deputation from the route of the Trent Valley Canal, to go to Ottawa on April 6th. The following is a copy of a circular distributed along the route of the canal:

DEAR SIR,—The councils of the town of Peterborough and of the County of Peterborough, and of several of the municipalities in the county, will send deputations to Ottawa to wait on the Minister of Railways and Canals, on April 6th next, to urge the Government to push forward the completion of the Trent Valley Canal from the Georgian Bay to the Bay of Quinte.

They would be pleased if other municipalities along the whole line of the proposed canal would also send deputations at the same time, in order that a united effort might impress the government and lead to a vigorous prosecution of the work.

Kindly take action in this matter at once, and let us know what deputation you will send.

Yours truly,
WM. YELLAND,
Mayor.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

The announcement of a number of changes on the Grand Trunk amongst the station agents of the Division, has caused quite a stir in business circles, as the shuffle includes the transfer of Mr. Wm. Hayden, the popular and genial local agent to Waubashene. It will be with deep regret that the citizens will learn of Mr. Hayden's proposed removal, as during his residence here for the past three years his courtesy to the business men, has built up the popularity of the company to a remarkable degree.

The Wall Paper Boom!

Prices just now are full of interest to early buyers of wall papers. The great sale of 20,000 rolls, bought for a low price at a closing out sale, has started the buying at the Peterborough Bookstore very much earlier than usual. People who do not intend to paper until the middle of May are securing lots of paper ahead. Just how long such prices will last depends altogether upon the promptness and wisdom of buyers. One thing is quite certain—no chance to replace these wall papers at anything like the same figures will occur again this year. Think of it! Papers quite good enough for bedrooms at 4c and 5c per roll, and for drawing rooms at 15c and 17c per roll. A. H. Stratton & Co.

THE QUEEN'S JUBILEE TO BE CELEBRATED.

THE CITIZENS WILL TAKE CHARGE OF THE PROGRAMME.

The Canadian Order of Foresters Consent to Forego Their Claims on the Grounds, and Preparations Will at Once Begin to Celebrate the Day on a Grand Scale.

The committee appointed at the meeting of the citizens held last week re. the celebrating of the Queen's Jubilee in Peterborough, met last night in the council chamber, to confer with the Canadian Foresters on the matter of the latter yielding up their claim to the day.

The chair was taken by the Mayor, the following members of the committee being present:

Councillor Robertson, Peter Campbell, H. Long, Col. Rogers, Dr. Burnham, F. J. Jameson, Wm. Menzies, W. H. Moore, W. B. Bamford, J. J. Hartley, R. Thornton, F. H. Dobbin, W. H. Isaacs, A. J. Gough, F. Foote, T. E. Bradburn, C. W. Sawers, Lt.-Col. Bell, Andrew Macfarlane, Hampden Burnham, Rev. H. Symonds, R. M. Dennistoun, H. LeBrun, L. M. Hayes.

It is to be hoped that the success of the celebration will not have to depend upon the promptitude of the members of the committee in attending the meetings, as it was a quarter to nine before the mayor called those present to order.

Mr. W. H. Moore asked if the Foresters had come to the meeting prepared to drop out, as a society, from the control of the demonstration. He thought this matter should be definitely settled before any further proceedings were taken.

Mr. Isaacs, on behalf of the Foresters, stated that the Foresters wished to know how the Citizens' Committee proposed celebrating the day before they gave up the grounds. The Order was not prepared to say anything until the programme was definitely announced.

Mr. J. J. Hartley was of the opinion that the Foresters were to have come prepared to make a definite statements of withdrawal. When this was done the committee could then proceed with the details of the demonstration.

The mayor stated that several of the Foresters had told him that the Order wanted to know the nature of the programme proposed by the Citizens' Committee, and whether the whole day—morning, afternoon and evening—would be taken up. If the day was not to be wholly occupied the Foresters would have a programme of sports in the afternoon.

Mr. Wm. Menzies stated that Mr. Isaacs and himself had been deputed by the Foresters to attend the meeting of the committee. A definite statement of the Foresters position would be made at the proper time.

Mr. C. W. Sawers fancied that if the Foresters were sure the citizens would carry out a programme for the afternoon as well as the morning, the Order would drop out, but the members did not want to give up the grounds and then see the demonstration fall to the ground.

Mr. Moore was surprised at the turn affairs were taking. He was sure that at

THE FIRST MEETING

Mr. F. J. Jameson had stated that the Foresters were quite willing to forego what claims they had, and fall into line with the citizens in giving a big demonstration.

Mr. Isaacs stated that if any such statement had been made it was a mistake, as the Foresters had no intention of dropping out unless under certain conditions.

Mr. Jameson corrected Mr. Moore, saying that in his remarks he had wished to say that if the citizens were desirous of occupying the whole day he thought the Foresters would be agreeable, but the claims to the grounds would only be relinquished on the assurance that a programme would be carried out there during the afternoon under the direction of the citizens' committee. The matter of the outlay already incurred by the Foresters had also to be considered.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn wanted to know if the citizens dropped out altogether would the Foresters guarantee a demonstration lasting through the entire day.

Mr. Isaacs then stated officially, as chairman of the Foresters Committee, that the intention had been to secure the attendance of representatives from all the courts within a radius of 100 miles, and ask all other town societies to participate in a grand jubilation in the morning. In the afternoon a programme of sports would be run off at the Driving Park, and in the evening it was the intention to try and have the school children drill on the grounds. The demonstration would thus have been made a grand success which everyone would remember. If the citizens' committee could guarantee to fill the day as well as this, the Foresters would be willing to retire.

Mr. W. B. Bamford suggested having a two days' demonstration—a grand summer carnival, as had been held in previous years in other places. The citizens could take charge of the programme one day and the Foresters look after the other. A guarantee of twelve or fifteen hundred dollars would be required and a list should be circulated for this purpose, in order to make provision against a bad day. Lots of advertising would be needed and a man would have to be on the road all the time booming it up. All Peterborough business men should be asked to use special envelopes with advertisements of the demonstration upon them. If a move was made like this the railways could be induced to GIVE A GOOD RATE.

Mr. Menzies explained, on behalf of the Foresters, that the Order was prepared to retire gracefully if the Citizen's Committee thought that they needed the entire day in which to celebrate, but if on the other hand the committee thought it could only fill up the forenoon and evening the Foresters would look after the afternoon programme. In retiring entirely a condition would have to be imposed to the effect that the Order be recouped for the expenses incurred up to date.

Mr. Hampden Burnham, as "a citizen and a loyal subject of Her Majesty," thought that it was not in accordance with custom, that where there was a cosmopolitan population for any particular society to take charge of such a celebration, which should be as free as the air. He thought the demonstration proper should be preeminently a citizens' affair. In the morning there could be the usual feu-de-joie and general jubilation, so that the town could go on record as giving the people something to show that Her Majesty's reign was sunshine and not shadow. This morning's performance should be perfectly free to all. The goddess of custom could thus be appeased. In the afternoon the Foresters or any other society could celebrate as it chose. The town as a civic body should celebrate this occasion itself.

In order to bring something before the meeting Mr. T. E. Bradburn moved "That the citizens assist the corporate body to hold a free demonstration in the morning and that the Foresters be allowed to celebrate in the afternoon as they saw fit."

Col. Rogers brought up the Historical Society as an object worthy of the donation of any funds which might be secured. He mentioned the fact that Mr. Richard Hall had, on behalf of the Nicholls Estate, kindly given the society the use of Inverlea House for the museum, and the place was to be suitably furnished and fitted up with lighting and heating apparatus. A couple of hundred dollars towards this fund would be gladly received. If the museum was properly fitted up it would fittingly commemorate the great event.

Mr. Moore did not think Mr. Bradburn's suggestion would be viewed with favour by the citizens as a whole, and he moved in amendment that the entire demonstration, morning, noon and night, be entirely a citizens' affair and be taken control of by the committee, also that the Foresters be reimbursed for any liabilities incurred up to the present time.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun seconded Mr. Bradburn's motion. He did not think that a citizens' committee would be at all able to handle a programme of sports. Who would stand the loss if the day was a bad one? He thought this part of the celebration should be left to the Foresters. He would oppose any grant of the town council to be spent in a useless jubilation. A good idea would be to endow a cot in one of the hospitals or something of that kind.

Mr. Isaacs seconded Mr. Moore's motion.

Mr. Hampden Burnham was in favour of Mr. Dennistoun's idea.

Mr. F. Foote wanted to see the whole affair managed by the citizens.

Lieut.-Col Bell was anxious to find out what particular day would be named for the celebration.

A vote resulted in Mr. Moore's motion being carried, and the Citizens' Committee have now full charge.

Mr. W. H. Moldrum was elected as permanent chairman, and Mr. Felix Brownscombe as secretary.

Rev. H. Symonds spoke at some length on the subject of creating the Public Library into a free institution, naming a number of towns and cities the same size as Peterborough which already enjoyed free libraries, through a small annual grant from the town councils averaging between one and two thousand dollars. He pointed out that in case of Peterborough a grant of $500 a year would be sufficient, if the trustees of the Nicholls' estate were satisfied, as a grant of $10,000 had been made by them as an endowment to the Mechanics' Institute.

The committee then adjourned to meet on Tuesday, 30th inst.

GOLD FOR CYCLISTS.

Amateur Riders are Offered Gold Bricks For Winning Races on Red Bird Bicycles Fitted With Electric Tires.

With their characteristic enterprise the Goold Bicycle Co., Ltd., of Brantford, are offering amateur riders exceptional inducements to win races during the coming season on Red Bird bicycles fitted with Electric Tires.

A $500 gold brick is offered to the amateur who will win three out of five of the Canadian championships.

To the rider who wins the most races sanctioned by the C.W.A., another $500 gold brick will be presented, while a $250 gold brick will fall to the lot of the rider who scores the second largest number of C.W.A. victories, the race in each instance to be won on a Red Bird fitted with Electric Tires.

Aside from the splendid prizes given, the fact that four out of five of the Class B championships of '95 and four out of five of the professional championships of '96 were won by Red Bird riders should tend to make this staunch and speedy Canadian wheel immensely popular with amateur riders.

In addition to this and of a more recent date, however, the Red Bird has met with wonderful success in Australia, Martin and Kellow virtually sweeping everything before them, the latter winning as high as $2,500 in two weeks, the actual time of racing being in the neighbourhood of fifteen minutes. As an Australian Cycling paper aptly puts it, "This is good business."

The Revd. S. Riopel, M. D., County Jacques-Cartier, writes: "I have had considerable experience with Dr. Iver's 'Quickcure' and have always found it surprisingly effective, answering fully, when directions were observed, the several claims of its author. It relieves pain in an incredibly short time."

For Rheumatism, Pain in the Back, Sides or Chest, spread "Quickcure" on linen or cotton, as for burns, and cover with cotton batting, or even paper, over which put a bandage to keep all in place and protect the clothing. Many physicians will not prescribe or allow use of ordinary plasters, as so many contain Belladonna, and Aconite, and sometimes these drugs may be absorbed by the system and cause serious disturbances. Plasters made of "Quickcure" have been recommended, as being entirely free from anything which could possibly injure even a child, and no plaster removes pain so quickly.

In severe cases, doctors tell you to apply hot applications also, over the "Quickcure" plaster, covering the back, chest and neck well: flannel cloths wrung out of hot water will not injure "Quickcure" but aid its effect.

POISONING THE FOUNTAIN.

If the fountain of life is poisoned at its very source, there can be no health in any part of the body.

When a woman has any disease or weakness of the delicate organism of her special organsex, the fountain-head of her physical existence is poisoned and she cannot be healthy in any respect until this one fundamental trouble is cured.

The family physician may make the very common error of ascribing all the trouble to superficial causes; he may prescribe for neuralgia, indigestion, insomnia, or headache, when these are merely symptoms of some deep-rooted malady of the distinctly feminine organs.

Any woman suffering from these delicate complaints may be completely cured right in the privacy of her own home (without recourse to mortifying examinations and "local treatment") by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It gives health to the special organism of womanhood. It purifies all diseased conditions; gives elastic strength to the ligaments, and vitality to the nerve-centres. It promotes good digestion, sound sleep, and freedom from pain.

It is the only medicine devised for this one purpose by an educated, skilled specialist in this particular field of practice. It is the only medicine which insures prospective mothers against the dangers and sufferings of motherhood.

Dr. Pierce's thousand-page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" contains several chapters devoted to the special physiology of woman, with advice and suggestions for self-treatment which every woman ought to read. A paper-bound copy sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay for customs and mailing only; or, cloth-bound, 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

NOVEL CHURCH REFORM.

A Pastor in Ruby Velvet Knickerbockers —Acting the Parables.

REV. DR. FORD of the First Christian Church, San Francisco, Cal., who believes in dress reform for men, has introduced knickerbockers in that city as the latest form of full dress. Not only so, but he has introduced the Louis XIV. costume into the church, in, of course, the moderate form, is shown in the initial letter of this article. It consists of ate form, as is shown in the initial letter of this article. It consists of the conventional swallow-tail coat, with black satin or velvet knickerbockers, black silk hose with low pumps and silver buckles.

Rev. Dr. Ford, in speaking of the innovation, said that he hoped "to be able soon to say that the young gentlemen of our congregation have adopted the idea. I believe that to be thoroughly successful one should be original. The young ladies in our church always dress in evening dress at our socials, and the bright, pretty colors do make the rooms so cheery. You know that there is a prevalent idea that

THE FIVE FOOLISH VIRGINS AT THE CLOSED DOOR.

Christians cannot dress as well as other people, and most generally they do not, but in our churches we have a most liberal congregation, which believes that anything modern and up-to-date, is sure to be well patronized.

"Personally I should prefer to wear bright colors—ruby velvet, or red knickerbockers, I think. In preaching the Gospel one should be bright-appearing in dress, for it is there that one should be cheerful. If any place, and plain black and white is so funereal. In the East and Europe they have been trying very hard to use color in gentleman's dress, and I sincerely hope they will succeed."

The church presided over by Dr. Ford is not only noted for this fad of its pastor. It changes its Sunday evening services very often, and just now is engaged in giving monthly representations of the parables. On the first Sunday in this month a class of the young ladies gave the illustrated parable, "Too Late, or the Five Wise and the Five Foolish Virgins." The church was darkened, and the "five wise virgins" of the Gospel parable, in their trailing white robes and carrying lighted lamps, came from the back of the church, and, passing over the platform, disappeared into the adjoining room, and the door was closed just as the "five foolish virgins" arrived only to find indeed it was "too late."

The end of the parable was almost tragic. for the girls seemed to entirely lose their identity and become in reality the foolish. foolish virgins.

CURED OF SCIATICA.

Toronto Junction, Mar. 15 (Special)—Mr. H. Playter, is not a difficult man to find as everybody here knows that he is foreman at No. 1 Fire Hall. He was the picture of health when called upon by your correspondent and told his story thus:

"In April 1896 I suffered from a severe attack of sciatica, affecting my left hip and leg to the tip of the toes. I suspected it came from some form of kidney trouble, and as they had been recommended I procured a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

At the end of the fourth day I was entirely relieved, but desiring a permanent cure I continued to use that and another box and am now perfectly cured and as well as ever in my life. A brother of mine living at Pine Orchard has been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

THE CABOT CELEBRATION.

Letter From the Mayor of Bristol Accepting the Invitation to Send Delegates.

Ottawa, March 22.—(Special.)—Dr. Bourinot, C.M.G., honorary secretary of the Royal Society of Canada, has received the following letter from the Mayor of Bristol, England, accepting the invitation to send a delegation to Halifax to take part in the Cabot celebration of June next:

"The Council House, Bristol,
"9th March, 1897.

"Sir,—Referring to my letter of Jan. 8, and in further answer to yours of the 15th December last, I have now the pleasure of informing you that the council of this city have, in accordance with the polite invitation of the council of the Royal Society of Canada, requested two members of the City Council to attend as guests of the society, and representatives of the municipal corporation and citizens of Bristol, the meeting to be held in the city of Halifax, N.S., under the auspices of the society in June next, for the purpose of commemorating the voyage of the Cabots to North America in 1497. I need hardly say that the gentlemen whom the City Council have nominated to represent the city of Bristol on such an important and interesting occasion are prominent citizens of the highest repute. They have been members of the council for many years and are justices of the peace, and have both filled the high office I have now the honor to hold, Mr. Barker in 1892-3, Mr. Davies in 1895-6. They are members of the Executive Committee appointed to carry out the Cabot commemoration to be held in Bristol simultaneously with that to be held in the city of Halifax. May I ask you to be good enough to assure the Royal Society of the deep sympathy felt by the citizens of Bristol with the society's proceedings for commemorating an event son interesting to Englishmen and their descendants in all parts of the globe, but especially the people of Nova Scotia and the inhabitants of Bristol. I remain, etc., Robert Henry Symes, Mayor of Bristol."

His Excellency the Governor-General, in pursuance of an understanding made months ago with the Royal Society, and in view of the international and even Imperial character of the celebration, will place the brass tablet given by the society in honor of John Cabot, in the Legislative building at Halifax. This will be one of the most interesting events of the Diamond Jubilee week, and will be celebrated in the presence of representatives of the Imperial army and navy, and of many distinguished scholars from Canada and the United States, and not unlikely from Italy itself. The Marquis of Lorne and the Marquis of Dufferin, the latter being president of the Bristol Cabot Committee, have taken a deep interst in the Halifax meeting, as their letters to be read in June next will sufficiently show.

Among the distinguished Americans expected are Hon. J. Francis Adams, the historian, and Hon. J. Boyd Thacker, Mayor of Albany, who was chairman of one of the important committees on awards at the Chicago World's Fair, and is an author of merit. Harvard, Johns Hopkins and many leading Canadian and American Universities will be represented at this interesting meeting of students of literature and science.

BLOW UP AT THE TECHNICAL.

The Gas Stove Surprised the Members of the Domestic Economy Class, and They Were Women.

Toronto, March 23.

A loud explosion at the Technical School last night alarmed the neighborhood and caused a panic among the members of the various classes at work in the building.

At about 9 o'clock the domestic economy class was at work, when the large gas stove used by them went off with a bang that shook the building to such an extent that the lights were put out and the windows broken. The ladies who compose the class were panic-stricken. They rushed madly towards the doors and windows to escape. Furniture had been overturned, and the girls fell over it, but for a wonder no one fainted, and no one was hurt, excepting Mrs. Joy, the teacher of the class, who was nearest to the stove when it exploded, and was thrown down and bruised.

Students from the drafting class came to the rescue of the frightened ladies, and assured them that there was no danger.

It is hinted that the gas stove which exploded was a cheap affair purchased to fit economical desires on the part of the directresses of the class.

"Success is the reward of merit" not of assumption. Popular appreciation is what tells in the long run. For fifty years, people have been using Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and to-day it is the blood-purifier most in favor with the public. Ayer's Sarsaparilla cures.

SLUGGERS ON TRIAL.

Kleinecker Stumbled and Struck on a Spike, But Not So With Gibbons.

Philadelphia, March 22.—Deputy Coroner Dugan to-day held inquests in the cases of Christian Kleinecker, who died on Saturday after engaging in a boxing bout with Frank Connolly, and of Ed. Gibbons, who died the same day from the effects of a heart blow delivered by Samuel S. Perry on Friday night during a bout at the Tenth Ward Democratic Club.

It was testified that Kleinecker stumbled and, in falling struck his head on a spike which projected from the floor. The autopsy showed that the fall broke an abscess which had formed on the man's brain and that death resulted therefrom. Connolly was discharged.

In the Gibbons case, Dr. Cattle, the coroner's physician, declared that death was caused by hemorrhage of the neck, nose, pharynx and brain, due to traumatic injuries. The jury held Perry responsible and the deputy coroner committed him to the county prison without bail to await the action of the grand jury.

After Acute Bronchitis

CURED BY USING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

A PREACHER'S EXPERIENCE.

"Three months ago, I took a violent cold which resulted in an attack of acute bronchitis. I put myself under medical treatment, and at the end of two months was no better. I found it very difficult to preach, and concluded to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The first bottle gave me great relief; the second, which I am now taking, has relieved me almost entirely of all unpleasant symptoms, and I feel sure that one or two bottles more will effect a permanent cure. To all ministers suffering from throat troubles, I recommend Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—E. M. BRAWLEY, D. D., Dist. Secretary, Am. Bapt. Publication Society, Petersburg, Va.

SLEEP, BALMY SLEEP.

IT IS NO WASTE OF TIME TO GET PLENTY OF IT.

Some Popular Misconceptions That Are Here Cleared Away — The Folly of Early Rising on the Farm—A Notable Instance of Sleep's Virtue.

"'God bless the man who first invented sleep!'
So Sancho Panso said, and so say I;
And bless him also that he didn't keep
His great discovery to himself; nor try
To make it—as the lucky fellow might—
A close monopoly by patent right!

"Yes—bless the man who first invented sleep,
(I really can't avoid the iteration);
But blast the man, with curses loud and deep,
Whate'er the rascal's name, or age or station,
Who first invented and went 'round advising,
That artificial cut-off—Early Rising!

"I like the lad who when his father thought
To clip his morning nap by hackneyed phrase,
Of vagrant worm by early songster caught,
Cried, 'Served him right—it's not at all surprising;
The worm was punish'd, Sir, for early rising!'"
—John G. Saxe.

"I always calculate to get to bed at a reasonable hour every third night; in that way I manage not to waste so much time in sleep," writes a young teacher to one who remonstrated with her relative to her favorite vice, late hours.

This young lady, with a head full of the wisdom of the books, has failed to draw a most important inference from her knowledge of psychology—or perhaps, more correctly to have deduced an erroneous one. She speaks of sleep as a waste of time. It is rather nature's regenerator and restorer; it is the period for the renewal of exhausted energies, the interval of recuperation, and the ethics of good sleep are a part of the household morality. A writer on psychology says that from the surplusage of energy, such as is felt in the morning after a refreshing sleep, is built the progress of the world. No time spent in the accumulation of such energy can be regarded as wasted.

Dr. Hurd, superintendent of a Buffalo hospital, says that one of the first conditions that precede mental disturbance which lead to leads to insanity are disorders of sleep. Not always mere insomnia, but other unnatural conditions, such as restless and uneasy sleep, carrying worries through the night, so that one rises unrefreshed and still weary. What will make a person grow old and haggard so fast as some mental trouble or physical pain that precludes sleep? One of the most cruel punishments of medieval times—one that was the very essence of refinement in cruelty—was to prevent a prisoner from sleeping, to keep him awake long hours at a time, allow a short period of repose then awaken him and compel him to remain awake. The strongest mind and body were alike broken under such treatment.

Those who can sleep soundly and healthfully are almost invariably those who longest retain their vigor and health of body and mind, apparently defying the frosts of time. They have fewer wrinkles and brighter eyes, better complexions and greater youthfulness than those who limit themselves to few hours, or who sleep imperfectly. A person who does not feel the inclination to sleep at the proper time, instead of being well is really not well, for a healthy person has the natural inclination to sleep and eat and drink developed in a strong degree. Eight hours is the average amount, but this varies according to the age, health, temperament and business of the individual. Nine hours is really better than eight. The time should be sufficient for complete rest, whether more or less is required. To rise, still weary with the previous day's toil, and summon a fictitious strength and energy by strong tea or coffee, which will interfere with the next night's restfulness, is to institute a process that wears out the vitality and makes the individual prematurely old.

In this connection one is naturally led to speak of the evils of early rising. One of my most emphatic objections to farm life is the abominably early hour at which it is considered necessary to begin the toil of the day. I know all about it, for many and many a time I've watched the cold, gray dawn of a winter's morn melt into daylight as I washed the breakfast dishes before the kitchen window in the "Little Brown House"—but I never did it without a mental, and very likely a verbal, protest. It is unseemly to thus surprise nature en deshabille, as it were, before her morning bath of dew is over and her complexion adjusted for the day; and not all the poets who have written (by lamplight) of the beauties of early morning and the glories of sunrise, nor all the stalwart farmers with whom I have argued the question, have convinced me that it is duty, or even an advantage in the performance of labor, to burn the candle at both ends of the day. The man who rises at a reasonable hour refreshed and revived, can do more work and better work than he who is dragged out of bed still tired and puts in more hours of half-hearted semi-exhausted labor; and it is even more true indoors than out. And I am glad to see that the medical profession is discarding the maxims of Solomon and Benjamin Franklin, and inculcating more sensible views on this subject.

Growing children in particular suffer severely from a curtailment of their proper hours of rest. They require more hours of sleep than grown people, yet often, with a view to inculcating this reprehensible habit of early rising, they are roused out of sound slumber and set to work. An instance came under my observation in this city which illustrates what pernicious results may follow curtailing the hours of sleep of growing children. The son of a once extensive florist, a growing lad, in his early teens, was an exceptionally dull boy in school. Always at the foot of the class, he failed time after time to pass his examinations for the next grade till both he and his teachers were thoroughly discouraged. He invariably went to sleep in school hours, and finally one teacher, who was of an investigating turn of mind, set about discovering whether he was a semi-idiot by nature or by circumstances and environment. She found that he was compelled to get up at 4 o'clock every morning, and was kept up at night until 10 o'clock or after; he was growing fast and did not get the sleep he needed. The father, after a frank talk on the teacher's part, which he took very patiently, hired a man to attend to his furnace and let the boy sleep all he pleased. Within a month he was a new boy, both mentally and physically. Instead of being sluggish and dull, he seemed to have awakened to new life. But he had lost valuable time, and he had not formed the habit of mental concentration, so that he always remained a backward student.

A New Use for Coal Ashes.

The tendency right along has been to think and speak lightly of the value of coal ashes. I have always carefully saved and utilized them, but perhaps this usefulness is greater than I ever anticipated. In the first place we should not forget that in the coal ashes coming from the kitchen stove and home furnaces, we usually have quite a fair sprinkling of wood ashes, which latter contain the important mineral plant foods, especially potash. It is probably for this reason as much as for the mechanical and stimulating effect on the soil, which gave me such remarkable effects, from generous applications to my currant and gooseberry bushes. Of course the coarser parts, cinders, half-burnt coal, clinkers, etc., may be removed from the ashes by screening. These coarse materials are good enough for filling in low or muddy places, around wells, outhouses, barns, etc. It is the sifted ashes of which we can make most excellent use in gardens and greenhouses.

The Connecticut Experiment Station has found that cuttings from plants easy of propagation may be rooted in coal ashes, though not as readily as in the best cutting bench sand. Tomatoes, for instance, root very promptly in a bed of coal ashes. In the forcing of bulbous plants, especially hyacinths, where the bulbs are potted and then buried deeply to exclude the light, so that roots may be formed before the tops start into growth, coal ashes have been found the best material for covering them. Their texture is such that good drainage is obtained, and more air admitted than would probably enter most soils. Moreover, the ashes, being directly from the furnace, contain no form of life, either animal or vegetable, and insects do not thrive in it. A table or bench covered with about two inches of coal ashes firmly compacted makes a good place for potted plants, or such plants may be plunged into a bench of coal ashes with excellent results.—Practical Farmer.

FIREPLACE LIBRARY.

Pretty Combination of Book Shelves and an Open Fire.

Low book shelves with broad polished tops, and with shelf spaces broken by drawers and closets here and there, make up an ideal housing for books. A library also needs an open fire. The two are combined in the design that is furnished herewith. The brickwork is built out into the room so that its face comes flush with the front of the bookcases on either side. The fireplace has a half-circle opening, which is one of the most artistic shapes for this purpose that can well be imagined. The brickwork may have any one of the charming colors now found in pressed bricks—buff, gray, pale red and others, some of the brick shading darker than others to break the glare of a plain surface entirely one tone. Any mason should be able to set up so simple a fireplace, while the work on either side will be found quite within the range of the home workshop, as simplicity is the keynote in it all.—Orange Judd Farmer.

How to Care For Plants.

To keep plants free from insects one of the best remedies is tobacco. Take a small package of strong tobacco and pour over it boiling water. When cool the plants should be set into the mixture and washed, leaves and all, besides being thoroughly soaked with it. Another remedy is a strong soapsuds made of carbolic soap and water. Plants must be kept clean if they are to be healthy. The leaves should be washed occasionally in order that the dust may be removed.—Farm and Home.

Alum for Perspiration.

A few grains of alum in tepid water will relieve those whose hands perspire freely. A few drops of sulphuric acid in the water are also beneficial for this purpose, as well as desirable for washing the feet when they perspire freely.

Although a very busy man, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has found time in which to write a great book of over a thousand pages entitled, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in Plain English, or Medicine Simplified. Few books printed in the English language have reached so great a sale as has this popular work, over 680,000 copies having been sold at $1.50 each. The profits on this enormous sale having repaid its author for the great amount of labour and money expended on its production he has now decided to give away absolutely free, 500,000 copies of this valuable work, the receipient only being required to mail to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N. Y., as which company he is president, 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only, and the book will be sent post-paid. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. It contains 1008 large pages, and over 300 illustrations, some of them in colours. The Free Edition is precisely the same as that sold at $1 50 except only that the books are bound in strong manilla paper covers, instead of cloth. It is not often that our readers have an opportunity to obtain a valuable book on such generous terms, and we predict that few will miss availing themselves of the unusual and liberal offer to which we have called their attention.

3rd. Expenses of collecting and keeping track of Accounts.

4th. Losses sustained through not being able to take cash Discounts when buying stock.

These losses, in the aggregate, are quite a heavy item, and are all a direct charge on any business run on a Cash and Credit basis, and must, of necessity, come out of the profits. In marking goods one has to figure on the cost of giving credit just the same as for rent, taxes, help, etc. For example:

Take a business where there is an average credit given of $5000.00; that is, at times books show $6000.00, and at other times accounts would be reduced to $3000.00, leaving the average on books for a year about $4000.00.
Losses from Bad Debts would be not less than.....	$150 00
Cost of Stationery, Postage, Extra Help, Books, etc	200 00
Interest on average of Accounts, ($5000.00) at Bank rate 8 per cent.....	400 00
Losses through not having $3000.00 in cash to take Discounts in buying stock 5 per cent	250 00
Total.....	$1100 00

Or to do an $3000.00 credit business there is an extra cost over cash of $1100.00, or an expense of 14 per cent.

In comparing our own experience with other merchants we find that as near as we can approximate the above figures are correct.

After looking at these facts we have determined to live up to the experience gained, and dispense with credit altogether, believing that a Spot Cash business will be mutually beneficial. It is an undoubted fact that the man who sells the cheapest is the man who sells for Cash—selling for Cash we can and will sell at lower prices than ever before.

Buying where credit is given you not only have to pay for your own goods but have the extra cost of paying for credit business losses.

In marking our Spring Stock of Hats we have kept in view the ONE PRICE, SPOT CASH rule which we now adopt. All old customers, both Cash and Credit, and all those who will favour us with their patronage, will find that our goods are being sold at fully from 10 to 15 per. cent. lower prices than formerly, and the high quality of stock strictly maintained. In stopping this leakage customers will be money in pocket and we will be better off.

FAIRWEATHER & CO.
Hatters and Furriers,

PETERBOROUGH TORONTO

THE "ILLICIT STILL" CASES INVESTIGATED.

Mr. McLellan stated that he had been told that there was no lime in the condensed water and that it would be beneficial to him. He had spoken to Mr. Faint who said that he had an evaporator which he would lend him for the purpose of condensing the water. He did not know at the time that the apparatus could be used for any other purpose. He had only used the tins once and had condensed about a pint of water. Water was in the can when the Inspector seized it. He never used liquor, nor did any one in his family.

Rev. W. R. Young stated that the defendant was a member of his church, and of unimpeachable character. He was a thorough staunch temperance man.

Mayor Yelland bore testimony to character of defendant. He had known him for 25 or 30 years. He knew no one bearing a better reputation in the community.

Mr. Geo. Cochrane, High County Constable and License Inspector, had known Mr. McLellan since he was a child. His general reputation could not be any better. He had always known him as a temperance man.

S. R. Armstrong, town clerk, had known Mr. McClelland for fourteen years intimately. His reputation was excellent. Both he and his wife were strictly temperance people.

QUEEN VS COOK.

The case against Mr. Wm. Cook was then taken up, being that he without having a license under the Inland Revenue Act then in force, allowed to be kept in or about premises controlled by him, a still suitable for the manufacture of wash beer or spirits, contrary to the provisions of the said act. Mr. Stratton also appeared for Mr. Cook.

Mr. Floody, of the Department, stated that he had seized a still (which was produced) at Mr. Cook's house in Ashburnham. A search had been made of the premises and the still had been found upstairs in a paper bag. It was in an ordinary clothes boiler. The defendant when asked if there was an illicit still on the premises denied all knowledge of it. The premises were searched and the still discovered. Mr. Cook stated that he had seen it before, but he did not know that the apparatus was a still. It was owned by his son and he thought that it was used for putting silver on the back of glass for mirrors. The parties interested gave witness all the information he asked.

For the defence Mr. Stratton admitted that Mr. Cook had no license.

Manley Smith stated that he had seen the still before. In company with George Cook he had brought the still from Tripp's house to that of the defendant. He and George had bought it from Mr. Tripp. It was made when he bought it. George Cook had a receipt for silvering glass which he wanted to sell and they went to see if Tripp would buy it. The receipt called for distilled water and the still was given in part payment for the receipt. The apparatus was brought to Mr. Cook's house and the witness had not seen it since. It had been used before he got it. It had been purchased about a year ago last February. He did not know that Tripp had the still before he went there. Witness had no interest in the receipt. It was not a joint transaction. He had simply accompanied George Cook.

For the defence Mr. Stratton produced a receipt for making looking glasses, which the witness identified as the one in question. The receipt called for distilled water. Mr. William Cook knew nothing of the deal. Witness did not know spirits could be made from the apparatus until to-day. The defendant did not know the apparatus was there.

George Cook on being called, stated that he and Smith had gone to Tripp to try and sell the receipt. When Tripp saw that distilled water was needed he offered to give the apparatus shown and a dollar for the receipt and the bargain was made. The still was taken home, but had never even had water in it since. Witness did not know spirits could be manufactured in it.

Counsel for defendant submitted that the case had not been proven. He held that defendant to be connected should have known the nature of the apparatus. There was no evidence that he saw the apparatus upon his property. Proof had not been brought that Mr. Cook either owned or controlled a house in Ashburnham. It had not been shown that the defendant knew the apparatus was a still, and knowing that had allowed it to be kept on the premises.

The magistrate held that the prosecution had failed. It had not been shown that the defendant ever knew that the apparatus was there since a year ago last February. The prosecution had not shown that the defendant knew of the still being in the house after it was brought there. Besides this the magistrate was glad to say there was no evidence of culpability. The case was therefore dismissed.

In the afternoon Mr. W. B. Tripp was charged that within the period of a year last past past, without having a license under the Inland Revenue Act, he sold a still made of copper, suitable for the manufacture of wash beer or spirits, contrary to provisions of said Act. Mr. Edwards appeared for the Crown and W. A. Stratton for defendant.

E. Flood, preventive officer, testified that he found the still (copper) upstairs in the house of Wm. Cook, Ashburnham, concealed in a paper flour bag, in a copper boiler. It was a sort of lumber room. Geo. Cook told witness that he got the article from Tripp. Witness went to Tripp's house and asked him if he had any apparatus on hand for distilling or water condensing. He told witness he had none on hand. He had made one for Mr. Wm. Faint. He described it. Witness found it at Jas. McLellan's. This was on March 8th. He said he had made no other stills, and did not know of any others. He denied having made one for Mr. Cook. The stills produced are suitable for the manufacture of spirits.

Mr. Hamilton, inspector for the Kingston District, testified that all applications for permits under the Act were forwarded to him by the local collector to be approved by witness before being issued. No application for license or permit was made at any time on behalf of Wm. Tripp, or approved by witness. The copper vessel in court is a still, and could be used for the manufacture of spirits. It would hold about a quart.

Mr. J. J. Hall, collector of Inland Revenue—No application for license or permit was made to witness on behalf of Wm. Tripp at any time, and no license was issued. Tripp never spoke to witness of his intention to make stills.

To Mr. Stratton—Witness had always issued such licenses.

George Cook, sworn, stated that he had procured the still from Mr. Tripp at his house in Ashburnham. He could not say when it was purchased. He had gone to Mr. Tripp and offered to sell him the receipt for making looking glasses. Seeing that distilled water was used in the receipt Tripp had brought out the apparatus and explained how to manipulate the still to procure the water. There had been no conversation as to anything else which could be distilled. He had got the still in the afternoon. Tripp was in his work shop at the time. He had not told Mr. Floody that the purchase had been made in the fall. He thought it was in the spring. There was snow on the ground. On purchasing the apparatus it had been taken home. It was not wrapped up. He thought it was his mother who wrapped it up afterwards and put it away in the boiler.

Manley Smith, sworn, stated that with Cook he had gone to Tripp's one afternoon in February, he thought. There was snow on the ground. The railroad track was the best walking there was. Smith being supposed he had not had any conversation with anyone on behalf of the defendant.

Mr. Edwards called the defendant, Mr. Tripp, but the latter declined to enter the box not being a compellable witness.

Mr. Edwards then asked for an enlargement until to-morrow, but the magistrate ruled against him, stating that an effort was simply being made to trip up citizens who had not knowingly violated the law and as there was a severe penalty attached he would not grant an enlargement. The case as against Mr. Tripp was then dismissed.

Dr. S. J. Andres, Beaver Hall, Montreal, writes:—"On several occasions I have known 'Pheno-Banum' or 'Quickcure' to remove Pain in the Back within fifteen minutes. It is especially valuable where Belladonna or Aconite plasters would not be prescribed."

Mr. Thos. Errett, Port Burwell, Ont., says: "I had been weak and miserable two years. I took Miller's Compound Iron Pills and never felt better that I do now." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

Wild With Eczema

Hands and Limbs Covered with Blisters, and Great Red Blotches.

Scratched Until Almost Wild. Burned Like Fire. Sleep Impossible.

Cuticura Brings Speedy Relief, and a Permanent Cure at a Cost of $2.

I was a sufferer for eight years from that most distressing of all diseases, Eczema, but can now say truthfully that I am entirely cured. I tried some of the best physicians in the country, but they did me little good. The palms of my hands were covered, and would become inflamed; little white blisters at first would appear, then they would peel off, leaving a red, smooth surface which would burn like fire and itch; well, there is no name for it. On the inside of the upper part of both my limbs, great red blotches, not unlike hives, would appear, and as soon as I became warm, the burning and itching would begin. Night after night I would lie awake all night and scratch and almost go wild. I heard of Cuticura remedies, got a box of Cuticura (ointment), a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent (blood purifier), and gave them a thorough trial, and after a few applications I noticed the redness and inflammation disappear; before I had used one box there was not a sign of Eczema left. I can truthfully assert that $2.00 worth of Cuticura Remedies cured me. Any one I meet who has Eczema, I do not hesitate a moment in recommending your remedies.

DOING a thing counts more than a lot of talking or preaching. As Horace Greely once said when discussing a financial question: "The way to resume is to resume."

In a similar sense, "Fair's way" is a most successful way of creating an important spring attracti n—as was evidenced by the magnificent Opening Exhibition of fashionable Spring Goods which was attended with so much eclat at the Golden Lion on Tuesday.

It was a signal event—overshadowing all other local attractions of an allied character. So much that was of absorbing interest to the ladies centred round the occasion that we have been induced to prolong the exhibition for the remainder of this week. An

Will only be doing justice to the crowds who desire to become posted on all that is Newest and most Fashionable in woman's realm.

READY FOR OPENING

Legislators Gathered at Ottawa for the Session.

BRIEF OUTLINE OF THE SPEECH

With Which the Governor-General Will Open the House—A New Tariff Bill, Change in the Franchise Law and Other Measures Which Will Come Up.

Ottawa, March 24.—(Special.)—Although this is the eve of the opening of what promises to be one of the most important sessions of the Canadian Parliament, there has been very little stir in town except in the vicinity of the principal hotels. In the halls of legislation to-day a stray Senator or member might be met with, a few having arrived from the far east and far west.

The worst snow storm of the winter raged all day and few people were out of doors. Trains were somewhat delayed in consequence, but if the storm abates by to-morrow there should be a good influx of members for the opening ceremonies.

The draft of the speech from the throne has been approved. The speech will refer appropriately to the fact that this is Her Majesty's Jubilee year, and Parliament will be asked to pass an address of congratulation to Her Majesty.

Bills for revision of the tariff, for the changing of the franchise to the provincial lists, providing for the taking of a plebiscite on prohibition, a civil service, as well as a superannuation bill, and a bill regarding the Northwest Territories, will be foreshadowed, as well as other legislation. There will also be a bill for elevating the controllers into Cabinet Ministers, and other measures providing for departmental changes.

Hon. Mr. King of New Brunswick will move the address in the Senate, and Hon. G. A. Cox of Toronto will second it.

Mr. W. Peterson, the Newcastle steamship man, is in town and saw several Ministers to-day in reference to the Fast Atlantic Steamship contract. It is said a draft of the provisional contract was under consideration in Council to-day. Mr. Peterson spent considerable time in the Privy Council Department, Mr. McCarthy, Q. C., his legal representative, being with him.

Hon. Peter White and Hon. J. D. Edgar, ex-Speaker and Speaker of the House of Commons, were to-day sworn in of the Privy Council. This is following out the practice adopted by the Conservative Government in Sir John Macdonald's time.

Mr. J. B. Paplante, advocate, of Valleyfield, has been appointed assistant clerk of the Commons to fill the vacancy caused by the superannuation of Mr. Roulean. The salary is $3000 per year, and the new appointee enters upon his functions at the opening of the session.

Major Harrison, of the Department of the Secretary of State, has been notified of his superannuation. Mr. Harrison was appointed in 1882, and is getting $1400. He is 46 years of age.

J. C. MacDonald, of the Auditor-General's office is to be placed on the retired list. Mr. MacDonald has been sitting for some years past. He received a salary of $1000. He was appointed in 1879, and is 45 years of age.

Some of the Galician settlers who were sent from Winnipeg to the Edmonton district are reported to be starving.

IT WAS A FIELD DAY IN THE HOUSE

Fighting All Along the Line—The Matter of Buying Supplies by Tender Thrashed Out Again—Mr. Haycock Gets Into the Crow's Nest Pass—Two Divisions.

Toronto, March 24.—After the introduction of new bills to-day, the following measures passed the third reading:

To authorize the issuing of debentures by St. George's Cathedral Church, Kingston—Mr. Harty.

To amend and consolidate the acts relating to the Kingston Hospital—Mr. Harty.

To confirm Bylaw No. 156 of the Township of Springer—Mr. Loughrin.

A fight was reached at an early stage of the game, Mr. Matheson supplying the material in a resolution condemning the buying of supplies otherwise than by tender, in the following terms:

"That this House is of the opinion that the tender system of purchasing supplies for the public institutions of the Province, and for the stationery required for the public use, should be adopted in lieu of the system at present carried on."

He followed this up with a rather tame speech on the usual lines, urging that purchasing by private contract enabled the Government to reward their supporters and carry close constituencies such as Hamilton. It further gave rise to the imputation that officials secured commissions on purchases made by them.

Mr. Garrow said that everyone was agreed that it was best to follow the system of buying by tender as far as practicable. The only question was whether the Government were not buying by tender in all cases where it was possible to do so. He thought they had carried out the tender system to the fullest extent that it was feasible to do so, including all the large staple articles of supply.

Mr. St. John denied that the tender system was carried out as far as it should be. The experience of the Dominion penitentiaries, for which everything was bought by tender, proved that it was possible to make the system apply throughout.

Hon. Mr. Davis defended the existing practice. There were many articles of which only a very small quantity was required, and these could not be bought by tender. Only those goods which could not be bought to the best advantage by public tender were bought in open market. It was a sound business principle to purchase all that could most profitably be bought by tender in that way, and the Government was prepared to extend the list as soon as it could be shown that to do so would be to the public advantage. He gave an analysis in detail of the expenditure of supplies for public institutions for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1896, showing that supplies amounting to $192,000 were purchased by tender. Some $56,000 was paid for meat, the cattle being bought by an official in open market. In addition, $145,613 was spent in a class of articles in relation to which the tender system was entirely impracticable, including such items as lighting, watter supply, etc. There was, in addition, what might be called a debateable list, articles at present bought in open market, the purchases of which amounted to $66,152. This included such items as tea, sugar, cheese and eggs, and as regards these it was extremely doubtful whether the tender system would effect any saving. He held that the Government was justified by experience in their course, which would be approved by any reasonable business man. The Sandfield Macdonald Government had abandoned the tender system in regar dto many articles which at one time they bought in that way. He denied the statement that all the goods for the Kingston and other penitentiaries were bought by tender. Many of them were bought in open market, as was testified by the warden before the Public Accounts Committee. According to his evidence, the Ontario Government bought cheaper than did the Dominion. The tender system had often been the cover for great frauds upon Governments. He made an elaborate comparison between the cost of supplying Ontario institutions and those of a similar class elsewhere, in proof of the fact that whichever system of buying supplies was followed, the Province always got the value of the money expended.

Mr. Marter charged the Government with spending the money of the people to advance their own political friends. It was the rule that all supplies should be bought from their friends, and, of course, they had to pay more than the value of the articles. He quoted largely from the evidence taken before the Public Accounts Committee in support of his contentions. He did not see why sugar, butter, wool, etc., could not be bought by tender, just as well as the class of articles now purchased in that way.

Mr. Middleton resented Col. Matheson's insinuation that his election was in any way due to the expenditure of Government money in purchasing supplies. There were many Conservatives in Hamilton who furnished supplies to the Asylum.

The debate was continued by Messrs. Kerns, Cleland, Reid of Addington, Little, Crawford, the latter of whom strongly urged that the tender system should be extended to the purchase of meat.

Mr. Whitney took exception to Hon. Mr. Davis' figures, showing the relative cheapness of managing Ontario institutions as compared with others. The Provincial Secretary replied briefly, stating that his figures had been carefully compiled from official sources.

The Opposition seemed to wish to prolong the debate, but there were loud cries of "Question! Question!" from the Government benches and a division was taken just before recess. The motion was lost by a vote of 30 yeas to 53 nays, being a Government majority of 23. Mr. Haycock and the larger number of his following supported the motion.

After recess a batch of private bills were run through committee with considerable celerity. These included bills to incorporate the Petewawa Lumber, Pulp and Paper Company—Mr. Barr; respecting the debt of the village of Milverton—Mr. Magwood; respecting local improvements in the city of Ottawa and for other purposes—Mr. O'Keefe; respecting bylaws Nos. 1458, 1636 and 1707 of the city of Ottawa—Mr. Bronson; to confirm an agreement between the Hamilton, Grimsby and Beamsville Electric Railway Company and the city of Hamilton—Mr. Middleton; to confer certain powers on the village of Port Dalhousie—Mr. Hiscott; respecting the Penetanguishene Protestant Separate Schools—Mr. Macampbell.

DIVISION COURT EXTENSION.

Mr. McNicol, Patron, moved a very longwinded resolution in favor of the extension of the jurisdiction of the Division Court as follows: To all personal actions where the amount claimed does not exceed $200; to all personal actions where all parties consent thereto, and the amount claimed does not exceed $300; to all claims where the balance claimed does not exceed $250; to all claims, the amount or balance of which does not exceed $500, and the original amount of the claim is ascertained by the signature of the defendant. He urged that this extension would be generally popular and save much of the cost of litigation.

The Attorney-General, while disposed to sympathise with the principle involved, saw some practical difficulties in the way as the increased Division Court business would take the judge away for a large part of his time from the county town. It would imply an entire re-organization of the judicial system. He did not think there was any strong public demand for the change, though no doubt there was a feeling among the Division Court officials in its favor.

Mr. Whitney agreed in the main with the Attorney-General. He thought that if the changes were made the Division Court would soon lose its character at the "Poor man's Court" and litigation there would become tedious and expensive.

Mr. Haycock, replying to the Attorney-General said that even if the change did involve a reorganization of the judicial system, many people would not consider such a reorganization as a calamity. He asserted that public opinion was strongly in favor of the change.

Messrs. Garrow, Howland and Paton opposed the motion, after which Mr. McNicol withdrew the resolution.

On motion of Mr. German, a return was ordered of a number of documents in connection with the Niagara Falls Park.

Mr. Willoughby moved for returns showing expenditure in connection with the Ontario Agricultural College, which passed without debate.

THE CROW'S NEST PASS.

Mr. Haycock moved: That this House views with alarm the rapid increase of the Dominion public debt during the past, owing largely to the subsidising of railways, is of opinion that the further subsidising of the Canadian Pacific Railway by the Dominion Government for the construction of the Crow's Nest Pass Railway—which can only be a local road—will be contrary to the interest of this province. And, that any further addition to the powers of the Canadian Pacific Railway corporation will be contrary to the general interests of the people of the Dominion of Canada and must tend to the subversion of the authority and power of the Parliament and people of Canada.

Speaking to the motion he pointed out that the House had frequently expressed opinions with regard to Dominion matters. He enlarged on the enormous expense which the Northwest had been to the people of Canada, saying that Ontario paid 57 cents out of every dollar expended by the Dominion. It cost the province over a million and a half every year for the Northwest. It was an injustice to tax Ontario any further for such a purpose. The railway was only projected for speculative purposes.

Mr. Pattullo knew of no precedent for such a motion, no case in which the House had protested against any expenditure by the Dominion. He charged Mr. Haycock with inconsistency on the ground that in the former resolution he had expressed his willingness that the road should be built as a Government work.

Mr. Whitney agreed with Mr. Pattullo that it was not a matter that this House had any right to deal with. Mr. Haycock could not consistently take the ground that railway bonuses were wrong, as two years ago he had supported a vote of $50,000 to build a railway bridge in Ottawa.

Mr. Haycock retorted that Mr. Whitney had himself moved a resolution upholding the action of the Ottawa Government on the butter question.

Mr. Conmee delivered a speech eulogizing railways in general and the C.P.R. in particular.

The Attorney-General admitted that there might be occasions when the House should express an opinion on Dominion matters, but did not think the present was one of such occasions or that the House had adequate data before it upon which to base an opinion. He sympathized with much of what Mr. Haycock had said, but was not prepared to assume the responsibility of pronouncing upon the question.

The motion was declared lost on division.

Mr. Haycock denied that he voted as the Opposition leader had said in the matter of the Ottawa bridge, and Mr. Whitney accordingly withdrew the statement.

GAMEY'S ELECTION BILL.

Mr. Gamey's bill to amend the Election Act was taken up. After Mr. Stratton had spoken briefly against the bill, it was put to vote and declared lost. The yeas and nays were called for, the vote standing yeas 37, nays 50. The bill was therefore defeated by a majority of 13. The Opposition voted solid with the Patrons.

CROWN LANDS REPORT.

The report of the Commissioner of Crown Lands was brought down, according to which the area of Crown lands sold during the year was 49,471 acres, aggregating in value $45,077.27. The collections amounted to $44,308.26. There was also leased as mining lands, under the leasing clauses of the Mines Act, 13,223½ acres, on which, and on lands previously leased, rent amounting to $46,940.09 was collected. The total collections therefore on account of Crown lands were $91,248.35.

The chief interest in being taken in gold mining, and the gold-bearing area of the Province is now shown to be very large. In 1893 the bullion production of the Province was 1695 ounces, valued at $32,960; in 1894 it was 3022 ounces, valued at $32,-7776; in 1895 it was 3030 ounces, valued at $50,281, and in the year just closed it was 7154 ounces, valued at $121,845.

The total disbursements of the department on account of ordinary services and expenditure were $253,511.92.

The total revenue from woods and forests amounted to $815,421.75.

The gross expenditure on account of fire ranging by licenses and the department was $47,719.90. Of this amount $16,323 was composed of balances from the year 1895. The expenditure on account of 1896 was $31,396.90. The net expenditure of the department on account of balances of 1895, proportion on Crown lands and its share of the 1896 ranging amounted to $23,674.70. The number of license holders having rangers employed was 60, and they had 160 rangers on duty.

There have been very few serious fires where the fire ranging system has been in organized operation.

During the year 725 locations were made on free grants, covering 95,476 acres; 190 miles of colonization roads built, 556 miles repaired and 28 bridges erected. The net expenditure on colonization roads was $102,719.

VANDALISM IN GREENWOOD.

A Portion of One of the Pillows of the Grant Sarcophagus Chipped Away.

New York, March 24.—The Herald says: Some vandal, actuated doubtless by a mania for curio collections, desecrated what will be the last resting place of General Grant on Monday night or early yesterday morning by chipping away a considerable quantity of stone from the upper surface of one of the granite pillow blocks, which support the head and foot of the great sarcopagus. From all appearances it was the work of an expert stone-cutter, and there is every indication that the person who handled the chisel was frightened away before having completed the task he had set himself to do. The pillow blocks are of a deep reddish brown granite, the same as the sarcophagus itself.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

There was a distinct shock of earthquake in Montreal and vicinity, extending to Ottawa. Would it be Wright to attribute the unsteadiness of the earth to the taking of too much Champagne? This should improve the chances of the plebiscite.

The Ontario Opposition are now declaring that "Hardy's hour has come," or words to that effect. If such an amusement pleases them, let them enjoy it by all means. They raised the same cry against Sir Oliver for about twenty years with no perceptible effect. The Ontario Opposition is heavy on "cries." They have always made an appeal to the electorate on cries instead of a policy. Let them cry on.

At Ottawa on Wednesday morning the Supreme Court delivered judgment in the election appeals, heard before it early in February. As a result of their decisions, the Conservative party in parliament loses three members and the Government has consequently six more of a majority than it had on Wednesday. The unseated members are Mr. Hugh John Macdonald, of Winnipeg, who is thus left free to engage in the manufacture of a Conservative opposition in Manitoba; Mr. Hugh Boyd, of Macdonald, Man., and Mr. Charles Hackett, of West Prince, P.E.I.

The Diamond Jubilee year confers special importance upon statistics compiled by Sir Julius Vogel. From these figures it is shown that during her Majesty's reign the British Empire has increased in population from 112,100,000 to 306,312,000, while the yearly value of its "foreign" commerce has grown from £49,050,000 to £483,945,000. Compared with that record the development of other nations appears insignificant. This does not seem to afford much confirmation to the claim made by the enemies of the Empire, including the high taxationist theorists, that Great Britain is tottering to its fall. No other Empire on earth can show greater material, moral, intellectual or industrial growth.

The Montreal Star, Conservative, says: "The verdict in Wright as in Bonaventure shows that the electors of Quebec, like the electors of Ontario, are still desirous that Mr. Laurier should have an opportunity of fully developing his policy. Canadian constituencies are not given to worrying the Government in power, unless they are greatly discontented with its proceedings." The verdicts mentioned show more than that. They show that the people have confidence in Mr. Laurier, because of his upright past as a statesman and because he has fulfilled his promises as fast as opportunity presented. He promised the settlement of the school question within six months after his accession to power. That question is settled. The arguments of objections must be held to be a blow issue; the old score is paid.

The Globe says: The radical reduction of duties on American products is, we think, out of the question for the present. Suppose that the tariff legislation of the American Congress does not preclude the chance of reciprocity, we shall undoubtedly strengthen our position in any negotiations which may take place by having something to offer in the way of reduction of duties in return for similar concessions by the United States. If we now reduce those duties to a very low point we must go to them almost empty handed. If we retain the present schedule, making only such modifications as are immediately required in our own interest, we shall be able to say to the Americans: "In reforming our tariff we have made reductions mainly on British imports, for it is to Great Britain that we must now look for any increase in our external trade. If you want free access to our markets you know how to obtain it. We trade with those who trade with us."

The handwriting on the wall does not seem to affect those who are determined not to look. Those who persist in exploiting religious rancour and sectarian issues against Hon. Mr. Laurier, have had sufficient warning that they were running counter to the public opinion of Quebec as held by the great body of the electorate. The Brantford Expositor points out that: "defeat after defeat before the general elections, a crushing defeat at the general elections, Cornwall a few months a go, and Bonaventure a few days ago, all point irresistibly to the same conclusion—that the French electors have made up their minds to stand by their illustrious compatriot." And now we have the decided declaration of Wright, which increased the Laurier majority from 386 to 838, as another popular tribute to the popular confidence in the great Liberal leader—with Champlain to add its quota to the general verdict. The Conservative leaders who travel in a little narrow circle of petty intrigues, must soon, one would think, see the folly of such tactics. Evidence of superior statesmanship is all that will commend any political leader to a claim upon the confidence of the public.

MOTHERS REJOICE

AS THEY SEE THEIR LITTLE ONES MADE STRONG AND WELL BY KOOTENAY WHICH CONTAINS THE NEW INGREDIENT.

A sick child always appeals to our love and sympathy. It commands the tenderest care and watchfulness of its mother, who would gladly sacrifice anything to have her darling well.

To mothers who have children suffering from any disease brought about by thin, watery or impure blood, Kidney Trouble following Scarlet Fever, Rheumatism, Eczema or any other skin rash, or any condition in which the child is puny, weak and delicate, and does not thrive well, one would strongly recommend the use of Ryckman's Kootenay Cure, not because we say it's good for these conditions, but because Mothers gladly state under oath how it saved their darlings when everything else failed.

One of these mothers was Mrs. Geo. White, who lives at 139 Stinson St., Hamilton, Ont. She says that her daughter Louisa is nine years of age, has always been delicate, and has had Eczema since birth. Since giving her Kootenay Cure the Eczema has gone, and her general health is greatly improved.

Another, Mrs. Isabella Sullivan, of 65 Walnut Street South of the same city, has a little boy aged five, who was attacked with Rheumatism and pains in his back and Kidneys so bad that he could not stand or get out of bed without assistance. Despite the skilled medical attendance he grew very weak, and at times would faint. Kootenay has gladdened the heart of Mrs. Sullivan by restoring her boy, so that now she says he can play hard all day, and is as healthy a child as one could wish for.

Instances like these are well worth the serious consideration of those having sick or suffering children.

The detailed sworn statements of the above cases, together with hundreds of others, sent free, by addressing the Ryckman Medicine Co., Hamilton, Ont.

JAKE LOWERY ARRESTED.

A Book Agent at Buffalo in Trouble Through the Alien Labor Law.

Buffalo, March 24.—Jake Lowery, a book publisher's agent in the Guaranty Building, was arrested this morning, charged with importing alien labor, in that he did, on Feb. 15 last, make a contract with one Charles Joyce, who was then in Hamilton, Canada, to work for him. Joyce claims that Lowery swindled him, and he brought the case to Inspector DeBarry's notice. A complaint was sworn out before Commissioner Fairchild. The commissioner adjourned the case till this afternoon, leaving Lowery in the custody of the marshal in order to get counsel.

Last week our township assessor, Mr. Lean, assisted by Mr. Charles Hales and Mr. Charles Bronson, made a tour of the islands in Stony Lake belonging to Burleigh to see about their proper assessment. Some of the islands had not been on the assessment roll and some had been assessed too high, so we hope that next fall no cause for dissatisfaction will be left in the matter.

Mrs. Reid, mother of Messrs. James and Lafayette Reid, of this place, and Mr. Washington Reid, of Warsaw, died at the residence of her son James last week, and was buried in the Warsaw cemetery. IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT!

The Mason & Risch Piano Co. L'td.

Beg to announce that they have assumed the Agency for Central and Western Ontario of the Pianos manufactured by Chickering & Sons, Boston.

It would be superfluous to make extended reference to the reputation of this famous house, or to the pianofortes manufactured by them. It is sufficient to say that for three quarters of a century they have occupied the position of absolute leaders in Musical Art manufacture, and their reputation was at no time greater than it is at present.

INTENDING PURCHASERS OF PIANOS

Now have the choice in our warerooms of goods manufactured by the acknowledged leaders of the American and Canadian trade. The association of such Instruments as Chickering & Sons and Mason & Risch Pianos beneath one roof forms a unique combination.

AS TO PRICES!

Pianos of high artistic merit must of necessity cost more than poorer instruments, but there is no question of the direction in which true economy lies. As an evidence of this it may be mentioned that the first Piano manufactured by Chickering & Sons 73 ago is still in an excellent state of preservation, and Pianos made by Mason & Risch over 20 years ago scarcely show any sign of wear. ARBITRATION TREATY

U. S. Senators Have Made It Ridiculous

SO ENGLISH PAPERS ARE SAYING.

St. James' Gazette Says It Has Been Smothered With Amendments—Germany Keeping a Close Watch on the Transvaal—Proceedings in the Imperial Parliament.

London, March 24.—The St. James' Gazette, in a leading editorial article upon the action of the United States Senate in adopting the amendments to the arbitration treaty reported by the Foreign Relations Committee, says: "The unanimous vote of the Senate has wrecked the arbitration treaty, and this should be a warning to the premature philanthropists on this side. The Senators carried their point with a refinement of the pettifoggers' cunning which enables them to profess friendship for the principle of arbitration while they smother the treaty with amendments which make it ridiculous."

The Westminster Gazette remarks: "It is a very disappointing and disconcerting result of all the endeavors of Lord Salisbury and Secretary Olney. The unpleasant aspect of the matter is the anti-English feeling underlying the action of the Senate."

The Pall Mall Gazette expresses the opinion that "A promising plan has been wrecked merely to please sensational jingoism and self-importance," adding: "Americans generally, we firmly believe, will be thoroughly ashamed of their Senate, more so than they ordinarily are, which is saying a lot."

A high Government official expressed to a representative of the United Associated Presses to-day the opinion that the United States Senate had taken all of the meaning out of the arbitration treaty, and asserted his belief that the British Government would be extremely unlikely to accept it. "We have done without an arbitration treaty hitherto," he added, "and it will not make much difference if we continue to do so for the present."

It is learned at the Foreign Office that diplomatic relations between Great Britain and Venezuela have not yet been resumed, and that the question of their resumption is not likely to be discussed until the Venezuelan arbitration tribunal has finished its work. Dr. Juan Pietrie, the present Venezuelan Minister to Germany and Spain, the Foreign Office officials say, has not been accredited to Great Britain, as asserted.

GERMANY IS ON THE WATCH.

The Sending of British Troops to South Africa Does Not Please the Kaiser.

Pretoria, March 24.—The Transvaal Government has suppressed the publication of The Johannesburg Star, the leading newspaper in the Rand, in consequence of that journal's criticisms of the administration.

Germany is Watching.

Berlin, March 24.—The National Zeitung, an inspired organ, publishes an article on the Transvaal situation, in which it says that, in view of the fact that Great Britain is sending reinforcements of troops to South Africa, Germany will watch developments with the closest interest.

A New Plenipotentiary.

Pretoria, March 24.—Dr. J. W. Leyds, Secretary of State of the South African Republic, has been appointed to succeed the late Jonkheer Beelaerts-van Blokland as Plenipotentiary of the South African Republic to the European Governments. The new Minister will have his headquarters at the Hague, and it is understood he will institute a pro-German policy.

BRITISH COMMONS.

Mr Pickersgill Wants a Criminal Court of Appeals Created.

London, March 24.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. Edward H. Pickersgill, Liberal member for the Southwest Division of Bethnal Green, moved the second reading of the bill to create a criminal court of appeals. In support of the bill Mr. Pickersgill commeated upon the present law, which was extremely unjust. In cases where innocent persons were condemned to imprisonment or other forms of punishment, a secret enquiry into their cases by the Home Office was their only remedy, as a new public trial was impossible. Under the present law also, he said, grossly divergent sentences were imposed by different judges for the same offence.

Sir M. W. Ridley, Home Secretary, speaking on behalf of the Government, admitted that the consensus of public opinion was in favor of some alteration of the law as it exists at present. He was not opposed to the second reading of the bill, but at the same time he thought that legislation in that direction ought to be initiated by the Government.

Mr. Pickersgill's motion for the second reading of the bill was carried by a vote of 129 to 85.

FRANCE AND MADAGASCAR.

The Queen Was Exiled Because of a Plot Against Gallioni.

Port Louis, Island of Mauritius, March 24.—According to advices received here from Madagascar, the exile of the Queen of Madagascar to the Island of Reunion was due to the discovery of a conspiracy against the life of Gen. Gallioni. An enquiry into the matter is in progress and many more arrests have been made. The missionaries are said to have been implicated in the split. The silver palace was searched and in it was found the sum of 700,000 francs. The French officials also seized in the palace a number of secret papers relative to the intervention of foreigners in the rebellion.

Mr. Bayard's Petition

London, March 24.—A petition presented by Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, United States Ambassador, on behalf of the President and citizens of the United States, will be heard at St. Paul's Cathedral to-morrow by the Chancellor of the Diocese of London, Thomas H. Tristram, Q. C. The petition asks for the custody of the manuscript deposited in the Library of Fulham Palace, containing the records of the early history of the Pilgrim Fathers and their voyage to America in the Mayflower.

Sir William is Getting Better.

London, March 24.—Sir William Harcourt, leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons, who has been suffering for several days from an attack of influenza, is still confined to his bed, though his condition is improved and he is making fair progress towards recovery.

An English Judge Resigns.

London, March 24.—The resignation is announced of the Hon. Sir Arthur Charles, one of the Justices of the Queen's Bench Division of the High Court of Justice.

Mr. Sherman Thanks Spain.

Madrid, March 24.—Secretary of State Sherman, it is semi-officially announced here, has thanked the Spanish Minister at Washington, Senor Depuy de Lome, for the conduct of Spain in releasing from imprisonment the American citizens recently set at liberty in Cuba.

INSURGENT SUCCESS IN CUBA.

Holguin, in Santiago de Cuba, Captured by Them—Gloom in Official Circles at Havana.

New York, March 24.—A special to The Herald from Havana March 21, via. Tampa, Fla., says: The insurgents have captured Holguin, in Santiago de Cuba. The town is a very important one, and the news of its loss has cast great gloom over official circles.

It is reported that the victorious insurgent forces were those under the command of Calixto Garcia, who has been operating with great vigor in Eastern Cuba.

A special to The Journal from Havana says: Despatches from Jucaro report that an insurgent force 1000 strong crossed the central or old trocha Wednesday night, moving westward. The garrison in a fort fired upon the invaders. The fort was attacked and blown up by dynamite. The twenty-seven men composing the garrison were killed or wounded.

General Arolas, commanding the central trocha, reached Havana late Monday night, and reported to General Weyler this morning. He has demanded 20,000 reinforcements for the line. If not furnished, he will resign.

General Garcia Aldave's Spanish column recently raided Cuban hospitals in the Siguanea mountains. Six hospitals were captured, the inmates butchered and the buildings burned down. At the Hospital Del Nicho, near Cuansyara, Captain Fujol, a son of a Spanish cavalry officer, who joined the rebels 18 months ago, was found. Like his Cuban companions, he was machetted. Two surgeons and four women attending the sick and wounded were shot. Not a single prisoner was brought back by Aldave's forces.

An important engagement took place near Jiguani, the Spanish force under General Rey being routed. It lost upwards of 100 men. The defeated Spanish column took refuge in the Government forts at Jiguani. General Rabi, commanding the insurgents, immediately besieged the place with 3000 men, supported by two rapid-firing field pieces and a dynamite gun. Spanish reinforcements are being hurried forward.

FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD

Mrs. Liscumbe Makes a Statement for the Benefit of Others.

Mrs. Liscumbe is well known in Havelock and this is how she spoke to our representative:—

"I have been troubled for some time with severe pains in the side and back. I took many medicines of various kinds, but got no relief.

"The box of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at W. H. Jeff & Co's. drugstore gave me wonderful relief from the start. The improvement in my general health is not the least of the benefits which I have derived from the use of this remarkable kidney remedy.

"I can recommend them very highly to anyone troubled with any form of kidney disease."

Bronchitis Cured.

Miss Maggie Griffin, 37 Metcalfe Street, Toronto, writes: "After having bronchitis and cold so badly that I could hardly speak, and could not find any remedy to relieve me, I decided to try Norway Pine Syrup. It made a complete cure, and I highly recommend it to all."

MONTREAL HAD TWO FIRES.

Ware & Son's Warehouse Completely Gutted and Reinhardt's Jewelry Factory Badly Damaged.

Montreal, March 24.—The Montreal firemen had two bad fires to fight to-night and they were kept busy up to a late hour. The first fire took place on the premises of W. T. Ware & Sons, produce merchants, on William-street. The fire started in the upper story of the building and spread to the other flats. The whole warehouse was badly gutted. It was a couple of hours before they got the fire under control. A portion of the Montreal Cold Storage Warehouse, situated in the same building, was also badly damaged. The total loss is estimated at about $10,000, fully covered by insurance.

About 10.30 the second alarm was struck for a fire which had started in the Reinhardt Manufacturing Company's premises on Craig-street. The premises which contained a valuable stock of jewelry and show cases, were badly damaged by fire and water. The loss is estimated at from $3000 to $10,000, partially covered by insurance.

Chase's Ointment Cures All Skin Irritations.

GRACIE AITON.

Of the many skin diseases, eczema is one of the worst and most common. The one effective remedy so far discovered for it is Dr. Chase's Ointment. It has never been known to fail. Mr. Andrew Aiton, of Hartland, N.B., says: "My little daughter, Grace Ella, aged three and a half, was a dreadful sufferer from eczema for three years. We tried a number of alleged cures and several doctors, but all without effect. Her's was indeed a bad case. Her little body was entirely covered with rash. One day our local druggist, Mr. Wm. E. Thistle, recommended me to try Dr. Chase's Ointment. I did so, and four boxes effected a complete cure and saved our child."

Dr Chase's Ointment is just as effective for piles, salt rheum and sores of all descriptions. For sale by all dealers and Edmanson, Bates & Co., manufacturers, Toronto; price 60 cents.

There is nothing to equal Chase's Linseed and Turpentine for severe colds and lung troubles. Large bottle 25 cents.

This is MARTIN of Australia and the RED BIRD that has made him famous as a Cyclist

CHAMPION BILL MARTIN, the king of Australian cyclists, is an enthusiastic Red Bird rider, and has done much towards establishing the Red Bird's splendid reputation in our sister colony. He has a long list of victories to his credit, besides the bulk of the Australian records. One of his most recent triumphs was the defeating of Parsons in a matched race for $1,000. The match was for one, five and ten miles. In the one mile event he defeated Parsons by a foot, romped away from him in the five mile, and the ten mile thus being off, he went out and lowered the existing Australian record (his own) by thirteen seconds. He also clipped several seconds off the time in the five mile event. He rode a higher gear on his Red Bird than he ever rode on any other make of wheel, but the superior running qualities of the Red Bird made this a comparatively easy feat.

The country roads are in a wretched condition and the snow-fall will make them many degrees worse. The pall bearers were: Messrs. Jas. E. Brown, Toronto, E. Hall, H. Bradshaw, E. Clegg, A. Henry, D. Spence.

Rob Roy.

What an exchange says of the opera:—The Whitney Opera Company of sixty people gave a fine presentation of "Rob Roy" at the opera house last night. The audience was not as large as it might be, but it was appreciative and applauded liberally. The company is a particularly strong one, the choruses large and well trained, and the costumes and scenery bright and appropriate. The singing of Arthur Donaldson, Florence Wolcott, Albert Quilter and Mattie Atherton was greatly enjoyed and they were compelled to respond to encores. The comedy work of Edwin Carroll and Harry Parker was excellent. Secure seats early.

A LIGHT SENTENCE.

Wm. Hull is Found Guilty and Sent to Gaol for a Month.

The County Court held an interim session this morning, when Wm. Hull came up before Judge Weller, charged with the theft of some preserved fruit and a quarter of pork from R. H. Leary, and also with receiving the property, knowing it to be stolen.

The evidence upon which he was committed for trial was again adduced, showing that on Friday, March 12th, a quantity of fruit and a front quarter of pork had been stolen from Mr. Leary's cellar, which is under an unlocked storehouse. Also that upon the house of the prisoner being searched, a portion of the fruit had been recovered, and also the pork. The prisoner was proven to have been in Leary's premises that night with Walter Herron, a former employee at the livery stable. It was also shown that his companion was fully acquainted with the premises and on one occasion had been reprimanded for entering the cellar without permission and taking therefrom a quantity of apples.

Hull entered the box and stated that Walter Herren had come to his house on Thursday and asked if he could remain there until he got work. Permission had been given him to do so providing that he procured food for himself. On Friday morning he (Hull) had gone to the cupboard and saw the quarter of pork there. He remarked that it was a good piece, and Herron said he had given eight cents a pound for it. Afterwards Herron had produced a jar of black currant preserves from the cupboard and asked prisoner to have some of it, but not liking fruit of that kind he had declined. He did not know that there was any more fruit in the cupboard, although he kept a portion of his own food. He had no idea that the fruit was stolen and did not know for what he was arrested until told.

Judge Weller in summing up the evidence stated that he was forced to believe that the prisoner had not told him a true story, thereby trying to screen himself. He had stated that he had seen the fruit on Friday morning, whereas, it had been proven conclusively that it had not been stolen until Friday night. Then again his saying that he had not seen any more fruit although it was in the same cupboard with his own provisions, was clearly a falsehood. He would not like to say positively that the prisoner had stolen the fruit, although it certainly looked suspicious when he was on the premises on the night of the theft. There was no doubt in his mind, however, that Hull knew that the articles were not come by honestly. The prisoner then received some sound advice from His Worship, who stated that he would give him one more chance to live an honest life by making his sentence as light as possible namely one month in the county goal.

Mr. R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney, conducted the prosecution, and Mr. F. W. Gladman represented the accused.

JOE CURTIN SENTENCED.

He will Spend a Month up on the Hill.

This morning Joe Curtin came before the Magistrate on a charge of vagrancy.

Officer McGinty stated that about one o'clock on Wednesday morning he had discovered fresh tracks in the newly-fallen snow leading to the Commercial House barn. He had procured a lantern and discovered Joe Curtin asleep in the hay mow, and had brought him to the cells. The prisoner had burrowed under the hay, and by the general appearance of the nest it looked as though it had been used as a sleeping place for some time.

Curtain stated to the magistrate that he had been working all winter in Millbrook, and was on his way out to his brother's farm to work, but as he had apparently spent the last two weeks in town doing nothing he was given a month in gaol to keep him out of harm's way until work on the farm was practicable.

MARCH WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Mr. H. L. Milburn and Miss May Martin.

Last night at 7.30 the residence of Mrs. T. H. Martin, 228 Park street, was the scene of an interesting, matrimonial event, when Mr. Harry L. Milburn, of Smith township, was united in marriage to Miss May Martin. The ceremony was celebrated in the presence of a large number of interested guests, by Rev. W. L. Armitage, of St. John's Mission. The bride, who was charmingly attired in cream cashmere with lace garniture, was attended by her sister, Miss Alberta Martin, similarly attired. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Clement Milburn. After the ceremony the usual wedding breakfast was set forth, and due admiration was given the numerous beautiful presents the popularity of the esteemed bride brought together. The happy couple, who are followed by the hearty good wishes of a wide circle of friends, will spend their honeymoon in Woodstock, after which they will return and take up residence in Smith township.

SMITH WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Miss Mahood and Mr. Chas. Morton.

On Tuesday evening, March 16th, about eighty guests gathered at the residence of Mr. Ed. Mahood, of Smith, the occasion being the marriage of his second daughter, Sarah, to Mr. Chas. Morton, of Cavan. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Torrance.

About 8 o'clock the wedding party entered the drawing room to the strains of the wedding march. The bride was given away by her father. She looked charming, attired in white and wearing the veil and orange blossoms, and carrying a beautiful bouquet of white roses. She was assisted by her sister, Miss Lizzie, who was also beautifully dressed in white and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mr. Fred Erskine, of Peterborough, acted the part of best man.

After the ceremony they all sat down to a sumptuous repast, after which they enjoyed themselves in different amusements till the wee sma' hours of the morning. The many useful and costly presents of which the bride was the recipient showed the high esteem in which she was held by her many friends and acquaintances. The young couple take up their residence in Otonabee. We all join in wishing them a happy and prosperous life.

REV. JAMES CATTANACH, B.A., RESIGNS.

A Meeting of the Presbytery Called to Consider the Matter.

The Presbytery of Peterborough will meet in St. Andrew's church on Tuesday, April 6th, at 10 o'clock, to consider the resignation of the Rev. Jas. Cattanach, B. A., of Centreville Presbyterian church.

Mr. Cattanach has received and accepted a call from the Presbyterian church, Tarrytown, Maryland, U.S.A., in the Baltimore Presbytery.

Although his many friends will be pleased to hear of the call which has been extended to him, yet they will be sorry to lose him from the local Presbytery.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN?

The Writer is Evidently Animated by a Very Lively Hatred.

The appended note was found in the Post Office the other day, written on an envelope. On the reverse side was the initial "K."

You will be unable to show a proof, so be very careful. I will not speak untill I am forced to, but then I must make a full confession. I will not lie to defend you. You have refused to say one assenting word of truth to free me, when you might have forever silenced me, but now I am not at your mercy, and I will use my damning power against you until I see you just where you put me. I no longer fear you, but defy you in the face of your threat. If you get this it will save you waiting in the darkness and wet. I may meet you, but I'll meet the devil first.

Possibly the note is only a hoax, but the wording is so extremely vague that doubtless there is more in it then appears on the surface.

A FUND FOR PRIZES.

Which Will be Offered by the Public Library Board.

The Public Library recently communicated with the various manufacturers of the town asking for subscriptions towards prizes to be offered at the close of the term to the students who have attended the classes in engineering, draughting, etc., during the winter. A cheque was received from the Canadian General Electric Co. for ten dollars, and Dr. Burnham, President of the Board of Management of the Library, contributed five dollars towards the fund. The Board desires to express their thanks for the contributions, and are confident of hearing from the other manufacturers before the end of the term.

SNOW PLOUGHING AGAIN.

A Good Deal Better Job Done This Snowfall.

THE EXAMINER has had occasion in the past to refer to the unsatisfactory way in which the snow plowing was done especially in the middle section. While it is a public duty to point out short-comings it is fair play and a pleasure to give credit when credit is due. The snow plowing in the middle part of the town in yesterday's downfall was promptly and well done. The snow plow was sent twice over the route, and as a consequence the walks were in an excellent condition. The work was creditably done.

It may be mentioned that the weight of the horse was too much in several places for the planks, especially those in old walks unsupported by a middle stringer. In consequence "Napoleon" was compelled to enter on a campaign last night and this morning to repair breakages. Is the question worth considering whether the present system or a well enforced by-law requiring each citizen to keep the walks opposite his own property clear of snow, is the better?

Miss Armstrong's Display.

One of the biggest spring millinery opening displays of the week was that presented to the ladies at Miss Armstrong's millinery and furnishing store, 300 George street. The show room was tastily decorated for the occasion with fancy silks and other attractive hangings—the mirror forming a central attraction, profusely draped and surrounded with coloured silks and flowers. A very complete display of new spring styles and pattern hats and bonnets was shown, which were effectively arranged for the occasion, and greatly admired by the crowd of visiting ladies. Miss Armstrong also makes a showy specialty of whitewear and children's wear, as well as fancy goods and rich silk drapings.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES AT THE GEORGE STREET CHURCH.

The Meetings are very Largely Attended—Subject of this Evening's Address.

Rev. A. H. Ranton, the evangelist, who is conducting a series of services at the George street Methodist church, spoke last night on "The Unpardonable Sin," which he interpreted as the postponement until to-morrow of what should be done to-day—the rejection of Jesus Christ. He took as his text the verses from Matt. xii, 31st and 32nd verses as follows:

Wherefore I say unto you, All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men.

And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever speaketh a word against the Holy Ghost it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come.

Through neglecting the warnings of conscience, thousands were to-day sinking to the same level as the Jews, who spoke against the Holy Ghost even whilst Jesus was amongst them performing miracles to prove that he was in reality the Messiah. This condition was not attained in a moment, but gradually, as by way of illustration, a man never became a habitual drunkard when starting on the downward career of that type, but through taking a glass now and then gradually fell into the habit until they were past redemption. The speaker pleaded earnestly with those present to procrastinate no longer but to seek and obtain salvation before they became so hardened that to them the loving message had no meaning.

This evening the speaker will take as his subject "How to Get There."

The boy found with a catapult in his possession—even though not using it—is said to be liable to legal punishment.

—In conversation with one of our most experienced fishermen yesterday anent the new fish-way recently constructed by Mr. Wm. CHRYSANTHEMUM SHOW.

An Exhibition in November Decided Upon.

At a meeting of a committee of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society held yesterday afternoon, at which there was a good attendance, to discuss the advisability of holding a Chrysanthemum and Carnation Show on November next, it was unanimously decided to hold one, the date of which will be made known in due time.

A sub-committee was appointed to draw up a special prize list, and as soon as ready it will be printed and made public.

The cultivation of these beautiful plants is not difficult, and well repays one for any trouble taken.

There are several amateurs here who have had private collections for several years past, and it is to be hoped that there will be a wholesome rivalry amongst present growers, and that many more may be induced to try their hand in this direction, so that when the time comes there may be a grand exhibition.

BAD, BAD ROADS.

The Present Thoroughfares Beat the Record.

Mr. Thomas Stothart, of Smith, called at THE EXAMINER office this morning to advertise the loss of a milk van hand-bell, and he reports the roads at present as being the worst he ever travelled at any time of year, and he has a good chance of knowing. The deep, sodden fall of snow, mixing with, in some places, a foot of mud, and half frozen into a glutinous, clammy mass, clinging to and clogging wheels, makes travel very difficult. Mr. Stothart says Water street at present is the worst street in the town. He also says the street car rails at the entrance to the stables, King street, stick up several inches above the surface of the street, and he thinks they should be looked after at once.

A NEW STORE.

It is Being Most Handsomely Fitted up for Custom Tailoring.

The firm of Hall, Gilchrist & Co. will open on Saturday, a branch store in the premises owned by the Bank of Montreal and formerly occupied by Mr. Jos. Armstrong, at No. 396 George street.

The new departure is occasioned through the recent rapid growth in the volume of business done in the tailoring and gentlemen's furnishing department, necessitating an increased space to accommodate customers and make a larger display. The premises mentioned have accordingly been secured and fitted up for the pupose mentioned. The front of the store has been repainted and is now white in colour, relieved with gold points. The interior has been wonderfully brightened. Large windows have been inserted in the rear and the woodwork and fittings painted in white and gold. The walls and ceiling have been repapered with ingrain papers in harmonious tints and the fittings completly changed and remodelled. The shelving is now twenty inches deep instead of ten, and is relieved by means of a pretty grill work design along the top. The new premises are 66 x 20 feet in size, and in the rear a handsome fitting room has been constructed and greatly adds to the appearance of the store, being most neatly designed and panelled with obscure glass, which ensures privacy and yet allows plenty of light to enter. A handsome and attractive sign in white and gold, will be placed in position on the front of the store, and new awnings and window shades erected.

Mr. G. S. Ames will be placed in charge of the new branch, and his past record is a guarantee of the reception with which customers will be greeted. A complete assortment of the finest lines of suitings, trouserings and overcoatings will be carried in all the latest shades, as well as a full line of men's underwear and furnishings. The firm's intention is to carry everything which the customer can demand, at the closest cash prices.

Mr. G. F. Warde, who looks after the Bank of Montreal properties, was allowed to exercise his discretion in refitting the store, and a glance at the interior will secure a tribute to his taste. The painting has been well done by Duncan & Gray in their usual workmanlike manner, and the ingrain paper and friese are from the Peterborough Bookstore.

FORTUNE IN FUTURES.....

Alexander T. Stewart began his business career without capital and in 53 years accumulated $40,000,000. His successors began with his $40,000,000 and in 20 years failed. Stewart dealt in futures; he filled his stores and contracted ahead for manufactures before big advances and he emptied his stores and sold for future account at other times before big declines. He discounted the future. His successors rested on a BIG NAME and never dealt in future prospects.

A year ago I advertised to buy cotton below seven cents, it afterwards advanced two cents or $1,000 on on 100 bales. Last summer I advertised to buy wheat around 60 cts., it has since sold at 95 or $3,000 on 10,000 bushels. Now advise the purchase of Corn around 25 cts. for July. It will show a Big Profit by the middle of June. Buy Mess Pork around $8.25; it will sell at $10 before it does at $8. A sick person trying to keep up on mere stimulating tonics is like any one pretending to swim while supported by a belt. The instant the support is withdrawn down you go.

Nearly all diseases result from a deep-seated impairment of the nutritive powers which cannot be reached by any temporary exhilaration. The only good that any medicine can do is to increase your own natural powers of recovery and make you able to swim for yourself.

The debilitating weakness, nervousness and digestive disorder which indicates this state of mal-nutrition can only be overcome by a scientific remedy like Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which acts directly upon the digestive and blood-making organs, and effects the nutritive transformation of food into rich, healthy blood, which carries genuine permanent vitality to every corner of the system.

It is vastly more nutritious than malt-extracts. It does not paralyse the nerves, but feeds them with health. It is better than cod liver oil emulsions. It is assimilated by the weakest stomachs. It does not make flabby useless fat, but muscular strength and healthy nerve-force. It is the only perfect invigorant for corpulent people.

Mrs. Ella Howell, of Derby, Perry Co., Ind., writes: "In the year of 1894 I was taken with stomach trouble—nervous dyspepsia. There was a coldness in my stomach, and a weight which seemed like a rock. Everything that I ate gave me great pain; I had a bearing down sensation; was swelled across my stomach; had a ridge around my right side, and in a short time I was bloated. I was treated by three of our best physicians but got no relief. Then Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was recommended to me and I got it, and commenced the use of it. I began to see a change for the better. I was so weak I could not walk across the room without assistance. I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and one bottle of the 'Pleasant Pellets.' I began to improve very fast after the use of a few bottles. The physicians who attended me said I had 'dropsy' and that my disease was leading into pulmonary consumption. I had quite a cough, and the home physicians gave me up to die. I thank God that my cure is permanent."

THE BREWERS HEARD.

An Influential Delegation Waited on the Government re the Harcourt Bill.

Toronto, March 23.

The wholesalers and the retailers in the liquor trade, as well as the consumers and also those who presumably are not consumers, having appeared in large numbers to represent their views on the Harcourt license bill before the Government, there remained yet one interest to be heard. That consisted of the worthy gentlemen who make the liquor; hence, the Brewers' Association gathered in force yesterday to do what they could in the way of argument before the Ministers to protect their business interests, in view of the fact that the bill will in all likelihood come up for its second reading to-morrow.

The delegation included: W. R. Bettles, William Thomas, E. O'Keefe, Widmer Hawke, J. Kormann, L. Reinhardt, L. J. Cosgrave, T. B. Taylor, Hume Blake, R. Davies, Toronto; G. T. Labatt, Prescott; W. R. House, Hamilton; J. Halliday, Guelph; T. F. White, Port Colborne; C. H. Griggs, John Bott, Walkerville; A. Woodhouse, Port Hope; F. D. Brooks, Strathroy; F. Heiter, L. Bauer, Waterloo; H. Neil, Peterboro; W. Stevenson, Kingston; Henry Taylor, St. Catharines; James Roy, Belleville; J. McCarthy, Prescott; John Labatt, London; William Ross, J. J. Gibson, Toronto; T. H. Carling, London; William Lees of Weston, Grover & Lees, Manchester (representing debenture-holders on property); T. W. Simpson, Barrie; W. Parris, Ottawa, and E. Dickie, Toronto.

The spokesman was Mr. Z. A. Lash, Q.C., who stated that the arguments of the license-holders were approved of by the Brewers' Association and he therefore would not repeat them. He called attention to the interests which any change in the law would affect. The association was composed of 60 brewers, every brewer in Ontario being a member. These men and those dependent upon them, besides the 2500 license-holders and their employes, were interested in the proposed measure. There were seven breweries in Toronto alone, employing on the whole 600 hands, which, of cource, represented a large interest. There was a large amount of capital, running away up into the millions, invested in the trade. Many of the license-holders were indebted to the association for the capital invested in their business. Therefore any change would involve tremendous interests. Any change should, therefore, be warranted on the highest grounds of public policy and he did not believe the proposed changes were thus warranted. The Government could not entirely wipe the trade out; therefore, the question was not one of prohibition, and not one of the morality of the case. It was one of restriction only, and the bill would destroy so much property without compensation that it was worth serious consideration.

Mr. Lash then read an official pamphlet giving the statistics of criminal convictions respectively during periods when the trade was under stringent restrictions and when its operation was not so greatly hampered, between the years 1881 and 1893.

The Attorney-General replied that he had nothing new to say on the subject. Other deputations dealing with the question at issue had heard his views. The points made by Mr. Lash would receive the same consideration as the arguments of the other deputations were already receiving at the hands of himself and colleagues.

CURED OF SCIATICA.

Toronto Junction, Mar. 15 (Special)—Mr. H. Playter, is not a difficult man to find as everybody here knows that he is foreman at No. 1 Fire Hall. He was the picture of health when called upon by your correspondent and told his story thus:

"In April 1896 I suffered from a severe attack of sciatica, affecting my left hip and leg to the tip of the toes. I suspected it came from some form of kidney trouble, and as they had been recommended I procured a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

At the end of the fourth day I was entirely relieved, but desiring a permanent cure I continued to use that and another box and am now perfectly cured and as well as ever in my life. A brother of mine living at Pine Orchard has been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

THE ONTARIO HOUSE.

CONTINUATION OF TUESDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

Hon. J. M. Gibson's bill respecting loan corporations was considered at length. Among other changes made was the introduction of clauses declaring that no shareholder was liable upon paid-up shares; that when stock was issued at a premium and afterwards fell, allowance should be made for the premium in future assessments thereon and permitting loans on stock to the extent of not more than 10 per cent. of capital.

The latter provision was opposed by Mr. Stratton, who thought the practice of companies loaning on their own stock should be absolutely prohibited, in which he was seconded by Mr. Pattullo.

Mr. Gibson, however, retained the amendment, urging that companies already exercised this privilege to a practically unlimited extent and that the restriction that such loans should not exceed 10 per cent. of their capital was a sufficient safeguard against any danger from the practice. A discussion took place over the provision that no one should hold proxies on more than 10 per cent. of the capital, Mr. Stratton objecting to any limitation in the number. Mr. Gibson thought it a necessary safeguard against one-man power.

AFTER RECESS.

The committee resumed its work on the Loan Companies bill, in which many modifications were made. An important provision which was discussed for some time is embodied in the clauses securing shareholders and creditors free access to the company's books, a penalty of $100 being imposed upon any official refusing such access. The bill was reported with numerous amendments.

HOW THE WORK IS DONE.

The House in Committee on a technical bill, such as occupied most of its time yesterday, is an interesting study. Interest in the measure is generally confined to the Ministry, one or two Opposition leaders who watch the case as a matter of duty, and the legal or business men specially concerned in the points involved. The great majority of the members give up the attempt to follow what is going on in a conversational tone among the group of specialists and relapse into reading or correspondence in their places or quit the chamber for the smoking room. Occasionally a knot of them gathers on one of the back benches and tell stories, or in other ways manifest an ostentatious indifference to the matter in hand. Meanwhile, the visitors in the galleries, who came in the expectation of seeing some lively political scrapping, are straining their eyes and ears intently to made out what it is all about, for there are seldom any sustained speeches in committee, most of the remarks of the speakers in addition to being made in a quiet tone being unintelligible, without the context supplied by the bill.

Hon. Mr. Ross read a statement from Dr. May, in connection with the assertion recently made that a change had been made in the classification of books recommended for Public Libraries by which works of fiction were classified as history, biography, etc., to the effect that the system of classification had not been changed, but had been in vogue for many years. He further denied the statements as to his receiving books in large quantities from publishers and being interested in the book trade.

THE FARMERS IN IT.

Then the House went into committee of supply and took up the consideration of the agricultural estimates. Here most of the members were right at home and the House brightened up at once.

Mr. McPherson, as a practical farmer, eulogized the management of the model farm generally, but found fault with the methods of keeping accounts. He wanted the accounts kept so as to show profit and loss.

Col. Matheson objected to the item of $1800 for practical instruction in fruit spraying, which Hon. Mr. Dryden defended on the ground that it was one of the most useful and widely appreciated services on the list.

Mr. Whitney reinforced Mr. McPherson's argument that the model farm should be run to pay, and brought up the case of an exhibitor at the Walkerton Fair, who won a number of prizes which were not paid.

Mr. Hiscott asserted that any child could learn to spray fruit trees without being taught by the Government.

Mr. Reid of Addington kicked about the distribution of the grant to poultry associations.

Mr. Haycock read an extract from an American paper on, "How to keep boys on the farm," in which connection he remarked that he didn't think the prizes given for bantam fowls were thrown away, as they kept the boys interested. He expatiated on the importance of the poultry industry, which he considered entitled to even a larger grant.

Mr. Kidd protested against any of the money granted to poultry associations going to game birds, to which the Minister of Agriculture replied that game birds were valuable as a means of improving the ordinary breeds.

Dr. Meacham said that Mr. Haycock was evidently well posted on poultry. He had, in fact, kept a large poultry yard. If the business was so profitable as he claimed why had he abandoned it.

"For the same reason that you neglect your medical practice," retorted the Patron leader.

The doctor went on to criticize the expenditure of the model farm upon articles of farm produce.

"The model farm is the worst-managed farm in the province," said Mr. Little, and followed up this declaration with a speech in similar tone.

Mr. Pattullo defended the item for spraying fruit trees. The feeling of the farmers as to all these agricultural grants was one of universal approval.

Mr. McDonald thought that the model farm, apart from the experimental portion, ought to be self-sustaining.

After Dr. Willoughby had spoken the Minister of Agriculture warmly defended the model farm as a successful educational institution.

A notable incident of the latter portion of the debate was a tilt between Mr. Kidd, an alleged patron of Tory leaning, and his leader, or former leader, Mr. Haycock. The latter had compared the model farm with the experimental farm at Ottawa, whereupon Mr. Kidd said that such a comparison was unfair and could only come from "a person professing to be a farmer, who knew nothing about farming."

Mr. Haycock got back at him by a characteristic retort.

The committee rose without passing any of the items.

Colson's Color Photography.

Captain Colson, a correspondent of "Photography," seems to have discovered a practical process of color photography. He uses a gelatino-chloride paper, which he exposes to the sunlight till it becomes chocolate in color. This is done without any negative in front of it. After the paper has become thus discolored it is placed under a colored transparency and then exposed to sunlight for a considerable time. For a little while the paper becomes gradually darker, but with longer exposure this clears until the colors of the transparency are approximately reproduced, though in a dull style and with the high lights very dull and muddy, but by dampening the print and again exposing it for a short time the whites may be cleared up. Washing the paper for two or three minutes before exposing is said to be a better method; then after drying proceed as before. The exposure will be longer but the colors more perfect. The fixing is done by means of an ordinary ink composed of iron acted upon by gallic acid. A sheet of blotting paper is saturated with the ink, thoroughly dried and then placed in contact with the colored print under slight pressure for a couple of days, which makes the picture practically permanent.

If the system is fortified by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which makes rich, red blood, there is little danger of sickness.

The superiority of Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is shown by its good effects on the children. Purchase a bottle and give it a trial.

A PREACHER'S EXPERIENCE.

"Three months ago, I took a violent cold which resulted in an attack of acute bronchitis. I put myself under medical treatment, and at the end of two months was no better. I found it very difficult to preach, and concluded to try Ayer's Cherry

LIVE STOCK BREEDERS

Met in Toronto and Transacted Business in the Interest of Cattle Raisers

Toronto, March 23.

The adjourned annual meeting of the Dominion Cattle Breeders' Association took place at the Palmer House yesterday. Representatives from all districts in the Province were present, and the president, Mr. J. I. Hobson of Moosboro', was in the chair. The main business of the meeting was the annual report of Mr. F. W. Hodson, the secretary-treasurer, which was finally adopted after a long discussion.

The report dealt with the Cattle-Breeders', Sheep-Breeders' and Swine-Breeders' Associations, and contained much of interest to the stock men.

The secretary says at the commencement of his report: "From correspondence and intercourse, I learn that the general public have a wrong idea concerning the aims and work of our associations. To put this matter right, I will quote a few clauses which form the basis of the constitution of each of the associations. The object of this association shall be:

"To encourage a general and constant improvement in the breeding and management of the cattle, sheep and swine, by the dissemination of reliable and practical information on the subject, by co-operating with the officers of the various fair associations in encouraging large, attractive and instructive displays of cattle, sheep and swine, by holding or assisting in holding a winter exhibition of cattle, sheep and swine, by encouraging the keeping of records of pure-bred animals.

"To improve the judging of live stock by presenting to the secretaries of the larger fair associations, and others who may apply for them, carefully prepared lists, giving the names and addresses of parties who are deemed competent to act as judges of the various breeds of cattle, sheep and swine.

"To instruct and interest the farmers of Canada in animal husbandry, and to forward the interest of the owners of live stock in every honorable way.

"Everyone familiar with the history of these associations knows that these laudable aims have been carried out, and that each of the associations has accomplished a good work, and that the scope of their influence and usefulness has increased each year."

A history of the associations and the progress that has been made follows.

Touching on the matter of transportation by freight and express, the report says: "It has long been felt that the rates charged by the great carrying companies have been in a measure oppressive, and that the trade in pure-bred live stock has been injured, and the progress of animal industry throughout the Dominion retarded thereby, which, in itself, has been a great national injury. The chief officers of the C.P.R. and the G.T.R. have been appealed to again and again, both by correspondence and deputations, and at last we have succeeded. On Jan. 19, 1897, I was authorised by the officials of the C.P.R. and the G.T.R. to issue the following circular:

"The Transportation Committee of the Dominion Cattle, Sheep and Swine-Breeders' Associations has met the representatives of the various Canadian railways, and has obtained the following reduction in shipping rates of pure-bred animals. The rates at which pure-bred animals will hereafter be taken by the Canadian railways are as follows. The charge per cwt. remains as heretofore:

"Bull calves, 6 months old and under, 500 lbs.; bulls and bull calves, over 6 months and under 1 year old, 1000 lbs.; bulls, 1 year and up to 2 years, 2000 lbs.; bulls, over two years old, 2000 lbs.; cows, one animal, 2000 lbs.; cows, two animals in same car, 2500 lbs.; cows, three animals in same car, 3000 lbs.; each additional animal in same car, 1000 lbs. (must be from one shipper to one consignee, in one shipment, to one destination); heifer calves, 6 months old and under, 500 lbs.; heifer calves, over 6 months and up to 1 year old, 1000 lbs.; heifers, over 1 year and up to 2 years old, 1500 lbs.; heifers, over 2 years old, same as cows.

"Certificates of registration must, in all cases, be produced by shipper. Agents will take note of particulars as to name of animal and age, and keep record of same. Also make note of billing accordingly.

"Pedigreed stock, as above, may be taken without men in charge, provided owners sign the usual contract releasing the company from liability in consequence thereof.

"The above special estimated weights will only apply when owners sign the usual valuation agreement for ordinary stock."

Continuing, the report says:

On Feb. 22, 1897, I was authorised by the Association of Freight Agents of Canada to issue the circular given below, regarding freight rates on pure-bred cattle, sheep and swine from any point in Ontario to any point in Manitoba and the Canadian Northwest.

"The Joint Transportation Committee of the Dominion Cattle, Sheep and Swine Breeders' Association has arranged with the officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Grand Trunk Railway to carry pure-bred cattle, sheep and swine in car loads from any point in Ontario and Quebec west of Montreal, at the rate charged on settlers' effects. The charge for a car load of pure-bred stock from any point in Ontario to any point in Manitoba and westward, may be learned from any agent of the C.P.R. or G.T.R., and is published in the pamphlet known as 'F. T., No. 45, Canadian Pacific Railway Special Through West-bound Tariff on Settlers' Effects.' The rate for a car load of 30,000 pounds from any point in Ontario or Quebec, west of Montreal, to Winnipeg, is $72 per car load; to Regina, $90; to Calgary, $114; and corresponding rates to all other western points. (The rates hitherto in force for a similar car load have been—to Winnipeg, $120; to Regina, $164; to Calgary, $202; and these latter rates are now charged for animals not recorded.)

"Under the new arrangement it is not necessary to load all the animals composing a car load at any one point, i.e., part of a car may be loaded at London, part at Woodstock, part at Toronto, or at any other stations on the direct line between the starting point and the destination of the car. No additional charge will be made for a car so loaded except shunting charges, which are $3 for the first stop, and $2 for each subsequent stop.

"One man will be passed free with each car load, and he will be returned from the destination of the car to the original point of shipment at one cent per mile, second class. All animals sent at the above rates must be pure-bred, and shipped for breeding purposes only; and a certificate of registration for each animal must be presented to the agent at the shipping point. After being examined by the agent each certificate will be returned to the shipper.

"Parties who wish to ship single animals from any point in Ontario to Manitoba and the West may do so at car load rates by corresponding with the secretary of the Associations, and as soon as enough animals to fill a car are offered, the car will be forwarded in charge of a suitable attendant. The price charged for the transportation of such animals will be about $6.50 per head for cattle over two years old when sent to Winnipeg. If sent to Regina, the charges will be about $7.50 per head, and to Calgary $8.50. Young cattle and sheep and swine will be carried at proportionate rates. (From three to four sheep, and from two to six pigs usually occupy as much space as one bullock.) In addition, each shipper will be required to pay shunting charges necessitated by his shipment. In all cases the shipper must furnish enough feed to support the animal or animals from the starting point to their destination. Freight in all cases must be prepaid. Pure-bred animals shipped to Winnipeg, or other distributing points, in car load lots, may be distributed singly therefrom over the various railway lines at reduced freight rates."

The report goes in to give an able review of the present quarantine regulations, especially as between Canada and the United States, and deals with a number of important questions.

Delegates of the Canadian Breeders' Association on the Board of the Provincial Winter Fair were elected as follows: John I. Hobson, Mossboro; J. C. Snell, London, and George W. Clemens, St. George.

The Sheep Breeders will consider the report to-day.

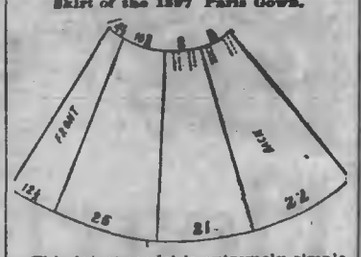
SCOTT & BOWNE, Belleville, Ont.

Skirt of the 1897 Paris Gown.



This latest model is extremely simple and can easily be cut at home. It has seven breadths, one front, cut without seam, two sides, which are added to the front by straight edges, and four back breadths whose edges are bias on both sides. The center of each of these four should be on the straight of the thread of the material. The fullness of the side bradths can be gathered into the band or shaped by darts. The four back gores are laid into small organ plaits. The figures in the diagram show the width in inches of each br adth top and bottom. When finished this skirt measures exactly four and one-half yards.

Popular in Paris.

The princess dress is very popular in Paris, and many handsome gowns of velvet and silk for weddings and other dressy occasions are cut in this style.

Centuries ago people used to fear what they called the pestilence. "Black Death" was the most terrible thing in the world to them. They feared it as people now fear the Cholera and Yellow Fever. And yet there is a thing that causes more misery and more deaths than any of these. It is so common that nine-tenths of all the sickness in the world is traceable to it. It is merely that simple, common thing constipation. It makes people listless, causes dizziness, headaches, loss of appetite, loss of sleep, foul breath and distress after eating. The little help needed is furnished by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One pill is a gentle laxative and two a mild cathartic. Once used, always in favour. If you are careless enough to let an unscrupulous druggist sell you something on which he makes more money, it is your own fault if you do not get well. Be sure and get Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Send 31 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

Y.P.S.C.E. NOTES.

Paragraphs of Local Interest to Endeavourers Supplied by the County Union.

THE WORLD'S C. E. PRAYER CHAIN.

Subject of Prayer for March—Pray that churches may be filled with the evangelizing spirit of Christ, that the members may dwell together in Christian unity and service; that they may loyally uphold the pastors' hands; and that the great mission of the church in winning men and training them into Christ-likeness may be fulfilled.

COUNTY CONVENTION.

The sixth annual county convention will be held on Easter Monday, April 19th, in the George street Methodist church, town. The arrangements for the programme have been almost completed. The following is the plan of convention programme with topics and list of speakers:

MORNING SESSION.

9.15 to 9.45—Business meeting of Executive Committee.
9.45 to 10.15—Devotional exercises conducted by Rev. W. R. Young, B.A.
10.15 to 11.30—Two minute reports from all the Societies of the county, the reports to show:
1st—Mission work be done by Society;
2nd—The conduct and life of meetings;
3rd—What the Society proposes doing during the coming plebiscite campaign. All these subjects to be reported inside the two minutes allotted.
11.30 to 11.30—Business. Appointment of Nominating Committee.
11.30 to 12.00—Social half hour to exchange thoughts and become better acquainted.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

2.00 to 2.15—Devotional exercises, conducted by Rev Mr Beer.
2.15 to 2.35—Reports of officers and nominating committee.
2.35 to 2.55—Address, "Can we support denominational unions and also uphold county and local unions," by Rev. J G Potter.
2.55 to 3.10—Discussion on above topic. Collection.
3.10 to 3.45—Address, "The coming plebiscite campaign; how can we through this medium advance the cause of temperance.
3.45 to 4.00—Discussion on above topic and appointment of committee to represent county union at campaign meetings.
4.15 to 5.15—Denominational rallies. Each denomination will meet by themselves and discuss denominational features.
6.00 to 7.00—Social and refreshments served by local union.

EVENING SESSION.

7.30 to 8.00—Song service and devotional exercises, conducted by George street Methodist choir, and Mr Stanley, president of local union.
8.00—Presentation of president elect.
8.15 to 9.00—The present needs of missions, by Rev J J Rae.
9.00—Consecration service.

An invitation has been extended to Mr. A. E. Hardy, B.A., President of the Provincial Union, to be present. If he can see his way clear to come he will be asked to take charge of consecration service, and will be asked to take part in the business of the day. Each society in the county will be allowed two representative delegates who will have voting privileges. As many as can possibly do so will attend and will be made welcome. Those having billets send names to T. H. Martin not later than April 12th, and for convenience of committee those who intend stopping with friends in town should notify us. These may seem small matters to each society, but they mean a great deal to the committee on billeting. All that is needed to make this the brightest convention yet is a little push on the part of the societies in the outlying districts. We publish a letter this week from Rev. Mr. Liddy, President of County Union, which should be read before each Society:

AN APPEAL TO ENDEAVOURERS.

As the county convention of the Peterborough Union is fast approaching, we have thought a few lines to the Young People's Society of the county would be in place. I have before me a letter from Mr. T. H. Martin, convenor of the programme committee. He assures us that everything promises to a bright and profitable convention on April 19th in the town of Peterboro. In hope that the different officers of the society will see that the returns are in the hands of the secretary, Mr. E.G. Porter, of Keene, immediately. Our attention has been called during the year to the Students' missionary campaigns and the Young People's forward movement for missions. I am sure the young people of the county will not be indifferent to this work. As we draw near to the close of this year we are painfully conscious of our mistakes and failures. A new way lies before us which no soul has passed, but we are the same travellers who journeyed through the other years and we draw into the new way with a knowledge of many of the things which make the past so faulty and have brought to our hearts so many regrets. New opportunities beckon us on to increased usefulness, but we stand before these grand possibilities wringing our helpless hands. If we are to do better in the future we must lay hold of new strength. Without it we will stumble at the same duties and yield to the same foes. What inspiration and comfort in the assurance that there is sufficient strength for every need, through vital and personal contact with Jesus Christ. He is the strong one, and the weakest who allies himself with Him can say: "I can do all things through Christ, which strengtheneth me." This is the secret of the Christian's ability, of his boundless hope and infinite courage. He can look at the responsibilities of life and its possibilities, knowing that the future holds nothing that can vanquish him or bring him dismay. Therefore, my dear young friends, I appeal to you in the name of the Master we serve. If there is work to be done in the home, in the society, the church or the world, shrink not; go where duty calls and then you will find Christ and strength for the accomplishment of His will.

Heart Disease Kills.

Relief in 20 Minutes.

The most pronounced symptoms of heart disease are palpitation, or fluttering of the heart, shortness of breath, weak or irregular pulse, smothering spells, swelling of feet or ankles, nightmare, spells of hunger or exhaustion. The brain may be committed, causing headache, dizziness or vertigo. In short, whenever the heart flutters, or tires out easily, ashes or palpitates, it is diseased and treatment is imperative. Dr. Agnew's Heart Cure has saved thousands of lives. It absolutely never fails to give perfect relief in 20 minutes, and to cure radically. Sold by H. S. McDonald.

GRAVEL IN THE BLADDER!

Used Eighteen Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills—The Stone Dissolved and Removed—Knew of Others Cured.

Shelburne, March 23 (Special)—Mr. John Medill, known locally as well as far and near, as a physical giant and glorying in his strength, came to be a great sufferer, and tells of his cure as follows:

"I do not hesitate to speak of Dodd's Kidney Pills or anything else exactly as I find them. If a medicine cures me, and if I think it will cure others, why not say so?

"It is true I had been suffering for some time with Bladder trouble, and learning of a cure made in a similar case by Dodd's Kidney Pills, I commenced using them.

"In all I have used eighteen boxes, and they have dissolved the stone and have entirely cured me of any sign of such difficulty. I do not hesitate to speak of Dodd's Kidney Pills in the highest terms of praise, for I know of many persons who have been cured by them."

FOLLOWERS FALLING INTO LINE.

"Imitation is the sincerest flattery." We are glad to see some of the old timers falling into line with our terms. We buy for Cash and sell for Cash. The foundation stone of our business was laid years ago on these terms, and we've been first and foremost in liberal dealing and low prices, and will continue to set the pace for the trade generally. If prices go down anywhere, you can rest assured it will be at GOUGH'S first. We wonder if it will take as many years to educate our followers to the LOW-PRICED system, as it did to convince them that the CASH SYSTEM is the only way of doing business.

ENTHUSIASM

Among the Ladies.

DOING a thing counts more than a lot of talking or preaching. As Horace Greely once said when discussing a financial question: "The way to resume is to resume."

In a similar sense, "Fair's way" is a most successful way of creating an important spring attraction—as was evidenced by the magnificent Opening Exhibition of fashionable Spring Goods which was attended with so much eclat at the Golden Lion on Tuesday.

It was a signal event—overshadowing all other local attractions of an allied character. So much that was of absorbing interest to the ladies centred round the occasion that we have been induced to prolong the exhibition for the remainder of this week. An

All-Week Exhibition

Will only be doing justice to the crowds who desire to become posted on all that is Newest and most Fashionable in woman's realm.

We will make the occasion one o widest interest throughout the house, in which the magnet of price will largely contribute.

An attraction that will be appreciated by visitors will be the setting of SPECIAL PRICES for the balance of the week.

BRILLIANT OPENING.

A Striking Scene in the Red Chamber at Ottawa.

SOCIETY WAS OUT IN FULL FORCE

Ladies in Gorgeous Gowns and Gentlemen in Robes of State—The Military Also in Evidence—Exchanging Greetings After Business Was Over.

Ottawa, March 25.—(Special.)—It is generally conceded that the opening ceremonies of Parliament to-day were the most brilliant seen in Ottawa for many a long year. The scene in the Senate Chamber when the Governor-General entered shortly after 3 was a striking one. There were more ladies in decolette costume than has ever been previously known, and there was not sufficient accommodation, many having to stand. Lord Aberdeen was accompanied by a brilliant suite, noticeable amongst whom were Col. Sir Casimir Gzowski, Mr. Laurier, Gen. Gascoigne and our own dear Sir Oliver. The latter, for the first time, donned his official uniform as a Canadian Privy Councillor and possibly felt that all eyes were centered upon him. It was a subject of universal comment how well Sir Oliver looked. His early military training in the militia of Canada stood him in good stead to-day, as he bore himself like an old soldier.

Inside the Parliament Buildings all was warmth and color and light, and matrons and maids of high degree and low swept through the corridors like queens in gorgeous robes of rustling silk or shimmering satin on their way to the Senate chamber, with its marble arches and crimson furnishings. The galleries were taken possession of. The first one, set aside for the ladies of the official staff, was gay with bright frocks and flowers, while the others were filled with a motly crowd, some in evening dress, some in fustian; every profession or trade was represented, as is quite proper at such a time, when the people's representatives are assembled on a public occasion of this kind.

Below, the chairs were reserved and labelled with the fair occupants' name, and fortunate was she who had such a seat of honor, for the ground floor was the cynosure of all eyes. Well the ladies knew this, for never has there been seen such a display of silks and rare lace and jewels as on this afternoon, and so beautiful was the effect that these rows of ladies suggested at every glance beds of tulips in full bloom, or plots of hyacinths.

The room was pure with the fragrance of the myriad flowers which the ladies carried in their hands, or wore on the breast or shoulder, and diamonds scintillated in the light at every turn of head or pretty neck, but when the Countess of Aberdeen entered in a magnificent yellow gown and violets and flashing coronet, with attendant page and ladies and the Governor-General, in richly embroidered coat and ribbon and orders, took his place on the throne, surrounded by Ministers and officers in beautiful uniforms and glittering swords—among whom were Sir Oliver Mowat, Hon. R. W. Scott and Mr. Laurier in Windsor Court costume—nothing could have exceeded the brilliancy of the scene. The Judges of the Supreme Court were there in scarlet robes and ermine, among whom was Judge MacMahon, representing Ontario, and below these the usual officials of the House gathered about the Senate table, where lay the monster golden mace, the symbol of authority. Further down, on the floor, were keen-eyed church dignitaries in purple robes and gold chains, and representatives in uniform of the various foreign consulates, the French Consul-General in elaborately-braided jacket and many orders on his breast, the Japanese Consul with swarthy face and dark eyes, and men famous in their professions the country broad.

HON. WILFRID LAURIER,

After a great deal of ceremony and periodic bowing on the part of Black Rod, the Commoners were called in, after precautions had been taken to keep them from the charmed circle of the Upper House by a brass railing. The Speaker, in robe and gown, took up a prominent position facing the throne, but outside the bar and behind him crowded all the members of the Commons to hear the Speech from the Throne. Capt. Sinclair, in official dress of green and gold, with scarlet sash and sword, with many bows, handed the beribboned speech to His Excellency, who read it clearly and distinctly in both tongues spoken in Canada. He outlined the policy of the Government for the present session, referring to familiar questions and taking a hopeful view of things in general. The document was then returned to the gallant captain, who, with the same periodic bows, which we thought peculiar to Black Rod, handed it in turn to the Speaker of the House of Commons. He received it with uncovered head, and this was practically the end of the affair.

Presently the Governor-General retired, amid clanking swords and a kaleidoscope effect of moving color, which was simply bewildering. Her Excellency was attended by one of her boys as a little page in purple velvet and wig, which reminded one of a little Scotch terrier, who lifted the train of the Countess, and after her trooped the whole brilliant assemblage to the various other attractions going on in different parts of the building. These were receptions by Speaker Ross of the Senate and Mrs. Edgar on the Commons side. Mrs. Edgar is a genial, sociable woman, who promises to become quite a favorite. There was much jollity and handshaking and chaff, and after a cup of tea or an ice we fled to steal a nod or two in slumberland ere the next function, at 10 o'clock, the at home at Government House.

The Countess of Aberdeen wore a handsome yellow satin gown with large puffed sleeves of satin of violets. On her head she wore a diamond coronet and violets at the back.

Lady Gzowski was richly gowned in black and white.

Mme. Laurier wore a beautiful gown of mauve moire antique, with rich lace and large bouquet of white roses.

Miss Thompson wore a pretty cream lace frock with square corsage, trimmed with buttercups.

Mrs. Edgar wore a duchess satin gown, richly trimmed with real Irish point and mauve velvet diamond ornaments.

Lady Joly de Lotbiniere wore a handsome heliotrope brocade with low corsage.

Mrs. Dobell was in black, with diamonds.

Miss Dobell, white satin and steel passementerie and black aigrette in hair.

Mrs. Headrie wore pearl grey, brocaded with old lace, and necklace of pearls and diamonds and sunburst of diamonds in her hair.

Miss Tiny Hendrie wore a beautiful white silk, richly brocaded in red roses and with stripes of cadet blue satin and gold. The corsage was trimmed with yellow spotted net frills edged with black. Her gloves were black and her bouquet of meteor roses. Her sister was in pale blue satin with white valenciennes lace and shoulder knot of pink roses, black gloves.

Mrs. Schreiber was magnificently gowned in orchid moire antique with lace and splendid diamonds.

Mrs. Rutter wore a sort of black brocade, bodice in white with jet, round short sleeves and round the low bodice handsome pearl ornaments.

Miss Malloch was in pretty pink gown.

Mrs. Hetherington, formerly of Toronto, was in a handsome white satin gown with pearl trimming.

Mrs. Clemow was richly dressed in yellow silk with black and cream lace.

Mrs. (Dr.) Wilson of St. Thomas, who is the guest of Mme. Laurier, had a beautiful gown in sea green brocade, with pearl embroidery, Medici collar and sea green ostrich tips in her hair.

THE TURKS WHIPPED

Fighting at Malaxa Lasting All the Day.

INSURGENTS GOT THE BEST OF IT

The Foreign Warships Shelled Them, But They Captured the Block House—Turkish Consuls Withdrawn and Artillery Moving Towards the Frontier of Thessaly.

Canea, March 25.—The fighting in the vicinity of Malaxa continued throughout the day. It was especially desperate at 3 o'cock this afternoon in the village of Tsicalaria, where the insurgents set fire to a number of Turkish houses. The insurgents are now occupying Malaxa. The European warships shelled them this afternoon, the firing lasting about ten minutes. The insurgents, however, held their ground close to the ruins of the block house, from which they drove the Turkish garrison last night, and did not seem to greatly mind the bombardment.

When the Turkish troops evacuated the block house they set fire to it in order that it might not furnish a shelter to their enemies. It was, however, badly wrecked by the fire of the rebels.

It is vident that the Turkish troops here are no match for the insurgents. A body of troops made an attempt today to gain the height above Nerok-Ouru, where the Keratidi block house is situated. The troops had gone only a little distance when they were attacked by insurgents, who drove them back. Later another attempt was made to reach the heights, but this too proved unsuccessful.

A body of insurgents made an attack upon the Turkish cordon at Halepa. The Turks had a number of mountain guns and the fire from them prevented the insurgents from coming to close quarters. It was this alone which saved the Moslems from defeat.

Montevardia and Halepa are both within range of the guns of the insurgents, who continue to shell both places. This evening part of Malaxa was blown up with dynamite, and the rest of the town is buhning.

A force of 500 Highlanders was landed at Candia to-day and their appearance in the city caused the most intense excitement. The populace were evidntly ignorant of their coming until thy were in the town. The Turkish troops were also at a loss to account for their presence and apparently thought that they were about to be attacked. The Turkish officers had much difficulty in preventing their men from firing on the British troops. The garrison troops rushed to the shore from all directions, loading their rifles as they ran, and uttering threats against the British. The latter remained perfectly cool, and eventually the irritation was calmed. All danger, however, is not over. The Turkish troops do not appear to grasp the fact that the presence of the foreigners is practically the only thing that saves them from annihilation. Swarms of Turkish soldiers armed to the teeth are parading about the street giving voice to their fierce hatred of all infidels. The slightest spark may at any moment produce a fatal outbreak. It would be a queer commentary on the Turkish gratitude to find the Moslems and their Christian allies engaged in a bloody religious feud and it would further complicate the situation.

A number of Italian troops have also arrived at Candia.

THIS LOOKS WARLIKE.

Turkish Consuls Leaving Their Posts and Artillery Going Forward.

Salonica, March 25.—The Turkish consuls are leaving their posts in Thessaly, and the siege artillery is going to the front. This augurs an advance of the Turkish army.

Crown Prince Will Start.

Athens, March 25.—The Crown Prince will start at 4 o'clock to-morrow morning for Thessaly, where he will take command of the Greek troops. The early hour at which he will leave the city is due to a desire to avoid a demonstration.

Of Serious Import.

London, March 25.—The Athens correspondent of The Chronicle declares that the departure of Crown Prince Constantine for Thessaly is of the most serious import. It can only mean that Greece believes war is probable and declines longer to handicap herself by delaying the final step of preparation. The Prince's arrival on the frontier will mean a new disposal of the forces and will give immense impetus to all the arrangements for the transportation of troops, etc.

Turks Saved by the Powers.

Canea, March 25.—The artillery of the insurgents surrounding the town of Malaxa having rendered that place untenable to the Turkish troops comprising the Malaxa garrison, the latter began a retreat to Suda Bay last evening. They were pursued by the insurgents, who kept up a heavy fire upon the Turks, inflicting heavy loss upon them in killed and wounded, until the Turkish warships opened fire upon the insurgents, causing them to retreat to the interior.

But for the timely assistance of the warships the Turks would have been well nigh annihilated. The attempt to revictual the garrison at Malaxa, which was made last night, was as disastrous to the Turks as was the effort they made yesterday. The detachment of the troops carrying a supply of provisions was met by a strong force of insurgents and compelled to retreat with considerable loss.

"WE WANT GOOD ROADS."

This is the shibboleth of the bicyclists, who are booming the campaign for good roads. But they are not one-tenth as largely interested in good roads as the average farmer. Bicyclists use our highways mainly for pleasure; to the farmer they are a necessity. He cannot get his produce to market without roads, and on the state of the roads largely depends the net value of what he has to sell. If it costs him at the rate of a cent or two per bushel of his load in wear and tear and loss of time on bad roads, there goes the extra two cents for his grain, which he has perhaps driven miles out of his way to secure. With good, smooth roads, the farmer can choose his market. If one town a little more distant offers a better price, good roads will enable the farmer to reach the latter without serious loss of time and wear and tear. In summer the extra time required by bad roads, to make the trip to town for marketting or for repairs to machinery, may represent the time needed to save several loads of hay from a sudden rain. There's no doubt of it, "good roads pay," and it would pay farmers, who have the most at stake, to adopt and set up to the war cry of the bicyclists, "We want good roads."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

CHAMPAGNE is evidently a popular beverage in Wright county.

DOES the Ontario Opposition want the Treasury benches put up to tender?

IT was a very imprudent move to send a temperance man like Hon. Mr. Foster to a county which has so decided a taste for "fizz" as Wright county.

THE United States made a terrible onslaught on a peaceful arbitration treaty, but they would hesitate seriously before running up their submarine navy against a British warship or two.

CANADIAN saw-log men want an export duty on saw-logs; Canadian pulp wood men want an export duty on pulp wood. If we thus wish to pulverize Uncle Sam pulp wood do as an instalment.

THE division in the Ontario House on Wednesday struck the Opposition in a "tender" spot—a general majority of 23. The next division, though small, was worse—the unlucky 13 majority.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER is trying to run a political department store—trying to unite under one management the dominion and the several smaller provincial establishments. But it is to be noticed that he has not been advertising many bargain days lately.

"THE Standard Oil Company, the Sugar Trust and the Dressed Beef Trust are the infant industries especially pampered by the Dingley Bill. In fact these infants are so tenderly nursed that they are now able to get out of the cradle and soundly spank any political party that refuses to keep on rocking and feeding." This is the Globe's style of reductio ad absurdum.

PATRON LEADER HAYCOCK patronizes the humble hen. He says it is the most profitable adjunct to the farm and is capable of producing a return of thirty millions a year. Then the hen should be should be encouraged. The Dingley tariff of 5 cents a dozen on eggs shuts us out of the United States, but the cold storage system inaugurated by the present Dominion Government, renders it possible to ship eggs profitably to the British market, where the demand is, as far as our sources of supply are concerned, insatiable. With the government providing cold storage and deepening the St. Lawrence canal, the farmer has the way paved to making profitable use of his hens as well as his cows. In the present depressed condition of things the farmer should make every branch bear fruit.

ONTARIO AGRICULTURAL AND EXPERIMENTAL UNION.

Co-operative Experiments in Agriculture.

Upwards of 1,000 varieties of farm crops have been tested in the Experimental Department of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, within the past eleven years, and six hundred of them have been grown for at least five years in succession. Nearly all the Canadian sorts and several hundred new varieties imported by the Experimental Department from different parts of Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia and the United States have been included in these carefully conducted experiments. Some of the new varieties have done exceptionally well and have already been distributed over Ontario, through the medium of the Experimental Union, with very gratifying results. The Siberian oats, Mandscheuri barley, Herison bearded spring wheat, and the Cloud's early yellow dent, Mammoth Cuban, Wisconsin earliest white dent and Salzer's North Dakota varieties of corn, which are now becoming so popular in Ontario, were imported by the Experimental Department, and after being thoroughly tested were distributed in small quantities.

The present system of co-operative experimental work in agriculture was started in 1886 with 60 plots which were situated on twelve different farms in Ontario. Since that date, however, the plot has increased from year to year, and in 1896 there were 11,124 plots which were situated on 2,200 farms. We are again prepared to distribute material for co-operative experiments with fertilizers, fodder crops, roots, grains, grasses and clovers.

Interested persons in Ontario who wish to join in the work, may select any one of the experiments for 1897 and inform the directors at once of the choice made. All material will be furnished entirely free of charge to such applicant, but he will be expected to conduct the test according to the instructions sent with the seeds, and to report the results of his test as soon as possible after harvest.

LIST OF EXPERIMENTS FOR 1897.

1 Testing nitrate of soda, superphosphate, muriate of potash, mixture, and no manure with corn.
2 Testing nitrate of soda, superphosphate, muriate of potash, mixture, and no manure with mangolds.
3 Testing six leading varieties of fodder corn.
4 Growing three leguminous crops for green fodder.
5 Growing three mixtures of grain for green fodder.
6 Testing four varieties of grasses for hay.
7 Testing four varieties of clover for hay.
8 Testing three varieties of buckwheat.
9 Testing four varieties of spring wheat.
10 Testing four varieties of barley.
11 Testing five varieties of oats.
12 Testing four varieties of peas.
13 Testing three varieties of beans.
14 Testing five varieties of carrots.
15 Testing five varieties of mangolds.
16 Testing four varieties of turnips.

Material for either No. 1 or No. 2 experiment will be sent by express, and for each of the others it will be forwarded by mail. All fertilizers and seeds will be sent in good time for spring seeding, providing the applications are received at an early date. The supply of material being limited, those who apply first will be surest of obtaining the desired outfit. It might be well for each applicant to make a second choice for fear the first could not be granted.

Particular varieties need not be mentioned as all the kinds to be distributed are those which have done exceptionally well upon the trial plots in the Experimental Department.

Agricultural College, March 23, 1897.

The Revd. S. Riopel, M. D., County Jacques-Cartier, writes: "I have had considerable experience with Dr. Iver's 'Quickcure' and have always found it surprisingly effective, answering fully, when directions were observed, the several claims of its author. It relieves pain in an incredibly short time."

For Rheumatism, Pain in the Back, Sides or Chest, spread "Quickcure" on linen or cotton, as for burns, and cover with cotton batting, or even paper, over which put a bandage to keep all in place and protect the clothing. Many physicians will not prescribe or allow use of ordinary plasters, as so many contain Belladonna, and Aconite, and sometimes these drugs may be absorbed by the system and cause serious disturbances. Plasters made of "Quickcure" have been recommended, as being entirely free from anything which could possibly injure even a child, and no plaster removes pain so quickly.

In severe cases, doctors tell you to apply hot applications also, over the "Quickcure" plaster, covering the back, chest and neck well; flannel cloths wrung out of hot water will not injure "Quickcure" but aid its effect.

Karl's Clover Root will purify your blood, clear your complexion, regulate your bowels and make your head clear as a bell. 25c. 50c. and $1.00.

"I do not hesitate to speak of Dodd's Kidney Pills or anything else exactly as I find them. If a medicine cures me, and if I think it will cure others, why not say so?

"It is true I had been suffering for some time with Bladder trouble, and learning of a cure made in a similar case by Dodd's Kidney Pills, I commenced using them.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT!

The Mason & Risch Piano Co. L'td.

Beg to announce that they have assumed the Agency for Central and Western Ontario of the Pianos manufactured by Chickering & Sons, Boston.

It would be superfluous to make extended reference to the reputation of this famous house, or to the pianofortes manufactured by them. It is sufficient to say that for three quarters of a century they have occupied the position of absolute leaders in Musical Art manufacture, and their reputation was at no time greater than it is at present.

INTENDING PURCHASERS OF PIANOS

Now have the choice in our warerooms of goods manufactured by the acknowledged leaders of the American and Canadian trade. The association of such Instruments as Chickering & Sons and Mason & Risch Pianos beneath one roof forms a unique combination.

AS TO PRICES!

Pianos of high artistic merit must of necessity cost more than poorer instruments, but there is no question of the direction in which true economy lies. As an evidence of this it may be mentioned that the first Piano manufactured by Chickering & Sons 73 ago is still in an excellent state of preservation, and Pianos made by Mason & Risch over 20 years ago scarcely show any sign of wear. BRILLIANT OPENING.

Mrs. Coughlin of Montreal wore a cadet blue brocade with cream lace on the bodice and huge rose bouquet.

Mrs. Strathy of Montreal was beautifully gowned in cream silk and purple flowers.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER.

Among the Toronto ladies on the floor were Lady Gzowski, Mrs Edgar and daughters, Mrs George A Cox, Mrs W F Maclean, Miss Hodgins, Miss Dryman, Mrs Judge MacMahon, Mrs A F Rutter, Mrs H H Herbert Mason, and Miss Mason, Miss Thompson (daughter of Lady Thompson), Mrs Hetherington, Mrs Clemow.

From Hamilton were noticed Mrs. William Hendrie and two daughters, Mrs. A. T. Wood and Miss Wood and Miss Mulloch.

One of the features of the opening display was the number of young women in attendance. They were given the upper bank on each side and were all handsomely dressed, with fresh and pleasant faces.

The Liberals and their wives were everywhere and triumphant in that they were having their turn after a long wait.

The Governor having entered, the Commons were sent for and the speech from the throne was read,

The speech was of more than ordinary length, and as His Excellency had to wade through it twice, once in English and once in French, people got very tired of the French version. However, the more formal proceedings soon came to an end, and after the retirement of Their Excellencies there was a delightful and informal half hour, when the Senators and members mingled with the richly-dressed ladies and exchanged greetings.

The Senate met this afternoon at 2.30 for a few minutes, when the new Senators appointed since last session were introduced and sworn in.

Hon. David Mills was first presented on the carpet by Sir Oliver Mowat and Hon. R. W. Scott, and, after taking the oath, signed the roll. He was followed by Senator Cox, the new member from Toronto, and Senator King of New Brunswick, both of whom were also introduced by Sir Oliver and Hon. Mr. Scott.

The Senate then adjourned during pleasure, and resumed its session after the reading of the Speech from the Throne by His Excellency.

Senator Scott introduced a bill respecting railways, and proposed a motion, which was accepted, fixing Monday for the consideration of the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell asked whether the terms of the settlement of the school question would be laid before the Senate before Saturday or prior to the discussion on the address. It would be difficult to deal with this important question without having the exact terms of the settlement.

Senator Scott said that the terms of the settlement would be laid before the House prior to the discussion of the address, but he might say now that there was no correspondence on the subject.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell: Neither before or after?

Senator Scott: No.

The Senate then adjourned until Monday at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Over on the Commons side the Liberals had their little jubilation, as five new members supporting Mr. Laurier were introduced to one on the Conservative side. Mr. Sifton came in between Mr. Laurier and Mr. Sutherland, as also did Mr. Snetsinger, the new member for Cornwall. Mr. Mulock and Patron Douglas introduced Duncan Graham of North Ontario. Mr. Heyd of Brant came in between Mr. Laurier and Hon. Billy Paterson, while Mr. Davis, the new member for Saskatchewan, was introduced by Mr. Laurier and Whip Sutherland.

Then the Commons asserted its right to legislate before considering the Speech from the Throne by introducing a formal bill.

Mr. Laurier's motion that the Speech be taken into consideration to-morrow was adopted and the House adjourned.

The debate on the address in the Commons will not be concluded to-morrow, and may last the whole of next week. There will, however, be an amendment from the Conservative side, although there is talk to-night of a Quebec Conservative introducing an amendment on the school question. A change may be made in the mover and seconder. Mr. Russell is to move and Mr. Ethier to second the address.

His Excellency the Governor-General has received the following telegram from Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies:

"The Central Famine Relief Committee wish to express their deep gratitude for the great energy and liberality displayed by Canada in giving effect to their sympathy with the Indian sufferers. Her Majesty's Government and the Government of India cordially associate themselves with these sentiments and highly appreciate the generosity of Canadians as proof of the solidarity of the Empire."

There is talk of an adjournment of Parliament for some weeks at the end of May in order to permit Mr. Laurier to go to England. It is said Sir Charles Tupper is also anxious to cross the Atlantic at that time. Nothing definite has been settled, however.

There was quite a flood of notices of motion to-day for public bills. Chief amongst these is Mr. Mulock's, which provides for the abolition of the Civil Service Superannuation Act and the retirement of members of the Civil Service. If the Government, in deciding to do away with the superannuation system, makes it apply to men already in the service it will be a serious blow to those who have been counting upon a neat little income from this fund when they cease active work.

Messrs. Casey and Maclean are to the fore again with their bills for the protection of railway employes, both of which run much on the same lines. Mr. Maclean has, however, another important bill to amend the Railway Act, the object of which is to impose a maximum 2-cent per mile rate for the carriage of passengers and compel the railway companies or other companies owning sleeping cars to put upper berths up when not actually engaged.

Mr. Charlton presented two old stand-bys in the Sabbath Observance Act, which he wants to make more effective, and the bill to amend the criminal code by increasing the age of consent to 18 years.

Mr. Reid will test the opinion of the House on the question of aid to farmers and will move for the granting of a bonus of one cent per lb. on creamery butter for export.

The present state of feeling in Canada in regard to existing relations with the United States is exemplified by the prompt action of two members to introduce restrictive legislation against the United States. Mr. Cowan, member for Essex, has three bills on the notice paper. One is a fac simile of the U.S. Alien Labor Law, another seeks to abolish the reciprocal wrecking arrangement whereby a Canadian wrecking plant may operate in United States waters and vice versa, and a third bill seeks to amend the immigration laws of Canada by imposing a number of restrictions similar to those which the United States now places on immigrants.

Mr. Taylor, member for South Leeds, is also to the fore with a bill to prohibit foreign labor entering Canada under contract, but Mr. Cowan's bill will take precedence, the notice being handed in earlier.

It is stated that the Government has about decided to fix June 22, the Tuesday following coronation day, as the date for public celebrations in connection with the Queen's Diamond Jubilee throughout Canada. The day will be proclaimed a public holiday, as previously stated, this being the day on which the jubilee is to be celebrated in the British Isles.

The annual report of the Department of Trade and Commerce was presented to the House to-day. Deputy Minister Parmelee calls attention to the fact that, notwithstanding the exceptionally low prices for articles of Canadian export during the year, the aggregate value was greater than in any previous year since Confederation, and that again the total exports have exceeded the imports, the excess being about the same as during the year 1895. As regards imports a substantial increase over the previous year is shown, though by reason of the low prices the aggregate value was not equal to that of several former years, when higher prices ruled, but a comparison of the tonnage entering during the year with that of the years of greater values of imports indicates clearly an important increase for the year in the volume of import trade, as well as of the total trade of the country. A number of new tables are included in the volume, giving comparative trade figures back to 1892.

The written argument on behalf of British and Canadian interests on the Behring Sea Commission for the adjustment of the sealers' claims to indemnity has been completed. The counsel who returned from Victoria, where evidence was adduced, have been hard at work ever since on the preparation of the written argument, which had to be ready before May 1. It will be filed inside the prescribed time and then the United States authorities have the right to reply, also in a written argument, after which oral presentation of the case before two commissioners will take place, concluding the proceedings till judgments are handed down.

Harold C. Bickford, late of the Governor-General's Body Guard of Toronto, has left Canada on very short notice to assume a commission in the Imperial army. He has been assigned to a crack cavalry corps, the 6th Carbineers, and is not the first Canadian who has filled a commission in this regiment. Kenneth B. Campbell of Quebec, a Royal Military College graduate, served in it some years before he was transferred to the Suffolk Regiment.

The day of the two-cent a mile railway rate is coming. To-day the Ottawa and Parry Sound Railway Company brought in a great crowd of excursionists from points along the line. The rate from Parry Sound to Ottawa and return was only $3 for the actual distance traveled of 526 miles. Now figure out how much that is a mile.

Dr. S. J. Andrea, Beaver Hall, Montreal, writes:—"On several occasions I have known 'Pheno-Banum' or 'Quickcure' to remove Pain in the Back within fifteen minutes. It is especially valuable where Belladonna or Aconite plasters would not be prescribed."

A Chippewa Man Caught by a Large Fly Wheel at Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Instantly Killed.

Niagara Falls, Ont., March 24.—(Special.)—A man named Bowers, living at Chippewa, Ont., was killed while at work in the big paper mills across the river this afternoon. Bowers was passing an immense wheel, which was traveling at the rate of 150 revolutions per minute, when his clothing became entangled in the belt and he was dragged into the wheel. Both legs were severed above the knee, and one of them was thrown through a window 150 feet away. He was otherwise crushed and mangled. Death was instantaneous.

Monday Night's Opera.

Although "Rob Roy" is a Scottish opera the local color has been laid on sparingly in order not to bewilder American audiences with unfamiliar dialect and costumes. "Erminie" and "Rob Roy" may be mentioned in the same breath, they are the two most successful operatic comiques that have been produced in America, the music in "Rob Roy" is tuneful and catchy and the succession of stage pictures afforded by the rich beauty of the contrasting Scotch plaids is so brilliant and effective that the applause becomes spontaneous and convincing. Secure your seats early and avoid the rush. 1d

Board of Trade Meeting To-night.

A special meeting of the Board of Trade is called for to-night, at 8 o'clock sharp, in the council chamber. The meeting is called to receive and deal with the report of the committee appointed to confer with a similar committee of the town council to make arrangements for the deputation to Ottawa on April 6th. Members will kindly note that eight o'clock means eight o'clock. Former meetings have been greatly delayed by tardy attendance. As a rule from the time the first members put in an appearance till late arrivals make a respectable quorum, enough time has elapsed to conduct the business of the meeting.

A Unique Entertainment.

The members of the Ladies' Aid of the Charlotte street Methodist church propose presenting a most novel entertainment in the Opera House in the near future. The entire programme will be in the hands of the ladies, of whom fully thirty will participate. The entertainment will take the form of a mock parliament and will be of so unique a character as to prove most novel and interesting. The Legislative Assembly is chosen as a model and business is transacted and debates carried on in a manner which will doubtless be sufficiently attractive to prove a great success. 2d2

THE MIDNIGHT FRACAS.

The Participants are Fined Ten Dollars and Costs Each.

Five young "bloods" were up in the police court this morning charged with being disorderly on the street on Wednesday morning last.

By the evidence adduced it was shown that three of the participants were in a restaurant shortly before one o'clock in the morning and when the two others came in some uncomplimentary remarks were exchanged. The restaurateur persuaded the two last comers to leave by the rear door to avoid any friction, but after circling the block they came past the front door again, and meeting the trio, who had just come out a free fight ensued, in which the pair were badly used used up by the trio. A charge of using a "sling shot" was also preferred against one of the participants, but although the weapon was found next morning on the scene of the fracas, it was impossible to decide by the evidence by whom it had been used.

A fine of ten dollars, and costs of $2 45, was imposed on each of the defendants.

The court room was crowded to the doors, amongst the spectators being Evangelia. Ranton, who will doubtless give his hearers to-night his version of the evidence.

OBITUARY.

The Death of Stephen Roadhouse Occurred This Morning.

The death of Mr. Stephen Roadhouse, aged 45, occurred at his residence, No. 24, Louis street, this morning.

The deceased was born in Mitchell, Ont., and had resided in Peterborough for the last eighteen years during which time he has been the foreman in the paintshop of the Peter Hamilton Mfg. Co. He has been a sufferer from pleurisy since last September, and during the last month has been sinking so steadily that his much lamented death was the result. He was a much valued employee of the company and was held in high respect as a citizen.

A widow and six children survive, viz: Wm. J., Clara, Jennie, Amos, Ida and Eva. Deceased was an honoured member of the local lodges of the Sons of England and Independent Order of Oddfellows. The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon from the family residence under S.O.E. Auspices.

MR. E. A. STANLEY HANDSOMELY REMEMBERED.

Presentated With a Beautifully Illuminated Address.

Mr. E. A. Stanley, who has for the past three years been connected with the Canadian General Electric Works in the capacity of superintendent of the car shops, leaves on Wednesday next to enter upon the duties of the position of manager of an electrical establishment at Wilmington, Delaware, U.S. During the time he has been in Peterborough Mr. Stanley has taken an active and intelligent part in the promotion of the interests of almost every branch of work in the Murray street Baptist church, and in recognition of his faithful services, so cheerfully and efficiently rendered, he was made the object of an appreciative expression of recognition last night. About forty of Mr. Stanley's associates in Christian work in the church peacefully invaded his residence and, after a little preliminary greeting, presented Mr. Stanley with the following which was read by Miss Lottie Perrin:—

ADDRESS,

Mr. E. A. Stanley,—

DEAR SIR,—Kindly accept these few words of farewell, and the accompanying emblems, as reminders to you of your three years' sojourn under the protecting care of the Union Jack, in this our fair Canadian home, and may the names attached hereto be pledges to you of the continuance of that bond of Christian friendship which has been so firmly established between you and those of us who have been so intimately associated with you in endeavouring to advance the Master's cause in the Murray street Baptist Church.

We are assured that your faithful service here has been, and will continue to be, blessed. It has, we believe, been used by the Holy Spirit, and only He can tell how far-reaching its influence will be. "Cast thy bread upon the waters, for thou shalt find it after many days."

While for our own sakes we greatly regret that the past, pleasant, personal associations we have enjoyed must necessarily cease, we are glad for your own sake that your temporal interests are being improved, and we are sure, from past experience, that the gain in material means which your new conditions involve, will only lead you on in the spirit of spending and being spent in the service of our Lord and in the promotion of the interests of His church.

Mrs. Stanley, yourself and family, carry with you to your new home our best wishes and sincere prayers, that the Lord Jesus may ever deal kindly with you and guide you safely through life's ever-varying experience. (St. Jude 1, 24 and 25.)

The names of the following ladies and gentlemen were appended to the address:

Miss Lottie Perrin,	Mr. Dudley,
Miss M. L. Stratton,	Miss Ada Macdonald,
Miss A. Hutchinson,	Miss N. Minoe,
Miss E. Perrin,	Miss A. Aldridge,
Miss A. Croly,	Miss L. Plummer,
Mr. R. E. Harding,	Mr. L. Croly,
Miss Ida Taylor,	W. D. Scott, M.D.,
Mr. B Yelland,	Mrs. (Dr.) Scott,
Mrs. Dykeman,	Mr. Harry Webber,
Mrs. Yelland,	Mr. E. A. Kemp,
Miss E. Aldridge,	Miss Edith Smith,
Mrs. Harding,	Mr. A. Hadden,
Miss Maud Taylor,	Miss L. H. Hughes,
Miss M. Harding,	Miss Ada Blewitt,
Rev. A. T. Dykeman,	Mr. T. M. D. Croly,
Mr. Robert Anderson,	Mrs. Croly,
Miss N. Harding,	Miss Dolly Langford,
Miss Nicholls,	Mr. E. B. Edwards,
Miss M. A. Nicholls,	Mrs. (Dr.) Hunter,
Mrs. T. F. Matthews,	Mr. W. Barrie.

Mr. Stanley in replying to the sentiments of the address, was evidently deeply moved, but he gracefully and feelingly acknowledged the recognition of what he had been privileged to do in the interests of the church, and in feeling terms expressed his thanks for the very kind good wishes expressed.

After a short time spent in social intercourse, concluded by prayer, the company separated.

Mr. Stanley leaves town on Wednesday, but his family will remain in town till about the middle of May.

A word or two of praise is to be given to the address, which is a work of art, and, apart from the sentiments it contained, is commendable for its artistic beauty and emblematic significance. The address was beautifully engrossed on parchment, the address on one page, about eight by ten inches, written in a space outlined in gold in the form of a shield. The forty names attached were written on another page inside the space, enclosed by the outlines of a maple leaf traced in gold. The parchment sheets were interleaved with blue silk, and the cover of the whole was enclosed in a cover of white corded silk, the front page of which was artistically covered with a combined international emblem, composed of the Union Jack and Stars and Stripes (Mr. Stanley being an American) with the flag staffs crossed and the folds interwoven and draped together at the bottom. The space above, between the flag staffs, was filled in with a maple leaf upon which rested the figure of the Canadian beaver.

The whole device was painted in appropriate colours and its spirited symbolism constitute it a work of art, and it will doubtless be highly valued by Mr. Stanley, as a beautiful emblematic reminder of the years he spent in Canada and of the warmth of friendship of which Canadian hearts are capable.

The artistic designing and painting of the cover and of the parchments were the excellent work of Mr. D. A. Shaw, artist, and the artistic penmanship was the handiwork of Mr. W. Pringle, of the Peterborough Business College.

A Lumber Camp Victim.

Yesterday morning shantyman named Maurice Hickey, belonging to Swamp Lake in Galway township, arrived in Lindsay from Huntsville hospital, where he spent the past six weeks suffering with a broken leg. Hickey was employed in one of the Gilmour Co. shanties, about 45 miles from Dorset, and while helping to unload logs the skid pole sprung and struck his left leg, breaking the bone in two places between the ankle and knee. As none of his his companions knew how to put the limb in splints, he had to be taken in a sleigh 55 miles to Huntsville, and he suffered great pain owing to the splintered condition of the bone. His brother, John Hickey, took care of him on the way home.

THE SESSION OPENS.

The stock criticism of speeches from the Throne at the opening of Parliament—that they are "remarkable for what they do not contain"—does not apply to the speech put into His Excellency's mouth by his advisers at Ottawa yesterday. It contains several important references. Of course reference is made to the Manitoba school question, whose settlement, effected during recess, forever removes it from the arena of federal politics. And unless for the purposes of factious opposition, the time of Parliament will not be consumed in the discussion of a question that has for some time past absorbed the attention of Parliament at the expense of the proper consideration of legislation of a practical character. The Speech promises a measure of tariff revision and preparations for the taking of a plebiscite on the subject of prohibition. Besides, the Liberals are prepared to renounce, in the interests of economy, justice and fair play, whatever advantages might accrue (as they have accrued to the Conservative party in the past) from the administration of the Franchise Act, which will during this session disappear from the statute book, to give place to a fair, just and satisfactory enactment. This will be a business session and no time will be lost in introducing important measures. The new franchise bill will be introduced next Monday. The session opens with a prospect that, under the present Administration, its deliberations will be directed as exclusively as the Opposition will permit, to the promotion of the interests of Canada.

IN MEMORIAM

OF THE LATE MRS. JAMES MCCABE, WHO DIED OCTOBER, 1896:

Mother dear, thou hast left us,
Thy troubles and trials they are o'er;
In heaven we hope at last to meet thee,
But on earth, alas! no more.

Alone through life we now must wander,
Thy voice no more to hear;
Also our home is sad and lonely,
No mother's arm now lingers near.

We would not call her back again,
For she is better far;
From sin and sorrow she is safe
Within the gates ajar.

Restrain thy tears, dear children,
And learn this lesson still;
That God who gives can take away,
Blest be his holy will.

Then dear friends dry up your tears,
Your burden cast on God;
He but afflicts you for your good,
Now kiss His chastening rod.

His greatest trials are sent through love,
With meek submission say
Not ours, O Lord, Thy will be done,
Our mother take away.

Requiescat in pace.

A OTONABEE BRIDAL.

Nuptials of Mr. W. T. Tully, Town, and Miss Susie Matchett.

On Wednesday evening, March 17th, the residence of Mr. Jas. Matchett, Otonabee, was the scene of an interesting matrimonial event, the occasion being the marriage of Miss Susie Matchett, one of the most popular young ladies of the neighbourhood, and for a number of years organist of Bethel church, to Mr. Wm. T. Tully, of town. About seventy-five guests were in attendance. The bride who was beautifully attired, was attended by her cousin, Miss Minnie Morton, town, while Robt. J. Tully, brother of the groom, acted as best man. After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. W. C. Beer, of Mark street church, Ashburnham, the happy company sat down to a sumptuous repast. The bride was the recipient of many valuable presents, and the happy couple received the hearty congratulations of their numerous friends. Mrs. and Mrs. Tully will take up their residence in Peterborough.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES.

Crowded Meetings Greet the Speaker Nightly.

The attendance is nightly growing larger at the George street Methodist church, where Evangelist Ranton is conducting a series of revival meetings.

Last evening he took his text from St. John, xvii chap. 14th ver.: "And when He saw them He said unto them, go show yourselves unto the priests; and it came to pass that as they went they were cleansed."

The theme of the sermon was "How to get there," and the speaker spoke of the many difficulties in the way of obtaining salvation. The difficulty came not from the side of the Saviour but from the obstructions which the sinner raised in his own path. One of the first things needful in order to "get there" was repentance—the turning over of a new leaf entirely, or as Sam Jones used to say, "quit your meanness." Many would become Christians, but were afraid to make a public profession or were fearful that once having made this profession they would be unable to live up to it. On these the speaker urged the taking of the first step, and impressed upon them that though hardships would doubtless be encountered, yet the goal which they were striving for was a glorious one, and the "Well done, good and faithful servant" would be ample reward for those who had fought the good fight.

The evening's address is entitled "How, if and but."

"I bought a box of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure at the drug store of Mr. Boyle, here. I am thankful to say it has proved most effective. I have also tried your kidney-liver pills and found them excellent."—Henry R. Nicholls, rectory, London.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

The water is very high in the vicinity of Franklin station between Millbrook and Bethany, and it is feared that damage to the track will result.

An east bound freight was stopped at Omemee on Saturday, and the engine sent back to Lindsay for a car of timber, a message having been received that it might be wanted to repair breaks along the line, owing to the high water.

A guard who has been employed on the Great Western Railway, running between London and Liverpool, on retiring after 50 years' service, was presented with an address and one hundred guineas. He is said to have travelled four millions of miles, and nothing has gone wrong during his long service.

Owing to the mild weather the G. T. R. management have had little opportunity of testing the efficacy of the 100 miles or so of improved snow fencing erected last fall on this and other divisions.

If your child is attacked with Croup, a plaster made with "Quickcure" spread with a warm knife blade on canton flannel, linen or cotton, will give more prompt relief, from croup or any inflammation, than camphorated oil, or mustard. In severe cases, doctors tell you to apply hot applications also, over the "Quickcure" plaster, covering the chest and neck well.

"A DRUNKARD'S LIFE."

Entertainment at the Salvation Army Barracks Last Evening.

"Four Scenes in a Drunkard's Life," was put on the boards at the Salvation Army barracks last night to a fair-sized audience, considering the inclemency of the weather.

The evening's entertainment was opened with a song entitled, "I'm Glad I am a Soldier," by the full corps with band accompaniment. The first act represented the interior of a Bowery restaurant and bar with Mr. R. C. Braund as wine clerk. The bar was well supplied with various brands of liquors, ales, etc. Mark Spencely was the star of the evening and played his part as a drunkard admirably—acting as a "sponge" until he was finally knocked out. T. Redner furnished music with his fiddle to his dropping in. Then came a scrap between Mark and Jim True and the fiddler. Mark gets the worst of it and is arrested by Chief of Police George Stephens. Then comes the Salvations Army to the rescue, and Mark is liberated and brought home.

Act II.—The interior of a drunkard's home, with father, mother and three children. Father drunk; mother with babe in her arms; children in rags; fire out—no wood; half an inch of candle with a black bottle for holder; a three-legged table. These are all their belongings, and worst of all there is nothing to eat.

Then came a song, rendered by Miss Nellie Baker, which was well received, followed by a selection from the band. The third act was pretty much the same as the second, Mark repeatedly promising that "he wouldn't get drunk any more." The fourth act represented quite a change in Mark's homestead. Instead of having the walls papered with old newspapers, they were papered in up-to-date style, with carpet on the floor, pictures on the wall, an organ in the parlour, in fact everything lovely and the family in happiness receiving calls from members of the Salvation Army, spending an evening in song, Scripture reading and prayer.

At the close Mrs. Green and Mrs. Braund and families followed with a quintette, which was well rendered. The evening was a most enjoyable one to those who attended, as the four scenes in a drunkard's life were in no particular exagerated. Thanks we tendered to Mr. H. Calcutt for the use of barrels, kegs, bottles, cases and such material used in holding liquor for the decoration of the bar, also to J. J. Turner & Sons for the stage decorations.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheeling and Other Items of Local and General Interest.

LACROSSE.

The Granites met last night in the Palace Restaurant rooms and re-organized for the season. The attendance was large and the members very enthusiastic. Last year no matches were played but this season the boys expect to give a good account of themselves. The following officers were elected:

Hon. President—C. LeBrun.
President—Jas. Snider.
1st Vice-President—D. Davidson.
2nd Vice-President—F. Lynch.
Captain—W. Moncrief.
Sec.-Treas—Thos. Lannin.
Executive Committee—H. Melville, Geo. Cairns, Wm. Miller.

HOCKEY.

The Kingston Whig in reviewing the hockey season says: "In all Queen's men played thirteen matches during the season, scoring eighty-six points, as compared with fifty-eight against them. They met Frontenacs four times, tallying twenty-four points to twenty-six by their juniors. In two meetings with Rockwoods Queen's scored seventeen to their opponents twelve. In their finals with 'Varsity they scored twelve to 'Varsity's seven. They had one meeting with the Peterborough aggregation, scored four to the boroughites five. Peterborough defaulted the second match putting Queen's into the finals with 'Varsity. While in New York they won the international and intercollegiate championship, defeating Yale by three goals to none. In two other matches with Montclair and New York teams they scored thirteen points to seven. Frontenacs have played eleven matches, scoring in all ninety goals to seventy against them. In a series of four matches with Queen's they came out with two points to the good, scoring twenty-six to twenty-four. They have won five matches, lost four and tied two, were shut from scoring once with three goals against them, and in turn shut out one team by ten goals. They played two matches with Rockwoods, losing the round by one point, the score being twenty-seven to twenty-six. The semi-final rounds of group II were won from Peterborough II by a score of eighteen to eleven."

CURLING.

It is understood that two players are a tie in the points game for the medal presented by the Ontario Curling Association. As the weather will not permit the tie to be played off, it is probable the O.C.A. will give both players a medal. Just where they reside or the number of points made is not divulged.

A Foot As "Black as Your Hat."

"One of my children sprained her ankle, which became much swollen and discoloured. Some "Quickcure" was spread on linen, and applied; the pain ceased at once, the swelling was gone next day, and on the fourth day she walked to school as usual."

Signed, HENRY IEVERS, L.D.S., Quebec.

FORTUNE IN FUTURES.....

Alexander T. Stewart began his business career without capital and in 53 years accumulated $40,000,000. His successors began with his $40,000,000 and in 20 years failed. Stewart dealt in futures; he filled his stores and contracted ahead for manufactures before big advances and he emptied his stores and sold for future account at other times before big declines. He discounted the future. His successors rested on a BIG NAME and never dealt in future prospects.

A year ago I advertised to buy cotton below seven cents. It afterwards advanced two cents or $1,000 on on 100 bales. Last summer I advertised to buy wheat around 80 cts., it has since sold at 96 or $2,000 on 10,000 bushels. Now advise the purchase of Corn around 25 cts. for July. It will show a Big Profit by the middle of June. Buy Mess Pork around $8.25; it will sell at $10 before its does at $8. A young woman about to be presented at court receives the fullest instructions as to her behavior. She is told how to dress; how to manage her train; how to courtesy correctly. Every incident is carefully rehearsed so that she may commit no blunder in the presence of royalty. If all this trouble is worth while for the satisfaction of one brief moment, how infinitely more important it is that a young girl about to enter into the sacred precincts of womanhood, should be properly instructed in all that concerns a life-time of possible happiness, or possible misery.

Every mother ought to see to it that her daughters are healthy and strong in a womanly way. She ought to make them aware that any neglect or irregularity of the special functions of womanhood may result in life-long weakness and disease.

Any mother or daughter may write concerning these delicate ailments, with the utmost confidence to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. Her letter will be answered free of charge with suggestions for self-treatment at home, by which these complaints may be overcome without need of mortifying examinations.

Dr. Pierce has had over thirty years' experience in the treatment of women's diseases, and is an eminent specialist in this particular field of practice. His "Favorite Prescription" cures completely and permanently the most obstinate cases of feminine weakness and disease. It heals all inflamed conditions, strengthens and tones the nerve-centres and the entire womanly organism.

For prospective mothers and nursing mothers, the "Favorite Prescription" is a perfect strength sustainer.

SIR ADOLPHE CARON ABROAD.

Told a New York Interviewer Canada Could Prosper in Spite of the Tariff —No Annexation Sentiment.

New York, March 24.—Sir Adolphe Caron of Ottawa, an ex-member of the Canadian Cabinet, who is stopping at the Gilsey House, in an interview to-day said that Canada was preparing to celebrate the Queen's Jubilee, which takes place in June, on an unprecedented scale. With regard to the business outlook, he said there was a good prospect that the country was about to enjoy the greatest prosperity it had ever known. The new tariff law which the United States would undoubtedly pass would, he thought, interfere to some extent, but, he said, Canada is great enough to withstand a high tariff. He denied that any sentiment existed in Canada favorable to annexation to the United States. He spoke enthusiastically of Canada's mineral resources, and said the Canadian people are beginning to understand that they have perhaps the greatest mining country in the world.

Ex-Member of Parliament Ross of Toronto, who accompanies Sir Adolphe, was also enthusiastic in his praise of Canada's mining resources, and said that just now there is a great rush to the Kootenay country in British Columbia. The principal deposit of that section is, he stated, a fine quality of coking coal. He further stated that silver ore yielding 400 ounces to the ton is being mined there.

More Stringent Divorce Law.

Albany, N.Y., March 24.—The following bills were introduced in the Assembly to-day:

Mr. Tupper, providing that in divorce cases, no defendant convicted of adultery shall remarry unless the court modify the judgment upon satisfactory proof that three years has elapsed since the decree was rendered.

Mr. Horton, providing that sturgeon may be caught with nets of not less than six inches bar mesh within the one mile shore limit of Lake Ontario.

CURED OF SCIATICA.

Toronto Junction, Mar. 15 (Special)—Mr. H. Playter, is not a difficult man to find as everybody here knows that he is foreman at No. 1 Fire Hall. He was the picture of health when called upon by your correspondent and told his story thus:

"In April 1896 I suffered from a severe attack of sciatica, affecting my left hip and leg to the tip of the toes. I suspected it came from some form of kidney trouble, and as they had been recommended I procured a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

At the end of the fourth day I was entirely relieved, but desiring a permanent cure I continued to use that and another box and am now perfectly cured and as well as ever in my life. A brother of mine living at Pine Orchard has been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

BOYD WILL RUN AGAIN,

But Hon. Hugh John Macdonald Will Probably Remain Out of Federal Politics.

Winnipeg, March 24.—(Special.)—The decisions of the Supreme Court to-day will result in two elections in Manitoba, the constituencies of Winnipeg and Macdonald having been declared vacant. In Winnipeg, an acclamation is not unlikely, now that Hugh John Macdonald, by accepting the leadership of the Provincial Opposition to Mr. Greenway, is out of Dominion politics. If the Liberals can induce Isaac Campbell to be their candidate, the chances are that the Conservatives would not oppose him, as he is, personally, very popular with both sides. However, should ex-Mayor Jameson be the Government candidate, as seems likely, the Conservatives may nominate J. H. Brock to oppose him. Mr. Brock would make a very strong run. Indeed, he is almost as strong a man as Hugh John. However, the Winnipeg Conservatives are just now bent on accomplishing the downfall of Mr. Greenway, and many of them do not favor wasting any ammunition on the Dominion seat. They cannot, many of them ,see what advantage is to be gained by the Conservatives retaining the seat.

In the Macdonald constituency, it may be taken for granted that Mr. Boyd, the unseated member, will again be the Conservative candidate.

The final act in the school settlement, as far as Manitoba is concerned, was taken by the Legislature this afternoon, when the bill containing the amendments to the Manitoba School law, in accordance with the terms of the Laurier-Greenway settlement, was read the third time. The third reading was adopted without a word of discussion. The Manitoba Legislature to-day adopted the supplementary estimates, the chief item of which was $60,000 for a permanent building for Manitoba University.

Premier Greenway goes to Ottawa immediately on the close of the Manitoba Legislature to consult with Premier Laurier.

The Manitoba Legislature will seek the advice of skilled counsel as to whether, under the recent Privy Council decision, they can pass a prohibitory liquor law for Manitoba.

SHEEP BREEDERS IN SESSION.

Favorable Reports of the Oldest of Ontario's Stock Associations—Freight Rates Considered.

Toronto, March 25.

The Dominion Sheep Breeders' Association was in session at the Palmer House yesterday afternoon, the following gentlemen being present: J. Tolton, Walkerton; John Campbell, Woodville; D. G. Hanmer, Burford; J. C. Snell, Snelgrove; John Jackson, Abingdon; R. Gibson, Delaware; H. Arkell, Oxford; John Kelly, Shakespeare; J. Gibson, Denfield; R. H. Harding, Thorndale; W. M. Smith, Fairfield Plains; John I. Hobson, Mossboro; Prof. G. E. Day, Royal Agricultural College, Guelph.

Mr. Tolton presided and the main business was receiving the secretary's report, which was the same as that delivered on Tuesday at the cattle breeders' meeting, which also included an interesting history of the inception and prosperous growth of the Sheep Breeders' Association. It is the oldest of the stock associations, having been organized 20 years ago.

The financial statement showed a balance on hand of $197, against a deficit of $55 for 1895. The amount contributed for prizes at the Fat Stock Show in 1896 was $1147, as against $414 in 1895.

Messrs. R. Gibson, J. Russell and J. C. Snell reported regarding the winter show. Last year the Prince of Wales prize went to the Canadian Horse Show, but the sheep breeders are after it this year.

Mr. G. S. Macdonald addressed the meeting on the question of tariff and freight rates.

DIXON BEATS ERNE.

A Bottle of 25 Rounds With the Buffalo Boy on the Defensive.

New York, March 24.—Frank Erne met George Dixon for the second time at the Broadway Athletic Club to-night, and Dixon got the decision without the shadow of cavil. Dixon was himself to-night, and he did all the leading up to the twenty-first round. Erne stayed away, and scarcely landed three good blows until the twenty-first round. Dixon fought differently from his usual style. He was more cautious, and tried hard to get Erne to lead. But the Buffalo boy appeared afraid and sluggish, and he kept strictly away until after the twentieth round. Then he made a desperate effort to knock his man out, but failed utterly.

The crowd was much dissatisfied with Erne's style. It was a clean battle, and no blood was shed throughout. The referee's decision was received with loud applause.

Dixon deserved a great deal of credit for his showing. He was giving away nine pounds, and only went on from sheer pluck and in order not to disappoint the public. The last meeting resulted in a decision in favor of Erne on points, but Dixon's admirers were by no means satisfied with the outcome. The preliminary was to have been a 12-round bout between two colored middleweights, Lon Beckwith of Cleveland and George Beyers of Boston, but Beyers had his man groggy after two minutes and eight seconds of the fifth round, and the referee stopped the bout.

There were 4000 spectators present when Erne and Dixon appeared. Dixon weighed 121¼ pounds and Erne scaled 130¾ pounds when they weighed in at noon to-day. Tom O'Rourke wanted to call the match off, but Dixon wished to fight, and Erne forfeited $500. The betting was about even money. Many of the colored boy's friends wanted to back him heavily before the weight question was made known, but when it transpired that Dixon was giving away so much weight there was a feeling of uneasiness, and much money was kept back. The Buffalo delegation applauded Erne to the echo when he appeared, and Dixon also came in for a warm reception.

"Success is the reward of merit" not of assumption. Popular appreciation is what tells in the long run. For fifty years, people have been using Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and to-day it is the blood-purifier most in favor with the public. Ayer's Sarsaparilla cures.

IN TORONTO THE GOOD.

A Fin-de-Siecle Fistic Encounter Between Two Women Which Lasted Over an Hour.

Toronto, March 25.

What is this city coming to, and what is Inspector Archabold doing these days? The other night there took place in Toronto the Good a fin-de-siecle pugilistic contest which the morality official should look into.

The contestants were a married and an unmarried woman, who both live in Parkdale, and the reason for the encounter was a charge made by the former that the latter had alienated her husband's affections.

The arena selected for the mill was a back room in a down-town restaurant, and at midnight the women, accompanied by two young men, entered the ring. They were both stripped to the waist, their nether limbs being covered by light skirts, and they fought without gloves.

The combat raged fiercely for an hour and twenty minutes, when two strangers, who dropped in for a meal, put a stop to it. During the fight both women fared pretty badly. Their hair was torn and their faces and bodies were badly scratched. At one stage of the encounter one buried a hat pin in the other's breast, and some force had to be used in extracting it before the fight could go on. When the battle ended the women both stood almost entirely naked, the small amount of clothing they had worn at the start having been torn to shreds.

CANCER CURED
—AND A—LIFE SAVED
by the Persistent Use of
Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"I was troubled for years with a sore on my knee, which several physicians, who treated me, called a cancer, assuring me that nothing could be done to save my life. As a last resort, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after taking a number of bottles, the sore began to disappear and my general health improve. I persisted in this treatment, until the sore was entirely healed. Since then, I use Ayer's Sarsaparilla occasionally as a tonic and blood-purifier, and, indeed, it seems as though I could not keep house without it."—Mrs. S. A. Fields, Bloomfield, Ia.

COST HALF A MILLION

THE BRADLEY MARTIN FANCY DRESS BALL IN NEW YORK.

Why Canadians Have Become Interested in the Event—A Sketch of the Extravagant Appointments, With Brief Sketches of the Guests and Costumes.

"I believe that the giving of lavish entertainments by the rich is at this time politically, socially and ethically unwise. "Extravagant entertainments draw attention to and accentuate existing social differences and to the widening chasm between the rich and poor.

"Defence of such a course by claiming that it puts money in circulation is utterly fallacious. The money spent does not circulate far. Those benefited are persons already well to do—florists, caterers, fashionable modistes."

Such is the warning uttered by the pastor of one of New York's fashionable churches at the very height of the fashionable season and on the eve of the Bradley Martin entertainment, of which all society is talking, and which cost more than half a million dollars. Canadians generally have become interested in this function of the 400 of New York because the clergyman who uttered the warning was Rev. Dr. Rainsford, formerly of St. James' Cathedral of Toronto.

Although Dr. Rainsford's warning was impersonal, everybody at once found their minds coupling the clergyman's words with the fancy dress ball of the Bradley Martins at the Waldorf Hotel on the evening of February 10. Never before in the whole history of private amusement has there been a ball organized upon so extravagant a scale. The arrangements for this enormous gathering of fashionable people had been made utterly regardless of expense. Whole floors of the Waldorf Hotel were set aside for the amusement of Mrs. Bradley Mardin and her guests, and decorations of the most elaborate and costly nature were ordered.

One room is an imitation of the great dancing hall of the palace of Versailles, where the leaders of European aristocracy before the French Revolution assembled at the brilliant entertainments of Louis XIV.

Even this monarch, the most extravagant man that ever lived, never gave an entertainment that cost so much. His prodigality impoverished France, but he never paid $1460 for an outfit of stockings for his servants at one entertainment, as Mrs. Bradley Martin has done. That single item of silk stockings will give an idea of the recklessness of cost with which this entertainment had been planned.

Everything else is in proportion. Continuous course suppers served in various parts of the building during the whole night is one feature of the ball. Truckloads of champagne opened. An army of liveried servants, all wearing costly and elaborate garments specially designed for the one evening, waited upon the guests. These servants were better dressed than any of the servants of the French monarch whose most gorgeous entertainments were excelled by Mrs. Bradley Martin on February 10, and the great Vanderbuilt fancy dress ball with which Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt opened her new house on Fifth avenue, was entirely eclipsed. The Venderbilt ball, given more than a dozen years ago, made people stare at the time because of the enormously extravagant scale upon which it had been given, and it has never since been surpassed or in any way equalled by any entertainment of the kind.

Mrs. Bradley Martin not only went Louis the Grand one better, but the Vanderbilts as well. Her ball will go down in the social history of America as the greatest private fete ever given in the republic. And it is believed that no entertainment ever given in Europe by a private individual will equal this ball in cost and magnificence.

There are many people who confidently assert that a round million of dollars were spent upon this single evening's entertainment by hosts and guests. No wonder this unexampled illustration of wasteful extravagance while millions of people are starving and other millions can barely find the necessities of life has already excited criticism and has aroused the Rev. Dr. Rainsford, pastor of St. George's fashionable Episcopal church, to righteousness indignation.

Most of the 2000 people who were invited each spent at least $250 upon the gorgeous costumes of the sixteenth, seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, which the invitations required them to wear; many spent six and eight times that amount. That makes the grand total easily $500,000 for the costumes alone.

There was both a buffet and a course supper, served continually from 11 o'clock until 4 in the morning.

Mrs. Astor and Mrs. John Jacob Astor sent to Worth for their costumes. Mrs. Astor wore Queen Marie Antoinette's famous stomachers of diamonds which she bought several years ago at the sale of the French Crown jewels.

Mrs. Ogden Mills wore a court costume of the sixteenth century.

The beautiful Miss Davies, who is a niece of Mrs. Bradley Martin, divided the honors as belle of the ball with Miss Katherine Duer. Miss Davies has seen but little on this side of the water, as, since her debut two winters ago, she has spent most of her time with her cousin, the Countess of Craven, at Mrs. Bradley Martin's castle in Scotland.

The sensation of the evening was the entrance of "Mme. de Sillery," a celebrated court beauty of the time. She was carried in a sedan chair by two stalwart men-at-arms. Mrs. W. C. Whitney took this part.

King Henry VIII. was in evidence. A magnificent costume of that monarch created wonderful interest.

A very pretty spectacle was two quadrilles, in which eight young men in "Incroyable" costumes, all exactly alike, with lace ruffles, cravats and hats of the period, danced in the same set.

Mrs. John Jacob Astor, Mrs. Ogden Mills, Mrs. Elisha Dyer and Mrs. Bradley-Martin each had charge of a quadrille, and Mary Queen of Scots appeared, one blaze in diamonds from peared, one blaze in diamonds from head to foot.

Miss Kate Brice, the handsome daughter of Senator Calvin S. Brice, appeared as Marie Antoinette. Miss Brice's gown was an exact reproduction of the one in which the ill-fated Queen of France is pictured by Vigee Le Brun. It is very rich and picturesque, and the quaint head-dress, consisting of a velvet cap with ermine, feathers and long lace veil was exceedingly becoming to her.

Absolute carte blanche was given to Manager Boldt of the Waldorf. His only instructions were to spare no expense and to hold the decorations strictly within the period—that of the extravagant and luxurious life antedating the French Revolution. The reception room was an exact copy of a room in the Palace of Versailles.

There was an ascending stairway from the ballroom on the west to the Louis Quatorze dining room on the east or Fifth-avenue side of the hotel. The corridors were floral bowers, where the choicest exotics bloomed among palms and roses.

Fifty handsome boys, dressed as pages of the time of Henry VIII., ran errands for the guests. All the waiters in the various dining-rooms wore the livery of Louis Quatorze.

The Bradley Martins.

The Bradley Martins do not hyphenate that name, which belongs to the head of the house. Bradley is the Countess of Craven's father's name, Martin his surname. He was not wealthy when he married Isaac Sherman's daughter, but when Isaac Sherman died he left $4,000,000 to his daughter. Now, $4,000,000 is not a great principle to splurge on in New York society, but every penny of it was invested in big dividend producing properties. There are persons in the swim of society whose millions count five times the fortune Isaac Sherman left who could not encompass with their incomes one-half the expenditures of the Bradley Martins.

BRADLEY MARTIN BALL—MISS KATE BRICE AS MARIE ANTOINETTE.

Miss Cornelia Martin, the only daughter, was married about four years ago to the Earl of Craven, whose title was a considerable recommendation to New York society, but who did not achieve a social success in the few weeks of his stay here. The Countess of Craven is about twenty years old and the youngest of three children.

The Bradley Martins live, when in New York, at No. 22 West Twentieth-street. Their small dinners have always been remarkable for substance. Isaac Sherman's greatest edible luxury was beefsteak, and no question of cost prevented him from getting the best beefsteaks to be had. He gave beefsteak dinners which were famous, and his daughter inherited his taste. The Bradley Martin dinners have not been founded upon beefsteak, but they have been of the same solid character as those Isaac Sherman gave to his friends. It has been only in the larger functions with which the Bradley Martins have entertained their new friends that the confectioner has had honor greater than that of the roast-cook.

Look for this Print in the Snow

It is the pattern of the heel of the Granby Rubber and Overshoe. The next time you buy a pair of rubbers or overshoes ask for Granby's and look for this pattern on the heel. There is no need to take a Granby that is not the same shape as your boot, because they are made to fit every shape of shoe. A rubber that does not fit the boot will draw the foot. Granby Rubbers are thin, light, elastic and fit perfectly. They wear like Iron.

SPOT CASH—ONE PRICE—MONEY BACK IF YOU WANT IT.

"WHAT ARE THEY DOING HERE?"

This is the question repeated hundreds of times every day by passers by.

THIS IS THE ANSWER!

Doing what we are always doing—getting the store into better shape, enlarging, improving, providing wider ways and easier stairs, fixing and furnishing whatever will add comfort and convenience for the many hundreds of our valued customers.

HALF THE BATTLE OF LIFE

is in knowing what to do. We always have something better on hand in our efforts to serve our patrons. Buying and selling ONLY FOR CASH is a new thing, but we know it is in our customer's interests. Hats at fully 20 per cent. lower prices than under the old credit and cash combination.

HAT STYLE AND QUALITY.

Having exclusive control of all the leading Hat fashioners' goods:—Christy's, Youman's, Stetson's, Lincoln Bennett's, etc.,—we are in a better position than most stores to give you the very latest and most approved opening styles, and the high standards of quality which these names suggest. It's the difference between the product of the ordinary dealer and the nobby, natty shapes of our late Spring Style Hats that makes ours more desirable.

THE MONEY ORDER PLAN.

Canada's Post Office Department has Made a Re-arrangement of Rates.

Postmaster-General Mulock has re-arranged the tariff of commissions payable on post office money orders. The changes are designed to meet the competition of the express companies, which have been effectively catering to the public as money-sending mediums. For some time past the post office department has been getting all the small orders and the express companies all the larger ones, and with a view of altering this state of things the tariff on small orders is to be increased and that on larger ones decreased.

While this change may on the face of it seem to bear more heavily on the poor man than on the rich, the expediency of alteration from a Government revenue standpoint is easily recognized.

Heretofore the commission on post office orders up to $1 has been 2c; sums over $5 and up to $10, 6c; over $10 and up to $20, 10c; over $20 and up to $40, 20c; over $40 and up to $60, 30c; over $60 and up to $80, $40c; over $80 and up to $100, 50c.

After April 1st the tariff on post office orders up to $2.50 will be 3c; on orders over $2.50 and up to $5, 4c; over $5 and up to $10, 6c; over $10 and up to $20, 10c; over $20 and up to $30, 12c; over $30 and up to $40, 15c; over $40 and up to $50, 20c; over $50 and up to $60, 24c; over 60 and up to $70, 28c: over $70 and up to $80, 32c; over $80 and up to $90, 36c; over $90 and up to $1, 40c.

The rates on orders payable in the United Kingdom and in foreign countries and the British possessions stand as they are.

For the sake of comparison the tariff charges by the express companies are appended as follows: $5 and under, 5c; over $5 and up to $10, 8c; over $10 and up to $20, 10c; over $20 and up to to $30, 12c; over $30 and up to $40, 15c; over $40 and up to $50, 20c; over $50 at the same rates.

Report from the Government Physician Port of Quebec.

"I have used 'Pheno Banum' or 'Quick-cure' in a suppurating wound following a severe bite of a cat; after the usual remedies seemed ineffectual, this preparation cleaned up the wound and healed it after the second application; its effect was most satisfactory; it has also proved a valuable remedy for removing pain, and destroying the cocci that cause boils and carbuncles, healing in some cases more quickly than if the microbes had been cut out; as is now recognised to be proper treatment instead of poulticing, etc. This remedy has a grand future before it.

J.H. HENCHEY, M.D., M.R.C.S., Eng.

A Triumph Won

Before taking Doan's Kidney Pills I felt that diabetes was fast tightening its grip upon me. Now I know that it has been met and defeated. I have used the pills steadily for some time, and am now in full enjoyment of health, and shall always be glad to testify to the merits of this triumphant medicine.

GODEY'S FOR APRIL.

Godey's Magazine is new every month. The April issue is unique in several ways.

Among the especially notable contributions to this number is an article by Marmaduke Humphrey on "The Bicycle of the Year Ninety-seven," which contains pictures and descriptions of almost all the new things that have been developed in the wheel world during the past twelve months.

Mrs. Emily E. Williamson, General Secretary of the Prison Reform Association of New Jersey, contributes an interesting paper on "Woman's Work in Prison Reform," which will interest all citizens of this country.

Spring-time and Easter topics are "Old-Time Easter," by Gabrielle Maria Jacobs; "A Hymn for Easter," by Wm. B. Green (music); "Whenne Hatte-Tree Bloom," by Grace MacGowan Cooke, and a superb article by Eben E. Rexford on "Common Sense in Rose Culture," fully illustrated.

Rupert Hughes contributes a very interesting article on "The Development of the Modern Reed Organ," illustrated with pictures of some splendid instruments.

A quaint production is C. A. Mera's "Undressed Kids," which presents over 200 assorted babies in astounding photographic results, and is decidedly amusing and perplexing.

"Beautiful Women," by Caldwell Shermad, treats this topic in a manner different from that generally used, and is amply illustrated with types of lovely womanhood.

The leading fiction piece of the issue is the story "Edelweiss," by Frederick W. Wendt, a tale of the Swiss Alps; and there are several other stories, each in its way especially interesting.

The Literary and Fashion departments are full of good things, and a beautiful Easter frontispiece and a special cover add a charming finish to the issue.

The New Telephone Girl.

She was a new girl at the Central Telephone Exchange.

Her previous experience in this big and busy world had been behind the counter of Chints & Chally's.

Nevertheless she was a pleasant spoken young lady, and amiability was written all over her nature.

She had adopted as her motto the touching sentence—"We strive to please," and she honestly tried to live up to it.

There was a ring at the bell.

She applied her ear to the instrument and asked sweetly:

"What number, please?"

"Let me have No. 474."

"I am sorry that No. 474 is busy now," she replied. "You can have No. 473 or No. 475, if you wish."

The individual at the other end of the wire hung up his receiver and used language which plainly showed that all efforts to please do not necessarily succeed.

FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD

Mrs. Liscumbe Makes a Statement for the Benefit of Others.

Mrs. Liscumbe is well known in Havelock and this is how she spoke to our representative:—

"I have been troubled for some time with severe pains in the side and back. I took many medicines of various kinds, but got no relief.

"The box of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at W. H. Jeff & Co's. drugstore gave me wonderful relief from the start. The improvement in my general health is not the least of the benefits which I have derived from the use of this remarkable kidney remedy.

"I can recommend them very highly to anyone troubled with any form of kidney disease."

PRESBYTERIAN MISSIONS.

While the congregations of the Presbyterian church have this year given more for foreign mission work than in former years, yet, because of the rapid expansion of the work, the Foreign Mission Committee require an additional $30,000, for which they made a special appeal to the church. Centuries ago people used to fear what they called the pestilence. "Black Death" was the most terrible thing in the world to them. They feared it as people now fear the Cholera and Yellow Fever. And yet there is a thing that causes more misery and more deaths than any of these. It is so common that nine-tenths of all the sickness in the world is traceable to it. It is merely that simple, common thing constipation. It makes people listless, causes dizziness, headaches, loss of appetite, loss of sleep, foul breath and distress after eating. The little help needed is furnished by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One pill is a gentle laxative and two a mild cathartic. Once used, always in favour. If you are careless enough to let an unscrupulous druggist sell you something on which he makes more money, it is your own fault if you do not get well. Be sure and get Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Send 31 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

THE PREMIER ON TOP

Sir Charles Tupper Attacked the Government

AND GOT A PRETTY SHARP REPLY

Mr. Laurier Turned the Tables on the Ex-Mr. Premier in Right Caustic Style—The Wind Knocked Out of Sir Charles' Sails Altogether —Mr. Foster's Speech.

Ottawa, March 26.—(Special.)—After routine in the Commons to-day Mr. Benjamin Russell of Halifax moved the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne.

The mover began by saying that many of the topics mentioned in the speech could not be regarded as controversial. He believed the people of this country were tired of political agitation. [Opposition laughter.] There was a desire for calmness and repose. He thought the time had come when the angry controversies which had agitated the country for years should be allowed to cease. He proceeded to eulogize the high statesmanship of Mr. Laurier, which had carried the country through a crisis of a startling and alarming nature. He believed that now the halcyon days of peace had come.

Dealing with the speech he said 25 years ago the people of this country were at one in regard to the tariff. They believed it was a necessary evil which should only be tolerated in so far as public revenue was required. Now, the Opposition did not regard a tariff as a necessary evil, they thought it was a good and excellent thing. In his judgment, however, the tariff of 1879 was a leap in the dark. Personally he believed that if all tariff restrictions were thrown down the fruits of freedom in that field would be just as beneficent as they had been in every way in which the boundaries of human freedom had been enlarged. If, therefore, we were building on virgin soil, if there were not industries which should not be ruthlessly struck down, or rudely shaken, it would be well to adopt the English system. Under existing circumstances, however, it would be well for us to get back to the right track by a gradual reduction. [Opposition cheers.]

Adverting to the United States tariff he believed that that country was legislating for itself alone and should legislate for itself alone. [Opposition cheers.] We should not act in any spirit of jingoism, but in a spirit of manly self-reliance, having regard to the great Empire to which we belong. [Loud Opposition cheers.]

The Government's proposals to extend the I.C.R. system to Montreal would be carefully scrutinised. Some measure was needed to secure to Halifax its fair share of the trade of this country.

The prohibition question was not a party question in this country and he hoped it would not be. Like Mr. Foster, in a moment of weakness, he (Russell) had swallowed the cause of prohibition. He had found himself drawn among the saints, but he wished he were dead sure of the thing, as he ought to be. If people by an overwhelming majority declared in favor of prohibition, the Government ought to give assent to their views, and he did not believe this Government would shrink from its duty in this respect.

He closed his speech with an eloquent reference to Her Majesty's Jubilee and the progress of Canada during the past 60 years, eulogising the French-Canadians for the manner in which they had assimilated themselves to British institutions.

Mr. Ethier, member for Two Mountains, seconded the address, speaking in French.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER.

The Opposition Leader Combines Compliment With Criticism.

Sir Charles Tupper, on rising, was received with loud Opposition cheers. He paid a graceful compliment to the mover and seconder for the manner in which they had discharged their duty. Mr. Russell's was a difficult task, as, being an ardent free trader, he had to prepare himself to support a protectionist tariff. [Opposition laughter.] At the outset he (Sir Charles) desired to congratulate the Premier on the great honor conferred upon him by being invited to represent Canada at the Queen's Jubilee. Personally he did not share in the views expressed in our newspapers that Canada has been penalised by having only one representative. He believed that Mr. Laurier would represent the Dominion worthily and well and would be accorded the precedence due to his exalted position and the country of his birth. [Cheers.]

Sir Charles proceeded to refer to the progress of Her Majesty's reign, mentioning that 56 years ago, when he first visited England, there was one horse railway running in Scotland, while in England there was only one steam railway, viz., that from Liverpool to Manchester. The Opposition would support any Government proposal that would fittingly mark Her Majesty's jubilee.

There was much in the Speech from the Throne he could not object to, but he must call attention to what he believed to be the unconstitutional attitude on the school question. Who authorized settlement with Manitoba? The only constitutional outcome of the proceedings up to this time was the introduction of a remedial bill, and it was certainly an invasion of law for the Government to act as it had done. Mr. Laurier had said in Wright the other day that the remedial bill would not give as much to the Catholics as they would secure under the settlement with Mr. Greenway. Sir Charles dissented from that view, and proceeded to compare the two proposals. He was not able to find in the new Manitoba school bill that a single privilege taken away from the Catholics had been restored to them. St. Boniface had demonstrated that the Catholics were not satisfied with the agreement. The bill, however, did grant rights that were not enjoyed previous to 1890 by the Catholics of Manitoba. He called the special attention of gentlemen who were opposed to remedial legislation to that particular fact. He proceeded to twit Mr. Fitzpatrick, Mr. Geoffrion and other Quebec members with having repudiated their ante-election pledges. While personally his (Sir Charles') views on the school question remained unchanged, he did not hesitate to say that the obligation which rested on Sir Mackenzie Bowell's shoulders and on his to deal with this question as became the Government of Canada now rested on Mr. Laurier. [Hear, hear.]

If that hon. gentleman could reconcile those most interested in this question to consent to the mode in which it had been disposed of then he (Sir Charles) had not a word to say. Under existing circumstances he would not feel it incumbent upon him in future to make these exertions for the rights of Catholics as he had in the past. [Ministerial cheers.]

Passing on to consider the tariff question, the ex-Premier said that in his judgment the National Policy never occupied a more triumphant position than it did to-day. The exports last year were the largest in the history of our country, and he believed Canada was on the eve of great prosperity, provided existing conditions were maintained.

He regretted to see the Government's proposal regarding the franchise. Such a measure as proposed would place the Parliament of Canada in the most humiliating position it could ever be in. He reminded the House that in Nova Scotia, when the provincial franchise applied in federal politics, a bill had been passed for the sole purpose of affecting Federal elections, and this bill had been repealed before the provincial elections took place. [Hear, hear.] A bill of the kind proposed, therefore, was lowering to the dignity of Parliament.

He paid a tribute to the Government's action in establishing cold storage, and highly eulogised Prof. Robertson's work in this connection. Then he referred to the Indian famine fund and expressed pleasure at the hearty response given by Canada to the appeal for aid.

Discussing civil service dismissals and superannuations, Sir Charles said the Government had delivered a serious blow to the civil service by superannuating, without justification, or degrading men of high position. [Cheers.] Not only that, but the Government had sent out emissaries in order to work up cases against reputable men.

Sir Charles Tupper, resuming his speech after recess, chaffed Mr. Davies for his recent declaration in Wright about the surprise the Government would give to the Conservatives.

Proceeding, he showed how the present Government had utterly repudiated all their promises of economy and every pledge they had made to their countrymen. He referred to the letting of public contracts without tender, dismissal of legal representatives in England, a firm which had acted for Canada for 40 years, and giving the business to a young Mr. Russell, who, as the representative to the Vatican, might perhaps better suit the purposes of the Dominion Government than the old firm. The Government had shirked a fair test of its policy in Quebec by springing the elections in Bonaventure and Wright. In South Brant, Mr. Henry, a very able man, had been deprived of his seat by methods which reflected the greatest discredit on the Liberal party.

Adverting to Liberal professions as contrasted with their practice, Sir Charles pointed out the contradiction between Mr. Fielding and Mr. Laurier in their recent declarations regarding the duty on coal. It was clearly evident Mr. Fielding's recent interview in Montreal was manufactured for the occasion, to influence public opinion in Nova Scotia, where the local election had been sprung. While Mr. Fielding talked protection to the coal industry, Mr. Laurier's views of free coal and free iron would undoubtedly prevail, and the coal interests of Nova Scotia would be sacrificed.

In conclusion, Sir Charles Tupper said the Government would not find factious opposition to measures which were calculated to benefit the Dominion. He resumed his seat at 9.20, after speaking two hours and a half.

THE PREMIER'S REPLY.

He Rebuked Sir Charles Tupper for Some of His References.

Mr. Laurier, on rising, was received with loud Ministerial cheers. He immediately trotted out his old saying, that Sir Charles Tupper was not in a very happy frame of mind, although he acknowledged his courteous and generous reference to him (Mr. Laurier's) prospective visit to England.

He rebuked the Opposition leader for styling the commissioners appointed to investigate charges of political partisanship as "Emissaries and spies." Last session the Government had promised that all charges of political partisanship should be investigated. This had been done.

The Ethics of Citizenship.

LUXURY—NO. II.

The conclusion to which political economists have come to about luxuries is that they do not add to the wealth of a nation. Judged on commercial grounds then, luxuries stand condemned. But are there not other points of view from which they may may be regarded and, at least to some extent, justified? To answer this question, we must take a glance at the constitution of that wonderful and much quoted thing thing—human nature.

Man is made up not only of a physical nature, but of a mental and spiritual nature. He requires not merely bread and beef, and clothes, and the shelter of a house, but he requires mental and spiritual food. And the more highly cultivated his mental and spiritual tastes become, the rarer food do they demand. Two thousand volumes compose but a fairly stocked library for one man, who is a literary man or a college professor. Many a man with double that number would suffer a sense of privation unless he had access to a library of 100,000 volumes. The demands of the artistic faculties, for paintings, for music, for sculptuary, who can deny that these are legitimate claims, because they are not so absolutely necessary for bare existence as are meat and drink and clothes. Yet we justly describe these things as the luxuries of life. Even in regard to our physical comforts, if we invite our friends to dine with us we like to give them something more luxurious than bread and water.

"It is," says our instructive friend, Mr. Maccunn, "a hard and beggarly economy of life's resources, worthy only of Goths and Vandals, which would ruthlessly rifle human life of its natural satisfactions, its reasonable comforts, its needful recreations, its purifying tastes. They are not concessions to human weakness. They are helps to living. They are the allies of morality, not its enemies. They are the very means, put by civilization into the hands of men, for making something of themselves. Anyone can put this to the test. Let him run over in his mind a dozen of the best men or women he knows. Does he find that they are indifferent to luxuries? Do they prize a good book, a good concert, a good play, or a cheerful party, where friend meets friend, less or more than their neighbours?" Here, then, lies the justification of luxuries. "Luxuries well chosen and rightly used are instruments of moral development."

Luxuries well chosen and rightly used! But how are we to decide what luxuries are well chosen, and how are we to know when they are rightly or wrongly used? It is true that human taste requires education. We are living on a continent in which it is the commonest thing for a man born very poor to die very rich. It is a most grotesque thing to note the way in which many such men spend their money, and proves that it is certainly possible to instruct people in the art of so spending money as to make the most of it. A nouveau riche will build for himself a kind of palace and then sit in the kitchen in his shirt sleeves and smoke a clay pipe. Mr. Maccunn suggests two general rules for our guidance. First, that we should prefer durable luxuries. Books and pictures are durable, they may give pleasure to more than one generation. Secondly, and certainly more important is the rule "that we ought to prefer unselfish to selfish luxury." Here we touch the real evil of luxury in all ages. Preachers and moralists and story tellers (as witness Mr. Wilson Barrett's "Sign of the Cross") inveigh against the luxuries of the age of Nero, or again of Louis XIV, but were they really greater, more vulgar, more degrading, more heartless than those of our own day? "Luxury," says Mr. Ruskin, "at present can only be enjoyed by the ignorant; the cruelest man living could not sit at his feast, unless he sat blindfold." Looked at in the bulk, it is awful to contrast the life of some, say—half a million very rich, and of say some 10,000,000 of very poor during our hot summer months. It is a poor salve to our conscience to say that they are used to it, and do not feel the hot sun and the heavy air, and the endless toil and the ill health of the crowded factories and more crowded tenements. Imagine the life, we will not say of a frivolous, but of an average young lady at Newport, for some months. An endless round of bathing, riding, driving, shopping and afternoon tea during the day; of concerts, balls and theatricals during the night. This young lady of course goes to church on Sunday morning, and is most likely interested in some new ornaments of fine needlework for the sanctuary. Yet, what a hideous farce is such a life. The individual is not to bear all the blame. She too is ignorant. She has never seen a factory or a tenement. The blame indeed is not to be cast solely at anyone's doors. The preacher of the fashionable church must take some of it; the political economist with his eternal false gospel of money must be made to take some of it, the monopolist, the speculator, the engineer of rings and trusts. What is wanted above all things is not to scold anyone, but simply to convince society of its ills, appeal to its conscience its manhood and womanhood, and if possible its Christianity, to make a united effort to put into practice the simplest, the most unmistakable, and certain of the precepts of the Gospel. Practically, that is really, the great mass of well to do Christians deny what in theory they believe, viz: the brotherhood of man.

Unselfish luxuries! We do not believe for one moment that there should be an absolute equality in wealth or in luxury. We do not deny that the man of business capacity and industry should enjoy in his own home, the comforts of a fine house, well furnished, with books, pictures, music. We do not say that because John Blank or Mary Dash are tied to a factory bench, that therefore Sir Georgius Midas or Angelina Wealthy shall not go to the seaside. But we say to those who have brains, wealth or leisure, consider, whether out of your abundance greater opportunity for the enjoyment of some comforts of life may not be given to others.

"If a man," says Mr. Maccunn, "loves in solitary hours to read Shakespeare, or or Scott, or Thackeray, is he less or more fit thereby to be a champion of free public libraries?" Let us stop at that. Here is a plain issue. Are the well-to-do people of Peterborough willing to raise the rate of taxation sufficiently to produce another $500 or $1,000 per annum, to give every citizen the opportunity of access to a library of 10,000 volumes. Many have no objections. No, but will you work for it? Supposing for all your reading you were dependent upon a free library. Then you would, because your own interests would provoke you to action. Well, then, here is a practical opportunity of loving your neighbour as yourself. It is a horrible thing in towns composed almost entirely of professedly Christian people, to see how few people care about anything that does not touch their own interests.

But it may still be said: The people do not want it. Well, my educated and cultured friends, they ought to want it, and you know it. And knowing this it is yours to work for their truest interests, whether they are awake to them or whether they are dead to them.

DEEPENING THE ST. LAWRENCE CANALS.

In view of the narrow trade policy of the United States, which will practically prevent Canada trading with them, the importance of facilitating means for reaching the British markets will be readily recognized. The St. Lawrence canals constitute the best way of reaching the seaboard with the great bulk of Canadian produce, and it is therefore desireable that these should be deepened at as early a date as possible. In this connection the prompt act of the Dominion Government in deciding to deepen the St. Lawrence canals to 14 feet will be regarded with interest, and especially the fact that this deepening is to be completed by 1899. Writing to the secretary of the Toronto Board of Trade, under date of March 23, Hon. Mr. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, says:—

"I am happy now to be able to inform you since my former letter that I have had an opportunity of laying the whole matter before my colleagues, and that the conclusion had been arrived at to push the work forward, looking to the completion of all the St. Lawrence canals with the utmost despatch. Our present expectation is that a 14-foot waterway will be available for traffic by the spring of 1899. Unless some unforseen or unavoidable difficulties occur the trade may count upon this being accomplished. The efforts of this department will, at all events, be directed to this end."

The bona fides of the Government in this matter is further shown by the fact that the individual assurance of Hon. Mr. Blair has found formal expression in the speech from the Throne. Already tenders are invited for the works in question, and there is no doubt that if the material conditions are any way favourable that the work of enlargement will be completed in January, 1899. Large sums have been spent and no little wasted, in the construction of public works, but it stands to reason that legitimate expenditure to secure important results are warranted, and the present condition of affairs suggest the necessity of improving in every possible way our facilities for reaching the British markets. Fair-minded public opinion will go with the Government in its efforts to improve the commercial conditions of the people of Canada.

The late Government, it is understood, had intended to complete the work by 1899, but the manner in which they dealt with the matter did not countenance the idea that they meant business. The fact that the present Government have decided to push the completion of the St. Lawrence canal system should be a ground of encouragement to the deputation that is to visit Ottawa on April 6th to urge the continuance of aggressive work on the Trent Valley Canal system.

the University. [illegible] after eighteen years of Conservative misgovernment?

THE Toronto News pertinently remarks that the earthquake in Quebec on Wednesday was the second one within a year. The other occurred on June 23 and caused serious injury to the Conservative party—and others.

TWENTY-THREE years ago last Thursday Hon. Wilfred Laurier was selected to second the address in the first Parliament under the Mackenzie Government. Then Mr. Laurier first put his foot on the ladder; he is at the top now.

THE spasmodically super-loyal Mail and Empire dubs the Diamond Jubilee reference in the Speech from the Throne, "frills," but if such language is likely to militate against our Imperial relations—"so much the worse for British connection."

THE Britisher is not much of a "blow"—he does big things without fuss. The London Times announces in a modest little paragraph without a heading, the launch of a couple of torpedo destroyers—the Paguima and the Flying Fish, the latter with a speed of 32 miles an hour. But another torpedo boat destroyer in her trial trip developed 35 miles an hour—the speed of an express train, and over forty boats of this class are under construction. Britons don't brag of what they do, simply do it, and we Canucks are proud to belong to the family.

THE Laurier government meets parliament with a comfortably large majority, large enough for any honest government, and ours is an honest government, hence the majority of 32 over all parties and 39 over straight Conservative is large enough. In the present house there are, not counting the speaker, 119 Liberals, 80 Conservatives, 3 Independent Conservatives and 3 Patrons. There are five vacant seats, Champlain, Que., Cholchester, N.S., Macdonald, Man., West Prince, P.E.I., and Winnipeg, Man. The government may fully count on the support of half of the Independents, making the working majority 36.

SAVED HER LIFE.

THE NARROW ESCAPE OF A FERGUS MERCHANT'S DAUGHTER.

Had Been Weak and Sickly From Infancy—Neither Doctor nor Friends Thought She Would Survive—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Saved her Life—Advice to Parents.

From the Fergus News-Letter.

Mr. C. M. Post, fruit and confectionary dealer, St. Andrew street, Fergus, last week related to a representative of the News-Record the sad story of the terrible suffering and sickness of his little daughter Ella, his only child, now a strong and healthy little maiden of ten years of age. At the time of the child's illness Mr. Post was a resident of Hamilton. His story is substantially as follows:—"My daughter had been very delicate from childhood until about three years ago, and the money it cost me for doctor bills made made me poor, as it was seldom she was without a doctor's care, and at times we have had as many as three doctors in attendance and hope of saving her despaired of. The doctors succeeded in keeping her alive, but she was gradually growing worse and we all thought she was going to die. Our regular physician had given up hope of saving her life and remarked that if it were only warm weather, (it was then winter) there might be a chance. But seven summers had passed since her birth and she had gradually become feebler, and my wife and I thought it was just a matter of time until the child would be called to a better home. About this time Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were prominently brought to our notice through a cure they wrought in a neighbour's child. I thought I would give them a trial, and so informed the doctor, but he only laughed at the idea of them helping her. However, I bought a box of the Pink Pills, and began giving them to her half a pill at a time. After a short treatment there was such an improvement that neither her mother nor I could doubt that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were helping her, and I decided to abandon the doctor's services altogether. The Pink Pill treatment was continued and although the progress towards health and strength was necessarily slow, it was none the less certain, and it was continued until she was as well and strong as you see her to-day, and I am thankful to say she has had no occasion for medical treatment since. I am a strong believer in the efficacy of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for weak and delicate children, and I firmly believe that it was this medicine that saved my child."

Dr. William's Pink Pills are an all-round-year medicine, and are quite as efficacious in the case of children as in adults. They restore to the blood its lacking constituents and make it rich, red and pure. In this way they strengthen the system and drive out disease. There are many cases like the above in which this wonderful medicine has restored health and strength after the best medical advice had failed. The genuine Pink Pills are sold, the wrappers round which bears the full trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." There are other pills coloured pink, but they are base imitations, offered only because they give the dealer a greater profit. They should always be refused.

is a disease which afflicts over 75 per cent. of the American people. It is a dangerous disease because it not only poisons the blood but causes heaviness, oppression and dulls the intellect. Then follow chronic headache, loss of appetite, slow digestion, nervousness, bad breath, dingy complexion and low spirits. It will eventually bring on liver and kidney disease in some incurable form. But sufferers from this dreaded malady are speedily

THE PREMIER ON TOP.

After referring to the proposed repeal of the present Franchise Act, a measure of which the whole country was tired, he said this was not the proper time to speak of the tariff, but he might say this: The Government would endeavor to alleviate the burdens which now pressed on the people without at the same time impairing any of the interests which now exist.

Referring to Sir Charles Tupper's remarks on bye-elections and alleged unfair dealing in those elections, he asked what about the Conservative ballot-stuffing in Manitoba. [Liberal cheers.]

Sir Charles Tupper, interposing, said the point he raised was that the Government of this country had no authority outside of the constitution of this country to warrant them in making a settlement with Manitoba.

Mr. Laurier thanked Sir Charles for his explanation. He always thought the negotiations of the late Government were a shadow. Commissioners were not sent to Winnipeg to negotiate a settlement; why were they sent at all? [Liberal cheers.] Sir Charles Tupper's words to-night were nothing else than a sham. If the manner in which the present Government had approached the settlement of this question had been adopted by the late Government years of agitation would have been avoided. Manitoba had repaired existing grievances, and upon the issue he (Mr. Laurier) was prepared to take the verdict of the country. The smallest measure of conciliation was far preferable to any measure of coercion. [Loud Ministerial cheers.] Sir Charles Tupper had argued that no concessions had been secured for the minority, and in the next breath he admitted that the Government had obtained new rights for the minority. [Liberal cheers.] He (Mr. Laurier) cared not whether the Government had obtained a restoration of old rights or a concession of new rights. The only thing he cared for was that, whereas, under the Act of 1890, the Catholics had not the privilege of teaching their own religion in the schools, by the concessions which had been made they would have the right hereafter of teaching their own religion in the Province of Manitoba. [Liberal cheers.] The position he (Mr. Laurier) had taken on this question he had taken everywhere, that it was far better to secure concessions by negotiation than by coercion. [Ministerial cheers.] Not a man in the country but must approve this settlement.

Continuing, the Premier said: "I know very well that the settlement we have effected is not acceptable to certain high dignitaries of the church I belong to, but I have every reason to believe, nay, as day after day passes it becomes more evident that as the facts are better understood, the conviction will take possession of every breast in the country that, if we are ever to have a nation in Canada, if we are ever to solve successfully any of these difficulties that may arise, we can only solve them in the way expressed in the Speech from the Throne, by mutual concessions and reciprocal good will. [Loud cheers.] I may say more; I may say that this settlement is not as advantageous as, I desired myself, but I have no hesitation in saying that, although it is not as advantageous as I myself would have desired, still, after six long years of agitation, when the passions of men had been aroused to the highest pitch, it was not possible to obtain more, nor for the Government of Manitoba to concede more under present circumstances. [Hear, hear.] My hon. friend had the duty—yes, I will use that word—to mention the name of the new member for Bonaventure, Mr. Guite, with some opprobrium. Why, sir, if there is a man to-day who in my estimate occupies a proud position in this country, it is the new member for Bonaventure. —[Liberal cheers]—a man who maintains his civil rights against great odds, a man who, while maintaining his civil rights against great odds, did not hesitate to say "I am a Catholic, and I'll spare no effort to secure to my fellow-countrymen in Manitoba more rights than they now possess" And who has blamed the hon. member for so doing? It is open to every man in the Province of Manitoba to seek for an amendment to the law. Now, the only thing upon which I take issue with my hon. friend opposite is that, while it is open to Mr. Guite to persuade the people of Manitoba, it is not open to the hon. gentleman to coerce that people. [Cheers.] But, sirs, the hon. gentleman having made that speech, concluded. No. I beg the hon. gentleman's pardon, he did not conclude at all. He spoke for one hour, and after having spoken for one hour did not dare enunciate a policy. On the contrary, he told the House, so far as his language would go, that he washed his hands of the whole matter, that he had no more to do with it. [Laughter.] Last session he was to die—[loud Ministerial laughter]—to shed his blood, for he expected there would be votes for him in the Province of Quebec—[renewed laughter]—but, like many another hero, when there is nothing more to be gained, there is no more heroism either. [Laughter and cheers.] But the hon. gentleman uttered a word which he does not suppose I will allow to pass without having something to say in regard to it. In speaking of Mr. Russell, he referred to him as the embassy of the Canadian Government to the court of Rome. I do not understand what the hon. gentleman means. If he will make charges I will meet him, but I will have no cowardly insinuations in regard to that matter. [Liberal cheers.]

Sir Charles Tupper: I may say to the hon. gentleman that I based my statement that he was a messenger of the Government to Rome on a telegram that was published in the hon. gentleman's newspapers. It was stated that Mr. Russell had officialy communicated to the Government the result of his mission. [Opposition cheers.]

Mr. Laurier: The hon. gentleman wants to give circulation to a newspaper report. I am surprised that the hon. gentleman should stake his reputation in this way. If he will make a charge, nay, if he will put the question on this subject, I will be prepared to give him an answer, but I do not want, and I protest against, such inuendoes being thrown across the floor of Parliament. The hon. gentleman stated there was peace and amity among the different races and creeds in this country. Thank God there is, but if that is so there is too much reason to fear that if such statements as the hon. gentleman has made, if the school policy of the hon. gentleman were to prevail, we would not have peace and harmony, but civil war among us. [Liberal cheers.]

The hon. gentleman spoke this afternoon eloquently and well in regard to the jubilee of Her Majesty the Queen. I could not add a word to what he said at that time, except this, that there is not, perhaps, in the broad Dominion of Her Majesty any portion of the Empire where so much can be achieved in this jubilee year as in Canada. This is the sixtieth anniversary of the reign of Her Majesty. Throughout the broad Empire all the tribes, all the races and all the nations, which acknowledge her supreme authority, will vie with each other to do her honor. All the tribes, all the races, all the nations, divided though they may be in color, in religion, education, in blood, still will be unanimous in their endeavors, in their efforts, in emulation among themselves, to testify their devotion to her person. Monuments will be erected in commemoration of the event. The arts will be called on to give expression to this feeling in marble and in bronze, to the loyal devotion of many millions, to one who is so wise, and whose reign has been so beneficial. [Cheers.] But there are monuments which speak more loudly and more eloquntly than even those of sculptured bronze or carved marble. There are monuments which will be more fitting for this occasion than sculptured bronze and carved marble. Let this be a jubilee year, indeed. Let this year be as of old, a jubilee of remission; let the past be forgotten; let old scores be put into oblivion; let strife and contention be forever buried, and, instead, let trust, confidence and good acts spring forth from the ground and rise towards heaven. This is the noblest monument, in my estimation, which the Canadian people could offer as their contribution to the glory of the jubilee year. [Prolonged cheering.]

MR. FOSTER.

The Ex-Minister of Finance Assumes the Position of a Close Critic.

Hon. Mr. Foster complained that the Premier's twenty minutes' speech was of the thinnest debating school order. He had made no answer to the serious charges made against his Government, and his party by Sir Charles Tupper. His speech would give no satisfaction to the business men of the country, who would read it in the newspapers next morning.

Turning to the tariff Mr. Foster complained of the way in which the Government had treated the pork packers in withholding information from them as to the changes which were to be made in the tariff. He contrasted this with the way they had treated the coal dealers of Montreal, and insisted that in the matter of information all interests concerned in the tariff should have been treated alike. He asked did the Prime Minister authorize the Minister of Finance to make the statements he did in Montreal, and demanded a responsible Government answer, not a debating school reply, such as had been made that evening by the Prime Minister. He further complained that the Government were delaying the tariff until after the elections were over, in the Province of Nova Scotia, and mentioned that this was being done to test the feeling of Nova Scotia concerning protection to the industry in which that province was interested. He denied the Prime Minister's statement that everybody in the Dominion knew what the tariff was to be, and characterized the Prime Minister's statement that the new tariff was to alleviate the burdens of the people and impair no present industries, as "airy, delightfully airy," a delightfully indefinite statement, which would give no satisfaction to the business men, and manufacturers, who were anxiously waiting to know what changes were to be made. He (Mr. Foster) had been asked by a banker for sure information about the tariff. He intended to send to the banker the Prime Minister's statement, as to alleviating the burdens of the people, and not impairing any existing interests which he (Mr. Foster), had just quoted.

Reviewing the policy of the Government with regard to the recent bye-elections in the County of Wright, in Bonaventure and elsewhere, Mr. Foster said he would soon be able to congratulate the Prime Minister on being one of the most artful dodgers in politics. As to the Prime Minister's statement about ballot-stuffing and corruption in Manitoba. Mr. Foster said these were exploded charges. They had been up in the courts, and, although 27 charges were preferred, the net result was that only in one case had the charge been proven, and the prosecuting counsel had stated that Mr. Hugh John Macdonald was free from any charge of corruption.

Dealing next with the civil service since the Government had come into power, Mr. Foster declared that every department was infested with spies and emissaries. No civil servant now [illegible] political healers, who were not the social equals of the men in the service, were being sent around to make investigations as to how civil servants were discharging their duties. There were investigations which self-respecting men could not be expected to stand and some of the civil servants might feel that they would rather go out of the service than submit to it.

Mr. Foster further insisted that the cutting off of the heads of small men in the civil service had so engaged the attention of the heads of the departments that they had not time to prepare the tariff and settle the other questions on which the country desired to know what was the policy of the Government. "Things are not what they used to be," said Mr. Foster, in winding up his criticism of the Government's treatment of the civil servants. The Premier had praised Mr. Guite for refusing to bow down to the bishops, but what, then, about Mr. Fitzpatrick, who had signed a written pledge to resign unless such a settlement were secured as his bishop approved? [Opposition cheers.] True, he now refused to keep his promise, but there it was. The Speech from the Throne spoke of the settlement as the best that could be obtained, yet Mr. Laurier stated in a recent speech in Montreal that it was only a first instalment and Mr. Fitzpatrick, his colleague, declared that he did not accept the settlement, and added that the Premier did not accept it. Was duplicity never to cease? For six years the Liberal party had championed the cause of Separate Schools. They had assured the minority that they would restore them, but had utterly failed to implement their promises. The Premier had the audacity to charge the Conservatives with inciting religious passion, but this question was caused by Liberal action and kept alive by the Liberals. The records showed it, and history would confirm it.

Mr. Foster ended with an eloquent reference to the jubilee year.

Sir Richard Cartwright moved the adjournment of the debate.

Mr. Champagne, the new member for Wright, was introduced by Mr. Laurier and Whip Sutherland.

The House adjourned at 11 p.m.

An Unusual Charge of Forestalling.—Claim that the By-law is Indefinite.

This morning, in the Police Court, Mr. H. P. Kennedy, buyer for, and of the firm of, Kennedy & Nelson, wholesale meat merchants and pork packers, was charged with breach of the following clause of the town market bylaw:—

No huckster, grocer, butcher or runner shall, on the market place or in the market house or any of the streets or other public place in the town of Peterborough, purchase or offer to purchase any meats, fish, roots, vegetables, poultry, dairy products, eggs or articles required for family use, and such as are usually sold in the market, before the hour of eleven o'clock in the morning; and no person shall forestall, regrate or monopolize any such articles in the town of Peterborough.

Mr. Kennedy last Saturday, it appears, offered to purchase a load of pork on the market before the hour of 11 o'clock, in accordance with the custom of himself ever since he has been in business, and in accordance with the custom of others in the pork business for the last five years. Of course, according to the by-law the magistrate could do no other than impose the fine allowed by the by-law. The by-law has been similarly broken, it is claimed, every market day for years and heretofore no action has been brought, though on this point Mr. Kennedy does not complain, but of the indefiniteness of the wording of the clause under which he was fined.

In imposing the fine in the above case the magistrate stated that Mr. Kennedy could submit the matter to the council and they could explain what the by-law really meant—whether it intended excluding wholesale buyers or not—and the council might refund the fine. Mr. Kennedy feels, in common with the other buyers, that it is not in the interests of the town to exclude wholesale buyers, as the by-law now certainly does. Such buyers, he thinks, contribute a very large share towards making the market a profitable market for the farmers.

The Kinecptoscope and Graphophone.

Commencing on Wednesday night, March 31st, Wray's English kinecptoscope, the marvel of the age, and Edison's latest laughing and talking machine, the graphophone, will open a four night's engagement in Bradburn's Opera House. The programme consists of living and moving pictures and musical selections by some of the best singers and finest bands in the United States. Don't miss attending the opera house and see and hear them. Prices of admission to all parts of the house 25c, children 10c. Matinee Saturday afternoon, April 3rd.

The March of Christ.

A public meeting is being arranged under the auspices of the St. Andrews's Y. P. S. C. E. for Monday, April 12th, when the Rev. Wilbur F. Crafts, Ph. D., of Washington, D. C., will give an address on "The March of Christ Down the Centuries." This will be in keeping with the Easter season, and as Dr. Crafts has already won for himself in Canada and the United States the commendation, "a speaker of great power and eloquence," an opportunity will thus be given the people of Peterborough to hear the gifted divine. The Northwestern Presbyterian says of him: "One of the most eloquent speeches heard in the North West—frequently interrupted with applause."

A Unique Entertainment.

The members of the Ladies' Aid of the Charlotte street Methodist church propose presenting a most novel entertainment in the Opera House in the near future. The entire programme will be in the hands of the ladies, of whom fully thirty will participate. The entertainment will take the form of a mock parliament and will be of so unique a character as to prove most novel and interesting. The Legislative Assembly is chosen as a model and business is transacted and debates carried on in a manner which will doubtless be sufficiently attractive to prove a great success. 2d72

A Very Old Paper.

The Burlington Record says:—"Mr. Wm. Bamford has in his possession a copy of Benjamin Franklin's publication, The New England Courant, dated like this: "Boston, Monday, February 4, to Monday, February 11, 1723." It is a single sheet about nine inches by twelve inches containing two pages of two columns each. It contains a few advertisements, some Boston items and a copy of "His Majesty's Most Gracious Speech to both Houses of Parliament on Thursday, October 11, 1722." This would be the speech of King George I. from the throne, at the opening of his Parliament of 1722-23. One of the advertisements reads thus: "A servant boy's time for four years to be disposed of. He is about sixteen years of age and can keep accounts. Enquire at the Blue Ball in Union street and know further." The publisher has this notice inserted: "This paper having met with so general an acceptance in town and country as to require a far greater number of them to be printed than there is of the other public papers, and it being beside more generally read by a vast number of borrowers who do not take it in, the publisher thinks proper to give the public notice for the encouragement of those who would have advertisements inserted in the public prints, which they may have printed in this paper at a moderate price." At the foot of the second page is the following: "Printed and sould by Benjamin Franklin in Queen street, where advertisements are taken in." The paper is in a good state of preservation. Although its great age is apparent all the characters printed thereon are yet quite discernable." The Mr. Bamford referred to is the father of Peterborough's genial and accommodating C. P. R. agent, Mr. W. B.

District Oddfellows Will Gather here on April 5th.

Otonabee Lodge, I.O.O.F., winners of the degree competion prize at the district assembly held in Lindsay last October, have made preparations for a similar rally of the brethren to be held in Peterborough on Monday, April 5th, and the occasion promises to be a notable one.

Grand Master White and other prominent craftsmen will be present, and the various lodges in this district will each send strong contingents to greet them and extend a helping had to Otonabee Lodge to make the event one long to be remembered. Lindsay Lodge No. 100 will be well represented amongst those present and its degree team have hopes of making the contest for the competition prize a very close and interesting one.

THE AGED AND INFIRM.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—By the papers I see some great meetings about our noble mother the Queen. For my part I think like a good many others in town, it is a shame to have our aged men locked up as paupers, men that hewed and cut our timber and cleared our lands and have to spend the last of their days in jail. Were a Christian Temperance Union think it a disgrace to our town. They must not be afraid of them coming from other counties if they look around. We have plenty of our own to fill a very large house of refuge. Make a house of refuge a memorial in behalf of her most glorious Majesty, and the aged will bless you in His name.

BOARD OF TRADE'S LIVELY DISCUSSION.

MR. HAMPDEN BURNHAM'S RESOLUTION AWAKENS INTEREST.

But It is Voted Down on the Ground That Such Resolutions Are Not Judicious Subjects the Board to Discuss—The Sentiments Expressed Are Warmly Approved.

The most largely attended meeting of the Board of Trade held in years convened last evening, and the interest taken in the various matters coming up for discussion was such as to give foundation to surmise that the Board is embarking on a new era of activity.

The newly elected president, Mr. John Carnegie, presided, and the following members were in attendance: R. Fair, W. H. Hill, J. S. Stratton, M. P. P., W. Manson, G. E. Whiten, P. Hamilton, F. Dobbin, Hampden Burnham, D. W. Dumble, J. S. Knapman, H. S. McDonald, R. Mulholland, J. J. McBain, E. Brown, T. Cahill, W. H. Robertson, Alex. Gibson, T. F. Matthews, R. D. Hamilton, A. Mercer, R. H. Kells, W. H. Law, W. G. Morrow, C. N. Brown, John Gilchrist, F. J. Jameson, Thomas Barry, J. W. Bennett, F. J. Byers, T. E. Boddy, H. LeBrun, W. B. Bamford, Alex. Elliott, J. H. Oke, A. H. Stratton, A. Parker.

THE MEETING WAS OPENED

by the reading of the appended informal message by the president:

Before proceeding with the business of the evening permit me to say that while it was, for several reasons, against my better judgment that I allowed myself to be nominated for this honorable position, yet having been unanimously elected thereto, I highly appreciate the honour which has been conferred upon me, and I shall endeavour to discharge my duties as your president in all things, and such things only as I shall truly and conscientiously believe to be adapted to promote the objects for which this board was organized and is maintained.

An organization such as this, if carried on in realization of the great fact that the success of each business man is bound up in the good fortune of all cannot but prove most beneficial to the community of which this town is the business centre—but to secure even a portion of the beneficial results which should flow from our organization each and every member—and every business man in the community, should be a member—must do his part by not only attending our meetings but by joining in our discussions; by making suggestions and by helping to evolve therefrom practical measures for the advancement of our common interests.

That the field before us affords not only ample scope for the best thought one can give it, but is one which at the present time requires the most serious and thoughtful consideration of every one, must be apparent to all who will stop for a moment and think over what has made our town what it is, what is our present position and how are we to maintain and, if possible, improve it? This is not the time to discuss these questions, but it does seem to me that an early evening might be allotted with advantage to the reading of say three papers, prepared by three different gentlemen, concerning at least a portion of the ground suggested by these papers, and in a general discussion of the points and suggestions which would thus be elicited.

Mr. Carnegie then expressed his pleasure at the large attendance and at the fact that he was able to take the chair promptly at the hour appointed.

THE COUNCIL.

The committee appointed to strike the council for the year reported as follows:—

Your committee beg leave to report, recommending the following names for election to the council for the ensuing year.

D. W. Dumble, P. Campbell, T. F. Matthews, J. H. Burnham, R. Mulholland, W. Hamilton, jr., B Shortly, Dr. Ross, W. H. Hill, R. Fair, T. A. Hay, A. Mercer and T. E. Bradburn.

We also recommend that the board elect a Board of Arbitration and that the council appoint the usual committees in accordance with the bylaw of the board.

R. MULHOLLAND, Chairman.

The report of the committee was adopted.

The election of members to the Board of Arbitration was then taken up, resulting as follows: Messrs. J. J. McBain, A. Gibson, W. H. Hill, P. Campbell, R. D. Hamilton, R. Fair, W. H. Law, John Gilchrist, T. Cahill, T. A. Hay, F. J. Jameson, D. W. Dumble.

Mr. Carnegie reported for the special committee to whom was delegated the matter of arranging for the excursion to Ottawa re the Trent Valley canal deputation. He stated that an arrangement had been entered into with the C.P.R. whereby a rate of $3 could be obtained through guaranteeing $370, or a special train for the delegation could be obtained for $360. The following tickets had been guaranteed: Town council $100, county council $75, Ashburnham $30, Lakefield $18, Smith $18, Bobcaygeon $18, and probably Victoria County $80. The special train could leave on Monday afternoon, enabling those to go who got into town on the Grand Trunk train at noon.

Mr. Cahill endorsed the action of the committee in arranging for a special train, as it would add prestige to the delegation. It had been said once before that a T.V.C. deputation resembled Coxey's Army, now it would be sufficiently imposing to merit the name of Cox's Army.

The following resolution was then passed, as proposed by Mr. R. Fair, seconded by Mr. Wm. Manson:

That the action of the Special Committee appointed by the Board in arranging with the C. P. R. for an excursion to Ottawa on the 5th of April be sanctioned by this Board and the Committee further authorized to advertise and complete all necessary arrangements.

The names of Messrs. R. Maitland Roy, J. W. Bennett and W. L. Allen were then proposed for membership and accepted.

RETALIATORY.

Mr. J. Hampden Burnham then rose to propose a resolution which provoked probably the liveliest discussion in the history of the Board. Before introducing his resolution he spoke to some length on the attitude of the United States in trade and social relations towards Canada, stating that if there was any possible way in which Canada could be spited, the occasion to do it was seized with avidity by the citizens across the border. He was more than pleased to learn of the intention of the new Canadian Government to adopt such retaliatory measures as would be an evidence of the opinion in which such tactics were held by patriotic Canadians. Referring to a recent editorial in the Globe touching on the matter, he hoped that the sentiments so expressed would be echoed throughout the country, shewing that Canadians would not tamely submit to insult. He urged the necessity of placing an export duty on pulp wood going into the United States as the Americans refused to allow the manufactured article from Canada to cross the line. Through this action the large pulp mills at Sault St. Marie were closed. Our resources were being depleted by the Americans taking out huge quantities of the pulp wood and logs and small benefit was accruing to Canada, but an imposition of an export duty on the raw material would work a wonderful change as the material must necessarily come from Canada, the American supply of the pulp wood being almost exhausted. The speaker then strongly urged closer relations and preferential trade with Great Britain, and introduced his resolution as appended:

That in view of the attitude of the United States towards Canada in matters of trade and social relations the Dominion Government's proposed programme of practical remonstrance with that nation and its avowed intention of cultivating closer trade relations with Great Britain be heartily approved by this Board of Trade.

Mr. D. W. Dumble seconded the resolution referring to the deep strong undercurrent of hostility pervading the masses of the United States as against Canada. He could not understand it. It was unreasonable and not justifiable by the facts, but that it existed could not be denied and nothing else could now be expected. They held the belief that one flag should cover the continent. They were a great nation, undoubtedly, but Canada had much in her natural resources that they looked at wistfully. Evidently their intentions were to form such a tariff as to try and convince Canadians that they could not live without the American market. This was the primary motive of their legislation. It was to Canada's interest to keep this market if possible, but the Americans in trying to force Canada to this conclusion was going the wrong way about it. The British were a stubborn independent race and would sooner suffer in pocket than be coerced by any such conduct. The time was rapidly approaching when the Americans would have to come to Canada for all their wood and they should be made to pay dearly for it. He did not approve in letting our country be stripped as it was at present for their benefit and to our detriment. He remembered the time when great rafts of timber came down the local rivers, and this business was now almost defunct in Peterborough, and the lumbering was being carried on in the limits along the waters running northward. Not a chip or a slab could be found in Peterborough now. Even the slabs had to be brought in by railway.

Mr. Peter Hamilton attributed the feeling against Canada across the border to the fact that the Dominion was an integral part of the British Empire, which, whilst regarded by us as the greatest government in the world, was disliked and looked upon as inimical by the other foreign powers. As the population of the United States was composed of foreigners to the extent of fully fifty per cent., we couldn't expect them to have any great love or friendship towards Canadians. We, however, would not consult our dignity in paying any attention to them. In their legislation they made no special mention of Canada as it applied to every country alike on the face of the globe. Any legislation which we might pass affecting any particular Government would not be good form. One single power could not be picked out to be specially legislated against, though if the matter under discussion could be brought to the attention of the legislature without mentioning the power referred to, he would like to see it done.

Mr. Stratton said that while he endorsed the sentiments of the resolution, he did not approve of the introduction of matters into the board that would result in giving a political bias to discussions. As he understood it the Board was organized largely for the purpose of dealing with or discussing matters of a particularly domestic nature, and past experiences of Boards of Trade in Peterborough had been such he thought, as to justify the confining of the function of the Board in the discussion of matters bearing directly upon the interests of the town. When the previous speakers opened up the timber question as a subject of discussion at this meeting, they opened up a very big question as he (Mr. Stratton) did not at all agree with the views expressed by Mr. Dumble on the matter. Had circumstances been different Peterborough would not have been here and the settlements that now existed in the back country would not have been there to contribute to the growth and prosperity of the town; and as it was impossible to prevent settlement, it was necessary that timber which had matured should be disposed of, thus serving the double purpose of saving the timber from destruction and giving employment to labour. While he approved of the spirit of the resolution proposed, he contended that the continued discussion of the subject would have the effect of destroying the harmony and unity of purpose that should exist, and had heretofore existed, in the board; the question involved the consideration by a non-political body of a purely political question upon which acute party differences already existed.

Mr. Dumble thought that the Board of Trade was organized for dealing with questions of trade. The question under discussion was an economic one concerning trade and not politics and was within the province of the Board of Trade. This country had derived uncertain benefits from the sale of its timber and it was no crime to try and make the most of what was left of the forests. He was anxious to see the Peterborough Board of Trade give the Government the first pat on the back in approval of the policy which it was proposed to pursue. He heartily endorsed the resolution as an approval of the trade policy of the present Government.

Mr. Stratton, in reply, said that he was not prepared on the strength of what Mr. Dumble had said to change his opinion on the subject. He was quite satisfied that ample consideration had been realized from the timber resources that had heretofore been disposed of. We elected 214 men and sent them to Ottawa to discuss these trade questions, and his (Mr. Dumble's) opinion as to the value obtained for our timber resources was his personal opinion, no doubt unmatured and unconsidered. Notwithstanding the views already expressed by Mr. Dumble, Mr. Stratton, stated that exceptional value had been secured by the government from the sales made, and the revenues secured from such sale. The discussion so far in respect of the timber, was not based on the true facts of the case and was besides injudicious. While he was pleased to see Mr. Burnham approving of the course of the Government in the matter mentioned, yet if the principle was adopted of the board going out of its way to pass a resolution of approbation, it would constitute a precedent for a resolution of condemnation, which would result in a party vote on the board—thus effectually destroying its usefulness as a Board of Trade.

Mr. Burnham rose to disavow all political feeling in introducing the resolution. As a patriotic Canadian he protested against the action of the United States who were continually spitting upon Canada and insulting her citizens.

Mr. W. H. Law related a conversation which he had heard between two lumbermen in New York. They were speaking of a firm which owned timber limits in both Canada and Michigan. They were not going to cut their Michigan lumber for the low prices of the present time, but would hold it until the market was brisker. In the meantime, however, they would sweep their Canadian limits clean before the government took any action with respect to duties. This conversation, he thought, spoke for itself.

Mr. Stratton said it was quite possible what Mr. Law stated was correct, but Mr. Law had omitted to point out the advantages that had been given to Canadian workingmen for obtaining employment on timber limits that would otherwise have been destroyed by fire. Two-thirds of the cost of lumber went for wages, supplies and the expense of taking it out, which were all advantageous to workingmen and trade, which, in the speaker's opinion, was far better than saving the timber to be destroyed by fire after being matured. It would have been fairer to point out that while Ontario exported timber and lumber, the maritime provinces imported these articles, and these circumstances pointed out the injudiciousness of exciting such discussions as the present, and more decidedly impressed the conviction that

Mr. Mulholland asked the president's ruling as to whether the resolution was a proper one upon which to vote.

Mr. Carnegie ruled that it was, if discussed in a broad way, as it deeply affected the interests of the province, and the general policy of the government always concerned us more or less locally. We should use our judgment, he thought, however, about crossing the political line.

Mr. Mulholland wanted to see the harmony of the Board preserved. He had been much pleased with the Globe editorial in question but thought that we were not yet sufficiently versed in the Government's policy to say that this was the text of it. He would rather not see such a motion voted upon until he knew just what the policy would be.

Mr. W. H. Hill pointed out that these questions were discussed by the Toronto Board of Trade.

Mr. Cahill wanted the matter to stand until the budget was brought down. There was a great difference, he argued, between the spirit of a resolution and its effect. He did not like to approve of the policy of a government until he knew what it was.

The resolution was then put to the meeting and lost.

Mr. Stratton rose to again remark that he wished it distinctly understood that he was not voting against the sentiments expressed in the resolution, but against the precedent established in introducing such discussions in the Board of Trade.

The following resolution was then introduced by Messrs. D. W. Dumble and Hampden Burnham:—"That it is in the province of this organization to discuss all or any questions of economic interest to our locality or to the country as a whole."

Mr. Stratton objected to Mr. Dumble's motion. If it was according to the constitution of the Board to discuss such questions the resolution was unnecessary; if it was not according to the constitution then the resolution should be allowed to stand as notice of motion. After some discussion Mr. Dumble consented to his motion standing as a notice.

Messrs. R. Mulholland and W. H. Hill the moved as follows:—"That a committee be appointed, composed of Messrs. Hampden Burnham, Peter Hamilton and D. W. Dumble, to prepare and submit to the next meeting of the board a resolution referring to the proposed Dingley tariff and the action the Government should take in respect to the trade of Canada, so that, if possible, the board may unanimously pass on the question."—Carried.

The president stated that he would call a special meeting of the board next Friday evening to discuss the motion of Messrs. Dumble and Burnham, and also to receive the report of the committee appointed by the last resolution. The board then adjourned.

BOARD OF TRADE'S LIVELY DISCUSSION.

MR. HAMPDEN BURNHAM'S RESOLUTION AWAKENS INTEREST.

But It is Voted Down on the Ground That Such Resolutions Are Not Judicious Subjects the Board to Discuss—The Sentiments Expressed Are Warmly Approved.

The most largely attended meeting of the Board of Trade held in years convened last evening, and the interest taken in the various matters coming up for discussion was such as to give foundation to surmise that the Board is embarking on a new era of activity.

The newly elected president, Mr. John Carnegie, presided, and the following members were in attendance: R. Fair, W. H. Hill, J. S. Stratton, M. P. P., W. Manson, G. E. Whiten, P. Hamilton, F. Dobbin, Hampden Burnham, D. W. Dumble, J. S. Knapman, H. S. McDonald, R. Mulholland, J. J. McBain, E. Brown, T. Cahill, W. H. Robertson, Alex. Gibson, T. F. Matthews, R. D. Hamilton, A. Mercer, R. H. Kells, W. H. Law, W. G. Morrow, C. N. Brown, John Gilchrist, F. J. Jameson, Thomas Barry, J. W. Bennet, F. J. Rogers, T. E. Boddy, H. LeBrun, W. B. Bamford, Alex. Elliott, J. H. Oke, A. H. Stratton, A. Parker.

THE MEETING WAS OPENED

by the reading of the appended informal message by the president:

Before proceeding with the business of the evening permit me to say that while it was, for several reasons, against my better judgment that I allowed myself to be nominated for this honourable position, yet having been unanimously elected thereto, I highly appreciate the honour which has been conferred upon me, and I shall endeavour to discharge my duties as your president in all things, and such things only as I shall truly and conscientiously believe to be adapted to promote the objects for which this board was organized and is maintained.

An organization such as this, if carried on in realization of the great fact that the success of each business man is bound up in the good fortune of all cannot but prove most beneficial to the community of which this town is the business centre—but to secure even a portion of the beneficial results which should flow from our organization each and every member—and every business man in the community should be a member—must do his part by not only attending our meetings but by joining in our discussions; by making suggestions and by helping to evolve therefrom practical measures for the advancement of our common interests.

That the field before us affords not only ample scope for the best thought one can give it, but is one which at the present time requires the most serious and thoughtful consideration of every one, must be apparent to all who will stop for a moment and think over what has made our town what it is, what is our present position and how are we to maintain and, if possible improve it? This is not the time to discuss these questions, but it does seem to me that an early evening might be allotted with advantage to the reading of say three papers, prepared by three different gentlemen, concerning at least a portion of the ground suggested by these papers, and in a general discussion of the points and suggestions which would thus be elicited.

Mr. Carnegie then expressed his pleasure at the large attendance and at the fact that he was able to take the chair promptly at the hour appointed.

THE COUNCIL.

The committee appointed to strike the council for the year reported as follows:—

Your committee beg leave to report, recommending the following names for election to the council for the ensuing year.

D. W. Dumble, P. Campbell, T. F. Matthews, J. H. Burnham, R. Mulholland, W. Hamilton, jr., B. Shortly, Dr. Ross, W. H. Hill, R. Fair, T. A. Hay, A. Mercer and T. E. Bradburn.

We also recommend that the board elect a Board of Arbitration and that the council appoint the usual committees in accordance with the by-law of the board.

R. MULHOLLAND,
Chairman.

The report of the committee was adopted.

The election of members to the Board of Arbitration was then taken up, resulting as follows: Messrs. J. J. McBain, A. Gibson, W. H. Hill, P. Campbell, R. D. Hamilton, R. Fair, W. H. Law, John Gilchrist, T. Cahill, T. A. Hay, F. J. Jameson, D. W. Dumble.

Mr. Carnegie reported for the special committee to whom was delegated the matter of arranging for the excursion to Ottawa re the Trent Valley canal deputation. He stated that an arrangement had been entered into with the C.P.R. whereby a rate of $3 could be obtained through guaranteeing $370, or a special train for the delegation could be obtained for $360. The following tickets had been guaranteed: Town council $100, county council $75, Ashburnham $30, Lakefield $18, Smith $18, Bobcaygeon $18, and probably Victoria County $30. The special train could leave on Monday afternoon, enabling those to go who got into town on the Grand Trunk train at noon.

Mr. Cahill endorsed the action of the committee in arranging for a special train, as it would add prestige to the delegation. It had been said once before that a T.V.C. deputation resembled Coxey's Army, now it would be sufficiently imposing to merit the name of Cox's Army.

The following resolution was then passed, as proposed by Mr. R. Fair, seconded by Mr. Wm. Manson:

That the action of the Special Committee appointed by the Board in arranging with the C. P. R. for an excursion to Ottawa on the 5th of April be sanctioned by this Board and the Committee further authorized to advertise and complete all necessary arrangements.

The names of Messrs. R. Maitland Roy, J. W. Bennett and W. L. Allen were then proposed for membership and accepted.

RETALIATORY.

Mr. J. Hampden Burnham then rose to propose a resolution which provoked probably the liveliest discussion in the history of the Board. Before introducing his resolution he spoke to some length on the attitude of the United States in trade and social relations towards Canada, stating that if there was any possible way in which Canada could be spited, the occasion to do it was seized with avidity by the citizens across the border. He was more than pleased to learn of the intention of the new Canadian Government to adopt such retaliatory measures as would be an evidence of the opinion in which such tactics were held by patriotic Canadians. Referring to a recent editorial in the Globe touching on the matter, he hoped that the sentiments so expressed would be echoed throughout the country, shewing that Canadians would not tamely submit to insult. He urged the necessity of placing an export duty on pulp wood going into the United States as the Americans refused to allow the manufactured article from Canada to cross the line. Through this action the large pulp mills at Sault St. Marie were closed. Our resources were being depleted by the Americans taking out huge quantities of the pulp wood and logs and small benefit was accruing to Canada, but an imposition of an export duty on the raw material would work a wonderful change as the material must necessarily come from Canada, the American supply of the pulp wood being almost exhausted. The speaker then strongly urged closer relations and preferential trade with Great Britain, and introduced his resolution as appended:

That in view of the attitude of the United States towards Canada in matters of trade and social relations the Dominion Government's proposed programme of practical remonstrance with that nation and its avowed intention of cultivating closer trade relations with Great Britain be heartily approved by this Board of Trade.

Mr. D. W. Dumble seconded the resolution referring to the deep strong undercurrent of hostility pervading the masses of the United States as against Canada. He could not understand it. It was unreasonable and not justifiable by the facts, but that it existed could not be denied and nothing else could now be expected. They held the belief that one flag should cover the continent. They were a great nation, undoubtedly, but Canada had much in her natural resources that they looked at wistfully. Evidently their intentions were to form such a tariff as to try and convince Canadians that they could not live without the American market. This was the primary motive of their legislation. It was to Canada's interest to keep this market if possible, but the Americans in trying to force Canada to this conclusion was going the wrong way about it. The British were a stubborn independent race and would sooner suffer in pocket than be coerced by any such conduct. The time was rapidly approaching when the Americans would have to come to Canada for all their wood and they should be made to pay dearly for it. He did not approve in letting our country be stripped as it was at present for their benefit and to our detriment. He remembered the time when great rafts of timber came down the local rivers, and this business was now almost defunct in Peterborough, and the lumbering was being carried on in the limits along the waters running northward. Not a chip or a slab could be found in Peterborough now. Even the slabs had to be brought in by railway.

Mr. Peter Hamilton attributed the feeling against Canada across the border to the fact that the Dominion was an integral part of the British Empire, which, whilst regarded by us as the greatest government in the world, was disliked and looked upon as inimical by the other foreign powers. As the population of the United States was composed of foreigners to the extent of fully fifty per cent., we couldn't expect them to have any great love or friendship towards Canadians. We, however, would not consult our dignity in paying any attention to them. In their legislation they made no special mention of Canada as it applied to every country alike on the face of the globe. Any legislation which we might pass affecting any particular Government would not be good form. One single power could not be picked out to be specially legislated against, though if the matter under discussion could be brought to the attention of the legislature without mentioning the power referred to, he would like to see it done.

Mr. Stratton said that while he endorsed the sentiments of the resolution, he did not approve of the introduction of matters into the board that would result in giving a political bias to discussions. As he understood it the Board was organized largely for the purpose of dealing with or discussing matters of a particularly domestic nature, and past experiences of Boards of Trade in Peterborough had been such he thought, as to justify the confining of the function of the Board in the discussion of matters bearing directly upon the interests of the town. When the previous speakers opened up the timber question as a subject of discussion at this meeting, they opened up a very big question as he (Mr. Stratton) did not at all agree with the views expressed by Mr. Dumble on the matter. Had circumstances been different Peterborough would not have been here and the settlements that now existed in the back country would not have been there to contribute to the growth and prosperity of the town; and as it was impossible to prevent settlement, it was necessary that timber which had matured should be disposed of, thus serving the double purpose of saving the timber from destruction and giving employment to labour. While he approved of the spirit of the resolution proposed, he contended that the continued discussion of the subject would have the effect of destroying the harmony and unity of purpose that should exist, and had heretofore existed, in the board; the question involved the consideration by a non-political body of a purely political question upon which acute party differences already existed.

Mr. Dumble thought that the Board of Trade was organized for dealing with questions of trade. The question under discussion was an economic one concerning trade and not politics and was within the province of the Board of Trade. This country had derived uncertain benefits from the sale of its timber and it was no crime to try and make the most of what was left of the forests. He was anxious to see the Peterborough Board of Trade give the Government the first pat on the back in approval of the policy which it was proposed to pursue. He heartily endorsed the resolution as an approval of the trade policy of the present Government.

Mr. Stratton, in reply, said that he was not prepared on the strength of what Mr. Dumble had said to change his opinion on the subject. He was quite satisfied that ample consideration had been realised from the timber resources that had heretofore been disposed of. We elected 314 men and sent them to Ottawa to discuss these trade questions, and his (Mr. Dumble's) opinion as to the value obtained for our timber resources was his personal opinion, no doubt unmatured and unconsidered. Notwithstanding the views already expressed by Mr. Dumble, Mr. Stratton, stated that exceptional value had been secured by the government from the sales made, and the revenues secured from such sale. The discussion so far in respect of the timber, was not based on the true facts of the case and was besides injudicious. While he was pleased to see Mr. Burnham approving of the course of the Government in the matter mentioned, yet if the principle was adopted of the board going out of its way to pass a resolution of approbation, it would constitute a precedent for a resolution of condemnation, which would result in a party vote on the board—thus effectually destroying its usefulness as a Board of Trade.

Mr. Burnham rose to disavow all political feeling in introducing the resolution. As a patriotic Canadian he protested against the action of the United States who were continually spitting upon Canada and insulting her citizens.

Mr. W. H. Law related a conversation which he had heard between two lumbermen in New York. They were speaking of a firm which owned timber limits in both Canada and Michigan. They were not going to cut their Michigan lumber for the low prices of the present time, but would hold it until the market was brisker. In the meantime, however, they would sweep their Canadian limits clean before the government took any action with respect to duties. This conversation, he thought, spoke for itself.

Mr. Stratton said it was quite possible what Mr. Law stated was correct, but Mr. Law had omitted to point out the advantages that had been given to Canadian workingmen for obtaining employment on timber limits that would otherwise have been destroyed by fire. Two-thirds of the cost of lumber went for wages, supplies and the expense of taking it out, which were all advantageous to workingmen and trade, which, in the speaker's opinion, was far better than saving the timber to be destroyed by fire after being matured. It would have been fairer to point out that while Ontario exported timber and lumber, the maritime provinces imported these articles, and these circumstances pointed out the injudiciousness of exciting such discussions as the present, and more decidedly impressed the conviction that

It would have been fairer to point out that while Ontario exported timber and lumber, the maritime provinces imported these articles, and these circumstances pointed out the injudiciousness of exciting such discussions as the present, and more decidedly impressed the conviction that

Mr. Mulholland asked the president's ruling as to whether the resolution was a proper one upon which to vote.

Mr. Carnegie ruled that it was, if discussed in a broad way, as it deeply affected the interests of the province, and the general policy of the government always concerned us more or less locally. We should use our judgment, he thought, however, about crossing the political line.

Mr. Mulholland wanted to see the harmony of the Board preserved. He had been much pleased with the Globe editorial in question but thought that we were not yet sufficiently versed in the Government's policy to say that this was the text of it. He would rather not see such a motion voted upon until he knew just what the policy would be.

Mr. W. H. Hill pointed out that these questions were discussed by the Toronto Board of Trade.

Mr. Cahill wanted the matter to stand until the budget was brought down. There was a great difference, he argued, between the spirit of a resolution and its effect. He did not like to approve of the policy of a government until he knew what it was.

The resolution was then put to the meeting and lost

Mr. Stratton rose to again remark that he wished it distinctly understood that he was not voting against the sentiments expressed in the resolution, but against the precedent established in introducing such discussions in the Board of Trade.

The following resolution was then introduced by Messrs. D. W. Dumble and Hampden Burnham:—"That it is in the province of this organization to discuss all or any questions of economic interest to our locality or to the country as a whole."

Mr. Stratton objected to Mr. Dumble's motion. If it was according to the constitution of the Board to discuss such questions the resolution was unnecessary; if it was not according to the constitution then the resolution should be allowed to stand as notice of motion. After some discussion Mr. Dumble consented to his motion standing as a notice.

Messrs. R. Mulholland and W. H. Hill the moved as follows:—"That a committee be appointed, composed of Messrs. Hampden Burnham, Peter Hamilton and D. W. Dumble, to prepare and submit to the next meeting of the board a resolution referring to the proposed Dingley tariff and the action the Government should take in respect to the trade of Canada, so that, if possible, the board may unanimously pass on the question."—Carried.

The president stated that he would call a special meeting of the board next Friday evening to discuss the motion of Messrs. Dumble and Burnham, and also to receive the report of the committee appointed by the last resolution. The board then adjourned.

FROM BRANTFORD, THE HOME OF GOOD MANUFACTURERS.

Model A. Gentlemen's Light Roadster.

BRANTFORD RED BIRDS

BEST TO-DAY AND GOOD FOR YEARS.

Model B. Lady's Light Roadster.

THE '97 RED BIRD is a Bicycle that Canadians generally may well be proud of. Built of the best material that money can buy, every detail of its manufacture looked after with the greatest care, and with nothing left undone to make it a perfect bicycle, it is destined to be immensely popular during the coming season. Every improvement that Canadian skill and ingenuity can suggest will be found in the '97 models. They will be superbly finished, and so constructed that time and wear will prove them to be not only best to-day but good for years.

'97 Red Bird Strong Points.

The following are some of the special features of the '97 Red Bird:

Narrow tread and wide hubs, the greater width of hub giving additional strength.

Large tubing all around, which, while adding nothing to the weight increases the strength and rigidity.

It is absolutely dust-proof, the bearings being protected by four different protectors.

The new patent ball oiler, with which this wheel is fitted, is the best oiling device ever put on a bicycle.

The finger washers, with which it is adjusted, are most sensitive to the touch and make a model means of adjustment.

Solid steel centre pedals with corrugated ends and side plates, that add 200 per cent. to their strength. The dust proof oilers of these pedals are located in the side screws and are invisible to the casual observer.

The axle being feathered prevents its turning in adjusting.

Straight bottom fork tubes give greater strength.

Large balls in crank hanger add to the ease in running.

Additional strength is gained by using new fork sides tapered from end to end.

The new crown plates are lighter in weight, but the greater distance between them adds considerable to their strength.

Red Bird Bicycles are fitted with Electric Pebble Tread Tires, the most easily adjusted, the most durable and highest-priced tires in the world. They cost more than other tires, but first cost is last cost.

Their Excellencies, the Earl and Countess of Aberdeen, our most distinguished patrons.

Red Birds in Australia.

The success of the Red Bird in Australia in competition with the best wheels of Great Britain and the United States has been phenomenal, their superiority on both road and race-course having been proven time and again. In this connection the Australian Wheelman says:—

"C. B. Kellow, the winner of the Australian wheel race, has ridden a Red Bird for the past two weeks, and during that time has won over £500 and covered himself with glory, and made his name famous throughout the cycling world. The St. Kilda Wheel Race, Melbourne Plate, and the Australian Competition Records for the half-mile at Goulburn, in which he defeated all Australian cracks, are among his Red Bird successes during the past few days. As Kellow only required about 15 minutes to win £500, it is not bad business, and goes to prove that although the Red Bird costs more it pays to ride the best."

In a more recent number the same paper says:—
